

MIECISLAW ZIOLKOWSKI, outstanding pianist, former student of the famed Paderewski, and member of the faculty at Alabama College, will offer his annual winter recital in Palmer Auditorium at 8:00 p.m., this Friday, January 5. Mr. Ziolkowski's program will include: Italian Concerto by Bach; Fantasy in F Minor, four Etudes, and Scherzo in C Sharp Minor by Chopin; Mountain Fantasy, Witch's Dance, and Polish Dance by Mr. Ziolkowski; and Spanish Rhapsody by Liszt. Friends of the College are cordially invited to attend.

Heart Disease Is Greatest Killer

Heart disease is the cause of more deaths than any other condition. Provisional statistics show that more than 7,700 people died of heart disease in Alabama during 1949. There are about nine million people in the United States who have heart disease.

Several forms of congenital heart disease can now be cured by surgery. Incidentally, it has been established that some virus infections, particularly German measles, occurring in the early months of pregnancy are a cause of congenital malformations which may affect the heart.

Methods of Treating

Rheumatic heart disease constitutes a large group. Present day methods of treating sore throats and respiratory infections due to hemolytic streptococci will, no doubt, lessen the incidence of rheumatic fever and its heart complications.

Syphilitic heart disease, since the successful eradication of syphilis, will soon cease to exist. This has always been a common form.

Hardening of the arteries (arterio-sclerosis) is a frequent cause of heart disease, either by affecting the coronary arteries of the heart itself, or by causing high blood pressure and materially increasing the amount of work the heart must do. Other forms of high blood pressure often cause a heart disease.

Certain disturbances of the heart rhythm may be dangerous to life. Other forms are of no significance.

Mind Your Doctor

While heart disease is the leader of all causes of death, much can be done for the patient in most instances. With reasonable care, many people with heart disease will live out a natural life span.

Periodic examinations by your doctor will often find these heart conditions early and explicit adherence to his instructions will often enable the patient to live a natural, if somewhat restricted, life. — Dr. E. F. Sloan, County Health Officer.

World Traveler To Lecture Here

An outstanding world traveler, Dr. Paul H. Nesbitt, will speak at the World Culture Series in Palmer Auditorium on Thursday, January 11, at 11:00 a.m. He is now chief of the Arctic, Desert, Tropic Information Center, Air University Library, Maxwell Air Base.

The subject of his talk will be "The People and Geography of the Upper Orinoco River." Dr. Nesbitt recently spent three months in that region as a member of the University of Puerto Rico — Venezuela expedition to the Upper Orinoco. He was the official U.S. Air Force representative and the only American member of the expedition which traveled by dug-out canoe and jungle trail over some six hundred miles of highland jungle.

Mrs. Montgomery Born Here In 1865

Mrs. Carrie Lewis Montgomery, age 85, died in Birmingham this week. She was the widow of the late Col. J. Alex Montgomery, a prominent industrialist.

Daughter of the late Col. B. B. Lewis and Rose Garland Lewis, she was born in Montevallo in the year 1865.

Bowdon Sets Pegs For More Business

Mr. R. E. Bowdon, Jr., Mayor of Calera, and one of the leading business men of our neighboring town, was a visitor in Montevallo Tuesday morning.

Mr. Bowdon is busy getting his pegs all set for business and service to the people of this area in 1951. On this particular visit he was outlining and planning for two big events he is promoting in this month—John Deere Day on next Wednesday, January 10, and the showing of the new 1951 Dodge automobile on January 20.

Elsewhere in this paper you will find Mr. Bowdon's own description of these events which are under sponsorship of Bowdon Motor & Implement Company.

Oscar W. Kent Died Suddenly

Funeral services for Oscar W. Kent, 61, who died suddenly last Friday in Talladega, were held in Birmingham Sunday. The services were at Brown-Service Chapel, with Rev. T. C. Walden officiating. Burial was in Elmwood.

Mr. Kent was a member of a pioneer Jefferson County dairying family. He was associated with his brother, R. B. Kent, in the Old Reliable Dairy until recently.

The dairy became connected with Consolidated Dairies a few years ago. Two brothers, W. A. and R. W. Kent, are still active in the dairy business.

Surviving other than the three brothers are a daughter, Mrs. Nell Crane, and a sister, Mrs. Mattie Van Dyke.

Jack Owens To Be A P S C President

The many friends of Mr. Jack Owens all over Alabama will be pleased with the announcement that he is to be appointed President of the Alabama Public Service Commission when the present President, Gordon Persons, becomes Governor in a few days.

Mr. Owens is just now completing a four year term as Associate Member of the Public Service Commission, and was elected last November to another four-year term.

Under appointment as President of the Commission he will serve the unexpired term of President Persons for two years.

Lookers into the crystal ball of Alabama politics see Jack Owens as a strong candidate for Governor in 1954.

Studiosis Offers Special Program

A special program will take you on an exciting trip at the next meeting of Studiosis Tuesday, January 9. The program will begin in Comer Auditorium — note the place — at 7:30. The business meeting and social hour will follow in Reynolds as usual. Be sure to be on hand for a good program and an important business meeting.

Power Plants Closed To Visitors

Alabama Power Company has returned to a war-time footing in respect to visits to its power plants. As a defense precaution, power companies all over the country are closing their power plants and other strategic facilities to the general public.

J. M. Barry, president of Alabama Power Company, who made the announcement, said, "It has been a pleasure to show thousands of Alabamians and others through our power plants. We regret that present world conditions now make it necessary to restrict such visits to persons having business at the plants. When circumstances permit, a cordial invitation will again be extended to the public."

POSTAL NOTICE

Effective Monday, January 8, 1951, the money order window at the Montevallo Post Office will close at 5:30 p.m. daily.

Senator Tom Phillips Gets Important Committee Assignments In State Senate

According to announcement by Lieutenant Governor-Elect, James B. Allen, released this week, our Senator, Hon. J. T. Phillips, of Siluria, is to have some very important assignments for service in the 1951 session of the Alabama State Senate. According to the new Lieutenant Governor's designation, Mr. Phillips will serve in the Senate as follows:

Chairman of the Committee on Insurance.

Vice-Chairman of the Committee on Corporations.

Member of the Committees on Finance and Taxation; Banking; Mining and Manufacturing; Education; Military.

The complete announcement of Lieutenant Governor Allen, in a letter to Senator Phillips, said:

"Dear Tom:—The Senate Rules provide that the Lieutenant Governor, as President of the Senate, shall appoint the various Senate Committees. For the past several months I have been engaged in the task of assigning the members of the 1951 Alabama State Senate to the committees on which they will serve during the coming state administration. The task has now been completed and I wish to advise you in advance of the assignments you are to receive.

"You have been assigned to serve on the following committees Insurance, Chairman; Corporations, Vice - Chairman; Finance and Taxation; Banking; Mining and Manufacturing; Education; Military.

"The committees to which you have been assigned are important committees, and your membership on such committees will enable you to render a public service to the people of your senatorial district and the State of Alabama. I am confidently expecting you to serve with distinction in the Senate and to reflect credit on your constituents by your record of service.

"I am taking the liberty of releasing a copy of this letter to the press and radio for January 4.

"Looking forward to serving with you during the next administration and with kindest personal regards and best wishes, I am, Yours very truly—James B. Allen."

Rudolph Genry Is Commended For Service In The Navy

As crew member of the ammunition ship USS Mt. Katmai, Rudolph P. Genry, seaman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Genry, of Montevallo, was partially responsible for the recent success of his ship in breaking all records for transferring ammunition at sea.

Operating as a unit of Service Squadron Three in the Korean area, the Mt. Katmai averaged a transfer of over 100 tons of ammunition per hour, more than twice the normal tonnage.

For their exceptional service and fine record the officers and men were commended by Rear Admiral J. M. Hoskins, Commander Carrier Division Three with the Navy's official "Well Done."

The Mt. Katmai recently returned to a Naval base in Japan to afford well-deserved liberty and recreation to the crew.

Bowdon To Show New 1951 Dodge On January 20

Dodge will introduce its 1951 model cars to the public on January 20, it was announced this week by Mr. R. E. Bowdon, Jr., of the Bowdon Motor & Implement Co., of Calera.

Mr. Bowdon has just returned from a dealer preview of the new cars at Atlanta, Georgia. He described them "really outstanding in appearance, riding comfort and roadability."

"I am excited about the looks of the 1951 Dodge cars," Mr. Bowdon said. "They are beautiful automobiles, both inside and outside. As for mechanical improvements, the Dodge engineers have developed something new in the way of ride control. I think it is one of the best advancements in chassis engineering we have seen in a long time, and I am looking forward to giving road demonstrations beginning January 20."

Mr. Bowdon said Dodge 1950 retail sales nationally were the biggest in Dodge history, despite the fact that the factory was out of production for three months last spring.

29 Persons Fined For Shooting Doves

An Associated Press news item from Foley January 3 says that 29 persons, among them a number of prominent Mobile and Baldwin County business men, were fined on a charge of hunting doves over a baited field.

The $10 fines and $7.50 court costs were imposed by Justice of the Peace, M. R. Howell.

Federal and state game wardens who participated in the arrest said the group was caught December 27 in a field near Silverhill.

Among those arrested was State Senator-Elect, J. H. Faulkner, of Bay Minette.

Senator Faulkner will be a member of the new 1951 Senate Committee on Forestry and Conservation, and Chairman of the Committee on Education. He is editor and publisher of the Baldwin County Times.

Well, what's a little dove shooting betwixt friends and politicians?

Governor Gordon Persons paid his boy, Gordon, Jr., out of hock for doing it over around Tallassee a few days ago.

Looks like the incoming state administration will be well up on the dove shooting business.

THE NAME OF TROY

Troy could be called the "city of many names". In the early days while it was still an Indian hunting ground, it was Deer Stand to the Redmen. Then came the first white settlers, and the site became known as Zebulon. Later, Zebulon was changed to Centerville. Finally, it was named Troy in honor of Alexander Troy.

Our Government

J. E. Jones
Washington Correspondent

In the New Congress

A look ahead indicates that the Democratic and Republican parties will have about equal strength in controlling the affairs of the Nation.

You might just as well understand now as later the weaknesses of President Truman—he will not control a majority of the members of the Senate or the House.

While the Democrats have every desire to rule Congress, the fact remains that they are not going to stick by a weak leader through thick and thin as they have in the past.

It seems strange that the President should have written a dirty and threatening letter to a newspaper correspondent in Washington—and he must have known in advance that he was cutting the foundation from under his own feet.

It may be a good thing to have a Senate sticking by its own principles and a House carrying out the same program. By doing this they might strengthen their own positions.

Surely, the Democrats in the two branches of Government can not be ruled by Mr. Truman. It is, however, reasonable to believe that a free and independent Congress will strike out to improve the government of the United States.

We've Quit Guessing

For long months this correspondent has been hoping and praying for our victory in Korea, because that killing affair is a cruel useless and really a murderous procedure.

A "headline" tells about the "U. N. Strategy in Korea."

The United Nations may be preparing to give battle, but the Communists are the people who are licking us. They seem to be able to get Chinese and other half-wits to join the battle against the enemies of Communism. What are we fighting for over there? You answer that question. This correspondent doesn't find anybody in Washington who has the answer.

The Trumans

President Truman has not been popular with Congress, and he has not succeeded as the leader of his party or the people of the National Capital. This is a very difficult statement to write in a weekly letter from Washington—but it is true.

The President has very little control over Congress—even over the Democrats. The Republicans don't hesitate to be very outspoken in criticism of Mr. Truman.

It's all too bad. But it must be remembered that he was elected by the voters of the United States. So we'll have to go along with Mr. Truman—whom very few people appreciate.

Hamburgers

A hamburger and bun contains 29 per cent of the working man's daily requirements of thiamin.

Brooklyn Indian Scares Housewife With Scalping Knife

NEW YORK—A resident of a Brooklyn apartment house told the Flatbush court an Indian working as an elevator operator in the building has some rights, but she doesn't believe they include wearing a "scalping knife" and hanging a modified war club in his elevator.

Mrs. George Hagopian, one of the 12 tenants in the building, said that it had taken a little time to get used to Chief Reindeer, otherwise known as "Joe" when he went to work as superintendent and elevator operator—not that his strangeness was entirely distasteful.

She thought his custom of wearing his hair in a braid was novel and when he occasionally stuck a gay feather into his coiffure, it lent a romantic touch that brightened all of Flatbush.

However, she said the elevator service was poor. You could "ring and ring" before the car came and it did not do much good to complain. Once, she added, when she did complain, Chief Reindeer replied: "This is my country, you leave."

Mrs. Hagopian reminded him of a real estate transaction involving Manhattan island and $24 worth of trinkets. Neither was calm enough at the time to speculate on how Brooklyn was included in the parcel. In any event, the Indian directed her attention to a knife in his belt, which terminated the argument, she said.

Mrs. Hagopian said that she was afraid of being scalped. She said that other tenants had been insulted and that several had signed a petition to the landlord for the chief's removal.

The building's owner was advised to keep the chief under wraps.

Black Eyed Peas Confuse New Bean Sorting Machine

WASHINGTON—The government has developed a bean sorting machine in which a television tube "eye" picks the bad from the good.

The machine can scan 3,780 beans a minute, and eject any that does not conform to a normal color pattern. Some 100 are being used at the Chester B. Brown plant at Gering, Neb.

They can be adjusted to sort beans of any color, even pintos, it is reported, but the so-called black eyed pea (experts call it a bean, too) has the TV eye stumped. It can't tell the difference between a bad pea's discoloration and the distinctive black eye on a good one. It's another mystery that science has not explained yet.

Send Money For Christmas Seals

Have you forgotten—it is not too late.

No, it isn't too late to answer that Christmas Seal letter. The fight to wipe out TB which you are supporting by your contribution today will continue throughout the year. This is the only time you are asked to support that fight.

During 1951 Alabama will hear a great deal about TB—periodic chest X-Rays, new methods of prevention, and new techniques in cure will be investigated and used.

Yet, this is the only time you are asked to help yourself and your fellow man in that fight. That's why the campaign against this killer must be supported now so that the fight may continue throughout the year.

There is not a single county in the state of Alabama which does not have a known active case of TB. In the greater percentage of our counties there were deaths from tuberculosis last year.

Do your part. Answer your letter with a contribution today and make your home secure from the killer TB!

Cullman To Vote On Liquor Issue

Montgomery—The people of Cullman County will decide on whether their county will be wet or dry when a special election is held January 18.

The election was called by Probate Judge Kenneth J. Griffith, after a petition bearing the proper number of signatures was submitted to him recently. The petition was sponsored, he said, by a group of Cullman veterans.

Only once since the national prohibition law was repealed has Cullman County voted wet.

Under the old local option law in Alabama, prior to national prohibition, Cullman was among the very last counties to give up its open saloons.

Dr. Gill Warns Of Flu Dangers

Montgomery—This is the cold-flu-pneumonia season, the State Health Officer warned this week.

Dr. D. G. Gill reminded Alabamians that these three diseases became much more prevalent in cold weather and urged people all over the state to do what they can to protect themselves against infection.

He urged especially avoidance of close association with coughers and sneezers, keeping physical resistance high, and getting plenty of rest. A well balanced diet of good, wholesome food was also recommended as a protection against the infecting virus.

Too Much Sun

Suntan is appealing, but sunburn is a real thing—plus a lot of discomfort. Too much sun actually can be dangerous, so take the sun in easy doses.

World's Largest Treasure Lies
On Sea Bottom

WASHINGTON—Of all the treasure in the world—that hidden in the treasure houses of potentates of the east and the rich men of the world, a greater treasure lies at the bottom of the sea in rotting ships.

Billions of dollars worth, probably, but only the tidy sum of $600,000,000 seems to be accounted for by the historians.

This figure is based upon a survey of 70 old treasure ships, now fathoms deep, whose names, approximate locations, and cargoes have been authenticated.

Apparently only Davy Jones has full information about other rich vessels, notes the National Geographic society.

Staggering Losses

For instance, records are fragmentary concerning the gold laden Portuguese galleons which were sunk off the coast of Brazil. Many must have been lost because there is a discrepancy of $2,000,000,000 between official records of gold and the amounts received in the home country.

The Spanish, too, had staggering losses. Their lumbering galleons were often easy prey for British and Dutch ships and the swift vessels of the ruthless Caribbean pirates. Half of the $600,000,000 in known lost treasures consists of sunken Spanish loot from Latin America.

The Spanish lost the largest shipment of precious metal they ever transported. Archives of Spain and England set the value of the treasure $150,000,000 which stuffed the holds of a 17 ship armada. British and Dutch men of war sank all but one of these vessels in an action at Vigo Bay, Spain, in 1702. The attackers got $10,000,000, and salvage companies of half a dozen nations have since recovered an additional $20,000,000. The rest is 70 feet deep in the bay.

$65,000,000 Lost

Raging storms probably claimed more Spanish gold than did the freebooters. There are scores of authentic instances where galleons with rich cargoes are known to have floundered.

A noted example is the fleet of 14 treasure ships which went down in a hurricane in 1715 off Long Cay, Fla., taking along $65,000,000 in gold and silver. The Spanish salvaged $1,500,000—only to have it hijacked by a British raider lurking near by.

The coastal waters of the United States hold plenty of treasure. One famous trove of $4,000,000 went down with a British frigate in New York's East river in 1780.

The people of Brookside, Alabama, celebrate the old Russian Christmas on January 7. Ceremonies begin on the evening of the sixth, when the young people in costumes of the Three Wise Men and Angels parade through the streets and county lanes chanting carols and bearing a miniature manger. At midnight young and old assemble in the small frame Russian Orthodox Church while chimes welcome Christmas Day.

Pigs Have Become Major Cash Crop

Montgomery—Pigs are fast becoming a major cash crop for Alabama farmers.

This week the Alabama Co-Op crop reporting service reported that the fall production for Alabama pigs has topped 877,000 a recent record.

This amount, added to the spring production of 880,000, gives Alabama a twelve month total of 1,765,000 pigs. This is a five per cent increase over 1949, and the largest of any year since 1943.

Bedtime Snack

A little, but not too much, is the rule for bedtime snacks. A little snack of something light and easily digested just before bedtime will help avoid the stomach contractions of hunger pains, which can cause restless, disturbed sleep. Too much heavy food, on the other hand, will cause extreme discomfort, disturbing sleep even more.

Perspiration

Perspiration is a secretion given off by over two million glands in our skin. It is mixed with sebum, an oily, heavy viscous liquid, and cast-off cells of the skin. It becomes contaminated with bacteria on the skin, hair, air, and on our clothes. These bacteria decompose human perspiration and this decomposition causes its odor.

Effort To Reduce Decay of Teeth

Tuscaloosa Dec. 19, 1950—The Tuscaloosa Dental Society announced this week approval of a plan sponsored by the city to place sodium fluoride in the city water supply in an effort to reduce tooth decay among children.

Waterworks Commissioner W. H. Nicol previously announced the city would undertake the project if the dental society and the county Board of Health approve.

It would be the first city in Alabama to take such action, if the project is carried out.

Christmas Party At Dogwood School

The pupils of the Dogwood School entertained their parents and other guests with a Christmas program on Wednesday afternoon, December 20. Christmas carols were sung by the student body.

Each of the three rooms gave a play suitable to the age of the pupils. Outstanding talent in dramatics was shown by several of the pupils. The teachers of these children are Mildton Smith, Jr., principal; Mrs. Elizabeth Jeter, and Miss Lulu Smith.

Mobile Defers Road Bond Issue

Mobile—A $2,000,000 road paving bond issue for Mobile County was indefinitely postponed this week due to the seriousness of the national emergency.

Officials of the county board of revenue announced that the bond issue would not be submitted to the voters of Mobile County until the world situation returns to a more normal condition.

There has been much recent discussion about building a new county court house for Mobile, but officials said that nothing definite has been decided upon as of present.

Orion, Alabama, settled in the early 1830's by a group of wealthy planters was known as Prospect Ridge. During this time an aged backwoods man claimed that he had discovered a rich seam of gold, and created wild excitement when he appeared on the town's main street with a supply of gold nuggets. However, it was found that the "prospector" possessed a far reaching imagination and loved practical jokes. The gold nuggets were real enough but he had obtained them at some place far from Orion.

How Does Social Security Now Apply To Persons Who Are Over Sixty-Five?

You do not have to be wholly or permanently "retired" to get retirement payments under the Old-Age and Survivors Insurance system, according to M. C. Folmar, Manager of the Birmingham Social Security office. The numbers of people coming into his office confused on this point prompted him to make the explanation.

"Actually," Mr. Folmar pointed out, "the new Social Security law makes it possible for insured people 65 and over to collect retirement benefits while still earning up to $50.00 per month on covered jobs. The old limit of $14.99 was changed on last September 1. Even the $50 limit does not apply to earnings from work not covered by Social Security. Neither does it apply to people age 75 or over."

"The law is simple that a person between 65 and 75 years of age cannot collect benefits for any month in which he earns more than $50 from work covered by Social Security. No amount of earnings or income from any other sources will affect his right to benefits. Insured people age 75 or over can collect even though working full time on jobs covered by Social Security, or for that matter, any job."

"Another point we'd like to get across," Mr. Folmar continued, "is that anyone now age 65 or over very likely is insured if he has worked as much as a year and a half, at any time back to January 1937, on Social Security-covered jobs."

Mr. Folmar invites residents of this area who are eligible for benefits under the new law to get in touch with the Social Security Representative who is at the Alabama State Employment office, Calera, every Thursday at 9:30 a.m.

Joe Bradford On The USS Princeton

Joseph T. Bradford, seaman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Bradford of Montevallo, is serving aboard the 27,000-ton aircraft carrier USS Princeton now operating in Korean waters.

The Princeton is the fifth naval vessel to bear that name and was built to replace her namesake carrier, lost in the Battle for Leyte Gulf during World War II. She carries fighting and attack squadrons which have been lending close support to United Nations ground forces in Korea. This is accomplished by low-level strafing, the dropping of napalm "fire bombs," and knocking out enemy tanks with rocket fire.

Rep. Edward deGraffenried Devotes His Time To Work of Armed Services

Representative Edward deGraffenried has been named to four important subcommittees of the House Armed Services Committee.

Because of the necessity for a speedy action on defense legislation, the Armed Services Committee members were elected by the House and will not go through the channels of election by the Ways and Means Committee. Mr. deGraffenried was named among other members whom the House, in a formal resolution, returned to the defense seats.

The four subcommittees on which he will serve in the 82nd Congress are Subcommittee Number One, concerned with general defense legislation; a subcommittee on the permanent stockpiling of strategic materials; a subcommittee on air procurement; and a newly formed subcommittee to investigate reserve components of the armed services.

Tuesday the Armed Services Committee met to consider legislation to authorize the construction of a large aircraft carrier and plans for possible reorganization of the Air Force.

Rep. deGraffenried, who voted with the Alabama Delegation this week to restore the Rules Committee power to pass on all bills before they are considered by the House, said he did not anticipate any fight this year on civil rights matters. He said, "I think House Members this year will concentrate on preparing the country for defense and on a thorough analysis of our foreign policy." He said he thought the action taken in restoring the Rules Committee's power would prevent unnecessary legislation from being brought up and consuming time needed on important defense matters.

"We all realize what a very critical condition we're in and that while we realize the administration may have made many mistakes in the past, Mr. Truman is still the President, and in all probability will be the President during the next two critical years. Therefore, it is up to us to try to help him in every way possible to remedy those mistakes and to cooperate in the fullest for a sound defense program.

"At the same time," Rep. deGraffenried continued, "we must urge him in every way possible to have full defense production, practically full mobilization and those controls which are necessary."

He said he did not agree with a "total isolationist policy as that advocated by Mr. Hoover," but he did think the ex-President's speech "a good thing for the country."

"His speech will be a stimulus for debates on both sides of the question so that a proper conclusion can more probably be reached."

The Sixth District Congressman said America cannot shut herself off from the rest of the world and that "we must have strength in order to keep our allies." "If we are strong, there is little chance that our allies would leave us for Russia," he said. "However, we must deal fairly with our allies and we should tell them they will have no future help from us unless they show absolute good faith and go all out to help themselves."

He condemned the shipments of strategic materials now being made by certain of our European allies to Russia or to her satellites. "They should be ordered to stop this or we should refuse to help them if they continue," he said. He said the government had finally, in its September 8 export license action, stopped all shipments to Red countries and that even so our own action had been "too long delayed."

Rep. deGraffenried is devoting almost full time work now to his Armed Services Committee assignments. He said that it had been suggested that he serve on an additional committee in this Congress, but he had declined to do so, in view of the heavy load the Armed Services group is now carrying.

His son, Edward, Jr., has been recalled to active Navy duty and the Congressman said he believed his son is now enroute to Korea.

Deputy Will Help On Income Tax

A Deputy Collector from the Internal Revenue Department will be at the Post Office, Montevallo, February 8, 1951—from 8:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. to assist taxpayers in making out their income tax returns. Taxpayers requesting assistance of a Deputy Collector in preparation of returns must be able to readily furnish the following information:

1. A record of all income received in 1950.
2. An itemized statement of all deductions they wish to claim on the return, such as taxes, interest, contributions, business expenses, cost of goods sold, etc.
3. The total amount of tax withheld by all employers during 1950, together with Form W-2 furnished by each employer.
4. The amount of tax paid on estimated income tax for 1950 as reflected by declaration of such income filed on Form 1040-ES.
5. A copy of the 1949 return if depreciation was claimed on such return.

SUE DOBBINS

Sue Dobbins, newly elected president of the freshman class at Alabama College, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Dobbins, of Gadsden. By tradition at the college, freshman class officers are not elected until late in the semester in order to give freshmen a chance to know all class members.

Karl Harrison In The Driver's Seat At Legislature

Shelby County's Representative, Hon. Karl C. Harrison, appears to be in a strong and strategic position for outstanding service in the 1951 State Legislature.

He has been given membership on the House Rules Committee and the Committee on Ways and Means. These are the two committees that guide and control legislation in the House of Representatives.

Furthermore, Mr. Harrison has been designated as one of the administration's leaders on the floor of the House.

Mr. Harrison fully deserves this recognition of his ability as a lawmaker. He has already had a term of service in the State Senate, which, with his experience and his personal popularity and ability marks him now as one of the outstanding members of the Legislature.

Albert P. Caton left Tuesday night for Craig Field where he will be stationed with the Army Air Forces temporarily.

Gov. Folsom's Report To The Legislature Sounds Like His 1954 Campaign Speech

Montgomery — Noting his failures as well as his accomplishments, Gov. James E. Folsom this week reported to the new legislature and to the people on his four year administration.

"There has been four years of progress in some fields but very little progress in others," he said. "We failed to get $50 per month for the old people; a constitutional convention; more widespread use of the franchise through the abolition of the poll tax," he said, "and we failed to get legislative reapportionment."

And he told the legislature, "As a private citizen I shall continue to work for those parts of my program which were not achieved because I believe those things will make Alabama a much better and more democratic state for its people." He added, "And in this day when democracy is being challenged by foreignisms, we must exert every effort to strengthen it here at home in order to strengthen it abroad."

The governor highlighted his report of accomplishments by stating that 3,165 miles of paved road were built from October 1946 to October 1950. "In addition there are several hundred miles of roads on which varying amounts of work have been done, including considerable mileage which is now ready for hard surfacing."

The report stated that four times as many roads were paved during the present administration as in the previous four years; twice as many as from 1939 to 1942, and 50 per cent more than in any four year period of the history of the state.

Folsom said he was leaving $12,000,000 of roads under contract to be built during the next year, and pointed out that there were $17,000,000 in contracts outstanding which he had to build and pay for when he came into office.

County Chairman, Dr. M. L. Orr, Names Community Leaders For March of Dimes

'I Wanna Go Home'

No cheerful little tearful is two-year-old Gordon Miller, a polio patient at Utica, N. Y., Children's Hospital. But the March of Dimes—through the Herkimer County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis—is helping Gordon back to health and a smiling future.

The 1951 March of Dimes drive begins Monday, January 15, in Shelby County. The drive will be headed again by Dr. M. L. Orr, who far the past three years has been chairman of the Shelby County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

"National and State headquarters are urging that we do better this year in Shelby County than we did last year. Last year we did considerably better than ever before. However, they claim that the need is so desperate that a much more strenuous effort must be put forth to collect more or else many infantile paralysis victims will suffer," says Dr. Orr.

"Everybody believes in the infantile paralysis drive. Many, however, do not realize the seriousness of the emergency. During the past three years more cases of infantile paralysis have occurred in the United States than ever before. Many cases have occurred in Shelby County and have been helped from funds collected in the county."

Community and school chairmen for the 1951 drive are:

Mrs. P. N. Lee, Aldrich; Mrs. Jack Dement, W. R. Adkins, Boothton; Mrs. Harry Anderson, E. H. Littlejohn, Calera; Mrs. T. E. Warren, Jr., Calcis; Mrs. Virginia Day, Mrs. Wilson Durden, Camp Branch; Mrs. Louie Waldrop, Lewis Blackerby, Chelsea; Mrs. Canrad Fowler, Mr. W. W. Elliott, Columbiana; Mrs. W. D. Moore, Cross Roads; Mrs. Mike Nannini, Mr. Milton Smith, Dogwood; Mrs. Lizzie Ishell, Dunnavaunt; Mrs. Beulah Fancher, Four Mile; Mrs. L. N. Wyatt, Mrs. Anna Lee Wyatt, Harpersville.

Mrs. Rual Stark, Mr. D. M. Carroll, Helena; Mrs. Larris Harris, Mrs. Elizabeth Ellis, Mayberry; Mrs. Bob Lacey, Henry Peete, Maylene; Claude M. Hill, Jr., and Harold Anthony, Montevallo; Mrs. Julia Moore, New Hope; Mrs. P. G. Sailors and Mrs. Sarah Walker, Pelham; Mrs. Ray Bruner and Mr. Simon Blackerby, Sterrett; Mrs. Cecil Davis, Louis Brasher, Shelby; Mrs. H. M. Johnson, Mr. Robert H. Johnson, Siluria; Mrs. George Lloyd, Mrs. Eleanor Billups, Vandiver; Mrs. J. W. Florey, Mr. D. B. Smith, Vincent; Miss Katherine Helms, Mr. J. B. King, Wilsonville; and Mrs. B. B. Curry, Wilton.

Alumnae Board Meets Here Saturday

The executive board of the National Alumnae Association of Alabama College will meet Saturday morning in Reynolds Hall.

Those who are members of the executive board and plan to attend are Miss Elizabeth Souders, Birmingham, president of the association; Miss Marion Bumpers, of Montgomery, vice president; Miss Ethel Harris, of Alabama College, treasurer; Miss Ollie Tillman and Mrs. W. H. Trumbauer, of Alabama College; Miss Helen Morgan, Thomasville; Dorothy Hix, of Birmingham; Mrs. A. Bell, Vincent; Miss Mattie Lee, of Alabama College; Miss Virginia Hendrick, of Alabama College.

OUR LOVELY LOU

The daily papers this week featured a picture of Mrs. Louise Lovelady Wilson as clerk of one of the Committees of the Alabama House of Representatives.

We do not know which committee it is, but we are certain of one thing—it has the best clerk in the business.

New Social Security Law Improves Status of Women For Insurance Benefits

Women, in general, have greater rights and larger benefits under the recent amendments to Federal Social Security than formerly. This applies to wives, mothers, widows, and to the woman as a worker providing for the family.

For instance, the new law recognizes, and meets to a fuller extent than the original Social Security, the economic needs of the mother. Heretofore, the wife of a retired and insured worker was not entitled to monthly insurance payments until she too reached age 65. Now, if she has a minor child in her care, she gets monthly payments, regardless of her age.

Under the old law, a mother caring for the minor children of her deceased divorced husband was not entitled to monthly insurance payments in her own right. Now, if she has in her care either their natural child, or legally adopted child entitled to insurance payments, she too, will get monthly payments. However, she must have been receiving at least half her support from the insured divorced husband at the time of his death.

The provision in the new law granting wage credits for service in World War II will also bring new benefits to many women. In addition to the many women who actually serve in the armed forces, it will enable many widows of service men to qualify for survivors' benefits. Also widows of such insured workers, with minor children, may now receive insurance payments even though they get compensation or pension under veterans' legislation.

It is now much easier for children to qualify for insurance payments based on their working mother's insurance status. Under the old law, payments based on her work could not be made to her dependent children if the father was living in the home. This was true even though the mother was providing all or most of the children's support. Now children may receive benefits if they were receiving half their support from her, or if she was currently insured when she retired or died.

Women, as workers, now have much broader field in which to gain a livelihood with Old-Age and Survivors Insurance protection. Regular domestic employees in private households came under Social Security in January. This is a type of work in which women predominate. Also, many women work for themselves, and they will have Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance protection under the amended law's provision for the self-employed.

For further information contact the Social Security office at 1825 First Avenue, North, Birmingham.

Instructors Meet In Work Conference

Montgomery—Instruction supervisors and directors of instruction from over Alabama are gathering at the Jefferson Davis Hotel in Montgomery for a four-day annual work conference. Registration began Sunday afternoon and the program got under way in full swing Monday morning.

The conference is packed full of group discussions, and speeches by outstanding educators from the state's instruction supervisors and instruction directors.

General theme of the conference is the analysis of the work of the supervisor.

Dr. M. L. Orr, director of education at Alabama College, and Miss Minnie Dunn, director of elementary education, Alabama College, are attending this conference; also Miss Anita King, supervisor of instruction in Shelby's county schools.

Built in 5 Years in Alabama...

A 'Main Street' of Telephone Buildings

TELEPHONE facilities require lots of building space. If all the buildings built by Southern Bell in Alabama since 1945 were placed together they would form a "Main Street" for a good-sized town. There would be 18 completely new buildings and 17 additions to existing buildings.

And the number of new telephones made possible by these buildings and the millions of dollars of equipment put into them would be more than enough to serve another city the size of Birmingham.

In the last five years Southern Bell has more than doubled the number of telephones in Alabama... nearly quadrupled rural telephones... more than doubled long distance circuits... converted thousands of telephones to dial operation and improved the service in many other ways. And to do those things we had to build $62,000,000 of new facilities. That's more than we had invested in Alabama five years ago.

And we must go on building in order to meet the continuing heavy demand for telephone service. That makes it important to Alabama to have a financially healthy Telephone Company.

Lions, Tigers Like Catnip Just Like Household Pets

CHICAGO—Lions, tigers and leopards love catnip—just as much as the family cat.

A bushel of catnip was tossed into the Lion house at the Brookfield zoo by Director Robert Bean—just to see if anything would happen.

The animals responded with an assortment of capers and catnips that amazed even Bean. They behaved like overgrown kittens. And like cats, they appeared very fond of the catnip.

Tommy, a 160-pound Indian leopard regarded as dangerous, appeared to be trying to giggle. He sniffed the herb, rolled on it, and then staggered around drunkenly with a spray draped over one ear.

Two surly Bengal tigers, Prince and Duke, attempted tricks after taking a few whiffs of the catnip. Duke tried to stand on his head, right in the catnip.

Prince, leaning groggily in a corner, did setting up exercises. He took another sniff and offered to shake Bean's hand. Bean declined.

Chevrolet Makes All-Time Record

Detroit, Jan. 2 --- Two all-time records for the biggest year's production by a single company in the history of the automobile industry were announced today by the Chevrolet Motor Division as it prepared for defense commitment. The first record is for U. S. plants alone, 2,015,150, the second is for total production of 2,107,493, including Canadian plants. Both exceed old records that have stood since 1923.

This achievement makes Chevrolet the first manufacturer to have built more than two million vehicles in U. S. plants in a single year.

Airmen Decorate Barracks With Rugs, Shades, Curtains

ENID, Okla.—It's just a regulation GI barracks on the outside but inside enlisted men of Vance air force base live in private rooms with curtains on the windows and rugs on the floor.

With permission of the commandant, the airmen closed a wholesale deal with a lumber company, borrowed $220, and partitioned the floor into 11 two-man rooms with knotty-pine walls and closets.

The venetian blinds, curtains, and other finer points of interior decoration came out of each individual's pocket but one satisfied resident said his new quarters "are nicer than my brother's in college."

Cotton Cloth Treated With New Compound Resists Dirt

DALLAS, Texas — A new compound known as "CMC," or carboxymethyl cellulose, is going to be good news for laundry-conscious mothers.

Treated with the compound, cotton clothes in the future will resist dirt. And, once they are soiled, getting them clean will be easy, requiring little scrubbing and less soap.

James A. Kime of the U. S. department of agriculture told the Cotton Research Congress of experimental results obtained with CMC, a low cost derivative of cellulose.

"About three level tablespoons of CMC per gallon of rinse water gives cotton goods improved oil resistance without changing the feel of the fabric," he declared.

Kime said CMC applied as a rinse, appears to coat cotton fibers with a smooth film that keeps dirt from coming in close contact with the fabric.

Cotton cloth treated with CMC and uniformly soiled with carbon black, Kime said, washed easily to its original color. Untreated cottons similarly soiled could not be washed cleaner than a dull, dirty gray.

Kime also reported development of a process to make cotton bags insect repellent. The paper industry, he noted, had cut heavily into this important field because multiwalled bags of paper were more resistant to insect penetration.

But cotton bags treated by the new process have "successfully resisted insect penetration and prevented spoilage of contents for as long as seven months under condition of heavy insect population," Kime said.

Save the spiced sweet vinegar which is left in bottles of pickles and spiced fruits. Use it in making gelatin salads; use it to thin mayonnaise; pour it over baked ham just before browning; use it in cocktail sauces for sea foods; use it in place of cider when making mince pies. It is also good when used as a hot syrup and poured over beets.

Thompson P T A Studies Safety

"Safety and Juvenile Protection," will be discussed by Sgt. Charles E. O'Gwynn, Safety Education Officer of the State Department of Public Safety, and the members of the Thompson P.T.A. at the regular meeting on the evening of January 15, at 7:30 in the science department of the high school building.

Mrs. Leon Barton, Program Chairman, states that Sgt. O'Gwynn will illustrate his talk with films. Mrs. John Kroell will give the devotional and music will be presented by Mrs. Louise Hoskins and Mrs. A. E. Dennis.

A Tea Ball may be used as a convenient container in which to place whole spices when making spiced syrups or some types of pickles where a spice flavor rather than the whole spice itself is desired. Leave the tea ball containing the spices in the boiling mixture the desired length of time and then remove.

Home Ec Directors In Conference Here

The Alabama College Home Economics Department will be host this week to a workshop on "An Appraisal of Home Economics in Higher Education."

Dr. Neige Todhunter of the University of Alabama will make the opening keynote talk at 7:30 p.m., Friday to the 50 delegates.

Saturday the participants representing 10 colleges in Alabama will discuss three phases of the subject.

Group 1 will discuss the question, "How can we help ourselves grow as teachers in home economics education?" The chairman of this group is Miss Helen Bosard of the University of Alabama.

Group 2 will take up the problem, "How can we determine student needs and interests as a basis for guiding them and for our curriculum planning?" Miss Mary Larkin of Alabama College will be chairman of this group.

Group 3 will be concerned with "How can we make the home economics curriculum provide for home and family living as well as professional preparation?" It will be under direction of Dr. Rebecca Pate of Alabama Polytechnic Institute, chairman.

These group meetings will be followed Saturday afternoon by reports from the group and discussion and summary.

Dr. Lois Ackerley, head of the Home Economics Department of Alabama College, is the campus hostess for the workshop.

Alabama's General John Coffee was not only Andrew Jackson's "right arm" during the Creek Indian Wars but was also Old Hickory's brother-in-law. His onetime home, Hickory Hill, still stands not far from Florence.

Exactly 30 years to the day after Alabama's admittance to the Union as the 23rd state, December 14, 1819, a fiery celebration took place on Goat Hill in Montgomery—the state capitol building was gutted by fire.

When purchasing spices and seasonings, don't overlook the combined varieties now available on the market. These include a mixed cake spice, whole and ground blends of pickle spices, a spice combination particularly designed for pumpkin pie, and a special combination of poultry seasonings.

After grating cheese that is quite fresh, rub a hard crust of bread over the grater. The grater will be freed from the particles of cheese, while the crumbs of bread and cheese combined in the rubbing process are always useful.

South Africa

Although South Africa is famous for its rich and productive gold mines, individual prospectors have found this country less fruitful than California or Australia. The reason lies in South Africa's scarcity of alluvial gold deposits, for easy surface working.

Kentucky 31 Fescue Is Wonder Grass

In 1950, 49 new cooperators joined the more than 500 Shelby County farms under agreement with the North Central Soil Conservation District.

These increased to 81,336 the number of acres of farms under agreement.

In 1950 these farms reported 3,571 acres of cover crops planted (exclusive of reseeded legumes). There were 1960 acres of pasture seeded anew, of which 1314 acres was seeded to Ky 31 Fescue. This wonder grass is meeting an almost overwhelming reception since being introduced by the Soil Conservation Service to cooperating farms.

Since the extremely severe November weather the worst complaint reaching our ears about fescue is that there isn't enough of it. Many farmers plan to multiply their acreage for grazing and hay. Considering the remarkable way in which Caley peas outclassed other winter legumes in freeze resistance, it is likely that most fescue acreage will also be seeded to Caley peas.

Conecuh County's name is definitely of Indian origin, but there has been some controversy as to the meaning. Some authorities hold that Conecuh means "land of cane", while others are of the opinion that it was the Redman's word for "polecat's head".

POLIO—A GROWING SHADOW

CASES REPORTED SINCE 1936

SHOWN IN 3-YEAR PERIODS

*Including 1950 estimate of 30,000 cases.

During the three-year period 1948-1950 patient care alone cost more than $58,000,000 in March of Dimes funds.

The chart above reveals polio's ever-increasing threat to the American people and the enormous cost of patient care borne by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. This year, the forward march of polio presents an especially urgent problem to the March of Dimes: the purchasing value of the dollar has shrunk to 58 cents in comparison with pre-war days, while polio cases have nearly quadrupled.

In 1839 Irwinton, Alabama, was one of the most important cotton shipping centers in the state. Each year 5,000 bales, bound for New York City and Liverpool, England, passed via barges and flatboats down the Chattahoochee River. Four years later the name of the shipping center was changed to Eufaula when a banker became exceedingly angry because some important mail was missent to Irwinton, Georgia. Eufaula is corrupt Indian meaning beech tree.

Survey Shows 900 Diabetes Suspects

Diabetes is a disease of frequent occurrence. It is no respecter of age or person. However, it is more common between the ages of 40 and 60. It is caused by a failure of the pancreas to secrete the substance necessary for the utilization of sugar and starches. Overweight is a common predisposing factor.

Many people are potential diabetics who have not yet developed any signs or symptoms characteristic of the disease. These can be discovered only by certain tests by the doctor and, when found in the early stage, it can often be controlled simply by regulation of the diet.

During the recent county-wide survey conducted by the state and county health departments and the county medical society, approximately 900 people were found to have a high blood sugar and were asked to return for a second test. Figures are not yet available on the number who were found by their doctors to have actual diabetes.

Prior to the discovery of insulin the outlook of the diabetic was indeed gloomy. He was subject to various symptoms and to many serious complications. Severe infections, gangrene of the extremities, acidosis and changes affecting the blood vessels were common. His life, at best, was considerably shortened.

With the use of insulin the diabetic can take a normal, well balanced diet, and his only inconvenience is his daily dose of insulin and a check on the amount of food elements which he consumes. He can otherwise expect to live a normal life.—Dr. E. F. Sloan, County Health Officer.

Of Alabama's 67 counties, only 14 bear the names of Alabama men.

No Smallpox Cases In 1948 and 1949

Montgomery—No smallpox cases were reported from anywhere in the state in 1948 or 1949, according to the State Department of Health.

Only one case was reported in 1947. Cases reported during the other years of the decade between 1940 and 1949 ranged widely. Five each were reported in 1945 and 1946 and 51 in 1940.

Only the crumbled ruins mark the site of the once proud little settlement of Blakely, across the bay from Mobile. The village was incorporated in 1815 and the town had grown to 3,000 inhabitants a decade and a half later, in spite of being struck by a yellow fever epidemic in 1826. Two years after the epidemic, Blakely became a dangerous commercial rival of Mobile for a time, but a financial depression eventually drove the town's inhabitants across the bay, and Blakely was left a ghost town.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 18, 1951

MONTEVALLO, ALABAMA

VOL. 18 — NUMBER 37

Cattlemen To Meet January 26-27

Alabama's largest cattlemen's meeting will be held in Montgomery January 26 and 27, when the annual meeting of the Alabama Cattlemen's Association is scheduled. O. J. Henley, Tuscaloosa, president, said today.

The meeting will get underway in Montgomery's Whitley Hotel with registration of delegates. This will be followed by a tour of the nearly complete Alabama Agricultural Center Colsium and delegates will be luncheon guests of the Montgomery County Cattlemen's Association and the Montgomery Chamber of Commerce at noon Friday.

Outstanding cattlemen will be the principal speakers during the meeting, Henley said. Edward F. Wilson, president, Wilson & Company, Chicago, will be the main banquet speaker Friday night and Richard Kleberg of King Ranch in Texas, will address the group at the Saturday morning session.

In addition W. R. Thompson, of the Extension Department, Mississippi State College, Starkville, and Noah Ward, Executive Secretary, Louisiana Department of Agriculture and Immigration, Baton Rouge, are scheduled to speak to Alabama's cattlemen during the Friday afternoon meeting.

All sessions except the tour of the Colsium and the Friday luncheon are slated for the Whitley Hotel, and Henley urged cattlemen planning to attend the annual Round-Up to make hotel reservations direct with the hotel.

Kleberg heads the world's largest ranching corporation in Kingsville, Texas. The ranch recently has purchased land holdings in Alabama's Black Belt and plan extensive operations in this section of the State. This will be Kleberg's first appearance before a group of Alabama cattlemen.

Local Educators Attend Conference

Highlighted by addresses of Dr. Jane Franseith of the U.S. Office of Education, Dr. W. Morrison McCall and Miss Helen Kearly of the State Department of Education, and Mr. W. J. Terry, the incoming State Superintendent of Education, the Department of Supervisors and Directors of Instruction of this State held a highly successful conference in Montgomery, January 7-11, 1951.

More than seventy-five persons registered for the conference with representatives of the Association of School Administrators, Principals Association, the P.T.A., Classroom Teachers, Attendance Supervisors, State Teachers Colleges, The University, A.P.I., and Alabama College being present.

Besides hearing addresses on the work of the supervisors, special and regular study groups met to discuss different aspects and duties and to formulate plans for further study. The general theme of the conference was "Analysis of the work of the Supervisor". Group discussions were held on the duties and responsibilities of the supervisor in relation to the role of leadership, guidance of child growth and development, organization and administration of the instructional program and school-community relationships.

Other important events of the conference were the vespers services on Sunday night, the book chat on Monday night, the annual banquet on Tuesday night and the trips to points of interest in and around Montgomery on Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Lucille Mixon of the Marion County Schools in President of the Department. Mr. W. W. Drake of the Tuscaloosa County Schools served as Chairman of the Program Committee.

From this County Misses Minnie Dunn and Anita King and Dr. M. L. Orr, Sr. attended the conference.

AAUW To Hear Karl Harrison

The Montevallo Branch of the American Association of University Women will hear Representative Karl Harrison at their regular meeting Tuesday, January 23, at 7:30 in Reynolds Hall. Mr. Harrison will speak on needed legislation for Shelby County. This is a program in the series of studies on Shelby County which have been undertaken this year by the local AAUW.

The Columbiana members of the Branch will be the hostesses for the meeting. Members from Columbiana are Miss Mamie Bishop, Mrs. Robert Cleckler, Mrs. B.F. Hatchett, Miss Mary Forney Hughes, Miss Anita King, Miss Jeanette Niven, Mrs. Homer Walton and Mrs. Frank Ellis.

Mr. Paul Lee has bought and is now operating the Gulf Service Station, previously owned and operated by Mr. Eddie Mahaffey.

Mr. Lee has been operating the Gulf Station for quite some time under Mr. Mahaffey, and has been owner since December 26.

The new owner is now keeping the Gulf Service Station open seven days a week—week days from 6:30 a.m. to 9:00 p.m., Sundays from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Mr. Lee invites his many friends to visit him for their automobile needs at the "Pump of Friendly Service".

Home Economics Housing Class

The members of the Home Economics I housing class have just completed a study of problems about the house. They learned how to make the house a more healthy, comfortable, attractive and convenient place in which to live. They studied storage spaces with special emphasis on the kitchen and bedroom. They made shoe bags, clothes bags, and hanger covers to make their closets more attractive, convenient, and protective. Along with the study of window treatment, they planned and made curtains for the foods laboratory in the new vocational building.

In the study of room arrangements they had the opportunity of rearranging a room in a dormitory at the college. Many girls rearranged the furniture in their own rooms at home. They learned to select and care for floor, walls, and finishes, and to care for furniture.

The pupils brought pieces of furniture from their homes and refinished them. Stools were upholstered and a vanity stool was made from a nail keg and upholstered with sacks. The work done is now on display in Mitchell's Flower Shop window.

The girls are continuing their work of improving their homes in home experiences.

March of Dimes Goal In Shelby County Is $4,000.00 For Drive Now In Progress

The Shelby County March of Dimes went into full swing this week with volunteer workers in the community of the county spreading citizens on to reach the amount needed to furnish Polio victims with nursing care, financial aid and equipment. The drive will last two weeks, ending January 31.

The drive in Shelby County and throughout the United States begins as a massive attack against the only epidemic disease known to man that is still on the increase—a disease that in the last three years has stricken more than 100,000 people and cost the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis an unprecedented $58,000,000 for patient-care alone.

Dr. M. L. Orr, County Director of the campaign, said today every phase of community life was represented among the volunteers who started the drive Monday with the avowed intention of raising the $4,000 goal for the county.

Mr. Harold Anthony is community Chairman for Montevallo and Mrs. M. L. Orr, Jr. is heading the women's division, which is a new phase of the drive.

Mrs. L. L. Penn is directing the March of Dimes drive in Shelby County among the Negro citizens. Last year the amount contributed from the Negro schools was $109.11 and from the Negro citizens, $64.00. Mrs. Penn says that her volunteer workers are striving to raise an even greater amount in the fight against Polio this year.

Community and school chairmen assisting Mrs. Penn are B. T. Knox, Almont School; Albert Jones, Almont Community; Harold Lewis, Montevallo School; Jesse Peoples, Montevallo Community; S. A. Price, Boothton School; Mrs. Annie D. Hall, Calera School; Mrs. Alice Harris, Calera Community; Mr. S. L. Bowie, Helena School; Mrs. Carolyn Kelly, Helena; Mrs. D.D. Chapman, Siluria School; Walter Young, Siluria Community; W. E. Jones, Columbiana School; Mrs. Ethel Tyce, Columbiana Community; A. D. Nelson, Wilsonville School; Mrs. Carrie B. Millender, Wilsonville Community; Mr. James Winston, Vincent School; Rev. P. D. Kidd, Vincent Community; Mrs. Raven Griffin, Calcis School; and the Reverend Jesse Jones, Calcis Community.

New Social Security Plan Offers Benefits To Employees In Services of The State

Until now, a State could not have Federal Social Security for its employees, or for the employees of local governments within the State. Beginning January 1, 1951, however, it was possible for any state, at its own option, to bring under Old-Age and Survivors Insurance those employees either of the State or of the State or of any local government who are not already protected by a retirement system.

To place its public employees under Federal Social Security, any State may authorize one of its agencies to negotiate an agreement with the Federal Government covering all eligible employees of the State and its political subdivisions, or covering only certain "coverage groups." An agreement made before January 1, 1953, may be made effective as of January 1, 1951.

One "coverage group" would be employees of the State, except those engaged in a single proprietary function. Such a group would include the various State units (for instance, the State Comptroller's Office, State Department of Agriculture, etc.) Similarly, a coverage group might be all the employees of a county, except those engaged in a single proprietary function. Another group might be the employees of an instrumentality of the State (for instance, the State Water Conservation Authority), or the instrumentality of a political subdivision (for instance, a Port Authority). A single proprietary function would be a group in itself, (for instance, the employees of a state liquor store, or a county-operated quarry.) For the employees of any coverage group to be included in an agreement, all eligible employees of that coverage group must be included. For example, an agreement will not include stenographers and leave out clerks or investigators. There are certain jobs, however, which the State may either include or exclude. For instance, work of an emergency nature, and elective, part-time or fee-basis jobs, may be excluded.

The new law makes it possible for a State to bring under Social Security all, or any of these various groups, except employees who are under an existing retirement system, and those engaged in a work relief program. Also excluded are services performed by patients or inmates of hospitals, homes, or other State institutions, and certain State or local government transportation systems acquired from private ownership.

When an agreement has been made for certain groups of employees, then those workers and the State will pay the same amounts as other employees and employers—1½ each through 1953. After that date, the rates are gradually increased to 3¼ each in 1970 and thereafter.

For further information contact the Social Security office at 1825 First Avenue, North, Birmingham.

Our Government

J. E. Jones

Washington Correspondent

Public Relations Pushed Aside

Washington, D. C. January, 1951 —President Truman demands legislation from Congress that will furnish carloads of money to be used in increasing our military strength. He wants to revise the whole form of our Government by training defense workers and he tells Congress to increase the number of American doctors, nurses and other trained medical personnel needed for the defense effort. He also demands major increases in taxes to meet the cost of war plans. He is bound and determined to lick Communist Russia.

Truman brands Herbert Hoover's foreign policy plan as "nothing but isolation."

The American public' undoubtedly approves Herbert Hoover.

The former President says the United Nations is a failure, and that the sacrifices of the United States are unparalleled in our history. Hoover goes out in front and proposes that the United States boundaries could be the Atlantic and the Pacific Oceans—"A Gibraltar of defense in the Western hemisphere." That would prevent sending more men or money to Western Europe until the Europeans arm themselves on a vastly bigger scale.

The mail received by members of the two Houses of Congress was overwhelmingly in favor of the Hoover Plan.

The third big shot in the controversy was by Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, who proposed to pull the American troops out of Korea.

There were grave Constitutional issues raised by Senator Taft and others concerning President Truman's action in ordering troops abroad.

The time has come for the United States to look after its own affairs. The plans of Hoover and Taft are sound—because we have had enough of murdering American soldiers.

Hoover is no dreamer. Our President seems to have stumbled on to the fact that Soviet Russia is planning world rule. Soviet aggression must be crushed. Likely in the near future Mr. Truman will not be able to get wholesale appropriations for our military build-up. His public relations theories are unsound—and unpopular.

Congress is preparing to put an end to all these tragic affairs in Korea.

Meanwhile, what are we going to do about these grave questions? At the present time complete cooperation of all thinking forces in America is being called for, plus more common sense in the American Government; because we must maintain our position as an independent Free Nation. So, there you are right up-to-date.

Montpelier's most distinctive claim to fame comes from the fact that it was here in 1821 that General Jackson resigned from the U. S. ## Hayloft Jamboree At Calera School Everfone who attends the home talent stage show, "Uncle Ezry's Hayloft Jamboree" will have an opportunity to help select the most popular entertainer in this community. The show which is being sponsored by the Calera VFW under their Recreation and Rehabilitation Program will be held at the Calera High School, January 18-19.

Different from most amateur contests where audience applause or judges decide the winner, Hayloft Jamboree gives the audience the chance to pick the winners by actually casting votes for their favorites. This new impartial system has been worked out so that those who buy tickets to the entertainment are entitled to vote. The three amateur contestants who poll the highest number of votes at both performances will be considered the winners.

First place winner will receive the blue championship ribbon, and a cash award of ten dollars. The entertainer in second place will get the red ribbon, and a cash award of seven dollars and fifty cents. The contestant in third place receives the white ribbon and five dollars.

Howard To Form Alumni H-Club

Birmingham—All persons who have ever received athletic letters from Howard College are invited to the formation of an alumni "H-Club" in Birmingham, January 30, Jack Green, alumni secretary of the college, has announced.

The formation of the alumni H-Club will take place at a banquet in the College cafeteria at 5:30 p.m.

Mr. Green is mailing invitations to all former Howard lettermen for whom he has correct addresses. Lettermen who do not receive invitations are urged to attend. They should send reservations to Clayton Cornish, athletic director of the college.

Alumnus J. Herbert Browne, former all-Dixie Conference half-back will be master of ceremonies. The speaker will be Clyde "Pea-head" Walker, Wake Forest Coach.

The program will include the awarding of letters to this year's football team and the naming of the college's outstanding athlete of the year.

Field Trials Set For February 22

Montgomery—George Washington's birthday, February 22, has been selected as the date on which the annual National Shooting Dog Field Trial will be run at Union Springs. It will be run over the nationally famed Sedgewicks plantation of L. B. Maytag. A barbecue for association members and their wives will be held the night preceding the trials.

President Lamar Blow of the field trial association says present indications are that the largest entry in the event's history will compete. A vast increase in the quail crop has been reported by Field Marshal George Harden, manager of Sedgewicks. Over 40 coveys per day were located by the bird dogs last year.

Value Your Health More Than Riches

Some folks think that fine clothes and fine, big houses are the most important things in life, but these things really don't mean too much if a person doesn't feel well enough to enjoy them. Most folks don't realize this, but

Mrs. Lucy Braswell, of Route 2, Stone Mountain, Ga., realizes it very well. Mrs. Braswell takes HADACOL, and by taking HADACOL she found she is helping her system overcome deficiencies of Vitamins B<sub>1</sub>, B<sub>2</sub>, Niacin and Iron which HADACOL contains.

Here is Mrs. Braswell's own statement: "I have been sick for some time with stomach disturbances. I began taking HADACOL and I have been taking it about six weeks. I am so much better and much stronger. I will continue to take HADACOL. It sure has helped me. I tell my friends about HADACOL. I can't praise HADACOL too much. I am 59 years old."

IN any electric power plant or power dispatching station there are numerous instruments, accurate as the finest watch, making "squiggles." These squiggles are being observed—some almost constantly, some at regular intervals—by the operators or dispatchers. To the practiced eye the squiggles say "everything's OK" or that something's about to be un-OK. Then something's done and you, far away from the power plant, haven't even a hint that except for the watchfulness of the instruments and the men attending them, there might have been a lessening in the quality of your electric service.

The squiggles also serve another purpose. Each day they are sent to operating headquarters, studied and serve as a basis for planning for improvements or additions to the power supply system.

An electric power system is never finished—new industries, new inventions, improved methods—constantly call for additions and improvements. Plans are being made now for still more expansion totaling additional millions of dollars.

County Health Department Reports Statistics on Diseases For Past Year

During the past year the following reportable diseases were reported to the Health Department: Cancer 10; Chickenpox 71; Diphtheria 3; Epidemic Meningitis 2; Influenza 447; Malaria 2; Measles 27; Mumps 15; Pneumonia 20; Infantile Paralysis 8; Scarlet Fever 10; Tuberculosis 11; Typhoid Fever 3; Typhus Fever 2; Undulant Fever 2; Whooping Cough 35.

This was unusually low incidence of most of these diseases, especially Typhoid, Diphtheria and Scarlet Fever.

3,980 people were immunized by the Health Department against the Communicable diseases.

A total of 2,008 laboratory specimens were examined from this County.

The Health Officer had 158 consultations with physicians and made 68 field visits to communicable diseases.

In the control of Venereal Diseases, 150 cases were referred to their private physician for treatment. 139 blood tests were taken by the Health Department prior to the county-wide survey and 11,013 tests were made during the survey.

In tuberculosis control 409 X-rays were made in the County Clinics, a smaller number than usual because the clinics were suspended during the survey, and 12,315 made during the survey. 297 field visits were made to tuberculosis cases and there were 549 office visits by these patients. 2 new patients were admitted for pneumothorax treatments. There were 2281 patient days in the sanatoria.

Following the survey it will be necessary for this office to follow up many suspected cases.

Due to the absence of the Public Health Nurse, on leave for post-graduate study during one-half of the year, some activities of the Department were curtailed considerably.

Dr. Vickery Visits Houston University

Houston, Texas, January 12—Dr. Katherine Vickery, head of the Psychology department at Alabama College in Montevallo, Alabama, was on the campus of the second largest university in Texas, the University of Houston, last Friday for the installation of 151 University of Houston students to Kappa Delta Pi, honorary educational society.

The only woman on the co-educational executive board of Kappa Delta Pi, Dr. Vickery is in charge of the placing and the installation of new chapters of KDP. The University of Houston chapter, Zeta Omega, is the 168th chapter to join the national organization.

Zeta Omega's installation was held at the Rice Hotel in Houston at 7:00 p.m. Friday, January 12. The members were selected from the upper 20 percent of the College of Education student body at the University of Houston.

Dr. A. L. Kerbow, professor of secondary education at the University is chairman of Zeta Omega.

Preceding the installation, Dr. Vickery was guest at a tea in the faculty lounge of the new $5,500,000 Ezekiel W. Cullen building on the University of Houston campus, "Where people build things in such a big astoundingly marvelous way," according to Dr. Vickery.

Dr. Vickery will go to the Georgia State Teachers College in Statesboro, Georgia soon to act as installing officer for its chapter of Kappa Delta Pi.

Honor Is Given To Mr. J. S. Acker

J. S. Acker, first president of the Prescott (Ariz.) Real Estate Board, was given a lifetime honorary membership in the board at a recent meeting in his honor. Starting in the real estate business in Prescott 48 years ago, he helped to organize the local chamber of Commerce in 1903, and is still active in numerous phases of community service at the age of 85 years.

The above item is taken from "Headlines," Real Estate's News Letter, a weekly publication devoted to news and developments of significance to the real estate profession and allied interests, published in Washington, D. C.

The subject of the interesting sketch is a brother of our townsman, Dr. Charles T. Acker.

Thompson School Buildings Burned

Fire fighting equipment from Montevallo, Alabama College, Calera and Helena answered a call early Tuesday night to combat a fire at Thompson School at Siluria.

Apparently the blaze started in the school cafeteria building and spread to the junior high school building. Loss is estimated at $50,000.

Adjoining buildings and equipment of the school, valued at $175,000, were saved by the work of the volunteer fire fighters who worked for several hours pumping water from a nearby creek and pouring it on the raging fire that threatened to destroy the entire school plant.

Ordnance Works Wants Typists

The Alabama Ordnance Works, Sylacauga, has announced that applications for positions of stenographer and typist, $2450 and $2650 per annum, will be accepted until further notice. Applications will be accepted from residents of Clay, Coosa, Shelby and Talladega counties only.

For further information contact the civilian personnel office at the Alabama Ordnance Works, located three and one-half miles north of Childersburg.

James A. Wyatt Is Housing Director

Mr. R. D. Fowler, Chairman of the Housing Authority of the Town of Montevallo, this week announces that Mr. James A. Wyatt has been employed as executive director, and Mrs. Catherine Smitherman as accountant-stenographer.

The office of the Authority will be located in the Montevallo Times office.

The low rent housing program is progressing nicely and it is expected that sites for the 52 units will be selected soon. The authority now has 115 applicants on file for these units.

Mr. Roy Hicks was brought home from a hospital in Birmingham Wednesday.

It has been estimated that Alabama is the home of more than 200 different species of grasses.

ON THE FARMS of SHELBY COUNTY

By B. F. Hatchett, G. C. Starcher

Mrs. Monroe Snyder, Vincent, is the wife of a cooperating dairy man who has planted fescue two years at this office's suggestion.

"If we could have planted enough fescue last fall we would not be spending so much for feed now. We cannot afford enough feed for full production at present high prices. Grazing is the answer, and Ky. 31 Fescue is our choice for grazing."

Mr. W. F. Robertson, Wilsonville, received conservation farm plans for his two farms last week. He has twelve acres of fescue he planted last fall.

"It is not doing as well as I would like, now, because I did not use enough fertilizer," he explained. "If you will notice as you pass the field you can not help seeing the great difference in the growth where I topdressed a small spot with an extra bucket of 6-8-4 a few weeks ago."

This spot was readily located from a hundred yards away. Mr. Robertson plans extensive pasture development. The last statement he made as we prepared to leave was: "I am going to depend on you S. C. S. men to tell me what when, and how!"

About the county on cooperators' farms are some sights worth a trip to see. Pick one or two of this partial list and see them:

Near Wilsonville, G. H. Eastis and Roy Eastis farm. Sixty head of cattle on 14 acres of year old fescue, fat and content after six weeks or more. Also large field of young fescue.

Near Kingdom, Brown Evans' farm. Button clover reseeding to a fine vigorous stand. Also fescue, subterranean clover, and oats with crimson clover.

Near Vincent, the Burdett Bates farm. A fine Polled Hereford herd recently pictured on a full page of Forbes Magazine. Fescue and reseeding crimson clover fields.

Near Columbiana, farm of F. E. Williams, North Central Soil Conservation District Supervisor. Established fescue, young fescue, and young fescue successfully grown in a good stand of oats on a trial area.

Near Shelby, the J. E. Smith farm. Young Joe Smith's many acres of Ky. 31 Fescue, his oats, his clover and ryegrass, and the farm pond engineered by S.C.S.

Near Bethel Church, the O. M. Perry farm. The fifth planned by S.C.S. ten years ago. Old fescue, young fescue, excellent ryegrass with crimson clover.

Near Dargin, the L. L. Stephenson farm and the adjoining Lester Stansell farms. Almost completed conservation farm plans with many of the recommended crops and practices.

Other worthwhile visits will be suggested in later columns. Watch for those nearest you, or drop by the county office and say "Show me, fellows!"

R. B. Dawson Died

Mr. R. B. Dawson, retired business man of Montevallo, died at his home here last Friday and was buried Saturday. Mr. Dawson operated the old Dawson Novelty Store here for several years. He retired from active business about five years ago on account of failing health.

R. H. Tibbs Elected As Town Clerk

Mr. R. H. Tibbs has been elected Town Clerk of Montevallo and will take over the duties of Mr. Harry Kendrick in this office on February 1.

Mr. Kendrick will continue as Chief of Police and will have the additional duties of general superintendent of the Water Board and Gas System and street work of the Town.

In addition to Town Clerk Mr. Tibbs will have charge of all the office work in connection with operating the Water Board and the Gas System.

Tea In Honor Of Wallace Family

The Presbyterian Church is honoring the T. F. Wallace family at a tea at the Forbes Westminster House on Sunday afternoon, January 28 from 3 to 5 p.m. Other people in the community are invited to join with the members of the local congregation in the event.

Mr. Wallace will leave Montevallo February 1, to assume the pastorate at Lafayette, Louisiana.

Ketchum Joins M H S Faculty

Mr. Cecil Ketchum joined the Montevallo High School faculty last week as supervisor of art. He replaces Mr. Jessie Jones who resigned at the Christmas holidays.

A native of Petersburg, Tennessee, Mr. Ketchum received his A. B. degree at Middle Tennessee State College with a major in social studies. He earned his master's degree in education at Peabody College in Nashville.

During the war he served four years with the U. S. Navy. The first year he spent as radioman on troop transports. Later he was transferred to Naval Intelligence Service and was stationed in China for two years.

Following his discharge from the Navy, Mr. Ketchum returned to China as a war department civilian employee.

Mr. Ketchum comes to Montevallo from Owensboro, Kentucky, where he was coach and art teacher in high school.

Siluria Wants 150 In Sunday School

Siluria Baptists have set 150 as a goal for next Sunday's attendance at Sunday School according to W. A. Duke, Superintendent.

The attendance last Sunday was 120. Mr. Duke and Pastor Joe Bancroft together with all officers and teachers are cooperating to reach this worthy goal. A special effort and a special appeal is being made to reach 150 at 9:45 next Sunday. All departments of the Sunday School have accepted their goals. All Baptists are expected. Visitors are invited.

High School Play Friday, February 2

Clementine, a three-act play, will be presented by Montevallo High School students Friday, February 2, in the high school auditorium with the curtain going up at 7:45 p.m.

Clementine is a fast moving three-act comedy involving Clementine Kelly, an impish tomboy of sixteen whose prime desire is to make the high school football team. The resulting squirmish provides almost constant laughter as Clementine (better known as Butch) meets one predicament after another. Finally as the battle smoke clears, Clem discovers that there are other things in life besides football.

Mr. Bill Lewis, director, says the cast and staging crew are at work hard to make this comedy a sure-fire hit. He thinks Clementine promises a real evening of entertainment.

Cast of Characters

Clementine Kelly (a tomboy) Martha Ann Cox; Mary Kelly (her mother) Sue Bentley; Gerald Kelly (the mayor, her father) Kenneth Rochester; Bertha (the housekeeper) Rose Rakes; Abe Carter (the handyman) Dolan Small; Hank Matthews (Clem's pal) Ed Givhan; Pete (a ladie's man) Dickie Dixon; Tubby (who has a hay fever) Mike Mahan; Cathy (who has discovered boys) Eleanor Mitchell; Jane Ann (a little gossip) Jane Triplett; Ann McNeil (a speech teacher) Mary Charles Mahaffey; Miss Prunella Pringle (Ann's aunt) Wanda Faris.

Dr. Louise Kuhl At Genesco College

A former acting head of the Department of Physical Education at Alabama College has been promoted at Geneseo State Teachers College. She is Dr. Louise Kuhl, who will be acting Dean.

Announcement of Dr. Kuhl's appointment was made today by Dr. Herbert G. Espy, president of Geneseo State. Dr. Kuhl will be acting Dean until September 1. She has been head of the health and physical education department of Geneseo State since 1941.

A native of Beatrice, Nebraska, Dr. Kuhl received her B. S. degree from the University of Nebraska in 1932. She received her M. A. from the University of Iowa in 1939 and her Ph.D. from the same university in 1941. She has been on the summer school staffs of the University of Iowa, the University of Louisiana, and Alabama College where she was also acting head of the department of health, and physical education.

Dr. Kuhl has taught at Doane College in Crete, Nebraska, and the junior and senior high schools of Crete where she was supervisor. In 1941 she published "Achievement Examinations in Tennis" in the Research Quarterly.

Since coming to Geneseo in 1941 Dr. Kuhl has been active in Red Cross in first aid, blood bank, and water safety programs; scouting; and teaching extension classes for Geneseo State.

Montevallo tennis players who have seen Dr. Kuhl play during the last two or three summers will remember her as one of the best players in this section.

TIT-FOR-TAT

Washington, D. C. January 22, —Senator Alexander Wiley (Republican-Wisconsin) said the United States should turn the tables on Russia and start stirring up domestic troubles behind the Iron Curtain.

The ranking Republican member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee issued a statement proposing that this country create a top-level strategy board to find ways of fomenting revolutions, guerilla warfare, fifth column activities, and sabotage of Communist countries.

He pointed out that Russia has been using Communist Parties in democratic countries for just that purpose for many years. Asserting that his plan would help to avert the threat of a World War, Wiley said:

"The more preoccupied the Russians are with their own internal difficulties and disturbances, the less they will feel they could rely on their own and satellite peoples and to that extent war pressure would be eased."

Urging the Nation to drop "panty-waist" diplomacy, Wiley said the Russians have poured "arms, money and sabotage materials" into the effort to foment difficulties in this country and its allied nations.

"The Russians are infinitely more susceptible to this type of trouble-making than we are," he said. He added that Communist China is particularly vulnerable because of the large number of pro-Communist guerilla troops within its borders.

Besides helping to avoid war, Wiley said, such a program would carry out this Nation's avowed goal of helping all people become free.

"If we seriously believe in the principles of freedom that we espouse, it is up to us to help others actually to gain that freedom," he said. "You cannot revolt against a modern type of armed dictator unless you have arms."

Where's All The Money Coming From?

President Truman in a letter to Senator Byrd, Democrat of Virginia, said that "it is necessary to tax until it hurts," to build up the free World military might against Communist aggression.

The President whoops-er-up for billions of dollars.

Congressmen in the House Ways and Means Committee have been meeting with the Senate Finance Committee to work out the problem for the third big tax boost. In all probability there will be a third tax bill before Congress about the first of February.

This Foolishness Can't Last

I have before me a Washington newspaper in which it is declaring for the "steenth time" that there is no World War. Well, that opinion does not check up with what is going on in Korea where thousands of American soldiers have been slaughtered.

And in Washington the Truman Administration has many new war expenses that are to be met with millions of dollars to come out of the United States Treasury under the okay of President Truman and our Federal Government.

The American Army does not like to admit that the United States has been getting the worst of the fighting month after month.

They Have Eagle Eyes

IF some day you should see a small plane flying a little above and along a power line and occasionally veering off and coming back for another "run," the men in the plane will be experienced observers looking for conditions in the wires or the insulators, poles, towers or cross arms which, if not corrected, could be the source of a future interruption to your electric service.

After these patrol flights, the observers make a report of all they see that seems to need attention. Line crews are then sent to the points noted as possible troublemakers. They make a close-up inspection and do whatever repair work is indicated.

Aerial patrol of main power lines is a standard practice with us — one of the many things done to keep your electric service dependable.

Employees of Non-Profit Organizations May Come In For Social Security Benefits

No doubt you have heard or read that employees of nonprofit organizations may become entitled to Federal old-age and survivors insurance protection under the amended social security law. The definition of "nonprofit organizations" for social security purposes, is taken from the Federal income tax laws, which describe one group of such organizations as:

"Corporations, and any community chest, fund, or foundation, organized and operated exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, literary, or educational purposes, or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals, no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual, and no substantial part of the activities of which is carrying on propaganda, or otherwise attempting to influence legislation."

Under the 1950 amendments to the Social Security Act, employees of these nonprofit organizations may have Federal insurance under certain conditions.

One condition is that the organization for which they work agrees to assume the employer's share of the social security tax on its employees' wages. It does this by filing a certificate of waiver from tax exemption with the Bureau of Internal Revenue. A second condition is that at least two-thirds of the organization eligible for coverage indicate in writing their desire to participate in social security.

If these two conditions are met, those workers who signed would come under social security, but not the employees who did not sign. However, any employees hired by the organization after the calendar quarter in which the certificate is filed would have this protection.

Even if a nonprofit organization meets these conditions, certain kinds of work are excluded from social security, for instance, work done by members of the clergy in the exercise of their ministry, or by members of religious orders in the exercise of duties required by such orders.

The agreements are not necessary for certain other nonprofit organizations whose employees are covered by the social security law if they earn $50 or more in a calendar quarter. Among these are many agricultural and labor groups and voluntary employees beneficiary organizations, both private and Federal. Building and loan associations, mutual savings and cooperative banks are included, also fraternal beneficiary societies, business and civic leagues, chambers of commerce, real estate boards, and boards of trade, social clubs, civic and recreational association.

Work done for a university or college by enrolled students regularly attending classes is not covered by the law, nor is work done in a hospital by an intern who has completed a four-year course in a medical school. When work is performed in a hospital or nurses training school by a student nurse regularly attending classes, the work does not count toward old-age and survivors insurance. Domestic service performed for a college club, fraternity, or sorority by an enrolled student who is regularly attending classes is also excepted.

For further information contact the Social Security representative, who is at the Alabama State Employment Office, Calera, at 9:30 a.m. each Thursday.

Farm and Home News Is Reported

The grape has been an important food as far back as the history of man can be traced.

"They are easy to grow," reveals A. A. Lauderdale, County Agent, "and muscadine grapes are native to the southeastern part of the United States. They resist diseases, bear fruit, and live for many years. Muscadines are not sprayed as a rule, and pruning is of little importance."

He adds that each vine needs 20 feet of space on a fence or trellis. Also, fertile land is important, and a few pounds of fertilizer each year increases production and improves the quality of fruit.

A homemade electric fence controller is an invitation to disaster, according to County Agent A. A. Lauderdale.

He states that the toll of dead animals each year is testimony to the fact that homemade controllers often turn into "booby traps."

There are many manufacturers of well engineered, safe fence controllers. And they are mass produced so that the retail price is usually lower than hand produced, homemade units," says Mr. Lauderdale. "With livestock prices high, any alleged saving with a homemade unit is not worth the chance of killing even one animal."

Dairying in 1951

Alabama dairying can be put on a sound business basis if cows are bred to bulls with high production index and then placed on D.H.I.A. test to determine how much money they are returning monthly.

****

Early Garden

Early plants for the garden can be produced by planting an in-door seed box now.

Extension Service Foresters

A.P.I. Extension Service foresters assisted farmers in marketing over 52 million board feet of timber, 30 thousand cords of pulpwood, 13,000 poles and piling, 5,700 ties, 81,000 fence posts, over 2,000 bushels of pine cones, 2,000 cords of fuel wood, Christmas trees, sweet gum storax, and miscellaneous forest products.

Permanent Pastures

Jobs that can be done now to improve permanent pasture include clearing bushes and briars, watching for fires, liming if lime is needed, and applying fertilizer if it has not already been applied.

Mrs. Charles Cordes Is Club Leader

Mrs. Charles Cordes, West Calera Home Demonstration Club, gave an interesting demonstration, "Cooking With Enriched Cornmeal," at the January meeting. She made cornmeal Ice Box Rolls, Cornmeal Gingerbread, and Southern Spoon Bread. Mrs. Cordes emphasized the value of using enriched cornmeal.

She told the group that needed vitamins and minerals have been added to cornmeal in the form of enrichment mixture. Niacin, thiamine, riboflavin, iron, and calcium are the food elements added.

Mrs. Cordes is Foods and Food Preservation Leader for her club. She does an excellent job of preparing demonstrations and presenting them to her club group. She is also song leader and county council director. She represented her club at the first quarterly meeting of the Home Demonstration Council on Tuesday, January 9.

Mrs. C. R. Lucas was hostess to the West Calera Club last Thursday. Those attending the meeting were: Mrs. Theo Lucas, Mrs. P.A. Garrett, Mrs. G. H. Mitchell, Mrs. A. T. Lucas, Mrs. C. E. Lind, Mrs. W. R. Lindbloom, Mrs. E. R. Lucas, Jr., Mrs. Charles Cordes, and three new members: Mrs. M. A. Nix, Mrs. Ben McLain, and Mrs. W. L. Lawler.

Vincent To Select Leading Club Girl

Plans are underway to select the most outstanding Vincent 4-H club girl in February. Each Vincent, Jr. 4-H club girl will write a story giving her 4-H accomplishments and achievements. Projects taken and offices held will be included in the stories.

The following committee was appointed to select the most outstanding girl: Mary Bell, Patsy Donahoo, and Joyce King. Katie Lou Holcombe, president, and Miss Inez Reaves, teacher sponsor will work with the committee in making the decision.

"The 'Man Who Came to Dinner' and forgot to leave was just 'an afternoon caller' compared to Emperor Charlemagne who ruled Western Europe about 800 A.D. ### AUTOMATIC RIDE CONTROL

It automatically irons out the bumps with Ford's new Variable-Rate Rear Spring Suspension, new "Viscous Control" Shock Absorbers, and Advanced "Hydra-Coil" Front Springs.

AUTOMATIC MILEAGE MAKER

It's a magic brain that gives you high compression performance with regular gas, better mileage with any gas. New Waterproof Ignition System.

NEW DOUBLE-SEAL KING-SIZE BRAKES

A touch of your toe, and you stop straight and sure. They're double sealed against the weather to prevent moisture-binding, too.

NEW AUTOMATIC POSTURE CONTROL

Front seat moves forward automatically at the touch of a lever. At the same time height and angle are adjusted for correct posture.

NEW "MAGIC LIFT" DECK LID

Just turn the key and the rear deck springs open. No effort required to lift it or close it. And for room, no other low-priced car can match Ford's deep-deck luggage locker.

Here is what the U. S. News and World Report in an issue this month says:

"The United States is up against a choice of pushing deeper into the outside World or pulling back to gather strength at home.

"Pressures are on both sides.

Decision, being forced, will show what's ahead in Asia. Europe is dealing with Moscow.

"Chances are the Truman-Acheson policy will go along about as is. Complete withdrawal from Europe or Asia is not in the cards".

This crisis in American policy cannot continue.

Persons Talks To Legislature

Montgomery—Gov. Gordon Persons made a very brief comment to the joint session of the House and Senate Tuesday following Gov. James E. Folsom's four year report to the group.

Persons said, "None of us is as bad as our enemies say, and none of us is as good as we say ourselves." He added that only history can say whether an administration is good, bad, or indifferent.

He told the lawmakers that he had selected a cabinet made up of men who he considered capable.

"With a good cabinet and a good legislature," he said, "if my administration is not a successful one, I will take the whole blame myself."

The legislature gave him a warm welcome.

Garment Protection

You can protect your garments from the destructive action of perspiration by having them cleaned regularly. The mechanical action necessary to clean clothes removes the bacteria, skin scales, and soil and dirt from the fabric. Drycleaning solvents dissolve oily types of soil. Therefore, the sebum or oily part of perspiration is removed by cleaning garments in dry solvents.

SPELLING IT OUT FOR HIM

Just when it appeared that Gov. Persons was going to make a quick recovery from his ill-advised effort to oust Auburn Football Coach, Earl Brown, and by graceful acceptance of a deserved rebuke, regain prestige lost through a sharp reversal at the very inception of his administration, he had to go and put his foot in it all over again by openly expressing resentment in a public address.

In view of all these facts, it seems to us that Governor Persons would be following the course of discretion by an open disclaimer of individual problems at Alabama schools, especially as the citizens of the state, who have been looking confidently to him for sound and constructive leadership at a time of major emergencies, believe there are enough problems of major magnitude to demand his best attention during the months to come.

If the brains and energies of the governor are going to be devoted to minor matters, such as winning football teams, at a time like this, the outlook is dark for the next four years.

It is our belief that if Governor Persons would back up and view the perspective with the soundness of which he is capable, he would come to the same conclusion.—The Selma Times-Journal.

Johnson Named Draft Director

Gov. Gordon Persons Wednesday appointed Col. James T. Johnson, Jr., of Montgomery, acting State Selective Service director.

Johnson succeeds Col. Ernest W. Howell who has resigned.

Col. Johnson, a native son of Montevallo, now resides at 833 East Fairview Avenue, in Montgomery. He has been with the Selective Service organization since 1940 when he entered the system as a Captain in the Army reserve. He directed the Selective Service System during the last war.

AN HOUR'S TELEPHONE SERVICE

Before you decide bargains no longer exist, take a close look at your telephone service. The telephone in your home is on duty day and night at an average charge in Alabama of less than one-half cent an hour.

Regardless of the time, if somebody needs to get in touch with you—from across the street, across town or across the nation—your telephone can be ringing in a matter of seconds.

Then there are the calls you make—to the drug store, the doctor, the hairdresser, to relatives and friends across town—calls that save you tiresome and expensive errands, calls that bring joy and good times, that help keep family ties and friendships alive.

To these every-day calls you make and receive, add the constant protection of your telephone in the event of emergency—and we believe you will agree that telephone service is one of today's biggest bargains.

Growing Bargain

The price of telephone service has gone up far less than most things you buy. At the same time the number of telephones you can call at your local rate has nearly tripled in the past ten years.

Man Consumes A Barrel of Baking Soda

One man told us he took baking soda for years. Claims he has used over a barrel of it for stomach gas but got only temporary relief.

Recently he quit the soda habit and took CERTA-VIN. This new medicine is bringing REAL lasting relief to many Montevallo gas victims because it is taken BEFORE (not after) meals and thus works with your food. It helps digest your meals faster so your food doesn't lay there and ferment. Besides relieving gas, CERTA-VIN also contains Herbs with Vitamin B-1 and Iron to enrich your blood and make your nerves stronger. Weak, miserable people soon feel different all over. ## Football Trophy Comes Home University, Ala.—The Alabama Auburn ODK football trophy has finally come "home" to rest, after a month-long delay in engraving the winning score of last December's football game.

The trophy, provided by the two chapters of the honorary leadership fraternity, rotates to the winner of the game. It was officially returned to Alabama shortly before the Christmas holidays, after the Auburn chapter had repaired minor damage inflicted last year by exuberant Plainsmen.

The huge, glistening gold $800 trophy has been placed in a display case in the foyer of the Union Building, where Crimson Tiders vow it will remain forever.

Two Oil Wells Are Found Dry

University, Ala.—Two wildcat oil tests in South Alabama were found dry and abandoned this week, according to Dr. Walter B. Jones, state oil and gas supervisor.

Gulf Refining Company gave up on its No. 1 B. D. Simison test in Baldwin County after drilling to a total depth of 10,008 feet. Rebstock and Reeves and James L. Duffy abandoned operations on the No. 1 M. P. Bonner test in Choctaw County. This well had been drilled to 3228 feet.

Dr. Jones' weekly report also said Humble Oil and Refining Company has put pumps on its No. 4 J. H. Wall Estate test in Clarke County's South Carolton field, and is testing the well. No further information was available.

A new permit was issued to H.L. Hunt for the No. 1 Jackson-Doggett Unit in Choctaw County.

State Auditions For Young Artists

The State Auditions for the National Federation of Music Clubs Young Artists Auditions and the Student Musicians Contest will be held on Saturday, March 17 at the Birmingham Conservatory of Music. Winners in these auditions will go to the district contest to be held at Centenary College, Shreveport, Louisiana on April 14.

The National Federation Young Artists Contest is one of the most important opportunities for young artists in America. Young artists may enter in several divisions: piano, violin, violoncello, or-

Get Physical Exam Twice A Year

Periodic physical examinations are important at all ages but are of the utmost importance after one has reached the age of 35.

Many diseases can be recognized early, before symptoms develop, and their treatment at that stage is much simplified.

This is especially true of cancer, heart disease, arterial hypertension, tuberculosis and diabetes.

By periodic examinations, precancerous conditions can often be found and eradicated before malignant changes have taken place.

Heart disease and high blood pressure can often be detected when these can be treated by comparatively slight alteration in the individual's method of living.

We are aware that the earlier tuberculosis is found, the more readily it will respond to treatment.

Diabetes, when detected early, can frequently be controlled with little inconvenience to the patient.

All these conditions, if neglected, can mean a state of chronic invalidism and materially shorten one's life.

The surest prevention for these common incapacitating and often deadly diseases is a physical examination twice each year in order to detect their presence at an early stage. — Dr. E. F. Sloan, County Health Officer.

The Cajans of Washington County proudly claim today that some of their ancestors were sailors under the notorious buccaneer, Jean Lafitte. According to these people, their forebears eventually tired of pirate life on the high seas and sought out the seclusion of the great wooded areas of South Alabama. Here they married Indian girls and settled down to the less exciting life of becoming fathers.

gan and voice. The winners in each classification will be awarded a cash prize of one thousand dollars or a New York recital and the backing of the National Federation of Music Clubs in securing dates for orchestra appearances and recitals. In the Student Musicians Contest candidates between the ages of 16 and 25 will be eligible. Winners in the state contest will go on to the district contest. There is no national contest for this group. Further information is available from Dr. Dorsey Whittington, State Chairman, Young Artist Contest, Birmingham Conservatory of Music, Birmingham.

Thomas Chorus In Town Hall

The Hugh Thomas Chorus of Birmingham is singing a series of concerts preceeding its debut in Town Hall, New York. The Chorus has sung engagements in Sylacauga, Decatur, Fayette, Fairfield and Columbus, Georgia. Other such dates will be filled in the next three months. The final concert in Birmingham will occur March 30 at Phillips High School Auditorium.

This Chorus will be the first such organization ever to go from the state of Alabama to Town Hall for a debut recital. It is made up of some of the best professional singers in the state of Alabama. Hugh Thomas is Dean at the Birmingham Conservatory of Music and Minister of Music at the First Methodist Church of Birmingham.

Burns Bennett Is Publicity Director

Montgomery—Gov. Elect Gordon Persons this week named Burns Bennett, chief of the United Press bureau in Montgomery, and former Montgomery Journal city editor, as director of the Division of Records and Reports. Bennett will assume his new duties February 1, 1951.

Announcing Bennett as director of the state's publicity department, Persons said he plans to consolidate public relations in seven state agencies under the new chief's supervision.

Bennett is a native of St. Francis Arkansas, and was educated at public schools in Pine Bluff, Arkansas A & M and Louisiana State University.

Temporary Director For State Docks

Montgomery—Gov. Elect Gordon Persons has appointed Leonard Hardy, Mobile automobile dealer, as the "temporary" director of the Alabama State Docks and Terminals at the port city.

Persons said the docks job is not to exceed four weeks because "the outstanding business man with whom I have had several conversations regarding this post is unable to accept at this time, but has assured me that he will do so as soon as his business would permit."

He added, "Although this temporary acceptance will cause Mr. Hardy much inconvenience, I have impressed upon him that the successful operation of the state docks is something that is absolutely necessary."

Study Club Reviews Civic Improvements Made In Montevallo During Past Year

The Montevallo Study Club met Wednesday, January 24, at the home of Mrs. W. J. Kennerly with Mrs. Kennerly and Mrs. Terrell Bridges as hostesses.

Mr. Adamson of the Internal Revenue office in Birmingham, gave a talk explaining the new Social Security law concerning household workers.

During the business session Mrs. Paul Rogan, chairman of the civic committee, reported on the lighting of the Christmas tree downtown during the holiday season.

The program leader for the day, Mrs. T. E. Watson, discussed the work of the civic organizations of Montevallo, telling of the projects each has completed recently. The organizations reported on were as follows:

The Chamber of Commerce, which has mailed out booklets giving the advantages of our town for plants and manufacturers; has lighted the Main Street during Christmas time each year; and assisted in putting on a livestock show last Spring.

The Rotary Club, which sponsored the lighting of the athletic field; sponsored the craft shop; and sponsors the Boy Scouts. The Rotary Club has also contributed to scholarships given to two girls and is planning to give a substantial donation to the Negro school library.

The Community Chest, which allocates its funds to needed welfare, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, and the schools of this community.

The Recreation Board, which has lighted the tennis courts; improved the swimming facilities (and plans to make further improvements this year); and has, for the past four years, had a supervised program by a paid director.

The Town Council, which appropriated money to buy property for the Vocational Agriculture Building; has paved 1½ miles of streets; built a bridge opening up Main Street; finances the recreation program; and is now building a city hall and installing a gas system in the town.

The Girl Scout Council, which conducts a program for three troops composed of about forty girls.

Mrs. Watson concluded the discussion by telling of the rural non-farm housing project. This one in Montevallo will be the second in the United States. It will be made up of 52 units on which the federal government will spend about a half million dollars.

The next meeting of the Study Club will be held February 28 at the home of Mrs. Paul Rogan, with Mrs. T. E. Watson as co-hostess.

Siluria Baptist Church Will Feature "Go-To-Church-Month" During February

Next Sunday will start the "Go-to-church month" at Siluria Baptist Church. Good preparation was made last Sunday by having 142 in Sunday School and a full congregation at the morning service.

After the morning service a fine group of volunteer workers were organized by Supt. W. A. Duke, assisted by Pastor Joe Bancroft, for making a thorough and complete religious survey of our entire territory next Sunday, February 4, starting at one o'clock.

The following zones were assigned to the following teams:

Zone 1: Mrs. Maud Abbott and Mrs. W. A. Duke.

Zone 2: Mrs. Geo. McConatha and Mrs. Maud Guy.

Zone 3: Mrs. J. T. Phillips and Mrs. J. R. Bancroft.

Zone 4: Mrs. Paul Posey and Carolyn Posey.

Zone 5: Wanda Farris, Carolyn Barton.

Zone 6: Ray Benefield and Lonnie Maulding.

Zone 7: B. L. Norris and W. A. Duke.

Zone 8: Mrs. Louise Hoskins, Mrs. H. Brandenburg, Clara Mae Cook.

Zone 9: Mrs. Garnett Lacey, Mary Carolyn Lacey.

Zone 10: Mrs. J. E. Walker, Mrs. J. T. Walker.

Zone 11: Mrs. T. A. Farris, Mrs. Ray Benefield.

Zone 12: Melba Jo Brannon and Elizabeth Ann Bancroft.

This census is a part of the preparation for the revival at Siluria Baptist Church March 25 to April 6, with Rev. Ted Ewing, of Durant, Oklahoma, the evangelist, and in cooperation with the Baptist county-wide religious survey program next Sunday.

Severe Cold Kills Winter Grazing Crop

This year Shelby County dairymen have fully realized what it means to be without winter grazing. County Agent A. A. Lauderdale reveals that for the past few years dairymen have made an effort to provide enough winter grazing for all their cattle, and they have been very successful.

He adds, however, that the know-how of producing ample winter grazing has led many of our dairymen to depend on grazing for a major part of their feed. Therefore, many did not harvest enough hay to feed their cattle in case an emergency came.

No one knew all the expensive grazing crops would be killed by a severe winter, but it will act as a reminder this summer for all dairymen to produce all the good quality hay they can for insurance against another unfavorable winter in 1951-52. Silage should be on every dairy farm. Upright or trench silos will do the trick.

Doris McNabb Is Club Reporter

An outstanding 4-H club reporter in Shelby County is 11 year old Doris McNabb, member of Helena Elementary Girls' club. Each month Doris writes an interesting story about the activities of her club.

This is Doris' third year in club work. She has taken sewing as her project each year. Potholders, dishtowels, aprons, and a laundry bag are some of the articles Doris has made.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. McNabb of Helena.

Mrs. R. H. Milner is teacher sponsor for the Helena Elementary Girls' club. Officers of the club are: President, Ida Powers; vice president, Shirley Bearden; secretary, Ethleen Mathis; song leaders, Lou Lovelady and Mary Evelyn Jones.

Mrs. Albert Caton and son will leave Sunday for Selma to join her husband who is stationed at Craig Field after his recent enlistment in the Air Force.

Shirley Lucas Is Chosen Citizenship Girl

Shirley Lucas has been chosen as Montevallo High School's Good Citizenship Girl for 1951. She has been entered in the D.A.R. sponsored contest for the State Citizenship Girl of the year.

The Daughters of the American Revolution sponsors this activity as a means of cultivating among young people an appreciation of character building as a basis for good citizenship. A state award has been made annually since 1934. The high school senior girl who is chosen citizenship girl for Alabama for 1951 will receive a $100 savings bond.

Dependability, service, leadership, and patriotism were the four qualities considered in the selection for the school award. In accordance with D. A. R. regulations, Shirley was selected by the faculty from three names submitted by the senior class.

Shirley, a senior, is active in both class and school activities. She has represented her class in the Student Council for two years and is an active member of the F.H.A. in which she holds the State Homemaker's degree. Last year she served as president of the Montevallo F.H.A. chapter. She now holds the office of chapter historian. She has been cheer leader for the past two years.

Shirley plans to enter Alabama College after her graduation from high school.

Donald Harrison, who is in the Army, stationed at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, has been spending a 10 day furlough at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Harrison. He will return to his post of duty next Saturday.

Girl Scout Adviser To Visit Montevallo

Mrs. Robert Paris, community adviser for the national Girl Scout organization will visit Montevallo on February 5 and 6, according to Mrs. G. P. Rogan, commissioner of the Montevallo Girl Scout Council. While she is here Mrs. Paris will be the guest of Alabama College.

Mrs. Paris, whose home is in Baraboo, Wisconsin, works with Girl Scout groups in Wisconsin, Illinois, Michigan and Indiana. Formerly a Girl Scout leader in her home town, she joined the organization's national staff in 1948.

Mrs. Paris is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin and member of the American Association of University Women and the League of Women Voters. She is the mother of two Girl Scouts, a Boy Scout and another soon-to-be Boy Scout.

CARD OF THANKS

With deepest gratitude we wish to thank everyone for the comforting words, sympathy and kindness shown us during the death and bereavement of our dear beloved son and brother, William Braddie Underwood, who passed away November 4, 1950. We desire especially to thank everyone for the beautiful floral offerings and food. We wish to thank the young preachers for a beautiful funeral service, also the church choir for their beautiful songs. To all of you our sincere thanks.—A Sister, Mrs. Addie Mae Underwood Hicks, Belle Ellen, Alabama.

College Is Host To Science Group

Alabama College will be host to the teacher education section of the Academy of Science when this group meets on the campus Friday, February 2.

Key speaker for the occasion will be Dr. Glenn O. Blough of the office of education in Washington. Dr. Blough is specialist in science in that office.

The co-ordinator of the meeting is Mrs. Marguerite P. Hayes, supervisor of instruction in Baldwin County. She will be assisted on the program by Dr. C. M. Farmer of Troy and Dr. Charles K. Grey, of Tuscaloosa.

Local Donations Help Support Honors Scholarships

Shelby County citizens are playing a strong role in the Honors Scholarship Program at Alabama College. Contributors in the home county have given a total of $1,698.80 to date.

Established in 1947, the Honors Scholarship Program offers to capable students an opportunity for a scholarship which will pay from 12 per cent to full expenses at Alabama College. The program seeks to bring more students into the college on the basis of ability alone.

Originated by Dr. John Tyler Caldwell, president of the college, in 1947, the Honors Scholarship program has met with a favorable response all over the state. Faculty, staff, and students of the college have contributed $9,700 prior to the present campaign. Friends outside Shelby County have contributed a total of $5,500 prior to the present campaign. Avondale Mills was the largest single contributor.

Within the borders of Shelby County the following contributions have been previously made:

Charles T. Acker $400; Alice F. Craig $15; Central State Bank, Calera $50; Mrs. E. G. Givhan $20; F. P. Givhan $90.06; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Klotzman $25; Montevallo Branch AAUW $195.05; Milton L. Orr, Jr., $10; Jamie H. Reynolds $5; Roden Coal Co. $200; T. E. Watson $318.69; and L. W. Wooten $200.

The immediate need of the Honors Scholarship program is $7,500 each year to offset the 27 scholarships which are offered annually. The greater objective is to establish a sustaining fund from which the necessary operating expenses may be drawn.

Rev. Gould Is Supply Minister

Exercising the authority conferred by the congregation of the Presbyterian Church at the meeting January 7, to provide a pulpit supply during the period the church is without a pastor, the pulpit committee has secured the services of the Reverend Stanley Gould for the four-month period from February 1 through May 31.

The consent of Dr. Edward Ramage, chairman of the Birmingham Presbytery's commission on the minister and his work, was secured.

Mr. Gould will preach on those Sundays when there is not a visiting minister. He will meet with Westminster Fellowship Sunday nights and counsel with them as needed.

The committee is in touch with the commission and has written letters asking for recommendations for a pastor to succeed the Reverend T. F. Wallace, who left Montevallo this week to take up his ministry with the Presbyterian Church of LaFayette, La.

COLLEGE NIGHT TICKETS

Tickets for College Night will be available at Montevallo Drug Company beginning Friday, February 9, for the Thursday and Friday night performances February 22 and 23.

THE WALLACES GO AWAY

The Reverend T. F. Wallace and family left Tuesday for their new location in LaFayette, Louisiana, where Mr. Wallace will be minister of the Presbyterian Church.

Frank will be at home with the family in LaFayette, having transferred from Davidson College, in North Carolina, to a college in LaFayette.

We regret to see them leave. During the time they have been here they have become "a part of us," and we will miss them more than words can tell.

WORLD CITIZENSHIP STUDY

The following article is a reprint from the January 5, 1951, edition of "Excelsior," a daily newspaper in Mexico City, which carries an English language section:

World Citizenship Study

"A series of programs designed to promote understanding of the peoples of many nations is conducted by a small American college. The World Culture Series, as it is called, was started three years ago at Alabama College for Women at Montevallo. Dr. John T. Caldwell, president of the college, believes the programs will help in a way to 'create in the minds of individuals an awareness of common humanity.'

"For 45 minutes each week all classes are suspended so that students may attend the programs. Each year the programs deal with a different major cultural area, its people's way of life, their family traditions, social customs, educational institutions and fine arts. This is done through motion pictures, lectures, discussions, music and dancing.

"Members of the student body who come from other American republics are helping with this year's programs which center about their countries. They evaluate the motion pictures before they are shown to the other students. Also, they help faculty members lead discussions, hold forums, and present cultural programs.

"The 1949-50 series dealt with countries of the Far East. It included programs on geography, economy, religion, philosophy, modern trends in social and political organization, music, painting, drama, and dance.

"The first area studied was Russia. Faculty members and visiting speakers reviewed the development of Russian civilization, the feudal system, the Communist revolution, international relationships, and intellectual life."

ON THE FARMS of SHELBY COUNTY

B. F. Hatchett, G. C. Starcher

The first new variety of Kudzu in the history of that crop in America is being released to the first two of many Shelby County farmers who have asked for it. "Kudzu 23" is the name discoverer Davis of the Thorsby S. C. S. nursery has given his selection. It is noted for tiny stems, short distance between leaves, and many more runners per plant.

Joseph Dickert of Vincent and Joe Smith of Shelby topped the list of applicants and received the two thousand plants allotted Shelby County this year.

Alabama College has been getting excellent results with its fescue and white dutch pastures that have been irrigated, and treated with a 16-element fertilizer instead of regular field formula fertilizer in 1950.

Mrs. E. E. Rogers of Wilton, an outstanding cooperative of the North Central Conservation District, is ready to selectively cut some timber. Indication of the growing extent to which county agricultural agencies are cooperating was the speed with which timber marketing specialist Matthews responded to a request and marked 40,000 feet of timber as ready to cut.

Further evidence on the same farm recently was the furnishing of young pine seedlings by the state nurseries and the recent arrival on the farm of county agent A. A. Lauderdale with a prospective customer for some of Mrs. Rogers' excellent young Hereford heifers.

Now Is Time To Prune Fruit Trees

This week County Agent A. A. Lauderdale reminds Shelby County farmers that now is the time to prune fruit trees.

He urges farmers to think of a well pruned bearing peach tree as dome shaped.

Both trees should be kept low and well spread.

When peach and apple trees are first set they need to be pruned by cutting out the top, he stated. A peach tree should be cut back to 18 to 24 inches above the ground, and apple trees are cut at a height of 24 to 30 inches.

the Railroads RESPECT... the Labor Unions seek to REPUDIATE... this agreement!

What is the TRUTH?

At various states in the present dispute with the brotherhoods of railroad operating employees ... the railroads agreed to arbitrate. The union leaders refused. ... the railroads accepted the recommendations of President Truman's Emergency Board. The union leaders refused. ... the railroads accepted the White House proposal of August 19, 1950. The union leaders refused.

Finally an Agreement was signed at the White House on December 21, 1950. Now the union leaders seek to repudiate the Agreement.

The railroads stand ready to put the terms of this Agreement into effect immediately, with back pay at the rates and date indicated.

8. Agreement embodying principles applicable to yardmasters to be entered into for benefit of yardmasters.

9. Effective October 1, 1950, the basic hours of dining car stewards shall be reduced from 225 to 205 hours per month; no penalty overtime to accrue until 240 hours have been worked, the hours between 205 and 240 to be paid for at the pro rata rate.

Effective February 1, 1951, overtime at time and one-half shall accrue after 220 hours have been worked. The basic monthly salary to be paid for the 205-hour month shall be the same as that now paid for the 225-hour month. Except that four dollars and ten cents ($4.10) shall be added to the present monthly rate effective January 1, 1951.

10. In consideration of above, this agreement to be effective until October 1, 1953, and thereafter until changed or modified under provisions of Railway Labor Act. Moratorium on proposals for changes in wages or rules until October 1, 1953; as follows:

No proposals for changes in rates of pay; rules or working conditions will be initiated or progressed by the employees against any carrier or by any carrier against its employees; parties hereto, within a period of three years from October 1, 1950, except such proposals for changes in rules or working conditions which may have been initiated prior to June 1, 1950. Provided, however, that if as the result of government wage stabilization policy, workers generally have been permitted to receive so-called annual improvement increases, the parties may meet with Doctor Steelman on or after July 1, 1952, to discuss whether or not further wage adjustments for employees covered by this agreement are justified, in addition to increases received under the cost of living formula. At the request of either party for such a meeting Doctor Steelman shall fix the time and place for such meeting. Doctor Steelman and the parties may secure information from the wage stabilization authorities or other government agencies. If the parties are unable to agree at such conferences whether or not further wage adjustments are justified

MEMORANDUM OF AGREEMENT

Washington, D. C.
December 21, 1950

1. Establish 40 hour week for yardmen with increase of 23 cents effective October 1, 1950, and additional 2 cents effective January 1, 1951.
2. Set aside 40 hour week agreement until January 1, 1952, and establish 6 day work week for yardmen. Effective with the first pay roll period after 30 days from the date of execution of the formal agreement, yardmen required by the carrier to work on the 7th day to be paid overtime rates except engineers who shall receive straight time rates for the 7th day. This does not create guarantees where they do not now exist. On and after October 1, 1951, three months' notice to be given of desire to go on 40 hour week. Provide for consideration of availability of manpower and 4 cents per hour if and when the 40 hour week actually becomes effective.
3. Settle rules for 40 hour week and 6 day week.
4. Grant yard conductors and brakemen other rules such as daily earnings minimum, car retarder operators and footboard yardmasters as recommended by Emergency Board No. 81.
5. Settle following rules:
Initial Terminal Delay (Conductors and Trainmen)
Interdivisional Runs
Pooling Caboose (Conductors and Trainmen)
Reporting for Duty
More than One Class of Service
Switching Limits
Air Hose (Conductors and Trainmen)
Western Differential and Double Header and Tonnage Limitation (Conductors and Trainmen, all Territories)
6. Road men to receive 5 cents per hour increase effective October 1, 1950 and additional 5 cents per hour increase effective January 1, 1951.
7. Quarterly adjustment of wages on basis of cost of living index (1 point to equal 1¢ per hour. First adjustment April 1, 1951. Base to be 176).

they shall ask the President of the United States to appoint a referee who shall sit with them and consider all pertinent information, and decide promptly whether further wage increases are justified and, if so, what such increases should be, and the effective date thereof. The carrier representatives shall have one vote, the employee representatives shall have one vote and the referee shall have one vote. **

11. If the parties cannot agree on details of agreement or rules they shall be submitted to John R. Steelman for final decision.

The usual protections for arbitrators, miscellaneous rates, special allowances, and existing money differentials above existing standard daily rates will be included in the formal agreement.

** The foregoing will not debar management and committees on individual railroads from mutually agreeing upon changes in rates, rules and working conditions of employees covered by this agreement.

Soil Conservation

By B. F. HATCHETT and G. C. STARCHER

The importance of soil conservation to national defense was emphasized by H. H. Bennett, Soil Conservation Chief, in his 1950 fiscal year report to the Secretary of Agriculture.

Dr. Bennett reported accelerated conservation progress for the sixteenth consecutive year, terminating land capability, use relationships a vital part of national defense. He sets as the service's goal, working with farmers' soil conservation districts, an average four per cent of the total remaining needed conservation 'job'. In fiscal year 1950, 2.7 per cent of the needed remaining work was accomplished.

All necessary basic conservation measures should be completed in 20 years, Dr. Bennett estimates, after which only maintenance and improvement of installations will be needed.

Nearly 388 per cent as much work was done in 1950 period as in 1942, with only a 50 per cent increase in operating facilities during that 8 year interval. In 1950 conservation measures were applied to 26,071,342 acres. Conservation surveys were made on 31,467,969 acres surveyed to date. Farm and ranch plans numbered 132,752, with an average of 38,776,825, making a total of 780,473 active conservation plans on 217,994,068 acres.

In the 1950 fiscal year 121 new farmer-organized soil conservation districts were formed, making a total of 2,285 districts covering 1,253,483,926 acres in 48 states, Alaska, Hawaii, Porto Rico, and the Virgin Islands.

Many foreign nations have sent representatives to study first hand soil conservation methods in conservation of soil and water, and a great volume of mail inquiries were received for information and advice, the report concluded.

Bowdon Motor and Implement Company Shows New Dodge Trucks Saturday

Bowdon Motor & Implement Co., Calera, Dodge dealers, today revealed some of the 50 new features of the new B-3 Series of Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks which will be introduced on Saturday, February 10.

Increased power, new styling, better brakes, improved steering for easier handling, more driver comfort, and newly designed shock absorbers are among the new features providing faster, safer and more economical hauling of larger payloads.

Horsepower increases in some of the eight engines powering the new Dodge truck line range as high as 20 per cent. Gross vehicle weight ratings in the new trucks range from 4,250 to 40,000 pounds and gross combination weight ratings range up to 60,000 pounds.

More Power, Economy

Higher governor settings, redesigned fuel pumps, "hotter" spark plugs with improved moisture-proofing, larger capacity generators, a new high torque starting motor, and more efficient cooling systems are among engine improvements which provide the new line with greater power and economy.

Brakes have been improved on all models. All brake cylinders now are anodized for positive protection against destructive rust and corrosion. A new Cyclebond molded tapered lining was developed to give the brakes smoother, more positive action, and to reduce the tendency to grab and to squeal.

Loading heights are even lower than before on all models from the 1/2-ton through the 2-ton. This was accomplished by redesigning the rear springs.

Thicker seat pad cushions and re-contoured seat backs provide a greater comfort for the driver. Instruments are arranged in a cluster on the dash. Driver visibility has been increased by lowering the front of the hood line. The windshield wipers have been repositioned to cover a more usable area and to lay closer to the base of the windshield when not in use.

Bake Sale Next Saturday, Feb. 10

A bake sale sponsored by Mrs. Bridges' Jr. II home room will be held in the Montevallo Times front office Saturday, February 10.

From 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. delicious cakes, pies, assorted candy and cookies will be on sale for reasonable prices. They will be prepared and contributed by students' parents. Arranging and selling will be done by the pupils themselves.

The bake sale is part of a series of money-making projects conducted by this class to finance an over-night trip to Mobile. Students have set a goal of $350, which they hope to reach by late spring.

Fort Hood, Texas, — Private Frankie D. Lacey son of Mrs. Mary F. Lacey of Montevallo recently arrived at Fort Hood and has been assigned to a unit of the famous 2nd Armored Division for training.

American Legion Sets Pegs For Aid To Defense

An intensive membership drive for The American Legion as a means of aiding the country's preparedness effort was announced today by Fred Frost, Jr., Commander of Hendrick-Hudson Post of The American Legion.

This drive has been designated by George Huddleston, Jr., of Birmingham, State Commander of the Legion, as the Department of Alabama Preparedness Drive.

Commander Frost said the drive was initiated now because of the "effort that must be made by every American to keep America strong."

Commander Frost pointed out that the Legion has sponsored Universal Military Training since 1933 and is renewing its efforts to obtain this legislation now. "The Legion", he said, "has gone all out in support of the following measures for defense; total mobilization; civilian defense; control of Communists in this country; and a firm foreign policy."

"Enrollment in the Legion will be support of these policies", Commander Frost said.

All honorably discharged veterans who served with the U. S. Armed Forces during the period April 6, 1917 to November 11, 1918 or December 7, 1941 to September 2, 1945, and June 25, 1950 to date, are eligible for membership in the Legion.

The following are serving as a special membership committee in this section: Joe Clark, Don Lovelady, Harry Kendrick, Mitchell Young.

NEWS NOTES from the HIGH SCHOOL

EDITOR TO ATTEND WORKSHOP

Ed Givhan, Spotlight editor, plans to attend a two-day Journalism workshop at the University of Alabama, February 9-10. The workshop, sponsored by the Alabama High School Press Association, a service of the University Extension Division, will bring together student journalists from all over the state.

The program includes addresses by outstanding men in the field of journalism and tours of points of interest as well as workshop periods which will be designed to help student journalists to overcome their problems.

This is the second newspaper conference that Ed has attended this year. In September he went to a four-day journalism conference at Breneau College, Gainesville, Georgia.

SPRING CONCERT

Mr. Young has announced plans for a Spring Band Concert to be presented Tuesday, March 20 at Palmer auditorium. Details of the program will be announced at a latter date.

COUNTY TEAMS VIE

The Montevallo Bulldogs will face the Calera Eagles in the first bracket of the Shelby County tournament at Calera, February 15. The game set for 8 p.m. will follow a Vincent-Columbiana tussle for county honors.

Winners of these two games will tangle Friday night for the 1951 County Championship.

TEACHERS TO STUDY ART

Several Montevallo High School teachers plan to attend an Art Workshop at Columbiana February 19, 20, 21. The Binny and Smith Company is offering this In-Service Education Art Workshop to the teachers of Shelby County.

Mrs. Jane R. Callaway, Binny and Smith representative, will supervise the Workshop which will meet in the Columbiana school lunchroom from 3 o'clock to 6 o'clock on the three days.

At the first session modeling clay, colored chalk, fresco and finger paint will be the art media used.

The group will do paper mache and crafts at the second session. Final session will be working with different paints.

Groups Push Plans For New Cafeteria At Our Schools

A large group from Montevallo attended a meeting of the County Board of Education in Columbiana last Tuesday to emphasize Montevallo school's need for a new cafeteria. Montevallo clubs and organizations who were represented at the meeting were the Montevallo Study Club, The Girl Scout Council, Montevallo City Council, Rotary Club, Chamber of Commerce, Montevallo Board of Trustees and The Montevallo Public Schools.

Although no definite decision was reached, the group felt that their proposal was received favorably by the board.

School officials have long realized the inadequacy of the present lunchroom to meet the needs of Montevallo Schools. The present move to obtain funds for a new building was begun December 19, 1950 when members of the Board of Education and the Board of Trustees met with Montevallo School officials to discuss the need.

Studiosis To Hear Mrs. Olivia Huchison

The work of the Southern Research Institute will be the subject of Mrs. Olivia S. Huchison, who will speak to Studiosis Tuesday, February 13, at 7:30 p.m. in Reynolds Hall. Mrs. Huchison has been a member of the Southern Research Institute since 1945. She works as assistant research chemist in the fields of organic and bio-chemistry. She is a graduate of Georgia State College for Women, and before going to Southern Research Institute was employed by the DuPont Company. She has also done clinical laboratory work. Studiosis is glad to have an opportunity to hear an outstanding young scientist who is engaged in such important work as this.

Hostesses will be Mrs. Albert Baumgartner, Mrs. Edwin Allen, Miss Martha Allen, Mrs. Edward Glover, Miss Georgie Leeper, Mrs. John W. Ramsden, and Mrs. John Stephens.

CORRECTION

In a release last week covering Honors Scholarship contributions from Shelby County, these four names were inadvertently omitted: Downs, Roy ..... $100.00 Foshee, Ethel ..... 10.00 Foshee, John ..... 10.00 Fowler, Luther ..... 50.00

Dr. Caldwell announces that other contributions will be recognized at a later date.

Our Government

J. E. Jones
Washington Correspondent

Washington D. C.—Dwight L. Moody, the famous evangelist and educator, led the great spiritual revival that helped to lift this nation out of its moral and spiritual depression of post-Civil War days. What we need more than anything else now is a renewal of that faith and a return to religion that will give us confidence in these troublesome times.

The spirit of Moody may have been watching recently when a cornerstone for a new $300,000 building was laid on the campus of Mount Hermon School at Northfield, Massachusetts, a preparatory school for boys which Moody himself founded. The cornerstone was laid by the man whose name the building will bear — Frank Stanley Beveridge, founder of a company called Stanley Home Products, and a student of Moody's at Mount Hermon 50 years ago. Deposited in the cornerstone was an original hand written outline of a sermon by Moody entitled "Zeal," delivered publicly by him in 1898.

The granite head stone on Moody's grave at East Northfield bears this inscription: "He that doeth the will of God abideth forever." America today might well lay a new cornerstone of religious faith.

Public Guessing

The Gallup Poll issues a statement which shows that the public favors withdrawing from Korea by nearly 3 to 1. Just who wants to continue fighting (and why) in Korea is one of the wildest puzzles of the century.

War correspondents report that 66 per cent of public opinion favors pulling out of Korea and 25 per cent favors sticking to the fighting.

Another poll in the fighting zone shows that 49 per cent of American soldiers want to get out of the Korean war and that about half of them are divided in their opinion.

After all, the public seems to have got down to thinking matters over and arriving at the conclusion that we better close the doors on the United Nations and get our troops out of Korea.

Why the dad blamed war over there ever was started is something no one seems able to explain.

Hoover Rang the Bell

Very rarely an ex-President is able to make a speech that thrills the country from the national capital in Washington to the American grass roots. But day after day the newspapers and Congress continue to quote Herbert Hoover's recent speech. The former president declared that conditions in the Western part of our Nation are in good shape—and statesmen on Capitol Hill are still praising Hoover because he made a plea to his countrymen, and England, in particular, to continue to march forward.

A few days ago a Washington editorial writer discovered the fact that Mr. Hoover did not give much attention to the power and force that exists in the keeping of airplanes.

Undoubtedly we need bases in Europe and bases can be granted only by our Allies. Mr. Taft has smoothed matters over and there will be plenty of planes when we get ready to use them on a larger scale. At the same time do not overlook the fact that we are closely entwined in Europe. American manufacturers can turn a thousand new airplanes into the skies on short notice. So don't continue to worry about that end of our affairs.

M. Thornton Visits B. B. Comer School

At a meeting of vocational agriculture teachers and head teachers of GI on the farm trainees held at B. B. Comer School at Sylacauga last Wednesday, M. Thornton, of Montevallo, discussed with the group, topics on adult education. Representatives of Coosa, Clay, Talladega and Shelby counties were in attendance. B. P. Dillworth, district supervisor of vocational agriculture, discussed plans for the program in vocational agriculture and other areas of vocational education.

Through a special invitation of the faculty of McAdory High School and the State Department of Education, M. Thornton, vocational agriculture teacher at Montevallo, will work with the McAdory faculty from February 26 through March 2 on "Curriculum and Course of Study Committee of the Evaluative Program."

Montevallo F. F. A. boys have set up project plans for this year which includes 184 productive projects and 220 improvement projects. Among the projects are special plans for poultry production, fruit production, home gardens, house improvement, beef production, swine production, dairying, soil conservation and soil building, forestry, and general practices in management.

Miss Laurie Orr, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. M. L. Orr spent last week end in Montevallo with her parents and in Auburn with friends. Miss Orr is a student at the University of Alabama.

Milk Cartons

Did you realize that even the paper cartons which contain milk must have a tailor-made finish? These paper containers, which save a tremendous amount of shipping and storage space because they can be shipped flat to dairies all over the country, must have a finish that is tasteless, odorless, non-toxic, and that also will not crack or flake off in service.

Russian Sentry Hides as English Remove Big Bomb

BERLIN, Germany—There was one bomb in the center of Berlin that the Russians wanted nothing to do with—in fact they insisted it was a British responsibility.

Workmen restoring the old Tiergarten, Berlin's most famous park, uncovered the 1,000-pound relic of World War II.

It lay just 150 yards from the massive memorial the Russians erected in 1945, just inside the area which became the British sector, to Red army men who died in the storming of Berlin. The fuse was damaged, complicating the problem of handling and removing it.

Three days of negotiations with the Russians followed. The Russians said it was a British responsibility, because the bomb lay in the British sector, but insisted the memorial must not be affected.

German and British bomb experts advised that detonation at the spot would buckle the marble columns of the memorial, and recommended moving the bomb.

Russian officers said moving the bomb would be dangerous. They asked British engineers to sign a guarantee that the memorial would not be damaged.

The British insisted it could be moved safely and finally the Russians agreed to the attempt.

British air force demolition men hooked a steel wire, 100 yards long, to the bomb at noon today and gingerly lugged it 200 yards farther away from the memorial.

The Russian sentry quit his post in front of the memorial and hid behind its big columns while this was going on.

The R.A.F. squad covered the bomb with several hundred sandbags and some bales of straw and hooked up a dynamite fuse. In mid-afternoon they touched off the bomb. Its roar was heard for miles.

The Soviet sentry went back to his post as the dust cleared.

Mildred Alford With Airlines In Fort Worth

Mildred Alford, graduate of Alabama College in 1942, has been appointed supervisor of stewardesses for American Airlines at Fort Worth, Texas.

This is Miss Alford's third assignment in Fort Worth. She served with the airline there in 1947 and again in 1948. The second time she was assistant chief stewardess.

The duty was followed by a year's service as chief stewardess in Memphis, which, in turn, was followed by a year's service as instructress at the company's former stewardess training center in Ardmore, Oklahoma. She joined American Airlines in 1946.

Miss Alford went to Dallas as assistant supervisor of stewardesses in 1949 and was there until her present promotion and transfer.

A native of Gadsden, she was educated there, graduating from Gadsden High School in 1938. She is a 1942 graduate of Alabama College with a B. S. degree in physical education.

Miss Alford is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Alford. Her father is a retired building contractor in Gadsden.

Keep Fresh Coconut All The Time

How would you like to have fresh coconut the year 'round? It is possible when coconut meat is frozen and stored in the home freezer. Home Demonstration agent Marian Cotney reveals that within the next few months fresh coconuts will be selling at greatly reduced prices.

Since it will be a good time to freeze coconuts, here's an easy way to remove the meat from the shell: First drain milk, then place coconut in a hot oven for 20 minutes. Remove from oven and tap lightly with a hammer. Sometime the meat comes out whole.

Next, remove skin from coconut meat, grate, mix with a small amount of the milk, add one tablespoonful sugar to each coconut, then pack tightly into containers and freeze.

To avoid waste, Miss Cotney recommends that coconut meat be frozen in amounts that will be used at one time. For example, freeze just the right amount for one pie in one container.

Scholarship Students To Take Exams May 15, 16 and 17

The fourth annual Honors Scholarship competition at Alabama College will get underway on May 15, 16, 17, according to an announcement by Dr. John T. Caldwell, president of the school.

High school seniors from all over the state of Alabama will be eligible to compete and a total of 27 scholarships will be awarded. Value of the scholarships include two full-expense grants, each renewable for three additional years, two half-expense grants each renewable for three additional years, three one-fourth expense grants each renewable for three additional years, and ten one-eighth expense grants good for one year. Application blanks are available from any high school principal, and any Senior girl who is in the top one-fourth of her class is eligible to compete.

Girls who qualify will be invited to the campus March 15, 16, 17, as guests of the college. Examinations in ability, personality, and achievement will be given during the three days.

Dr. Minnie L. Steekel is co-ordinator of the Honors Scholarship program.

Look For Display In Whaley's Window

If you're planning to entertain during February, you might like to take a look at the display of table settings, arranged by members of the High School Home Economics Foods I Class, in Whaley's Furniture Store the week of February 9-15. The Lincoln theme will be carried out by using a doughnut tree and table decorations typical of the Nineteenth Century; it will be on exhibit February 9-12.

A change in coloring and sentiment will be made on Monday, February 12 when the St. Valentine theme will be carried out in the table decoration with a bleeding heart tree as the centerpiece.

Social Security For Ages 65 to 75

You do not have to be wholly or permanently "retired" to get retirement payments under the old age and survivors insurance system, according to M. C. Folmar, manager of the Birmingham Social Security office. The number of people coming into his office confused on this point prompted him to make the explanation.

"Actually," Mr. Folmar pointed out, "the new social security law makes it possible for insured people 65 and over to collect retirement benefits while still earning up to $50 a month on covered jobs. The old limit of $14.99 was changed on last September 1. Even the $50 limit does not apply to earnings from work not covered by social security. Neither does it apply to people age 75 or over."

"The law simply is that a person between 65 and 75 years of age can not collect benefits for any month in which he earns more than $50 from work covered by social security. No amount of income from other sources will affect his right to benefits. Insured people over 75 or over can collect, even though working full time on jobs covered by social security, or for that matter, any job."

"Another point we'd like to get across," Mr. Folmar continued, "is that anyone now age 65 or over very likely is insured if he has worked as much as a year and a half, at any time back to January, 1937, on social security covered jobs."

For further information regarding the new law, contact the social security representative who is at the employment office in Calera every Thursday at 10:00 a.m.

Dr. Sloan Advises Flu Treatment

From available reports it appears that some European countries are experiencing an epidemic of influenza.

Alabama, too, has had an increase in the number of cases reported but, except in one community in West Alabama, it has not reached epidemic proportions. For the State there were 263 cases reported during the week ending on January 20, whereas, during the same week of last year only 98 cases were reported.

According to reports, the disease does not approach in severity the influenza of 1918-19. Then too, the newer drugs, while they do not materially affect the course of influenza, will usually prevent the complications which were so often fatal in the 1918 epidemic.

It is most important, however, that anyone who develops a feverish cold should immediately go to bed and stay until the acute stage has passed. Only by doing this can the possibility of serious complications be avoided.

It is best also that the eating and drinking utensils be kept separate and sterilized by boiling after each use; that discharges from the nose and throat be received on paper napkins and burned, and that only one member of the family be allowed to come in contact with the patient. This nurse should preferably wear a gauze or cloth over the nose and mouth and also should wash the hands thoroughly after contact with the patient.

The patient should not expose other people at work or school or in public places until the acute stage has passed.—Dr. E. F. Sloan County Health Officer.

Had Brick In His Stomach 10 Years

ABC Board Says No Monkey Business

Montgomery, Ala.—Gov. Gordon Persons and members of the new Alabama ABC board have sounded a warning that all rules and regulations will be enforced "to the letter".

In a meeting of all Alcohol Beverage Control board license inspectors and supervisors, members of the new board related instructions from Persons that all "monkey business" among the licensees must be stopped.

ABC Administrator R. P. McRee later supplemented the chief executive's order with a letter which pointed out.

"You are hereby notified that it will be the definite policy of the board to check closely the facilities and operations of all persons selling alcoholic beverages under the privilege of a license issued by the board, and to deal fairly, but strictly, with them all.

"Those who comply with the law and regulations of the board will have the cooperation of the board, and those who fail to comply will have their privileges promptly canceled," McRee wrote.

THOUSANDS MORE TELEPHONES IN 1950

1950 was another big telephone year in Alabama. Southern Bell installed 78,916 telephones . . . enough to serve two cities the size of Montgomery.

The big job, however, was making telephones possible by constructing and enlarging buildings, installing central office equipment, building lines and stringing wire and cable. In all we spent more than $12,900,000 last year to expand and improve Alabama's telephone service.

Today Alabama has twice as many telephones as were in service at the end of World War II . . . twice as many long distance circuits . . . three times as many rural telephones. That's mighty important right now as the nation mobilizes for defense.

In the days ahead, Southern Bell can be counted on to do its full part in defense—in Alabama and throughout the South.

S. H. YOUNGBLOOD, Alabama Manager

Where Money to Expand and Improve Service Comes From

It doesn't come from the money you pay us for telephone service . . . that money goes to pay wages, taxes and other operating costs. The money to build new facilities must come from people with money to invest. That's why the future of telephone service depends on the Company's ability to pay for the use of money invested in telephone facilities.

They Say The Purples Can't Be Beat— But The Golds Will Not Concede --- Yet!

The month-long preparations for the 32nd Annual College Night have already begun, and the Golds are out to win this year, after a six-year losing streak.

This all - student production, scheduled for February 22, 23, and 24, is the culmination of four weeks creative activity by the Purples and the Golds, the two sides into which the student body is divided, each side presenting half of the evenings entertainment.

College Night presents the singing voices, the writing talent, and the dramatic talent of the school. Each side offers a complete production and a corps of judges makes the final decision on Saturday night. On that night, also the Alumnae of the year will be presented, for Homecoming has become a part of the College Night tradition.

But what a hush-hush prevails on the campus before that time, for it's supposed to be secret what each side is doing. But in the dormitories, there are myriad gold and purple decorations, and lighted purple cows and gold mascots adorn doors and windows. And of course, the standard dress is either a gold or purple sweater and cap. This year, one loyal gold came out with gold shoe laces.

College Night began with a modest observance of Washington's birthday in the college dining hall in 1919, with rivalry between the classes, each presenting a poem and "stunt" and the prize being an immense college banner. However, it has grown so that three nights are required to hold the event, now presented in spacious Palmer Hall. It is still held, though, on the Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights nearest Washington's birthday.

Montevallo Citizens Join In Honoring Future Farmers Week of February 17-24

National F.F.A. Week is February 17-24. At this time the people of our community will emphasize their appreciation of what the Future Farmers are doing in their efforts to contribute to the building of a greater America and a better agriculture.

Nothing has ever happened in this section that outshines the work, the spirit and the accomplishments of our F.F.A. boys. The establishment of vocational agriculture in our high school holds the greatest value to this community of any step that has ever been taken for the improvement of community in an economic sense. That may seem a broad statement, but we are willing to make it and trust to time to prove its correctness.

At the present time the officers of our local Montevallo chapter of F.F.A. are as follows:

Bobby Neal Smitherman, President; Edward Holcombe, Vice-president; Jack McGaughy, Secretary; Joe McGaughy, Reporter; Donald Litton, Sentinel; Dudley Pendleton, Assistant Adviser; Charles Lovelady, Treasurer; M. Thornton, Adviser.

State Farmers in the chapter are: Bobby Jarvis, Ben Peete, Ted Allen.

State Chapter Farmer Award, Edward Holcombe, most outstanding project record.

Public Speaking Chapter winner, Dan Whetstone, "Farmers of Tomorrow".

Honorary Members: Buck Anderson, M. S. McGehee, Ned Cary, Kenneth Cunningham, Jr., John T. Caldwell, Bill Loveady, Harry Kendrick, Wilson Sanders, S. H. Hurt, J. R. Pittard, Theron Fisher, and Dr. M. L. Orr.

Motto: Learning to Do—Doing to Learn — Earning to Live—Living to Serve.

Purposes

To develop agricultural leadership.

To promote better citizenship and scholarship.

To encourage participation to the highest degree.

To promote a love and understanding of country life.

To teach cooperative effort and work toward understanding.

To make an organized approach at problems.

To contribute to the general welfare of the community.

National Honors

Yes, Montevallo F.F.A. made National Honors too—the OCI News in the November 1950 issue carried a feature story on the outstanding record made with the OCI gilts.

The average of the top six was 11 pigs farrowed per litter and 10.3 raised. Sixty-one pigs were produced from the best six gilts.

Local Boys Attend National Convention

Joe McGaughy and Grady Houl-ditch attended the National F.F.A. Convention in Kansas City last October and represented the Montevallo Chapter.

Parliamentary Procedure Studied
The principal of the Montevallo High School, Mr. Claude M. Hill, Jr., gave the Chapter forty copies of a booklet dealing with correct parliamentary procedure.

The boys are studying on this and plan to develop a parliamentary team.

The Boys Themselves Say

Milton Jeter says, "The F.F.A. has meant a lot to me. The trips we take and demonstrations orchards we plant help make the study interesting. We go places on our field trips that many of the boys would not get to make otherwise. We learn how to plant trees and then go home and set out our own orchards."

BOBBY NEAL SMITHERMAN

Agee Kelly states about the F.F.A., "Last year when I entered the F. F. A., as a Greenhand, I had little idea that I would build a garage. With the help of Mr. Thornton, my mother and father, and some of the F.F.A. boys I now have a nice garage 20 feet by 14 feet. The garage is a frame building on a concrete block foundation. If I hadn't entered the F.F.A. I would have missed many of the other interesting and helpful projects of the F.F.A. We have done many projects in landscaping, orchards, terracing and shop work."

Delmus Anthony—"As I see the F.F.A. today I think it is one of the best organizations in the United States.

"It helps a boy to learn and then to do. If any boy has a chance to be an F.F.A. member he had better join."

Thanks

Members of the Montevallo F.F.A. Chapter appreciate very much the loyal support from so many individuals and business firms which has made it possible for the chapter to accomplish so many of its objectives. Special thanks is extended to all those who have helped to get the chapter started here.

Fundamental to the success of any F.F.A. Chapter is the proper interpretation on the part of both young and adult citizens.

Four Local Girls Are "Big Wigs" In College Night

Four Shelby County girls will have prominent parts on both Gold and Purple sides this year as College Night activities reach the half-way mark, College Night, annual all-student musical presented at Alabama College, will be presented in Palmer Auditorium February 23, 24, and 25.

Dorothy Baumgartner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Baumgartner of Montevallo, will come to the fore in the Gold production with Dorothy as assistant leader for the Golds.

Margaret Ann Hendrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Hendrick of Montevallo, is serving as musician on the Purple cabinet.

Jean Cline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Cline, Helena, is serving as chairman of the Purple properties committee.

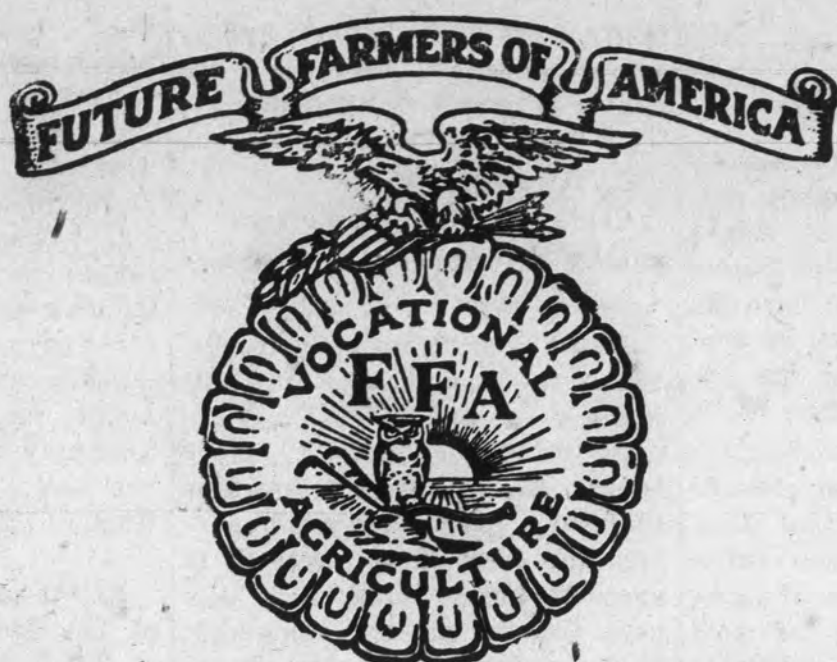

Martha Woolley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Woolley, Montevallo, is serving as chairman of the Gold lighting committee.

The Future Farmer Organization

The Future Farmers of America is a national organization of farm boys who are studying vocational agriculture in the rural public high schools and preparing for a career of farming. The organization has approximately 320,000 members in the 48 states, Hawaii and Puerto Rico. There are about 8,000 active local chapters of F. F. A. in rural high schools of the nation. The approximate age level of members is 14 to 21 years.

America and a great portion of the entire world looks next week to honoring the F. F. A. boys in their organized effort to build a greater America and a better agriculture. Thousands of young men throughout the nation are engaged in various programs of farming and are enrolled in classes of vocational agriculture where they participate in organized instruction giving them the latest and best information available. Through these efforts boys are reaching a high degree of efficiency in production and leadership among the young farmers of today. Constantly being challenged for the best degree of participation and making contributions through various services and programs, Alabama has over 10,000 active members.

Montevallo has enrolled over 100 in F. F. A. membership during the last two years. Members of the F. F. A. are constantly striving to identify problems and to select from these problems those needing immediate attention. Making some approach to solve these problems is a part of the work of the F. F. A. Already we can see in our community some of the trends for increased production of eggs, milk, meat, and other food products. It is only through the combined efforts of many people, many institutions, many resource people, and cooperative effort that F. F. A. continues to gain momentum.

Montevallo F. F. A. members appreciate very much the wonderful support and cooperation from so many people in so many ways during the last two years.

A PROCLAMATION By the GOVERNOR

WHEREAS, the future progress and prosperity of Alabama is dependent to a great degree upon the skills and efforts of those citizens who operate the many farms of the state; and

WHEREAS, the Future Farmers of America organization is composed of boys who are studying vocational agriculture in public secondary schools as preparation for careers in farming; and

WHEREAS, the major purposes of the Future Farmers of America organization are to develop leadership, encourage cooperation, promote good citizenship, teach sound methods of farming, and inspire patriotism among the members; and

WHEREAS, Alabama now has 253 active chapters of the organization, with more than 12,000 presently active members and more than 100,000 associate members; and

WHEREAS, the members of the Future Farmers of America perform valuable community services and provide important leadership in developing our agricultural economy and in building a better state;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Gordon Persons, Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby proclaim the week beginning February 17, as Alabama Future Farmer Week, and urge all citizens to take notice of the many contributions of the Future Farmers to our State and to encourage in every possible way the further growth of this splendid organization for our farm youth.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of Alabama to be affixed at the State Capitol in Montgomery, this, 18th day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fifty-one, and of the State the one hundred thirty-first.

GORDON PERSONS,
Governor

Attest:
AGNES BAGGETT,
Secretary of State

THE F. F. A. CREED

I believe in the future of farming, with a faith born, not of words but of deeds—achievements won by the present and past generations of farmers; in the promise of better days through better ways, even as the better things we now enjoy have come up to us from the struggles of former years.

I believe that to live and work on a good farm is pleasant as well as challenging; for I know the joys and discomforts of farm life and hold an inborn fondness for those associations which, even in hours of discouragement, I can not deny.

I believe in leadership from ourselves and respect from others. I believe in my own ability to work efficiently and think clearly, with such knowledge and skill as I can secure, and in the ability of organized farmers to serve our own and the public interest in marketing the product of our toil. I believe we can safeguard those rights against practices and policies that are unfair.

I believe in less dependence on begging and more power in bargaining; in the life abundant and enough honest wealth to help make it so—for others as well as myself; in less need for charity and more of it when needed; in being happy myself and playing square with those whose happiness depends upon me.

I believe that rural America can and will hold true to the best traditions in our national life and that I can exert an influence in my home and community which will stand solid for my part in that inspiring task.

WHY NATIONAL F.F.A. WEEK?

The Bureau of Agricultural Economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture, has estimated that 130,000 NEW farmers are needed each year to maintain the present high level of agricultural production in the United States. A large percentage of the persons who enter the farming business have not had the technical training in agriculture that they should have to become successful farmers. It is the successful, well-established farmer who contributes most to our agricultural production and who takes proper steps to conserve and improve the soil so that generations following him will have a foundation for continuing the production that is an essential factor in maintaining the present American standard of living and raising the standard to even higher levels.

Vocational agricultural education in the nation's rural high schools and the Future Farmers of America organization are contributing substantially to the education of farm boys in the skills that will enable them to become successfully established in farming, and provides participating experiences to help develop to the fullest extent the boys' abilities in rural leadership and American citizenship.

It is fitting and essential that recognition should be given to these young farmers as they prepare for a future in their chosen occupation of farming. Encouragement in their work at this point in their training will do much to stimulate them to harder study and greater achievement.

National F. F. A. Week is scheduled to focus attention on the work of this group of Future Farmers of today who will be the successful farmers of tomorrow.

Alabama College Home Coming Saturday, Feb. 24

Alabama College will be host to some 500 alumnae at its Homecoming February 23 and 24. Alumnae will attend the Friday and Saturday night performances of College Night, musical and dramatic revue of the students.

Graduates and former students may register in Reynolds Hall, student union building, Saturday, or in Palmer Foyer before each College Night performance.

On Saturday there will be four class reunions. They are the fifth reunion of the class of 1946, tenth reunion of the class of 1941, silver anniversary of the class of 1926, and the golden anniversary of the class of 1901.

At 9:00 a.m. Saturday, the Executive Board and Alumnae Council will have a joint meeting in Reynolds Hall, followed by an Alumnae luncheon honoring the Alumnae-of-the-Year, which will be held at 1:00 p.m. in the New Dining Room.

The Luncheon committee consists of Willilee R. Trumbauer, chairman; Eloise Lee, co-chairman; Nell Holcombe; Martha Allen; Maggie B. Anderson; Virginia Barnes; Katherine Vickery; and Eloise Meroney. Lowell S. Hamilton is in charge of publicity.

From 4:00 to 5:00 p.m. Saturday, February 24, there will be an Alumnae Association Tea in Reynolds Foyer for all College Staff and adult members of their families and Alumnae-Daughters. Annie Joe Brown is the chairman in charge of this Tea. Assisting her will be Lena N. Jeter, Jane F. Wyatt, and Julia W. Rotenberry.

The 358 diphtheria cases reported in 1949 from the entire state included 6 reported from Shelby County, according to the State Health Department records.

Gov. Gordon Persons has named Mrs. Mildred White Wallace, of Columbiana, as a member of the State Welfare Board. She was named to the position left vacant by the resignation of Mrs. Bess Bains, of Oneonta.

Mrs. Wallace is editor of The Shelby County Reporter - Democrat. Her term in the welfare job will run to August, 1953.

She is the wife of Circuit Judge W. W. Wallace of the 18th Judicial Circuit composed of Coosa, Clay and Shelby Counties. She is the mother of Columbiana's mayor, Wales W. Wallace, Jr.

Party Leaders To Honor U.S. Senators

Montgomery — National Democratic and Republican party leaders will be honored in Montgomery February 18.

They are Senator Paul Douglas, Democrat, of Illinois, and Senator Leverett Saltonstall, Republican, of Massachusetts, who will be in Montgomery on that day to take part in a debate sponsored by the Montgomery Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The Alabama Democratic Executive Committee will hold a luncheon for Douglas at 1:15, on February 18, at the Jefferson Davis Hotel.

Ralph Kennamer, Montgomery, said that Saltonstall will be honored with a 1:00 p.m. luncheon at the Whitley Hotel on the same day.

At 3:00 p.m. February 18, Mr. Douglas and Mr. Saltonstall will discuss "Our Foreign Policy in its Relation to Our Military Preparedness" at Sidney Lanier High School.

Westinghouse LAMP DIVISION COMES TO ALABAMA

Westinghouse Lamp Division is pleased to announce the building of a new lamp plant at Reform, Alabama.

The new plant, located about 34 miles northwest of Tuscaloosa, will be the first Westinghouse plant in Alabama to manufacture consumer goods. Within a few weeks, work will begin on the L-shaped, 150,000-square-foot plant. It will be situated on a 50-acre plot facing Alabama Highway 17.

This will be the tenth plant of the Westinghouse Lamp Division, which makes over 10,000 types and sizes of lamps. It will employ 400 people, nearly all of them from Pickens County. These are the kind of people with whom Westinghouse likes to work.

Other important factors in the site choice were the availability of natural gas and electricity, and transportation. A prime factor was the nearness to, and central location in, a rapidly expanding and healthy marketing area.

Other Westinghouse operations in Alabama include company sales offices in Mobile and Birmingham. And soon a new Birmingham plant will manufacture and repair large electrical equipment.

We're happy to be coming to Alabama—Westinghouse Lamp Division, Bloomfield, N. J.

Professor Nash Here Sunday

Alabama College will have on its campus Sunday afternoon Professor Arnold S. Nash, well-known in the field of religion.

Professor Nash who heads the department of religion at the University of North Carolina, will speak at 4:30 p.m. in Comer Lecture Hall on "The Place of Religion in Higher Education."

Dr. Nash, a native of England, was educated at the University of Liverpool, Oxford University and the London School of Economics. He has held a research studentship in chemistry as an undergraduate, and done advanced work in theology and sociology. He is the author of "The University of the Modern World," and other works.

Alumnae Honoree To Be Announced

Each year at Alabama College the Alumnae-of-the-Year is announced at a luncheon given in her honor.

Selection for this year will be announced within a few days according to a joint announcement of Willilee R. Trumbauer, chairman of the Faculty-Alumnae Committee and Eloise Lee, Alumnae Secretary.

The Alumnae-of-the-Year is chosen from the 6000 who have attended Alabama College through the years.

SQUARE DANCE

There will be a square and round dance at the Legion Hut, Saturday night, at 7:30 p.m.

One measles case out of every 224 in the United States in July, August and September was in Alabama — 224 out of 25,303.

Joyce Savage With Barter Theatre

Joyce Savage, alumna of Alabama College and one of the outstanding dramatic students, will be at Judson College with the Barter Theatre on February 16.

She will portray Adriaña in Shakespeare's The Comedy of Errors.

A native of Birmingham, Joyce came to the Barter Theatre after touring with the Shakespeare Repertory Theatre upon her graduation from Alabama College in 1949.

She made her stage debut at the age of six with the lead in a first grade Thanksgiving skit for the parents. From then on, theatre has been her first love, although she has done work in radio and television.

Conservationists In Convention On February 20

Five supervisors from the North Central Alabama Soil Conservation District will be among more than 2000 farmers and ranchers expected in Oklahoma City February 20 for a three day conference devoted to the one interest common to all of them—conservation of the Nation's soil and water resources. The local district supervisors going to Oklahoma City are J. R. Howard, Chairman, representing Jefferson County; L.D. Bentley, Secretary-Treasurer, of Blount County; R. O. Williams, of Chilton County; Tom O. Waldrop, Cullman County; and F. E. Williams, Shelby County.

The convention will be presided over by Waters S. Davis, Jr. of League City, Texas. Davis is president of the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts. During the three-day meeting addresses will be made by the Secretary of Agriculture, Charles F. Brannan, Dr. H. H. Bennett, Chief of the Soil Conservation Service, Allen B. Kline, President of the American Farm Bureau Federation, and Dr. Jonathon Forman, Vice-President, Friends of the Land.

The work of Soil Conservation Districts in developing a more dependable war-time agriculture, the speeding up of the job of protecting and improving the nation's productive land, and water conservation and river basin development—these are among the problems to be discussed by the convention delegates.

News of Local Interest To Shelby Farmers

Shelby County egg producers have an excellent opportunity to expand their business, according to County Agent A. A. Lauderdale. He reveals that Alabama egg dealers brought about 44,000,000 dozen eggs in from other states last year. This fact means that Alabama farmers could sell all the eggs produced by 3,000,000 good hens.

Poultrymen who wish to take advantage of this fine chance should start their pullets now, advises Lauderdale. Pullets started in February should be in production by July or August. In other words, they will be in peak production through the last six months of the year when Alabama egg prices are highest.

Lauderdale states that successful poultrymen find that hens should not be carried over for their second year's production since they decrease in production about 20 percent each year. Second-year hens are apt to go into a molt during the fall and winter months when eggs are most profitable.

This molt period usually cuts production.

Too many farmers are still trying to work steep, rough lands on their farms observes County Agent, A. A. Lauderdale.

He states that such lands are not adapted to growing row crops. However, these lands can be used to grow serjeca, kudzu, and grass-legume mixtures.

Farmers who persist in using steep land for row crop production are staging an uphill fight, declares Lauderdale. That kind of fight usually results in poorer land and poorer farmers, the agent adds.

Cooked Fine Dinner; Threw It To DOG!

One lady used to throw her own dinner to the dog most of the time. It made her sick just to look at food. She was swollen with gas, full of bloat, felt worn-out.

Finally she got CERTA-VIN and says she now eats everything in sight and digests it perfectly. This is the new medicine that is helping so many stomach 'victims' in Montevallo. It helps you digest food faster and better. Taken before meals, it works with your food. Gas pains go! Inches of bloat vanish. Contains herbs and vitamin B-1 with Iron to enrich the blood and make nerves stronger. Weak, miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering. Get CERTA-VIN.—Wilson Drug Store.

HOW LITTLE IT COSTS TO PHONE!

Around-the-clock telephone service costs Alabama homes
an average of less than 1/2¢ an hour

Ever stopped to think how many trips your telephone saves you? Or what the transportation costs would amount to for the trips to town and across town that you avoid by telephoning?

Just think—the telephone stands ready to run errands for Alabama homes 24 hours a day for an average charge of less than one-half cent an hour!

Whether you evaluate your telephone service in terms of transportation costs saved, time saved, "missions accomplished," protection in case of emergency—or just in the friendship and good times that result from keeping in touch—you'll find your telephone is still a big bargain!

S. H. YOUNGBLOOD, Alabama Manager

Growing Bargain

The price of telephone service has gone up far less than most things you buy. At the same time the number of telephones you can call at your local service rate has nearly tripled in the past ten years.

MISS "BESS" WILLIAMS

An outstanding worker with the Children's Bureau of the Federal Security Agency will be Alumna-of-the-Year for 1951 at Alabama College.

She is "Bess" R. Williams, now the Regional Child Welfare Representative in Region X (Washington, Oregon, California, Nevada, Arizona, Alaska, and Hawaii).

Traditionally the Alumna-of-the-Year is honored at an alumnae luncheon and tea which are planned as part of the Homecoming festivities. Homecoming this year is scheduled for February 24.

Because Miss Williams will be unable to attend, Dr. R. E. Tidwell of Tuscaloosa, uncle of Miss Williams, will receive the trophy for her.

The 1951 Alumna-of-the-Year, who received her M.A. degree at the University of Chicago, has worked in Alabama as a Child Welfare worker with the Alabama Department. She later was on the staff of the New York State Charities Aid Association, before becoming connected with the U.S. Children's Bureau for the care of European Children in 1940. Since that time she has been active as an Associate Child Welfare Consultant with the Children's Bureau.

Homecoming is a traditional part of College Night, the all-student musical revue which runs three consecutive nights beginning Thursday.

Two Get Degrees At University

The University of Alabama awarded degrees to 425 students in mid-year graduation exercises Saturday afternoon.

Graduates from Shelby County and the degrees received are as follows:

Montevallo, Luther F. Adams, B. S. in Commerce and Business Administration.

Wilsonville, Dorothy Maxine Dennis, Bachelor of Science in Biology.

MR. WILL REID DIED

As we go to press Wednesday afternoon we learn of the death of Mr. Will A. Reid, well known citizen of Montevallo.

Smith Baby Born At Navy Base

Naval Base, S. C.—A baby boy weighing 7 pounds 4½ ozs. was born January 11, 1951, to Mrs. Mary Agnes Smith, wife of Dewey H. Smith, chief disbursing clerk, USN, at the U. S. Naval Hospital, Naval Base, S. C.

Smith, who is serving at the U.S. Naval Receiving Station, Naval Base, formerly lived at Montevallo, Alabama. Mrs. Smith's home was at Baker, La.

The baby, named Dewey Harold, Jr., is the first child for the Smiths. The Smith family is residing at 1902 Carlton St., Naval Base.

W. N. Miner Heads Red Cross Drive

W. N. Miner, manager of the Alabama Employment Service for Shelby County, will head the 1951 Red Cross Fund Campaign in the county. His appointment as fund chairman was announced by Roy Downs, chapter chairman. Because of the defense emergency, the Red Cross campaign has taken on increased importance.

Mr. Miner said, "The Red Cross will face great responsibilities in the next year. It must continue its vital services to the men and families of our expanded armed forces. It must also lend full support to civil defense preparations, and will take the leadership in the development of a nation-wide blood program. The accelerated activities of nearly all Red Cross services will require substantial funds."

A lifelong resident of Shelby County, and a veteran of World War II, Mr. Miner returned to the county in 1945 after serving two and a half years with the 4th Infantry Division. He landed in France on D-Day, and was wounded in the assault at St. Lo. For six months he was hospitalized, first in France, and then in England, and later at Northampton Hospital.

Upon receiving his discharge in 1945, Mr. Miner completed his education which had been interrupted by army service. He has had wide experience in soliciting funds for various civic organizations in the county. He is a member of the board of directors of the anti-tuberculosis society. He serves on the children's advisory committee, and on the board of directors of the Shelby County chapter of the Alabama Society for Crippled Children and Adults. He is county representative for vocational rehabilitation, a member of the Methodist Church, the Calera Civilian Club, and the VFW.

The Red Cross fund goal in Shelby County is $4,500. Fund chairman Miner said, "I expect the county to reach its goal the first week of the campaign."

Ed Givhan Wins Press Honors

Ed Givhan, editor of the Spotlight, high school newspaper, was recently elected first vice-president of the Alabama High School Press Association, at the annual meeting which was held at the University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa, February 9-10.

The convention opened with a banquet Friday night featuring entertainment by the Delta Tau Delta Dixieland Band.

Panel talks and discussions on news, features, and editorial writing and other phases in the publishing of a high school paper and yearbook, made up the workshop on Saturday.

Also attending the convention from Montevallo was Miss Holcomb, faculty adviser.

Business Class For Adult Women

A special adult business class, now being taught at Montevallo High School offers Montevallo Women employees an opportunity for better training for their work. The class, under the supervision of Miss Susie DeMent, Commercial teacher at M.H.S., is under the Smith Hughes Law.

The course is open to employed women who seek training to better them for their present positions. Both typing and shorthand are available. Classes meet from 4 to 6 p.m. each Monday, Wednesday, and Thursday.

Enrolled in the class at present are the following: Larue Armstrong, Pat Blackmon, Hazel Butterworth, Edna Davis, Mildred Davis, Ruby Davis, Ruth Whaley Duncan, Georgia Edwards, Bess Fancher, Lillie Queen Grady, Florine Harris, Eilee Lee, Mrs. J. C. McCrary, Christine Nichols, Kathryn Pharr, Lallage Seale, Dot Underwood, Inez Underwood, Minnie Lou Warnke, Lucile Wilson, Myrtle Wilson, Elinor Wooly, and Imogene Smitherman Battle.

Foshee Opens Gas Service Business In Kroell Building

The Central Alabama Gas Co. of Clanton is opening up a place of business in Montevallo from which they will offer complete service to local citizens who are interested in putting in natural gas equipment and appliances.

Mr. Luther Foshee is head of the company which has had several years successful operation in Clanton. His sons are associated with him in the business.

Their place in Montevallo is in the Kroell Building formerly occupied by Rochester Brothers.

Mr. Foshee says: "We offer to the people of Montevallo the best in service and installation, as we have fully trained personnel with years of experience and training."

"We invite you to call on us for a free survey and estimate of your needs by our engineers, without obligation to you."

We commend Mr. Foshee and his Company to the citizens of Montevallo who may be interested in solving the problem of natural gas use and installation. We have known him and boys for a long time, and believe they are thoroughly qualified to render the services they offer. We are glad to have them come here with their business.

$6,400 Granted For Vincent Housing

A telegram has been received by the Times from Senators Hill, and Sparkman and Congressman deGraffenried, advising of action on a public housing project at Vincent, as follows:

"We have just been advised by the public housing authority that the president has authorized PHA to make a preliminary loan of sixty four hundred dollars to the Vincent housing authority to be used in planning thirty-two low rent housing units. We are happy to send you this favorable word, regards."

ALUMNAE DAUGHTERS of Alabama College will have prominent parts in the Homecoming program on Friday and Saturday. They will assist in welcoming parents and friends to the campus and will serve as pages at the luncheon in honor of the Alumna-of-the-Year. The 1950-51 roster shows sixty-five daughters of alumnae on the campus. Pictured above are: Front row, left to right, Frances McElvey, Sylacauga; Joann Wood, Bessemer; Dell Dobbins, Myrtlewood. Second row, left to right, June McQueen, Greenville; Betty Saxon, Birmingham; LaDayne Priester, Opelika; Martha Ann Blair, Montgomery; Jean Taylor, Haleyville. Back row, left to right, Ann Taylor, Haleyville; Sara Goldstein, Talladega; Helen Stallworth, Thomaston; Mary Dorroh, Millport; Evelyn Jones, Clanton; Carolyn Walthall, Newberne; Anna Salter, Opelika; Miss Eloise Lee, Alumnae Secretary.

Donald Lovelady Is C of C President

At the regular meeting of the Montevallo Chamber of Commerce this week Don H. Lovelady, owner of Central Alabama Auto Parts Company was elected president of the organization.

M. S. McGehee, manager of the Alabama Power Co. local office is the new secretary-treasurer.

M. Thornton, vocational department of Montevallo High School, is vice president.

Mr. Lovelady pledges his best efforts in the work of the Chamber of Commerce this year. He talked of the many potentialities for expanded business and industry in Montevallo.

M. S. McGehee is the retiring president and Herman Stone is the past secretary-treasurer.

Montevallo Wins Basketball Trophy

Another trophy came to Montevallo Friday night when the local boys put it on Calera 53-23. On Thursday Vincent defeated Columbiana 36-27 and Friday night the boys brought home the bacon by trouncing Vincent 35-32. The whole team played well together, and no single one was above the others, but Splawn, Rhodes and Bunn led the scoring for both nights but Pickett and Hammacker were not far behind.

Columbiana won the junior tournament by defeating Vincent 46-18 in the finals.

The Montevallo team drew Cordova in the district meet that will be held at Birmingham Southern College February 22, 23, 24.

Child Killed On Highway Monday

John Wayne Northcutt, age two and a half years, was killed Monday when he fell from the automobile his mother was driving and was struck by a passing truck.

The boy was alone in the back seat of the four-door car. His mother, Mrs. Anna Faye Northcutt, of Jemison, was driving.

Two other women in the car were in the front seat with the mother.

Some five miles south of Calera on Highway 31, Mrs. Northcutt heard a rear door of her car open. She stopped the car when one of her companions said the boy was not back there.

Highway patrolman Champion said a soft drink delivery truck traveling in the opposite direction had hit the child after he had struck the pavement.

Spotlight Carnival To Be March 2

March 2 is the date for the Spotlight Carnival, Montevallo High's annual all-school festival.

Shows will begin at 7:00 p.m. and run on a 25 minute schedule until 9:30 when the big dance begins in the auditorium. The shows to be presented by each class in the high school will include a wide variety of good entertainment such as Gay Nineties Revue, A Big Top Circus, a Gypsy Tea Room and a Snack Bar. The dance committee will announce its plans in the near future.

The festivities will begin Friday afternoon at 1:30 with a big parade led by the M. H. S. Band. The Spotlight Carnival is sponsored by the Student Council and the proceeds are used for a school improvement project.

To lessen the time it takes a liquid to come to the boiling point, refrain from leaving a metal spoon in the liquid. Metal is a good conductor of heat and consequently deflects heat from the liquid.

A Purple-Gold party is held on the Saturday preceding College Night. It is always held in Bibb Graves Hall and there the leaders, cheerleaders and committees are presented. A prize in the form of points counting toward winning, is given to the side having the largest attendance, so students industriously invite all their friends.

COTTON GINNING REPORT

Census report shows that 3092 bales of cotton were ginned in Shelby County from the crop of 1950, prior to January 16, as compared with 4410 bales for the crop of 1949.

Fowler Accepts State Position

Raymond D. Fowler, Business Manager and Treasurer has accepted the position of Secretary-Treasurer for the State Employees Retirement Board and the Teachers Retirement Board. He will assume the position on July 1, 1951.

Mr. Fowler will be secretary-treasurer for both of the boards. His duties will consist of the investment, accounting and collection of the funds as well as the payment of pension checks.

In a memorandum to all faculty and staff, Dr. Caldwell said, "The members of those two Boards desired Mr. Fowler's services for the same reasons we have valued him so highly—his high professional competence, his integrity, his cooperativeness and the solid esteem in which he is generally held. You will join me in regretting our loss and in wishing our Business Manager every success and satisfaction in his new position."

Mr. Fowler will be with Alabama College until June 30.

ORATORICAL WINNER

Miss Mary Bradberry, senior in Shelby County High School, was winner of the American Legion's Shelby County oratorical contest held at Columbiana Wednesday.

Miss Bradberry will take part in the contest for the Fifth District to be held in Birmingham March 2.

"I Believe..."

This is "FFA Week"—when 11,848 Alabama members of the Future Farmers of America will observe the organization's 22nd anniversary. They will re-affirm their faith in a creed which states:

"I believe in the future of farming, with a faith born not of words but of deeds . . . in the promise of better days through better ways . . ."

"I believe that to live and work on a good farm is pleasant as well as challenging . . ."

"I believe in leadership from ourselves and respect from others . . ."

"I believe in less dependence on begging and more power in bargaining; in the life abundant and enough honest wealth to help make it so—for others as well as myself . . ."

"I believe that rural America can and will hold true to the best traditions in our national life and that I can exert an influence in my home and community which will stand solid for my part in that inspiring task."

The membership of Future Farmers of America consists of boys and young men 14 to 21 years old who, under able educational leadership, are studying vocational agriculture in approved high schools throughout the Nation.

The foundation upon which Future Farmers of America is built includes leadership and character development, sportsmanship, co-operation, service, thrift, scholarship, improved agriculture, organized recreation, citizenship and patriotism.

We are happy to publish this advertisement in recognition of the fine efforts of the membership of the Future Farmers of America and their leaders and teachers. They, too, are "Helping Develop Alabama."

The Future Farmer Organization

The Future Farmers of America is a national organization of farm boys who are studying vocational agriculture in the rural public high schools and preparing for a career of farming. The organization has approximately 320,000 members in the 48 states, Hawaii and Puerto Rico. There are about 8,000 active local chapters of F. F. A. in rural high schools of the nation. The approximate age level of members is 14 to 21 years.

America and a great portion of the entire world looks next week to honoring the F. F. A. boys in their organized effort to build a greater America and a better agriculture. Thousands of young men throughout the nation are engaged in various programs of farming and are enrolled in classes of vocational agriculture where they participate in organized instruction giving them the latest and best information available. Through these efforts boys are reaching a high degree of efficiency in production and leadership among the young farmers of today. Constantly being challenged for the best degree of participation and making contributions through various services and programs, Alabama has over 10,000 active members.

Montevallo has enrolled over 100 in F. F. A. membership during the last two years. Members of the F. F. A. are constantly striving to identify problems and to select from these problems those needing immediate attention. Making some approach to solve these problems is a part of the work of the F. F. A. Already we can see in our community some of the trends for increased production of eggs, milk, meat, and other food products. It is only through the combined efforts of many people, many institutions, many resource people, and cooperative effort that F. F. A. continues to gain momentum.

Montevallo F. F. A. members appreciate very much the wonderful support and cooperation from so many people in so many ways during the last two years.

A PROCLAMATION By the GOVERNOR

WHEREAS, the future progress and prosperity of Alabama is dependent to a great degree upon the skills and efforts of those citizens who operate the many farms of the state; and

WHEREAS, the Future Farmers of America organization is composed of boys who are studying vocational agriculture in public secondary schools as preparation for careers in farming; and

WHEREAS, the major purposes of the Future Farmers of America organization are to develop leadership, encourage cooperation, promote good citizenship, teach sound methods of farming, and inspire patriotism among the members; and

WHEREAS, Alabama now has 253 active chapters of the organization, with more than 12,000 presently active members and more than 100,000 associate members; and

WHEREAS, the members of the Future Farmers of America perform valuable community services and provide important leadership in developing our agricultural economy and in building a better state;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Gordon Persons, Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby proclaim the week beginning February 17, as Alabama Future Farmer Week, and urge all citizens to take notice of the many contributions of the Future Farmers to our State and to encourage in every possible way the further growth of this splendid organization for our farm youth.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of Alabama to be affixed at the State Capitol in Montgomery, this, 18th day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fifty-one, and of the State the one hundred thirty-first.

Attest:
AGNES BAGGETT,
Secretary of State

GORDON PERSONS,

THE F. F. A. CREED

I believe in the future of farming, with a faith born, not of words but of deeds—achievements won by the present and past generations of farmers; in the promise of better days through better ways, even as the better things we now enjoy have come up to us from the struggles of former years.

I believe that to live and work on a good farm is pleasant as well as challenging; for I know the joys and discomforts of farm life and hold an inborn fondness for those associations which, even in hours of discouragement, I can not deny.

I believe in leadership from ourselves and respect from others. I believe in my own ability to work efficiently and think clearly, with such knowledge and skill as I can secure, and in the ability of organized farmers to serve our own and the public interest in marketing the product of our toil. I believe we can safeguard those rights against practices and policies that are unfair.

I believe in less dependence on begging and more power in bargaining; in the life abundant and enough honest wealth to help make it so—for others as well as myself; in less need for charity and more of it when needed; in being happy myself and playing square with those whose happiness depends upon me.

I believe that rural America can and will hold true to the best traditions in our national life and that I can exert an influence in my home and community which will stand solid for my part in that inspiring task.

WHY NATIONAL F.F.A. WEEK?

The Bureau of Agricultural Economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture, has estimated that 130,000 NEW farmers are needed each year to maintain the present high level of agricultural production in the United States. A large percentage of the persons who enter the farming business have not had the technical training in agriculture that they should have to become successful farmers. It is the successful, well-established farmer who contributes most to our agricultural production and who takes proper steps to conserve and improve the soil so that generations following him will have a foundation for continuing the production that is an essential factor in maintaining the present American standard of living and raising the standard to even higher levels.

Vocational agricultural education in the nation's rural high schools and the Future Farmers of America organization are contributing substantially to the education of farm boys in the skills that will enable them to become successfully established in farming, and provides participating experiences to help develop to the fullest extent the boys' abilities in rural leadership and American citizenship.

It is fitting and essential that recognition should be given to these young farmers as they prepare for a future in their chosen occupation of farming. Encouragement in their work at this point in their training will do much to stimulate them to harder study and greater achievement.

National F. F. A. Week is scheduled to focus attention on the work of this group of Future Farmers of today who will be the successful farmers of tomorrow.

Bowdon Motor Co. New Service Plan For Dodge Plymouth

Dodge-Plymouth dealers have adopted a broadened policy of servicing newly purchased 1951 Dodge and Plymouth cars, it is announced by Bowdon Motor and Implement Company.

The purchase of a 1951 Dodge or Plymouth may now take his car to any Dodge-Plymouth dealer more than 50 miles from the selling dealer for recommended 1,000-mile and 3,000-mile free inspections. This applies equally in the United States, Canada and Alaska. The policy enables the purchaser to take a trip away from his home city immediately without sacrificing the right to free service provided by his Owners Service Certificate.

"The new policy permits the owner to get full enjoyment and use of his car at all times and at all places", Mr. Bowdon said. "He and his family can go where they please and get all the courteous efficient service, including the free service, that he would get from the dealer who sold him the car."

The new service policy is liberalized in two other respects. Previously, the owner of a new Plymouth was entitled to one free check-up at 1,500 miles. Now, he is entitled to two—at 1,000 miles and 3,000 miles. In the case of Dodge, the second inspection now comes at 3,000 miles instead of 2,000 miles, as previously. Dodge dealers say the running-up of the additional mileage enables their mechanics to give the car a more effective inspection.

30-Bushel Yield Is Corn Goal, 1951

Making 30 bushels of corn or more per acre in 1951 should be the goal of Shelby County corn growers, believes County Agent, A. A. Lauderdale.

He agrees that it sounds like a big order, but Alabama farmers averaged 22.5 bushels in 1950. So, just add 7.5 bushels to the 1950 yield to reach the 30-bushel goal.

"The 30-bushel corn goal can be reached by using good hybrids, fertilizing well, and spacing corn according to amount of fertilizer used," said the agent. "Our national defense program makes it more important than ever that farmers make good corn yields."

Therefore, Shelby County farmers are urged to make every effort to average 30 bushels or more of corn per acre in 1951.

Helena 4-H Club Continues Clean-Up

The Helena Girls Elementary 4-H Club will continue the clean-up campaign in their school.

Eleanor Powers, president of the club presided at the last meeting, Freddie Jean Bishop conducted the devotional, and Ethaleen Mathis, secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting and called the roll.

It was decided that the club continue the clean-up project.

Miss Gwendolyn Anderson showed an electric lamp made from a medicine jug. Several members are planning to make these lamps. Peggy Fulmer reported that she is making a lamp with a base of sheet tin.

Miss Anderson reported that the 4-H rally will be held Friday, April 13 at Montevallo. Adult leaders banquet will be held at Vincent March 6. A girl was appointed to collect dues from each room.

A model skirt and apron were shown. First year 4-H members will make aprons, the others will make skirts. The club revue will be held in March. The club 4-H queen will be selected by a score card which includes her merits as a 4-H member and her activity in her church community.

The song leader led the group in singing, "Down by the Station." A program, "Curtains for the Home," was given by Doris McNabb, Martha Lowery, and Betty Street.

Miss Anderson gave instruction on "How to Make Curtains." The Alabama 4-H News and other bulletins were distributed.

Officers of the Helena Jr. 4-H club are: President, Eleanor Powers; Vice president, Shirley Bearden; Secretary, Ethaleen Mathis; Song Leaders, Lou Lovelady and Mary Evelyn Jones; Reporter, Doris McNabb. Mrs. Howard Milner is teacher-sponsor. — Doris McNabb, Elementary Reporter.

LIBERTY NATIONAL IS GROWING!

• The words "Liberty National is Growing" graphically depict a story of outstanding progress during the year 1950. These words appear on the sign adjacent to our building in Birmingham where a ten-story addition is now being made to the present ten-story Home Office Building.

• The total space in the Home Office Building is being tripled which is made necessary by the fact that the loyal and energetic efforts of our more than 1,000 field representatives have gained the respect and admiration of the holders of more than 2,400,000 policies now outstanding.

• The Company operates in eight states and has policyholders residing in every state of the nation. The increase in insurance in force and assets during 1950 established new all-time high records. For this record, we are extremely grateful to those whom we have the privilege of serving.

Parents Think Students Should Do More Work On Basic Fundamentals

In an effort to determine ways to improve the overall school program at Montevallo Laboratory Schools, a faculty committee recently made a survey of student and parent opinions on the present school practices.

Students were asked to complete the following questionnaire:

1. What do you consider the most valuable experience you have had in this school?
2. From your own point of view, what are the main weaknesses in our school program?
3. List ways in which the school can be of more effective service.

Wide and varied were the answers given. A few generalizations have been drawn from the answers occurring most frequently.

Students overwhelmingly listed activities in which they take an active part as the experiences which have been most valuable to them. Organized sports led the list with membership in the band, clubs and other organizations second. Several students listed taking parts in assembly programs as a valuable asset. Academic subjects such as mathematics, science, English and others were mentioned as valuable experience also.

Too much noise in the halls and poor study habits were the weaknesses listed most frequently by students.

Dark and dreary halls was given by a number of students as the chief weakness.

In response to question 3 the students offered suggestions for remedying the weaknesses. Plans for making the building cleaner and more attractive received top billing. Suggestions for quiet and orderly halls was second on the list.

Parents were asked to answer three questions also:

1. What do you consider the strongest points in our school program?
2. What do you consider the principal weaknesses?
3. List suggestions which you feel would improve the effectiveness of the program.

Parents listed democratic procedure which makes for cooperation between teachers and students as well as develops citizenship as the strongest point of the present program.

School activities and curriculum rated as high points also.

The outstanding weakness pointed out by parents was that the school allows the students to get by with too little work comparable to each student's ability.

Logically their suggestions for improvement mentioned most frequently were for the correction of number 2. Parents feel the school should require students to do more work and a higher quality of work, especially on the basic fundamentals.

Organizing a parent-teacher group and improving the cafeteria situation are other points which were often listed as areas of greatest need.

The Montevallo faculty is at work on plans to improve and enrich the school program in accordance with the findings of the survey.

Local Interest In Bessemer Road

The movement to secure the building of a state highway from Montevallo to Bessemer received a shot in the arm Monday night when a meeting of interested parties was held here.

A delegation of the Bessemer Chamber of Commerce members came down and met with a Montevallo Chamber of Commerce members for discussion and planning in the interest of the road.

Mr. Tom Nash and Mr. Fred McClendon, members of the County Board of Revenue of Shelby County were present along with Mr. Dee Kendrick, president of the Jefferson County Board of Revenue.

A full-scale effort is planned on the part of citizens of this area to put the question of this road before the highway authorities of the state and seek to secure state and federal approval for the construction of the road.

Dudley Pendleton Is Best Speaker

Dudley Pendleton, representing the Montevallo Chapter, won the Shelby County F.F.A. Speaking Contest here February 23, with his speech on soil conservation.

Nick Smith of Columbiana took second place. Representatives from Vincent and Siluria Chapters also participated in the County event.

The next step for Dudley will be the State Speaking Contest to be held at Auburn in June.

A quartet from the Columbiana Chapter took top place in the music contest. This quartet will also enter state competition in June.

Judges for these contests were Miss Vinnie Lee Walker, Miss Susie DeMent and Mr. Bill Lewis, all of Montevallo High School.

Governor Names Shelby Jury Board

Montgomery, Ala.—Gov. Gordon Persons has designated the following jury commissioners for Shelby County, after consulting with the legislative delegation from the county: R. E. Bowdon, Sr., Calera; Jack B. Story, Wilsonville; Reggie Lawley, Marvel, Rt. 1.

The terms are effective until their successors are appointed and qualified after Governor Persons leaves office in January, 1955.

Mrs. G. T. Elliott returned on Wednesday from Seattle, Wash., where she has been for the past few months with Laura and the White boys. She says Laura and the boys will likely go to Japan in a short while to be with Major White.

Mitchell Young Elected Chief Of Fire Fighters

The Montevallo Volunteer Fire Department held a meeting Monday night at the Town Hall.

Mitchell Young was elected fire chief to succeed Clarence Chism, who resigned because of going to Camp Rucker to work as a barber.

The fireman passed a resolution expressing their thanks to Mr. Chism for the good job he has done as their chief.

In the course of the meeting the firemen had some practice drill and discussed several important matters calculated to sharpen up their efficiency as a fire fighting team.

Reduced to points, the firemen placed emphasis on a few things in which the public can materially help:

1. Anyone who may want to join the fire department is invited to see Chief Young or his assistants.
2. If you are not on the fire department, please keep out of the way of the firemen when they are on duty.
3. Don't crowd in and follow close behind the fire truck on the way to a fire. Leave plenty of room for the firemen and equipment.
4. In case a bad fire gets out of control of the firemen and you wish to help momentarily, ask the chief or his assistants what you best may do to help.
5. The efficiency of the fire department has an important bearing on our fire insurance rates and protection of our property.

Brewer Carpenter, Bill Weaver, Cooper Shaw, truck; Herman Stone, M. C. Jeter, Sam Klotzman, plug; Pat Wyatt, Bill Pendleton, Harvey Rochester, Earl McGaughey, hose; M. C. Lovelady, Donald Lovelady, ladder; S. M. Mahan, secretary and treasurer; Harry Kendrick, chief of police; Joe Clark to follow truck; Clyde Winslett, Raymond Lovelady, Hobart Love, Buddy Allen, hose; Paul Lee, ladder; Jimmie Wyatt, Otis Bean, utility.

Funeral Services For Mr. Will A. Reid

Funeral services for Mr. Will A. Reid were held Thursday at Montevallo Baptist Church, conducted by the pastor, Rev. Edward Glover. Burial was in the Montevallo Cemetery with Jeter directing.

Pallbearers were A. A. Abbott, Wade Abbott, Earl Peterson, Arthur Crim, Alfred Garrett, and Ernest Reid.

Besides his widow he is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Lucile Marker, Robertsdale; Mrs. Ruth Lovelady, Montevallo; and Mrs. Frances Reid Gardner, Montevallo; one son, John A. Reid of Wetumpka.

Mr. Reid was 64 years of age; a native of Bibb County. He lived in Montevallo for the past thirty-five years. Until he was overtaken by ill health a few years ago he was engaged in the building and contracting business.

Baseball Prospects At High School

Prospects at Montevallo High School for a successful baseball season are fair, according to Coach Fisher. He predicts, however that we will not see the degree of success as our Bulldogs had last year when they won the county, district and North Alabama championship, plus being in the final of the state meet.

Gone are such stalwarts as Galloway, Stone, Baker, Allen, Cox, and Lawley; but we have a fine group of promising players. Boys who will don our baseball colors include Rhodes and Sanderson, pitchers; Smitherman, Bass and Genry, catchers; Litton, first base; Allen, Bunn and Winslett, second base; White, short stop; Splawn, Bice and Harris, third base; Lovelady, Crowe, Hammacker, Milstead and Pickett, outfield.

Coach Fisher has already set up a daily practice schedule that will put the boys through the mill and get them ready to start the fire-works in a few weeks.

Capt. Walter Adkins Wins Bronze Star In Korean Fighting

WITH THE THIRD INFANTRY DIVISION IN KOREA—Capt. Walter R. Adkins, son of Mr. W. R. Adkins, Montevallo, has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal with "V" Device for heroic achievement against an armed enemy in Korea, it has been announced by 3rd Division Headquarters.

Captain Adkins is commander of Company M, 15th Inf. Regt. Combat Team.

The citation for the award read:

"On 18 December 1950, near Hungnam, Korea, Captain Adkins' company was supporting another rifle company, which was attacked and overrun by numerically superior enemy forces. Captain Adkins immediately and with no thought of his personal safety proceeded through heavy enemy fire to the front line position. There, continually exposing himself to enemy observation and fire, he personally assisted in reorganization of the company. He then very skillfully directed effective fire of the supporting weapons on the enemy, inflicting many casualties thereon and forcing them to withdraw. His unhesitating actions, leadership, and heroism reflect great credit upon himself and the military service."

Spotlight Carnival Friday Night At High School

Spotlight Carnival, set for Friday night, takes top billing at Montevallo High School this week.

The bill of fare for the annual Spotlight Carnival, M.H.S.'s biggest day of revelry, includes a parade downtown, side shows, class stunts, food booths, a dance, and coronation of a Carnival Queen.

The M.H.S. band will lead the colorful parade downtown. Barkers, costumed characters, and posters will publicize class stunts.

Classrooms will become amateur Broadway theatres at 7:00 p.m., when the curtain goes up on six stupendous shows.

When the shows stop at 9:30 the crowd will move to the auditorium for the Carnival dance. Making its debut, the M.H.S. '51 Swing Band, under the direction of V. T. Young will feature Joy Holcombe, vocalist. Guest vocalists are Eleanor Mitchell, Anita Bradley, Sue Moody, and Faye Robinson.

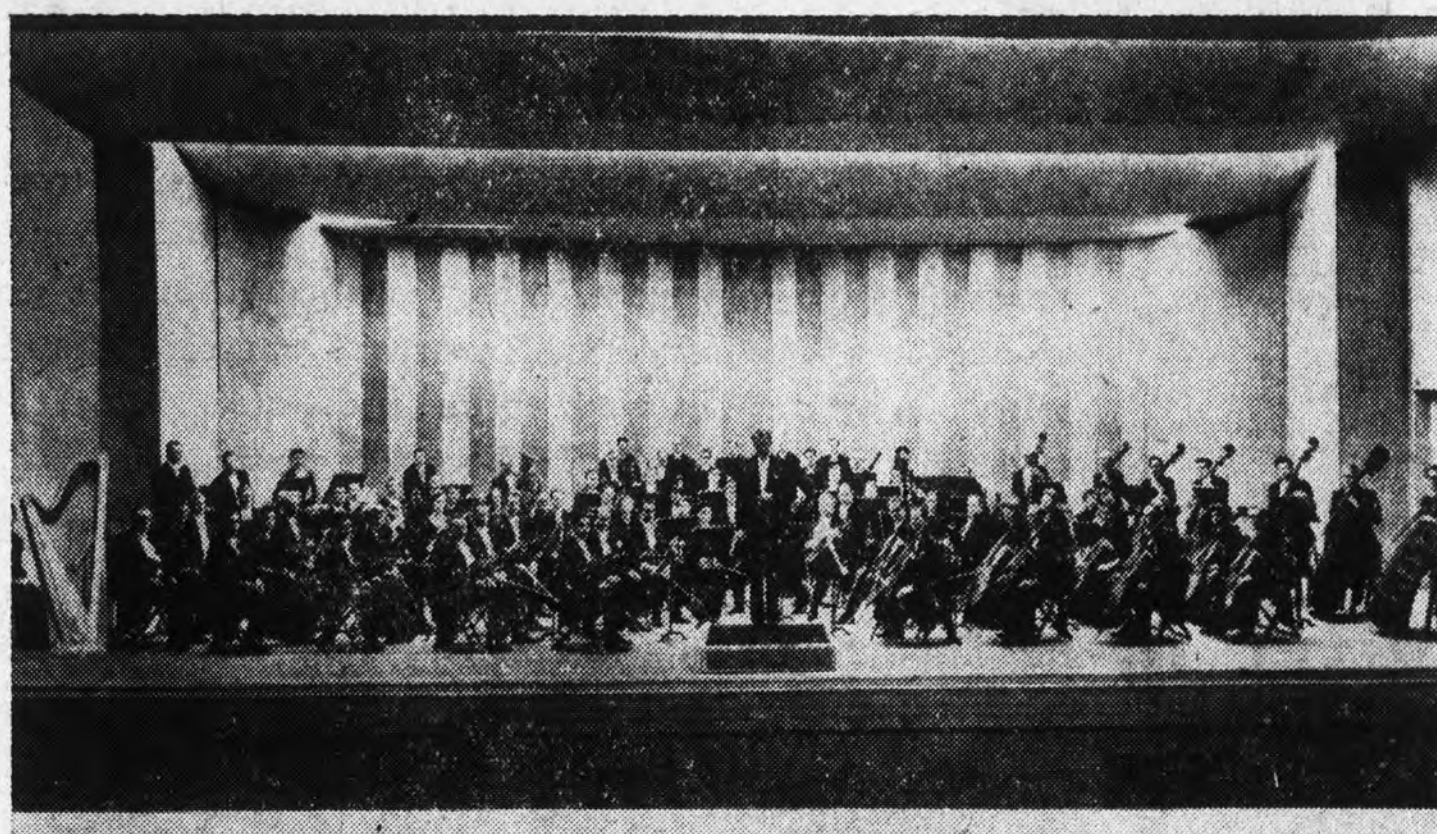

The climax of the evening's dance will come with the crowning of a Carnival Queen. The name of the queen, who was elected by the student body in a general election Thursday will be kept a secret until the moment of Coronation. Carol Byrd, Ruth Lee, and Shirley Lucas aspire to the throne.

Emily Vest, M.H.S. Junior is chairman of the over-all committee for this all-school activity, sponsored by the Student Council.

ON THE FARMS OF SHELBY COUNTY

B. F. Hatchett and G. C. Starcher

Mr. A. L. Harrell, District Conservationist, visited several Montevallo area farms February 21, to observe progress of Conservation measures.

On the farm of W. C. Martin, the extensive meadow system established last summer was found to have handled the winter rains with little erosion. These meadows are ready for terrace water now. Mr. Martin has bought heavy tractor equipment, including detachable bulldozer blade, to build the terraces.

Mrs. Luda Gresky, who is salvaging a nearly washed away farm, has lost very little soil this first winter. A dense stand of sericea is on the ground and a light clover stand is left after our severe freezes, to re-seed the area.

On the Lawler farm, Mr. Harrell observed Ky. 31 fescue recovering from the severe winter.

Joe Brady was in better spirits over his program, after the conservation service official pointed out that he had a sufficient stand of fescue, and also caley peas on sericea. Mr. Brady will over-seed his fescue with one pound ladino clover per acre, as most of the earlier planted clover was killed.

Mr. Brady's farm plan is being revised, necessary when a farmer alters his type of farming. Mr. Brady plans no row crops in his new program.

Friends of Mr. Hatchett, who have missed him of late may soon see him again. Late word from Jefferson Hospital is that Mrs. Hatchett, seriously ill there for some time, is apparently recovering.

At 25 fixed locations, and on approximately 175 trouble cars and trucks, Alabama Power Company has sending and receiving radio equipment. Five more "fixed" and 76 more mobile units to be installed this year will give complete radio-telephone coverage over our entire service area. Installed at a cost of many thousands of dollars, this coverage makes possible quicker response and better service to trouble calls.

Two-way radio-telephone communication between central dispatching points and moving service vehicles is but another example of operating practices followed to maintain and improve an already high quality of electric service.

Starfish, Acrobat

Putting your foot in your mouth is no trick compared to an everyday accomplishment of the starfish. This little sea creature can put his stomach in his mouth—and pull it on through. This happens every time the starfish wants to eat. The stomach wraps itself around the food selected, digests it, then is drawn back through the animal's mouth to wait for another meal.

First Fifty Members Of American Legion

Who belongs to the American Legion?—They are folks from all walks of life—The President of the United States and the president of the village council; justices of the U. S. Supreme Court and Justices of the peace; members of the President's cabinet and rural mail carriers; governors of states and mayors of cities; the butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker; the teacher, the doctor; the white collar worker and the laboring man; the ex-general and the ex-buck private. That's what makes the American Legion a truly cross-roads organization, a balance wheel in the everyday life of America.

The following were the first fifty to join the American Legion Post of Montevallo for 1951: Don Lovelady, Wesley Lovelady, Mitchell Young, Fred Frost, Jr., Harold Anthony, R. A. Houston, W. A. Weaver, Claude E. Moore, R. L. Wooley, Harry J. Harrison, H. G. Kendrick, Raymond Bearden, Frank Morgan, Grady Parker, William H. Hall, Charles Gray, Charles Nichols, Paul Lee, Earnest Wallace, W. A. Woolley, Joseph Simpson, Jr., Syd M. Norris, V. E. Williams, F. H. Frost, Sr., J. H. Rochester, K. G. Wooley, P. D. Pendleton, Earl McGaughy, Ellis Hoffman, W. R. Rotenberry, Sam Klotzman, Cooper Shaw, Charles Bailey, John T. Caldwell, George Nix, H. E. Winslett, W. T. Fullman, J. M. Allen, Morris Watson, L. Cecil Dennis, Victor Scott, W. E. Lovelady, Jr., Joe O. Clark, T. E. McCulley, W. O. Bell, Jr., J. F. Miller, P. N. Lee, W. W. Hall, Hobert Vernon, W. F. Fitchman.

4-H Club Banquet To Be At Vincent

Teacher sponsors and adult leaders of 4-H clubs will be fêted at a banquet Tuesday evening, March 6, at Vincent.

Mr. Hanchey E. Logue, state 4-H leader, will be guest speaker. Mr. D. B. Smith will be master of ceremonies.

Others taking part on the program are Rev. R. R. Riggins, Mary Bell, Mr. Jimmy Sharbutt, Gloria McRae, Martha Rose Askins, Mr. J. B. Blatzer, Mrs. Herbert Poole, Miss Mary Mims, Emogene Argo, Ashley Jeter, Ruth Naish, Jack Armstrong, Patsy Eden, Mr. Braxton Baker, Myra Vick, Margaret Moore, Joe Mooney, Jene Quick, and Mr. Roy Downs.

Clothing Leaders

Clothing leaders from 27 Home Demonstration Clubs will attend a leadership school on "Selection of Patterns and Designs" Thursday. Miss Levice Ellis, extension clothing specialist, will conduct the school in the old courthouse auditorium in Columbiana at 9:30 a.m. These leaders will conduct this demonstration in their clubs in March and April.

Preparing Meals By Mrs. Sapp

On Wednesday, Mrs. Sara Sapp, a representative from the Alabama Power Company in Birmingham, began a series of demonstrations which are to be held in the Montevallo High School Home Economics Department. Thirty-two ladies were present for the demonstrations on meal preparations and efficient use of the electric stove.

Mrs. Sapp included in her demonstrations the various ways meals could be prepared to save time, energy, and electricity for the homemaker. Efficient use of the stove was shown in the three complete meals which were cooked in the skillet, deep well cooker and oven.

The demonstrations were concluded with the serving of the delicious foods to the ladies who were present.

Other demonstrations have been arranged and will be given at later dates. Demonstrations to be given are: slip cover making, refinishing furniture, simple repairs of electrical appliances, lighting in the home, the making of lamps, use of machine attachments, and short cuts in sewing.

Homemakers who are interested in any of the above demonstrations should contact Miss Myrtle Old in the high school home economics department.

Dresser Lamp Made By Luayne Revis

"An attractive shaped bottle is a good base for my dresser lamp" remarked Luayne Revis, Wilsonville 4-H'er. Since the clear glass bottle was big at the bottom and had a small, slender neck, Luayne filled it with colored marbles and used a white shade.

When asked how much the lamp cost Luayne stated that after buying a shade, bulb, harp, socket, wire, and plug, it cost $2.50. She feels that it is very profitable to make your own table lamps.

Luayne is 10 years old. Mrs. Hamilton Coper is teacher and sponsor for the Wilsonville 4-H Club.

Along with making lamps, Luayne is working on foods and child care projects. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Revis, of Wilsonville.

Training Course At Siluria Bap. Church

A Church-wide special Training Course sponsored by the Training Union of the Siluria Baptist Church will start next Sunday, March 4, at 6 p.m. The school will continue through Thursday night following. The weekend classes will start at 7 p.m.

The schedule is under the direction of Mrs. Homer Brandenburg, the Director, and will include: Study, Fellowship, Refreshments, and fun.

The faculty and courses offered are as follows:

Rev. Edward Glover, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Montevallo, will teach adults, "Every Christian's Job".

Miss Pitts Hughes, Baptist Student Secretary, Alabama College, Montevallo, will teach Young People and Intermediates, "Intermediate Fishers".

A member of the B.S.U. at Alabama College, Montevallo will teach the Junior Class.

Pastor Joe Bancroft says: "We have the finest faculty available and we have the best courses, so we are expecting the very best results. We believe there will be a record breaking attendance and the best school Siluria Baptist Church has ever experienced."

Alabama quail hunters are having the best season in several years, reports reaching the Department of Conservation reveal. February 20 will mark the end of the present hunting season which opened Thanksgiving Day.

4-H Club Officers Visit Birmingham

Sixty-seven county 4-H council presidents and the state officers of the Chamber of Commerce on March 8 and 9. Mary Bell will represent Shelby County's 4-Hers.

The 4-Hers will enjoy a tour of the city and a special show at the Alabama Theatre, according to Hanchey Logue, A. P. I. Extension Service 4-H club leader.

Charlie Brannon, 4-Her from St. Clair County, will entertain the group with some of the songs he sings. Mary Ann Goggans, Alabama's famous yodler, from Hackleburg, is on the program, and Lucile Guyton, York, will give a reading entitled "The Midnight Ride of Paul Revere."

Also, Doris Elkins, state song leader, from Lawrence County, will sing a solo, and Hoyt Haskins of DeKalb County will imitate everything from a duck to a donkey.

Walton Twins Are Ready For Revue

"We are ready to enter the apron review," said the Walton twins. At the meeting of the Columbiana Elementary 4-H club last Thursday, Mary and Martha Walton modeled aprons which they had made from printed feed sacks. These are the first garments they have made. They show signs of developing into very talented seamstresses. These girls plan to make potholders and hem dish towels, since this is one of their 4-H sewing project requirements.

Mary and Martha are the daughters of the G. W. Waltons. They are 9 years old and in the fourth grade. They are members of the Columbiana Elementary 4-H club. Mrs. J. E. Franks is the teacher-sponsor.

4-H Club Week Is March 3 to 11

Shelby County 4-H clubs will observe National 4-H Week March 3 to 11.

Seven adult leaders and 10 4-H presidents made plans for 4-H week and other activities when they met Saturday.

4-H Sunday will be observed in the churches of the county March 4 or 11. The theme is: "Working Together for World Understanding."

Lamps made by 4-Hers will be displayed at the March meeting and the best one from each club will be entered in the county contest April 13.

Apron, skirt and dress revues will be held in the clubs during March. The county contest will be held Friday, March 30.

Rev. Dan Whitsett, pastor of the Sylacauga Methodist Church, will be guest speaker at the 4-H rally April 13 at Alabama College in Montevallo. Shelby's 4-H queen in the elementary, junior and senior 4-H clubs will be selected. A big treasure hunt will climax the day's activities.

Shelby County 4-Hers will join Talladega and Cleburne counties at Camp Mack in July. Each boy and girl interested in this camp should send a deposit of $5.00 by May 20.

Mary Bell presided at this meeting. The following leaders and presidents attended: Mrs. A. C. Adams, Chelsea junior; Mrs. Louise Milner, Helena elementary; Mrs. Nannie Durden, Mrs. Gertrude Cobb, Camp Branch; Mrs. G. C. Moore, Jr., Columbiana; and Mrs. A. D. Glover, Mt. Era; Mrs. P. A. Garrett, West Calera; Margaret Moore, Myra Vick, Joe Mooney, Gene Quick, Frank Ellis, Columbiana; Ann Garrett, Wilbur Moore, Camp Branch; Katie Lou Holcombe, Mary Bell, Vincent; and Ruth Naish, Siluria.

Miss Mahaffey Wins F. H. A. Honors

Mary Charles Mahaffey, M.H.S. sophomore, was elected Miss F.H.A. of Shelby County at the County eliminations here February 22.

She will compete for the State title at the F.H.A. conference to be held at Alabama College in June.

Second place went to Barbara Ellis from Thompson High School, Siluria. Contestants from Shelby County High and Vincent High also took part in the County eliminations.

Judges for the event were Miss Sara Puryear, Mr. Lowell Hamilton, and Mr. Quinn Tyler, all of Alabama College.

WHEN STRENGTH IS PRICELESS

$5,600,000 ice damage yielding to 9-state
Telephone Teamwork

Wide areas of the South have learned first-hand what it means to have a strong Telephone Company when disaster strikes.

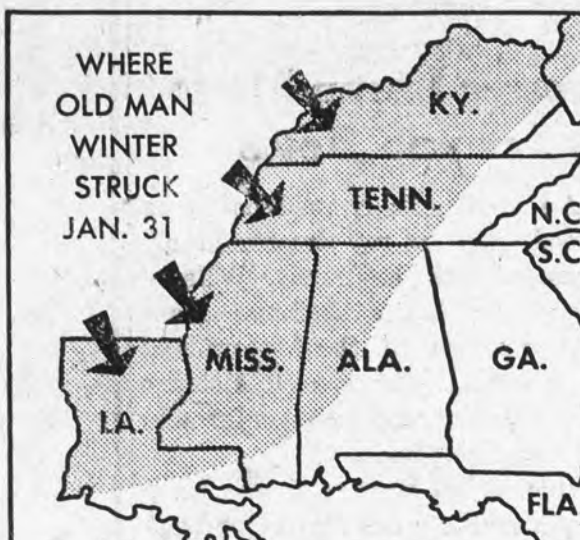

The recent ice storm dealt a giant blow to portions of five Southern states. For telephone facilities, it was the worst ice storm in history. Telephone poles and wires snapped under the weight of tons of glittering ice. Eighty-seven thousand telephones and 3,174 Long Distance circuits were knocked out, and 181 communities isolated.

While ice still sparkled on the magnolias, the Telephone team swung into action. From all nine Southern Bell states, repair crews, cable, wire and poles were swiftly assembled. By rail, truck and plane they came, as skilled Telephone repairmen worked around the clock.

That's the kind of resources and teamwork it takes when nature goes on the rampage. It cuts weeks off the time it takes to restore service. And that's mighty important as the Nation mobilizes for Defense.

It's good to know that whenever such disaster comes your way, an abundance of help—from other states if needed—won't be far behind. It's good, too, that regardless of where a Bell Telephone man comes from, the tools, the materials and methods he'll work with are the same as those he uses back home.

SOUTHERN BELL TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH COMPANY

1700 Extra Men and Trainloads of Material

More than 1700 extra men from outside the affected areas were rushed in to help repair the damage. They took 225 trucks and other vehicles. Materials rushed in from Western Electric supply centers included 14,500 poles, 17,400 cross-arms and 48,700 miles of wire.

Fisher Outlines Program For Summer Recreation

Coach Fisher has submitted to us for publication the following tentative outline for activities on the summer recreation program of Montevallo:

Monday: 8:30 to 12 — Baseball league for boys up to 14 years of age; tennis for boys and girls; horseshoes and ping-pong, checkers, badminton or volley ball; and other games.

2:00 to 5:00 p.m.—Swimming at the creek; ping-pong, volley ball, horseshoes, water games and water contests at the creek. (Hope to have a place to lock up valuables.)

7:00 p.m.—Men's softball on the athletic field at high school.

Tuesday: Same as Monday without men's softball.

Wednesday: Same as Tuesday.

Thursday: Same as Tuesday, plus play night at high school. Tennis, dancing, shuffleboard, ping-pong, skating (if possible) and other contests.

Friday: Same as Tuesday.

Saturday: Morning swimming at the creek.

Extras

1. Dramatics, one play during summer (Dr. Trumbauer directing, if possible).

2. Short fishing trip every three weeks.

3. Baseball and other contests with neighborhood recreation programs.

4. One pet show during summer.

5. Tennis tournament for junior boys (June); senior boys or men (June); and tennis tournament for girls (June).

6. Bridge for men and women at least once a month.

7. One checker tournament for men, plus a domino tournament.

8. One trip to see Birmingham Barons play—for boys in baseball league.

9. One community picnic.

10. One big play-night with a girls softball game, track meet for all ages, at high school athletic field.

Coach Fisher would like to have suggestions from anyone regarding the above tentative arrangement for summer activities.

On The Farms Of Shelby County

All students of the vocational agriculture classes received some special pointers on conservation farming and on forestry last week. Starcher of the soil conservation service and Stuckey of the forestry service substituted for several classes for Mr. Thornton.

Allen Oates, Wilton farmer, is planning development of his 585 acre stock farm according to conservation principles. Mr. Oates bought the V. C. Thieling farm, and now has 71 head of cattle in grazing calve peas on bottom land. He plans pastures devoted to Ky. 31 fescue with calve peas and white clover and sericea with reseeded crimson clover.

Lepedeza bicolor planting is continuing in the county. E. E. Wallis and M. B. Bates, Vincent, Elijah Moran and Vernon Jones, Shelby, Howard Hall, Shelby Springs, Coy Stone, Columbiana, are among those planting this food for quail.

Dr. Leah Dennis Died Last Friday

Funeral services were held on March 3 in Birmingham for Dr. Leah Dennis, retired professor of English at Alabama College and member of the faculty for 21 years.

After the 3:30 p.m. service in Birmingham her body was taken to Dubuque, Iowa, for burial. Miss Josephine Eddy accompanied the remains.

Dr. Anne Pannell AAUW Speaker

A former member of Alabama College faculty, Dr. Anne Gary Pannell, president of Sweet Briar College, will be the featured speaker at the state convention of the American Association of University Women at Florence Friday and Saturday of this week.

Dr. Hallie Farmer will lead a discussion of plans for civil defense.

Attending from Montevallo are Miss Mary Compton, president of the local branch of AAUW; Dr. Katherine Vickery, immediate past state president, and at present a member of the national standards and recognition committee; Dr. Hallie Farmer, state chairman for civilian defense for AAUW; Mrs. Maxine Davis Couch, Dr. Lorraine Pierson, Miss Laura Hadley.

Mrs. Charles Rasch (Florence Knotts) alumna of Alabama College, is president of the Florence Branch, AAUW, which is hostess to the state meeting. She is teaching at Florence State Teachers College.

William Gould In Swim Contest

More than 100 schoolboy swimmers will compete in the 14th annual Trinity College preparatory school swimming championships at Trowbridge Pool, Hartford, Conn. Saturday.

Listed among the contestants is William Gould (breast stroke), a student at Mt. Hermon School. William is from Montevallo, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Stanley Gould, of the Alabama College faculty.

Dean's List Of Honor Students

The Dean's list of honor students for the first semester at Alabama College includes 181 girls. Four of these had an all-A average. They are: Patricia Alexander, Birmingham; Peggy Sue Gross of Scottsboro; Lois Oliver, Montgomery; and Madeline Paepke of Tuscaloosa.

Shelby County girls listed on the honor roll are: Dorothy Ann Baumgartner, Montevallo; Fannie Mae Carden, Calera; Barbara Ann Edwards, Wilsonville; Mary Willie Garrett, Vincent; Margaret Ann Hendrick, Montevallo; Caroline Hurt, Montevallo; Edith Mae Kendrick, Maylene; Mrs. Ruby W. Lyon, Columbiana; Barbara T. Williamson, Montevallo; Nita Williamson, Montevallo; Bibbie Gene Wilson, Montevallo.

Southern Bell Reports Expansion

So extensively did the Southern Bell Telephone Company carry forward its improvement and expansion program in 1950 that expenditure of $128,200,000 on new facilities increased the five-year postwar total of new construction to $624,500,000.

The amount is more than twice Southern Bell's entire investment in all facilities at the end of 1940 after 61 years of the company's existence.

Mr. S. C. Stutts, Bessemer group manager for Southern Bell, called attention to these and other interesting facts about the telephone organization today. They are among the significant information contained in the Southern Bell's annual report for 1950, which has just been released in Montevallo and other communities served by the company.

Outstanding progress was made in the South's far-flung rural areas where 85,000 telephones are added, a new record for a single year.

Alumnae Honors Staff Members

The Alabama College Alumnae Association will honor Misses Mattie Lee, Georgie Leeper, and Dr. Willena Peck at its annual state luncheon during the A. E. A. convention activities. The luncheon is to be held Friday, March 16 at 12:30 p.m., in the Colonial Room at the Tutwiler Hotel.

Miss Jeanette Esslinger, president of the Jefferson County chapter, will give the invocation. Dr. John T. Caldwell, president of the college, will extend greetings to the group. Miss Elizabeth Souders, national president, will preside. Mr. W. J. Kennerly will be the guest speaker, and will pay tribute for the Association and will present a gift from the Alumnae Association to the three honored guests. The president of the Alumnae Association will present them with a lapel corsage.

Special guests will be Dr. and Mrs. T. H. Napier, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Fowler, Mrs. W. J. Kennerly, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Trumbauer, Miss Eloise Lee, Alumnae Secretary at Alabama College; Mrs. Alvin Bell, national executive board; Miss Ethel Harris, treasurer.

Committees for the luncheon include Miss Eloise Lee, general chairman; Miss Jeanette Esslinger, co-chairman; Mrs. Mary Frances Maddox Woodruff, flowers; Miss Margaret Harrell, Miss Eleanor Cochran, place cards; Miss Angelina Nazaretian, publicity; Mrs. Betty Norwood Potter, registration; Mrs. Nathalie Molton Gibbons, restoration.

All alumnae are invited and urged to attend. Reservations should be made through the Alumnae Secretary or Friday morning at the Tutwiler Hotel in the lobby.

Miss Edythe Saylor Died Tuesday

Miss Edythe Saylor, associate professor of physical education at Alabama College since 1928, died Tuesday in a Birmingham hospital after a short illness.

Funeral services were held here Wednesday. Burial will be in Burlington, Iowa.

A graduate of the University of Iowa, Miss Saylor did graduate work at Wisconsin and taught in Illinois, Kentucky and Georgia before coming to Alabama College.

She wrote many articles on physical education for professional magazines and was the author of a book.

She is survived by an aunt, Miss Julia Bouquet, of Burlington.

Chips off the Old Rock—But It Was Plymouth Rock

PLYMOUTH, Mass.—A chip off a rock cost a Dartmouth college student $25. But the rock was Plymouth Rock, stepping stone of the Pilgrims.

Albert Leclair, Jr., was fined after pleading guilty of "malicious injury."

Judge Amedeo V. Sgarzi lectured young Leclair against damaging "a sacred rock with which the whole country is concerned."

Leclair was arrested when residents complained that a young man on top Plymouth Rock was trying to chip it with another rock.

WHERE TO PAY CALERA AND SILURIA PHONE BILLS

Mr. S. C. Stutts, local manager for Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., announces that telephone bills for subscribers to Calera service may now be paid at the Bird Home & Auto Supply Co., in Calera. He also stated that Siluria subscribers may pay their telephone bills at the Cardwell Furniture Store located in Alabaster.

Col. Peter White Gets War Honors

With the Eighth Army in Korea—Lt. Col. Claude P. White, husband of Mrs. Laura E. White, of Montevallo, has been awarded the second oak leaf cluster to the Bronze Star Medal for meritorious service, and the Air Medal for making flights over the combat zone.

Now serving with the supply division, G-4 section, Eighth United States Army in Korea, Colonel White first came to Korea in July, 1950, after serving a month in Japan.

Colonel White served with the 442nd Regimental Combat Team during World War II and received the Bronze Star Medal with one Oak Leaf Cluster.

He is a graduate of the University of Alabama.

Batting Faults Of Baseball Players

Coach Fisher, of the Montevallo High School, points out some baseball batting faults, as follows:

1. Stepping in the bucket.
2. Trying to kill the ball (striking too hard).
3. Failure to keep eyes on the ball.
4. Taking too long a stride.
5. Bat being too heavy.
6. Batter going after bad balls (or pitches).
7. Hitting with your elbows in your stomach.
8. Bending over too much at the plate.
9. Scared of the pitcher.
10. Lack of confidence in yourself.
11. Swinging your bat while the pitcher is throwing (swishing back and forth).
12. Cross-handed batting (not allowed here).
13. Not practicing enough on your weak spot.
14. Standing too close to the plate or too far from the plate.
15. Striking up at ball or down at ball (should be level, smooth).
16. Keep elbow out of your eyes.
17. Failure to follow through with your swing.
18. Moving your back leg as you swing.
19. Not using enough wrist action.
20. Shoulders not level at the swing.
21. Stay loose at the plate—relax.

In Birmingham's Woodrow Wilson Park is located the zero milestone. From this point the official mileage out of the "iron city" is computed.

A number of new varieties of vegetables have been developed in recent years. Many of these varieties show promise of improvement over old standbys.

The Study Club Elects New Officers

The Montevallo Study Club met Wednesday, February 28, at the home of Mrs. G. P. Rogan, with Mrs. Rogan and Mrs. T. E. Watson as hostesses.

Annual reports were given by the officers and committee chairmen. Election of officers for the coming year was held. The following officers were chosen:

President, Mrs. Leslie Hubbard; vice president, Mrs. Milton Orr, Jr.; secretary, Mrs. James A. Wyatt; treasurer, Mrs. T. E. Watson; parliamentarian, Mrs. L. C. Parnell.

Mrs. John T. Caldwell gave a report on the forum, "Today's Challenge to the Individual," which was held in Birmingham on February 14.

Mrs. Leslie Hubbard reported on civilian defense, defining the civil defense act, and reminding the members of what should be done in this line.

The Study Club will meet again March 28 at the home of Mrs. Frank Morgan.

Mrs. Bryant Is Studiosis Speaker

Mrs. Mary Earle Edison Bryant, who graduated from Alabama College in 1946 will be the guest speaker for Studiosis on Tuesday, March 13, in Reynolds Hall. Mrs. Bryant will speak on the cancer research work of the Southern Research Institute in Birmingham. Mrs. Bryant joined the staff of the Institute in 1947 as an assistant research chemist. Her work is in the fields of organic and biochemistry. She was a chemistry major at Alabama College, and worked one year in the State Department of Health before going to the Southern Research Institute.

Hostesses will be Mrs. R. A. Hendrick, chairman; Miss Margaret Davis, Mrs. Arthur Garrett, Mrs. J. B. Higgins, Mrs. Sam Klotzman, Mrs. C. R. Small, Miss Evelyn Ward.

Amos Hell-Bent And No Stopping

Some years back a man named Amos Mullins was generally conceded to be the "open bottle champion" of Clayton, Alabama.

Though Amos was a heavy drinker, his wife was an ardent teetotaler. Mrs. Mullins tried every method in the book to lead her husband away from her closest competitor—the bottle.

She tried nagging first—but that failed miserably. The more she nagged, the more he drank. Next she hit upon the idea of pleading with her husband, but the corks kept on popping.

In the end she lost all patience, and told Amos to go ahead and drink himself to death—and this wish he granted, but not before she had promised to erect a whiskey bottle tombstone at his grave.

Anyone going into the Clayton Cemetery today can see that Mrs. Mullins was a woman of her word, for standing over her husband's grave is a replica of a bottle which measures several feet in height.

Boys 4-H Clubs Paying Up Dues

So far there are three Boy's 4-H Clubs in the county that have paid up their 4-H Club Dues 100 per cent, that is 10 cents per member, says assistant county agent, G. C. Moore, Jr.

The County 4-H Club Council voted at their December meeting to continue the annual club dues at ten cents per member for the purpose of raising part of the funds needed to finance Rallies, Leader's Banquets and other things.

The first club to pay up 100 per cent was the Mayberry boy's club under the leadership of Mrs. Carrie Daly. Alfred Herren is the club president. Mrs. Elizabeth Ellis, Principal.

Next came Calera Elementary Boy's Club with Mrs. Margie Davis, Leader and Eugene Carter, president, Mr. E. H. Littlejohn is Principal.

Then, Vandiver boy's club paid up 100 per cent under the leadership of Mrs. Pratt Poff and Johnny Howard, President. Mrs. Eleanor Billups is principal.

All other clubs are urged to pay in their dues to their own club secretaries and the club secretaries are to mail or bring the dues in to Jack Armstrong, County 4-H Treasurer, Columbiana, by March 1st.

Syphilis Is Now Under Control

Less than 10 years ago Syphilis was considered one of the major health problems in Shelby County. Approximately 16% of the colored and 1½% of the white population were infected. With its complications affecting the heart and the brain and spinal cord it caused much disability and many deaths. Many innocent babies were born with hereditary Syphilis.

Since the Syphilis control program was inaugurated in 1942 by the Health Department this disease has become almost completely eradicated.

At the present time the Health Department is concentrating on the control of Tuberculosis. There are many active cases of this infection in Shelby County. New cases are being found frequently. During the past week 4 new cases have been sent to the various saniatoria, making a total of twelve patients now in the sanatoria from this county. Hospital expenses for a number of these are being paid by the County Board of Revenue and Control and the County Tuberculosis Association. Otherwise they would not have been able to receive the benefits of sanatorium care.

The Health Department maintains an X-ray clinic for diagnosis and a "refill" clinic for patients who have had a lung collapsed as part of their treatment.

With these facilities and the aid of the above organizations, it is felt that some real progress will be made in the control of Tuberculosis.

When Nasty Colds Leave You WEAK AND RUNDOWN HADACOL CAN HELP

If Your System Lacks Vitamins B<sub>1</sub>, B<sub>2</sub>, Niacin and Iron, Which HADACOL Contains

When a nasty cold leaves you in a weakened and run-down condition, HADACOL can help build you up if your system is lacking in Vitamins B<sub>1</sub>, B<sub>2</sub>, Niacin and Iron, important elements contained in HADACOL. Many folks have found that this fine family formula helps overcome these deficiencies and soon they feel good again.

Mrs. A. Jimenez, 141 East 13th St., Port Arthur, Texas, gave HADACOL to her young son, Floyd, after he had recovered from a bad cold when she heard how HADACOL was helping folks suffering from deficiencies of Vitamins B<sub>1</sub>, B<sub>2</sub>, Niacin and Iron. It helped him so much in regaining his strength and energy that Mrs. Jimenez says she is always going to have HADACOL on hand for Floyd.

Here is Mrs. Jimenez's statement:

"My son Floyd was very subject to colds. He's eleven years old, and he was run-down, didn't seem to have an appetite at all and just simply lacked energy. I heard about HADACOL on the radio, and it was about this time that Floyd was just

Caldwell Speaks At High School

"Valley Forge and Korea" was the title Dr. John T. Caldwell, President of Alabama College, gave to his Washington's birthday address at assembly here February 22. He related the two by showing how present world affairs fit into a pattern of Human History.

Dr. Caldwell stated that we have troops all over the world today for the same reason that Washington organized an army in 1776. He called this reason self-determination which he defined as "the right to govern our own affairs" or "the right to make our own mistakes."

"We think the Koreans should have the right to determine their own destiny," said Dr. Caldwell. He then pointed out that the history of the English speaking world has been that of turning loose their possessions to determine their destinies, while Russia has repeatedly snuffed out this right.

He added that the real essence of the democratic way of life is that "you, as an individual in our kind of society, have the opportunity to determine what you will be."

"Mr. Watson, come here.
I want you."

"Mr. Bell, I heard
every word you
said—distinctly!"

...and the Telephone was born!

On March 10, 1876, in a boarding house in Boston, the telephone carried its first intelligible sentence. Alexander Graham Bell was about to try to send his voice over a new transmitter he had devised. His assistant, Thomas Watson, was in another room, holding a receiver to his ear. Suddenly, Mr. Bell upset the acid of a battery over his clothes. He called out, "Mr. Watson, come here; I want you!" An instant later Watson burst into the room, shouting, "Mr. Bell, I heard every word you said—distinctly!"

IN THE 75 YEARS since then, the Telephone industry has grown up to transform our everyday pattern of living. For millions, the telephone has become an indispensable aid—in business, government, the home, the farm, and in maintaining family and community ties.

These 75 years have brought an amazing parade of advancements in communication—switchboards, cables carrying hundreds of wires on poles or underground, the vacuum tube, the dial system, coaxial cable and microwave radio relay for transmitting hundreds of simultaneous calls or television programs, telephone service to ships and vehicles.

Today America has 62% of the world's telephones and enjoys the most and the best telephone service in the world... another great achievement of American ingenuity under a system of free enterprise and individual incentive and reward.

Each year the telephone becomes more useful, and more essential to the prosperity and security of the nation. Today it unites the country, playing a vital role in mobilization and production for defense.

Here in the South, more than 52,000 skilled employees and nearly 3½ million Southern Bell telephones are on the job—more than twice as many as we had when World War II began. And there are four times as many Long Distance circuits. In all, we have built more than $670 million worth of new facilities in a little over five years, and we're still busy at the job.

All this growth—and maintaining the financial strength to keep on expanding—will be increasingly important to the South and the Nation in the days ahead.—Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Dr. Sloan Warns Of Cancer Danger

Second only to Diseases of the Heart and Circulatory system, Cancer causes more deaths than any other disease.

While cancer may affect any organ or tissue of the body the more common locations are the stomach and intestine, in women the breast and the uterus, and the skin.

Waxy elevations of the skin and colored moles especially, should be removed before any possible malignant change.

Hoarseness which persists longer than a very few weeks should arouse suspicion. Any lumps found in the breasts require immediate examination by a physician. Digestive disturbances may be due to a number of causes, prominent among them is Cancer. Any unnatural discharge should be investigated at once.

A large percentage of cancer can be cured by surgery, X-rays or Radium, if found early. If allowed to progress beyond an early stage, cure is much more difficult.

The best insurance against cancer is to have a physical examination twice each year.

Social Security Offers Much Help

Fifty dollars cash hardly provides any long range security for a family today, but Social Security-wise, half a hundred dollars is an important figure.

In explaining features of the new Social Security Law, Martin C. Folmar, Manager of the local office, pointed out today that $50 earned in a calendar quarter on a covered job gives the earner a quarter of coverage, or a credit toward retirement and death benefits. To qualify for these benefits, it is necessary to have a certain number of these credits or quarters of coverage shown to your account on the Social Security records. "Anyone reaching age 65 before July 1954 is insured if he has six quarters of coverage", Mr. Folmar stated. "The same applies for anyone who dies between September 1, 1950 and July 1, 1954. Other people must have a number of such quarters of credit, varying from 6 to 40, depending on the age of the person involved, or the date of his death."

"Fifty dollars is also the maximum monthly earnings a person may have on a covered job and still receive retirement or survivors benefits. This figure was formerly $14.99. The new law takes into account the higher cost of living and raised the earning limit to $50, so as to make it easier for beneficiaries to supplement their benefit checks with part-time work. All limits were removed for people age 75 or over. They can have any amount of income or earnings without losing their right to receive benefits."

The Birmingham Social Security Office is located at 1825 First Avenue, North, and Mr. Folmar invites those who are eligible for benefits under the new law, or those wishing about it, to get in touch with his office.

DROP IN MILK PRODUCTION

Dairymen have definitely been hurt by the cold wave that destroyed most winter grazing crops throughout the state. To avoid this situation next winter, they should produce a good supply of high-quality hay this summer to feed animals next winter if necessary.

Another Dividend On Vets Insurance

Washington — Payment of a second special dividend totaling $685,000,000 to the holders of 8 million national service life insurance policies has been announced by Carl R. Gray, Jr., Administrator of Veterans Affairs.

Dividends will be calculated through the anniversary date of the policy in 1951 and payment will follow a general schedule over the period of one year. First checks will be ready in April. VA emphasized that no deviation from calculations or advancement in the production line can be made.

Veterans were urged by VA not to write regarding the second dividend, since correspondence will cause removal of the file from the production lines and delay payment.

The payments will cover a 8-year period, from 1948 to 1951. Policies held in force from a total of three months or more during this period will be eligible for dividends. This applies both to term and permanent policies, including those which have lapsed or were terminated by death of the insured person.

The amount of dividend earned by each policy will vary according to the number of months it was in force, the plan of insurance, the face value of the policy and the age of the insured at the time it became effective. Studies on rates still are being made, VA said.

All Screw Worms Killed By Cold

Alabama, livestock should escape screwworm damage in 1951, according to A. A. Lauderdale, County Agent.

He explains that the cold weather has eliminated all screwworms and for the first time in over two years, all parts of the state are free of the pest. Adult screwworm flies will not come out of the pupa in the ground if soil temperature drops to 40 degrees Fahrenheit for a period of several weeks. In most parts of the state, soil temperature has been that low for the past months.

"Most livestock producers know that screwworms can be brought into the state in infested animals and start the trouble all over again," warns Lauderdale. "This fact means that buyers should be positive that animals are free of screwworms before they are brought into the state, especially animals brought in from South Florida."

Latest recommendations on boll weevils and other insects are given in a new circular entitled "Make More Cotton," now available at the county agent's office.

Examples of recommended practices include varieties to grow, kind and amounts of fertilizer to use, best planting dates, kind of insecticides to use to control boll weevils and other insects.

Next Week, March 18 to 25 Is Declared "Bird Week" In Montevallo

PROCLAMATION BY THE MAYOR

Whereas, the Town of Montevallo is, by ordinance of the Town Council, established and declared a bird sanctuary, to prohibit the maiming, killing or injuring of any wild bird within the Town limits; and

Whereas, the Junior I Science Group of the Montevallo High School is interested in securing the cooperation of our citizens in protection and preservation of our birds and the observance of the ordinance providing for same; and

Whereas, the Junior I Science Group desires the community of Montevallo to recognize and suitably dedicate the week of March 18 to 25 as BIRD WEEK in the Town of Montevallo:

Now, therefore, I, W. M. Wyatt, Mayor of Montevallo, do hereby declare the week of March 18 to 25 as BIRD WEEK in the Town of Montevallo, and urge all citizens of the Town to cooperate with the Junior I Science Group of Montevallo High School in their efforts to secure full and effective recognition of the laws and ordinances of the Town providing for the protection of birds.

Attest:

W. M. WYATT, Mayor

R. H. TIBBS, Town Clerk

Bird Week Project Of School Group

The Junior I Science Group of Montevallo High School conducted by Miss Ethel Harris, is carrying on a project in the interest of protection of birds in the Town.

This group makes an appeal to the citizens of the Town for cooperation with them in this project.

By request of the committee of the class composed of Ralph Thrasher, Clara Young and Patricia Davis, The Times is publishing this week the Ordinance of the Town Council which establishes and declares the Town of Montevallo a bird sanctuary. This ordinance was adopted by the Town Council some years ago and remains in force and effect.

Furthermore, the Junior I Science Group has requested the Mayor of Montevallo to declare, by proclamation, the week of March 18 to 25, as Bird Week in Montevallo. The Mayor has issued the proclamation, and the same is published herewith.

Kennedy Goes To Art Conference

Miss Dawn Kennedy will represent Alabama College at the annual Southeastern Regional College Art Conference March 15-17 to be held at the University of Florida.

Miss Kennedy, who is secretary-treasurer of the Southeastern Art Conference Association, is head of the Department of Art at Alabama College.

Art students in this area of the U.S. and the work they are producing in their respective schools will take the spotlight during the meeting to be attended by representatives of some twenty-six colleges and universities. Highlight of the affair will be an exhibition of student work that is expected to illustrate current trends among the younger southern painters now preparing for artistic careers.

Officers of the Southeastern Art Conference Association are: Edmund Yaghjian, head of the Department of Art, University of South Carolina, president; Dr. Ralph Wickiser, head of the Department of Art, University of Louisiana, vice-president; and Miss Kennedy.

AN ORDINANCE

To establish and declare the Town of Montevallo a bird sanctuary, to prohibit the maiming, killing or injuring of any wild bird within the city limits or police jurisdiction thereof, and to provide a penalty for violation of the provisions of this ordinance.

Section 1. That the territory within the boundaries of the city limits of the Town of Montevallo and the police jurisdiction thereof be, and is hereby declared to be a bird sanctuary.

Section 2. That on and after the passage of this ordinance, it shall be unlawful for any person or persons to maim, kill or in any manner injure any wild or migratory bird within the above designated district.

Section 3. That any person or persons violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall, upon conviction, of each offense, be fined not less than one nor more than one hundred dollars, and may be imprisoned or sentenced to hard labor for a period of not more than six months, one or both, at the discretion of the Mayor.

Section 4. Section 2 of this ordinance shall not be so construed as to prevent the killing of the English sparrow, the chicken hawk, the chicken owl, the turkey buzzard, and the crow.

Baptist Revivals All Over South

Beginning on Easter Sunday, March 25, Southern Baptist Churches, in the territory East of the Mississippi River, will engage in a Simultaneous Evangelistic Crusade. It is the largest undertaking in cooperative evangelism that has ever been undertaken by the Southern Baptists.

The theme around this great Crusade is, "Christ is the Answer." There will be more than 18,000 Baptist Churches cooperating in this great effort of soul winning.

On Sunday afternoon, April 8, there will be a Special Radio Broadcast on the National Hook-up climaxing the Crusade, Dr. C.E. Matthews, Superintendent of Evangelism for Southern Baptists, will preach and Charles Wellborn, current Baptist Hour preacher, will be the announcer for this program.

The time for this broadcast will be 2:00 p.m. (C.S.T.).

MISS ROSA LEE WELLS

Miss Wells Writes Book On Gen. Lee

A book by Miss Rosa Lee Wells, member of the Alabama College faculty, has just been published.

The book is entitled General Lee A Great Friend of Youth. Although there have been many "lives" of the noted Confederate soldier, Miss Wells' book is the first one, according to the publishers, to be written from the angle of Lee's interest in youth. The author wrote her book in a simple style so that it could be understood and appreciated by school.

"General Lee" is a full-length biography, covering the subject's childhood, his parents, his school days, his life in the army, his work as a college president, his home life, and, of course his love of children.

"I wrote the book," says Miss Wells, "because I felt there was a definite need for a volume that stressed General Lee's love and friendship for children and young people. I feel that the youth of our country have missed much because they have not known him as their good friend."

This is Miss Wells' first book. She did, however, win a prize for an article "The Gift of the Nile," published in the Instructor, a classroom magazine.

A teacher by profession, the author was born in Howard County, Missouri, near Glasgow. She was educated at Pritchette College, in Glasgow; Central Missouri State College; and George Peabody College for Teachers, where she received her M.A. degree.

Miss Wells is a member of the National Geographic Society, National Education Association, and the Alabama Education Association. She was formerly active in other organizations, but withdrew to devote her time to this book.

Durham, N.C. — Theodore J. Ziolkowski, Montevallo student at Duke University, has achieved the distinction of being named to the Duke Dean's List for the Spring Semester.

Ziolkowski is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Ziolkowski of Montevallo. Membership in the Dean's List is based on a scholastic average of "B" or better during the preceding semester. Some 590 Duke undergraduates are included in this semester's Dean's List.

Suggestions For Summer Recreation Plans Made By Miss Smith, Former Director

The following outline of a suggested program for summer recreation is made by Miss Betty Smith, former director here:

Swimming Program — Continue afternoon program from 2 to 5. Ask permission of Alabama College to use pool for instruction before summer school opens and after it closes. Permission to use the pool from 1 to 2 o'clock for 2 weeks for purpose of instruction.

Recreation Hut — Renovate the Boy Scout Hut. Put up windows, doors, lights, etc. Furnish with chairs, tables, etc. Provide space for storing equipment. Curtains, paint, pictures, etc., to add to its attractiveness. Advantages: May be used during rainy weather for recreation purposes; provide space for storing game equipment; may be used for parties for small groups with the approval of the board, proper chaperonage, time limits; meeting place for small groups.

Cooperation with Churches — Loan services of recreation directors for their Bible School program, recreation in the morning to be ceased at this time; ask the churches to publish information in their bulletins about the recreation program and make announcements in their services. Advantages: Improve public relations; a means of publicity.

Crazy Daze Here March 22 On Palmer Hall Stage

Mr. Bill Lewis, chairman of the cast committee and Miss Ross have announced that Mr. C. R. Ketchum, well known in this community, has been chosen to play the laugh-provoking role of Toby in the famous comedy success of Crazy Daze. Another important part, that of Lawdy Ann, is to be taken by Miss Chris Wiley. Crazy Daze is to be presented March 22 at the Palmer Auditorium under the auspices of the Montevallo Rotary Club for the benefit of the Montevallo Negro High School Library.

There are a number of other well-known local people taking part in the production. The part of Herbert Williams, the hen-pecked but well loved father, is being taken by Mr. Robert DeSear.

Herbert Williams, who is portrayed by Mr. DeSear, is the typical American Dad, but finds himself frustrated at every turn by his family. His wife won't let him read his paper, his mother-in-law won't let him smoke his cigar; even the hired girl finds an excuse for bothering him.

Herbert is ruled by the "wimmin'" folks. His wife, Vera, and his mother-in-law, Irma Crabb, who is portrayed by Mrs. A. E. Baumgartner, make life miserable for him. They even try to arrange Dorothy's love affairs. They have decided that she is to marry Count Cecil Sissingham who is played by Mr. Stanley Mahan. The Count — ah yes, nobility. But is he the real article? The ladies think he is a catch for Dorothy. The men think he'll be caught all right, but not by Dorothy.

The whimsical and lovable character in the show is Mrs. Vera Williams, the self-styled society aristocrat, will be portrayed by Mrs. Triplett. The riotous antics and humorous situations which are developed through the show make it confounding and mighty entertaining.

A mysterious old character who seems deaf, Aza Post, played by Mr. Paul Lee — wanders in and out of the story in true Olsen and Johnson manner and turns out to be — of all things — an F.B.I. agent after the Count. With the help of Toby and Herbert he gets his man. (Continued on page 3) tors — Composed of two boys and two girls representing two age groups, 13 and over and 13 and under; chosen before the end of school; purpose: to work with recreation directors in planning the program.

Recreation Board — Should meet at stated intervals; be in charge of chaperones for Tuesday and Friday night programs and special programs.

Tennis — Continue night program on Monday and Thursday at the expense of board; inter-city tennis matches arranged through recreation program; exhibition matches by tennis players from college or from Birmingham by contact with recreation commission; tennis clinic.

Special Features — Picnics for whole community once a month; trips to Jemison for roller skating for young people, transportation furnished by board for two age groups; bridge or canasta parties for older people; community square dances, in cooperation with neighboring communities for call, for exhibition squares; bingo parties at stated intervals in cooperation with local merchants; open to public, urge families to attend; ask merchants to donate prizes. Examples: ticket to picture show; 50 cents worth of merchandise; groceries, etc.; charge for each game and have free games at stated intervals or charge for every third, fourth or fifth game. Advantages: Raise money to be used for publicity and equipment for program; good advertisement for merchants and program; good community recreation. Arrangements: tables and chairs arranged in high school auditorium; advertisement in paper, posters, post cards, posters in all stores contributing. Expense: Bingo sets and possibly refreshments.

Outline of Program — Morning program varied. Children under 10 meet at playground by elementary school for games, story hour, etc.; Bible schools, tennis tournament. Afternoon program, swimming 2 to 5 o'clock. Night program: tennis and softball; Tuesday, play night in gym for young people 12 and under. Thursday, tennis. Friday, teen age night for those 13 and over.

John Langstaff Sings Here Tonight

John Langstaff, brilliant young baritone, will be the fourth attraction on the Concert and Lecture Series at Alabama College Thursday, March 15.

Mr. Langstaff, who has been singing professionally since he was a boy, has studied with Arthur Gerry in New York and later at the Curtis Institute of Music and at the Juilliard School of Music. He has appeared as a soloist with choral groups, orchestras and with string ensemble, and has been heard frequently on the radio networks.

Scheduled for 8:00 p.m. in Palmer Auditorium, Mr. Langstaff's program will include Dank Sei Dir, Herr (Israel in Egypt), Handel; Where'er You Walk, Handel; The Prayer, Mendelssohn; L'Amour de Moi; Fuer Musik (To Music); Velvet Shoes, Randall Thompson; The Ghost Song (Rudigore), Gilbert and Sullivan; and American and English folk songs and ballads.

M. Thornton, Ag teacher, was on an evaluation committee at McAdory school last week. He was one of 16 Alabama teachers and educators who studied the school program and made suggestions for its improvement and further development.

Public Health Nurse Explains Duties

What does the public health nurse do? This question is asked many times by those people who are not familiar with the program of the local Health Department.

The public health nurse's work centers on the family and stretches out from the home into all parts of community life. Because she works with the family in their home, it is possible for her to serve both as nurse and a teacher of health. She strives always for early medical diagnosis and treatment and assists the family in carrying out the doctor's orders.

In many homes the nurse finds that mental, emotional or social problems are a handicap to the family's well-being and an obstacle to the recovery of the sick. When this is the case, she makes an attempt to help the family to a better understanding of their problems and explains how other community agencies can assist them.

At Health Centers, the public health nurse works with the physician and explains the whys and hows of treatment to patients. When a case of tuberculosis, for instance, is reported to the Health Department, the nurse interviews the patient, traces the contacts and plans for the necessary nursing service in the clinic or home.

Just as prevention and cure are two sides of the same problem, so are individual and community health. By guiding the family toward better health, by helping them prevent disease before it strikes, the public health nurse safeguards and improves the general health for the community as a whole.

Parts of the above statements are taken from "The Public Health Nurse in your Community", Public Health Service Publication No. 47. It is felt that this is applicable to your local situation where the public health nurse endeavors to carry out the responsibilities given to her in Shelby County.

Dottie M. Watson
Public Health Nurse

Robert Payne Gets Asia Citation For Literary Work

Robert Payne, British-born author, who heads the Department of English at Alabama College is the holder of an honorary degree from The Asia Institute, famed New York City school for oriental study. Asia Institute opened its doors in 1929 as a part of the New York University.

The citation for Mr. Payne reads as follows "Robert Payne, poet, novelist, historian and publicist, uniting the zest of youth with maturity and discipline; far ranging traveler among many people and distant lands, intrepid explorer in the realm of the mind, who has dedicated literary talent of a high order to the service of enlightenment and happiness, with an ardent humanism glowing throughout all his work; living evidence of the vitality of the grand tradition in English Letters."

The Asia Institute is the largest advanced School of Oriental Studies in the country, devoted solely to Asian studies. With a teaching staff of more than forty, it offers some two hundred courses, many of them not available anywhere else in the country. It prepares for professional careers in diplomatic and government services, in scholarship, teaching for business and economic undertakings, for any institutional activity concerned with any aspect of oriental affairs.

Mr. Payne has a series of articles on Asia appearing currently in the New York Times Sunday Magazine Section.

During the past few months he has published: The Young Emperor, an adventure story printed by Macmillan Company, and Mao Tse Tung, a biography of the leader of Red China, published by Henry Schuman, Inc.

Payne is also the author of China Awake, David and Anna, Forever China, Report on America, The Revolt of Asia, The Yellow Robe, and Zero, the Story of Terrorism.

The New York Times recently named him the most versatile writer of the year 1950.

On the campus, Payne writes mornings and evenings, teaches all his creative writing classes in the afternoon.

His Excellency Nasrollah Entezam, president of the United Nations Assembly and Professor B.S. Upadhyaya, outstanding Indian scholar, also received honorary degrees at the Commencement ceremony, February 3, 1951.

Egg Is Top Food For Breakfast

Because of its high quality protein content, the egg stands out more brightly than ever in the breakfast spotlight.

"The reason," says Marion Cotney, Shelby County Home Agent, "is that a breakfast containing a good deal of protein, especially top quality protein, can do more to stave off fatigue longer than a morning meal that is poor in protein."

She further states that besides eggs, other foods from animal sources, such as milk, meat, and cheese, provide protein of top value. Additional protein comes from grain products and many other foods.

Alabama will memorialize one of its most valuable natural resources — the tree — on February 23. In a proclamation designating the fourth Friday in February as Arbor Day, Governor Persons asks all Alabamians "and

House To House Peddling Illegal

House to house peddling of meats, dressed chickens, and milk and butter is being done illegally in some sections of the county.

Fresh meats can be sold legally only by meat markets with Permits from the Health Department. These Permits are posted in a conspicuous place, as is also the score card each time the market is inspected.

Meat markets are also prepared to dress chickens. A few independent chicken slaughterers also have the necessary equipment and facilities for dressing chickens in an approved manner.

Milk in most sections of the county can be sold without restriction. The County Board of Health has a regulation that prohibits the labeling of milk unless it is Grade A. Milk with blank caps on the bottles is, therefore, not Grade A milk.

The Town of Montevallo has adopted the standard milk ordinance which prohibits the sale of any milk except Grade A milk in that city.

Milk, of course, is a good medium for carrying the bacteria of a number of diseases including Undulant Fever, Septic Sore Throat, Scarlet Fever, Typhoid, Tuberculosis and others. Butter comes under the same classification as milk.

It would be wise for the housewife to buy her milk only from an approved source, her fresh meat only from a market which has a permit posted, and her dressed chickens only from a meat market or from an individual slaughterer who is approved by the Health Department.

Dr. E. F. Sloan,
County Health Officer

Information For Growers of Hogs

A new A.P.I. Extension Service circular entitled "They Eat Your Profits" is available through the local County agent's office.

Written by G. B. Phillips, hog production specialist, the pamphlet contains information on control of large roundworms, lungworms, and kidney worms. Also, the latest and best treatments for mange, lice, and screechworms are included.

Therefore, for complete information on control of profit stealers in swine, see County Agent A. A. Lauderdale for a copy of A.P.I. Extension Service Circular 41.4

Heart Research

According to American Heart, the new quarterly publication of the American Heart association, the latter organization allocated approximately $700,000 last year for heart research. Awards from the national office totaled $250,000 in 1949, and funds spent by affiliates, the New York and Chicago associations, made up the rest. A minimum of $380,000 from 1949 campaign funds has been earmarked for future research awards.

Congressman deGraffenried Explains Provisions of Military Training Bill

Washington, D. C.—Representative Edward deGraffenried issued the following statement with reference to the universal military training and service bill now being considered by the House Armed Services Committee, of which he is a member:

"HR 2811 provides for training and service of male persons between the ages of 18 years and 6 months and 26 years, with four months basic training, and provides that no person inducted into the armed forces under the provisions of the bill, shall during the 6 months period immediately following his induction be assigned to duty in a combat area.

"The Bill further provides that the minimum standards for physical and mental acceptability shall not be higher than those applied to persons inducted between the ages of 18 and 26 in January, 1945. This latter provision lowering the minimum standards for acceptability would mean the induction of approximately 800,000 persons who have been up to this time deferred or rejected.

"The Bill further provides that not only ROTC students should be deferred, but gives wide discretion in the deferment of other students in the upper bracket of their classes who meet certain physical and mental aptitude tests as well. The bill does not provide for the induction of any veteran and contains broad deferments for farmers, specialists, technicians and skilled essential labor. However, all ROTC members and all students who are deferred must eventually serve 26 months in the armed services.

"In addition to the above provisions the Bill contains the further provisions which authorize the President, upon recommendation of the Secretary of Defense to provide for decreasing periods of service, but in no case for a lesser period of time than can be economically utilized, or to eliminate periods of service required. It also states that Congress shall have a right, by concurrent resolution, to declare that the period of active service required of any group, or groups of persons, should be decreased to any period less than 26 months when Congress deems wise or that the period of active service required should be eliminated.

"These are some of the provisions of the Bill which are now being considered by the Committee and I believe any bill reported out by the committee will contain the provisions.

I have joined with other members of the committee in making an effort to have an amendment placed in the Bill which will have the effect of reinstating segregation in the armed forces, and if we fail in committee, we intend to make another effort on the floor of the House to place it in the Bill.

"The bill meets several of the objections which I had to the measure which was requested by the Department of Defense, in that it will take these young men at 18½ instead of 18; it guarantees that none of these young men will be sent into a combat area until 19 years of age, and lowers the standards for physical and mental requirements, which I have advocated since hearings started on this legislation. I have fought for these provisions and am gratified that the committee has seen fit to put them in the bill. Figures which I recently obtained from General Hershey of the Selective Service on the rate of rejections for mental aptitude reasons, and which were recently published, showing rejections running as high as 60.7 per cent in one state, clearly indicate that these standards should be lowered to bring in an additional 800,000 men.

"I am further going to advocate an amendment which will allow students in their senior high school year, even up to 19½, who are pursuing their courses satisfactorily, to complete their senior year in high school. There were over 120,000 high school students who graduated last year who had passed their 19th birthday. A man 19½ should not be inducted in March or April when he will graduate in June.

"I am not altogether convinced that we should lower the age of the draft below 19, but our bill is based on military requirements and according to the testimony, it is certainly not necessary to go below 18½ to raise our armed forces to 3½ to 4 million men."

Miss Griffith Is On Auburn Program

An Alabama College faculty member will take part in the Alabama Historical Association to be held in Auburn Friday and Saturday, April 6 and 7. She is Miss Lucile Griffith of the social science department. The subject for her talk will be "Mrs. A. F. Hopkins and the Alabama Military Hospitals."

This is the fourth annual meeting of the association. It is under the direction of Dr. A. W. Reynolds, head of the API history department, who is chairman of the Auburn arrangements committee. James F. Sulzby, secretary of the organization, is working with the committee on plans for the meeting.

On The Farms

We missed Bobby Hawkins at his Siluria farm home, but we couldn't miss his fine fescue and ladino pastures.

Water won't have to travel over 200 feet in Bennie Lucas' new SCS planned terraces, with few exceptions. But Bennie will be able to cultivate rows averaging about 1500 feet long, just lifting cultivating and planting tools when crossing his sericea meadows.

J. E. Johnson has begun development of his 130 acre farm on plans worked out with the North Central Soil Conservation District. He has Ky. 31 and is fencing and ready to stock the farm.

CRAZY DAZE

Although the whole production of Crazy Daze is full of laughs and fun, one of the most humorous parts of the evening will be the well-known Family Album and Wedding party, in which local citizens will appear dressed as various women; so if you see Abbie Katy or Lotta Feet, or Ermine-trude Poppirdle, or Miss Scrap-heap of 1925, remember it's all in a spirit of fun and designed for your particular enjoyment and for the benefit of the Montevallo Negro School Library.

Much of the fun and merriment in the special production of Crazy Daze is brought about by Little Audry, played by Miss Anita Bradley, always making lots of laughs with her cowboys and Indians played by a number of local small fry.

Don't be alarmed if you see members of the Rotary Club going around town about their business topped off with beautiful creations of ladies millinery. It's all a part of the general fun and merriment in advance of the hilarious show. These latest hats on the heads of many of our most well-known citizens is only an indication of what is in store for the large audience expected at the showing of this riotous comedy.

In addition to the sidesplitting comedy situations and clever dialogue, there are comedy songs, musical numbers and beautiful chorus offerings running through this entire special production; so when you see one of the members of the Rotary Club wearing a ladies hat, that is your reminder to go up to him and buy tickets for your family and friends for this wonderful show. That is exactly why his wife has entrusted her finest hat to him.

Milton's Birthplace

Many Try Out

Competition for diamond positions is going to be hot. It's too early to predict a line-up for the opening game April 3.

The five scholarship seekers got a good work-out at Jacksonville State on Thursday and Friday, whether they get scholarships or not. The MHS boys, Buddy Rhodes Garland Splawn, Marion Hamaker, Donald Litton and Bobby Neil Smitherman, felt the competition was pretty keen at this athletic try-out session.

Bobby Smitherman was the only one to whom Coach Salls talked. However, the coach said if others dropped out, some more of the boys might be called back.

M H S Senior Class Presents Dear Ruth

Montevallo High School seniors will present "Dear Ruth" at Palmer Hall, April 5. Cast selections were announced last week by Miss Vinnie Lee Walker, class adviser, and Miss Dorothy Baumgartner, student teacher.

Lou Romager was selected for the title role. Dulcy McCrary will play Edith Wilkins, Ruth's mother, while Billy McNeil is cast as Judge Wilkins, her father. Georgia Ann Pickett as the brat sister, Miriam Wilkins, completes the family picture.

Dora, the devoted colored maid, will be played by Robbie Jo Gentry. Air Corps Lt. William Searight (Buddy Rhodes) and Albert Krummer, a local health boy (Dudley Pendleton) verify the old maxim that three's a crowd. Martha Seawright, Bill's sister, will be portrayed by Shirley Lucas, while Donald Litton is cast as Sgt. Chuck Vincent, her boy friend. Marion Hamaker, as Harold Kolb-bermeger, represents the Navy in this Armed Forces mixup.

"Dear Ruth," first produced by Joseph M. Hyman and Bernard Hart, at the Henry Miller Theatre in New York City, in December 1944, had a successful Broadway run. This timely, fast moving comedy promises an evening of real entertainment.

Do Not Overlook Social Security

"There may be some excuse for losing your temper once in a while, but there's really no excuse for losing Social Security benefits." That's the way Martin C. Folmar, manager of the Birmingham Social Security Office put it to us the other day.

Mr. Folmar said that some workers right here in Shelby County have lost several months Social Security payments after retiring, just because they didn't know how to get in touch with his office pretty soon after retiring.

"Social Security payments may be made for only six back months," according to Mr. Folmar, who went on to explain that his office feels there are lots of folks around these parts who have money coming to them and don't know it.

Mr. Folmar's office staff is making a special effort right now to spread this word around because after March 31 everyone who was given benefit rights by the change in the Social Security Law last year and who hasn't asked about payments, will start losing benefits. He listed the following classes as those most likely to be affected.

1. People 65 and over who have worked as much as a year and a half on social security-covered jobs. These can get benefits if their earnings under social security do not exceed $50 monthly.
2. People 75 and over who have worked as much as a year and a half on covered jobs. These can get benefits though still regularly employed.

3. Children under 18 of deceased Veterans of World War II. The mothers or others having charge of such children should apply.

4. Children under 18 of a deceased mother who had worked under social security. Whoever is in charge of the children should apply.

Mr. Folmar added that a representative of his office is in the Calera Employment Office each Thursday at 10:00 a.m. to assist those people who live in Shelby County.

Pvt. Eugene Martin, former MHS student, has received two medals for bravery in the war in Korea. He received the medals because he stuck it out on the front in order to cover up for retreating troops. When they were safe he managed to escape.

Revival At Montevallo Baptist Church From March 25 Through April 4

The Montevallo Baptist Church announces the coming of the Rev. Charles Pitts, Jr., to lead the church in a series of Evangelistic Services extending from March 25 through April 4.

The Rev. Pitts is pastor of the First Baptist Church of Cleburne, Texas. For a number of years he has served as a pastor in Texas and during the last war he served as chaplain. His service overseas was in New Guinea, the Philippines and Japan. He is still serving as chaplain for a Reserve Unit and will soon re-enter active service with this unit.

Rev. Pitts is a graduate of Howard Payne College in Texas and will soon receive his degree from the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary at Fort Worth.

These Evangelistic Services are being held in cooperation with about 18,000 Baptist Churches East of the Mississippi River, in a great simultaneous crusade. The theme for this crusade is "Christ Is The Answer".

State Department Wants Typists

Congressman Ed deGraffenried announces that he has been advised by the Department of State that three representatives of the department will be in Tuscaloosa for three days in April for the purpose of interviewing and recruiting clerical personnel for jobs in Washington and overseas.

They will be at the U. S. Employment Office, 2129 Sixth Street in Tuscaloosa on April 5, 6, and 7, and will interview typists and stenographers for positions with the Department of State. Mr. deGraffenried stated it is his impression that applicants will be approved or rejected on the spot and will not have to wait the usual time taken to process applications for employment with the federal government.

The Tuscaloosa Congressman urges that all qualified stenographers and typists of the Sixth District who are interested in employment with the Department of State, either in Washington or overseas, contact the representatives of the department while they are in Tuscaloosa.

Mr. Bill Lewis Offers Suggestions For Montevallo Summer Recreation Program

Montevallo High School Speech teacher, Mr. William A. Lewis, Jr., formerly instructor in Physical Education at Peabody College, Nashville, has recently returned from the National Convention of Health and Physical Education instructors in Richmond, Va. One important event of the convention, reports Mr. Lewis, was the address by Dr. J. B. Nash of N. Y. University on "Health-Physical Education and Recreation".

Emphasis was placed on more recreation being shared by men and women of the community with good planning so as to use leisure time profitably. It was pointed out that co-recreation provides a healthful emotional outlet in an unstable world. Besides the feeling of "belongingness" which stems from co-recreation, of the adults there is always a worthy transfer from childhood to the adult years on part of younger ones.

Mr. Lewis reports that besides studying the basis of good recreation, the convention was instrumental in suggesting some modern techniques for carrying out a good program.

Mr. Lewis thinks that the following tentative program could be used in the summer recreation program in Montevallo.

Congressman To Be Home Two Weeks

A letter from Congressman Ed deGraffenried to The Times says he will be in the district for the next two weeks during the Easter recess of Congress. His office on the second floor of the Post Office Building will be open during the time he is at home.

Mrs. deGraffenried and his executive secretary will accompany the congressman.

During the recess of Congress Mr. deGraffenried hopes to be able to cover his district as nearly as possible with visits to his constituents.

To Visit Pastures On Shelby Farms

A. A. Lauderdale, County Agent

Pastures are the most important crops on livestock farms. Winter pastures must be provided as well as summer pastures.

To study the pasture program we have scheduled a series of tours to observe the grazing program. We have planned to visit farms that are easy to get to, and with a reasonable amount of travel. We hope you will plan to visit with us on the most convenient tour. D. H. Harbor, Agronomy specialist of Auburn will be with us for these tours.

Schedule of Tours

Thursday, March 22
9:00 a.m. Start at R. W. Kent and Sons, Siluria and visit L. I. Newton, Siluria; Dr. R. J. Mabry, Rt. 1 Siluria; J. Frank Baker, Rt. 1 Montevallo; and ending with L. L. Stevenson, Rt. 1, Montevallo.

1:30 p.m. Start at Earle Morgan's, Rt. 1, Helena and visit Herbert Poole, Rt. 1, Helena; J. E. Bearden, Rt. 1, Helena; Kenneth Cooper, Rt. 1, Helena; and ending with King and Hinds, Pelham.

Friday, March 23
9:00 a.m. Start at F. Jackson's, Harpersville and visit Maples Wallis, Rt. 1, Vincent; J. M. Snyder, Rt. 1, Vincent; Dee Fleming, Rt. 1, Vincent; and ending with J. D. Glaze, Rt. 1, Vincent.

Shelby County Girls Seek Scholarships At Alabama College

Eleven Shelby County high school seniors were at Alabama College this week end taking part in the competitions for Honors Scholarships.

While here, the more than 200 applicants took examinations in ability, personality and achievement, as well as attending dormitory parties sponsored by various campus organizations and in general getting a taste of college life.

Twenty-seven scholarships will be given the top-ranking seniors as a result of the examinations. Value of the scholarships ranges from full expense renewable for three additional years to one-eighth expense non renewable scholarships.

Shelby County Seniors visiting Alabama College were: Betty Fay Wyatt, Route 1, Siluria; Betty Joyce Pickett, Route 1, Marvel; Shirley Lucas, Route 1, Montevallo; Sara Frances Edwards, Calera; Rena M. Carlson, Route 2, Wilsonville; Katie Lou Holcomb, Route 1, Sterrett; Frances L. Bell, Route 2, Vincent; Barbara Baker, Calera; Joan Gates, Helena; Catherine Garrett, Route 2, Vincent; and Grace Wilson Simes, Columbiana.

Many People Sick With Influenza, Dr. Sloan Reports

Although several counties of the state have had outbreaks of influenza earlier this winter, Shelby County has only recently had more than the usual incidence of this disease.

During the week ending March 10, 174 cases were reported in this county and during the past week about the same number.

It would seem advisable to again advise the unfortunate victim of influenza to stay in bed, if possible, in a separate room, and allow no member of the family to come in contact with him, except the one delegated to do the nursing. This nurse should wear a gauze or a cloth mask over the nose and the mouth while in the sickroom, and should scrub the hands and forearms after leaving the patient.

All eating and drinking utensils should be kept separate for the patient's use and should be boiled after each use. Other articles used by the patient, such as towels, of course, should be kept separate.

All discharges from the nose and throat should be received on paper napkins and burned.

The doctor can do much toward preventing complications.

In order to protect the public the patient should not return to work or attend any public gathering until the acute stage is well past.

During the same week mentioned, Shelby County had 5 cases of measles, 7 of chicken pox, 2 of pneumonia, and one each of scarlet fever, diphtheria, and polio.

E. F. SLOAN,
County Health Officer

PLANT COTTON EARLY

In 1949 reports from unit test demonstration farms in Fayette, Lamar, and Pickens Counties showed that demonstration farmers who planted cotton before May 1 made 104 pounds more lint cotton per acre than those who planted after May 1.

380 Are Arrested At Wildcat Stills

Montgomery, Ala.—State ABC Enforcement Officer Joseph T. Burton said that his agents, in cooperation with county and federal officials, arrested 380 persons in February in connection with illicit production of alcohol in Alabama.

During the month a total of 132,185 gallons of mash, and 2,152 gallons of whisky were destroyed; 235 stills raided, and 380 persons arrested, he said.

The agents confiscated 26 gallons of home brew, 933 bottles of beer and 15 gallons of wine. During February stolen property valued at $2,390 was recovered, Burton said.

Clover Seed May Be Certified

The seed of any field or fields of reseeded crimson clover may be certified under the designated name of "Alabama" reseeded crimson clover, provided the fields have reseeded satisfactorily for a period of two years or more as evidenced by inspections made by the Alabama Crop Improvement Association.

County Agent A. A. Lauderdale states that the general certification provision was recently announced by the A.C.I.A., Alabama's certifying agency. It applies to all reseeded clover regardless of origin or history.

Lauderdale urges growers who are interested in certifying their clover to write to the Alabama Crop Improvement Association, Auburn, Alabama.

Vets Must Enroll Before July 25 For On-Job Training

According to present regulations, veterans who are interested in training under the GI bill of rights must be enrolled in the training of their choice on or before July 25, 1951. Consequently, the usual spring enrollment deadline for entering on-farm training will not be effective this spring.

However, veterans who are interested in on-farm training will please be advised that in order to be enrolled after March 1, you must be actively engaged in farm work and have your farming program in operation at the time of your enrollment. This is necessary due to the seasonal nature of farm work, states S. B. McClure, head teacher of agriculture for veterans on-farm training.

The smallest horse in the world was born and raised in Magnolia Springs. She was named Nira by her owner, E. W. Cole. When Nira grew up to be a grown horse, she tipped the scales at a healthy 47 pounds and stood 19½ inches high. Her favorite pastime was riding on the seat of Mr. Cole's coupe between two adults. Her best friend was not another horse, as is customary with horses, but a German police dog.

4-H Lamp Contest To Be April 13

Thus far several boys have entered table lamps in their school 4-H Clubs this month in preparation for the county 4-H table lamp contest to be held at the county rally April 13, reports assistant county agent, G. C. Moore, Jr.

Winners, along with the number participating at the various clubs judged to date are as follows:
Vandiver; two boys entered; Jimmy Ray Watson, winner.

Columbiana; Johnny Sims, winner.

Mayberry; two boys entered; Franklin Lawley, winner.

Boothton; two boys entered; Tommy Stokes, winner. However, since he will move before rally, second place Steve Haley will enter the county contest.

New Hope; eight boys entered; only five lamps completed; William Brackin, winner.

Dunnivant; two boys entered; Chester Harris, winner.

Calera Elementary; Morris Sandlin, winner.

Calera Junior High; two boys entered; Jimmie Johnson, winner.

So far the outstanding group of lamps made was at New Hope School, with Mrs. Julia Moore as the principal, teacher sponsor.

Many other boys are making lamps that will be judged during the month.

GRAZE SERICEA

Grazing of sericea should start when it has made two or three inches growth in early spring. At this stage, sericea is tender, livestock like it, and they graze it freely.

Take Good Care Of Seed Planters

All planters should be kept in good alignment and first-class mechanical condition, according to County Agent, A. A. Lauderdale.

He advises that shelter for planters be provided if at all possible. When storing, protect planter frames from being bent and rest furrow openers on boards away from the damp soil. Keep livestock away from the implements.

Also, coat all bright or land polished surfaces with grease or rust preventative when not in use. Always remove any protective grease before taking planter with seed hopper. If ground driven, jack-up drive wheel and turn it by hand; if driven from rear wheel of tractor, jack up tractor drive wheel, and check.

Mr. J. P. Kelly, cashier of the Merchants & Planters Bank, has been laid up with the flu for the past week.

FORD WINS AGAIN!

V-8 TAKES FIRST PLACE IN CLASS "A" 1951 MOBILGAS ECONOMY RUN

Both Ford V-8 and SIX Deliver more than 25.9
miles per gallon

Gruelling 840-mile test proves Ford Economy

Again this year... it's high honors for Ford! In the most important economy trial for American stock model cars... the famous annual Mobilgas Economy Run... A Ford 100-h.p. V-8 equipped with Overdrive took first place competing against all cars in its price class, making 54.587 ton-miles per gallon* and 25.994 miles per gallon. And its companion in quality, the new Ford SIX with Overdrive, was right up there with the winner. In fact, both cars averaged better than 25.9 miles per gallon.

Traditional Ford economy, for the second straight year, has been proved in open competition. Proved on the tough 840-mile grind from Los Angeles to the Grand Canyon... a course that included city traffic, below-sea-level desert heat and 7,000-foot mountain passes. Ford's Automatic Mileage Maker, standard equipment on all Ford V-8's and SIXES, contributed to this great achievement by squeezing the last mile out of every drop of gasoline.

Why not "Test Drive" the new Ford at your neighborhood Ford Dealer's? There's no better way to be convinced that "You can pay more but you can't buy better!"

*The AAA Contest Board determines the winner by a "ton-mile per gallon" formula to insure equal chance for all cars in each class regardless of size and weight. Ton-miles per gallon equals the car weight (including passengers) in tons, multiplied by number of miles travelled, divided by number of gallons of gasoline consumed.

Springtime Is Sewing Time

With spring in the air everyone's fancy seems to be turning to new clothes. Especially is this true in the adult sewing class that is meeting at the high school Home Economics building every Tuesday Night.

The members meet at 7:00 p.m. and work until about 9:30 under the supervision of Miss Old, one of the high school teachers. At each meeting Miss Old is assisted by student teachers who are majoring in Home Economics.

If you want to see a busy group drop in Tuesday night. The snip of scissors and the whirring of the sewing machine are signs that many new spring garments are in the making.

Everyone from the beginner to the expert is invited to attend these classes. Someone asked, "What are the charges?" There are no fees nor special charges for those who attend. This is just another opportunity for homemakers to develop new clothing construction skills. So if you are interested in sewing, get your sewing box and come on over!

The following ladies are enrolled in the class: Mesdames Mack Dennis, Cecil Dennis, Clyde Winslett, Lovenia Grady, R. B. Galloway, Hobert Love, Exer Fullman, Lula Wood, Louise Young, Herman Stone, Louise Harris, B. Richmann, and Misses Minuene Smith, Beatrice Fancher, Mildred Doyle, Lula Nix, and Jimmie McCaleb.

Rotary Club Elects Officers

The Rotary Club of Montevallo at its regular meeting last Thursday elected the following officers: President, Eddie Watson; Vice-President, Jimmy Wyatt; Secretary, Billy Rotenberry; Treasurer, Eam Klotzman; Members of the Board of Directors, John Caldwell and Leslie Hubbard.

The Axis Club Building-in Anniston's Zinn Park was once a part of the old Anniston Inn. The inn, built in the 1880's was demolished by fire in 1901. It was in this old hostelry that Tom Edison's incandescent lamps were used for the first time in Alabama.

Two Million Asked To Finish Coliseum

Montgomery, Ala. — Coliseum Director Tom Reid said that the Alabama May legislature would be asked to appropriate another $2,000,000 to complete the huge agricultural center at Montgomery.

In an appearance before the Legislative Committee on Finance and Taxation Reid said $1,500,000 already had been spent on the incompleting structure. He said that $72,910 is needed for operation expenses by his department in the next fiscal year. He estimated operating expenses for 1952-53 at $101,200.

Reid said the proposed $2,000,000 additional cash would go to complete the stadium, construct an administration building, a livestock storage barn, and to landscape the grounds.

Man Consumes Barrel Of Baking Soda

One man told us he took baking soda for years. Claims he has used over a barrel of it for stomach gas, but only got temporary relief.

Recently he quit the soda habit and took CERTI-VIN. This new medicine is bringing REAL lasting relief to many Montevallo gas victims because it is taken BEFORE (not after) meals and thus works with your food. It helps digest your meals faster, so your food doesn't lay there and ferment. Besides relieving gas, CERTI-VIN also contains Herbs with Vitamin B-1 and Iron to enrich your blood and make your nerves stronger. Weak, miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering. Get CERTI-VIN—Wilson Drug Store.

Fisher's Rules For Base Running

Following are suggestions for base running by Coach Fisher.

1. Run in a straight line.
2. Don't look to see if a fielder has fielded your ball but run and look for coaches signal.
3. Worry pitcher by swinging arms or use false steps.
4. Take a lead with the pitch.
5. On extra base hits—hit the base with inside foot and use a cross step.
6. Study movements of the pitcher.
7. Study the catcher's arm also all other players for accuracy and strength.
8. Hit the dirt on all close plays—hit it early and use enough space for the ride in.
9. Hustle on the base paths.
10. If you see you are caught off—make them chase you to allow other players to take advantage.
11. Watch coaches for all signals and do them to the best of your ability.
12. Hit the dirt away from defending baseman.
13. Practice a false take-off.
14. Keep in good condition.
15. Practice breaking up a double play.
16. When on third—tag up on what looks like a sure hit as well as the long fly—with less than two outs.
17. Know the infield fly rule.
18. Yours for a better base runner.

On of the unique attractions of Gulf State Park is the bird sanctuary where thousands of birds live the year around in protected seclusion. A great many of the 300 species of birds native to Alabama make seasonal visitations to the park. Numerous American bald eagle nests can be seen in the cypress tree-tops as one rides through the park. During the past year an increasing number of the rare egrets have been seen in the park. The 5,000 acre park has three large fresh water lakes which add lore to the semi-tropical atmosphere of palmettos and Spanish moss.

Master Showman

Phineas T. Barnum got his first real start in show business by managing the affairs of a remarkable juggler who had an equally remarkable dislike for soap and water. Once Barnum had prevailed upon the worthy gentleman to take a bath, he had no trouble building him into a popular entertainer. The world's greatest showman and founder of the Barnum and Bailey Circus, was born July 1810.

If you kept account of the times when a quick telephone call saved you a trip, to town, across town or down the street, chances are they'd add up to hours saved in a single day . . . to say nothing of saving transportation costs.

Yes, there are so many things you do by telephoning instead of going—arranging meetings, appointments and purchases . . . rounding up the children when they're at play in the neighborhood. And what a difference it makes in getting things done, and in gaining leisure to spend with family and friends.

In Alabama homes, the telephone stands ready 24 hours a day to run errands, receive calls and give protection in case of emergency . . . for an average charge of less than one-half cent an hour. You bet it's a bargain!

NEWS ABOUT TOWN

Jimmie Glen Crisswell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Crisswell, will leave Friday of this week to begin serving his enlistment in the Army. Jimmie is a genteel young man, and we hope he comes through his military service safe and sound.

Dr. Leslie H. Hubbard has been appointed by the Mayor to serve on the Town Recreation Board. He takes the place of Mr. Clarence Chism, whose term on the board expired this month. Mr. Chism recently went to Ozark where he is engaged in the barber trade at Camp Rucker.

Mrs. Fulton of the County Welfare Department came before the Town Council Tuesday night and talked about the operation of her department in helping needy people. The Council voted to give a contribution of $120 to the welfare department for this fiscal year which ends September 30.

Did the ditch diggers for the gas system fix your concrete walk or driveway back to suit you after they put in the gas lines? If not, you should report your objections to the Town Clerk now. It will soon be time for the Council to have final settlement with the gas system contractor, and all objections on the part of property owners should be in for consideration in the settlement.

Jimmie Goodwin and Jack Echols, of the J. W. Goodwin Engineering Co., Birmingham, were in Montevallo Wednesday checking up on our new gas system.

W. J. Bailey is fixing up for a big blow-out of the Shelby County Beef Cattle Association at his place (Hardy's) at Newala next Wednesday. There is to be a barbecue along with many other features of interest to cattle growers and the public in general.

The Baptist Associational Sunday School meeting will be held at Columbiana Sunday afternoon, April 8, at 2:30. This meeting is one week later than the usual date.

The Annual Red Cross Fund Campaign Is Now Underway In Shelby County

The Red Cross Fund Campaign is underway in Shelby County. Your support is needed to keep Red Cross services, so vital at this time, in operation.

Whole blood, contributed by civilians in Red Cross blood centers, is being flown daily to Korea. It reaches the battle front within 50 hours from the time it is drawn. When it is drawn it is iced, flown to the west coast, iced again and flown to Hawaii, iced, then flown to Korea.

This blood may save your boy's life. And if Shelby countians respond to the call (200 pints of blood is needed each time the mobile unit visits your town), every Shelby countian, when in need of blood, may draw on the Red Cross blood bank, no matter where he may be when the need arises.

And your surest and quickest contact with your service man, whether there is an emergency in your home or he is ill in a hospital and unable to write, is thru Red Cross.

Your contributions to Red Cross each March support these programs and many others. Fund chairman W. N. Miner, Calera, announced the following divisions are in charge of the campaign in the county. If you have not contributed, contact your local division or a member of your civic club.

Construction work is progressing on the new duplex apartment of Miss Virginia Hendrick on Nabors Street next to the Eugene Reynolds apartment.

Have you tried going to church at 7:15 in the morning? That is a new idea which is being used in the Baptist revival this week.

We heard last week of the death of our old friend, Wiley Huff, of Erieffield. We did not report it in the paper because we were not sure it was a true report. Saw Mr. Pat Lucas in town Saturday and asked him if Wiley died. "He shore did" was the answer. Mr. Huff died in the veterans hospital at Tuscaloosa Sunday night March 18.

Frank Wallace, Jr., of LaFayette, La., was back here on a visit last week end. He reports that the family is getting settled down in their new field, and like it fine. Frank Jr., is attending college in LaFayette, and working for the local printer who prints for Hadacol. LaFayette is the home of the famous cure-all.

Ferman Moore called up the other day and said he had been "under the weather" for a spell. Thought something was wrong as I hadn't seen him around for some days. He says he has decided to sell his home and go back to Florida. He has a nice home here and somebody is going to grab on to it when he decides to let it go. Hate to see Ferman pull up and leave here, but shucks, who would not live in Florida if he could?

We can now put down in our book another record for high water in Montevallo reached Wednesday night. The official high mark is the floor of Isaac's house back of the Masonic Building. It was about an inch deep over the floor when Isaac rolled out of bed at 3 a.m. Thursday. Back in 1930-some-odd it got up to a foot deep in the house.

The new gas line across the creek near the ice plant was broken by the flood waters Wednesday night.

Faculty of Montevallo Public Schools Plans For Knowing the Patrons Better

The following report has been submitted by the committee on public relations for consideration of the faculty of Montevallo public schools for building a better school program by encouraging greater participation in the program by the patrons of the school:

Wide participation should be encouraged because:

1. The schools and the children who attend belong to the people.
2. If wise leadership is not brought into constructive action it will make itself felt in ways not so constructive.
3. It constitutes protection for the school.
4. Parents have aspirations for their children and they are able to contribute to the school program in order to accomplish those goals.

The program involved includes the following points:

1. Keep the faculty and parents informed about all school activities which affect a large percentage of the student body, a few days in advance of the scheduled event, if possible.
2. Establish a definite policy of orientation on overall problems of the school, preferably the first week of school, through distributing and explanation of handbook and by public meetings of parents and teachers.
3. Students and parents should be informed about financial needs through newspapers and letters. This should be emphasized, especially as fees are collected each semester.
4. Public relations policy and system should be formulated for dispensing information for publication in school papers, local and Birmingham newspapers through a coordinator (principal) aided by faculty and students.
5. Plan and hold group meetings in school community centers to inform parents of the school. (Principal and teachers for each meeting.)
6. Use community human resources in classrooms. Compile and keep active listings of human resource file.

4-H Clubs Prepare Lamps For Show

Several more 4-H Clubs have entered table lamps in their school 4-H contests, winners of which will carry their first place lamps to the county rally at Montevallo April 13, to enter the county 4-H lamp contest of 1951.

Vincent Elementary Boys Club; Buddy Whitten, winner.

Camp Branch Boys Club; 6 entrants with Tim Ross, winner.

Pelham Boys Club; 8 entrants, with Donald Johnson, winner.

Camp Branch and Pelham clubs have done an outstanding job with this project. To be commended for their supervision and guidance are Mrs. Lula Shirley and Mrs. W. A. Cobb, 4-H sponsors at Camp Branch, and Mrs. Wilson Durden, principal, while at Pelham Miss Alta Moore is sponsor and Mrs. Sarah Walker, principal.

Congratulations are in order to Camp Branch and Pelham on the excellent quality of lamps made, as well as the number of boys participating.

7. Publicity letters to concerning problems of dispensing other information about the school, in addition to publication in newspapers with an explanation of the letters to the students.

8. Use students as a public relations device.

9. Encourage room-mothers in all rooms, representing participation of all parents in the room.

10. A survey should be made to determine the total program of the school, what improvement can be made in total parent participation in the school program.

11. Encourage some definite program regarding community relations through: Rotary Club, the Chamber of Commerce, veterans organizations, Study Club, Study Club, A. A. U. W., the Recreation Board, Business and Professional Women's Club, Vocational Adult Classes, Masonic Lodge, Eastern Star.

12. Organize parent representation to participate in policy making.

13. Encourage more visiting of parents to the school, also encourage more visiting of teachers in the homes. Make master list of parents, of students in school using file cards. Organize faculty to complete visits to all homes and record on cards not later than the first of November. As the home is visited the teacher should use the form "Home Visit," and file in the cumulative record for each student concerned. It is recommended that expenses for financing such visits is to be budgetary item to be incorporated in the regular school budget each year.

Senior Class Will Present Play, "Dear Ruth"

"Dear Ruth" will be presented by the senior class of Montevallo High School Thursday, April 5, at 8:00 p.m. in Palmer Hall.

"Dear Ruth" is one of the most popular comedies of modern time. It has been shown throughout the country since its Broadway opening in 1944.

Briefly, the story concerns a young girl who carries on, in her older sister's name, a romantic correspondence with an overseas soldier. When the soldier returns, he directs his attentions to the older sister who is engaged to another boy.

Through a series of hilarious complications and plot twists, the older sister becomes entirely confused.

The play is directed by Miss Vinnie Lee Walker, class adviser, and Miss Dorothy Baumgartner, student teacher.

Mrs. Alice Yeager Died Thursday In St. Petersburg

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Montgomery received the shocking news that Mrs. Alice Yeager died Thursday morning in St. Petersburg, Fla., where she had been spending the winter.

The remains will be brought to her home here for burial, but definite arrangements are not made yet.

Mrs. Yeager made a trip home about a week ago to attend the funeral of her brother, Mr. Wiley Huff, and had just returned to St. Petersburg.

Senator Lister Hill Wins Passage Of Public Health Bill

Senator Lister Hill has won Senate approval of his local public health units bill to help the states their counties and cities to enlarge their public health programs and hire additional doctors, nurses and technicians. Low income states as Alabama will receive the larger share of federal assistance.

Hailing passage as "a great victory in the battle against disease," Hill said the bill "will be most helpful to small cities and rural areas that now have fewest facilities for health protection."

Culminating three years effort, Hill, as floor leader, steered the bill through a two day Senate fight. "Forty million Americans are without full time public health service," Hill declared as he plead for "urgently needed help in our struggle against cancer, heart disease, tuberculosis, mental disease, infantile paralysis. These and such other specialized programs as maternal and child care rely upon the local health offices for carrying the benefits directly to the people."

"Neglect of our health is a source of national concern; disease is seriously weakening our vital manpower resources," Hill said, citing the currently higher physical rejection rate under selective service than during World War II. He showed that the equivalent of seventeen infantry divisions have been rejected for physical defects since Korea. "Think of it!" Hill said. "Three hundred thousand young men between the ages of 19 and 25—the cream of our defense manpower—found to be physically unfit for service."

Declaring that the heavy demands of civil defense render the strengthening of our local health services urgent, Hill said the local health officer is the key figure in the development through local civil defense health services of protective measures against unconventional methods of attack, such as biological, chemical or atomic warfare, that directly affect the civilian population.

Hill said that by building upon the existing health service his bill "avoids the expense and duplication" that would arise from creating an entirely new program.

Sponsored by the national congress of parents and teachers, and supported by a long list of other national organizations, the bill, Hill explained, provides assistance for carrying forward state plans at the state level, following the "tested pattern" set by his hospital and health center construction act.

The Mulkey field was a vast lake of muddy water up into the day Thursday. It takes several hours for Shoal Creek to carry such a flood through the narrow openings under Montevallo's three bridges that span the stream. They are about equal to three dams with narrow spillways.

Needlecraft News

by Nancy Baxter

YOU can do sewing by hand, but for serious sewing you need a sewing machine. More women now own sewing machines than ever before, and even if you don't have one of your own you can plan to do your stitching at a local sewing center.

If you're not acquainted with the workings of your machine, you will find complete instructions contained in the manual that you received when you purchased your machine. Your local machine shops have special instructors who will help you to get the most service from their make of machine, show you how to use the attachments and how to keep the machine in good running order.

Occasionally you may run into minor difficulties in your machine sewing and for this reason I thought you might find the following suggestions helpful. If your needle thread breaks, look for: improper threading, tight tensions, thread too fine or too coarse for needle, needle blunt, bent or set incorrectly, presser foot not properly adjusted.

If your machine skips stitches, look for: needle improperly set into needle bar, needle too long or too short, needle blunt or bent, needle too fine for thread.

If your stitching puckers the material, look for: tight tensions, blunt needle, stitch too long—especially on fine material, fabric too light in weight to carry over feed—for this, use tissue under the fabric.

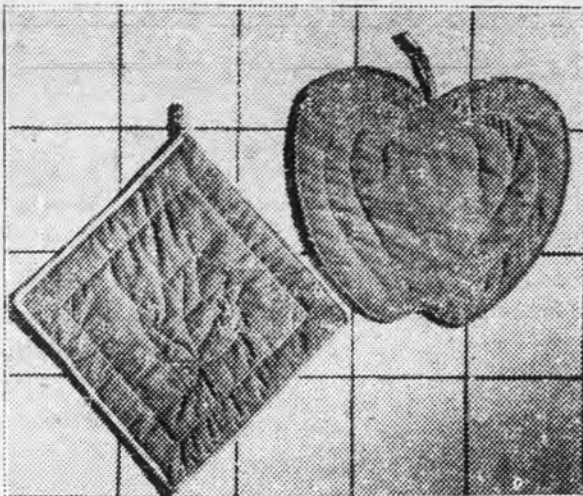

If your bobbin or shuttle thread breaks, look for: incorrect threading of bobbin case, tight lower tension, bobbin wound too tightly or irregularly, bobbin wound too full.

If your machine works heavily, look for: dust, lint, or threads clogging the working parts, lack of oil, thread ends caught in the shuttle or bobbin case.

To avoid breaking machine needles; use needle of correct size, use a good quality needle that is right for your machine, see that the presser foot or attachment is securely fastened, use a heavy needle when sewing with heavy thread on thick seams or heavy material, let the feed carry the work along without your pushing it.

Here's a simple project you can finish quickly with the aid of your faithful sewing machine. There's no excuse for shabby potholders when attractive new ones are so easy to make. Machine embroidery, so simply done with pearl cotton in the bobbin, adds colorful decoration to this red apple and green square. The stitching is yellow as is the binding for the green holder. Red piping and a green loop stem complete the apple. For directions, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Dept. of this paper and ask for Leaflet No. E-2471, TWO STITCHED POTHOLDERS.

Montevallo Wins First Game 13-5

In a practice game Tuesday Montevallo won its first game of 1951 baseball at Montevallo 13-5.

Montevallo opened up in the first frame scoring 6 runs on 5 hits and never was headed through out the game.

Coach Fisher used three pitchers, Sanderson, Splawn and Gentry. All gave a good account of themselves with Sanderson striking out 6 men in 3 innings.

Bunn and Bice were the only Montevallo men getting over one hit—each collected two. Montevallo made 12 hits to Columbiana 5, but one of Columbiana's was a round tripper made by Wood.

Calera will be here Friday at 3 p.m. for our second practice game. The season gets under way next week.

Tips for A Catcher

Try to catch ball in front of your body, using boxer steps to reach it.

Keep your fingers closed in receiving the ball.

Give pitcher a good target on every pitch.

Don't bat your eyes when receiving the ball.

Take plenty of home plate on close plays.

Tell the player fielding a bunt where to play it. Also tell first baseman what to do on throw in from outfield.

Be sure that you hide your signals.

Back up first base when no one is on second or third.

Have pick-off signals with rest of the infielders.

Mask off on pop flies and get under it with feet spread and catch ball with mitt in front of body.

A good arm is necessary. Never let the batter worry you. Use plenty of chatter.

Take only one step in throwing and use overhanded snap throw. Study each batter in batting practice.

Next week—coaching the bases.

Lasses said he waked up and heard the rush of water flowing under his bed. He poked a hand down to the floor to see how deep the water was, and came up with a five-pound catfish.

When the flood in Shoal Creek receded Thursday it was found that the foot bridge at Big Spring had been carried away. The barbecue pits on the picnic grounds were flooded but appear to have stayed put.

Supt. Terry Says Back To The 3-R's

Alabama education director, W. J. Terry has won two fights for what he calls a "return to the fundamentals" of education in the state.

In a meeting of the State Board of Education superintendent Terry was successful in his fight against the adoption of seven textbooks which had been recommended by the state textbook committee. Included were dictionaries for three class groups, history books for two class groups, and mathematics and biology books for one class group each.

Terry also obtained permission to reorganize the state department of education into two sections. By his plan there will be a division of elementary education and a division of secondary education. Each of the two new agencies will have a separate director. One director will be in charge of instruction in elementary schools and the other in junior and senior high schools.

Included in the reorganization will be the placing of the trade schools and apprentice training program under separate supervisors. The plan will become effective July 1.

Tin Can Seen as Prime Influence on U. S. Life

The ordinary tin can has earned itself a place alongside the automobile, telephone, radio, and electric light as a prime influence upon the pattern of daily living.

So declares the American Can company in reporting that the average U. S. family last year opened about 750 cans of food and non-food products. Total consumption for the year was 30 billion metal containers, of which two-thirds were used for foodstuffs.

The consumption of canned foods alone has increased 10-fold since the beginning of the century—from approximately two billion cans in 1900 to around 20 billion last year, the firm said.

The use of metal containers for non-food products such as paint, beer, motor oil and tobacco has grown at an even faster rate—to an annual consumption of close to 10 billion in 1949.

Analyzing the effects on various products, the company said the big jump in use of canned products had not diverted items from other markets but had enlarged existing outlets and frequently developed completely new cash outlets for basic crops and other products long in use.

Uncle Sam Says

We are living today in the automatic age, the era of automatic home appliances, of gadgets. Your government has made available an automatic way of saving by the Payroll Savings Plan where you work and the Bond-A-Month Plan at your bank. The purchase of U. S. ### Miss Abi Russell Reports On Library

Eighty-one Montevallo residents and 265 out-of-town residents were registered and used the Alabama College Library during 1950 according to the facts given in the annual report on the library prepared by Miss Abi Russell, librarian.

The report further says that the average number of books charged during the winter session to students, Montevallo residents and out-of-town borrowers was 35½, while faculty members checked out 55-2/3 volumes.

During the year 1949-50, 1879 volumes were added to the library bringing the total number of books in its collection to 57,493. Of the 1879 new volumes, 157 were gifts.

During the year 48,021 volumes were circulated and approximately 53,533 were used in the library. Of this number, social science books were the most popular, 7,359 being circulated.

Streptomycin

Streptomycin, costly and scarce until recently, is now coming into wide use in treating diseases of livestock and pets. It is one of the group of antibiotic drugs obtained from molds that grow in the soil. Veterinarians report that it gives excellent results against certain types of kidney infection in dogs and against swine erysipelas in turkeys. It also is being used in combination with other drugs in treating infections of cattle, including bovine mastitis.

If Your Stomach Is Like A Gas Factory

When you eat a meal and it turns right into gas, it's a sign your food is not digesting quickly enough. It just lays there and ferments. So you are in misery with gas for hours afterward.

Many Montevallo people used to feel that way before they got CERTA-VIN. This new medicine digests food faster and better. Taken before meals it works with your food. Gas pains go! Inches of bloat vanish! Contains Vitamin B-1 with Iron to give pep and to make nerves stronger. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering. Get CERTA-VIN. — Wilson Drug Co.

Survey Shows Eating Habits At High School

In connection with a unit on food and digestion, the Sr. I biology classes conducted a survey for the purpose of determining to what extent the students of the Montevallo High School practice good diet habits during the school day. The results were as follows:

56.8% of the entire high school eat in the cafeteria.

27% of the entire high school eat at home or bring lunches.

17% of the entire high school eat downtown or at the snack bar.

The Sr. III's have the highest percentage of students eating in the cafeteria. They also ranked at the top in spending the most money per student per day, 31 cents.

The Jr. II's have the greatest number of students eating downtown or at the snack bar.

The Jr. I's have the smallest number of students eating downtown.

An average of 25 cents per student a day is spent for food.

Mr. Whaley and Mr. Kelly are not able to circulate yet, but we are glad to hear they are on the mend.

"Mr. Watson, come here.
I want you."

"Mr. Bell, I heard
every word you
said—distinctly!"

...and the Telephone was born!

On March 10, 1876, in a boarding house in Boston, the telephone carried its first intelligible sentence. Alexander Graham Bell was about to try to send his voice over a new transmitter he had devised. His assistant, Thomas Watson, was in another room, holding a receiver to his ear. Suddenly, Mr. Bell upset the acid of a battery over his clothes. He called out, "Mr. Watson, come here; I want you!" An instant later Watson burst into the room, shouting, "Mr. Bell, I heard every word you said—distinctly!"

IN THE 75 YEARS since then, the Telephone industry has grown up to transform our everyday pattern of living. For millions, the telephone has become an indispensable aid—in business, government, the home, the farm, and in maintaining family and community ties.

These 75 years have brought an amazing parade of advancements in communication—switchboards, cables carrying hundreds of wires on poles or underground, the vacuum tube, the dial system, coaxial cable and microwave radio relay for transmitting hundreds of simultaneous calls or television programs, telephone service to ships and vehicles.

Today America has 62% of the world's telephones and enjoys the most and the best telephone service in the world... another great achievement of American ingenuity under a system of free enterprise and individual incentive and reward.

Each year the telephone becomes more useful, and more essential to the prosperity and security of the nation. Today it unites the country, playing a vital role in mobilization and production for defense.

Here in the South, more than 52,000 skilled employees and nearly 3½ million Southern Bell telephones are on the job—more than twice as many as we had when World War II began. And there are four times as many Long Distance circuits. In all, we have built more than $670 million worth of new facilities in a little over five years, and we're still busy at the job.

All this growth—and maintaining the financial strength to keep on expanding—will be increasingly important to the South and the Nation in the days ahead.—Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Toothpick Goes Glamorous With Colors, Flavor

MERRILL, Wis.—The toothpick has gone glamorous, taking on colors and flavor.

The Merrill Woodware Co. was in need of greater market. The answer was found in red, green and blue toothpicks and mint flavors added.

They were first exposed to a market in the south and were such a success they will appear nationally. To all appearances the firm is going to have the biggest year in its 45 year history, thanks to the new twists on an old stand-by.

Since the firm was purchased by W. D. Brown, Jr., in 1948, the emphasis has been on more toothpicks. The firm has spent $50,000 in developing and constructing in its own shops the intricate machinery required to produce 15 to 20 million toothpicks a day.

Largest Manufacturer

In 1950 the firm will stamp out 125,000 cases of toothpicks (30,000 to a case) for the world market, compared to 20,000 cases last year.

The big production gain will make the firm the nation's biggest toothpick maker. One reason, and probably the main one, is the firm's new and unique machinery which can stamp out toothpicks hundreds at a time from clean, straight basswood "ribbons."

Buying only top class basswood, the firm cuts it into two foot lengths which are then shaved into "ribbons" a little thicker than a toothpick and a little wider than a toothpick is long. The ribbons are fed into dies on the stamping machines, which punch out flat toothpicks. These are cleaned and polished, then dried before coloring and flavoring.

Flavor is Added

As the toothpicks move down the drying platform, they are jigged and bathed in moving air until they are dry enough to set off a delicate tilting mechanism. This drops them into a sorting and rejection machine.

Flavor is added in a separate soaking and drying operation.

In addition to the packaged retail toothpicks, the company also packs large cartons of loose toothpicks for earload sale. Four such cars this year were sent to markets in China, Japan and other eastern countries.

"You'd be surprised how many people still use toothpicks as toothpicks," said Frank Schuster, manager of the firm's Tomahawk plant. "But a great deal of them are used for food preparation and handling, such as at parties. People like the colored models. They help to brighten up a table."

Uncle Sam Says

Andrew Jackson, our seventh President, said: "Save your money and thrive or pay the price in poverty and disgrace." Ten years ago millions of Americans started buying U. S. Defense Bonds. The money invested in those Bonds helped to finance the greatest war in history, and it helped finance the owners in carrying out many needed projects. Join the ranks of millions of wage earners who are providing security for their country and themselves by enrolling for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

Mrs. Sapp Gave Cooking Pointers To Home Ec Girls

Mrs. Sarah Sapp, home economist with the Alabama Power Company, gave demonstrations on the use of the electric range in the Montevallo High School home economics department on Thursday and Friday, March 22 and 23.

The demonstration was given for the special benefit of Mrs. McCaughy's first year home economics girls and brought out many principles of cookery which should be helpful to beginning cooking students.

The girls learned about the two general methods of cooking meat, moist and dry. They were given information on the cuts of meat to buy for each method of cooking.

Mrs. Sapp pointed out that the deep well cooker is one of the most versatile parts of the electric range. To illustrate this, she cooked almost a whole meal in the cooker. This meal included onions. It was interesting to note that the onions did not flavor the other foods. Mrs. Sapp explained to the girls that this was managed by keeping the cooker steaming during the entire cooking period and taking the food up as soon as the current was turned off.

The demonstrator took advantage of this opportunity to inform the girls that it would not be necessary to keep the current on high to keep the food cooking. She turned the current high until she got a live steam from the cooker and then she turned the current to low.

During the class period of less than two hours Mrs. Sapp prepared three almost complete meals, demonstrating the use of the broiler, deep well cooker, and the skillet. They did not include salads and desserts. The food was very attractively served.

The girls enjoyed the demonstration. They gained some valuable information from Mrs. Sapp and welcome her back for another visit any time.

Miss Betty Shadix, Mr. Patrick Wyatt Married Last Sunday

The marriage of Miss Betty Lucille Shadix and Mr. William Patrick Wyatt was solemnized last Sunday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock in the Methodist Church at Orrville. Rev. John O. Ellisor officiated.

Betty had as maid of honor Miss Jeanella Dunning. Pat had Bill Pendleton as best man.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Harvie Shadix.

The little church was filled with a large gathering of friends and well-wishers to witness the ceremony.

Immediately after the ceremony the bride and groom sped away in a shower of rice for a honeymoon trip to the Gulf Coast.

They will be at home in Montevallo where Betty is a student at Alabama College, and Pat is the main cog in the machinery of the Times Printing Company.

New Plastic Planes

With a recently developed rubberlike mold material it may now be possible to build a plane in one piece, except for control surfaces and movable parts, reports National Patent Council. After extensive experiments, A. Derr Golladay, an engineer, chemist and plane designer, of the Golladay Aeronautical laboratory, has invented a process for producing a material that, it is claimed, can be made into a mold of any thickness or shape.

Northern Alaska

An abandoned land of approximately 70,000 square miles is northern Alaska, from the towering ice peaks of the Brooks mountains to the Arctic coast. Two or three generations ago it contained a population of more than 3,000 nomad caribou hunters. They were exceptionally tall Eskimos with apparently a strong Athabaskan Indian intermixture. Now a single group of less than 40 is left alive.

Master Showman

Phineas T. Barnum got his first real start in show business by managing the affairs of a remarkable juggler who had an equally remarkable dislike for soap and water. Once Barnum had prevailed upon the worthy gentleman to take a bath, he had no trouble building him into a popular entertainer. The world's greatest showman and founder of the Barnum and Bailey Circus, was born July, 1810.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN

Dudley Pendleton took third place in the district F.F.A. speaking contest at Sylacauga last Friday. Dudley was chosen to represent Shelby County in this contest last month when he won the county elimination held at Montevallo.

Mr. Kenneth Burgess and Mr. Ernest Bell, student teachers from Auburn, arrived last week to be with Mr. Thornton in agriculture classes for the next six weeks. Mr. Burgess is from Holly Pond, in Cullman County, and Mr. Bell is from Fort Payne.

Prospective gas customers are urged to get facilities installed as soon as possible. It is a good time to do it now so that all the problems can be ironed out before you desperately need the service next fall. Then, too, materials are now scarce, and, by all indications will be more scarce as the weeks go by. The fellow who says "I will wait until cold weather comes again before I do anything about gas" is more likely to get in a jam. If you are lucky to have a meter already installed, you better hold on to it. If you let it be taken out, it will be used to serve somebody who is smarter than you are, and you may not be able to get another one in a year.

Mary Katherine Hicks and Clarice Chism attended the spring high school orchestra festival at Auburn. This annual music event is sponsored by the Alabama Music Educators Association.

Alabama Power Co. Installs Two-Way Radios In Service Trucks of This District

To better serve its electric customers in the Montevallo district which includes Bibb, Shelby, and parts of Chilton and Tuscaloosa counties, the Alabama Power Co. has recently installed two-way radio communication equipment at the district office here and in ten of the service trucks and two of the line crew trucks. The base station at Montevallo has an output power of 60 watts, and each truck is equipped with a mobile unit of 30 watts. This makes it possible to communicate with the aerial patrol plane which makes monthly patrols of the transmission lines in the district. This patrol plane is also available for emergency patrols on the transmission lines. In the event of telephone line failures, it will be permissible to use the radio equipment for communication with other towns.

There are over 10,200 customers in this district served from approximately 1,000 miles of lines. The company's rural line construction program which has been underway for the past several years is nearing completion, and at the present time, approximately 98% of the farms in this district have electric service available. New lines constructed during this program have increased the number of interconnecting points and make the use of radio communication of much more value in operating the lines.

The installation of this radio equipment represents an expenditure of approximately $10,000 and is in keeping with the company's policy of providing more prompt and dependable electric service for its customers.

Alabama art lovers will have the opportunity to see the largest exhibit of world famous paintings ever shown in the South when the new Birmingham Museum of Art opens its doors to the public for the first time at 3 p.m. next Monday, April 9.

I was told this week that somebody said that somebody else said that somebody is fixing to build two thousand new houses in Montevallo. That certainly seemed to be "stretching the blanket" a bit. The proposal of the public housing authority is to construct 52 units of residence buildings — 32 units for Negroes and 20 units for whites. Plans for this construction are proceeding according to schedule. It is expected that determination will be made in a short while as to the location of the projects.

Final inspection and approval of Montevallo's new town building was made Wednesday. After securing the hearty approval of the town officials and the engineers, Mr. Curry Norris, construction superintendent for Jones & Hardy, contractors, turned over the keys to the Mayor. The new building is a jam-up job, and we congratulate Mr. Norris and Jones & Hardy for doing a piece of work that will be the pride and joy of the Town for years to come.

The Town's business offices will be moved to the new building this week. This will include business operations of the water board, the gas system, the police department, the Town Clerk's office, and Mayor's Court. It will be a while yet before complete fixtures and facilities can be installed and arranged permanently.

There are 1,189 miles of navigable inland waterways in Alabama at the present time.

Radford Price and Arthur Garrett try out the new Alabama Power Co. two-way radio communications system.

Rev. Pitts Speaks At High School

"Communism can not and will not control the world," said Rev. Charles Pitts, Cleburne, Texas, minister, in a speech at Montevallo High School last Thursday. He held the audience spell bound as he discussed "Americanism vs. Communism."

Mr. Pitts, who is pastor of the First Baptist Church, Cleburne, Texas, conducted a revival at the Montevallo Baptist Church last week.

The speaker stated that the strength of communism lies in its promises of security, the devotion of its leaders, and its forceful propaganda methods. He pointed out that communism is contrary to Americanism in political, economic and religious concepts.

Mr. Pitts proposed four things to combat communism in America — the development of strong men and women; a greater appreciation of our heritage; faith in our freedom; and acceptance of the responsibility to help fight the forces of communism.

Montevallo Wins Second Game

Montevallo bombarded Calera's three pitchers Friday afternoon for 19 hits and 28 runs to win its second practice game of the year. Sanderson, Splawn and Genry did the pitching for Montevallo and it was an excellent job, giving up 3 hits. All of Montevallo's hitters were tuned up for business. Crowe cracked 4 for 4. White and Ham-macker hit for the circuit in the 19-hit assault.

Montevallo opens its regular season Tuesday, April 3, against Calera.

Coaching the Bases

Study your opponents arms for accuracy and strength.

Change your signals after each game or change them during the game, if the opponents are catching on to them.

Play it safe when behind in the score.

Talk to your players when they are on bases.

Try to catch the catcher's signals in order to relay information to batter if hitter wishes this information.

Know the speed of your own players.

Always know who is your next hitter in order to do a better job of coaching. If he is a good batter, you might hold a runner up at third when you are in doubt about him scoring, or vice versa.

Take more chances on a passed ball at home if two men are out. Play it conservative with none or one out.

Both hands in the air if you want the runner to stop and not slide.

Both hands down if you want him to slide.

Wave your arms if you want the runner to keep running.

Be sure that the runner tags up on every fly ball regardless if it looks like a hit.

Keep giving false signals on every play so as to keep opponents from catching your signals.

Bethel Home Club Elects Officers

Mrs. C. P. Carroll was elected president of the Bethel Home Demonstration Club. The club organized last Thursday at Mrs. Carroll's home.

Officers elected were: Vice-President, Mrs. S. L. Crowson; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Robert Schofield; reporter, Mrs. Robert Schofield; song leader, Miss Betty Shoemaker; county council director, Mrs. B. F. Roper; clothing and handicraft, Mrs. B. F. Roper; home management, Mrs. E. L. Steele; house furnishings, Mrs. H. A. Seale; foods, Miss Betty Shoemaker; food preservation, Mrs. O. M. Perry; family life, Mrs. Harold Morris; recreation and program, Mrs. Harold Morris; Farm Bureau, Mrs. S. L. Crowson; citizenship, Mrs. J. A. Cates; rural youth, Miss Betty Shoemaker; community activities, Mrs. Bill Bazemore.

Mrs. Smith, Mrs. R. C. Schofield and Mrs. T. W. Martin were also present.

The hostess served refreshments to 12 members. The club will meet the second Thursday of each month. Mrs. S. L. Crowson will be hostess in April.

Gets Honor Degree

DR. O. C. CARMICHAEL

Dr. O. C. Carmichael, of New York City, president of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, will be awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Humanities by Furman University at its 125th anniversary academic convocation April 20, at Greenville, S. C.

Dr. Carmichael has served as a member of the board of trustees of the Carnegie Foundation since 1938, and became president of the Foundation in 1946. He is a former president of Alabama College and chancellor of Vanderbilt University. A Rhodes scholar, he has been awarded honorary degrees by 11 other colleges and universities over the nation.

Rotary Candidate

JESSE C. HEARN

When Rotarians from Montevallo attend the district conference in Sheffield April 20-22, one feature of interest will be the choice of a governor for District 238, from a three-man field of candidates.

One of these candidates is Jesse C. Hearn, presented by the Roanoke Rotary Club and endorsed by the Ashland and LaFayette clubs. Mr. Hearn is an insurance man.

Jack McGaughy, Mike Mahan, Agee Kelly, Ed Givhan and Miss Nell Holcomb represented Montevallo High School at the Alabama Association of Student Councils held in Mobile last week.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Alice Yeager

Funeral services were held for Mrs. Alice Yeager at the Presbyterian Church in Montevallo last Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock. The Reverend Stanley Gould officiated.

Burial was in Montevallo cemetery with Walton, of Columbiana in charge.

Officials of the Montevallo Presbyterian Church served as pallbearers.

Mrs. Yeager died suddenly in St. Petersburg, Florida, on last Thursday morning. For several years since retiring from her business, the Yeager Studio, in Montevallo, Mrs. Yeager has been spending the winter months in St. Petersburg.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Helia Montgomery of Montevallo; one grandson, Bob Montgomery, with the Alaskan Air Command; two brothers, C. A. Huff, Atlanta, and W. F. Huff, Danville, Va.; two sisters, Mrs. O. L. Alexander, Birmingham, and Mrs. Maude Stone, Atlanta.

Mrs. Edge Died In Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Willie K. Woolley Edge died at Washington, D.C. on Sunday March 25. She was the wife of Harvey A. Edge, and sister of M. E. Woolley of Birmingham, E. L. Woolley, of Corpus Christi, Texas, S. R. Woolley, of Montevallo, Mrs. H. C. Woolley, of Birmingham, Mrs. J. W. Seale of Rock Spring, Wyoming, Miss Mary Woolley of Montevallo, and Mrs. M. W. Lawley of Birmingham.

Funeral services were held at Demaine's Funeral Home, Alexandria, Virginia, on Wednesday, March 28. Interment was in Arlington Cemetery.

Caldwell, Griffith At Auburn Meeting

Two Alabama College representatives will take part in the meeting of the Alabama Historical Association in Auburn this week, April 6 and 7.

They are Dr. John T. Caldwell who will preside at the Friday evening session.

Miss Lucille Griffith, a member of the Social Science Division, will read a paper she has prepared on "Mrs. A. F. Hopkins and the Alabama Military Hospitals." The setting is during the War Between the States and the years following.

STUDY CLUB

The Montevallo Study Club held its regular monthly meeting Wednesday afternoon March 28, in the home of Mrs. Frank Morgan. The business session was presided over by Mrs. L. H. Hubbard, president. Mrs. Terrell Bridges was program leader for the afternoon and reviewed Mizener's "The Far Side of Paradise."

Following the program a social hour followed.

The April meeting will be the 19th at Red Acres, the home of Mrs. Frank Baker.

The Pause That Depresses

Montgomery Advertiser

By common consent, of all ordeals, a trip to the dentist is among the worst. It is not so much the actual pain as the mental anguish; with grief as with joy, anticipation is likely to amount to more than the event comes to.

What phase of such an experience is the most trying? It may well be argued that the keenest anguish is endured right after you are seated in the chair. The neat and nifty young woman who acts as mistress of ceremonies has retired; the dentist himself is taking a brief time out between patients. For a few moments you are left alone.

The deadly drill dangles ominously in front of you. Neatly arrayed close by are various other tools of the profession. They grip and hold your attention with a gruesome fascination. There is something about them that brings to mind the account in Scott's Lady of the Lake of the contents of a medieval torture chamber—

*And many a hideous engine grim,
For wrenching joint, and crushing limb,
By artist formed who deemed it shame
And sin to give their work a name.*

This dramatic pause was often resorted to by ancient masters of the art of torture. The victim would be left alone with instruments soon to be applied to him, given a chance to sweat and reflect on the fate in store unless he broke down and came across with ransom or information or whatever else his captors desired to extract.

But in your case, the dentist seeks to extract nothing except a tooth or two, and certain shekels by way of compensation, and there is no way on earth you can beg or buy your way out. You are in for it, and that's that.

From your window, you can get a good view of the free world. Outside, life goes on as usual; you can see people passing to and fro in pursuit of business or pleasure. None lift their eyes to the chamber where you await doom, and if they did, it wouldn't do you any good.

The spell is broken when the dentist steps forward; there is exchange of greetings and he then proceeds. Chances are, the reality is not half as bad as you had feared. But to a chap with a vivid imagination those few moments can be nerve wrecking. It is a situation where the stolid, unimaginative oaf has it all over the sensitive soul with a lively imagination.

Veteran Farmers From Walker County Visit Rogers Farm

Acting as hostess to a group of Walker County veterans, Mrs. E. E. Rogers and her sister, Mrs. Brady, gave them food for thought and a delicious buffet dinner.

At the Rogers farm, Wilton, 7 veteran farm trainees, led by veteran teacher, Everett Hudson, were welcomed by Shelby County's head veteran teacher McClure and training officer, Tom Elliott, of veterans administration. Soil conservation aids, Starcher and Smith explained the cooperative agreement under which the Rogers have developed their farm to its present stage. Future plans were indicated and the meadow outlets to be built this month were staked out.

Mr. Hudson and his students were impressed both with the farm program and the very high quality Herefords.

After lunch the visitors were shown pastures and cattle of the Alabama College dairy by dairyman I. P. Johnson.

Enroute back to their home the visitors were given a look over one more Shelby county showplace by its friendly owner, L. L. Stephenson, Jr.

Such tours, as part of the veterans agricultural training program, have been a major means towards the encouragement and inspiration of the trainees. It is considered a privilege for us to be given an opportunity to help conduct them and point out various ways in which active participation in soil conservation districts can benefit.

The out of county visitors were Milton Douglas, Carona Lucian Kendrick and Bill Odum, Carbon Hill; Warren Owens, Empire; Fayette Sherer and Virgil Tidwell of Jasper.

News Notes From Vincent 4-H Club

Virginia Beavers is an outstanding leader in the Vincent Junior 4-H girls' club.

She is beginning her third year in 4-H club work. Virginia has been skirt revue winner and the neighborhood leader for two years. She was song leader and reporter in her club. She is active in church and Sunday school and community work. She is above the average student in the seventh grade.

Virginia is 12 years old and is the daughter of the H. L. Beavers at Vincent. Miss Inez Reeves is teacher sponsor of the Vincent Junior Girls Club.

The Sterrett 4-H club has put up community signs at each entrance to the community. Pointers on the same posts indicate the directions to other points. These 4-Hers have also cleared the school grounds of honeysuckle and other growth.

Sterrett 4-Hers under leadership of their teachers, Mr. and Mrs. Simon Blackerby, say "We have enjoyed making and erecting the community signs and hope they will help in directing motorists who pass through our community. We are also enjoying our larger playground."

New car and truck dealers in the Montevallo area and throughout the state have pledged their full cooperation to Governor Gordon Persons and other authorities in a concerted effort to reduce Alabama's high rate of death and injury on streets and highways.

How Social Security Applies To Persons Running A Business

If you work for yourself, you should not include your name on the quarterly social security tax return which you will file for your employees in April. So says Martin C. Folmar, manager of the Birmingham social security office.

Mr. Folmar says that many business men who come under social security as self-employed are under the impression that they should report their net income by the quarter in the same manner as their employees are reported. This assumption is not correct.

A self-employed individual is under social security only if the net income from his business is $400 or more per year. In most cases, it is not possible to determine the amount of net income from a business until the end of the year, since profits in earlier months may be offset by losses occurring later. For that reason, the self-employed are required to report only once a year.

This report will be made at the same time the annual income tax return is filed. A form for this purpose will be furnished by the collector of internal revenue along with the income tax forms.

Although the self-employed will not report their earnings for 1951 until January, 1952, Mr. Folmar stated that they will receive credit on their social security account just the same as if they had reported each quarter.

Pelham 4-H Club Sunday Services

Pelham 4-H boys and girls recently observed 4-H Sunday at the Pelham Methodist Church.

Mrs. Herbert Poole, 4-H adult leader, sent in the following report:

Previous to the service, 4-H clubbers met with adult leaders and cleaned the church. Also several adult leaders made 4-H emblems from green construction paper, putting in the H's with white ink. For the girls, headbands were fashioned by pasting the emblem on a band of white crepe paper. They also had an emblem as a corsage. The boys wore arm bands, and against the white blouses and shirts it was very colorful. Our altar flowers was a vase of bridal wreath and greenery. The adult leaders wore white choir robes with the green emblem worn as a corsage. The minister and the steward directing the 4-H boys and our violinist wore small emblems as boutonnieres. The pews were marked with white and green crepe paper topped by a 4-H emblem. Following the affirmation of faith, two club presidents led the 4-H pledge which was included in the church bulletin. Two 4-H boys took the offering. "Give of Your Best to the Master" was played by the pianist and violinist. They did an excellent job of timing, thanks to our steward's leadership. Preceding the sermon the 4-Hers sang as a group "I Would Be True." The sermon was beautifully fitted to the theme "Working together for World Understanding," with the 4-H pledge analyzed along those lines. All the songs were mission ones and the very simple service was most impressive.

TELEPHONE LINES ARE HUMMING FOR DEFENSE

This country's telephone service is one of its greatest assets in time of emergency. It unites millions of people—helps thousands of businesses to get things done quicker—and is a vital part of our national defense.

In the past five years Southern Bell has nearly doubled the number of telephones in service . . . nearly doubled Long Distance circuits, tripled rural telephones and made the service faster and better. And we're busy right now providing more telephone facilities throughout the South—to keep pace with its growing prosperity and expanding defense activities.

All this growth—and maintaining the financial strength to keep on expanding—will be increasingly important to the South and the Nation in the days ahead. One reason this country can out-produce any other is because it has the most and best telephone service in the world.

Here's the simple tax form that an estimated 25,000 Alabama housewives will file under the new social security law. Internal Revenue Department will mail these forms within the next few days to those housewives who have requested them. The proper way to request the form is to get a copy of a little blue booklet from your local post office or the Bureau of Internal Revenue in Birmingham. On the back of the booklet is a post card which the housewives must fill out and mail to the Collector of Internal Revenue in order to receive the tax form this quarter.

In future the forms will be automatically mailed each quarter by the Bureau of Internal Revenue to those housewives who have filled out the post card.

Housewives make these reports for all household workers who have worked at least 24 days between January 1 and March 31, and have been paid at least $50 in cash wages. The tax for the first quarter of 1951 is due now and may be paid until April 30.

Hisel gives HADACOL to both of her children.

Here is what Mrs. Hisel says:

"My daughter has taken two bottles of HADACOL and she has been eating more than before and also sleeps better. I think HADA-
COL is the best thing for children who do not have an appetite. My daughter is four years old. Before taking HADACOL my daughter complained of her stomach hurting her, and I got her a bottle of HADACOL and she says her stomach doesn't bother her any more.
I think HADACOL is wonderful.
I am also giving HADACOL to my three-year-old daughter."

HADACOL Is So Effective

An important thing about HAD-
ACOL is that you get Vitamins
B<sub>1</sub>, B<sub>2</sub>, Niacin and Iron in liquid form, which means that they are quickly absorbed and dispatched to the blood stream, ready to go right to work. HADACOL helps build up the hemoglobin content of the blood (when Iron is needed) to carry these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every part of your body.

Health Regulations Govern Places Selling Food, Drinks

Since the regulations governing eating establishments, meat markets and soda fountains have been in effect, the above purveyors of food and drinks have improved their methods and equipment.

These establishments are required to comply with the regulations, first, in regard to physical structure and proper equipment; and, second, in regard to the methods used in the conduct of their business.

When the first part of these regulations are complied with, the establishment is issued a permit by the health department.

It is then inspected from time to time and scored.

The score sheet with the score made is then posted in a conspicuous place.

This is done in order that patrons of that particular place of business may be able to see if the place is being operated in a safe and satisfactory manner.

The permit can be revoked by the county health officer at any time if it is deemed necessary to protect the public health.—Dr. E.
F. Sloan, County Health Officer.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN

Dr. Charles N. Parnell, of Maplesville, father of our doctor L. C. Parnell, died last week. For as long as most of us can remember, Dr. Charles has been a leading citizen and popular doctor in the Maplesville neighborhood. Some years ago his health condition began to restrict his activities.

Another of the old-timers of the Maplesville community passed out of the picture of life a few weeks ago. He was the incomparable Hill J. Foshee. With Tom Crumpton, Dr. Charles Parnell, John W. Foshee and Hill Foshee gone, there is only Cal Foshee left of those whom we knew as the prime movers in the doing of things at Maplesville in the last half century.

Montevallo's Town business is now being conducted by the employees at the new office building just erected as a part of our new natural gas system. The Council held its first meeting at the new building Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Butler of Birmingham were here last Saturday to attend the funeral of Miss Harrison, at Ryan's. The deceased was one of the old residents of the Underwood community.

The Town of Montevallo has bought a machine that is a combination grass and weed cutter and street sweeper. We are thereby getting ready for keeping up with the weeds and grass on some of the vacant lots that usually get overgrown and ugly in the summer time.

Plans are being made to rebuild the foot bridge at Big Spring. It should be ready for use again by the time for swimming and community recreation activities, and that will not be long.

An ordinance for a gas code has been adopted by the Town Council to govern the installation of services and the operation of same in connection with the natural gas system. Persons who are planning to use natural gas will be required to follow the code for rules of installation.

Final settlement with the contractor on installation of our gas system is planned for next Monday. If you have any objections to the job in any way, tell it to the Town Clerk before Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bell At Torch Club Confab

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Bell are in St. Petersburg, Florida, to attend the annual Torch Club Convention of the Liberty National Life Insurance Company as guests of the Company.

Mr. Bell represents this territory which is in the Homewood district of the Company.

Membership in the Torch Club is the highest honor that can be attained by a member of the Liberty National Company and is accorded only to those who achieve an outstanding production and policy-owner service record during the year.

Retail Sales Decrease

Net retail sales for Shelby County in January showed a 13.6 per cent decrease from December. Only three counties reported greater sales in January than in December. These were Coosa, Monroe and Russell.

Mr. Stutts, our local manager of the telephone company, was in Montevallo Monday "looking for trouble." So far as we know, he didn't find any. Phone troubles seem to be the least of our worries around here. The only thing Southern Bell lacks of being a perfect utility is to fix its service so we can have it without having to pay a bill every month. Not much hope of that, as the people who work to produce the service must have wages, and they want more and more, just like all the rest of us. More wages means bigger phone bills. Looks like the spiral will never stop spiraling.

Oh, maybe it will. Here is one answer to the riddle. It is suggested by Dr. Charlie Acker:

Four thousand years from now—What?

"I pledge allegiance to the Democratic Party and the Roosevelt family for which it stands, one family, indispensable, with divorces and captains for all.

"Four thousand years ago Moses said to his people, 'Take up your shovels, mount your asses, load your camels, and ride with me into the Promised Land.'

"Four thousand years later Mr. Roosevelt said to his people, 'Throw down your shovels, sit on your asses, light up a Camel—this IS the Promised Land.'"

Read the story about the Beardens family, of Helena, in this issue of The Times. We get it by courtesy of the Progressive Farmer, in which journal it was recently published. Verily, the most interesting story of the Beardens is getting widespread, indeed. No telling how many thousands of people have read it.

Clarence Chism has opened up a barber shop, at Wilton. He invites his friends to come to see him. For the last few weeks he has been barbering at Camp Rucker, near Ozark. We are glad he has decided to bring his operations back closer to home.

We wish for Dr. Charlie Acker all the pleasures and comforts possible on the extended travel tour he plans for the next month. He and his brother James will behold many new and strange scenes between Prescott, Arizona and Mexico City — and we imagine the old days around Montevallo will also get a good going over in their reminiscences as their travels will be occasionally broken by quiet hours of rest and relaxation.

College Completes Red Cross Drive

We have the report that Alabama College completed its Red Cross drive on the campus during the current week. Contributions came from all members of the college personnel and the student body.

Assisting in the drive were: Gulmer Wilson, Stanley Gould, Emma Dendy, Minnie Dunn, Maxine Davis, Eloise Lee, Finis W. Poole, Ethel Rasmussen.

House and Garden Pilgrimage

Plans have been completed for the 20th annual house and garden pilgrimage sponsored by the women's auxiliary of the Church of the Advent, Birmingham. The pilgrimage will last two days, Saturday, April 14 and Sunday, April 15.

Dr. Charles Acker Will Take Month Of Travel With His Brother, James

Starting in a few days, Dr. Charles T. Acker will take off on a traveling spree that will carry him to some far-away places and many interesting experiences.

As a starter of these adventures, Doctor Charlie expects to attend the meeting of the Alabama State Medical Association which meets in Mobile April 18, 19 and 20. This will be more or less routine, however, as it will be the 48th meeting of the medical association he has attended since he became a member fifty-one years ago. Illness prevented his attendance upon two of the annual conventions.

He was on the program twice in his early years, and has been Shelby County's member of the College of Councilors for many years.

He must have broken one record, at least, having served as one of Shelby County's delegates for 17 consecutive years.

His home medical society has honored Doctor Charlie with every position of trust within its power to confer during the long years of his membership.

All of the honors that his professional associates have conferred upon him were merited by the fact that for all the days and nights of this half a century Dr. Charlie has been first and last and all the time consecrated to his service as a minister of mercy and comfort to the many thousands of persons who have looked to him as "our doctor."

Taking Off From Mobile

Doctor Charlie tells us that following the Mobile meeting he plans to go on to New Orleans for a day's visit with an old friend, thence to Dallas, Texas, for another day with a friend.

From Dallas he will go on to Los Angeles where he will visit a niece and nephew for a few days.

To See "Young" Brother

Doubling back to Arizona he will visit his wonderful 85-year-old brother, James, in Prescott. Together they have planned to go south through Phoenix, and Tucson to Nogales on the border.

From Nogales (pronounced No-gal-eze) they will enter old Mexico and possibly go as far south as Mexico City.

This brother of 85 happy and busy years contends that anyone who really attends to his job should have one month of the twelve for travel and seeing and learning. "Keep interested and you will keep living and happy," is his philosophy of life.

Whatever his formula is, his own vigorous personality at the age of 85 proves that it has worked well. He has visited every state in the Union, Canada, Mexico, and the Hawaiian Islands. He was planning a trip to South America through Central America for his two months instead of one this year, late in the Summer and early Fall.

However, he changed his plans when his baby brother (nearing 73) at long last, yielded to his oft-repeated plea and decided to risk this trip if "Big Bud" would agree not to walk so rapidly or so long and so far at a time.

Doctor Charlie says he simply can not keep pace with him ordinarily, and hopes he may be able to slow him down just a bit for this trip, at least. "Brother took care of me when I was a little boy," says Dr. Charlie, "and I am depending on him to do it again on this trip."

It is interesting even to contemplate the pleasure these two brothers will have in their association and travels for the coming month.

Cattlemen Gather In Annual Meeting

The third annual meeting and barbecue held by the Shelby County Cattlemen's Association marked another important step. This meeting found our local association-voting to affiliate with the Alabama Cattlemen's Association.

Members and guests enjoyed talks by Mr. Ernest Lambert, president of Alabama Cattlemen's Association; Mr. Bruce Henderson, charter member and first president of the Alabama Cattlemen's Association; Dr. W. D. Salmon, animal husbandry department, Auburn; and Mr. Howard Yeilding, of the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce. It was encouraging to hear of the progress made in beef cattle production in Alabama during the last two years. Too, it offers a challenge in keeping abreast of research in establishing beef production on sound and economic basis.

At noon the group enjoyed a barbecue dinner prepared by Charles Bailey, Grady Peete, Red Little and Bill Lawler.

The afternoon program included visits to the farms of L. I. Newton, J. T. Rucker, and W. J. Bailey. On these farms the group studied grazing crops and had an opportunity to see some of the best Hereford cattle in Alabama.

Officers for the following year are as follows:

President, W. J. Bailey, Montevallo; vice president, Earle Morgan, Helena; secretary, W. M. Clark, Columbiana; treasurer, S. M. Tatum, Siluria; directors, L. I. Newton, Siluria; Albert Lokey, Wilsonville; John Lowe, Vincent; W. A. Fulton, Siluria; and F. Jackson, Harpersville.

President Truman has been listed by the Speech Association of America as among this country's outstanding orators. We wonder if there is a letter writer's association that would claim him.

An All-Dairy Family

By Virginia O. Smith, in Progressive Farmer

A call for dinner at the J. E. Bearden home, Route 1, Helena, generally brings five healthy young appetites to the table. You can always be sure to find plenty of dairy products on hand, too, because they live, sleep and talk the dairy business. County Agent, A. A. Lauderdale, was the one who got them interested in showing their animals.

"The last shall be first" proved very true at the Alabama State Fair last year when the baby of the family, 11-year-old Shirley, walked away with top honors at the junior division of the dairy show. Shirley's cow, "Edgely Standard Fancy," took both the senior and grade championship ribbons. Her one comment about handling cows was, "They step on my feet."

Fifteen-year-old Frances looks like an expert in the show ring. She also brought home ribbons for placing first in the 4-H junior division and second in the adult division. "Dairying is a full-time job, but I like it," said Frances. "I'm going to work hard for a grand championship."

Ralph, Leonard and Joel could not be outdone by their sisters and they also made a good showing 14 years old and in the 9th grade, is an accomplished musician as well as a good dairyman. When he plays the accordion, he attracts a lot of attention. In fact, his talent is always in demand at 4-H Club rallies and other community and state meetings.

Leonard, who finished Thompson High School at mid-term, lives with his wife, Barbara, in one of the tenant houses. He worked for his father before and after school and gained first hand knowledge of the dairy business. Leonard plans to devote all his time to dairying after he finishes at Auburn.

Joel, 19, is in his second year at Auburn where he is majoring in — yes, you guessed it — dairy science.

The Beardens have about 200 head of cattle with about 150 milking regularly. Jerseys make up the biggest part of the herd — but there are a few Holsteins. They have a permanent pasture of White Dutch and Ladino clovers, Kentucky bluegrass, and fescue. The winter pasture is crimson clover, oats and ryegrass. The Beardens really believe in pastures and it saves labor, too. According to them, the "cows can do their own gathering." Milking machines are used for the herd, but the young folks milk their own show animals by hand.

After receiving so many honors in Alabama, Leonard, Joel, Shirley and Frances took their dairy animals to the All-American Jersey Show in Dallas, Texas. Their faith in the high quality of their Jerseys was justified. Mrs. Bearden, who went along as chaperone, for the girls, watched proudly from the sidelines.

The All-American Jersey Show provided some stiff competition, but even at that, three Beardens walked away with ribbons. Joel's heifer won fourth place, Shirley's cow fifth, and Frances' cow sixth. As Joel says, "That's good—but in a couple of years we'll have a first to go with them."

Four-H is a household word. As soon as they were old enough each one of the Beardens became a club member. As for their project — why, dairying naturally. They had other projects to begin with, but their calves took so much time that they gave them up. Their advice to other 4-H club members who "love" calves is to "take a dairy project."

A puncture is a little hole in a tire, usually found a great distance from a garage.

THE "ISMS"

The Clarke County Democrat defines the "isms" as follows:

Capitalism — If you have two cows, you sell one and buy a bull.

Socialism — If you have two cows, you give one of them to your neighbor.

Communism — If you have two cows, you give them to the government, and the government gives you milk.

New Deal — If you have two cows, you shoot one, milk the other, and pour the milk down the drain.

Fair Deal — If you have two cows, you let them starve so you can buy your milk in cans, thus making business better.

Higher Wages For Phone Workers Mean Bigger Phone Bills

The following statement was made Saturday by Hal S. Dumas, president, Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co.:

"The Southern Bell Telephone Company has received a request from the Communications Workers of America, CIO, for opening of negotiations looking toward a new contract for the 44,000 non-supervisory employees who are represented by the union. The union has asked that bargaining sessions begin on April 30.

"The existing contract between the company and the union runs until June 5, and, as provided by the contract, the union has given 60 days notice of desire to negotiate a new agreement. The present agreement was executed in 1948 and has been modified twice to provide for wage increases.

"Among many other items, the union has requested a general wage increase. It has been our policy over the years to pay wages that are in line with wages of other workers in the communities which we serve whose jobs are comparable to telephone jobs. Only in this way can we do justice to the fine people who make up our organization and continue to attract and keep the type of employees essential to good telephone service.

"A general advance in industrial wages is taking place in the communities served by Southern Bell and we believe the facts justify a wage increase for Southern Bell employees within the stabilization limits specified by the govern- ment.

"Wages are by far the biggest item in our expenses and the money to pay for any increase in wages will have to be secured through an increase in telephone rates.

"There is no margin in our income to absorb any increased cost. In fact, we have failed by about $20,000,000 annually to make up through increased telephone rates the wage increases already granted in the last ten years.

"The yardstick we must follow in the coming negotiations is that any settlement reached as to wages be equally fair to our employ- ees and to our customers who pay the bill."

Mrs. Earl Taff and Miss June Ingram, attended the "My Friend Cotton" show at the auditorium in Birmingham Wednesday.

Three R's Still Being Taught in One-Man Schools

MINNEAPOLIS — Despite substantial school construction and modernization programs in the mid-western states, the little red school-house is far from extinct, a recent study of the nation's public school system revealed.

Some 75,000 one-teacher schools are still in operation, reports R. H. Jacobs, director of the school division of Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator company, even though an average of 108 new schools were completed in each of 12 mid-western states last year.

"These nostalgic but nonetheless obsolete one-teacher schools actually account for nearly half of the existing public schools today," Jacobs said. "Almost 1,500,000 youngsters form their first impression of school and our educational system in these under-manned, over-crowded classrooms. Small wonder children still frown and wince at the mention of the word school."

Jacobs, however, on the basis of a nationwide poll of city, county and diocesan school administrators, was optimistic about the facilities for the postwar crop of 7,000,000 children who will enter schools next year. He pointed out that the U.S. department of labor, for example, reveals that $297,000,000 has been authorized for school construction during the first three months of 1950 alone.

Doris Duke to Raise Pigs On Special Diet, No Swill

SOMERVILLE, N. J.—The Hillsborough township board of health has given Doris Duke, tobacco heiress, permission to enter the pig-raising business provided no garbage is brought in to feed her porkers.

The $50,000 project on Duke Farms, complete with atomizers to keep down odors, had been held up because the sanitary code prohibits the importation of garbage into the township.

The board said Duke farms could engage in as large a hog raising operation as it wished as long as it abided by three regulations. The food must not be imported swill, a permit must be obtained from the board of health, and the business must in no way constitute a nuisance.

The farm manager said the hogs would be raised on a grain and corn diet and that the operation would be run in accordance with the decisions of the board.

Cooked Fine Dinner; Threw It To Dogs

One lady used to throw her own dinner to the dog most of the time. It made her sick just to look at food. She was swollen with gas, full of bloat, felt worn out.

Finally she got CERTA-VIN, and says she now eats everything in sight and digests it perfectly. This is the new medicine that is helping so many stomach "victims" here in Montevallo. It helps you digest food faster and better. Taken before meals it works with your food. Gas pains go! Inches of bloat vanish. Contains herbs and vitamin B-1 with iron to enrich the blood and make nerves stronger. Weak, miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering. Helping the Nation # get things done

for 75 years

This year is the telephone's seventy-fifth and busiest birthday.

What began as a line between two rooms in a Boston attic in 1876 has developed, in one lifetime, into a Long Distance network that covers the Nation — and extends to most of the world's telephones. This great system has grown in answer to the needs of a people. And it's a good thing it has. In these threatening times, the Long Distance lines that bind this country together are more vital than ever. For today they are helping to speed production and guard the Nation's security — jobs that call for nothing less than the best telephone service in the world. — Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company.

To help speed your Long Distance call, please give the operator the out-of-town telephone number. Telephone lines are busy with national defense.

Metcalf, Legion Chief Meet in Tokyo

CAPT. NEIL METCALF (right), of Hartford, Ala., talks with American Legion National Commander Erle Cocke, Jr., in Tokyo. Capt. Metcalf, former Alabama Assistant Attorney General, met the Legion chief during Cocke's 'round-the-world good will tour. Cocke, a resident of Dawson, Ga., and Metcalf are both officer vets of World War II. As a Reservist, Capt. Metcalf was recalled last November for duty as a psychological warfare officer in the Far East. He is serving on the staff of Gen. Douglas MacArthur for the second time. Both Commander Cocke and Capt. Metcalf praised the combined efforts of United Nations troops as "a model in teamwork on behalf of world peace." (U. S. Army Photo by Sgt. James Kuska.)

Citizens Meet At Dogwood School House; Clamor For Montevallo-Bessemer Highway

(By MILTON SMITH, Principal, Dogwood Elementary School)

A tremendous group of intensely interested citizens met at the Dogwood School Monday night with the purpose of discussing and organizing action toward securing a paved road from Montevallo to the Jefferson County line to connect with the present paved road extending south from Bessemer to Genry's Gap.

This meeting was organized through the members of the local adult training program under the direction of Mr. M. Thornton, vocational agriculture teacher. Mr. W. E. Kirkpatrick served as the spokesman for the citizens committee and chairman of the meeting at the schoolhouse on Monday night.

Guest speakers from Bessemer were Mr. Bob Millsap, president of Bessemer Chamber of Commerce; Mr. Jap Bryant, Mayor of Bessemer; Mr. Edmundson, secretary of Bessemer Chamber of Commerce; and Judge Goodwyn.

Mr. Fred McClendon represented the Shelby County Board of Revenue. Mr. W. M. Wyatt, mayor of Montevallo, was present; and Mr. Don Lovelady, president of Montevallo Chamber of Commerce, with several members of the chamber of commerce and the Rotary Club of Montevallo.

The large gathering of citizens was composed of residents of all the communities along the proposed road from Bessemer to Montevallo.

Full cooperation and future support was assured by the visiting officials in helping the people of this area to secure state action toward paving the road, which is recognized by all as a very much needed project.

Everyone agreed that this road with extremely heavy traffic, is in its worst condition at the present time. It has not been improved in the last 20 years. A paved road on this route will improve the economic, educational and social conditions in this entire district. New homes, new businesses, better farms would result. All of these advantages to the local area, plus relieving much of the overload of traffic on Highway 31 south from the Birmingham area.

The Shelby County Board of Revenue says that its share of 25 per cent has been set aside for this project and is waiting for the state and federal agencies to add their share.

Hundreds of personal letters from the rural area through which the road extends will go to Governor Gordon Persons this week asking his favor and assistance in securing earliest possible construction of the highway.

Future meetings of the citizens are planned, and the help of everyone is solicited in support of the project which is vital to the interests of all citizens in an important section of western Shelby County.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN

"What-cha gonna do when the ice man don't run this summer?" Don Lovelady has the answer. He will give you $20 for your old ice box and let you have a Frigidaire that is its own ice man.

Agitation for building a state highway from Montevallo to Bessemer took a new and vigorous start Monday night with the citizens meeting at Dogwood school. The chances for such a road look better now than ever before. Fred McClendon says Shelby County has the money set aside to pay the county's one-fourth of the construction. That is the winning "card," in our opinion. We believe the state and federal agencies will come across with their part, because there is not a more worthwhile piece of highway construction in Alabama.

The "powers that be" in Bessemer are rootin and tootin for the state highway from Bessemer by Genry's Gap, Falliston, Maylene, and Dogwood, into Montevallo. They already have the Jefferson County part of the road paved from Bessemer to Genry's.

The mayor of Bessemer told the people at Dogwood School Monday night, "We are interested in you because you are our neighbors." The mayor of Montevallo told them, "We are interested in you because you are in our family."

When Judge Goodwyn, of Bessemer, walked into the schoolhouse at Dogwood Monday night I saw in his face the serene and impressive countenance of my good friend of my younger years, Hon. Robert Tyler Goodwyn, lawyer and statesman, of Montgomery. "Naturally, I would say," was the comment of Judge Goodwyn. "Tyler was my oldest brother."

Last Sunday I went, with the Pendletons to carry Betty back to her staying place in Birmingham. We had a short visit with Brother Malcolm Pendleton, who is part of the Jobe Rose Jewelry Co. Went by to see Camp and Em Hicks at their new home. They were gone somewhere — to the ball game, most likely.

On the way back we aimlessly took the first road we found pointing in the general direction of south. Before we came to our bearings we had explored a lot of new territory. In our wanderings we passed one place of past interest—Oxmoor. Where used to be the busy and large size industrial operations at Oxmoor there is now only a briar patch. A road crosses the railroad where there is a board tacked up on two posts, on it the word Oxmoor. We finally got back home by way of Genry's Gap, Maylene, etc.

Mr. DuBose (Bo) Galloway has joined the sales force of Lovelady Motor Co., our local Ford dealers. His many friends are invited to call on him for advice and suggestions in solving your automobile and truck problems.

Do you "think there are people on the welfare rolls who don't belong there?" If you do, you are invited and urged by Alabama Welfare Commissioner, Bill Dorrough, to report it to your county welfare department.

Mrs. F. W. Killingsworth has gone back home to Dallas, Texas, after a few weeks visit with her mother, Mrs. P. M. Fancher.

There were 27,959 more children attending Alabama schools in 1950 than in 1940, according to figures recently compiled by the State Department of Education.

S.C.S. Employees Visit At Auburn

District conservationist A. L. Harrell, and all S. C. S. employees, working with the North Central Soil Conservation District, visited Auburn April 9 and 10 to study experimental work being done.

The severe winter has damaged winter crops there as it did for our farmers. This made some good crops look weak, but it made the value of other crops very noticeable.

Caley peas, grandiflora vetch and smooth vetch were making the best showing as reseeding winter legumes.

For winter grazing Dr. Salmon, head of the department of animal husbandry, said, "If we had not had fescue, we just wouldn't have had any grazing this winter."

The agricultural engineering branch of the college offered a study of water disposal structures—terraces and meadows—similar to those being built by Shelby County farmers under S. C. S. supervision.

W'meadows are being used in our county this year, and it was this type meadow seeded to Ky. 31 fescue that is being used on the A. P. I. project.

While many worthwhile things were observed, and some ideas brought back, we are glad to be able to say that we saw no grazing as impressive as the fescue in Shelby County.

THOMPSON BEATS CALERA

Thompson won its first scheduled county tournament game last Tuesday when it turned Calera, 6 to 8.

Bill Davenport's pitching was superb in limiting visitors to two scattered hits. Thompson got 9. Thompson had good support in the field.

Timely hitting by Attaway, J. Harris, and Butler was very good.

THOMPSON LOOSES

Thompson dropped the first game of the season to John Carroll by a score of 10 to 7. Carroll took an early lead and was never headed. Davenport was credited with the loss.

Annual 4-H Club Rally Held Last Friday On Alabama College Campus at Montevallo

Alabama College was host last Friday to the annual Shelby County 4-H Club Rally with several hundred youngsters flocking to the campus.

An apron revue, skirt revue, a dress revue and a treasure hunt were features of the day. Rev. Dan Whitsett, pastor of Sylacauga First Methodist Church, made the principal talk. He was introduced by W. M. Clark. The Rev. A. D. Wilson, of Columbiana Methodist Church, gave the devotional.

Mary Bell, council president, had charge of the meeting. Song leaders were Miss Mary Mims, Columbiana public school music instructor, and Emogene Argo and Gloria McRae. Mrs. Herbert Poole was pianist, with special songs by Gloria McRae.

Lowell S. Hamilton, Alabama College public relations director, greeted the 4-H'ers and Jack Armstrong gave the response. Mrs. Douglas Kent presented the club queens.

Lee A. Barclay New Business Manager

LEE A. BARCLAY

Dr. John T. Caldwell, President of Alabama College announced today the appointment of Lee A. Barclay of Birmingham and Chapel Hill, North Carolina as the new Business Manager of the College.

A native of Birmingham and a graduate of West End High School, Mr. Barclay received his Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Alabama, and was employed in the business office of the University.

Later he taught accounting at Auburn for a period of two years, and more recently has done graduate work in accounting, finance and administration at the University of North Carolina where he is now lecturing in accounting.

During the war years Barclay served as an infantry line officer in Europe and later commanded the service company of the 376 infantry regiment. The father of 4 children, he succeeds Raymond D. Fowler, who has resigned to accept a position of secretary and treasurer of the Teachers Retirement System of Alabama on June 30.

Nursing in Civil Defense

"Nursing in Civil Defense" is the subject of a short course for graduate nurses of Shelby County to be given at Alabama College, Montevallo, Friday, April 20 from 1:00 to 5:00 o'clock. All graduate nurses, both active and inactive, are urged to attend.

Last Rites Held For Dr. C. N. Parnell

Funeral services for Dr. Charles Nicholas Parnell, 84, well known Chilton County physician, who died at his home Thursday, April 5, were held at his home in Maplesville and at Stanton Cemetery at 10:00 a.m., Saturday. Services were conducted by Rev. G. G. Williams. Spigener was in charge of arrangements.

Dr. Parnell was a widely known and beloved native of Chilton County, son of the late John Parnell and Elizabeth Lenoir Parnell. He was born in Stanton, Alabama, September 3, 1866.

Dr. Parnell as a young man attended Marion Military Institute, of which he was a graduate. He graduated from Alabama Medical College, Mobile, in 1891 and began practice at Mulberry, in Autauga County. Later due to farming interests and dire need of physicians he set up his practice in Maplesville in 1892. He practiced in Chilton County and east Perry County for 58 years. For many years he was an active deacon of the Baptist Church at Maplesville.

He is survived by two sons, Dr. L. C. Parnell, Montevallo, and C. N. Parnell, Jr., of Marion; three daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Sikes, of Mobile; Mrs. Lucy Hines, of Montgomery; and Mrs. Ruth Judson Henry, of Guntersville; and seven grandchildren.

Pallbearers were W. N. Headley, O. N. Headley, Union Chambers, Moody Chambers, Marion Walker, Abney Brown, all of Maplesville, and Dave Tingle and Hollis Jackson, of Clanton.

The foregoing article is reproduced from last week's issue of The Union-Banner, of Clanton.

Club Council In District Meeting

The district meeting which is held every other year will be on Saturday, April 21, at Birmingham Southern College. Club women in 17 counties of district 4 will attend. We hope that at least one car load will go from each club. The meeting will begin around 10 a.m. and end around 2:30.

An interesting program has been planned. Mr. Anderson, director at the college, will lead group singing. The college chorus will present a 30 minute program. Mrs. Frank Baker, state council president, and Mrs. Lillie M. Alexander, state home agent, will be on the program. Mrs. Nina Kent and Mrs. Frank Wyatt will appear on the pageant depicting 25 years of home demonstration council activities. This is the 25th anniversary of home demonstration council work in Alabama and is the theme of the program.

The following women of Shelby County have indicated that they plan to attend: Wilsonville, Mrs. Albert Lokey; Sterrett, Mrs. Mary L. Johnson, Mrs. R. L. Fancher; Ebenezer, Mrs. W. A. Jones, Mrs. Robert Lovelady, Mrs. Hillman Johnson, Mrs. Nathan Frost, Mrs. H. A. ## Thompson Wins From Phillips High

Thompson trounced Phillips High of Birmingham last Friday at Buck Creek Stadium by a score of 11 to 4. Thompson's fielding was improved; the team made only one error. Phillips' errors were costly. Combined hitting and good fielding were the factors that won the game. Thompson got 13 hits to the Phillips team's 7.

Phillips started off with 2 runs in the first inning and Thompson came back in the last of the first with 7 runs. Thompson continued to get 4 more runs through the rest of the game; Phillips, 2 more. Hitting stars were Roach, Attaway, Harris, and Naish. Roach led the Thompson attack with two triples and Naish got three hits.

How to Roast Corn

Here's the way to roast corn. Turn back the husks and strip off the silk. Lay the husks back in position. Line up the ears on your backyard grill, over hot coals. Keep turning ears for 15 or 20 minutes, until husks are dry and browned. Break off the husks and the corn is ready to eat. Put out plenty of butter and big salt and pepper shakers.

Tin Can Seen as Prime Influence on U. S. Life

The ordinary tin can has earned itself a place alongside the automobile, telephone, radio, and electric light as a prime influence upon the pattern of daily living.

So declares the American Can company in reporting that the average U. S. family last year opened about 750 cans of food and non-food products. Total consumption for the year was 30 billion metal containers, of which two-thirds were used for foodstuffs.

The consumption of canned foods alone has increased 10-fold since the beginning of the century—from approximately two billion cans in 1900 to around 20 billion last year, the firm said.

The use of metal containers for non-food products such as paint, beer, motor oil and tobacco has grown at an even faster rate—to an annual consumption of close to 10 billion in 1949.

Analyzing the effects on various products, the company said the big jump in use of canned products had not diverted items from other markets but had enlarged existing outlets and frequently developed completely new cash outlets for basic crops and other products long in use.

Lettuce

The outside green leaves of lettuce contain the most vitamin A, so they should be used for maximum food value.

The number of telephones the typical Alabama family can call at the local service rate has nearly tripled in ten years. And the service is better.

Meanwhile, in a period of rising prices, the price of telephone service has increased far less than wages and family income . . . far less than most of the goods and services that make up the every-day cost of living.

Always one of the biggest bargains in the family budget, telephone service is today an even bigger bargain than it was ten years ago.

Plumber Works 17 Years at Hobby To Build Railroad

CRESTON, Iowa—Byron Hiatt has been working on his hobby for 17 years. In that time he has built a real railroad, complete with two locomotives, two freight cars, a mail and baggage car, a passenger car with an observation platform and four trestles.

He operates it for passengers on Sundays and holidays.

The train also has a box car and a caboose. The locomotives are about 8 feet tall at the smokestacks and about 36 feet long, including the coal tender.

Everything is built to scale, the result of Hiatt's handicraft. One of the four trestles on his route is steel reinforced and about 70 feet across. Another spans a gully about 80 feet wide. Hiatt has them numbered so passengers will know they are riding on a railroad line with four trestles.

Hiatt fell in love with railroading when he was a boy. After high school, he went to work for the Burlington railroad. In 1944, he decided to build a miniature train of his own. As a railroad pipe fitter, he had gained much of the "know how" for the job, so he started to work.

At $2 a foot, Hiatt estimates he has invested about $6,400 in road-bed alone, and that's just one of the less costly items. He assembled the locomotives from parts he made or ordered from machine shops. The track was bought from coal mines. The passenger and freight cars were used to advertise the Burlington railroad before Hiatt bought and rebuilt them.

There is a regular roundhouse and train shed arrangement in the center of the area where the train is parked during the week.

Most of the work on the railroad has been done before work in the morning or in the evening.

"I get up at 5 a. m. and work on the railroad about two hours," Hiatt explained. "That way I gain an extra day every week."

Spanish American War Vet Gets Paid After 46 Years

The army veteran received a check for $374.30 to reimburse him for travel and subsistence expenses in getting home to Chicago after he was discharged from the army in Manila, P. I.

Klauer put in 10 claims before congress got around to appropriating the money to take care of his and other similar claims.

Congress acted in 1945, 46 years after Klauer's first claim was filed. Klauer, you see, is 73 years old—a veteran of the Spanish American war.

Mr. Hodding Carter Gets "Sized-Up"

Having heard the famed editor, Hodding Carter, speak upon the occasion of his visit to Alabama College at Montevallo about a year ago, we have been looking ever since for a suitable appraisal of him and his works.

We have felt that it would require an analyst with peculiar powers of double perception to properly "size up" Mr. Carter. At last it has been done to our complete satisfaction in the following piece from Grover Hall in The Montgomery Advertiser:

Foreign Correspondent Carter

"Visiting Montgomery today is one of the country's leading editors — Hodding Carter, of Greenville, Miss. Mr. Carter is the winner of a Pulitzer Prize for the finest editorial writing in the course of a year, a novelist, and foreign correspondent of the Northern press.

"By foreign correspondent of the Northern press, we point to the fact that many of the untaught editors of our national magazines and larger papers have certain prefabricated notions about the Territory of the South. They are as ridiculous as we Southerners when we spew and cluck over the caste system in India. But nevertheless, these tribunes of the Northeast have a tremendous clientele, and it is their purpose to give 'em what they want. In short, segregation is Jim Crow, Inc., and a hobby.

"Thus, when a Southern editor distinguishes himself, as has Mr. Carter, by winning the Pulitzer Prize, he is duly stenciled a Liberal and called upon from time to time to interpret the eccentric Province of Dixie. Such ones are hailed as beacons of the 'New South.'

"But in Mr. Carter, as we have observed in random samplings of his foreign correspondence, the tendentious Northern editors have found themselves booby-trapped. Mr. Carter, we note with admiration, has, despite the blandishments of Northern lionizing, not apologized for the South. He has not even patronized the South. He has, in fact, failed to see the difference in segregation practices in the Statler Hotel in Washington and in the Jefferson Davis Hotel here, or in the public schools of the two cities.

"Indeed, we conjecture that in his writings and speaking in de

Nawth, Mr. Carter has seemed to let down his expectant auditors. He tells them that the South's greatest trouble is that the South was despoiled after the war by a brutal and senseless occupation, the result being poverty. In that sense, Mr. Carter is indeed typical of the 'New South'—that is, he is a young man who has taken his prophet's mantle in a time when the South is growing mightily—often at the expense of the Northeast—and is, as they used to say, a-fixin' to get rich.

"In all, Mr. Carter is a wise and able writing gentleman. Without any hesitation, we would rate him as among the six ablest editorial writers in the South."

"Nursing in Civil Defense" is the subject of a short course for graduate nurses of Shelby County to be given at Alabama College, Montevallo, Friday, April 20 from 1:00 to 5:00 o'clock. All graduate nurses, both active and inactive, are urged to attend.

Master Showman

Phineas T. Barnum got his first real start in show business by managing the affairs of a remarkable juggler who had an equally remarkable dislike for soap and water. Once Barnum had prevailed upon the worthy gentleman to take a bath, he had no trouble building him into a popular entertainer. The world's greatest showman and founder of the Barnum and Bailey Circus, was born July 1810.

Welfare Department Asks Cooperation

"Please bring to the Shelby County Welfare Department any factual information you have relating to the need or income or resources of public assistance recipients," Mrs. Nell Fulton, County Welfare Director said today upon her return from a meeting with other directors and State Staff Members in Montgomery. "Whatever you report will be kept in strictest confidence, but it will help your county department staff members in determining eligibility for aid."

Mrs. Fulton said she wanted to add her personal request to the statewide appeal issued last week by State Welfare Commissioner

Bill Dorrough. "We hope citizens of Shelby County will cooperate fully in working with the Welfare Department," she continued.

She added also that State and Federal laws will not permit publication of lists of recipients. At the same time she invited people who have factual information as to the needs of individual assistance applicants or recipients to bring such information to her office. She reminded the general public that their discussions would remain confidential. Mrs. Fulton said also that the county welfare board could review the names of persons receiving aid, as well as the grand jury if it wished to do so.

Members of the county welfare board, appointed by the county governing body, commissioners court, are as follows: N. Y. Horn, Chairman, Columbiana; Mrs. Francis P. Givhan, Montevallo; Mr. A. B. Bristow, Shelby; Mr. Solon McGraw, Vincent; Mr. Frank Baker, Montevallo; Mrs. Albert Scott, Alabaster; Mrs. Joe Davidson, Helena.

Board members are cooperating with the staff in this overall attempt to create better public understanding of welfare and to secure citizens' cooperation in regard to the program, Mrs. Fulton said. She added, however, that applications for aid should continue to be made at the county department on the basis of State and Federal laws and regulations, she said. "Where the public can help is to work with the department in securing verification of need and information necessary for a person to meet the other requirements."

Mrs. Fulton pointed out, too, that misunderstanding sometimes results from failure of assistance recipients to meet their financial obligations. "Under Federal and State laws and regulations," she said, "the welfare department cannot assume responsibility for bills made by people receiving aid."

Homes Are Needed For Children

Won't you share your home temporarily with a child?

This question is being asked by Shelby County Welfare Director, Nell Fulton, who states that there is need in Shelby County for additional private family homes to keep children at board for varying lengths of time.

"A boarding home is any family home which has been licensed to care for unrelated children," Mrs. Fulton explained. "The license does not cost anything. It just means that the people in the home love children and their home meets the standards set by the State Welfare Board."

The Shelby County Welfare Department is responsible for all neglected, delinquent, and dependent children, Mrs. Fulton said. When a case of child neglect, for example, is reported to the agency there must be a boarding home ready for that child. That is why it is important that there be more boarding homes in the county.

Boarding home care is for children whose homes are temporarily broken, as a rule, Mrs. Fulton said. Sometimes the mother is ill and the father cannot look after the children and work, too. Sometimes a child is abandoned or perhaps his home is broken by desertion or divorce. Whatever the reason, the Department cares for the child in a licensed boarding home until more permanent arrangements can be made.

Mrs. Fulton stressed the fact that board is paid for each child and that the Department assumes responsibility for medical care. She appealed to all people in Shelby County who could do so to open their homes to these children.

Vaccinate Babies At Age 4 Months

Records in the county health department show that very few babies under one year of age are being immunized against diphtheria. The vast majority of immunizations done are in older children.

Since diphtheria is much more apt to be fatal in infants, it is thought by most doctors that the first immunization should be given at the age of 4 months. At this age also the first doses of whooping cough vaccine can be given.

It frequently happens that parents request immunization of their babies against these infections after an exposure to a case or after a case has occurred in the community. Since it requires two to three months for full immunity to develop after the vaccine is given, it is, of course, of no value for protection from a recent exposure.

Parents are urged, therefore, to have their babies immunized against diphtheria and whooping cough, or given the triple vaccine which also protects against tetanus, at the age of 4 months.

County Health Officer

Rodeo Experts To Show In Selma

One of the largest, most colorful spectacles ever to come to Alabama will be the Craig Rodeo in Selma from May 15 to 19. Sponsored by Craig Air Force Base, the rodeo will offer many people in this area their first opportunity to see professional riding and steer wrestling contests.

The Craig rodeo will feature professional talent from many of the states where rodeos are a part of the everyday life of the people. Top-hand riders who have ridden the rodeo circuits for years, earning large sums in prizes, will appear in Selma during the five day festival.

Northern Alaska

An abandoned land of approximately 70,000 square miles is northern Alaska, from the towering ice peaks of the Brooks mountains to the Arctic coast. Two or three generations ago it contained a population of more than 3,000 nomad caribou hunters. They were exceptionally tall Eskimos with apparently a strong Athabaskan Indian intermixture. Now a single group of less than 40 is left alive.

Health Films Shown In Negro Schools

Within the past week, a group of movie films on health and related subjects have been shown to practically all pupils in the Negro Schools of Shelby County.

The films were obtained by the Health Department from the Film Library of the State Health Department and the programs were presented in the various schools through the combined planning of members of the Health Department and the Department of Education.

Recognition should be given to Sadie Penn, Supervisor of Negro Schools, for a difficult task well done. She labored tirelessly to attend to all details that many times are left undone.

The films shown were presented as a part of the teaching program. The aim at each instance being to make this a learning experience for each child.

Results have been noted in various ways, especially in the number of requests for immunization at the Health Department.

It is to be hoped that similar programs can be presented in the not too distant future.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN

Will Have Ice Man

We will have an ice man in Montevallo again this summer after all. Mr. Delbert Brand will operate the ice plant for the new owner, Mr. R. L. Roberts, a Birmingham business man. Mr. Brand will operate a retail sales and delivery truck here in town. Ice that is not required for local consumption will be disposed of at the plant in wholesale lots.

Phillips In Hospital

The Montgomery Advertiser of Wednesday says our Senator, J. T. Phillips is in a Montgomery hospital and is "resting comfortably," and will likely have to remain for a week or ten days. We can visualize the doctor saying, "There now, Senator, slow down some and take it easy; you are not as young as you used to be." But, shucks, we believe Cap'n Tom is just foolin' em. What he is doing is getting good and rested for the big show that starts when the legislature meets next week.

The Spotlight, Montevallo High School newspaper, has been entered in the Southern Intercollegiate Press Association publications contest to compete for trophies to be awarded at the annual convention to be held at Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va., April 26 to 29.

We hear on the grapevine that Coach Fisher, of our high school, is about to pull up stakes and go to another position. We hope this doesn't happen.

Trotter Jones has been the making of more American Legion conventions than any other man in Alabama. He will be at it again this year. He is general chairman of convention arrangements for the city of Birmingham, where the convention meets in July.

G. W. Norrell, contractor, of Georgiana, will build a new bridge at Cahaba river crossing of the road from West Blocton to Highway 25. Mr. Norrell built the new bridge over Shoal Creek in Montevallo a little over a year ago.

Don Lovelady Moving

The business of the Central Alabama Auto Parts Company owned and operated by Mr. Don Lovelady will be moved soon to the building formerly occupied by the bowling alley. Mr. Lovelady is arranging the building in an attractive manner.

Health Center Here

An important function served by the new Town Hall in Montevallo is providing a place for use as a branch health center under direction of the Shelby County Public Health Department. Dr. Sloan has an announcement about this in the Times this week. Look it up.

Jeanne Appleton

When Jeanne Appleton was in high school and college here she dabbled around with newspaper work, saying she was going to be a journalist. She was not fooling. First off, after graduating she married a prominent newspaper man, Luther Voltz. She continued her own activity in journalism.

Recently she became Home Editor of the Miami Herald. Congratulations Jeanne.

Ralph Henderson At Edwards AFB

Muroc, Calif. — T/Sgt. Ralph C. Henderson, Jr., of Montevallo, has been assigned to Edwards Air Base, the Air Force's important testing center on California's Mojave Desert.

Sgt. Henderson graduated at Montevallo High School in 1936, and attended Alabama Polytechnic Institute at Auburn studying pre-law. Prior to entering the service he was employed by Mill & Textile Supply, Inc., of Birmingham, as assistant purchasing agent.

He served 19 months in the Southwest Pacific. He was called to active duty the beginning of this month and transferred from Maxwell AFB to Edwards AFB. He has been assigned to the 3076 Air Base Group here at Edwards.

Mrs. Henderson, the former Miss Elizabeth Seale, lives at their home in Montevallo.

Branch Health Office In Town Hall

Since the Town Hall of Montevallo has been completed, the mayor and council have made available a room to be used by the public health department.

The public health nurse plans to be in this office in Montevallo on each Friday afternoon from 1:00 to 4:00. Hours planned are for:

Whites — 1:00 to 2:00.

Negroes — 2:00 to 4:00.

Services offered will be those which it is possible for the nurse to render. Some of these are immunizations against typhoid, diphtheria, whooping cough, small pox, and tetanus. Infants are usually given the combined diphtheria, pertussis and tetanus vaccine. Blood tests for syphilis will be done and those found positive will be referred to a private physician for treatment.

Tuberculin skin tests will be done but chest X-Rays will only be done at the regular chest clinic in Columbiana.

Tentative opening date for this health center has been set for Friday, May 4. Watch the newspapers for further announcement next week.

Dr. E. F. Sloan,
County Health Officer

College Orchestra Spring Concert

The Alabama College Orchestra will give its annual spring concert at 8:00 p.m. Friday, April 27. The 32-piece orchestra is under the direction of Miss Claire Ordway.

A special feature of the program will be four numbers done by a children's group of the first and second year violin classes from the Montevallo elementary school. The first year class includes Denny Elliott, Kitty Stansell, Mavis Bridges, Virginia Williams, Bob Robbins and Jean Sanders. In the second year class are Mary Thornton, Elizabeth Harden, and E. C. Alexander. They will be directed by senior music majors from the college doing practice teaching.

A second special will be a clarinet trio consisting of Betty Chism, Sue Ross and Lucy Lynn Underwood.

College girls of Montevallo who play in the orchestra are Carol Hurt, Betty Chism, Frances Woods, and Bobbie Jean Wilson.

Four Montevallo High School students in the orchestra are Mary Katherine Hicks, Johnny Ziolkowski, Mike Mahan, Clarice Chism. Mary Katherine and Clarice recently played in the all-state orchestra at Auburn.

The public is cordially invited. There is no admission charge.

Grand Ole Opry Next Sunday

Opera is coming to Birmingham, Grand Ole Opry, that is, direct from WSM in Nashville. Hank Snow, the hottest thing on "platters" today, and his Rainbow Ranch Boys headline the big show due at Municipal Auditorium Sunday, April 29. There will be a matinee at 2:30 p.m., and an evening performance at 8:00.

With Hank Snow will be the perennial favorite, Minnie Pearl, the pride of Grinder's Switch; George (Candy Kisses) Morgan and his Candy Kids; and Lew Childre, the boy from Alabam.

Dr. Louis B. Wright Is Dancy Lecturer

DR. LOUIS B. WRIGHT

A prominent Washingtonian, Dr. Louis B. Wright, has been chosen to deliver the 1951 series of Dancy Lectures at Alabama College. Dr. Wright is now director of the Folger Shakespeare Library in Washington, D. C.

"The colonial Search for a Southern Eden" is the subject of this sixth series of lectures, which are scheduled for April 29, 30 and May 1. Topics to be discussed include "The Elizabethan Dream of Tropical Wealth and Ease," Sunday afternoon; "The English Expansionists and the Economics of Southern Colonization," Monday night; and "Utopias in the Southern Colonies," Tuesday night.

Made possible through an endowment of "the departments of English, literature and expression" at Alabama College by Miss Unity Dandridge Dancy, of Morgan County, honoring her mother, the Dancy Lectures are given every two years. They are devoted to an examination of some aspect of Southern culture today and in its historical perspective. Every odd year, a scholar-critic of recognized authority is invited to present in the series of lectures, the results of original research and fresh criticism on some phase of Southern life and letters.

Fat Stock Show Starts Monday

The eyes of all cattle and show lovers are upon Birmingham as the city prepares for the ninth annual stock show week featuring 450 of Alabama's finest fat cattle and the big three-ring Barker Brothers circus entertainers.

Stock show week opens in Birmingham Monday, April 30, and for six days the Alabama State Fair grounds, scene of the show, will resound with the lowing of the fine cattle and the cheers of the spectators as they encourage the circus performers.

The calves displayed by the 4H, FFA and FHA boys and girls of 27 Alabama counties will begin to arrive at the cattle barn at the fairgrounds Tuesday night. The weighing and stalling of the animals will take place all day Wednesday with the judging slated for Thursday. The auction will start at 9:00 a.m. Friday, May 4. Harry (Bill) Pace, famed Montgomery auctioneer, will handle the sales.

School Teachers Meet Patrons At Dogwood

Monday night was held the first of the planned community meetings between the Montevallo faculty and parents of the community of Dogwood. The assembly in the auditorium of the Dogwood school was attended by more than sixty parents and teachers who discussed many phases of the Montevallo school's program and improvements.

A brief resume of the work of the vocational agriculture department in the Dogwood community was given by Mr. M. Thornton who expressed the desire of the community to have a paved road running to Montevallo and Bessemer for the transportation of farm products.

Miss Myrtle Old spoke briefly about the work of the vocational home economics department.

Teachers and parents were welcomed by Mr. Mack Smith, principal of Dogwood school and host to the meeting. He introduced Mr. Claude Hill, principal of Montevallo schools, who explained the plans for future meetings between parents and teachers.

It was explained that as patrons in communities served by the Montevallo schools realize the need of greater understanding and wish to participate in policy making, a sponsoring organization might invite the faculty to a planned meeting. Teachers thus will attend en masse meetings held in all the communities of the area until all parents have had an opportunity to meet all the teachers.

Members of the panel who discussed certain phases of the programs were: Miss Ethel Harris, public relations; Mrs. Charlotte Peterson, basic social program, elementary school; Mrs. A. C. Jeter, junior high school; Mr. William A. Lewis, Jr., speech; Mr. M. Thornton, evaluator.

The questions posed by patrons were answered by the panel teachers. The assembly decided to hold a joint meeting with an adult class to determine the future course of parent organization. A social was then held.

Band Concert Thursday Night

Everyone is invited to climb aboard the Band Wagon on next Thursday night as the Montevallo High School Band presents its annual Spring Concert. The performance, set for 8:00 p.m., is under the direction of V. T. Young, music instructor.

The program which will consist largely of new music and novelties, promises a new and interesting concert.

Mrs. Bill Lewis, guest soloist, will sing "Tales From Vienna Woods" and "Tea For Two."

The band will feature a cornet solo by Johnny Ziolkowski, and a cornet trio, composed of Johnny Ziolkowski, Mike Mahan and Milton Jeter.

Specialty numbers include "Little Red Caboose," railroad novelty and a performance by majorettes with band accompaniment.

Proceeds will go into the band uniform fund. Admission prices are 25 cents for students, including college, and 35 cents for adults.

Alabama teachers have greatly improved their professional training in the past five years, according to Dr. J. H. Hadley, Tuscaloosa, president of Alabama Education Association. In 1940 he said less than 10,000 teachers had three years of college training. In 1950 more than 17,500 had such training, an increase of 76 per cent.

RUPTURE SHIELD

EXPERT HERE

E. J. MEINHARDI, widely known expert of Chicago and Michigan, will be at the TUTWILER HOTEL, Birmingham, for two days, Saturday and Sunday, April 28 and 29. Office hours 11:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. only.

Scientific research is constantly providing new relief for many afflictions. The Meinhardi Laboratory has now produced the improved Meinhardi Rupture Shield. It stops the rupture or hernia from protruding in 10 days on the average case, regardless of the size or location of the rupture or hernia and no matter how hard you work or strain. It is also used for many Ruptures which have repeatedly returned after surgical operations or injection treatments.

CAUTION: If neglected, Rupture may cause weakness, nervousness, constipation, headache, dizziness, pain in back or stomach, and dangerous strangulation.

Every man in this vicinity having a Rupture is invited to see this Shield during the above stated office hours. There is also no charge for private consultation. If desired, orders may be placed for immediate or future delivery. This demonstration is for men only.

Station WRSD Has First Birthday

It's anniversary time for WRSD the Alabama College campus radio station. Celebrating one year "on the air," the all-student radio staff is planning an open house to be held this afternoon from 4:30 until 6 at the radio studios in Reynolds.

Taking a tour of the modern, green and white studios, visitors will see WRSD in action with a newscast, and a program of classical music on the air.

Different types of microphones sound effects equipment and engineering equipment will be on display around the station, which consists of two announcing studios a control room, reception and office. Visitors are also invited to the WRSD newsroom to see the United Press teletype receiving the latest world-wide news which is used for the station's five daily newscasts.

Staff members of WRSD will be on hand to welcome guests and to show them around. Everyone in Montevallo is invited.

On the air 6½ hours each day, WRSD serves campus listeners with up to the minute newscasts; popular semi classical and classical music programs; a weekly quiz program; a talent show featuring campus entertainers; a weekly round table discussion; and many other programs designed especially for both their educational and entertaining values. Several campus polls have been taken by the staff members to discover which programs are listened to most and which ones are most appealing to the listeners.

White Clover Is Widely Used

White clover is the most widely used legume grown in permanent pastures in Alabama, according to D. R. Harbor, A. P. I. extension service agronomist.

However, the scarcity of seed and the high price at which they usually sell limit the acreage to be planted in the state each year. This is the main reason farmers need to save more white clover seed.

In most cases, white clover seed is considered a by-product of the crop since it is grown alone or in mixtures for grazing. But, if the grazing is properly regulated, a good yield of seed can be harvested.

"If white clover is blooming freely, livestock should be removed from it entirely, or it should be grazed lightly to allow a good crop of seed to be produced," advises Mr. Harbor. "It is a good idea to mow the entire clover field at the time livestock are removed so the clover will grow to a more uniform height, making the first crop of seed heads mature more uniformly and combining easier."

White clover seed are ready to combine when three-fourths of the seed heads have turned brown or when seed from two-thirds of the seed heads will rub off easily.

"When clover attains a height of eight inches," warns the specialist, "it starts falling or lodging, causing non uniformity in height of seed heads. Under such conditions it is advisable to mow and windrow the clover instead of combining direct."

The main thing is to harvest enough seed for the farm with some left over to sell to increase farm income.

Trotter Jones Is Convention Head

Birmingham has been chosen as the host city for the 1951 state convention of the American Legion, and D. Trotter Jones, executive vice president of the Associated Industries of Alabama as the convention's general chairman, according to announcement by Mr. George Huddleston, Jr., state department commander.

Some fifteen hundred legionnaires are expected to converge upon the city during July 15, 16, and 17, the three days set for the convention.

Plans are already under way to make this one of the biggest and best conventions ever held in Alabama, Mr. Jones states.

Sanitation Is Key To Safe Living

For safe and healthful living in rural areas, it is important that several elementary details relative to environmental sanitation be attended to. These are, primarily, a protected water supply, proper excreta disposal, and adequate screening of houses.

It is true that many people drink and use water from unprotected wells and do this for many years without serious consequences. Only a few years ago, however, a typhoid carrier unwittingly contaminated a well in this county with the result that six cases of typhoid developed in users of this water. Four of the cases were in one family. There are other instances of this kind.

Typhoid is only one of the water borne infections. There is little to be gained by having laboratory tests done on water from unprotected wells since these are constantly exposed to contamination.

Proper excreta disposal can be attained by an approved pit privy if no running water is available, a septic tank and disposal field if running water is available, and, of course by sewer connections where the public sewer is accessible. These prevent the spread of many intestinal infections and of infestations, particularly with hookworm. Incidentally, hookworm is apparently on the increase in this county.

Adequate screening of the house can and does materially lessen the dangers of contracting some diseases which may be fly or mosquito borne, and also adds greatly to one's comfort.

Your health department will gladly advise you in regard to the installation of these safeguards to the health of yourself and family.

Dr. E. F. Sloan,
County Health Officer

News Notes From Ebenezer Club

The Ebenezer home demonstration club met Thursday, April 20 at the home of Mrs. George Howell. Mrs. H. A. Pauly led the members in singing Vive L'Amour, When It's Springtime in the Rockies and I Need Thee Every Hour.

The devotional was conducted by Mrs. Howell. Mrs. Howell also reported on the quilts which had been made for the crippled children's hospital. They were very glad to receive these quilts and wish to thank every member who worked on them.

Mrs. Pauly distributed the blocks for our Friendship Quilt. This will be pieced and quilted by members of the club and will be sent overseas. Each member is to embroider her name in her block, and it is hoped a correspondence will be started with the recipient of the quilt.

Miss Marian Cotney, home demonstration agent, conducted the demonstration on remodeling.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Ferman Albright and Mrs. W. A.

Jones, served refreshments to the following:

Mrs. Amos Davis, Mrs. Millard Douglas, Mrs. H. A. Pauly, Miss Ivy Swinford, Mrs. Earl Swinford, Mrs. Gladys Allen, Mrs. Frank Green, Mrs. Lester Stancil, Miss Minnie Harper, Mrs. J. H. Wyatt, Mrs. Robert Lovelady, and Miss Marian Cotney.

Family Night Party

Seven o'clock is the time set for the members of the Ebenezer club and their families to meet at the home of Mrs. H. A. Pauly for their annual family night party, April 28 is the date. A ham will be furnished by the club and each member is asked to bring a dish to complete the menu. Every member is urged to come and bring husband and children for a night of fun.

District Meeting

The following members of the Ebenezer club attended the fourth district meeting held at Birmingham Southern College April 21: Mrs. Lester Stancil, Mrs. Robert Lovelady, Mrs. W. A. Jones, Mrs. H. A. Pauly, Mrs. J. H. Wyatt.

Chairman Roy Downs Explains What You May Do With Maturing U. S. Bonds

Ten years ago the first of May, 1941, the United States Treasury sold the first Series E Savings Bonds. Americans now hold around 500 million E Bonds, worth some $34½ billion, present cash value. On May 1, 1951, E Bonds begin to mature.

The first E Bonds were titled "Defense Savings Bond, Series E" until after Pearl Harbor when the title became "War Savings Bond", followed in 1946 by "U. S. Savings Bond." Since mid-January the Treasury Department has been referring to them as Defense Bonds. However, under all these names it is the same Series E Savings Bond, the most widely owned security in the world.

About $1,096,000,000 of Series E Defense Bonds issued in 1941 are still outstanding and will mature month by month between now and the end of 1951. In 1952-54 the amounts maturing will markedly increase, reflecting the heavy wartime sales of E Bonds in war loan drives and on the Payroll Savings Plan during 1942-44. In 1955, maturities will begin to come down to peacetime levels.

In a statement embodying these facts, Chairman Roy Downs of the Shelby County Savings Bonds Committee, reminds owners of Series E Bonds that under a recent act of Congress, they now have three options at maturity, two of which are new privileges:

1. CASH—The owner of any Series E Bond may receive, if he wishes, full cash payment by presenting his matured bond to any qualified bank or other paying agent. This has not changed.

The new options are:

2. EXTENSION — The owner may retain the matured E Bond and for a period not to exceed ten additional years the cash value of the bond will increase each six months, interest accruing at the rate of 2½% simple interest for 7½ years, and then at an increase rate for the remaining 2½ years, to bring the aggregate interest return to approximately 2.9%, compounded semi-annually (the average rate as for the original ten-year period.) This choice requires no action by the owner of the bond; any E bond which is not turned in for cash at its original maturity date will be extended automatically until such time as the owner does present it for payment. At the end of the extended period of ten years, interest ceases. The extended E bond may be redeemed at any time for the full face value plus interest which has accrued at the new rates.

3. EXCHANGE—Those who prefer to receive interest as current income, rather than having it accrue and add to the cash value of the bond, may exchange maturing E Bonds in amounts of $500 or multiples thereof for Series G Savings Bonds. Series G Bonds are registered bonds issued at face amount (selling at par.) They bear interest at the rate of 2½% per annum, payable semi-annually from issue date until their maturity in 12 years. There is a time limit after maturity of E Bonds for exchanging them for G Bonds; ask at any bank for details. G Bonds may be redeemed at any time after six months from the issue date on one calendar month notice from the owner. If issued in exchange for maturing E Bonds, they will be redeemable for full face value whenever they are presented for payment—a new privilege.

The options outlined apply to all outstanding E Bonds as they mature and will apply to all new Series E Savings Bonds issued in the future, Mr. Downs, added.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN

Senator Phillips

In Montgomery Wednesday we learned that Senator Tom Phillips is still in the hospital with a sign on his door saying "No visitors." His many friends hope he will be able soon to get out and take his place in the doings of the State Senate which is now in session.

Don Lovelady Moved

Don Lovelady has moved his store — Central Alabama Auto Parts — to his new location on Main Street, next to Lovelady Motor Co. He announces his formal opening to be Saturday, May 12. He has a fine looking arrangement at his new place, plenty of room, and well suited for showing off the many things he carries in stock. If you've got on your trading clothes, Don is the man to see. He will trade for anything.

Our Negro High School

The construction of the addition to the Montevallo Negro High School is proceeding steadily. We hear there are to be eight new classrooms added. At any rate, our town may well be proud of the extraordinary school advantages this building makes possible for our Negro youth. Especially do we hope our Negro citizens will fully appreciate and realize what this means to their future in Montevallo. Negroes, as well as all people, need something to tie them down and cause them to stay put and to strive toward the achievement of the slow and tedious process of intellectual elevation. No facility can do this as well as a proper and inspiring school.

Branch Health Office To Open

The branch office of the county health department in Montevallo will open Friday, May 4.

The final planning has been made possible by the American Legion Auxiliary of Montevallo. These women have acquired the furniture that will be needed and have assisted with much of the detail work.

A member of the health department will be in the Montevallo branch office in the Town Hall on each Friday afternoon. Hours planned are: Whites, 1:00 to 2:00; Negroes, 2:00 to 4:00.

From Dr. Charlie

While he is seeing the sights of the West, Dr. Charlie Acker is evidently remembering his friends and neighbors at home. A flood of picture post cards are coming in from him every day. The one I got Tuesday was from Prescott, Arizona, home of his brother, James. He mentioned his visit to Cleburne in Texas, the home of Rev. Pitts, the Baptist minister who was in a revival here recently. By this time we guess the Acker brothers are well on their jaunt into old Mexico.

Judge L. C. Walker and Mr. Gene Young, of Columbiana were visitors in Montevallo Thursday morning.

Mr. Lee A. Barclay On Visit Here

Mr. Lee A. Barclay, newly appointed Business Manager of Alabama College, has been in Montevallo this past week familiarizing himself with his new duties which he will assume July 1. Mr. Barclay will succeed Mr. Raymond D. Fowler in this office.

Mr. Barclay is a native of Birmingham, graduating from West End High School there. He attended the University of Alabama and graduated with a BS degree in 1943. While attending the University he was employed in the Business Office there. He received his MS degree from the University of North Carolina in 1950 and now has a Ph.D. pending at that school. During World War II he served as a line officer in the infantry in the European Theatre.

The newly appointed Business Manager taught accounting at Auburn in 1946-1947 and at the University of North Carolina from 1947 to date.

Mrs. Barclay is the former Lucille Landcaster of Birmingham. The Barclays have four children, Lee, Jr., Barbara Ann, Allen and Betty Jane.

Mr. Barclay plans to move his family to Montevallo soon after July 1.

Edmund Pendleton Finishes IBM School

Phillip E. Pendleton, Montevallo has been graduated from the International Business Machines Corporation customer engineering school in Endicott, N. Y. He is assigned to the company's Birmingham sales and service office.

Will Investigate Defense Spending

Rep. Ed deGraffenried of the Sixth District of Alabama has been appointed as a member of a seven-man subcommittee of the House Armed Services Committee to investigate defense department purchasing.

The subcommittee's jurisdiction will cover all procurement matters except real estate. It will investigate all contracts for materials or construction, whether bid or negotiated. It will study the procurement policies of the Army, Navy, and Air Forces and the manner in which they are coordinating their buying. It will also investigate the rate of progress and performance of contracts, the qualifications of contracting officers and all other matters in any way related to the procurement program of the Defense Department.

Rep. Hebert (D-La.) is the subcommittee chairman. Other members are Reps. Fisher (D-Tex.), deGraffenried (D-Ala.), Clements (D-Ky.), Elston (R-Ohio), Anderson (R-Calif.), Towe (R-N.J.).

FHA Chapter Has Monthly Meeting

On Wednesday, April 25, the Montevallo Chapter of Future Homemakers of America held its regular monthly meeting in the home economics building at Montevallo High School.

The president, Sara Pat Baker, led a discussion on what could be done to improve the home economics department's flower beds. In order to get a wider variety of flowers, the girls will bring plants from home and work in the flower bed one afternoon after school.

Plans for the next entertainment were discussed by the group. Lola Pete, Elaine Lucas, and Joyce Lucas were presented to the group as applicants for State F.H.A. degrees.

Rosemary Splawn was elected club representative to the Student Council.

A very impressive program on the meaning of the F.H.A. emblem and the purposes of F.H.A. was given under the direction of Lola Pete, chairman of the program committee.

The club will have one more meeting before school is out. Officers for the coming year will be elected.

On Friday, May 4, 1951, the F.H.A. girls will serve refreshments for the Montevallo and Columbiana school's Field Day.

There are two classes of people, the righteous and the unrighteous. The classifying is done by the righteous.

"No More State Roads," Says Highway Director

A delegation of citizens went to the state capitol Wednesday in the interest of the proposed state road from Montevallo to Bessemer.

Representative Karl Harrison met the group and carried us to the Highway Department where he had arranged an interview with Highway Director, Guerry Pruitt. We were received by Mr. Pruitt in a most courteous manner.

He impressed us as being "solid as a dollar" in his approach to the tremendous job he has of administering Alabama's highway business.

He had a readiness of facts and figures at the tip of his tongue. He knows all the answers to questions about Alabama highways.

We found the situation, as revealed by Mr. Pruitt, considerably disappointing.

He flatly and bluntly said that we can not get a state road from Montevallo to Bessemer, nor anywhere else in Alabama.

"I have not added a foot of road to the state system, and I will not do so," he said. He explained his hard and fast determination on the attitude by what he said was a financial situation that makes it necessary.

It was shown that the only kind of a road we can get from Montevallo to Bessemer is a farm-to-market road, in which the state will pay half the cost of construction and the city half—and the state will not take it for maintenance as a part of the state highway system.

"If Shelby County will request a farm-to-market road from Montevallo to the Jefferson County line, I will approve it," he said.

Thus ended the interview with Mr. Pruitt. Having secured this positive answer to their appeal to the state, the citizens of the area concerned by the road will seek to get the County Board of Revenue to put it on the farm-to-market program.

"If that is the only plan we can get, we want it," they said, "and we will insist on the necessary action by the county authorities to get the road as soon as possible."

Methodist Women Hold Meeting

The Missionary Education committee of the Methodist WSCS is sponsoring a meeting in the ladies parlor of the church May 7 from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. "Know Your Missionaries" will be discussed.

As an outgrowth of a fall Bible study, "We Seek Him Together," the first part of the meeting will be devoted to a heart to heart discussion of how we might prepare ourselves to make the morning worship service more meaningful. Timothy 3:15, "That thou oughtest to behave thyself in the house of God."

We urge all members and friends of the church to join us in this meeting. Let's see ourselves as others see us.

Mothers who can not leave their children, notify Mrs. O. B. Cooper or Mrs. M. S. McGehee and provision will be made at the church to take care of them.

Remember the date, May 7, at 3:30 p.m. Come, improve yourself, your church, your community and the world.

On The Farms Of Shelby County

B. F. Hatchett and G. C. Starcher Terracing and meadow construction are progressing on several farms in a roll against the planting season. W. C. Martin, Montevallo and H. A. Jackson, Wilsonville, are doing the biggest jobs we see in progress.

C. E. Jones, Montevallo has one of the most beautiful stands of re-seeding Crimson Clover in the county.

J. M. Hall, Four Mile has fifteen acres of the finest Ky. 31 fescue we have seen from fall planting.

Mr. Rucker has an abundance of grazing for his fine Herefords. He complains of considerable trouble with bloat except in a pasture of Ky 31 and white clover.

Another Bell telephone man is becoming a part time farmer, when the Otts family bought the Thomas farm on Highway 25 west of Calera. M. J. Otts, like Jack Johnson and Henry Blankenship, other Bell "fone" men, is becoming a cooperator of the North Central Soil Conservation District.

His farm will be planned by Conservationist B. F. Hatchett on May 2.

Country Doctor Program

A "Country Doctor Program," providing state scholarships for medical students who will agree to practice in critical rural areas has been written into a bill by State Senator Virgil M. Smith of Cherokee and DeKalb counties. The bill was ready for introduction on Tuesday, the first day of the May legislative session.

Southern Bell Will Make Wage Offer

Contract negotiations between Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company and the Communications Workers of America — CIO, began in Atlanta Monday. The present agreement covering the company's non-supervisory employees, including those at Montevallo, runs until June 5.

G. D. Garner, Southern Bell vice president in charge of personnel, indicated in Atlanta Saturday that the company will go into the negotiations prepared to make a wage offer within the limits of the government's wage stabilization program.

"Surveys just completed show that a general upward movement of wages has taken place in the South and that a wage increase for Southern Bell employees is justified," he said. "The company's policy is to pay wage rates that are in line with those paid other workers in the community having similar skills. Only in this way can we do justice to our employees and continue to attract and keep the high-type personnel essential to good telephone service."

"Operating costs have already increased out of line with revenues, and increased wages on top of the other cost rises, will require an increase in telephone rates. There is no margin in our income to absorb any increased costs."

"In its negotiations the company must constantly seek the middle ground that is fairest to all concerned—employees, customers and the people who have invested their savings in the telephone business. We are confident the public expects Southern Bell to pay fair wages. We must also recognize the right of those who have put their money into the business expecting a fair return, and we must charge for telephone service only what is necessary to provide good and expanding service, plus the return to which those who have invested their money are entitled."

Dr. Jackson Is Gift Chairman

Dr. Rosa Lea Jackson will serve as chairman in Montevallo during the University of Chicago Alumni Foundation campaign for the alumni's 1951 gift to the university, Chester W. Laing, chairman of the Foundation, announced this week.

The Foundation, now commemorating its tenth anniversary, has set $180,000 for its 1951 goal. Since its inauguration at the university's fiftieth anniversary, the foundation has contributed $737,400 to the university.

One thousand six-hundred and twenty-five foundation chairmen and workers will represent 425 cities throughout the nation and in Hawaii.

One of the youngest fund-raising campaigns in a privately-endowed university, the worker's campaign provides unrestricted funds for the university's educational and scientific program.

The university's medical and biological research center and its atomic center, the largest privately-operated center for nuclear, metallurgical and biological research, are among the current building programs on the Midway university campus.

News Notes From Ebenezer Club

The Ebenezer Home Demonstration Club held its annual Family Nite Party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Pauly Saturday night, April 28.

Mrs. Pauly used garden flowers for her decoration and dinner was served at candlelit tables. A special table was prepared for the children.

After a delicious dinner of baked ham, scalloped potatoes, salad, baked beans, french bread, pie and tea, the members and their guests spent the evening playing Bingo.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Nolen, Sue, Jackie, Jean and Paula; Mrs. Amos Davis and Howard; Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Faust; Mrs. Robert Lovelady, Darlene and Sandra; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Green, Linnie, Mason and Edna; Mr. and Mrs. Archie Jones; Mrs. George Howell, Miss Ivy Swinford and Reuben; Mrs. Lester Stancel, Kitty Lynn and Emily; Mrs. Ferman Albright; Mr. and Mrs. Grady Wyatt, Mrs. Bertie Powers, Miss MaryJo Butler; Mrs. Doc Cupp, Mrs. Nathan Frost, Mrs. J. ### News Notes From Siluria Home Club

In the past year we have added six new members.

In August the annual picnic was enjoyed by members, husbands and children. This event was held on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Kent.

Last autumn found us in a money making spree. We made and sold Bar-B-Cue and pies for a profit of $74.00.

Mrs. Douglas Kent attended the National Home Demonstration Convention in Biloxi.

Mrs. J. G. Lacey attended the State Convention in Biloxi.

Mrs. T. C. Cairns was hostess at a call meeting of the club. The purpose of this meeting was to make the U.N. Flag. This flag was presented to Thompson School by Mrs. Leon Barton.

Our December meeting was the climax of the year. This was in the form of a spend-the-day meeting. In the morning we had a very impressive installation of officers. After a delicious lunch Mrs. Douglas Kent gave a well planned demonstration on Christmas decorations. Our recreation hour was a Christmas party.

Mrs. R. W. Kent and Mrs. Troy Henderson have covered studio couches in Plastic. Mrs. Douglas Kent has made slip covers.

Calera Club Has Flower Show

sent Mrs. Beth McReynolds, of Birmingham in an interesting and informative program on the subject of "Flower Arrangement."

Mrs. McReynolds has been making this art a study for eight years and has attended schools and lectures in Birmingham, Atlanta, and New York City. She has completed the study course prescribed by the national council and has judged flowers in Birmingham and in other towns. At present she is a designer in a flower shop.

Mrs. McReynolds will furnish flowers and containers for the demonstration. The meeting will be held at the City Hall in Calera May 8. Those interested in flower arrangement are invited to attend.

Legion Posts To Begin Drive For Soldiers Memorial

American Legion Posts throughout the County are making plans to begin a drive within the next two weeks to obtain funds to finance the erection of a monument which will be dedicated to the memory of all service men from Shelby County who gave their life for their country during World War I and World War II and the present war in Korea. This monument will be of stone and will be erected on the courthouse grounds. A goal of $1,000.00 has been fixed.

This movement began in 1949 under the sponsorship of the Shelby County Council of the American Legion. Thus far, $313.75 has been contributed. Officials of the American Legion Post in Sterrett, Vincent, Wilsonville, Columbiana, Calera, Montevallo and Siluria have agreed to lead the present campaign. The assistance of the general public is requested.

The following individuals have agreed to accept contributions in their respective communities: Eugene Abercrombie, Sterrett; Louis H. Cosper, and B. E. Cunningham, Wilsonville; B. B. White and Ross B. Mullins, Columbiana; Jim D. Presey, Calera; J. D. Allen, Marvel, Rt. 1; S. H. Perkins, RFD, Columbiana; and R. L. Woolley, Montevallo. Contributions may be made to officials of the above Legion Posts or to any of the individuals named. All contributions will be acknowledged by post card and also by the publication of the names of the contributors in the Shelby County Reporter-Democrat

Home Ec Class Has Fashion Show

The Home Economics I classes of Montevallo High School under the direction of Mrs. Rebecca McGaughy, proved that spring is really here by presenting a moving wheel of color in their fashion show with accents of lovely spring flowers, May 3, at 9 o'clock in the Home Economics department. Each of the thirty-seven girls modeled the cotton dress or skirt and blouse she had made in clothing class. The girls' mothers were invited as honor guests.

After the fashion show, the guests were ushered into the living room to be served delicious punch and dainty tea sandwiches.

Those attending were Mesdames Johnson, Creek, Evans, Hoffman, Triplett, Sharp, Boyd, Fancher, Faulkner; Misses Davis, Larkin, Old, Richardson, Hawkins, Nettles, and members of the Clothing II and III classes.

Committees for the fashion show were: Ann Cox, Lois Hoffman, Annette McBurnett, Durene Harper, Jo Ann Smitherman, and Jane Triplett, Script; Florence Daly, Phyllis Lawley, Margaret Eddings, Sandwiches; Annette McBurnette, Lois Hoffman, Anita Bradey, Hostess; Joanna Sharp, Beverly Taff, Elizabeth Battles, Serving punch; Durene Harper, Joan Butler, Beverly Doyle, Sue Moody, Lola Mae Scurlock, serving sandwiches; Norma Jo Evans, Mignon Daly, Betty Ruth Dennis, Freda Kendrick, Music; Imogene Lucas, Betty Ruth Dennis, Dotis Johnson, Dorris Cunningham, room arrangement.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN

Dr. Charlie In Mexico

Post cards continue to come from Dr. Charlie Acker. The latest one is from some place in Mexico. I can't tell much about it other than the purty picture. The print is in Spanish, which I can't read—and I can do little better with what Dr. Charlie writ on it.

Four O'clock Next Saturday

It will take place in Montevallo somewhere about Whaley's, Don Lovelady's or Bill Lovelady's Ford place. The merchants of the town want everybody to be here for the big event. That's about all I can say about it in print. Reminds me of the little roadside stand down near Gulf Shores in prohibition days. Their sign said: "We sell it, but can't tell it."

Thorsby Mayor Visits Us

Mayor Patrick and Mrs. Patrick of Thorsby were visitors in Montevallo last Sunday afternoon in the course of a leisurely drive. They wanted to take a look at our new Town Hall, but didn't have time; had to get back home in time to go to church services.

Open House May 19

Councilman Sam Klotzman is the chairman of a committee to make arrangements for open house at our new Town Hall Saturday, May 19. On that day all citizens are invited to visit the new building. Complete details of the committee arrangements will be given next week.

County Officials Here

Judge L. C. Walker, Fred McClendon and County Engineer, Mr. Parks, were guests at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce on Monday night. Subject under consideration was the Montevallo to Bessemer road. W. E. Kirkpatrick and Clay Lucas were present representing the citizens of the Dogwood community.

FFA Livestock Show Will Be Main Attraction In Montevallo Saturday, May 19

Montevallo F.F.A. members are looking forward to the annual livestock show which is to be held at Montevallo, May 19. The show is being sponsored by the Montevallo Chamber of Commerce and Don Lovelady, president of the O of C states that all premiums will be paid in cash immediately following the judging. Indications are that F.F.A. boys will have their animals groomed for the occasion and throughout the entire day, Saturday, May 19, Montevallo merchants will have specials in the offering for the large crowd expected to attend.

A feature with special interest to F.F.A. boys will be the crowning of the F.F.A. sweetheart for the day. It is expected that several nominations will be made and it will not be known until Thursday, May 17 to whom the crown will be given. Additional information will be given in next weeks issue of the Times.

Serving as the committee for the livestock show are: Edgar Joe Clark, William Pickett, Ted Allen, Bobby Jarvis and Robert Cleckler. Mr. A. L. Little, teacher of on-the-farm trainees, will furnish the necessary lumber for making the show pens. Mr. W. H. Sanders of Cruse Crawford farms will groom two ayershire cows for the occasion and it is expected that some top cows of the guernsey and other dairy breeds will be on display. Saddle animals will also be a part of the show as well as a special contest where only the rider will be judged.

Premiums will be offered for the following: Best sow and litter, best gilt, best boar, best dairy cow, best heifer, best beef animal, best saddle animal, best poultry exhibit, best rabbits, best hereford bull, best colt, best gentleman rider and best turkeys.

Ten members of the Montevallo F.F.A. chapter will go to Auburn Saturday, May 12, to compete in the state contests in judging of dairy cows, judging of beef cattle, and staging a radio program.

Shelby Citizens Are Asked To Decide Upon Cooperation In Blood Program

To decide whether Shelby County will participate in the Red Cross Blood Program every citizen of the county is requested to come to a meeting on Wednesday, May 16, at 8 p.m., at the Alabama Employment Office in Calera. At this meeting the people of this county will decide whether Shelby County will participate in the Blood Program.

If the citizens of this county participate every Shelby Countian will be eligible to receive free blood no matter where in the United States he may be when the need arises. His or her ability or non-ability to pay for blood has nothing to do with the receiving of blood. Red Cross blood is free to every citizen of every county that participates in the Program. If Shelby County does not participate, we in this county are not eligible to receive Red Cross blood.

If those attending the meeting decide for Shelby County to participate in the Program, every person in the county will be needed to give blood and recruit donors. These hundred donors will be needed every time the mobile unit comes to the county to collect blood. In addition, 20 volunteer workers will be needed to assist at the blood collecting centers. Every citizen of Shelby County will be called on to give blood or to assist in the collection of blood. If you do not want to give blood and/or your time, please attend the meeting and say so. If you do want your county to participate please attend the meeting and say so. The decision will be made at this meeting. It is up to you to decide whether we in Shelby County are to give and receive free blood when needed. If you do not attend the meeting it will be assumed you do not care. If you do not care, the county can not participate.

All over the nation Red Cross Chapters are beginning Blood Programs this year. The citizens of participating counties are contributing blood for their own use and for the armed forces. Within 50 hours from the time the blood is drawn the armed forces receive it in Korea. It is sent all over the world for your airmen, and marines, and soldiers and sailors. In each county where the blood is given sufficient quantities are kept in a Blood Bank to assure the citizens of that county of blood when they need it.

At the meeting at the Calera Office of the Alabama Employment Service next Wednesday at 8 o'clock, it will be up to you to decide whether you want to give blood and be eligible to receive blood. If you do not attend, it can not be known whether your cooperation can be counted upon. The blood program can not be adopted in Shelby County without your cooperation.

These are the dairymen who will lead Alabama producers in this year's campaign to advertise dairy products. They are officers and directors of the Alabama unit of the American Dairy Association who were elected at recent Spring meeting of that organization in Montgomery.

The leaders hope to get every dairyman in the state to participate in the set-aside program proposed for the months of June and July this year. This plan calls for A.D.A. members to contribute one cent for each pound of butterfat they sell during the 60-day period. And their aim is to have every dairyman a member during 1951.

Jack Ingram Goes To Boys State

Jack Ingram, Montevallo High School junior, has been selected by the Montevallo American Legion Post to attend Boy's State in Tuscaloosa, June 2-9.

Boy's State, made up of outstanding boys from all over Alabama, gives these future citizens practice in carrying on state business.

Jack holds office of sentinel in the F.F.A. and was a candidate for vice-president of the Student Council this year.

King Explains Important Points Of Septic Tanks

Septic tanks are recommended as temporary conditioners in the disposal of sewage. However, septic tanks connected to underground fields located on adaptable soil have served satisfactorily for an unbelievable length of time.

If you are one of the many who are now or soon will be using a septic tank system the following suggestions may be interesting.

Since grease is the enemy of "septic action" it is recommended that drainage from the kitchen sink be disposed of entirely separate from the drainage from bath, lavatory and toilet waste. If this is impracticable a grease trap should be installed between the kitchen sink and the septic tank. This trap should be cleaned regularly.

The septic tank will get off to a better start if it is primed. A few dissolved yeast cakes and/or 1/2 bushel of stable manure added to the tank along with enough water to at least cover the opening in the partition may prove helpful in getting the digestion process started.

Do not add chemicals to the tank. This includes large portions of bleach material.

Do not add foreign materials to the sewerage system. Remember it is easier to burn the contents of the waste basket than to flush it down the commode and have to remove it from the septic tank or lines.

When sludge accumulates to one half the capacity of the tank it is time to clean out. A standard size tank under normal service should be checked for sludge content after about 4 years of service.

This can be done by moving the lid far enough to lower a shovel handle, or similar gauge stick to the bottom of the tank next to the baffle wall and on the inlet side. Remove the gauge and measure the sludge line on the stick. If this measurement is near 15 inches, the tank should be cleaned.

Incidentally this cleaning creates less of a nuisance and hazard if performed during the winter months.

Further information may be obtained from the County Health Department.

County Sanitation Officer

Siluria Girl Goes To Girls State

Edrel Mae Aldridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Aldridge has been selected by the Siluria Chapter of the American Legion Auxiliary to represent Thompson Schools at Alabama Girl's State to be held at Huntingdon College in Montgomery on June 10 to 16.

Edrel is a member of the Beta Club, she has held county offices in the FHA, also, song leader in the local FHA, and has done solo work with the school glee club. She is in the eleventh grade.

Rodeo At Selma Will Be Thriller

A championship rodeo means just that — championship contestants—performing on the nation's roughest and toughest stock governed by the rules of the Rodeo Cowboys Association.

Put these three together and you have the Championship Craig Rodeo you'll see May 15-19 in Selma's Memorial Stadium.

The majority of the contestants will be top-notch cowboys who have been touring the rodeo circuit for years. They are the top hands in the rodeo game who have been in the big money. They may earn from $6,000 to $12,000 a year if they stay in one place long enough. These men make their living only to be outriding and outroping the cream of rodeo competition.

Local entrants, too, will be on hand and permitted to compete. However, they had better be certain their insurance premiums are paid up before tangling with wild bucking broncos or vicious full-ton Brahma bulls.

Producers of the Craig classic, Earl and Jack Sellers, are rated among the top three rodeo impresarios in the country. They have assured Craig officials that "the stock will be just too rough for the contestants to set any records."

Rules governing the Craig rampage have been set up by the national Rodeo Cowboys Association, the Supreme Court of rodeos. These rules provide for fair competition, impartial judging, and an equitable distribution of the prize money.

Spotlight Gets First Place Award

The Spotlight has been given a first place award by the Southern Interscholastic Press Association. Ed Givhan, editor received the award and certificate of membership at a recent convention sponsored by the Lee Memorial Journalism Foundation of Washington and Lee University, at Lexington, Virginia.

At the critical service clinic the Spotlight, was rated excellent in three fields of journalism: writing and coverage; general excellence; and management and production. The rating in appearance and makeup was good, Sports coverage and writing received special commendation.

Thompson Prom Friday Evening

"A Southern Garden" will set the scene for the annual Junior-Senior Prom at Thompson High School on Friday evening, May eleventh from eight 'till. The McAdory Pep Band from Jefferson County will play for the dance.

The lead-out will include class officers and their escorts: Sue Wyatt, president; Betty Faye Wyatt, vice president; Mattie Lou Wyatt, reporter.

Sixth Grade At Camp This Week

Montevallo sixth graders have been living in the outdoor life at Oak Mountain State Park this week. The group was accompanied on the camping trip by their teacher, Mrs. Murry Fancher, and fifteen college student counsellors from the physical education, art and home economics departments of Alabama College.

The week at camp provided the class opportunity for group living and nature study. Specialists, who worked with campers include Dr. Clyde Blair from the State Department of Education, Mr. Stuckey of the Forestry Department, a representative from the Conservation Department and Mr. Moor of Alabama Power Company.

Thompson School Will Feature Outdoor Program

Commencement under-the-stars in the out-door stadium in Buck Creek Park, Siluria, on the evening of May 21 will feature an all student program. This is a departure from the usual procedure of an indoor program, with a guest speaker.

The Class President, Sue Wyatt, will give the welcome address. Lola Kiker will speak on "School and Community Cooperation." "Proper Parent Attitude toward School", will be discussed by Merle Roach. Joan Gates will talk about "A Senior Faces the Future", and Gerald Brogden has an important contribution in talking about "The Place of the Athletic Program in Community and School."

The girls' Glee Club directed by Mrs. Albert Dennis will sing several numbers by MacDowell, Cole Porter and Vincent Youmans.

The Reverend M. L. Alexander will give the invocation and the principal, Robert H. Johnson, Jr., will award the diplomas.

On Sunday, May 20, at the Siluria Baptist Church the Reverend T. H. Spence, District Superintendent, Assembly of God Church will deliver the Baccalaureate address to the graduating class at Thompson High School. The Reverend Elbert Jackson will give the invocation and the Reverend John Bentley the benediction.

The Mixed Chorus directed by Mrs. Albert Dennis will sing songs by composers Romberg, Rasback, and Youmans.

New Officers Of Thompson P T A

New officers will be installed at the final meeting of the Thompson PTA on Monday evening, May 14. Out-going President, Mrs. Fred Phillips will be succeeded by Mrs. W. J. Mathis. William McFarland has been elected first vice president, Mrs. Leon Barton second vice president, Mrs. George Bentley secretary and Mrs. Alice Wyatt, treasurer.

A film will be shown to the group and the school glee club will conclude the devotional period when they sing "The Lord's Prayer."

Telephone Company Offers Wage Raise

Pay increases most of which will range from $3 to $6 a week, were offered today by the Southern Bell Telephone Company for its non-supervisory employees.

G. D. Garner, Vice President for Personnel, said the proposal, which conforms to the Government's wage stabilization program, would add approximately $10,000,000 a year to the Company's labor costs and that the money to pay these and other increased costs would have to be obtained through increases in telephone rates.

In addition to the wage offer, the Company also proposed that the present agreement on working conditions be extended for one year.

The offer was made in the course of negotiations now going on between the Company and the communications workers of America-CIO. More than 45,000 employees in nine states served by Southern Bell are represented by the Union.

According to the Company's proposal, the increased rates of pay would take effect on the first pay roll period after expiration of the present contract between the Union and the Company on next June 4.

"The wage increases being offered", Mr. Gardner said, "are in addition to the regularly scheduled progression increases which our employees receive until they reach the top rate for their jobs."

He said that increases in telephone rates are still lagging far behind increases in telephone labor wages.

"Including the present wage offer, the rate increases granted since 1939 are falling short by about $30,000,000 annually of covering the cost of wage increases granted over the same period.

Mr. Garner described the wage increase offer as one that is fair to employees and customers alike. He said the Company must be guided in the negotiations by the interests of telephone users as well as of telephone employees.

SCHOOL MEETING

Dot Baumgartner In Theatre Play

TOBIAS AND THE ANGEL is the last play for this season to be presented by the Alabama College Theatre.

Scheduled for 8:00 p.m., May 16 in Palmer Auditorium, this work of James Bridie is described by Dr. Walter Trumbauer as a rather amusing miracle-type play.

Set in Hebrew about 500 to 600 B.C., the plot concerns a once wealthy merchant who because of his generosity has now become poor. He has a weak son to whom the Archangel Raphael gives strength. At least three different stage settings will characterize the production.

Included in the leading characters of the play is Tobit, a poor Jew, portrayed by Dorothy Baumgartner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Baumgartner, Montevallo.

Folmar Explains Social Security

All deductions made from pay checks are not payments on Social Security.

M. C. Folmar, Manager of the Birmingham Social Security office, says that many persons inquiring at his office confuse Social Security deductions with income tax withholding and other deductions. He explains that the amount withheld for Old-Age and Survivors Insurance prior to January 1, 1951, was 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ % of the first \$3,000 of wages paid to an employee in each year. Effective January 1, 1951, the rate remains 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ % with the limit changed to \$3,600. Until this year, the employee's maximum Social Security deduction was \$45 per year. Under the new maximum it is \$54. The employer matches the employee's contributions for Social Security.

Mr. Folmar pointed out that his office does not collect of taxes whatever. All federal taxes, including income tax and social security tax are collected by the Bureau of Internal Revenue, and persons seeking information on federal tax matters should contact the Internal Revenue office.

The Birmingham Social Security office is primarily concerned with the payment of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance benefits. These benefits go to retired workers who are over 65 who have qualified by work on jobs covered by Social Security; to certain of their dependents; and to the survivors of deceased qualified workers. The office is located at 1825 First Avenue, North.

FARM NEWS

A. A. Lauderdale

No other domestic animal will change grain into meat as fast and economically as the pig.

At the age of six short months, the well-fed pig will be ready to go to market as a top hog to supply ham, pork chops, and bacon to a meat-hungry nation.

In fact right now is the time to full-feed the spring litter for an early profitable market.

*****

Hot weather is here and poultrymen should take steps immediately to keep their poultry houses as cool as possible.

John Weeks, A.P.I. Extension Service poultryman, points to the studies conducted at the California Experiment Station which show that hens eat only 42 per cent as much feed at 100 degrees Fahrenheit as at 70 degrees.

*****

Egg production declined markedly in Reds at 90 degrees F and in Leghorns at 100 degrees F. Egg weight and shell thickness decreases at high temperatures. Two to three weeks of normal temperature were required to get the egg size and shell thickness, back to normal.

Week says that the temperature in laying houses can be reduced by providing wire covered double doors in the ends of the building and providing cross ventilation by having openings on all four sides of the building with aluminum paint. So, don't let hot weather reduce egg profits this summer.

*****

It is not too late to plant lespe-deza sericea, according to County Agent, A. A. Lauderdale.

Results of tests conducted by the API Experiment Station indicate that the crop can be planted successfully at any time from the last killing frost until the last of July. Also the opportunity for increasing Alabama's sericea acreage has never been more favorable.

The seed supply is abundant, and the price of seed is lower than it has been for the past few years.

Montevallo Parent-Teacher Association Organized At Meeting Tuesday Night

Seven of the nine communities composing the Montevallo public school area were represented by parents at the public relations meeting at the high school Tuesday night. In all, about a hundred parents were present. We take this to mean that there is a real interest among the parents about what the schools are doing with and for the children.

The meeting was opened with invocation by Rev. Edward Glover. Principal Claude Hill presided.

Mrs. Lena Jeter gave the public relations report on behalf of the faculty.

The school's finances was discussed in a report by Mr. Lee A. Barclay, business manager of Alabama College.

Mrs. M. Ziolkowski was spokesman for the parents in making a statement of plans for the meeting.

Mr. M. Thornton gave a discussion of the proposal to increase the state sales tax to 3 cents in support of public school finances.

Following this discussion a vote was taken on the question and the result showed the group in favor of the plan.

The social committee was composed of Mrs. Ziolkowski and Mrs. C. G. Sharp. Music for the social hour was furnished by Mr. Victor Young's swing band.

The group voted to organize a parent-teacher association. The committee for nominating officers of the association was composed of Mr. O'Neal from Moore's Cross Roads; Hobson Lucas from Wilt-on; Mrs. S. M. Mahan for Montevallo; and Ned Cary for Spring Creek.

The following were elected as officers for the P.T.A.: Miss Mary Woolley, president; Mrs. A. L. Little, secretary; Mrs. Lena Jeter, treasurer. The election of a vice president was deferred to a future meeting.

The group welcomed a general discussion of the school affairs by Dr. Caldwell, Dr. Orr and Mr. Lee Barclay.

4-H Club Boys and Girls Show Calves At Columbiana and Birmingham

By W. M. Clark, Assistant County Agent

Ten Shelby County 4-H boys and girls exhibited 12 fat calves in the Fat Calf Shows in Columbiana and Birmingham on May 1st and May 3rd. These twelve calves were better than any year before. At the Birmingham Show they graded two Prime, four Choice and Six Good calves. It was the first time Shelby County has exhibited Prime calves in the Fat Calf Show.

In the Columbiana Show the calves placed as follows:

Angus Class—Mary Bell, 1st and second place; Joe Mooney, third place; Wayne Milam, fourth place; Kenneth Steele, fifth place; Fred Wilson, sixth place; Neal Hughes, seventh place.

Hereford Class—Howard Hall, Jr., 1st place; Joe Mooney, 2nd place; Billy Ross, 3rd place; Joe McGuire, 4th place; Rena Merle Furney, 5th place.

Showmanship honors went to Joe Mooney, Mary Bell and Neal Hughes. Each received $5.00.

In the Birmingham Show Mary Bell's Champion Angus placed 10th in its class. Mary Bell, Vincent, Vincent 4-H Club, won the STATE SHOWMANSHIP HONORS over contestants from 21 counties. In winning she received $50.00.

The calves from Shelby County sold good. This was possible by the cooperation of the businessmen of Shelby County. Calves averaged 40.5c per pound.

Roy Downs, Central State Bank and R. M. Cleckler, First National Bank of Childersburg purchased the GRAND CHAMPION for 50c per pound. This is the second year Mary has won this award.

The following grocerymen purchased calves for their markets. Wood Grocery, Columbiana; L. & H. Grocery, Calera; Rainbow Market, Ed Jones, Montevallo; S. M. Scarbrough, Siluria; Yeilding Brothers, Acipco Commissary, Birmingham.

The following men purchased calves for their own use: Dewy Bolton, Wilsonville; F. Jackson, Harpersville; Homer J. Walton, A. A. Lauderdale, Columbiana; Z. S. Cowart, Calera.

Home Demonstration Clubs Observed National Home Demonstration Week

Shelby County home demonstration clubs celebrated national home demonstration week April 29 to May 5.

Mrs. J. Frank Baker, president of the Alabama home demonstration council, accompanied by Miss Marian Cotney, home agent, joined in the celebration of the 25th anniversary of the founding of the council, which was held at Auburn. Mrs. Baker showed the progress of home demonstration club work in Alabama as she introduced each past council president.

Shelby County clubs observed the week by: (1) sponsoring a special membership and attendance campaign in each club; (2) husband's night or family night; (3) window exhibits; and (4) sending in news items for county papers.

Two recently organized clubs, Bethel and Chelsea, and new members in other clubs increased the membership in 29 clubs to 1035. The clubs are following a sound program aimed at meeting the needs of rural and urban families and communities.

During the last year women working on their community activities program have improved 189 mailboxes. Eight clubs made signs marking churches and rural schools; five churches and cemeteries were improved; 21 clubs helped to provide facilities for lunchrooms.

In the rural youth program the club members worked with boys and girls in the communities; 19 clubs sponsored 69 parties, picnics and other entertainment for the boys and girls.

A highway safety program was emphasized. Sgt. Charles O'Gwyn gave driving instructions and the highway safety rules in 25 clubs.

Home Clubs Add 18 New Members

Eighteen new members have enrolled in six home demonstration clubs in May. Shelby County now has a total of 1035 members in 29 clubs. The new members are:

Mrs. N. J. Roper, Mrs. W. A. Tarpley, Mrs. C. D. Young, Chelsea; Mrs. O. M. Perry, Bethel; Mrs. James G. Davis, Mrs. J. R. Killingsworth, Mrs. W. J. Bailey, Mrs. Charles Bailey, Mrs. A. M. Meyers, Mrs. Frank Nix, West Calera; Mrs. J. L. Owens, Mrs. L. J. Wynn, Mrs. Willie Coates, Pelham-Keystone; Mrs. Lee Barton, Mrs. Austin Halbrook, Mrs. Floyd Hawkins, Siluria; Mrs. W. M. Calloway, Mrs. Bob Bolton, Columbiana.

Dollars Coming In For Memorial Fund For War Dead

The drive on the part of the American Legion posts of Shelby County to raise funds for the purpose of erecting a monument on the courthouse grounds in Columbiana began Monday, May 14. This drive was first begun in 1949 and at that time the policy of the Legion was to accept contributions from veterans only. At that time $313.75 was raised.

Officials of the Legion posts of Shelby County desire to complete this program and a decision has been reached to accept contributions from the general public. It is estimated that the project will cost $1,000.00.

Persons who have assisted thus far in the current drive are:

Mildred White Wallace.....	$5.00

Mayor Proclaims Poppy Day Saturday, May 26

All citizens of Montevallo were urged to wear a memorial poppy on Saturday, May 26, in a proclamation issued this week by Mayor W. M. Wyatt, setting the day aside as Poppy Day. Pointing out that the wearing of the poppy is an individual tribute to the memory of America's war dead, the proclamation stated:

"Whereas young men of the Town of Montevallo are again serving in defense of our country and are taking their places among our honored citizens alongside those who have served in other wars, and

"Whereas, the roll of those who have given their lives in the nation's defense is increasing as war takes its toll of our finest young men, and

"Whereas, the memory of those citizens of Montevallo who make the supreme sacrifice for America should live forever in the hearts of all citizens of our Town, and

"Whereas, annual wearing of the memorial poppy is an individual tribute to the war dead, showing that we remember and are grateful for their sacrifices in our behalf, now

"Therefore, I, W. M. Wyatt, Mayor of the Town of Montevallo, do hereby proclaim Saturday, May 26, to be Poppy Day in the Town of Montevallo, and I urge all citizens to observe the day by wearing the memorial poppy."

Poppies made by disabled veterans will be distributed throughout the town by members of the American Legion Auxiliary on Poppy Day. Contributions for the aid of disabled veterans and needy children of veterans will be received in exchange for the little red crepe-paper flowers.

Practically all the talk going around this week is about the big livestock show which is to be held in downtown Montevallo on next Saturday, May 19. Indications are that an unusually large crowd will attend the special day when the Montevallo Chamber of Commerce will award $200 in cash prizes to the F.F.A. boys for showing their project animals.

Don Lovelady, president of the Montevallo Chamber of Commerce and M. S. McGehee, secretary, say that all premiums will be paid immediately after the judging is done. Judges are invited from out of town and quite a number of visitors will be here for the show.

As a special feature of the show J. Frank Baker will have on hand two of his best Holstein cows from his large herd. Two top Guernseys will be here from Kent's Dairy; two record Jerseys will be here from Ned Bearden's dairy; two Ayrshires will be in the show from Cruse-Crawford Farms; two Angus calves from the A. L. Little farm; and two Herefords from the W. J. Bailey farm. Over fifty animals will be in the show. The show will be on the used car lot at the Lovelady Motor Company.

70 F. F. A. Boys

The F. F. A. boys have been busy this week getting show pens fixed and animals groomed for the show. Over 70 Montevallo F.F.A. members will participate in the events of the day. Horses and special riding awards will also be an added phase of the program for this year.

New Town Hall

The Montevallo Town Council will hold open house also, on Saturday when several hundred interested persons are expected to visit and see the new Town Hall.

Honor War Dead, Urges Fred Frost, Jr. Post Commander

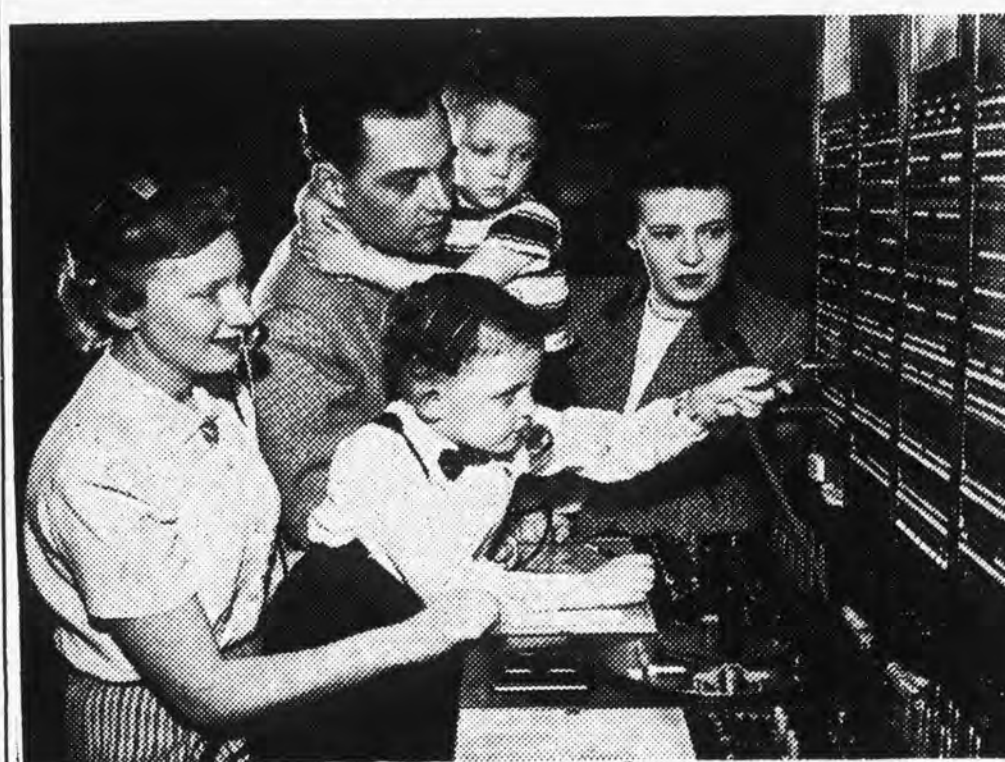

An appeal to all patriotic citizens to wear a poppy on Poppy Day, May 26, in memory of those who have given their lives in the defense of America, is issued by Fred Frost, Jr., commander of the Hendrick-Hudson Post of the American Legion in Montevallo.

Memorial poppies will be distributed on the streets throughout the day by members of the American Legion Auxiliary, who will receive contributions for the aid of disabled war veterans and the needy children of veterans. The red crepe paper poppies have been made by veterans in Alabama.

In his Poppy Day appeal, Commander Frost said:

"With young Americans again dying in defense of the principles of freedom for which America stands, and with our country again mobilizing to prevent new aggression and war, it is fitting that every American remember those who have given their lives in the nation's service by wearing their flower, the memorial poppy, on Poppy Day. Wearing a poppy is the way for every patriotic citizen to show that he honors the memory of the nation's war dead.

The first town marshal of Dothan quit his job after his first night in office. His excuse for resigning was that his $35 a month salary was, "Nothing but a few dollars toward buying me."

THE MILLIONTH STOCKHOLDER of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company—the only business in the United States to achieve such a broad democracy of ownership—is represented by Mr. and Mrs. Brady Denton, of Saginaw, Michigan, who jointly own seven shares of stock. Denton, an automobile salesman, and his wife, Dorothy, and two of their three boys are shown above during a visit to their local telephone exchange.

Future Fiddlers To Meet Here Next Saturday

Alabama College will be the focal point of interest for some one hundred children on Saturday, May 19, when they come to Reynolds Hall at 10:00 a.m. for the third session of the Future Fiddlers Convention.

Originated by Dr. Alton O'Steen of Tuscaloosa and Mrs. Helen Carter of Montgomery, the idea is to provide an opportunity for children of all ages through the sixth grade to play stringed instruments together away from their school setting.

Registration will be in Reynolds followed by music by individual groups. Lunch will be a picnic on the campus. Other groups play in the afternoon. The closing feature will be three numbers played by all the groups together.

The convention, which began two years ago, has grown until seven different towns are sending players this year. Anniston children will come with Mr. Alexander Ware; Auburn kindergartners with Mrs. Edgar Glyde; and Miss Mary Laird will bring a group from Birmingham. Jefferson county schools will also be represented by Mr. Herbert Livinson, concert master of the Birmingham Symphony, who will bring a number of students with him.

Mrs. Helen Carter, co-originator of the convention, will accompany a delegation of her very young violin pupils from Montgomery. Tuscaloosa children will appear with Miss Emily Searcy and Miss Margaret Christy, both members of the University string quartet.

Montevallo's laboratory school violin class will play under student teachers Addie Bargainer of Opp, Alice Hyatt, of Grady; and Audrey Popwell, of Clanton, all senior music majors at Alabama College.

Arrangements are under the direction of Miss Claire Ordway, associate professor of music at Alabama College. A cordial invitation is extended to parents and teachers and others interested.

Montevallo children who will play the violin are: Mary Thornton, Virginia Williams, Denny Elliott, E. G. Alexander, Joan Sanders, Bob Robbins, Mavis Bridges, Kitty Stansell, Elizabeth Harden.

Montevallo F F A Elects New Officers

Agee Kelly is the new Montevallo F.F.A. president to serve in the year 1951-1952. Serving with Agee will be Jack Ingram, vice president; Ted Allen, secretary; Chas. Daviston, reporter; Delmus Anthony, treasurer; Houston Ingram, assistant adviser; and Alton Smitherman, sentinel.

Bobby Neal Smitherman is the retiring president. Serving with him this year have been Ed Holcomb, vice president; Jack McGaughy, secretary; Joe McGaughy, reporter; Charles Lovelady, treasurer; Donald Litton, sentinel; and Dudley Pendleton, assistant adviser.

Bell Telephone System Is The Only Business That Is Owned By A Million People

The number of stockholders of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company reached one million on May 15, Southern Bell manager S. C. Stutts, announced.

As the millionth point was attained, there were 3,606 stockholders in Alabama, owning 86,033 shares.

"The Bell system is the only American business with such a democracy of ownership as to have a million owners," Mr. Stutts pointed out. "The people in all walks of life who have invested in the Bell Telephone business, and thus become stockholders, live in 19,000 cities, towns and rural areas of the nation, including Alabama."

Mr. and Mrs. Brady Denton, of Saginaw, Mich., are joint owners of the millionth certificate representing stock. He is an automobile salesman—typical of the average Bell stockholders, who are farmers, business men, clergymen, merchants, teachers, widows and other hometown folks.

Funds supplied by people who have invested in the Bell system, like the Dentons, have made it possible for Southern Bell to spend $66,600,000 for additional facilities in Alabama between January 1, 1945 and March 31, 1951, Mr. Stutts said.

Telephone service demands in Alabama are on the increase, Mr. Stutts said, calling for large amounts of additional facilities yet to be installed. Funds for new facilities do not come from customer's monthly payment of their bills, but must be raised in the form of new capital. Telephone earnings must be such as will attract the funds of people who have funds to invest, Mr. Stutts declared. "That is why it is essential that the Telephone Company in Alabama be financially strong, with adequate earnings to do the job that the people of the state want done."

Senior Class Ball Saturday Night

Plans are under way for the annual senior ball at Alabama college. It is scheduled for Saturday night, May 19.

Decorations in Bibb Graves Hall where the dance will be held, will be in two pastel colors. There will be huge artificial flowers hanging down from the ceiling and around the ballroom.

Playing for the dance will be Bill Nappi's orchestra. A breakfast on the terrace of the senior dormitory will follow the dance. Seniors and their dates will attend.

SERVED through numerous well-located substations, the thousands of customers along the thousands of miles of Alabama Power Company's rural electric lines enjoy Reddy Kilowatt service. These substations are modern and automatic—the lines are well built and well maintained—and the service is good!

If we are told of trouble on a line, the trouble call goes out over radio. The call is picked up by our nearest trouble truck or service car by radio telephone, and the trouble man gets to the cause of trouble in jig-time.

A free service which rural customers get is the advice of our rural service engineers. All have a rural background (many grew up on farms) and are trained in ways to help make the use of electric power on the farm more profitable. Daily they discuss with farmers ways and means to use electricity to make farm life easier, to save time and to make the farmer more profit.

Alabama Power Company has extended electric service to more than 128,500 customers in rural areas in Alabama.

P-K Home Club Reports Activities

The Pelham-Keystone Club has done outstanding work with rural youth. Regular planned activities have been carried through, including local picnics, weiner roasts, an area picnic, and observation of 4-H Sunday. Local adult leaders have taken much interest in the youths of this area.

Other projects completed by members include re-decoration of kitchen by Mrs. Grady King; installation of bathroom by the Bert Spiegels; re-papering living room by the George Bentleys; painting the entire interior of their home by the Don Busbys; re-finishing the interior of their home and making slip covers by the John Butlers; re-decorating bedroom and framing pictures by the Herbert Pools; and interior painting by Mrs. Zora Dunnaway.

An interesting and helpful phase of work being done through community activities of Pelham-Keystone club is the flower exchange. Members who have shrubs and plants to share list them, the growing habits, culture and the blooming season, and turn in to the community activities chairman. A want list is also filed for those desiring plants. This distributes beauty to a larger area.

Pelham-Keystone club has selected "Roadside Beautification" as the year's project which will include mailbox improvement as well as landscaping. The committee for this activity is: Mrs. F. L. McCoy chairman; Mrs. Mason Cumberland, Mrs. Kenneth Copper, Mrs. Don Busby, and Mrs. Herbert Pool, club president.

Johnsons Honor Faculty and Seniors

The faculty and senior class at Thompson Schools were honored Monday at a tea from four to five given by Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Johnson, Jr., at their residence in Siluria.

Martha and Bobbie, little daughters of the Johnsons, received the guests.

The senior class colors of green and white were used along with floral pieces to decorate the rooms.

Two members of the eleventh grade, Miss Doris Roper and Miss Edrel Mae Aldridge assisted in serving.

Miss Mattie Lou Wyatt and Mrs. Kenneth Horton, seniors, entertained the guests with piano and vocal numbers.

Doris Evelyn Kelly, of Montevallo, poses with this WAVE recruiting poster just before being sworn into the Navy herself. Doris enlisted in the Navy May 15 and was sent to the WAVE training center at Great Lakes, Illinois. She will undergo eleven weeks training and return home to spend her recruit leave. Miss Kelly plans to work as a photographer during her four year tour in the Navy.

Doris is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Kelly of Montevallo. She graduated from Montevallo High School and attended Alabama College, where she obtained a Bachelor of Arts degree. She was active in all sports programs while in school, and sports and art still play a major role in her life. Miss Kelly enlisted in the Navy WAVES at the Navy Recruiting Station in Birmingham.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN

Dr. Acker Returns

Dr. Charlie Acker has returned from his vacation trip that carried him, with his brother, James, all the way to Mexico City. He brought back some interesting trophies, and has been passing them out to his friends this week. He promises to write the story of his trip for early publication.

Times Goes By Air

We didn't know we had a reader who gets his Times brought to him by airplane. A letter from Mr. J. A. Shaw at Daviston says: "My son, Cooper, saves every copy for me. Right often he flies over and drops me a bundle of them from his plane."

Town Hall Visitors

Over 300 citizens visited the new Town Hall last Saturday afternoon and enjoyed seeing the new building—and especially the delicious punch that was prepared by Mrs. Milton Jeter and Mrs. Milton Orr.

John Cunningham

Kenneth Cunningham has got a letter from John, saying that he will leave Korea right away, and expects to be home by July first. John has been through the whole deal in Korea, was wounded one time and sent back into the fight again.

Poppy Day

The ladies of the Legion Auxiliary will be out with the little red crepe-paper poppies next Saturday for Poppy Day. When they pin one on you, give a dime or a quarter or a dollar. They will use it to help disabled veterans and needy children of disabled veterans.

Smitherman Graduates

E. G. Smitherman, of Montevallo, is listed as a member of the current graduating class at Troy State Teachers College.

Fishing Firemen

Get ready for some more big fish tales. A bunch of Montevallo volunteer firemen left Tuesday for Panama City, Florida where they will fish Wednesday. They carried Walter Weems along as mascot.

Mr. J. D. Harris has bought out the business of Luke's Restaurant and Club Room.

Dr. Edwin Mims and Dr. Batsell Baxter Are Speakers at College Commencement

DR. EDWIN MIMS

Dr. Edwin Mims, well-known educator, will address Alabama College graduates at their commencement program June 4. Emeritus professor of the division of humanities at Vanderbilt University, Dr. Mims has headed the English Department and held the chairmanship of the division of humanities at Vanderbilt from 1912 to 1942.

F. H. A.-F. F. A. Hold Spring Jamboree

Horseshoes, boat riding, square dancing! These were among the activities that made the annual Spring County F. H. A.-F. F. A. Jamboree last Monday night a great success.

The Jamboree was held at Big Springs with the Siluria chapter acting as host. Students from Siluria, Columbiana and Montevallo were presented to join in the games and to share a picnic supper. The program presented included a fifteen minute recording by the Montevallo FFA and FHA chapters and a quiz planned by Mr. Hill of Columbiana. Of the many activities engaged in, the group found particularly enjoyable the square dance called by Mr. Lewis and the thrilling rides on Joe McGaughy and Houlditch's new sped boats that they made in FFA.

The success of this annual event could be easily seen in happy faces of those who joined hands in the friendship circle and sang "The More We Get Together" and the Jamboree ended.

Montevallo People Invited To Reception

The President and faculty of Alabama College will entertain the class of 1951 at a reception on Saturday evening, the second of June from eight to nine o'clock in front of Main Dormitory.

A musical program has been included in the plans. We are anxious to have the residents of Montevallo join us in this activity.

Please consider this notice your special invitation to attend the reception.—Jean Day, Dean of Residence.

World prominent travelers like DeToqueville, and landscape architects, like Jens Jensen, have pronounced the Tennessee Valley of Alabama as one of the most picturesque and charming regions of the world.

The man who gave the Commencement address on the campus of Alabama College twenty-four years ago will return to speak to the graduating class of 1951.

He is Dr. Edwin Mims, noted lecturer, writer, and emeritus professor of Vanderbilt University. The commencement address is scheduled for June 4 at 11:00 a.m. in Palmer Auditorium.

Since his retirement from Vanderbilt in 1942, Dr. Mims has spent much of his time on the lecture stage. A brilliant speaker, his lectures have included the Shaffer Lectures at Northwestern University, the Cole Lectures at Vanderbilt University, the Jackson Lectures at Southern Methodist University, the Merrill Lectures at Stetson University, a series of lectures at Emory University, Mercer University, Duke University and Wesleyan College, and a series at the University of Florida and Boston University.

Seniors, their families, and guests of the College will be entertained at a reception on the lawn in front of old Main. Members of the faculty will be hosts.

Baccalaureate speaker will be Dr. Batsell B. Baxter, who heads the Department of Speech at David Lipscomb College. The exercises will be in Palmer Auditorium on Sunday, June 3 at 11:00 a.m., and will be followed by a luncheon in honor of Dr. Baxter.

The traditional Garden Party at the president's home will bring seniors and their families to meet President and Mrs. John T. Caldwell.

Commencement activities will close with a luncheon for Dr. Edwin Mims at 1:00 o'clock on Monday, following the Commencement Address at 11:00.

Judge Clark Speaks To Senior Class

Citizenship day at Alabama College, which marks the entrance of the seniors into the problems and responsibilities of citizenship, was Wednesday, May 23.

Speaker for the convocation in Palmer Auditorium was Judge Leigh Clark of Birmingham. He is now connected with the law firm of Cabaness and Johnston. He is a former circuit judge. Topic of Judge Clark's talk was World Citizenship.

After the address, Miss Lorraine Peter of the Social Science Division presented the Class of 1951, to which she is one of the Advisers.

The traditional Citizenship Day banquet was at 6:30 p.m., and the seniors were guests of the college faculty. Dr. Hallie Farmer, head of the Social Science Division was in charge of the Citizenship Day activities.

Glee Club Gives Concert Sunday

The Glee Club is scheduled to give a special program in Reynolds Hall Sunday afternoon, May 27, at 4:00 p.m. Songs will include the cantata "The River of Stars" a setting of Alfred Noyes poem, "A Legend of Niagara."

Winifred Black, senior voice major from Atlanta, Georgia, will be the soloist.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

GI Farmers Visit Auburn Stations

Over 70 Shelby County G. I. On-Farm trainees and business men visited the Auburn Experimental Station on May 9, 1951 to observe experimental work being done in the various fields of Agriculture.

The men arrived at the Experimental Station at 9:30 o'clock and were met by Professor J. C. Grimes who conducted them to a 10 acre plot of coastal bermuda-reseeding crimson clover combination grazing for livestock. This combination has been on test under grazing conditions for several years now and its possibilities for producing grazing for 10 months out of the year seems good if managed properly.

The next stop was made at the hog barn where Professor C. D. Squires explained to the group improved breeding practices being carried on and experiments for the control of internal and external parasites of hogs.

From the hog barn the group was conducted to the Horticulture station. Professor L. M. Ware gave the men some down-to-earth information, backed by actual farm statistics, that showed a dire need for much improvement in Alabama farm and orchards. Observation of the vegetable laden tenant gardens on the station—in spite of drouthy weather—substantiated Professor Ware's remarks that Alabama farmers can and must grow their vegetables and fruits if they are to be successful and their families well nourished.

A brief stop was made at the Dairy Barn where the group was shown D.H.I.A. production records on the Experimental Station Dairy herd. The fact was pointed out that only by keeping good records on individual cows would a farmer know whether or not part of his cows were "free boarders."

A short period was taken for lunch and the men met at the Poultry farm at 1:00 o'clock for the most unique observation of the day. Professor D. F. King, Head of the Poultry Department showed the men the "Egg Factory," a new type of laying house where each hen spends its laying life in its own individual wire cage with its own automatic drinking fountain and feed hopper. Laying records of each hen is kept and any hen that does not market 7 eggs out of 14 days is "introduced to the hatchett" and is replaced by a young bird. By continuous culling and good management, Professor King told the group that it is possible to double the profit from the laying flock.

Observation of the fence post peeler and treating unit and a visit to the farm pond experimental area concluded the program for the day. Even though the men had spent a long day at the station, many of them longed for their fishing tackle so they could spend a short while at the 22 acre pond loaded with bass and blue gill bream.

Arkansas Honors Dr. John Steelman

The Advisory Committee of the Arkansas State Society has decided to honor Dr. John R. Steelman by having a bust of him cast in bronze by the famous sculptor, Felix de Weldon, to be presented to the citizens of Arkansas. Dr. Steelman has honored his home State in many ways — most notably — as the first person to hold the position as "The Assistant to the President" of the United States. He was a popular and efficient president of the Society for the year 1949-50, and he has been a genuine friend of everyone in Washington from Arkansas.

The bust will be presented to the State at a large gathering of the citizens of Fayetteville June 29, at which Dr. Steelman will be the principal speaker for the occasion. After the presentation ceremonies, the bust will be mounted in the State Capitol, Little Rock. An engraved scroll will be made carrying the name of each person who contributes to the cost of the bust to be presented to Dr. and Mrs. Steelman.

Farm Tour Made Last Friday

Approximately 150 people met at the Earle Morgan Farm, Cahaba Valley Road on Friday, May 18th, at one o'clock for a tour of SHELBY COUNTY. This tour was planned and arranged for by Tom Bradford, and Luther Fuller of the Birmingham Agriculture Club in cooperation with Shelby County Farm Agent A. A. Lauderdale.

The tour started out with visiting the Farm of Earle Morgan where they saw some of the finest pastureland and Hereford beef cattle in Central Alabama.

The next stop was the farm of Ned Bearden at Helena, where registered Jersey dairy cattle were grazing on still more outstanding pastures. The Beardens have 6 children and all have been active in 4-H club work.

The Kenneth Cooper Farm was next where relatively new pastures and grade Hereford beef cattle are being raised.

From this farm the group visited the R. E. Lee Farm, Pelham for a demonstration of the Pasture Bush Cutter.

From this farm the Tour went on to Rt. 1, Montevallo where they visited the J. FRANK BAKER Dairy farm where they saw Holstein and Guernsey dairy cattle grazing on fine pastures. At this farm they saw the Pasture Dream Planter in operation.

Next was the Lovick Stephenson farm, Rt. 1, Montevallo. Mr. Stephenson had sheep, hogs, beef cattle and poultry grazing on his farm.

After visiting Mr. Stephenson's farm the group then visited the JOHN RUCKER Farm, on the Montevallo-Siluria Highway to see Polled Herefords grazing. This was an old farm, turned into a splendid modern farm.

The last farm visited was the W. J. BAILEY Farm, near Calera where more fine Polled Herefords and pastures were seen.

This brought the tour up to the big event, the barbecue at the Newton Farm served by Joe Tortorelli. Visitors saw here some fine young Herefords and more excellent pasture.

Eglantine Farms' 1950 Ford F-1 Pickup stayed on the job in all weather, on all kinds of roads, in the nationwide Ford Truck Economy Run. Over 5,000 Ford Truck operators took part in the run.

Russell Deane of Eglantine Farms* drove a Ford F-1 Pickup during the Economy Run, got black-and-white proof that "the Ford costs less to run than any truck we ever owned."

"We haul feed for 14 1/5¢ a mile!"

"I am sold on the Power Pilot economy of Ford Trucks," says the manager of Eglantine Farms...

"The performance of our Ford F-1 Pickup far surpassed our expectations," reads the statement from Eglantine Farm & Feed Service. "The Ford Truck Power Pilot gives us more power from less gas." Eglantine Farms operate eight Ford Trucks, two trucks of another make.

Their Economy Run records show that in 12,994 miles of the Run, the F-1 Pickup hauled an average load of 1,039 lbs., had no repairs, cost them a total of $233.65 for gas, oil and maintenance (they got regular service from their Ford Dealer). Result—a running cost of only 14 1/5¢ a mile!

There will be two services, one at 11 o'clock and one at 2:30. You are invited to come and bring a basket dinner.

Mrs. Leta Henderson will be in charge of both services, with the Rev. Harold Martin doing the preaching. Mrs. Newton Ingram will be in charge of music. Mrs. George Harrison is chairman of the flowers committee.

All who will are invited to come and worship with us.

Recreation Notes

Softball broke into the summer recreation program first with a game Monday night between a team of Alabama Power Co. boys and a team from the Plaza Grill. The Grillers winning 17-9 in a seven inning affair. Softball will be played every Monday night with two teams from the Columbiana recreation program and two teams from Montevallo making up a four team league, alternating each Monday from Columbiana to Montevallo.

Let's make the Thursday night play night a family affair. Bring your children, there will be games for them; also a place for domino players of Montevallo with bridge for the ladies and gentlemen Ping Pong, Tennis and dancing.

We also will have tables for domino players every afternoon at the creek. Volleyball Horse Shoes, Water Games.

NOTICE

A resolution was introduced at a regular meeting of the Town Council of the Town of Montevallo, Alabama, held at 7:00 o'clock p.m., on the 8th day of May, 1951, as follows:

A Resolution to vacate a portion of a street for the Housing Authority of the Town of Montevallo, a Municipal Housing Authority.

Be it Resolved by the Town Council of Montevallo, Alabama, as follows:

That it is to the interest of the public convenience that a portion of the street, in the Town limits of the Town of Montevallo, known as "Extension of Main Street," and also known as "Montevallo-Siluria Road," and more particularly described as follows:

Commencing at the center of Section 21, Township 22, S., Range 3 W., run S. 7 degrees 19 minutes E., with the center of line of said Section for 740.7 feet and to the east edge of the right of way of the Birmingham Highway for a point of beginning; thence S. 7 degrees 19 minutes E., 128.46 feet and to the south edge of Main Street; thence S. 42 degrees 19 minutes W., with the south edge of Main Street 246.35 feet and to the south edge of the Birmingham Highway; thence eastward with the southeast edge of said highway on a curve to the left having a radius of 603.69 feet, for 348.61 feet (the long chord bearing N. 25 degrees 46 minutes 30 seconds E., for 343.78 feet) and to the point of beginning: The above described tract of land lying in the NE 1/4 of the SW 1/4 of Section 21, Township 22 S., Range 3 W., Shelby County, Alabama, and containing 0.145 acres, more or less, being that part of Main Street south and east of the right of way of the Birmingham Highway, be vacated and discontinued as a highway, and that such vacated portion shall be used for the erection and maintenance in whole or in part, thereon, buildings for a low cost housing project, by the Housing Authority of the Town of Montevallo, a municipal housing authority.

This resolution will be considered by the said Town Council, at a regular meeting on the 12th day of June, 1951, at 7:00 o'clock p.m., and any objections to its passage will be heard at that time.

Whooping Cough Measles Prevalent Around Montevallo

At the present time both Measles and Whooping Cough are very prevalent in some sections of the County, especially in Montevallo and Columbiana.

Once these infections have started in a community, it is practically impossible to prevent their spread to susceptible individuals.

Isolation and quarantine measures which are effective in many of the communicable diseases, are impractical in these infections. This is because in Measles during the first 3 or 4 days and in whooping cough during the first 8 or 10 days, the patient is thought to have only a feverish

"cold" and during this stage, before a diagnosis is usually made, the patient has contacted many susceptible people.

When the rash comes in Measles, usually about the fourth day of illness or when characteristic symptoms of whooping cough develop, it is then too late for isolation to be effective.

It is urged, therefore, that parents of children with feverish colds, keep them at home until it is definitely ascertained just what infection they have. The patient should, if possible, be isolated from other children in the family.

Very delicate children should be kept from coming in contact with any other children until the present outbreak is over.

All babies should, of course, be immunized against Whooping cough and diphtheria beginning at the age of 4 months. These immunizations will not help any after the child has been exposed to the infection since several weeks are required to build up their immunity.

When the Nation hurries, it hurries by telephone. And today speed is the battle cry, as America builds its defenses.

Whether it's tanks or planes, bombs or bazookas, Long Distance serves on every production job. Getting orders and giving them. Rushing raw materials here—speeding workers there. Saving precious minutes and cutting red tape.

The Bell System is better equipped to handle today's rush job because it speeded its own building program. In 1941, for instance, there were about 4,800,000 miles of Long Distance circuits. Today there are nearly 20,800,000 and more will be needed.

When America's capacity to produce depends so much on good communications, it's a good thing this nationwide telephone system has expanded so rapidly. And it is essential that it keep right on growing.

Fowler Reports Progress Of Memorial Fund

A monument to honor the servicemen of Shelby County who gave their lives during World Wars I and II and the present war in Korea is closer to reality this week. Contributions have been received from interested citizens. The monument, when obtained, is to be located on the courthouse grounds in Columbiana. The names of all servicemen to whose memory it is dedicated, will be carved in the monument. The campaign to raise money to finance this monument is being sponsored by the following American Legion Posts in Shelby County: Sterrett, Vincent, Wilsonville, Calera, Montevallo, Columbiana, and Siluria.

A goal of $1,000 has been fixed. Contributions may be made to officials of any of the above named Legion Posts or to the following named individuals who are actively assisting in this campaign: Eugene Abercrombie, Sterrett; Louis H. Cosper and B. E. Cunningham, Wilsonville; B. B. White and Ross B. Mullins, Columbiana; Jim D. Presley, Calera; J. D. Allen, Marvel Route 1; S. H. Perkins, RFD, Columbiana; and R. L. ## Home Ec Class Has Fashion Show

The high school home economics classes I and II under the supervision of Miss Myrtle Old and student teachers, Misses Charlene Richardson, Elizabeth Nettles and Harriette Hawkins, presented a fashion show and skit for the high school assembly program Thursday, May 24.

The theme of the fashion show centered around "Daisy," who, in need of a dress to woo Lil' Abner, visited Madam Dressmaker's shop. Here the dresses were modeled for Daisy. The models who presented their dresses were Annie Pearl Brantley, Glennie Dee Boothe, Barbara Knowles, Betty Joan Harris, Peggy Joe Johnson, Marie Littlefield, Marilyn Seagee, Ramona Nanie, Elaine Lucas, Geraldine Lucas, Joyce Lucas, Mary Ann Harper, Lola Peete, Gertrude Holsomback, Betty Joe Polk, Jo Ann Phillips, Mary Lawley, "Daisy" Johnnie Harrell, Madam Dressmaker, Peggy Peters, and Lil' Abner, Buddy Rhodes.

Clara Young, Bobby and Pat Galloway were other "models" who took part in the fashion show. They modeled dresses their mothers had made in the Adult Sewing Class which meets each Thursday evening in the high school home economics department.

An original skit, featuring dating do's and don'ts was presented as an outgrowth of a study in relationships. From the skit, the

Phillip Lacey Writes From Korea

Phillip Lacey, former student and graduate of Montevallo High School, is now with our fighting forces in Korea. In a letter to his mother, written May 10, he tells some things he has found out in regard to the death of his half-brother, Bobbie, who was killed in the early days of the war.

"We are in a rest area now," he says. "I just got out of the creek. I took a bath and washed some clothes. It is getting hot over here now and the water sure did feel good."

"This morning some tanks moved in with us. It happened to be Bobbie's old company. I talked with lots of the men who were with him, and the one man that is left out of his old crew."

"They all liked him and speak of him very highly. About all they know of his death was the same as was in the letter Dad got from his commanding officer."

"They said he was the best soldier they had ever fought with. A Lieutenant said he knocked out the only tank that the company had ever knocked out. Bobbie was one of five men killed out of his company. One of the men who was in a tank near him said he was shooting Chinks off his tank with his pistol when he got shot. They said the fight he got killed in was the worst they had ever been in."

Concluding his letter to his mom Phillip says: "Everything is OK with me and doing fine. Tell everybody hello for me."

Rabies Clinics Start Monday

Warren W. Kent
Rabies Inspector

Rabies is an acute, fatal disease of the nervous system characterized by symptoms of mental disturbance, nervous excitement and infrequent paralysis.

All warm blooded animals and man are susceptible to rabies. However, rabies is most frequent in the dog; of approximately 8000 cases reported in the United States in 1949, 5,237 were in dogs. Ten cases were reported in man. The other incidences were reported among cattle, cats and horses.

Rabies is caused by a virus having its greatest affinity for nerve tissue. The virus has also been found in the salivary glands and their secretions.

The symptoms of rabies are somewhat similar in all animals, and consist mainly of those of a deranged consciousness and paralysis. The eating of foreign bodies such as wood, dirt, etc., is a prominent symptom. Other symptoms are fretfulness, moodiness,

Kent Has Record Jersey Cow

An Alabama registered Jersey cow has recently contributed her part to making the South a land of milk and honey. She recently established a national milk record over all animals of her breed on a register of merit test.

The cow, Cloverview Nobly Eileen, owned by R. B. Kent of Old Reliable Jerseys, Talladega, has won the register of merit title of national milk champion. She produced 17,291 pounds of milk containing 797 pounds of butter fat on twice daily milking in 305 days at the age of 6 years 4 months.

tendency to bite everything, and to stray away, attacking humans and other animals, strange in its manners, easily angered or excited, bark change from a bark to a howl, constipation, loss of appetite, loss of balance, paralysis of the lower jaw, salivation, vacant stare, tendency to hide. Cats show the same symptoms as dogs.

The cause of rabies is usually considered to be between four and seven days with either the furious or dumb type.

A definite diagnosis of rabies is made only by a histological examination of the brain and identification of negri bodies. Presence of these negri bodies render a positive diagnosis. Therefore, if at all possible, a suspected animal should not be killed but allowed to die a natural death. The head should then be removed, placed in a water tight container, packed in ice, and shipped to the State health laboratory in Montgomery. State on the package whether the animal died or was killed and if human beings or other animals were exposed.

Since rabies is the only disease known that is fatal once the symptoms are present, there is no known treatment.

Prevention and control of rabies has been successfully accomplished in countries where the following programs were carried out:

1. Destroy all ownerless dogs;
2. Quarantine all shipped in dogs;
3. Compulsory vaccination of all dogs.

The Alabama dog control act as amended in 1940 covers all three phases of the above program.

It is your duty as a citizen of your community to help your county health office carry out a successful rabies program. Only can this be done with your support. Read the three phases of the program over again, and if you have any question concerning rabies in your county, contact your rabies inspector. He will be glad at any time to help you.

Starting on June 4, rabies clinics will be held all over Shelby County, in each and every community and along every rural route. Take your dog to the clinic nearest your home. See if your neighbor knows about the clinics. Remind him; better still offer him a ride. Above all, be sure you have your dogs vaccinated at least one time each year.

The Red Cross Blood Program

Citizens from most sections of the county were present at the meeting of the Shelby County Red Cross at Calera, May 16. The meeting was held for the purpose of deciding whether Shelby County will enter the Red Cross blood program.

Gus Burleson, Red Cross field representative, explained the program. If the county participates in the program Shelby Countians are eligible for blood without cost. Through the program the county also contributes blood for the armed forces and for civilian defence if needed.

The group of citizens which met May 16 voted tentatively to participate in the program. A temporary organization was set up. The purpose of the organization is to determine whether the citizens of the county wish to cooperate and enter the blood program. Temporary chairmen were elected to make a survey of the county. Dr. Hallie Farmer is chairman for Montevallo and community; Mrs. Homer Walton is chairman for Columbiana and community; Dr. W. C. Browne, chairman for Vincent and community; Mrs. Roy Holcomb, chairman, Calera and community; Mr. Clyde Adams, chairman for Chelsea and Sterrett and community; Mr. Jack Story, chairman for Wilsonville and community; and Mr. Herhall Dunlap, chairman for Siluria, Alabaster, Helena, and surrounding community.

Following completion of the survey which these chairmen will make, they will meet with people of the county May 20, at 8 p. m., at the Alabama employment office, Calera, to discuss their findings and make a definite decision as to whether Shelby County will participate in the blood program. You are urged to attend this meeting.

We Now Enter Mosquito Season

The mosquito season begins about May 1. From this time, during the Summer, more strenuous efforts are made by your health workers to prevent the breeding of the anopheles mosquito which carries Malaria.

This mosquito breeds usually in swampy areas and in artificially constructed ponds and lakes.

To control the breeding, swampy areas should of course be drained. There are certain regulations governing the construction and maintenance of ponds and these ponds are inspected by the County Health Department a number of times during the summer months.

There are many varieties of the mosquito, but from a public health standpoint, the anopheles is practically the only one of importance in Alabama.

The common pest mosquito, usually the culex, does not carry any disease. They can, however, cause a great deal of annoyance. These mosquitoes will breed in almost any standing water.

It would be wise for each householder to inspect his premises at this time and be sure there are no old tin cans, fruit jars, discarded automobile tires or other articles which might hold water and furnish a suitable breeding place for mosquitoes. Rain gutters around the house may become stopped up with leaves and hold water.

If all such breeding places are eliminated, it will add materially to one's comfort and that of his near neighbors during the summer months.—Dr. E. F. Sloan, County Health Officer.

Home Club Plans For Next Year

Home demonstration club members will visit Jasmine Hill (Wetumpka) and points of interest in Montgomery on Thursday, May 31.

This trip was planned by Mrs. Joe Hodges, chairman; Mrs. P. A. Garrett and Mrs. Harry Anderson.

At a recent meeting of the council Mrs. A. M. Muncy outlined plans for a council bazaar in mid November. Each club member is asked to make at least one item for the bazaar.

All clubs will bring in cash donations for the purchase of soap and other scarce items for families in Grand Synthe, France, at the July 10th council meeting. Clubs will also bring in collections of clothing (special request for men's clothing) and linens. The Ebenezer club is making a friendship quilt.

Mrs. R. H. Bailey recommended that a prize of $5 be awarded to the high scoring club on achievement day.

Club members will model cotton dresses at 29 club meetings in May. The dresses will be (1) work garments, (2) sports and (3) dressy dresses. Winners in each group will enter the county contest.

Mrs. A. A. Holman was appointed chairman of the program planning committee. She will be assisted by Mrs. C. H. Nash, Mrs. R. B. Kiker, Mrs. J. C. Brambaugh and Mrs. Lester Stancil. The committee requests that each club notify them the demonstrations they prefer in 1952.

Verbena

Verbena, in Chilton County, was founded by settlers from Montgomery who went there to escape the recurring epidemics of yellow fever in the 1860's. The town was first called Summerfield; but as there was a village near Selma by that name, it was renamed for the abundant wild verbena that grew in the vicinity.

45 Deaths in Shelby County

The 6,863 Alabama deaths from all causes during the last three months of 1950 included 45 occurring in Shelby County. The total of state deaths included 3,968 white people and 2,895 Negroes.

COMPARED WITH OTHER THINGS YOU BUY...

TELEPHONE SERVICE is still a Big Bargain!

Shopping nowadays is a reminder of what a bargain your telephone service is. Not only has telephone service gone up far less in price than most other things during the last ten years, but it has also increased in quantity and improved in quality.

While the overall cost of living has increased about three-fourths, Alabama's residence telephone rates have advanced less than one-third. Meanwhile, throughout most of Alabama, the number of telephones you can call at the local service rate has nearly tripled. And the service is better.

Considering that wages and family income have about doubled, telephone service stands out as a bigger bargain and a relatively smaller item in the family budget than it was ten years ago.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN

Lawrence Haley

Mr. Lawrence E. Haley, public accountant, of Birmingham, was a visitor in Montevallo Tuesday. He is a son of Mr. Paul Haley of Jasper, and nephew of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Haley Moore, of Montevallo.

A Boost For Terry

Recently the House of Representatives of Alabama, with the Senate concurring, passed a resolution commending State Superintendent of Education W. J. Terry for his stand of "Back To Fundamentals" in education.

Presbyterian Church

The pulpit committee announces that it has employed Mr. Stanley Gould to fill the pulpit during the months of June, July, "and possibly August, if needed." Do they figure Mr. Gould can preach the devil out of us in June and July, and we won't need any more preaching after then? Or is it an assumption that the devil is somewhat dormant in his works among men in the hot month of August?

Mr. Brown Is Better

We are glad to report that Mr. W. L. Brown has returned home from a Birmingham hospital, and his condition is much improved this week. He is not able to be out of bed yet, however.

Rushing the New Road

Greba Wallace, our old reliable mail dispatcher at the post office, reports that work on the new state road through Dry Valley is really hustling. The grading was started at this end of the road and has already gone beyond the county line toward Jemison.

Doctors Leslie Hubbard and M. L. Orr, Jr., and their families are spending this week at Gulf Shores.

Closing on Wednesdays

Business houses in Montevallo have begun their summer practice of closing all day each Wednesday. Some were closed on this Wednesday and some were not. Beatrice Fancher wishes it distinctly understood that her department at the Town Hall will be one of those places shut up each Wednesday.

The Green Grass Grows

Mr. Langston, how do you keep such purty green grass growing on the post office yard these hot dry days. Is it a government secret? Better look out — you may get your water bill raised.

Gould Graduates

William Stanley Gould, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Gould of Montevallo, was among the graduates at the 65th commencement of the Mount Hermon School for Boys at East Northfield, Mass., June 3.

Visiting in Detroit

Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Chandler are spending this week at their former home in Detroit (Detroit, Alabama, that is). Mrs. Chandler graduated at Alabama College on Monday. Mr. Chandler is an employee of The Montevallo Times. They live in one of Mrs. Paul Rogan's apartments.

Paul Rogan Seriously Ill

The many friends of Mr. Paul Rogan will regret to learn that he is seriously ill. He is in South Highlands Infirmary in Birmingham.

Have A Cigar!

Step right up to the Ford place, boys, and get your cigar. Bill Lovelady is papa again—and this time it is a boy, born Wednesday.

Dr. Orr Announces Faculty and Staff For Alabama College Summer School

Six new faculty members will be added to the staff of the summer school at Alabama College at Montevallo this year according to Dr. M. L. Orr, director of the summer session. Registration for the session gets under way on June 11.

New faculty members are: Raymond Brown of the University of Tennessee, who will serve as assistant professor of physical education. Miss Brown is a graduate of Birmingham Southern College and the University of Tennessee from which she received her M.S.

In the psychology department will be Emily Dexter who has been teaching psychology and philosophy at Agnes Scott College. Dr. Dexter received her Ph.D. from the University of Wisconsin.

Jean Dorrell, who is a teacher in Anacosta High School, Washington, D. C., will be working in the art department as associate professor of art. Miss Dorrell received her Ph.D. from the University of Chicago and her M.A. at Columbia University.

Another new member of the physical education department is Miss Dorothy Jamison, who has had seven years teaching experience in the high schools of Houston, Texas, and has been camp counselor for eight summers at Camp Waldemar, Texas. She received her M.A. from the University of Houston.

Mrs. Virginia Wood Maxey, a recent graduate of East Tennessee State College at Johnson City, will serve as an assistant professor of physical education. Mrs. Maxey's home is in Elizabethton, Tennessee.

One of the outstanding foreign students on the campus of Alabama College is Miss Elene Urbaitte, who will be teaching in the art department. She has had five years of work in European art schools and is considered an excellent art critic.

Returning to the campus for the summer will be Miss Martha Balch, who will teach foreign language, and Miss Sue Brett, who will teach English.

At the laboratory school the teacher training workshop will also get under way on June 11. Director of the workshop will be Miss Louise Comer who is county school supervisor of Lauderdale County. Also connected with the workshop will be Miss Lillian Haygood, a teacher in the public schools at Lexington, Alabama; Miss Conola Shaddix, of the Talladega high schools; and Miss Marie South of the Cullman schools. Connected with the resource use workshop will be Miss Carline Hudson, of the Brewton schools.

The first term of summer school will extend from June 11 through July 20, and the second term from July 23 through August 24. Requirements for renewing or reinstating all teaching certificates in all the B, C, D, and E groups may be met by attending the summer school.

College credit will also be given for work in the resource use workshop from June 11 through July 20.

Community Picnic Next Wednesday At Big Spring Park

Coach Fisher, director of the summer recreation program, announces the first community picnic for this season to be held at Big Spring next Wednesday, June 13.

Everybody is invited and urged to attend. There will be free hot dogs and cold drinks for all.

Various games and contests will be on the program — singing, volleyball, swimming.

State Club Women Meet Next Week On College Campus

The Club Women's Workshop Program will bring many leading women of Alabama to the conference at Alabama College on June 13, 14 and 15. The conference leader is Miss Laura Hadley, director of Alabama College Home Study Service.

Registration will begin at 3:00 p.m. Wednesday, June 13 in the foyer of Reynolds Hall.

The opening session is at 7:30 Wednesday evening, with Miss Hadley presiding. Welcome will be given to the conference visitors by Dr. John T. Caldwell and Dr. M. L. Orr. Responses will be from Mrs. M. I. Cleveland, Miss Josephine Eddy and Mrs. S. D. Moxley. The evening program will be followed by a reception in Tutwiler Hall.

Citizens of 1951

The program of Thursday morning will be of wide general interest. The theme will be "Alabama Women: Citizens of 1951." This discussion will include Miss Nina Miglionico, Mrs. John L. Waites, Miss Bess Bloodworth, Mrs. Henry Altheimer.

Three forums will open the program for Thursday afternoon. The leaders will be Miss Anne S. Eastman, Mr. W. J. Kennerly and Miss Bickham and Dr. Lois Ackery.

A discussion of the subject of libraries will be made by Mrs. Lois Rainer Green, director of the Alabama State Library Division.

Other speakers will include Miss Abi Russell, Mrs. Emily Danton, and Miss Bethel Fite.

Thursday evening "Meet The Author" will be an interview with Miss Lucille Griffith, editor of "Yours Till Death," a collection of the Civil War letters of the Cotton family of Alabama.

Civil Defense

Civil Defense will be the central theme of Friday morning's session. A discussion of "Defending Our Liberties" will be given by Hallie Farmer, a member of the Governor's civilian defense committee for Alabama.

An opportunity will be afforded to see materials that will be useful to local communities in developing their plans for civil defense organization.

The conference director, Miss Hadley, stresses that all club women and members of any women's organizations, church groups or civic clubs are cordially invited to attend.

"Wick" Mitchell Goes To Korea

The military sea transportation service announced this week that one of its ships, the USNS Sargeant Sylvester Antolak, carried its 10,000th man to Korea since it was added to the Navy's MST fleet in August, 1950.

Private William H. Mitchell, a soldier from Montevallo, was welcomed aboard the ship when it loaded troops in San Francisco recently. A cake inscribed "Welcome aboard, 10,000th man to Korea," was presented to the soldier by Commander M. A. Grant, USN, commanding officer of the military department aboard the Antolak.

The Army Offers Jobs To Civilians

The United States Army is inviting 2300 civilians to accept employment at Army installations in Austria, Alaska, Okinawa and Japan at salaries which range from $2650 to $7600 per year.

For these positions the needs are for construction and maintenance personnel; communications engineers and technicians; automotive engineers and mechanics; safety engineers; engineering and survey aides; draftsmen; typists and stenographers; librarians; industrial and cost accountants; auditors; storekeepers and warehousemen; property and supply clerks; tabulating machine operators; economists; and public health physicians.

Civilian personnel in Alaska and Okinawa receive an additional 25 per cent allowance in pay; and in Japan it is 10 per cent.

Transportation will be provided both ways to successful applicants and in addition, all Army facilities available to military personnel will be furnished to civilian employees who take advantage of the offer.

The approximate cost of living for a civilian employee overseas compares most favorably with the cost of living at home. In Alaska subsistence will cost the single worker $75 a month; in Austria and Germany $60; in Okinawa $45; and in Japan $35. Civilians who sign up for the minimum 2 year tour of duty have the opportunity to save a very large part of their earnings.

Interested applicants should contact their local U. S. employment office immediately for further details.

Local Drug Store Burglar Entered

It is reported that a burglar entered the store of Montevallo Drug Company last Sunday night and made off with a considerable amount of narcotics and other items of merchandise.

Apparently the thief was scared away from his job before he had it completely finished. He left his tools and equipment, the nature of which indicated that he must have been a professional safe cracker and drug thief.

The 1951 eleven week session of summer school at Alabama College will open on June 11, under the direction of Dr. M. L. Orr.

College credit will be given for work in the Resource Use Workshop as well as the regular curriculum. This is the eighth year that a workshop dealing with the state's resources, human and natural, has been sponsored by Alabama College. Those participating in the workshop may earn six semester hours of credit if full time is devoted to it.

Teacher Workshop

During the first term of the summer session Alabama College will again set up to teacher training workshop. This workshop program will utilize the principal features of the demonstration school and summer program begun at the college 19 years ago. The work in this program will be very flexible and will be determined by the needs and interests of the teachers involved, and is designed for both elementary and high school teachers.

A staff of four full time consultants and 12 demonstration teachers has been chosen for the teacher training workshop for their ability and success with the educational philosophy and practice advocated by the curriculum programs of Alabama and several other Southern states.

Consultants will be Miss Louise Comer, director, who comes from the office of the superintendent of education, Florence, Alabama; Mr. A. C. Anderson and Miss Minnie Dunn, of Alabama College; and Miss Lillian Haygood, Lexington, Alabama; all assistants to the director.

List of Teachers

Demonstration teachers will be Miss Marie South, from Cullman; Miss Ethel Harris, Alabama College; Miss Vinnie Lee Walker, Montevallo; Mr. Victor Young, Montevallo; Miss Conola Shaddix, Lincoln; Miss Anne Eastman, Alabama College; Miss Jeanne Gibbons, Cullman; Miss Frances Winn, Cullman; Miss Blondie Crawford, Hanceville; and Miss Katherine Farrah, Montevallo.

Also scheduled for this session is a summer art center June 11 to July 20. The center is designed for experienced artists; and its aim is to offer freedom for individual achievement in art through actual work, criticism and discussion.

Conferences on Campus

Alabama College has long been a conference ground for civic and educational organizations, and the program for this summer includes at least half a dozen such meetings: Alabama Association of the Future Homemakers of America, June 6 to 8; Church Music Conference, June 11 to 15; program planning workshop for club women, June 13 to 15; Senior Methodist Youth Assembly, June 18 to 30; home economics refresher course, July 23 to August 10; alcohol education workshop, July 23 to August 25; and vocational home economics conference, August 6 to 10. The Business and Professional Women's Club board meeting is to be held during the summer on dates to be determined.

Browder Goes to Gadsden

I. J. Browder, director of the University of Alabama Center in Birmingham since 1945, has been appointed superintendent of the Gadsden city school system. He was elected for a four-year term by the Gadsden Board of Education, and is expected to assume his duties there July 1.

During the Civil War, Clarke County was one of the principal salt producing regions within the Confederacy. One of its three main salt works employed 600 men and 120 mule teams in running 30 furnaces. From these 30 furnaces came 600 bushels of salt each day. Hundreds of bushels were sent from the south Alabama mines each day into the interior of Mississippi and Georgia. The people of the Confederacy were suffering from such a salt shortage in the late years of the war that a bushel brought from $2.50 to $7 in gold or from $10 to $20 in Confederate money.

Spanish War Vets In Convention

Montgomery — Alabama United Spanish War Veterans will gather here June 10-12 for the 29th annual encampment and at the same time the 22nd annual convention of the auxiliary organization will be held.

Gen. L. A. Toombs, Montgomery, department commander, says that a well-rounded program is being arranged for the gathering which will be held at the Whitley Hotel.

A reception at 2 p.m. on June 10 will start the convention activities. Speaker at the annual encampment banquet will be Judge R. B. Carr, presiding judge of the Alabama Court of Appeals. A veteran of the Korean fighting will address the delegates and another speaker will be Federal Judge Leon McCord, a former national commander in chief of the United Spanish War Veterans.

A highlight of the session will be the annual memorial service at 7:30 p.m. on June 10, to be conducted at the First Baptist Church. Dr. D. M. Rivers will deliver the sermon and Sen. Vaughn Hill Robison, of Montgomery, will give the memorial address.

Health Officer Explains Meningitis

There are a number of types of meningitis, the more common being caused by the pneumococcus, streptococcus, staphylococcus, tubercle bacillus, and various viruses.

The only type that is communicable from man to man is the meningococcus type usually referred to as epidemic meningitis. There are many healthy carriers of this kind of meningitis but most people are resistant to the infection. Under certain conditions, however, the disease assumes epidemic proportions. Epidemics have occurred in civil life many times, and during the first World War many hundreds of soldiers died of the infection.

During the last World War when prompt isolation was instituted, and all contacts were given drugs known to be effective against the meningococcus, no serious epidemics occurred in the armed forces.

This system of control has been very successfully used in threatened outbreaks in civil life and is recommended by the U. S. public health service and the state health department.

Before the introduction of serum for treatment of epidemic meningitis, the mortality rate varied in different epidemics from 50 to 90 per cent. With the use of serum the mortality rate averaged about 35 per cent.

Since the introduction of the newer drugs in the treatment of meningitis, most cases now recover. Meningitis is still, however, a very serious infection. — Dr. E. F. Sloan, County Health Officer.

Southern Bell Telephone Co. Employees Get Wage Increase For Next Year

Southern Bell Telephone Company and the Communications Workers of America—CIO, on June 2, 1951, in Atlanta, reached agreement on a new contract covering more than 45,000 telephone employees in 9 states. The contract runs for one year.

G. D. Garner, vice president in charge of personnel for the company, said the contract provides pay increases of approximately 10 per cent in every pay rate, the increases ranging from $3.00 to $7.50 a week, depending on length of service and job classification.

"The agreement will be submitted to the Wage Stabilization Board for approval," Mr. Garner said. "Terms of the agreement are believed to be within the board's stabilization formula, but because of some doubt as to the meaning of some of its provisions, the approval of the board is being requested."

Approximately 80 per cent of the wage increase will become effective immediately. The remainder becomes effective upon approval by the Wage Stabilization Board.

The agreement will add $12,500,000 annually to the cost of providing telephone service in the South, Mr. Garner said. He said that with costs already having gone up faster than telephone rates, increases in rates have become imperative.

"Considering the new agreement, telephone rate increases authorized since 1939 are falling short by about $32,000,000 annually of covering the cost of wage increases granted over the same period, to say nothing of other increased costs," Mr. Garner asserted.

Increase is Justified

"The new agreement protects the interests of telephone customers and telephone employees. It places telephone wages in satisfactory relationship with wage levels prevailing in the South for jobs comparable to telephone jobs. A wage survey which we recently completed showed that there has been a general upward movement in pay scales in industry since the last Southern Bell wage increase. The wage increases for Southern Bell employees were, therefore, justified by the facts and are in the interest of the public so that highly effective forces of skilled telephone people can be maintained to render the service the public expects and demands.

"We are pleased that the union and the company have arrived at an agreement harmoniously at the bargaining table."

The great backwoods missionary preacher, Lorenzo Dow, came to the little crossroads of Reform with the first settlers. In his bush-arbor meeting place, his fiery sermons are said to have brought just about all of the pioneers to the mourner's bench. When asked what to name the place, Preacher Dow told his congregation, "Call it Reform, brethren! — Call it Reform!"

"Yes, my fine young rooster, that's your electrical 'mother,'" said Reddy Kilowatt. "That is, for all practical purposes. She didn't lay the egg you came from, but she gave you cozy warmth in those early days when you had fuzz instead of feathers. And you didn't have to be concerned about getting cold, because the electricity that warmed her came from an Alabama Power Company electric line. Every time the thermostat called for heat for you, the electricity was there to supply it."

Electric brooding is just one of the dozens of ways in which electricity is being used by farm people and others along Alabama Power Company's rural lines. Each Alabama Power Company rural customer is using, on the average, more than half again as much electric power as he was using 10 years ago. He's doing that because he's found the service good and the cost reasonable.

Alabama Power Company has extended electric service to more than 128,500 customers in rural areas in Alabama.

Farm Suggestions

By A. A. Lauderdale
County Agent

Infra-red heat lamps are coming into wide use on Alabama farms for the brooding of chickens, pigs and turkeys. These lamps are a good source of heat for brooding, but they can be dangerous if not properly protected against breakage.

Heat lamps can be obtained in either hard glass or regular glass. The hard glass lamp will not break as easily as the regular lamp, but it costs more—about 3 times as much as the regular lamp.

The higher cost of the hard glass lamp has limited their use and has spread the use of the regular glass type. Because of the fact that these regular lamps may be broken if touched by a sow's nose or a wet glove, or if dripping water or chicken droppings strike them, precautions must be taken to provide for their safe operation.

The cartons in which lamps are sold list the manufacturer's recommendations for their use. If these recommendations, as well as those of the county agent and electric company's representative, are followed, infra-red lamps are one of the safest pieces of heating equipment available.

Gardeners know it is cheaper to buy a dust gun than to do without one. They also find it pays to take care of a duster, especially since new one may become scarce.

A garden dust containing Bordeaux mixture or other copper compounds left in a duster will corrode and ruin it.

When copper solutions are used in a sprayer, it should be emptied and rinsed out immediately after the job is finished or at the end of the day. However, a dust that does not contain copper may be left in the duster if it is kept dry.

Mowing Pastures

The big reason for mowing permanent pastures is to control the weeds and bushes. In other words, mowing a permanent pasture does for it what cultivating does for a field crop.

Value of Milk

To avoid lack of vitamins and minerals in the diet, adults should consume at least one pint of milk a day. Seventy five per cent of the calcium consumed by people in the United States comes from dairy products.

Dairymen Help

Alabama dairy farmers and milk processors are helping prevent shortages in essential dairy equipment by taking steps to conserve and care for all equipment used in milk production and processing. In the use of milk cans alone, proper cleaning and retinning will save hundreds of tons of steel.

BIRTH OF A SOIL CONSERVATION FARMER

By George Starcher
S. C. S. Aid

We sat beside the creek, one day,
Myself, my boy, my dad,
And fished its mudfilled waters
And all our luck was bad.

We tired of fishing before long,
Relaxed and talked awhile
Of days gone by and days to come
Of change in ways and style.

Dad spoke up: "I mind," said he,
"When clear blue waters ran,
And bass and perch and trout
Spawned yearly in the sand.

Why, you could scarce bait a hook
As fast as big fish struck
And kids with string and pin
Could boast of their luck!"

"Then," mused he, "Our soil was rich
Not red, but darkest brown.
Those galled hills, so washed and worn,
Once held my finest ground.

Why child, the year your pop was born,
And I alone could plow,
I made a hundred ears of corn
Where only ten grow now!"

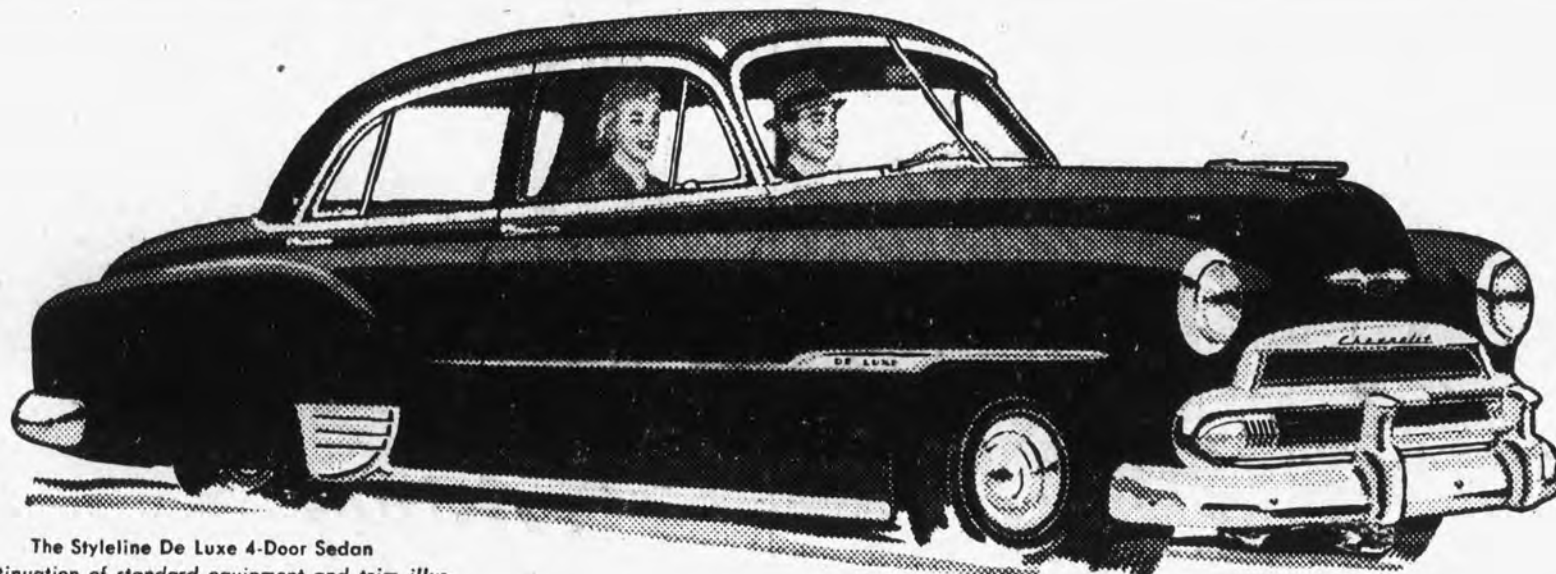

His voice droned on in reverie,
A reminder down the years
Of God-given bounty wasted. . .
It filled my heart with fears!

Some day will I fondly boast
Of the ten ears I grow now. . .
Of mudcats caught in muddy creeks,
Despoiled by ill used plow?

I can point with rightful pride
To resurrected land?
Can I reclaim the glory
Of God's great gift to man,
And heal the scars, redeem the waste,
Restore this tortured land?

Sp, I gaze fondly at my wistful heir,
And firmly make resolve
With wisdom, study, work, and care,
These problems I will solve.

No heir be he to heritage gone
Eroded to the seas,
But to terraced field, protected soil,
Fruitful streams, and trees!

Congressman Ed deGraffenried Placed On Delegation To Investigate Europe

Representative Edward de Graffenried of the Sixth District of Alabama has been selected by the Chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, Representative Carl Vinson, as one of a group of sixteen members of the House to leave for Europe Friday afternoon, June 8th, to study the need for continuation of the foreign aid assistance program.

Eight of the members comprising the group are from the Committee on Foreign Affairs, four from the Committee on Appropriations and four from the Committee on Armed Services. Representative de Graffenried was selected as one of the two Democrats from the thirty-eight man Committee to make the trip, along with Representative Overton Brooks, senior Democratic Member of Louisiana. The other two members are Representatives Short and Cole, senior Republican members of the Committee.

Will Question Ike

While in Europe the Joint Committee will interrogate General Eisenhower on the military assistance program in Europe and representatives of the foreign economic conditions of the European countries who will be affected by the President's request for an eight billion dollar foreign aid program.

Countries to be visited are England, France, Norway, Holland, Belgium, Germany and Italy and the trip will be largely by air.

The members of the Joint Committee on their return will advise the Congress and the country of their first hand knowledge of present conditions in Europe and what need exists for the foreign aid program which has been proposed by the President as it affects members of the Atlantic Pact.

CONG. deGRAFFENRIED

fects members of the Atlantic Pact.

It is to be expected that Representative de Graffenried will be called upon by the Committee on Armed Services, along with the other three members making the trip, to advise the Committee of his findings during his trip and he will be expected to participate actively in the Congressional debate on this legislation when it comes to the floor of the House.

Representative Vinson made the following statement with reference to the selection of Congressman de Graffenried as one of the Committee Members to make this trip: "Mr. de Graffenried is one of the most outstanding members in Congress, a man of sound judgment, and I am very anxious that the Committee and the House have the benefit of his views and conclusions after he hears General Eisenhower and the State Department authorities in Europe."

NEWS ABOUT TOWN

J. A. Shaw Visitor Here

Mr. J. A. Shaw, of Daviston, spent last week-end in Montevallo visiting his son, Cooper Shaw, the Pontiac dealer. While here Mr. Shaw made a call at the Times office, and we found him a very charming person to chat with. Specially impressive was his references to things in and around Montevallo when he left here in 1932, as compared with what he saw on this trip. "You can't realize how Montevallo has come out," he said, unless you have been away for a long time and come back and actually check up the differences." While here Cooper took him in his plane and flew around over the whole area. "I was head carpenter in charge of building this very building in 1925," he said, referring to the Masonic Building in which The Times plant and office is located.

Ham and Lou Wilson

Ham and Lou Wilson, of Montgomery, were visitors in Montevallo last week-end. They must have come up to see Bill Lovelady's new boy. "Lots of blessed events happening and in prospect of happening around here, Ham," I commented casually. You know Ham. Not to be outdone, he came back at me with a chuckle: "Yes, it is a sight," he said, "but you just watch out, you might be hearing something from me and Lou before long. Don't be surprised."

Mother's Best

The Montevallo Milling Company announces that they have been appointed as dealers for Mother's Best Feeds in this territory. Mother's Best is the well-known product of Alabama Flour Mills at Their products are of the highest merit, and along with the popular products they make and sell, Alabama Flour Mills is one of the state's best supporters and promoters of our agricultural progress. Likewise, Montevallo Milling Company is a local concern that is backing our rural farm improvement programs in Shelby County. The business is owned and operated by Mr. E. E. Alldridge, who bought it from Mr. W. J. Bailey a while back.

Maybe It Was This

Above the door of a church was an engraved message that read: "This is the gateway to heaven." Below the engraving hung a printed sign which read: "Closed during July and August." Maybe something of that sort was what the pulpit committee was driving at when they announced that Mr. Gould has been employed to preach during June, July, and August "if needed."

The Housing Project

James A. Wyatt, executive director of the Montevallo Housing Authority, reports that good progress is being made toward the beginning of construction. Negotiations for the purchase of the land will be completed in a few days. Mr. Fred Frost, Sr., has been elected chairman of the housing authority to succeed Mr. Raymond D. Fowler. The proposed project is for 52 low-rent units, 32 for Negroes and 20 for white people. The white units will be located on Main Street next to the Arden subdivision. The Negro units will be located near the new Negro high school.

Maylene Road Is On Program For Construction

Road Commissioner Fred McClendon brought us some welcome news Monday, saying that the Montevallo-Bessemer road has been officially placed on the County's farm to market road system and has been approved by the state highway department as such.

This initial step of definite progress toward building the road is gratifying to the people of West Shelby County. Residents of the communities of Underwood, Maylene, and all the areas along the road have worked for a long time to get something done about the road, and now they will receive the word from Mr. McClendon with joyful hearts.

Back in the WPA days a lot of work was done on this road between Maylene and Genry's Gap, including the building of a fine modern stone, steel and concrete bridge over Cahaba River.

The grading, drainage, and surfacing that was done then will help out a whole lot in the construction now proposed under the farm-to-market system.

Mr. McClendon says that the work of surveying and locating the road will get started in a few months.

REV. M. LOCKHART

Rev. M. Lockhart "Minister Of Year"

The Rev. M. Lockhart, pastor of the Baptist Church at Holtville, Riverside Community, R.F.D. Wetumpka, has been named Rural Minister of the year in Alabama by the Progressive Farmer magazine.

The Rev. Mr. Lockhart sold his farm, gave himself to the rural ministry and became a church organizer and builder. Twenty months ago he organized a new church with six women, two girls, and one man as charter members. Today they have a new two-story departmentalized church building, a pastor's home, and a full church organization. He is continuing his education through Howard College's Extension Center.

In connection with the award, the Rev. Mr. Lockhart will receive a scholarship to the Town and Country School for rural ministers at Emory University in Atlanta in August.

Rev. Lockhart is a native of Chilton County. It was announced last week that he has given up his pastorate at Holtville, and has accepted a call to the church at Randolph in Bibb County.

The Legion Memorial Fund has past the halfway mark toward the goal of $1,000.00. Contributions received in 1949 and 1950 amounted to $313.75, $187.60 has been contributed during the current drive making a total of $501.35. S. H. Perkins, Sr., Rt. 2, Columbiana, Eugene Abercrombie, Sterrett, B. E. Cunningham and Hamilton Cosper, Wilsonville, and B. B. White of Columbiana have been particularly active during the current campaign. Mrs. D. F. Mosley who lives in Birmingham and who is a sister to Mrs. Ben Riley of the Kingdom community has also given valuable assistance. 408 persons or firms thus far have taken part in this campaign to erect a stone memorial, in honor of the servicemen from Shelby County who gave their lives during World War I, World War II and the present war in Korea. The Legion officials throughout the county join in urging every citizen to have a part in the erection of the permanent monument.

Persons who desire to participate in this worthwhile project may contribute to any of the officials of the various Legion Posts in the County or to the following named individuals: Louis H. Cosper and B. E. Cunningham, Wilsonville; Eugene Abercrombie, Sterrett; B. B. White and Ross B. Mullins, Columbiana; Jim D. Presley Calera; J. D. Allen, Marvel Rt. 1; S. H. ### Faculty Members Will Study For Doctorates

Three faculty members of Alabama College are winners of fellowships to study toward their doctorates this fall in Eastern universities.

Sidney A. Forsythe, assistant professor of sociology, has been awarded a General Education board fellowship in social science to study at Harvard University in the graduate school of arts and sciences.

Miss Bernice Finger, associate professor of physical education, has been appointed a Frank Ross Chambers Fellowship at Teachers College, Columbia University, by the Columbia committee on fellowships and scholarships.

Miss Lucille Griffith, assistant professor of history, is holder of a scholarship to study at Brown University, Providence, R. I., toward a doctor's degree in American civilization.

Mr. Forsythe, a native of Louisville, Ky., and a graduate of the University of Kentucky, has been a faculty member at Alabama College for five years. At Harvard this fall he will work in sociology, economics, political science and history, with emphasis on the Far East and China.

A native of Mississippi, Miss Finger will take an active part this summer in the workshop of the national association of physical education for college women at Lake Geneva, Wisc. She will study for her doctorate in physical education during the 1951-52 term at Columbia.

Author of a recent book, "Yours Till Death," a collection of Civil War letters written by a Confederate soldier to his wife, Miss Griffith will emphasize the colonial period in her studies at Brown during the 1951-52 term.

Farm Bureau Quarterly Meeting

The Shelby County Farm Bureau Officers and Directors held their Quarterly meeting on Tuesday night, June 5th, with 35 present. After a delicious Barbecue supper the meeting was called to order by the President. During the business session the Directors voted to have their Annual Meeting and Barbecue at Alabama College, Montevallo at the cordial invitation given the group at last year's Annual Meeting. The tentative date has been set for July 18th. Mr. H. A. Pauly, President was unanimously elected to serve as General Chairman of the Annual Meeting. The following committees were appointed: Program Committee H. A. Pauly; Albert Lokey; L. L. Stephenson; Roy Downs; and W. J. Bailey; Nominating Committee A. C. Adams; S. M. Tatum; and W. J. Bailey.

One of the highlights of the Shelby County Fair Association will be the Maid of Cotton Contest. Roy Downs, L. L. Stephenson, F. Jackson, Albert Lokey, and S. M. Tatum were named to serve on this committee.

As guest speaker the Directors enjoyed the talk made by Mr. Tom Owens, Assistant Director of Organization. His talk on Inflation, price and wage controls was of much interest to these farm leaders.

The following people attended: Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Garrett, Calera; Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Pauly, Montevallo; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Howard, Vandiver; Mr. and Mrs. Royce Morris, Columbiana; Mr. and Mrs. F. Jackson, Harpersville; Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Wyatt, Vincent; Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Hughes, Columbiana; Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Macon, Shelby; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bailey, Montevallo; Mr. and Mrs. S. M. The farm to market roads from Montevallo to Boothton and from Helena to Acton are listed among the projects for which the state highway department will let contracts on June 29 for blacktop surfacing.

Salem Services Next Sunday P. M.

Services will be held at Salem on the old Elyton road between Dogwood and Montevallo on Sunday, June 17, at 2:30 p.m. The Rev. Quinton B. Lee will do the preaching. All interested persons are invited to attend this service.

On The Farms Of Shelby County

Kent's Dairy, Siluria, is making good use of a ten acre Ky. 31 Fescue and Ladino pasture. According to Mr. R. W. Kent, owner, twelve bred heifers stayed in fine condition from September to March on this grazing with no additional feed. Seven went directly into the milking barn.

Those who know Mr. Kent will be particularly impressed, for he is noted for insisting on perfect condition for his cattle at all times. He is famed for his excellent annual grazing crop, but knows the value of both fescue and sericea as perennial crops.

Alabama College is ready to combine 20 acres of fescue seed, and expects to increase their acreage. Manager Johnson is also helping his permanent pastures with liberal application of fertilizer and water. The college irrigation unit also made possible a perfect stand of sweet sudan grass despite the severe drouth.

TELEPHONE SERVICE

is still a Big Bargain!

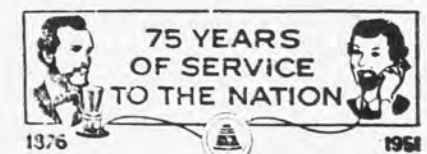

The price of telephone service in Alabama has increased far less during the past ten years than most other prices—far less than wages and family income.

The overall cost of living has gone up more than 80%. Hourly wages in manufacturing plants have more than doubled. Yet, Alabama's telephone rates in the overall have advanced less than one-third.

Meanwhile, throughout most of Alabama, the number of telephones you can call at the local service rate has nearly tripled. And service is faster and better.

Yes, telephone service is today a bigger bargain than it was ten years ago—and takes a relatively smaller part of the family budget.

High Costs Hit Teacher Salaries

Gains in teachers salaries in the last ten years have been wiped out by rising costs, according to Dr. J. Howe Hadley, Tuscaloosa, President, Alabama Education Association.

In 1940 the average salary paid Alabama teachers was $744. It was worth about as much money. Today the average salary of Alabama teachers is $2,169. The rise of living costs, however, has cut that amount to $1,215 in purchasing power.

Between 1940 and 1948 teachers salaries were increasing both in the state and the nation. Since 1948, the national average, which is $3,100, has gone upward faster than has Alabama's. As a result the gap between the two is widening.

In comparison with earnings in other occupations, Dr. Hadley stated, teachers have definitely lost ground since 1940. In 1939 the average salary of teachers over the nation was $150 higher than the average earnings of all employed persons. During war years, salaries of teachers fell to $355 below that of all employed persons. Teachers might have moved forward to something near their pre-war position, had not earnings in industry taken another recent upward turn which has not been matched by school salaries.

Old Glory Is 174 Years Old

Auburn, Ala., June 14 — Today Old Glory is 174 years old. And patriots of Alabama and the nation are joining in celebrating the birthday of their flag — The American Flag.

As part of the observance of National Flag Day, Alabama's 126,000 4-H Club members presented a flag to the state of Alabama. Calhoun County members made the presentation on behalf of Alabama 4-H members; Governor Gordon Persons accepted for the people of Alabama.

During the ceremony Aubrey Abrams, Calhoun County 4-H Council vice-president, and Sara Alice Finly, council president, said, "We are proud of the privilege of being Americans, we are proud to be citizens of Alabama. To show our appreciation, we present this flag to the people of our state."

"With young citizens like you all over America," said Governor Persons, "the future of our nation, our freedom, and our democracy is in safe hands."

Since the American flag was authorized by Congress in 1777, it has been a symbol of freedom and democracy to the oppressed, as well as to the free.

Today Old Glory still flies proud and unconquered. And in Alabama this flag is flying over the state capitol as a symbol of the patriotism of Alabama youth.

Shelby Started Pasture Building in 1924

This story was printed in a recent issue of The Progressive Farmer, accompanying it was a page of pictures of cattle and pastures on the farms of R. W. Kent, Britt Ingram, and Earl Morgan. "Few areas in the Southeast can tell a pasture improvement story such as this," says the caption of the story. "When you read how the program grew, you will readily understand why this county has become such an important livestock section."

By J. C. LOWERY, Extension Agronomist, A. P. I.

The pasture story of Shelby County, Ala., is a story of years of development that started soon after the first World War. When A. A. Lauderdale became county agent in 1924, he saw a great need for sources of cash income in addition to cotton. He saw that much of the soil was well suited to feed and pasture crops. He saw that acre yields of corn and cotton needed to be bigger.

So Mr. Lauderdale set out on a long-range program of soil building and pasture improvement. He started preaching soil building by growing vetch and other winter legumes to make bigger corn and cotton yields. He talked pastures morning, noon, and night. In the beginning he had little information on which to make pasture recommendations. It is true some pasture work had been done before 1924, but this was just scattering some seed over bottom land without preparing land or fertilizing.

To advise fertilizing pastures would often bring a laugh at that time, but a few farmers began trying out some of Mr. Lauderdale's advice.

One of the first to improve pasture was the late Josh Frost in Spring Creek community. He prepared a field, put on phosphate, and seeded to a pasture mixture in the spring of 1925. This pasture paid Mr. Frost well for 10 years. S. A. Wolf of Wilsonville prepared an area in 1925, applied phosphate, and seeded to Dallis grass, carpetgrass, and common lespedeza. This area is still in pasture. These two demonstrations, with others, did a lot to start the pasture movement in Shelby.

In the winter of 1929-30 Baker's Dairy began a pasture program. Old abandoned fields were cleared of scrub timber and the land smoothed down. Soil was prepared thoroughly and a heavy application of basic slag made. A mixture of 20 pounds Dallis grass, 5 pounds Kentucky bluegrass, 3 pounds white clover, and 10 pounds annual lespedeza was seeded. A good fertilization program has been followed since then. The mowing machine has been used freely to control weeds. This pasture has been outstanding.

The depression slowed down pasture development for a time, but the successful pastures proved that improved pastures had a place in Shelby along with cotton and corn. By 1936 the pasture movement was really on the go again.

J. M. Denson started a pasture improvement program in 1936. He prepared his soil well and applied lime and fertilizer. For his permanent pasture he seeded white clover and Dallis grass for spring and summer. He seeds a mixture of crimson clover and ryegrass in summer on fallowed land for winter grazing.

C. H. Nash is an outstanding pasture man in Wilsonville community. He is as careful about doing the right things at the right time as any good cotton grower. He established Dallis grass and white clover for summer grazing for his herd of 16 dairy cows. Each August he sows crimson clover and ryegrass on fallowed soil to give grazing from late October to May.

Brack Moony is another very successful pasture man. For more than 12 years he has had a good permanent pasture of bluegrass, orchardgrass, and white clover; for winter, crimson clover and ryegrass.

Pearce Garrett of Calera grows hogs, cows, chickens, and turkeys. He uses oats or ryegrass and crimson clover for winter grazing, and white Dutch clover and Dallis grass permanent pasture supplemented with Lespedeza sericea and kudzu for summer grazing. He is a strong believer in using lots of fertilizer.

Howard Hall has done a good job of reclaiming land for grazing. Several years ago he prepared bottom lands, applied 2,000 pounds basic slag and 200 pounds muriate of potash per acre and seeded bluegrass, and white Dutch clover. He took hill lands that were in worthless scrub brush, cleared them with machinery, prepared soil, and seeded to Lespedeza sericea.

Reseeding crimson clover has been seeded on some of the sericea. He finds that white clover, Dallis grass, and other good pasture plants thrive on hills after a few years of fertilization and sericea.

Ned Bearden started pasture work 20 years ago. He is strong on using lots of fertilizer. His permanent pasture is mainly blue grass, orchardgrass, Dallis grass, and white Dutch clover with fescue and white clover on wet lands. A mixture of crimson clover and ryegrass seeded on a prepared seedbed gives grazing from late fall until May.

Charles S. Barnes of Wilsonville uses white clover and Dallis grass as a permanent pasture with crimson clover and ryegrass for winter.

All along, Mr. Lauderdale has been looking out for crops to furnish extra grazing when clover-grass pastures are not enough because of drouth or other conditions. He was one of the first in the state to promote use of kudzu for added summer grazing. Mr. Lauderdale points to kudzu set on the farm of George Archer and John Carter in 1926. This kudzu is still in use.

Mr. Lauderdale says Shelby farmers do not overlook anything. They are interested now in irrigating pastures. I. P. Johnson, manager of the Alabama College Farm at Montevallo, has installed a system whereby he can irrigate 40 acres of permanent pastures and 30 acres of alfalfa. Irrigation is paying off because the grazing period is extended. A number of farmers with good supplies of water are interested in irrigating some of their pastures. Hundreds of other examples of pasture improvement in Shelby could be given.

Mr. Lauderdale estimates that 800 farmers have improved at least 14,000 acres of permanent pastures in Shelby County since 1935. The county now has about 5,000 acres of Lespedeza sericea, 200 acres alfalfa, and 4,000 acres kudzu.

From hundreds of pasture demonstrations in the last 25 years, he has developed some very firm ideas about what it takes to make and keep a good pasture program on farms. "Building pastures is serious business, just like growing cotton or corn. You have got to invest a lot of money and time on each acre if you expect a pay-off," he says.

Here are some of the things Mr. Lauderdale has stressed:

1. Good soil preparation is most important in getting and holding good stands.
2. Use plenty of lime.
3. Fertilize heavily to start the pasture, and fertilize liberally every year.
4. Seed a mixture of legumes and grasses for best grazing and soil improvement. Grass helps control bloat.
5. Keep mowing machine busy in summer to control weeds.
6. Grow Lespedeza sericea, kudzu, and alfalfa for added summer grazing. Save extra hay from these crops to help out in winter.
7. Plant a good winter grazing legume-grass mixture, such as crimson clover and ryegrass or oats, on well prepared, firm seedbeds.
8. Do everything on time — soil preparation, fertilization, seeding, and mowing for weed control. "Putting off" doing things on time causes many pasture failures.

The Picnic Wednesday

The community picnic at Big Springs Wednesday afternoon was well attended, although many were kept away by the rain (or threat of rain) just at eating time. The park area looks good. The foot bridge and other facilities that suffered damage by the high waters of the creek have been restored, and the place is now ready for recreation use.

He's grown—fast!

Pearl Harbor—1941. Korea—1951. Only ten years. But in that time the Bell System's capacity to serve the Nation has literally doubled!

And the Long Distance telephone network which ties America together has grown even more. In 1941, there was very little coaxial cable in use. Radio relay was still in an experimental stage. Yet today there are 8000 miles of coaxial cable in service—plus thousands of miles of radio relay. And Long Distance telephone circuits have increased in ten years from about 4,800,000 miles to 20,800,000.

In times like these, telephone lines are defense lines. For they are helping America rush its big production program. It's fortunate this nation-wide network has grown so big, so fast.

A Discussion of Food Handling

By L. H. KING, County Sanitation Officer

Bacteria may be classed as plants. They are so small that they cannot be seen unless they are magnified hundreds of times. Like plants, they will not grow when the environment (weather) is too hot, cold or dry. It must be presumed that all foods are contaminated with some bacteria. The bacteria may be of a harmful kind which cause infection or sickness of the person who eats the food. These are the ones with which we are the most concerned, and are the hardest to detect because they seldom change the appearance, taste or odor of the food even when they are present in large numbers. Another group or type usually does not harm the consumer but does cause spoilage of the food if they are permitted to multiply sufficiently.

Bacteria may be introduced into foods for handling; things like utensils with which the food comes in contact; water with which the food is washed or prepared; dust or air; or flies, roaches, rats, etc. In the case of meat foods, they are sometimes present when the animal or fowl is killed.

If only a small number of bacteria are introduced into food, and the food is moist and warm, they will grow to enormous numbers in a short time. Under good conditions, bacteria may double in number every 20 minutes. Thus, a portion of food which has 1,000 bacteria in it, (and these all might be laid on the head of a pin without any one touching the other) may contain 64,000 bacteria at the end of 2 hours, and 4,096,000 at the end of 4 hours.

The growth of bacteria can be prevented by keeping the food too hot or too cold for their multiplication. Heating the food through cooking kills partially all bacteria.

In order to prevent the entrance of bacteria into food in so far as possible, and to prevent their growth if they do gain entrance, the following simple rules should always be observed by all food handlers:

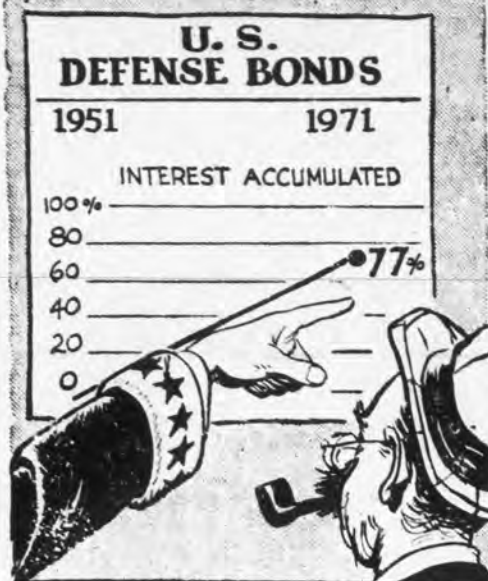

1. Food handlers must keep their hands, nails, persons, and clothing scrupulously clean. The hands must be thoroughly washed with soap and water and dried on a clean towel after each visit to the toilet and as often as they become dirty.
2. Avoid handling of the food with the hands whenever possible.
3. The utensils, containers, tables, etc., with which food comes in contact should be scrupulously clean and free of cracks, breaks, etc. Dishes and other utensils should be thoroughly disinfected by immersing them in hot water (170 degrees F.) for at least 1 minute.

4. Fresh fruits and vegetables should be thoroughly washed with an abundance of clean water.
5. Ground or cut up foods should be placed in small, shallow pans, or containers when they are to be stored in the refrigerator to insure quick cooling. Cooling to the center of a large container or mass of such food may be sufficiently delayed to permit bacterial growth.
6. Foods that are to be served hot, should be kept hot continuously from the time they are cooked until they are served. Cooked foods which are to be served cold, such as ham, roast, etc., should be promptly cooled after cooking and then be immediately placed in a refrigerator.
7. Meat stocks that are to be used in soups, dressing, etc., should be used and served soon after preparation. If they have to be kept several hours or overnight, they should be cooled quickly by placing in water and then be promptly placed in the refrigerator, preferably in small containers so they will completely cool.
8. All foods and especially mixtures like hash and dressing should be prepared, cooked, and served in as short a time as possible. They should not be prepared the night before or even several hours before cooking or serving.
9. Frozen food should be cooked as soon as possible after it is thawed since it will spoil more rapidly after thawing than will similar food which has not been frozen.
10. Canned foods which can be heated, should always be heated to a boiling temperature before they are served. Bulged cans those with off taste or odor should be discarded.
11. Food establishments should be kept free of insects, rats, roaches, and dust. All foods should be kept covered to prevent their contamination from the above.
12. Persons having skin infections such as boils, or intestinal disturbances such as diarrhea or other infectious conditions, should not work in a food establishment until they are well.

Though Tusculumbia is one of the fairest of Alabama's cities today, its name was Indian in origin, Tashka Ambi, which meant warrior who kills.

Alabama's constitution, which was written as a result of a constitutional convention in 1901, is the third longest constitution in the nation with 42,000 words. Only California and Georgia have longer written constitutions. Alabama's 'supreme law of the state' is the sixth oldest in the nation; it has been amended 64 times in the last 46 years.

Bathroom Safety

Keep safety in mind when planning your bathroom, advises Marian Cotney, Home Agent.

Lay floors that will not get slippery when wet. See that bathtub has a flat bottom. Provide grab bars at tub and shower. To avoid burns, install a mixerfaucet combining hot and cold water at the lavatory, and a mixer valve at the shower.

Above all, avoid electric shocks by having lights controlled by wall switches. Be sure that lights are out of reach of any one in the bathtub or any one using a water faucet.

The next important thing to remember is to shield and place heaters so that there is no danger of fire or burns.

Also, ground an electric heater. Put medicine cabinet out of children's reach and lock it.

The whole city of Mobile was jarred as if an earthquake on May 25, 1865. During the Federal occupation of Mobile, a loaded shell accidentally fell and caused thirty tons of gunpowder to explode. Three hundred lives and nearly a million dollar's in property were destroyed.

Revival Meeting At Wilton Church

Revival services begin at the Wilton Methodist Church Sunday evening, June 17 at 7:30 and run through Friday, June 22.

Rev. Charles Prestwood of Brewton, Alabama, will conduct the services, assisted by the pastor of the Wilton church. Services will be held daily at 7:30 p.m.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

A congregational meeting has been arranged for Sunday, June 17, at 7:30 p.m. (regular services at 11:00 a.m. as usual).

The purpose of the meeting is to consider the petitioning of the Commission on the Minister and His Work of the Birmingham Presbytery relative to the calling of a permanent minister for the church. Rev. Bernard A. Sykes, of Birmingham, will preside as moderator.

The state of Alabama is 330 miles long at its greatest length, and about 150 miles at its greatest breadth, with a square mile area of 52,250 square miles, of which the land surface is 51,540 square miles.

"Wick" Cutting The Cake

PRIVATE WILLIAM H. MITCHELL, of Montevallo, cuts a cake presented him in recognition of his being the 10,000th passenger to board the USNS Sergeant Sylvester Antolak. The cake was presented by Commander Mark A. Grant, USN, commanding officer of the military department. While not mentioned in the official description of the above picture, some who have seen it say that is Phillip Lacey looking over "Wick's" shoulder as he cuts the cake.

North Alabama Methodist Assembly Begins Meetings At Alabama College

Preparing to study youth's part in the work of their church, 180 delegates to North Alabama Methodist Senior Assembly I began four days of meetings today at Alabama College.

Delegates come from the Albertville, Florence, Huntsville, Gadsden, Jasper and Decatur districts of the North Alabama Methodist Conference.

Main speaker for the assembly will be the Rev. Dan C. Whitsett, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Sylacauga, who will talk to the young Methodists each evening.

Registration was yesterday and the assembly opened with an address by the Rev. Whitsett and a get-acquainted party at the College field house.

Classes and business sessions will be features of each day's program, with election of new officers slated for Thursday. Each night the assembly will study a different phase of an ideal youth fellowship program, stressing worship Tuesday night, missions Wednesday night, community service Thursday night and recreation Friday night.

Climax of the assembly will be the dedication and communion service in Palmer Auditorium Friday night.

Leaders of the classes and their topics are: Methodist Youth Fellowship, Miss Martha Almon, Florence; Youth and worship, Miss Ruth Glass, Tuscaloosa; Youth and Community Service, Rev. Hershel Hamner, Attalla; Youth and Missions, Mrs. B. M. Murphree, Tuscaloosa; Youth and Recreation, J. C. Draper, Jr., Hartselle; Methodist Youth Fellowship beyond Local Church, Rev. J. C. Draper Sr., Hartselle; Christian Evangelism, Rev. Nelson Guthrie, Sr., Birmingham; and Life of Jesus, Dr. L. D. Patterson, Adamsville.

President of Assembly is Nelson Guthrie, Jr. of Birmingham. Conference director of youth work is Miss Nina Reeve of Birmingham.

Alabama College will be the scene of Assembly II of the North Alabama Methodist Senior Assembly next week when delegates will come to the campus from the Birmingham, Bessemer, Anniston, Tuscaloosa and Roanoke districts.

Key note speaker for next week's meetings will be Dr. Paul Hardin, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Birmingham.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN

From Mr. Will Gulledge

Our former State Senator, Mr. Will Gulledge, of Verbena, is a regular reader of The Times. Upon reading last week the good news about our Montevallo-Bessemer road, Mr. Will sent us a card saying: "Congratulations! Am happy to see the Montevallo to Bessemer road paving is on the way. That, together with paving of the cut-off between Montevallo and Jemison, will be a wonderful thing for Montevallo and surrounding country." All the while he was our Senator. Mr. Will did all he could to help us get the Montevallo-Bessemer road "on the map" and in line for paving.

Nordan in Hospital

Clayton Nordan is in a Birmingham hospital for treatment of a kidney ailment. He was taken sick last week in Montgomery and spent two days in a hospital there. Another severe attack this week sent him to Birmingham for further observation and examination.

On His Way Home

Kenneth Cunningham has received a letter from John, saying he is on his way home from Korea. Everybody wants to see him and get the straight dope on Korean war business. Betcha he can tell us something about it that we haven't seen in the papers.

Paul Rogan

We learn that Paul Rogan will have to remain in South Highlands Infirmary about another week before he can come home.

The Red Hat Store

Mr. E. E. Alldridge invites everybody in this area to visit Montevallo Milling Company, "The Red Hat Store," next Saturday. He will hold open house, celebrating his association with Alabama Flour Mills, as dealer in Mother's Best Feeds in this territory. Visitors who attend the open house occasion next Saturday will be given free souvenirs. The location of Montevallo Milling Company is on Highway 25, just across the railroad tracks in the direction of Wilton.

Chamber Of Commerce Announces Coming Of A New Industry To Montevallo July 1

Mr. Don Lovelady, president of the Montevallo Chamber of Commerce, announces that the efforts of the industrial committee has resulted in bringing a new industry to Montevallo, a small factory for the manufacture of novelty furniture items.

The location of the new plant will be in the former Shelby Motor Company building on highway 25. The owner and operator of the business is Mr. Eisman, presently of Thorsby. He has been engaged in this phase of manufacturing for several years in Perry, Florida.

Mr. Eisman says he will be set up here and ready for operation about the first of July. He will employ local people to work in his plant and hopes to increase the number of employees steadily as he gets into full scale operation.

"The Chamber of Commerce," said Mr. Lovelady, "is glad to secure the location of Mr. Eisman and his business here. We believe it will add materially to the business and economic stability of our community."

Furthermore, he said "the Chamber of Commerce is grateful to the whole business group of this community for the support they gave in securing the location of this industry in our town. We have some important deals on the string, and we believe that with the continued material and moral support of the business people of Montevallo we shall soon be able to announce the location of additional industries here."

Name It!

The Montevallo Chamber of Commerce wants a name for the new furniture factory that is to be located here by Mr. Eisman.

Anyone who desires to suggest a name for the business is requested to send your suggestion to the Secretary of Chamber of Commerce, Montevallo, Alabama.

The suggestions sent in will be turned over to Mr. Eisman, owner and operator of the business. He will make the selection of a name from among those suggested.

The person who sent in the winning name will be given a beautiful novelty table made in the new factory.

F. F. A. Members Went To Auburn

Montevallo F.F.A. members went to Auburn last week to attend the state convention and participate in the leadership training program offered by leaders of the F.F.A. Jerry Moody, Edgar Joe Clark, and Edward Holcombe were among these at the convention to receive the State Farmer degree. Bobby Hawkins, Charles Daviston and R. W. Lawley were representatives from Montevallo chapter.

Fifty dollars was received as a cash award by Edward Holcombe because he was the winner in the rural electrical contest held among the 6000 members. Because of his outstanding program in supervised farming, the Montevallo chapter has been chosen as one of the five in the state to place an educational display at the state fair in Birmingham next fall. The exhibit will be a miniature duplication of Edward's home project program.

Jack McGaughy has been getting real F.F.A. experience lately caring for his gilt which recently farrowed 10 pigs. And too, Ed Holcombe was in the champion porkers group when he learned that his sow had farrowed 18 pigs in her last litter. She has produced 43 pigs in the three litters; eleven the first litter, fourteen the second and 18 the third, in less than two years.

Tommy Baker Is Building Dairy

Launching his program for production of premium milk and the improvement in dairy animals, Tommy Baker of Spring Creek community near Montevallo, has already had all necessary approvals from inspectors and advisers concerning his new dairy buildings and facilities. Inspector Kohen of the Jefferson County Health Dept. made inspection and approved all plans last Tuesday. Agee Kelly, president of Montevallo F.F.A. chapter, and Edward Holcombe, recent winner in Alabama's Rural Electrical Contest, have been assisting Tommy in getting his materials figured and his buildings foundations laid out. Edward will help with the entire construction program which will involve in excess of $10,000 in the beginning.

Tommy has had a lifetime experience in dairying and will have the advice and help of his father, J. Frank Baker who will continue to operate with his 500 acres and 400 head dairy of holsteins. Tommy will begin with 70 purebred gurnseys and will work toward improved breeding and more efficient production. His dairy will produce under the grade A plan and will consist of 170 acres of land and milking barn 34 by 60 feet with plans for a 34 ft. extension in the near future; a 20 by 24 ft. feed room and a 20 by 24 ft. milk and processing room.

Although Tommy did not get to study vocational agriculture in high school, he is taking advantage of enrolling in the adult class of the vocational department of Montevallo high school and will continue his study under direction of M. Thornton, teacher of vocational agriculture.

Montevallo Wins Over Columbiana

Montevallo made it a clean sweep against our neighbors of Columbiana the past week. The boys under 12 years of age won from Columbiana 19 to 10, and the boys from 12 to 15 years won 13 to 4 Wednesday morning.

Monday night the adult softball team of Plaza Grill won from Columbiana "A" team 6 to 1 in a real jam-up game. Glover, 3 for 4, led the Plaza Grill in hitting. Dennis, shortstop, slammed one for a round tripper. Frost was never in trouble with his pitching. Dr. Orr did the receiving.

The Alabama Power Company, behind the pitching of Price, shut out the "B" team of Columbiana 18 to 0. Pendleton led the power men at bat with 4 for 6.

Next Monday night the two Columbiana teams will invade Montevallo. The public is invited to attend your recreation program.

Girls wanted to play softball. Would like to arrange games with Columbiana and Siluria. Come on, girls. Let's get going.

Smallpox Shows Up In One Of Neighbor Counties

The development last week of a case of Smallpox in an adjoining county reminds us that this disease is by no means extinct.

Although the Health Department in the county affected is taking every precaution possible, there is still a possibility of more cases developing.

The time interval, from exposure to the development of symptoms, is from 7 to 16 days, usually 12 days.

Usually during the first 3 or 4 days of the illness there are severe headache, backache, nausea, vomiting and fever but nothing to definitely indicate that the patient has Smallpox. It is during this stage of invasion, before the eruption has developed, when many friends and neighbors are apt to visit the patient. There are, therefore, many contacts before the case is diagnosed.

Shelby County's last outbreak of Smallpox was in December 1937 at which time there were 13 cases, all in one community.

Were it not for the fact that most of the population is protected by vaccination we would still be having the widespread and deadly epidemics that were so common in past years.

It is recommended that every child be vaccinated against Smallpox first, between the ages of 3 and 12 months and again when he or she enters school. Thereafter the vaccination should be repeated every 5 to 6 years to be sure the immunity has not been lost.

"A Pyramid of Cash Savings." It's not alone possible but it can be made a certainty. Your government offers you a proved, sure-fire savings plan that can change your entire life. It's the Payroll Savings Plan for the purchase of U. S. Savings Bonds. Ask yourself: "out of all the money I've earned in the past 10 years how much can I show today?" Now look ahead—say to 1961. During these years you can build a pyramid of savings by enrolling for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or if self-employed, the Bond-a-Month Plan at your bank. "Here's to 1961."

Persons Over 65 May Receive Social Security Pay

It is not necessary to be wholly or permanently "retired" to get retirement payment under the old-age and survivors insurance system, according to M. C. Folmar, manager of the Birmingham Social Security office. The numbers of people coming into his office confused on this point prompted him to make this explanation.

"Actually," Mr. Folmar pointed out, "the new social security law makes it possible for insured people 65 and over to collect retirement benefits while still earning up to $50.00 per month on covered jobs. The old limit of $14.99 was changed on last September 1. The $50 limit does not apply to people age 75 or over."

"The law is simply that a person between 65 and 75 years of age cannot collect benefits for any month in which he earns more than $50 from work covered by social security. No amount of earnings or income from other sources will affect his right to benefits. Insured people age 75 or over can collect even though working full time on jobs covered by social security, or for that matter, any job."

"Another point we'd like to get across," Mr. Folmar continued, "is that anyone now age 65 or over very likely is insured if he has worked as much as a year and a half, at any time back to January 1937, on social security—in covered jobs."

Mr. Folmar invites residents of this area who are eligible for benefits under the new law to get in touch with the social security representative, who is at the Employment office in Calera each Thursday at 9:30 A. M.

Died at Wetumpka, 1852". Local stories hold that the girl ran errands for guests of a hotel at the springs. # AN ORDINANCE

To adopt a gas code of the town of Montevallo, Alabama.

Be it ordained by the Town Council of the Town of Montevallo, Alabama, as follows:

Section 1. Qualified persons to make gas installations. There shall and is hereby constituted a gas fitter's examining board for the Town of Montevallo, consisting of one councilman, the Chief of Police, the Town Gas Inspector, and one certified gas fitter from a gas appliance firm.

Only a person or persons approved by the Board of Examiners, as a qualified gas fitter and licensed by the Town of Montevallo, will be permitted to perform gas pipe or gas appliance installations to the Gas System owned and serviced by the Town of Montevallo. A license will be issued to such qualified gas fitters upon payment of a fee of $5.00 for the first year. There will be a renewal fee of $3.00 for each succeeding year. All assistants of such licensee shall be under direct supervision of said licensee.

Section 2. Business License. Any person engaged in the business of gas installation and construction shall be required to have a business license for this purpose, and also have a valid gas fitter's license or have in his regular employ, a person with a valid gas fitter's license.

Section 3. Permits. An application for a permit shall be required for each gas installation to be made with the following exceptions: the individual installation of a range, hotplate, or refrigerator, where the required length of pipe for each installation does not exceed six (6) feet, or the installation of a portable space heater where the gas pipe has been previously run to within six (6) feet of a heater location. When such individual installation is made, the gas inspector must be notified by the installer as to the type of appliance installed.

Permit application blanks will be furnished to all licensees by the gas inspector. These applications must give a complete description of the work to be performed (including a piping layout for heating equipment installations) and the location of the premises where the installation is to be made. A permit will be issued upon approval of such application and the payment of a fee of $1.50.

Section 4. Inspections. Application for an inspection, by the gas inspector, must be made by 9 A.M. piping must conform to the specification is to be made.

In the presence of the gas inspector, all piping up to the stopcock at each appliance shall be filled with air at a pressure of five (5) pounds per square inch, and the piping must maintain this pressure for five (5) minutes. All piping must conform to the specifications of this ordinance.

When this inspection has been completed and the piping system is approved by the gas inspector, the gas may be turned into the house piping system.

An additional inspection shall be made after all appliances have been connected and adjusted. If for any reason an installation does not pass these inspections, an additional inspection shall be made after the installation has been changed so as to conform to specifications. An inspection fee will be charged for each additional inspection made. A certificate of inspection will be issued for each approved installation. The inspection fee is $2.00.

Section 5. Piping specifications. All pipe shall be of adequate size to pass the rated input of gas to each appliance. The following table may be used for determining the size of pipe for each appliance.

Section 6. Appliance installations (domestic). All appliances connected to the Montevallo Gas System must be approved by the American Gas Association or other such recognized agency.

Every gas burner shall be adjusted so as to burn, as near as possible, its rated input.

Before leaving the premises, the installer of an appliance or appliances must clear all air from the gas lines by the process of "bleeding" at each appliance. The installer must also adjust every appliance properly and check its operation thoroughly and instruct the customer fully as to the safe and proper operation of each appliance.

All water heaters must be provided with a reseating pressure temperature relief valve located in the hot water line not over six (6) inches from the tank outlet with a blow-off pipe of not less than one-half (1/2) inch diameter with no shut-off valve in the line and the outlet end without threads. When possible this blow-off line shall go to the outside and to within twelve (12) inches of the ground.

Section 7. Heating equipment. The concentration of oxygen in the flue products of a conversion burner installation shall, in no case, be less than five per cent, nor more than eight per cent.

The gas input rate shall be adjusted to within plus or minus five per cent of 1.5 times the calculated hourly BTU heat loss of the building in which it is installed but, in no case, to a valve in excess of five per cent above the maximum input rate specified by the manufacturer. When the prevailing pressure is less than the manifold pressure specified, the gas rate shall be adjusted at the prevailing pressure. The appliance shall be allowed to operate until the stock temperature becomes stabilized, after which a sample of the flue products shall be taken at a point in the flue after the outlet of the appliance but ahead of the draft hood, and analyzed for carbon dioxide or oxygen.

The gas input rate shall be adjusted to within plus or minus five per cent of the required hourly BTU input rating at the manifold pressure specified by the manufacturer.

Section 8. Floor furnaces. (a) Where the distance from the ground level at a floor furnace location is less than the depth of the furnace, a waterproof pit shall be provided with the following minimum inside dimensions:

Twelve inches from the furnace to the sides of the pit on all sides except the control side where the clearance shall be not less than twenty-four inches. There shall be a minimum clearance of twelve inches from the bottom of the furnace to the bottom of the pit. The sides of the pit shall extend approximately four inches above the level of the ground surrounding the pit.

(b) Where the distance from the ground level to the floor joists at the floor furnace location is less than twenty-four inches, a waterproof pit shall be provided with the following dimensions:

Twenty-four inches from the sides of the furnace to the sides of the pit except on the control side and the vent side. On the control side, the minimum clearance from the side of the furnace to the side of the pit shall be thirty-six inches, and on the vent side, twelve inches. There shall be a minimum of twelve inches from the bottom of the furnace to the bottom of the pit. The sides of the pit shall extend approximately four inches above the level of the grounds.

(c) Where the distance from the ground level to the floor joists at the floor furnace location is less than eighteen inches, a waterproof pit as specified in Section (b) shall be provided and there shall also be provided an access door at the floor furnace location from the floor to the water-proof pit.

Section 9. Vents. All metal vents running through a floor, ceiling, wall, or any other nonfireproof partition shall be run through a fireproof thimble with at least one (1) inch air space between the vent pipe and thimble on all sides. Vent pipe, such as metal-bestos, must have at least one (1) inch clearance from combustible material. Vents from floor furnaces, water heaters, and space heaters must have a clearance of at least three (3) inches from any combustible material for a distance of at least three (3) feet from the draft hood.

All vents must be of proper size, allowing at least one (1) square inch vent area for each 7,500 BTU per hour input of the burner to be vented, or shall be the same size as the appliance manufacturer's vent collar or his specifications when such is provided.

There shall be no damper placed in the vent or flue serving any gas appliance.

All horizontal runs of vents shall not be over fifteen (15) feet in length and must have at least one-quarter (1/4) inch rise per linear foot from the appliance vent collar. All horizontal runs over ten (10) feet shall be fastened in place with metal straps. All joints of metal vent must be fastened with at least three (3) metal screws.

In general the draft hood should be placed in a vertical position adjacent to the appliance.

Under no condition shall the line to the gas range be less than (3/4) inch. The service line (from the main to the meter) shall be one inch line.

A stopcock or valve must be installed in the gas pipe line in an easily accessible place at each appliance with a union in the line after each stopcock. When flexible tubing is used, the stopcock must be installed before the commencement of the tubing.

All horizontal sections of pipe shall be fastened securely in place with pipe hooks or straps of durable strength. Hooks shall not be used for fastening pipe over one and one-half (1 1/2) inch in diameter. Spacing between hooks or straps to be close enough to prevent sagging of the pipe line.

Bending of wrought iron or steel pipe shall not be done at any time. Ells or Tees to be used in making any turn in piping system. Tees must be used to make any turn in the horizontal sections of pipe line and at the base of all vertical sections of line. Ells may be used to make turns at the top of any vertical section of the line.

Flexible tubing approved by the American Gas Association, or any such recognized agency, may be used in connecting gas ranges, refrigerators, hotplates, space heaters, or small burners such as used in laboratories. All other appliances must be connected with wrought iron or steel pipe.

All pipe-cutter burrs must be cleared from the ends of each section of pipe with a reamer, so as to prevent choking of flow of gas. All pipe threads should be clear of all burrs before making connections.

A non-hardening pipe joint compound may be used sparingly in making pipe connections. White lead or any other such hardening compound should not be used.

All connections between the stopcock and the appliance, which are not tested under the compressed air test, must be checked for leaks by a check for movement of the meter test dial and a solution of soap and water applied to each new pipe connection.

All gas pipe or tubing shall be 3/4 inch or larger.

All defective pipe or fittings must be replaced with new materials.

No bushings shall be used for reducing pipe sizes, only reducers may be used.

All appliance pressure regulators (regulators used for maintaining proper manifold pressure at the appliance) must be vented with 1/4 inch tubing into the combustion chamber of the appliance with which it is used.

Adopted and approved this the 10th day of April, 1951.

When making drop dumplings, always dip the spoon in the hot broth each time before spooning up another dumpling. Thus the dumpling mixture will not stick to the spoon.

To pour flour into an electric mixer proceed as follows: First sift the flour into a sheet of heavy waxed paper; then, holding the two opposite edges together, pour the flour into the electric mixer from the scoop.

Cut-glass is easily cleaned by applying, with a toothbrush, soapy water to which a few drops of ammonia have been added. Rinse and dry thoroughly.

Faculty Changes Are Announced

New faculty appointments at Alabama College are announced today by President John T. Caldwell.

Author-in-residence on the campus during the next regular session will be Robert Payne, noted British author, who returns to Alabama College for the third year. As professor of English and resident author, Mr. Payne will teach creative writing and other English courses. Author of a recent book on Mao Tse-Tung of China, he is currently completing a biography of Gen. George C. Marshall.

Dr. Eva D. Golson, former associate professor of English, has been promoted to professor and acting head of the English Department. Dr. Golson is a graduate of Huntingdon College and holds her M.A. and Ph. D. from the University of Chicago.

Other promotions, approved by the board of trustees of the college, include:

E. P. Hood, from assistant professor to associate professor of physical science; Dr. Bertie McGee, from associate professor to professor in the secretarial science department; Miss Jeanette Niven, from instructor to assistant professor in the social science department and Ralph Sears, from instructor to assistant professor of speech.

Seventy percent of all veterans on Veterans Administration disability compensation and pension rolls on April 1, served during World War II. The World War II veterans numbered 1,670,815; the total of all wars and the peacetime establishment was 2,368,225.

Clubs Will Study Kitchen Planning

Farm Suggestions

By A. A. Lauderdale
County Agent

Grain sorghum is the very best crop to plant around the middle of June if a fair yield of grain is wanted.

J. C. Lowery, A.P.I. Extension agronomist, believes that more farmers will want to plant it this year because dry weather has injured so many grain crops. And in some cases cotton stands are so poor farmers may want to plough them up and plant grain sorghum. Planting dates are from around June first to July first in North Alabama and from June first to July 15 in South Alabama.

The crop may be harvested for grain, whole plants may be cut and saved for roughage, or the crop may be grazed by hogs and cows. Plant Martin's Combine in North Alabama and Early Hegari in Central and South Alabama if the crop is to be combined. If it is to be cut and fed green or made into silage, use Regular Hegari or Sagrain. Use about eight pounds of seed per acre when planting the low growing types and as little as three pounds of seed of the tall growing kind.

The seed should be treated with a dust fungicide, and the crop will need only one or two shallow cultivations.

"Remember too," says Lowery, "grain sorghum is a good crop to have in the cropping program because oats can be drilled in sorghum middles in late September or early October."

For complete information on growing grain sorghum, see the local county agent.

The production and sale of milk for manufacturing purposes is a big item in the welfare of over 12,000 Alabama farmers.

But J. R. Parrish, A.P.I. Extension dairy specialist, believes that this number can be increased threefold.

Shelby County tomato growers are urged to prevent late blight on tomato plants if they want to make the highest profits.

According to County Agent, A. A. Lauderdale, late blight caused heavy damage of tomatoes in 1949 and 1950. He agrees that the cost of applying control measures may seem to be rather high, but farmers should consider the greater returns from the protected crop rather than the cost of prevention of late blight.

"And the tomato fruitworm and pinworm may be controlled at the same time," he explains. "In fact many growers have estimated that the fruit saved from worm damage will more than pay for the material used and the cost of application."

Sprays have seemed to give slightly better control than dusts and are somewhat less expensive, states Lauderdale. However, for best results the sprays should be applied with a power sprayer. Of course, dusts may be applied with less expensive equipment, which means that they will probably be more economical for the small grower.

A dust recommended for control of diseases and pests of tomatoes contain five per cent rotenone and five to six per cent Zineb. It will give satisfactory control of early and late blight as well as control of worms. Regular applications of the dust must be made for best results. The Auburn-Approved garden dust is also recommended.

Poultry House Ventilation

Hot weather is here, and poultry houses should be well ventilated. Good ventilation means better growth, better production, less danger of diseases, and more efficient use of feed.

Irrigation

Irrigation is becoming more and more a part of Alabama farming. Many progressive farmers are turning to irrigation for pasture crops as well as for commercial vegetables.

Chicken Lice

Control of chicken lice can be had for just a few cents. Dust two pounds of sulphur in the litter of the poultry house for every 100 square feet of floor space. The treatment should last about three months.

Crimson Clover

The crimson clover seed crop was very good with a sizeable amount of seed being for sale. These seed should be cleaned and tested for purity and germination. Clean tested seed may be handled by the PMA or any dealer.

Sericea Lespedeza

Sericea Lespedeza is one of our most valuable crops for grazing and hay. Those who had sericea grazing during the dry weather were very fortunate.

Early July is a good time to plant sericea lespedeza. Sericea should be fertilized with about 800 pounds basic slag or 400 pounds 0-14-14 per acre and seeded at the rate of 30 to 40 pounds per acre.

Uncle Sam Says

Each June 14 we pay honor to the Stars and Stripes on what is officially designated "Flag Day." Under that flag our country has remained free and it is everyone's desire that it stays that way. It has been said that no country can ever be stronger than its people, citizens who are free in every way. One of the keystones in this freedom is financial security and your government has provided a safe, sure and automatic way of saving. It is U. S. Savings Bonds which can be piled up through the Payroll Savings Plan at work, the Bond-A-Month Plan at your bank, or for cash at your bank or post office.

U. S. Treasury Department

The Cajans of Washington County proudly claim today that some of their ancestors were sailors under the notorious buccaneer, Jean Lafitte. According to these people, their forebears eventually tired of pirate life on the high seas and sought out the seclusion of the great wooded areas of South Alabama. Here they married Indian girls and settled down to the less exciting life of becoming fathers.

Health Officials To Be At Calera

Members of the County Health Department will be at Calera City Hall on Tuesday, June 26 at 11:00 A.M. to give immunizations against Typhoid, Diphtheria, Whooping Cough and Tetanus.

One visit only will be made to each community and it is urged that the citizens attend promptly at the time stated.

The inland city of Selma was one of the key naval ports during the war between the States. It was here that the "Tennessee", most powerful naval vessel built by the Confederacy, was launched. The Selma naval base also built submarines and floated them down the river to Mobile, where they were outfitted for action against the Union blockaders.

Only six Civil War veterans remained on Veterans Administration compensation and pension rolls on April 1. A year ago, on April 1, 1950, the total was 16.

Community of Moore's Cross Roads Is Example Of Remarkable Progress

(B. F. Hatchett and G. C. Starcher)

Moore's crossroads is fast developing into the hub of very promising beef cattle area, based on a number of farms that are carrying out basic soil and water conservation farm plans. On these farms land is used for pasture or crops according to its capability for maintaining its production over a long period. Recommended crops are planted and given the proper fertilizers and conditioners (lime or basic slag). These improved pastures are being stocked with bigger and better beef cattle.

Within a very small circle, about one mile in radius from the crossroads are a number of these farms.

Mr. John Rucker has a fine herd of Herefords that find year-round grazing on KY. 31 fescue, kudzu, calee peas, white clover, dallis grass and ryegrass, with other grasses and legumes.

Mrs. Mathers is making a name for herself in the production of registered herd sires for less advanced Hereford breeders, and has one of Shelby County's best fescue plantings, with alfalfa, clovers, and other grazing crops furnishing most of her feed requirements.

W. C. Martin, mentioned before in this column for his good water control system of meadows and terraces is developing quite a beef herd with grade cows and a Hereford bull.

The H. Jamison farm with its whiteface herd, has become the Underwood farm. Harold's progress in land improvement, pasture development, and beef production has set Mr. Underwood something to shoot at. We have yet to make new owner's acquaintance, but we feel he will do his part in the continued development of this community.

Of course, on the other side of center we find the modern farm of Mr. L. L. Stephenson, with its major emphasis on beef. Sheep help utilize the abundant fescue, ladino, sericea, alfalfa, crimson and white clovers, etc.

North perimeter of the circle is held together by U. S. Eddings, who is doing a fine job of beef farming, and the Howells with their small but thrifty herd.

We may be overlooking some beef farmers in the mile radius. If so it is due to error and not intention. The circle also includes dairies and hog enterprises whose owners contribute to the fine community's development.

We hear that the Carl Edfeldts are impatient to join their neighbors in the development of improved pastures and grazing crops. We would like to apologize here for seeming to ignore their appeal for technical assistance, since the heavy rush of spring business and the fact that we have a great many calls for weekend appointments has so far made a trip to their farm on Saturday impossible.

We are very anxious to see more communities developing so completely along conservation principles, and making a cooperative effort such as we see in evidence on these farms. If other community groups want special assistance to do so, please use us.

Ralph Roudebush Died In Memphis

Ralph Carver Roudebush of 198 South McLean, prominent Memphis architect, who participated in the planning of many of the city's buildings, died of a heart attack at his drafting board at 12:30 p.m. yesterday. He was 58.

Services will be held at 3 this afternoon at J. W. Norris Funeral Home, with Dr. N. C. McPherson Jr. officiating.

A member of the architectural firm of Walk C. Jones-Walk C. Jones Jr., Mr. Roudebush was a son of the late Frank W. Roudebush, for many years financial correspondent of Union Central Life Insurance Co. He was born at Milford Ohio, came to Memphis as a boy and was graduated from the old Memphis High School. He attended Miami University at Oxford, Ohio; University of Chicago and the graduate school of architecture at Harvard University. He completed his architectural studies by touring Europe in 1931. He served in World War I as a second lieutenant.

Among Memphis buildings with which Mr. Roudebush was connected are the Esso Standard Oil Building, Bellevue Junior High School, Evergreen Presbyterian Church, University of Tennessee College of Dentistry and Pathology and Cancer Research Building and International Harvester's Memphis Parts Depot.

He was a member of St. John's Methodist Church, where he served as a member of the Board of Stewards.

Mr. Claude Hill Makes Suggestions In Interest Of The Montevallo Schools

In evaluating the year's work, our school is deeply indebted to the parents and students for their continued good will and interest in making some outstanding accomplishments. Also the faculty of the high school and staff of Alabama College are to be commended for their excellent spirit of cooperation during the year.

It is with regret that I announce that I will not be in the office of principal during the year 1951-52.

In turning over the office of principal to far more capable hands, I feel called upon in the interest of continuity to make some recommendations for consideration by all who are connected with our school. In view of the needs observed during the past school year, the following are recommended:

(1) Evolution of a coordinated twelve-year total school program with participation by every teacher, parent, and student using the best thoughts of the community and most forward looking principles to bring about a synthesis.

(2) Participation by every student and teacher in an effective student association teaching democratic citizenship in school and community by actual practice.

(3) Institution of a chapter of the National Beta Club or other organization to stimulate and reward students, scholarship and academic achievement.

(4) Closer communication and more frequent conference with total staff of Alabama College to bring about an effective working relationship.

(5) Building of the new cafeteria as soon as possible.

(6) Continuing the project of dental health and accepting the offer of the state to care for our students' teeth (free of charge) through sodium fluoride treatment and corrective work.

(7) Executing the establishment of a Vocational Distributive Occupations department already approved by the state Department of Education.

proved by the state Department of Education.

(8) Continue, rectify, and improve the faculty in-service training program in which teachers improve themselves continuously during the year.

(9) Cooperative participation by parents, teachers, and students in deriving school administrative policy with clear understanding of those policies by all concerned with the school.

(10) It is recommended that the faculty make the following improvements in the daily program: Derive some common purposes toward which the total school might move forward.

Make "attention to individual differences" a real, rather than lip, service to all students able as well as underprivileged.

Remain with students on the school grounds during the school day.

Hold total school faculty meetings at least once each month.

Give consideration to a more effective public relations program by frequent consultation with parents, encouraging parents to visit the school, encouraging members in the PTA, and by giving real attention to the problems of youth in the community.

With the recent organization of a parent-teacher association, our school has taken a big step forward. It is hoped that all parents and patrons will continue to give their support and encouragement to the new administration in even greater measure. May you good people continue to go ever upward.

Notice To The People of Shelby County

As I promised you, I have introduced and passed in the House of Representatives a Bill to repeal the Board of Revenue and Control Act and also a Bill to recreate the Board of Revenue as it formerly existed. I am printing below a copy of a letter to Senator J. T. Phillips which explains that I am urging Senator Phillips to pass the bills in the Senate. The letter is as follows:

Hon. J. T. Phillips
State Senator
Montgomery, Alabama
Dear Senator Phillips:

As you know, the matter of whether or not the people of Shelby County wanted to repeal the new Board of Revenue and Control Act was an issue in my campaign for the Legislature and I pledged that I would ask the people to vote on this issue. At a subsequent election, which was held in November of last year, a majority of the persons voting, voted in favor of repealing this Act.

As I promised, I have introduced and passed through the House of Representatives a Bill repealing the Board of Revenue and Control Act and also a Bill to recreate the Board of Revenue exactly as it formerly existed. These bills which I passed have now been sent to the Senate for passage. In line with my promise to the people of Shelby County that I would be governed by a majority vote, I am urging you to pass these bills in the Senate.

I am having a copy of this letter published in both the Shelby County Reporter-Democrat and in the Montevallo Times.

Yours very truly,
KARL C. HARRISON

Cecil Nichols Back In The States

Cecil E. Nichols, airman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Nichols of Montevallo, recently returned to the U. S. from the Far East aboard the aircraft carrier USS Philippine Sea.

Since her arrival in the Far East last August the Philippine Sea has steamed more than 121,500 nautical miles, approximately five times the distance around the world. Her air groups have flown more than 10,000 combat sorties and are credited with the first MIG-15 shot down by a Navy pilot.

While operating against the enemy a record total of 7,872 tons of high explosives was dropped in one operating period in support of UN ground forces.

What They Said

During the week, various Washington figures said various things that seem worth quoting:

In the midst of Secretary Acheson's 38 hours of testimony before the Senate, Charles W. Tobey, New Hampshire Republican advised his fellow solons from the Good Book: "Avoid vain repetition."

Robert A. Vogeler, in a dramatic address to the National Press Club, described to an audience for the first time his treatment by the Hungarian Communists. The keynote: "No price is too dear to pay for our way of life."

Speaker Sam Rayburn, on his return from a 10 day visit in Texas said: "Everybody thinks Washington is talking too much."

Styles Bridges, the other Republican senator from New Hampshire, summed up the MacArthur investigation this way: "Sometimes the witnesses contradict each other, sometimes they contradict themselves."

Controller General Lindsay Warren, a bureaucrat who has reduced his own department by 7,000 workers and improved efficiency, said: "The Government is absolutely engulfed in personnel regulations and red tape that prohibit and deter efficiency and economy . . . and three-fourths of the Government knows what I am saying is true, but they just don't want to come up here and say it."

Retail Sales Show Slight Increase

University, Ala.,—The preliminary Alabama retail sales index for April is 111.8, a decrease of 1.7 per cent from March, according to the monthly Retail Trade Report of the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Alabama.

Dollar volume of net retail sales in March was up to 113.7 per cent of the 1948 average month, the third highest index since the series began in 1947. The March index was 15.7 per cent greater than February, and increased 16.1 per cent over the March, 1950 figure.

Net retail sales for Shelby County showed a 24.9 per cent increase over February, compared with the state-wide total of 15.7 per cent.

All types of retail trade concerns reported larger sales in March than in either the previous month or March a year ago. Food stores reported 16.45 per cent of the state's retail sales, the largest percentage since November, 1949.

Sixty-six of the state's counties had March indexes above both February and the year ago mark, 15 counties passed their previous high indexes, and only eight counties had indexes below the 1948 average month.

Soil surveys of the state up to the present have credited Alabama with more than a hundred and thirty varieties of soil, some of which are among the most productive in the country, which have led to the conclusion that probably no other similar area can show a greater variety of productive soils and subsoils that are capable of retaining moisture and promoting soil building.

The price of telephone service in Alabama has gone up, in the overall, less than one-third as much as prices in general as measured by the cost-of-living index.

Dr. Laura Zirbes Is On Faculty

One of the nation's outstanding authorities on elementary education, Dr. Laura H. Zirbes, will be visiting consultant in the teacher education workshop at Alabama College, Montevallo Thursday and Friday.

Dr. Zirbes is professor of education at Ohio State University, where she has been a faculty member since 1928.

Professor Zirbes first entered the educational field as an elementary teacher in public schools of Cleveland in the early 1900's. She is noted for her interest in experimental education. The famed experimental University School at Ohio, for pupils from kindergarten through high school, is an outgrowth of her demonstration schools there.

In 1948 she was cited by the Women's National Press Club for achievement in education and President Truman conferred the citation for her work in the development and improvement of teaching.

At Montevallo, Dr. Zirbes will discuss current education needs and methods with Alabama teachers who are enrolled in the teacher-education workshop to learn of the most up-to-date teaching methods.

Women Status In Social Security

A woman worker in a job covered by Social Security now has greater protection for her dependents and her survivors.

Martin C. Folmar, Manager of the Birmingham Social Security office says that under the new law it is now much easier for children to qualify on their mother's Social Security account. Under the old law, no payment based on her Social Security account could be made to her children if the father was living with the family, even though the mother may have been providing all or most of the children's support.

Under the new law, if she has six quarters in which she was paid $50 or more out of the 13 quarter period ending with the quarter of her death, her children will be eligible for monthly survivors insurance benefit payments even though living with their father. Or, even if she had not worked during this 13-quarter period to her death, but had insured status as a result of earlier employment, her children would be eligible for benefits if she had been contributing at least half to the support of her children.

The Birmingham office, located at 1825 First Avenue, North, will be glad to furnish further information on this to anyone upon request.

Paramount 4-H Club Meeting

4-H Club members of the Paramount area held their first summer meeting at the home of Mrs. F. L. McCoy June 13 with 12 children present. The demonstration on "Letter and Notes Writing" was ably presented by Shirley Bearden, Doris McNabb, Ida Eleanor Powers and Shelby Jean McCary.

Plans were made for future activities of the summer which includes a spend-the-day in crafts, folk games, and picnic lunch at the home of Mrs. Herbert Pool on Wednesday, June 29.

The next regular club meeting will be July 11 at Mrs. J. E. Bearden's. Area picnic for all 4-H Clubbers and those interested in 4-H work will be held August 3 at Pool's Dairy Farm.

After the business session numerous singing games, and activities were enjoyed after which delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. McCoy. Each club member chose some one present to write a letter to and the letters are to be exhibited at the next meeting.

Sixty-Nine Shelby County Students At Alabama College Summer School

Sixty-nine students from Shelby County are enrolled this Summer as students in the 1951 Summer session on the campus of Alabama College at Montevallo.

During their Summer study at Montevallo, they will see the rise of a new California-type swimming pool, located above the tennis courts and practice golf course.

Also under construction is the new 26-acre campus lake, being filled in what was formerly a wooded section of the campus. Both projects are expected to be completed during this Summer.

Among the meetings and workshops scheduled for Alabama College are a teacher training workshop, resource-use workshop, a Summer art center and meetings of such organizations as the Senior Methodist Youth Assembly, Church Music Conference, Home Economics Refresher Course and Alcohol Education Workshop.

Shelby County students on the campus this Summer include:

The Fishing Firemen

The second installment of Montevallo firemen went fishing last week-end on the Gulf of Mexico at Perdido Bay. It was lots of fun, but fish were scarce. Couldn't get enough for a fish fry. The fine eating at Mrs. Roy Walker's table fully compensated for our failure to catch fish.

Five Hooker Gals

The five Hooker sisters had a reunion for a few days recently at the old home place on Hooker Hill. They are Nina (Wells) of Selma; Esther (Calder) of Denver, Colo.; Emma (Hicks) of Birmingham; Tiny (Pendleton) of Montevallo; and Sallie (still Hooker) of Montevallo. The brother, Ed, was around too, but he couldn't get a word in edge ways with all the talking the gals did.

Rev. Harrison Died

Rev. W. H. Harrison, pastor of the Shiloh Negro Baptist Church of Montevallo, died in a Sylacauga hospital last Sunday night. He had been sick for the past month. Rev. Harrison was a great leader of the Negro race. He was a faithful and honored minister of the gospel for many years, leading his people with a steady hand toward the higher goals of the better life. He was for several years past and at the time of his death, Moderator of the Early Rose Baptist Association, composed of a large group of Negro Baptist churches in the vicinity of Sylacauga, Goodwater, Dadeville and Alexander City. His home was in Sylacauga, where he was buried Thursday.

Boy Needs Help

Junior Hancock, son of Mrs. Annie Hancock, of Underwood, was hit by a baseball about two weeks ago and seriously injured. He must have a surgical operation, and as the family is not able to bear the hospital expense, the neighbors and friends are appealing to the public for contributions in behalf of the boy. Anyone interested in helping with a contribution is requested to contact Mrs. Grover Lawley, Underwood, phone 6623.

Plenty Of Ice

Heretofore the fourth of July demand for ice has always cleaned out the supply at the ice house. Delbert Brand was ready for the rush this time. He sold 120 blocks on Wednesday and still had 50 left when the rush was over. Delbert is a good ice man. He is making a success of the business which was thought by some to have "played out" in recent years.

Office Hours At The Town Hall

The employees of the Town of Montevallo have entered into an arrangement for working hours, whereby the Town Hall will be open for the transaction of business every day, Monday to Saturday at noon.

The regular business hours agreed upon are Monday through Friday, 8:00 to 12:00 a.m. and 1:00 to 5:00 p.m. each day. For Saturday the hours will be 8:00 to 12:00 a.m.

Persons who have business to transact at the Town Hall with the water board, the gas board, or the Town Clerk, are urged to take note of the above stated hours.

Four Polio Cases Have Been Reported

Poliomyelitis or Infantile Paralysis is mostly a hot weather disease. It is most common in children from 1 to 16 years of age but adults are not infrequently attacked.

Polio is widely prevalent but many cases are unrecognizable because of absence of any muscle weakness and other characteristic signs. It most often begins with headache, some fever and stiffness of the neck and spine. After a few days some groups of muscles may become weak or paralyzed. The distribution of this paralysis is very irregular.

In some cases it is necessary to examine the spinal fluid in order to arrive at a diagnosis.

The virus of Polio is found in the secretions of the nose and throat and in body discharges. This virus may be present in people who are apparently in good health.

Close association with an infected person is the usual method of transmission. There has been no reliable evidence of spread by insects, water, food or sewage.

For every paralytic case of Polio, there are many cases which develop no paralysis. Much can be done to reeducate the affected muscles in paralysis cases.

Shelby County has had, to date this year, 4 cases of Polio reported. Three of these were in children under 2 years of age.

County Health Officer

Seven Alabama girls and adults left the state Saturday, June 30, to attend a National Leadership Training Conference of Future Homemakers of America at Michigan State College in East Lansing, July 2-6. The three state officers chosen to represent the Alabama Association of Future Homemakers at the national conference are Edith Baily, State President, from Glencoe; Elaine Jones, State Secretary-Treasurer, Clio; and Wanda Leigh Baxter, State Historian, Chatom. The Covington County F.H.A. Organization is sending Martha Nell Bassin, County F.H.A. President for next year, from Straughn to the conference. The four girls will be accompanied by Miss Ruth Stovall, State Supervisor of Home Economics Education and State F.H.A. Adviser, Montgomery; Miss Evelyn Cotney, Assistant Supervisor of Home Economics Education, Montevallo; and Miss Dorothy Barrett, Vocational Home Economics Teacher, Andalusia High School, Andalusia, Alabama.

Theme of the Conference in Michigan is: "Leadership Training Today Brings Happier Homes Tomorrow." About 280 teen-agers and 70 adult advisers from states east of the Mississippi will attend. A similar conference was held two weeks ago in Estes Park, Colorado, for members from western states.

Work sessions at the five-day conference will give delegates training in duties of officers, parliamentary procedure, publicity and public relations, leading recreation and group singing, and in planning programs for everything from chapter meetings to large community affairs. There will also be instructional movies, talks and exhibits and planned recreation periods.

Business sessions at the conference will decide on national programs and projects for the coming school year and will elect a new slate of twelve national officers. Alabama is presenting a candidate for Treasurer. She is Elaine Jones of Clio, Alabama. Nancy Caton, 17 year old high school senior from Presque Isle, Maine, is the retiring national president and will preside at the conference.

The four Alabama F.H.A. members will participate in the programs of the National Leadership Conference by taking part in skits, serving as discussion leaders, recorders and observers of different meetings and by presenting a song characteristic of Alabama. They have chosen "Oh Suzanna" as the song they will sing.

Future Homemakers, which has headquarters in Washington, D.C., is sponsored by the U.S. Office of Education and the American Home Economics Association but financial support comes from dues from members. Nationally known leaders in the home economics field serve on the advisory board. Miss Edna Amidon, Chief of the Home Economics Education Service of the U.S. Office of Education is chairman of the advisory board. Miss Lela Smartt is national adviser. Miss Jerline Kennedy is assistant adviser.

The delegation will return to Alabama on Sunday, July 8, enroute to their homes throughout the state.

To remove dust from upholstered furniture, cover the surface with a large, heavy turkish towel wrung out of water to which a tablespoon of ammonia has been added. Beat with a carpet beater and most of the dust adhere to the towel, which is then easily removed.

Marketing Seed
Farmers who fail to find an immediate, favorable market for their grass and legume seed crops need not be alarmed. They can place their seed in government loan through their local P.M.A. office, and the seed will be held for sale at a later date.

Eufaula, Alabama was once named Irwinton. The name was changed to Eufaula (corrupt Indian for beech tree) in 1843, when a local banker (so the story goes), was vexed by having some important mail misssent to Irwinton, Georgia. Eufaula was the name of a branch of the Creek Confederacy which had long lived in the region.

Farm Suggestions

By A. A. Lauderdale
County Agent

An early start on seedbed is important in succeeding with fall-seeded crops. County Agent A. A. Lauderdale says an example of the importance of land preparation comes from the results of a survey of clover-grass permanent pastures made several years ago. The survey showed that good land preparation was about as important as the proper use of lime and fertilizers and the planting of a good seed mixture.

"And," says Lauderdale, "Right now is the time to start seedbed preparation for a large number of crops to be planted this fall. These crops include clover-grass permanent pastures, alfalfa, crimson clover seeded alone or in a mixture with small grains or ryegrass, solid seeded white clover, and other small seeded clovers and legumes which will furnish early grazing this winter."

Here are the big advantages of preparing an early seedbed. Grass and weeds will be killed, and soil moisture will be built up so plants can withstand the drouths we usually have in the fall. The plants also make good growth before cold weather comes, and last but not least, they make enough growth to provide winter grazing.

*****

On most farms in Shelby County there are areas of open land that are of such slope that row crops cannot be grown continuously without serious erosion damage.

Farmers in ever increasing numbers are finding that they must "tie down" their steeper lands with sod crops to hold and improve the soil. They also find that the most profitable way of harvesting and marketing these sod crops is through livestock.

County Agent A. A. Lauderdale states that livestock has always been associated with a permanent prosperous agriculture. This fact is true because most of the plant food consumed by livestock is returned to the soil. So, wise land use practices and livestock fit together "hand and glove" on most Alabama farms.

Serious infestations of mites have been found in some broiler houses in this county. County Agent, A. A. Lauderdale warns that wherever these mites are found they should be brought under control immediately by the application of two pounds of sulphur for each one hundred square feet of floor space. The sulphur should be broadcast on the litter and raked in.

If mites are discovered when house is being cleaned or when no broilers are in the house, Lauderdale says the lower parts of walls, foundation, and all stationary equipment should be sprayed with equal parts of burned motor oil and kerosene. Then add two pounds of sulphur to the litter on each one hundred square feet of floor space.

With the first breath of its new life the American Republic officially declared in 1776:

"We hold these truths to be self-evident; that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights; that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed —"

"Here is the distilled essence of Americanism, as stated in the first official document of the new United States of America, The Declaration of Independence. These are the eternal principles upon which our Puritans, Cavaliers, Catholics, Protestants, Jews, Gentiles, French, Germans, Dutch, Swedes, Scotch, Irish, and others, came together on a permanent and peaceful basis. Because each of them was equal before God, all of these people were made equal before the law of the land. Because their rights were bestowed by their Heavenly Creator, no power on earth could take those rights away. Since God had created each of us as individuals with personal and immortal destinies, no despotic man, majority or government could hereafter treat or regard any of us as a mere indistinguishable cipher in a collective mass.

"Despotism never advertises itself as such. Invariably it is a wolf in sheep's clothing. By its own sly definition it may label itself 'democratic,' 'progressive,' 'liberal,' 'humanitarian,' or 'fraternal.' Those who oppose it will be called reactionaries, fascists and other currently 'bad names.' It is not by its name, therefore, that you shall know despotism, but by what it proposes to do. Whenever relaxation of existing limitations upon the power of government is suggested, you are upon notice that your liberty is threatened. Unless you counterattack swiftly and sharply you are likely to find, too late, that your freedom has been lost.

"State despotism or absolutism is no respecter of persons or of places. It can and does raise its ugly, un-Godly standard over the traditionally free soil of England with the same brash assurance that characterizes its sway in communist Russia. Always and everywhere, it is at war with the free God-given nature of man. For that reason alone, it cannot be justified by any of its real, pretended or promised benefits. It is out to destroy man and consequently man must destroy it in self-defense.

"The all-powerful Despotic State has definite designs upon the one place on earth where effective resistance to it was conceived, established and justified in practice. That one place is America. The formula for effective resistance is:

continuous, strict and closely guarded limitations upon the power of government.

"Thus, as a good American, you believe that:

1. God is the Creator of all men;
2. Your rights, and the rights of your fellow-men, are God-given, and for that reason alone no power on earth can take those rights away;
3. As a personal creature of God, each of us is equal in the sight of God to every other person, and for that reason each of us is entitled to the equal protection of all the laws of the land.
4. Government is not man's master: On the contrary, government is man's servant, chosen by man to protect the God-given rights of mankind.

"Upon the firm foundation of these truths, the glory and prosperity of our beloved country has risen steadily through the years as the crowning wonder of the world. These truths have made America great. Only these truths can keep America great. To preserve the blessings of liberty for yourself and your posterity and to perpetuate the celebration of this great American 4th of July Anniversary—HOLD THESE TRUTHS!"

Alabama Power Company To Build Giant Steam Plant In The Mobile Area

Thomas W. Martin, Chairman of the Board, Alabama Power Company, announced that, to meet the ever-growing industrial and defense loads, the Company will file with the Alabama Public Service Commission an application to build near Mobile another steam-electric power plant to coast approximately thirty million dollars.

The new plant will be designed so that ultimately it could have a capacity of one million kilowatts. The initial capacity will be 250,000 kilowatts in two 125,000 kilowatt units designed to operate at a steam pressure of 1800 pounds per square inch. These units will be built by the General Electric Company and the first unit is expected to be in operation late in 1953, and the second in 1954. The estimated consumption of coal for the first two units is 800,000 tons per year.

The new plant will be located on a site long owned by the Company on the Mobile River 22 miles north of Mobile near the station on the Southern Railroad known as Salco. At this site, which affords ample water for condensing purposes, exploratory drilling to determine suitability for foundations have been underway for some months. Homes will be built as needed to house the plant operating personnel, and the necessary high-voltage transmission lines and substations will be constructed to connect the new plant with the Company's existing transmission system. It is expected that most of the workers required for the construction of the new plant will be obtained from the Mobile area. The groundbreaking ceremony is planned for July 20th.

Mr. Martin stated that the Company's board of directors had decided to name the new power plant at Salco the Barry Steam Plant in honor of the Company's president, who spent almost his entire business career with the Company and who has actively been identified with the economic development of the area served by the Company.

When the two units of the Barry Steam Plant have been installed, the total generating capacity in the Mobile area will be three times as great as at present. The Company now has three units, of 40,000 kilowatts each, installed in its Chicksaw plant, so that on completion of the new plant the Company will have in the Mobile area, to serve that area and South Alabama, 370,000 kilowatts of modern efficient steam plant capacity; in addition to the high voltage lines from its hydro-plants on the Coosa and Tallapoosa Rivers in central Alabama.

The total capacity of the Company's generating plants, when the present construction program is completed, will be 1,385,000 kilowatts, an increase of 806,000 kilowatts over the capacity in service in 1940.

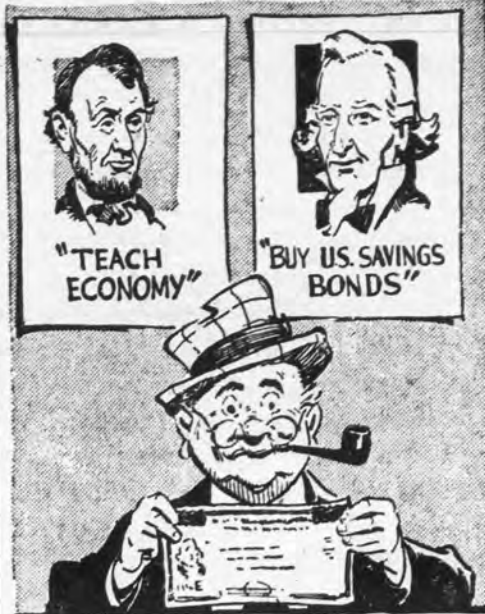

"Our decision to build this large new power plant in the Mobile area, following closely the installation of 395,000 kilowatts of new steam and hydro generating capacity at the Gorgas and Gadsden Steam Plants and at Mitchell and Martin Dams, is evidence of our faith in the continued growth of Mobile and South Alabama, and a further indication of our determination always to have ample power available throughout our service area in advance of the need. It is expected that the power produced by the new Barry Steam Plant will be used in part by industries closely related to salt and oil and their by-products and as another important source of power for South Alabama. The expansion in the salt and oil fields also will lead to further development in related fields, as well as in commercial and other activities in the area."

Mr. Martin recalled that in 1925 when Alabama Power Company acquired the Mobile Electric Company, total annual sales of electric power in what is now the Company's Mobile Division were approximately 29 million kilowatt hours. For 1950, the use within the Division was 576 million kilowatt hours, or nearly 20 times as much.

"We are beginning to see all over Alabama the fruits of many years of effort to stimulate nationwide interest in Alabama and the South as a good place to work and live. Much of this interest centers in South Alabama by reason of the great importance of our pine forests as well as more recent discoveries of oil and salt. All of these efforts, however, would be of little value without the progressive, energetic spirit of the people in the area. In my judgment", Mr. Martin said, "the development of the immediate future are just a small indication of what we expect in the next ten or fifteen years."

Don't Let Deep-Well Cooker Remain Idle

Idle on the back of many a kitchen range stands one of its most economical, useful, and convenient parts—the deep well cooker.

"This thrift cooker is ideal for such budget items as the less tender cuts of meat, dry beans, or whole-grain cereals which need long, slow cooking," states Home Agent Marian Cotney. "In the insulated well these foods can cook to delicious tenderness with a minimum of fuel and without the need for frequent watching to prevent scorching."

Miss Cotney adds that the well can save fuel by cooking a whole meal together or by pinch-hitting for the oven when baking a few potatoes or heating up a few rolls. "It is ideal for simmering soups or for steaming puddings, brown bread, or custard," she explains. "The depth of the kettle makes it convenient for steaming bulky vegetables like corn on the cob or kale or other leafy greens."

Now on the market are rugs and carpets made of wool and rayon blended together.

Marian Cotney, Shelby County home agent, points out that one type of rayon used is specifically made for rugs and is called carpet rayon. It actually is stronger than wool and does not shed as much as wool in a rug. Also, carpet rayon colors are softer and clearer.

But these facts, she adds, are true only of the carpet rayon, not of rayon waste. When rayon waste is blended with wool—particularly with soft or inferior wool the capet does not wear well.

Fast, Accurate Telephone Service is Vital to Civil Defense

Warnings of approaching planes, coming from air raid spotters or military radar screens, are flashed over networks of Long Distance and local telephone lines to Filter Centers.

Telephone reports are quickly charted on Filter Center Maps. Then Air Force interceptor planes are alerted. Rescue and relief work, too, are directed by telephone.

This is but one type of the many special telephone networks serving government and military forces to help protect our Nation.

Brantley-Ingram Wedding In Selma

Marconi daisies, white gladioli and lighted cathedral tapers in branched candelabra, against a background of Southern smilax and palms, formed the decorative setting for the afternoon ceremony at which Miss Emily Juliette Brantley and Billy Nuburn Ingram were married in the Selma Church of Christ. The minister C.M. Rhodes, officiated at the wedding which was an event of Saturday, June 2. A large assemblage witnessed the double ring ceremony which took place at 3 o'clock.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Brantley, of Excel. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. Lawson Ingram, of Montevallo.

James Mathews, of Marion, was the soloist for the program of vocal music given by a chorus directed by Mrs. Mathews. Other members of the chorus were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Morrow, Mrs. Robert Appel, Miss Sarah Ann Sellers, Johnny Wyatt and Glenn Wall all of Selma.

Prior to the ceremony the selections were "I Love You Truly" and "Because." The bridal chorus from "Lohengrin" by Wagner also was sung, as the traditional processional.

Bobby Grissette, of Uriah, and Raymond Hamm, Selma, served as the ushers.

The groom was attended by his father as best man.

The bride was given in marriage by a brother, William B. Brantley, of Selma. Her wedding gown was of eyelet embroidered white organdy over forest green taffeta, the close fitting bodice being fashioned with a high neckline and long pointed sleeves. The full skirt was ballerina length. The bride's Dutch bonnet was of matching eyelet, worn without veil. She carried a prayer book with a white orchid corsage showered with ribbons and stephanotis.

She was attended by Miss Doris Clemmons, of Cullman, as maid of honor, and her two sisters, Miss Arthurene Brantley and Miss Marlene Brantley, of Excel, as bridesmaids.

They were gowned alike in light green bordered eyelet over taffeta, made with an off-shoulder bodice and full ballerina skirt. The arm bouquets which they carried were of shaded pink asters and lilies of the valley tied with green ribbon streamers.

The bride's mother wore blue crepe and the groom's mother a blue floral print. Their flowers were white carnation corsages.

Following the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Brantley, brother and sister-in-law of the bride, entertained at an informal reception at their home on Royal Street. The floral decorations of the room were in the bridal colors of green and white. Daisies and greenery encircled the three-tiered cake, surmounted by a miniature bride and groom, which centered the lace-covered bride's table. Punch and confections also were served by Mrs. Robert Echols, of Selma, sister of the bride, Mrs. Homer Holland and Mrs. Brantley.

For her departure on her wedding trip, the bride traveled in a pink linen ensemble with navy accessories and orchid corsage. After the honeymoon at Lookout Mountain, Mr. and Mrs. Ingram are at home in Tuscaloosa, where

Miss Eloise Lee Goes To Conference

MISS ELOISE LEE

Miss Eloise Lee, alumnae secretary of Alabama College at Montevallo, will be among 500 alumni representatives and guests attending the annual national conference of American Alumni Council July 9-12 at French Lick, Ind.

Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of Selective Service, and Kenneth McFarland, educational consultant for General Motors, will be among the outstanding national speakers.

A highlight of the conference will be an award to Judge Harold R. Medina, of New York, as the outstanding alumnus of 1950.

During the conference, Miss Lee plans to meet the Kentucky alumnae of Alabama College, now living in Louisville, Shelbyville and Frankfort.

The American Alumni Council is an association of men and women professionally engaged in alumni work in over 526 colleges and secondary schools of the United States, Alaska and Canada.

Important Notice To Gas Customers In Montevallo

It appears likely that the government is going to issue an order within a few days prohibiting the connection of any new natural gas customers for the coming winter, in order to protect present customers and assure adequate supplies of gas for defense needs.

The contemplated restrictive order very likely will prohibit any installation of new equipment using natural gas for heating homes and other buildings.

There are many people here who plan to install gas appliances for heating this winter. We urge you to do so without delay or you may be caught by the restrictions of the expected government order.

Montevallo Gas System

"The average family has little use for a dining room," says an architect. That's not the half of it. If the price of food goes much higher, the average family won't have much use for a kitchen.

When buying hose, buy at least two pairs of the same weight and color, so that when one stocking of each pair gives out an invisible extra third pair is left.

The groom is a student in the School of Commerce at the University of Alabama. The bride, a graduate of Alabama College, taught Home Economics the past year in the Coffeeville school.

National Guard Unit At Calera

Colonels' Snead, Wilson and Sheppard of the State Adjutant General's Office, were in Calera recently, to work out details for organizing a National Guard Unit. The Unit will be the, 657th Transportation Truck Co. Three acres of ground, on the south end of the school grounds, was selected to be the future home of the local guard unit. Within the next year, a motor vehicle shed will be built at a cost of $120,000. Within the next three years, an armory building will be erected at a cost of approximately $375,000. For the present, temporary quarters will be set up in the basement of the school building. Next week Colonel Sheppard will send a crew of men from Montgomery, to convert these quarters into a strong room for the purpose of storing equipment. The temporary office for the unit will be across the hall from the principal's office.

Lt. E. B. Nickerson, of Calera, has been selected to command the local unit. The Company will have a strength of seven officers and seventy-two enlisted men. Also will have two full time jobs, an administrative man and a caretaker. These men must be members of the guard.

Men who have not been called for their pre-induction medical may enlist in the guard and will not be drafted. We have plenty of ratings open for ex-enlisted men who can qualify. Also openings open for officers who can qualify.

We will have an organization night, Friday July 13, 7:00 p.m. at the State Employment Office in Calera. All men interested in enlisting, come to this meeting. Men 17 to 19, must have their parents consent to enlist.

When it is necessary to dry clothes indoors and there is not sufficient artificial heat, place the clothes on a rack and turn on the electric fan. The circulation of air so induced will both air and dry the clothes.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN

Believe It Or Not

A Negro woman came into Wilson Drug Store this week and said: "I believe I owe you folks some money". She gave her name Mary Towles Hawkins, presently of 118 North Blount Street, Madison, Wisc. Dr. Wilson started checking over his books. Going back year after year, he looked and failed to find anything. "Keep on looking," said the woman. When he got back to 22 years ago there it was: $2.95 balance owed by Mary Towles Hawkins on a prescription for medicine. She paid it and went her way as if it were just an ordinary small business transaction. But it appears to us considerably out of the ordinary.

Karl Harrison

While in Montgomery one day last week we talked with Mr. Karl Harrison, Representative from Shelby County, who is also one of the floor leaders for Governor Persons. Karl is doing a good job. He knows how to get along with people, and he also knows how to get things done. He ran for Representative in Congress from this district several years ago and received a fine vote.—Centerville Press.

Major and Mrs. Lloyd W. Engelland, Miss Cynthia and Garland Engelland, from Fort Benning, Ga., spent several days with Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Overstreet. Major Engelland has just returned from Korea.

Fermon Moore At Home

Fermon Moore has returned home from a hospital in Birmingham. He says it looks like the doctors are using the starvation cure on him. "Turnip greens are poor enough when cooked with sow-belly," he says, "but when it comes to eating them cooked without meat or salt, that is what I call next to starvation." The remedy is working one way at least — he has lost 28 pounds in weight.

National Guard Unit

Lt. E. B. Nickerson, commander of the Calera National Guard unit was here the other day in the interest of the organization. Elsewhere we have a story about it. According to Lt. Nickerson, this unit is being formed for all Shelby County, and is placed at Calera because of the central location. All men in Shelby County who are interested in this phase of military service are urged to attend the formal organization meeting at the employment office in Calera Friday night at 7:00 o'clock.

Dr. Parnell Sick

Dr. L. C. Parnell is on the sick list this week. He is under observation at a Birmingham hospital for a physical check-up and the necessary treatment. His many friends hope he will soon be back to his normal good health.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Cruce on Spring Creek Road, entertained a group of friends last Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar P. Little and children, and Mrs. J. E. Miskelley, Birmingham; Mr. and Mrs. Youngblood and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Overstreet, of Montevallo.

Defense Appeals For Scrap Metal

Farmers, industrial leaders and owners of automobile "graveyards" of Shelby County were asked by the Federal Government this week to cooperate in relieving the present nationwide shortage of scrap supplies at steel mills so that the national program of rearmament could be carried out.

A concerted effort in ferreting out scrap steel and iron from plants, warehouses and other industrial centers, from farms and from automobile "graveyards" and getting it moved into market channels to save the nation from a grave shortage at this time was requested in an appeal received here from Merrill C. Lofton, southeastern regional director of the U.S. Department of Commerce in Atlanta.

Inventories of scrap iron and steel at the nation's 200 mills and foundries are "dangerously low," Mr. Lofton stated, and unless scrap supplies are appreciably expanded within the next four months the steel production program faces a serious crippling threat.

"Without sufficient supplies of scrap steel, which is essential to the production of new steel, a lag in the steel program would affect not only defense and defense-supporting industries but would limit production of civilian consumer goods such as automobiles, refrigerators and stoves," he added.

Health Clinics To Be Held

Immunizing Clinics will be held by the County Health Department at the following places and at the time specified.

Tuesday, July 17—Vincent Colored School 9:30 a.m.; Creswell Church 2:00 p.m.

Thursday, July 19—New Hope School 9:30 a.m.; McGuire's Mines (The Scales Rt. 1 Helena) 11:00 a.m., Helena School 2:00 p.m.

One visit only will be made to each community since the vast majority of citizens require only a booster.

It is hoped that those wishing immunizations will be at the appointed place promptly at the time specified. Only a limited time can be spent at each station.

Dr. E. F. SLOAN
County Health Officer

To clean a white oilcloth table cover that has been disfigured by hot cooking utensils, rub the places with a piece of raw Irish potato.

There were few sculptors in early Alabama, and this probably accounts for the scarcity of crude statues of local heroes. Guiseppi Moretti, of Carrara, Italy, was the first sculptor of note. Moretti, living at Talladega in the latter part of the nineteenth century, carved many small pieces extant today, but is best known for his huge castiron statue of Vulcan, a difficult work surprisingly modern in conception, that stands fifty feet in height atop Red Mountain overlooking Birmingham.

Second Issue Of Montevallo Review

The second issue of the Montevallo Review, literary magazine published at Alabama College at Montevallo, is off the press, featuring a collection of poetry ranging from Aztec Indian days to modern times.

Editors of the publication which made its literary debut in the Spring of 1950, are Robert Payne, author-in-residence at Alabama College, and Miss Nancy Leonard, both members of the English Department here.

Included in the poetry section of the review are two poems by Harvey Breit, of the book review section of the New York Times. Translations by Professor Payne of four poems, originally sung by the Aztec Indians before the coming of the Spanish conquerors, also are featured.

Under the title "Terror and Dictatorship," Dr. Anne Eastman, associate professor of history at Alabama College, writes on the political kinship between France in the years 1945-50 and at the time Jacobin movement in 1794.

Another Alabama College faculty member, Dr. Lorraine Pierson, head of the foreign language department, is author of an article on Albert Camus, French essayist, playwright and novelist.

Charles Olson, Washington, D.C. author, writes a sketch of his childhood in New England. The only fiction in the magazine is a short story, "My Sister Callie," by Betty Jean Foxhall, of Linden, senior at Alabama College and student of creative writing under Mr. Payne.

Among other contributors to the poetry section are Henry Treece, British poet; Kenneth Lawrence Beaudoin, of Memphis Tenn.; Frederick Sorensen, Auburn; August Mason, Tuscaloosa; Edwin Rolfe, of California; Olson; Miss Leonard; and Frances Echols, of Greenville, Alabama College student.

The book review section of the magazine contains reviews of "Yours Till Death," a collection of Civil War letters edited by Lucille Griffith, assistant professor of history at Alabama College, and "The Weight of the Cross," a new novel by Robert Bowen, of Birmingham.

Mr. Payne, noted British author, was recently named by the New York Times as the "most versatile" writer of 1950. His most recent book is "Red Storm Over Asia," an analysis of the Communist drive for control of Asia, and he has also published this spring "The Young Emperor," a novel of India, and "Mao Tse-Tung," a biography of the Chinese leader. Currently he is at work on a biography of Gen. George C. Marshall.

Annual Farm Bureau Barbecue Here Next Wednesday

Farm Bureau members and their families are again urged to attend their Annual meeting and Barbecue on Wednesday, July 18th beginning at 9:30 at Palmer Hall, Montevallo. H. A. Pauly, President states that a very interesting program has been arranged with former Senator Bruce Henderson of Miller's Ferry, as guest speaker. The same system for tickets will be used as last year. Tickets will be furnished you and your family, which includes the members in your immediate household. Visitors will be asked to pay one dollar for plates. Members have been sent cards for requesting tickets. If for some reason you have not received one of these cards, please contact the secretary-treasurer W. Royce Morris, Columbiana, for your tickets.

More than 250,000 disabled World War II veterans have been rehabilitated through Public Law 16, during the eight years the program has been in effect. The total represented 44 percent of the 575,000 disabled veterans who had had Public Law 16 training.

A shopping bag containing cleaning rags, brushes, powders, etc. hung on a doorknob in the room in which one is cleaning, will save many a step.

Rev. Niles Here Next Sunday

Rev. Henry C. Niles will preach at the eleven o'clock service, next Sunday at the Presbyterian church. He is a native of Mississippi, at present living in Kosciusko. Recently he has given his time to study, taking his doctorate in the philosophy and history of theology at Harvard University. He is also a graduate of Columbia Theological Seminary, Decatur, Georgia. From 1944 to 1947 he was pastor of three churches centered in Livingston, Alabama. While studying he has summer pastorates in Carrollton and McComb, Mississippi, and Ocala, Florida. It is hoped Mr. Niles will bring his wife with him next Sunday.

On The Farms Of Shelby County

"What's new fellows?" That's a greeting we often hear when we drive out little green S.C.S. trucks on to Shelby County farms.

Luckily for the farmers we can often offer them a new crop, or conservation practice, that will mean money, less work, or soil and water saving, or a combination of all three.

Four years ago the North Central Soil Conservation District distributed, Ky. 31 fescue, an entirely new crop in Shelby County. Today there are thousands of acres of this fine perennial grass in combination with various legumes in the pastures of Shelby County. An estimate of over 20,000 pounds of Ky. 31, fescue seed, saved this year in this County alone, is conservative.

Early this spring several thousand crowns of a greatly improved Kudzu were distributed to introduce Kudzu 23, a discovery of the Conservation Service.

Then in July, it was our pleasure to deliver a truck load of Coastal Bermuda stolons to several cooperators who promised to give this promising new crop a good trial.

Something new has been added to our program too. For those not feeling able to undertake a complete (basic) conservation program on their farms, we can now help establish one or more single practices, such as terraces and meadows on one selected field.

This will give farmers a chance to "try" us on a limited scale. It's new, and we invite you to try it if you can not see your way clear to go into our complete 5 year program, just now.

Many House Jobs Put On Wheels

Shelby County farm women are finding that many routine household jobs can be put on wheels.

For example, points out Home Demonstration Agent Marian Cotney, a rolling tray-table may carry meals from kitchen to dining table and then carry out the dishes, or it may be used in laundry work, housecleaning, food preservation or even some outdoor gardening or painting work.

"The tea carts of the twenties went out of fashion because most were too awkward or ornate," explains the home agent. "But streamlined models have returned in recent years to suit today's informal living and one-level houses. Small tables or stands may easily be converted to such use by installing ball-bearing casters and a comfortable handle. Large-wheel casters roll easier than small ones. If two of the four casters will lock, the table can roll or stand securely, as desired."

Makes Pans Bright

When washing aluminum, use mild pure soap or soapless suds, then rinse and wipe dry.

Marian Cotney, home demonstration agent, states that if the inside of an aluminum pan is dark, it's easy to brighten by filling with water, adding a little vinegar or cream of tartar and heating a few minutes.

"Another way aluminum may be brightened," says Miss Cotney "is to cook mildly acid foods like rhubarb, tomatoes, tart apples, or sour milk. This does not harm the food for eating."

Caldwell Reports Scholarship Gifts

President John T. Caldwell, of Alabama College, has released the following summary of gifts in 1951, to the Honors Scholarships Fund of Alabama College, as of July 1, 1951:

From corporations, 22 gifts, total $1,970.00; from individual friends of the college, 20 gifts, total $1,495; from the faculty, 25 gifts total $416.00; from the student body, total $664.91; from Alumnae Association, total $400; grand total received, $4,945.91.

Dr. Caldwell explains in a note attached to the report: "Each year the program commits $7,500.00 in renewable and non-renewable scholarship grants. Only 100 gifts annually of $75 each would meet the requirements. All in excess of $7,500.00 will be used directly to support future programs when needed, or placed in a capital fund for that purpose."

Curious Disease Has Shown Up

Some sections of Shelby County have, during the past two weeks, had a considerable outbreak of a gastro-intestinal disturbance characterized by either or both vomiting and diarrhea, more or less fever, considerable aching, especially in the back and legs, and prostration. Columbiana and vicinity has been especially hard hit and a number of cases are reported from Montevallo and vicinity and from Vincent.

The onset of the cases strongly resemble certain types of food poisoning but the course of the outbreak has eliminated any connection with food, milk or water.

The Health Department has consulted with the doctors in various sections of the County and with the Director of the Bureau of Preventable Diseases at the State Health Department and it is the consensus of opinion that the outbreak is due to a Virus.

Similar outbreaks occurred a few years ago at Alabaster and at Alabama College and these were also considered Virus infections.

While the infection causes a great deal of discomfort and some loss of time from work it fortunately does not appear to be dangerous to life.

DR. E. F. SLOAN
County Health Officer

Public Health Clinics Scheduled

The County Health Department will conduct immunizing clinics at the following places on Thursday, July 26, at the time specified.

Calais (Church) 10:00 a.m.
Sterrett (Bruner's Store) 1:00 p.m.

Vandiver (Post Office) 3:00 p.m.
Immunizations will be given against Typhoid, Diphtheria, Whooping Cough, Smallpox and Tetanus. Only one visit will be made to each community.

All citizens are urged to come and bring their children for the "shots" needed.

Shelby County has just had its first case of Typhoid reported for this year, and a neighboring county has recently had two cases of Smallpox.

After an outbreak of any of these diseases occurs in a community it is often too late for immunizations to be effective.

DR. E. F. SLOAN
County Health Officer

Teachers Tour Paper Plant

Mrs. W. D. Moore, teacher in the Shelby County New Hope School and student in the Resource Use Work Shop Course, Alabama College, Montevallo was one of twenty-five teachers who were guests of the Gulf States Paper Corporation, Tuscaloosa, Alabama for first hand knowledge as to how paper and paper bags are made, and proper utilization of Alabama pine trees.

The Resource Use Workshop, under the direction of Miss Ethel Marshall, is a course in the wise use and conservation of Alabama's natural resources.

After a discussion of the process of paper making and a tour of the plant, the teachers were guests of the company for lunch and a boat ride on the company's houseboat, the E-Z Kraft.

On The Farms Of Shelby County

Favorable water supply has proven to be the main factor, in promoting summer growth, on Fescue pastures on the farms of Howard Hall, S. A. Wolf, B. Smith, and others, observed this week.

Young tender blades as much as a foot long, were found July 16, on fescue, mowed in mid June. This growth was made during a period when ninety to ninety-five degree weather prevailed.

On some of the same farms, in dryer fields, fescue is living, but waiting for rains to began growth.

*****

District Conservationist A. L. Howell notified us this week, that the District supervisors have some good "Rescue" grass seed, for sale to cooperators, at below market prices.

This is a reseeding winter grass, not a perennial.

It is particularly successful, on sericea lespedeza, where it uses the nitrogen stored by sericea during the summer months. Shelby County is allotted only 300 pounds of this lot of seed, about enough to plant 15 acres.

Rescue grass usually furnishes good grazing by mid November from volunteer stands.

Cooperators wanting this seed, will be listed in order of receipt of request.

Shelby county farmers desiring certified seed from a particularly fine Ky. 31 fescue field, can get information from this office.

Clubs May Get Free Motion Pictures

Civic organizations in the vicinity of Montevallo, Alabama, have the opportunity to obtain motion picture films on a variety of interesting and informative subjects from the film library at the Brookley Air Force Base, Mobile, Ala.

These 16 mm. films are available free of charge to clubs, veterans' groups, schools, etc., for showing on a non-profit basis. Films cover World War II, Communism, Korea, The Atomic Age and many other special features. Showing time varies from a few minutes to an hour-and-a-half.

To obtain additional information contact the Public Information Office, Brookley Air Force Base, Mobile, Alabama.

Doris Kelley Has Finished Training

Doris E. Kelley, seaman recruit, Waves, USN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Kelley of Montevallo, Alabama, has recently plunged from the civilian to the military life.

A U.S. Navy recruit, she has now completed training at the U.S. Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill. For her, the past few weeks have been filled with drill, learning to identify aircraft and ships; how, when, why, and whom to salute; the background of Naval courtesy, history, organization, and how to live harmoniously and efficiently as a member of a large and complex organization.

Now ready for further assignment, the Wave will be transferred to duty within the shore establishment of the Navy, to one of certain foreign stations, or to a service school for specialized training.

Coffee was so scarce and costly during the early days of Alabama that it was used only on Sunday morning, or unless a preacher or other esteemed guest dined with the family weekdays. Sugar was so scarce that it was used only for the sick, or in the preparation of the much-prized "sweetened gram" at a wedding or other important social occasions.

The Lucia, the first non-sinkable vessel, was outfitted in 1917 at the Alabama Dry Docks on the Mobile River.

New Service For Montevallo Begins August 1

Postmaster Morris Watson, announces a new mail service between Montevallo and Birmingham to be instituted August 1. It will be a truck route operating directly between the post office here and the mail dispatching center at the railway terminal station at Birmingham.

There will be two trips a day made by the truck for bringing mail from Birmingham to Montevallo and for dispatching mail from Montevallo to Birmingham. The post offices at Columbiana and Calera will also be served.

The schedule is tentatively announced as follows:

Leave Birmingham Terminal at 5:30 a.m. Arrive at Montevallo around 7:00. This means that our morning mail from Birmingham will get here at least two and a half hours earlier than heretofore. Thus the morning mail will get here in time to go out on the rural route the same day, whereas it formerly had to lay over here and go out the next day. The truck will continue on from here serving Calera and Columbiana, and back to Birmingham.

The second trip the truck leaves the Terminal at 3:00 p.m., coming by Columbiana and Calera, and gets here about 5:15, bringing mail and taking mail away, and going directly back to the Terminal.

This is an improvement that has long been needed in our mail service. We congratulate Postmaster Watson upon the successful effort he has made to attain this improvement.

Amateur Baseball At Buck Creek

Amateur baseball night will be featured at Buck Creek Stadium on Saturday night, July 21.

First game starts at 6:00 p.m., Belle Ellen vs. Marvel.

Second game is Bessemer Merchants vs. Buck Creek.

Proceeds of this event will go toward sending the Bessemer All-American Amateur Baseball Association Champions to the national tournament to be held at Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

Tommy Thomas At Lackland AFB

Pvt. Tommy N. Thomas, 25, son of Camie Thomas, P.O. Box 365, Montevallo, is completing his AF basic airmen indoctrination course at Lackland Air Force Base, the "Gateway to the Air Force".

Lackland, situated near San Antonio, is the world's largest air force base, site of Air Force basic training, for men and women, headquarters of the Human Resource Research Center, and home of AF's Officer Candidate School.

His basic training is preparing him for entrance into Air Force technical training and for assignment in specialized work. The course includes a scientific evaluation of his aptitude and inclination for following a particular vocation and career.

Farm Suggestions

By A. A. Lauderdale
County Agent

Gardeners often run into dry weather after July, and lack of moisture may be the limiting factor in the production of late summer and fall crops.

A. A. Lauderdale, County Agent, says that this condition may be partially avoided by planting fall beans, turnips, and other crops in small fertile branch heads and draws.

*****

Hatchery fish for stocking new farm ponds or restocking ponds that are unbalanced will not be available until late this fall or early next spring, reports Shelby County Agent A. A. Lauderdale.

He adds that while new ponds may be constructed this summer, the valve on the drain pipe should not be closed until August in those ponds that will receive all water from rainfall. In ponds with small springs or streams the valve may be closed around September because these ponds will fill completely by the time fish are to be placed in them.

Any pond that has been checked by a fish specialist and found to be unbalanced because of crappie, catfish, suckers, shad, or other undesirable fish should not be drained until August or September. When ponds are refilled, they will be ready for new hatchery fish.

"The chief reason for not filling a new pond with water now and for not draining a pond that has been recommended to be drained at this time," explains the agent, is that underwater weeds will develop unless the water is fertilized."

*****

One of the greatest opportunities for increasing the income on most Shelby County farms lies in putting idle acres to work, says County Agent A. A. Lauderdale.

"Idle land is a luxury that few farmers can afford," declares the agent. "And with 'lay-by' time about here, now is a good time to plan on getting a 'cover of green' on idle land this fall."

*****

Farm Casualty List

Obey safety rules on the farm or one out of six farms will be the scene of a disabling accident in 1951. In 1950 a survey made by the National Safety Council and National Fire Protection Association estimated that 17,500 fatalities resulted from accidents, 1,500,000 disabling injuries were caused by accidents, and 35,000 farm buildings were destroyed by fires. These figures total up to a loss of over a billion dollars to farm people.

Farm Labor Trend

In May this year there were one half million less people working on farms than there were a year ago and one and one-half million less than the postwar peak of 1946-47.

Winter Legumes

July is a good time to plan and make necessary arrangements for fall plantings of winter legumes, small grains, and legume-grass mixtures.

Cotton Defoliation

Farmers who plan to defoliate cotton this fall should make arrangements with their local dealers now so that the defoliant material will be on hand when needed. Twenty-five to thirty pounds of cyanamide dust is the recommended rate per acre.

Value Of Poultry Range

Lower feed costs, higher production, faster gains, improved quality, better hatchability of eggs, healthier flocks, and larger profits are some of the advantages of a poultry range that provides ample green feed for pullets.

Fight Cotton Insects

Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan has called upon cotton producers to wage an all-out fight against the boll weevil and other cotton insects this year in an effort to produce a 16-million bale crop. The secretary points out that insects took a toll of some 3,000, 000 bales last year.

For most insects, either rotenone or derris has more killing power if applied during the "heat of the day" or when temperature is rising.

The religious beliefs of the Alabama Indian tribes seem to have culminated in the conception of a being connected with the sky or the sun. The Creek called the supreme deity "The Breath Keeper", and more generally, "The One Above".

Uncle Sam Says

"The best way of saving for a working man is the Payroll Savings Plan for the purchase of U. S. Savings Bonds." That is the story from thousands of employed persons who are today helping their country and themselves as well. It is also the opinion of a couple in Niagara Falls who made a down payment on a new home with Savings Bonds. They are now putting 10 per cent of their pay into Savings Bonds so that they can buy a bakery. You too can build your own future by signing up for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or if self-employed, the Bond-A-Month Plan at your bank.

AN HOUR'S TELEPHONE SERVICE

Before you decide bargains no longer exist, take a close look at your telephone service. The telephone in your home is on duty day and night at an average charge in Alabama of less than one-half cent an hour.

Regardless of the time, if somebody needs to get in touch with you—from across the street, across town or across the nation—your telephone can be ringing in a matter of seconds.

Then there are the calls you make—to the drug store, the doctor, the hairdresser, to relatives and friends across town—calls that save you tiresome and expensive errands, calls that bring joy and good times, that help keep family ties and friendships alive.

To these every-day calls you make and receive, add the constant protection of your telephone in the event of emergency—and we believe you will agree that telephone service is one of today's biggest bargains.

History of Montevallo Club

President

EDDIE WATSON

Eddie Watson who is now president of the Rotary Club in Montevallo is one of its charter members. Eddie is a movie exhibitor both in Columbiana and in Montevallo. Born in Alabama he attended the University of Alabama and was a member of the Sigma Chi fraternity.

In 1949 he was program chairman of the Rotary Club. His community activities have included the Montevallo housing authority, community chest committee, and boy scout work. He is married to Georgine McCauley Watson. The Watsons attend the Baptist Church in Montevallo.

Secretary

MURPHY McGEHEE

Murphy McGehee, who has been a member of the Montevallo Rotary Club for three years, is now serving as its secretary. Murphy is district manager for the Alabama Power Company. Born in Clay County, near Ashland, Alabama, he attended the University of Florida.

He is married to Louise Henderson McGehee and they have two children, Murphy and Charles. The McGehees are active in the Montevallo Methodist church where Murphy is a steward.

Active in various community activities, Mr. McGehee has served as president of the Montevallo Chamber of Commerce, is its present secretary, and is District Commissioner of Boy Scouts.

Ice Cream, Watermelon

Our ice man, Delbert Brand, cut loose with his hospitality Wednesday night and set up his friends and customers to a treat of ice cream, cake, and watermelon. A big table alongside the ice plant, was loaded with the delicacies. It was, in every sense, a suitable arrangement for relief from the hot weather.

New Mail Service

You will find in this paper the new mail schedule to take effect August 1, when the mail truck begins to serve us directly from the Birmingham Terminal.

The Montevallo Rotary Club was conceived in February, 1946, in the minds of a group of local men who were affiliated with the old Montevallo Civic Club. These men felt that there was a need for affiliation with a standard service club of national and international scope of activity.

Discussion and consideration was given to more than one of the widely-known and popular service club organizations, and Rotary was chosen.

The organization of the Montevallo Club was sponsored by the Birmingham Club, and was organized under the direction of Mr. Wallace Journey, official representative of the Birmingham Club.

The first meeting of the provisional Rotary Club here was held February 1, 1946, at Reynolds Hall.

The charter was presented to the Montevallo Rotary Club at its Charter Night meeting March 22, 1946, with 22 charter members.

The first officers were John Herrin, President; R. A. Reid, Vice-President; James A. Wyatt, Secretary; W. M. Davis, Treasurer; and F. P. Givhan and D. A. Thomas, Directors.

The meeting place of the club has shifted successively from Reynolds Hall to the Town House, Plaza Grill, Derby Restaurant, Methodist Church, and finally to the Elementary School Cafeteria.

Past Presidents of the club are: John Herrin, Leslie Hubbard, Charlie Small, James Harris, J. Frank Baker, E. D. Reynolds, and M. L. Orr.

Roy Boone Hicks Died Here Monday

A widely known resident of this community, Roy Boone Hicks, 50 died at his home here Monday after a long illness.

Mr. Hicks was a retired telegrapher and was owner and operator of the Ben Franklin 5 and 10 Cent Store here. He was a member of the Montevallo Methodist Church.

Surviving are his widow, two sons, Roy B. Hicks, of Hamilton, Ohio, and Grady O. Hicks, of the U. S. Army; two daughters, Misses Laura Anne and Rebecca Hicks, both of Montevallo; a brother, W. G. Hicks, of Montevallo; four sisters, Mrs. E. Hope, of Gadsden; Mrs. M. W. Mims, of Thorsby; Mrs. Paul McCary, of Centerville, and Mrs. E. G. Smitherman, of Montevallo.

Funeral services were held at 3 p.m. Tuesday at the Montevallo Methodist Church. Burial was in the Montevallo Cemetery, Ridout's Valley Chapel, Homewood, directing.

4-H Club Members Meet At Mayberry

One of the most outstanding summer group meetings known as "Neighboraide" or Neighborhood meetings held by 4-H members and adult leader-friends, was held last week at Mayberry school, says assistant county agent G. C. Moore, Jr.

Present were 12 boys, 9 girls and four adult leader-parents including Mrs. Moody, Mrs. Harris, Mrs. Hill and Mrs. Allen.

After a discussion by four members on Safety on the Farm, outside games were led by the Extension Agent and then an abundance of home-made ice cream was served the group by these helpful ladies. Congratulations to these boys and girls on coming out to the 4-H meetings and upon having some very gracious and helpful adult leaders.

26 Clubs Will Be Represented Here Sunday And Monday

The Montevallo Rotary Club will be host to the 238th Rotary District Assembly on Sunday and Monday, July 29 and 30. The North Alabama, District 238, is under the leadership of Kenneth Noojin, District Governor, from Huntsville, and is composed of the following Rotary Clubs: Aliceville, Anniston, Ashland, Athens, Bessemer, Birmingham, Childersburg, Cullman, Decatur, Ensley, Florence, Ft. Payne, Gadsden, Goodwater, Gordo, Hartselle, Huntsville, Jasper, Millport, LaFayette, Reform, and Roanoke. Each of these Clubs is expected to have delegates in attendance and preparations are being made for 75 delegates.

Each Rotary District over the world holds two district meetings each year; the conference in the spring and the assembly in the summer following the installation of new officers at the first meeting in July. At the Montevallo Assembly will be the new officers of all clubs in the 238th District, who will receive instructions and indoctrination for their duties to their respective clubs in the coming Rotary year.

Will Register Sunday

The visitors are expected to begin registration at 9:00 a.m. Sunday at Tutwiler Hall, Assembly Headquarters, on the Alabama College campus. There will be a luncheon at 1:00 p.m. in the Alabama College Dining Room, and the Assembly will be officially called to order at 2:15 p.m. in Tutwiler Hall by the District Governor. Eddie Watson, president of the Montevallo Rotary Club, will extend a welcome to the delegates, followed by talks on The Committee Plan, Vocational Service, Club Service, Community Service, and International Service, by Past District Governors and Rotary notables, James T. Rankin, James T. Upchurch, David W. Mullins, L. M. Smith, and Frank E. Davidson.

At 6:00 Sunday afternoon the visitors will be conducted on a tour of the Alabama College campus by Montevallo Rotarians, followed at 6:30 by a fellowship dinner at the home of Rotarian John Caldwell. The fellowship dinner will be followed by a picture show party at the Strand Theater, at 8:30.

The program will begin Monday morning at 7:30 with a presidents' breakfast and a secretaries' breakfast, followed by discussions of The Rotary Foundation, Club Extension, The Rotarian, Youth Service, Rotary Literature, and the next International Convention, along with the presentation of the Rotarian Award, and an invitation to the 1951 Rotary Conference. The Assembly will officially adjourn after the luncheon at 1:00 Monday.

The reception committee includes Frank Baker, Chairman, Jimmie Wyatt, Leslie Hubbard, Eugene Reynolds, Lowell Hamilton, Morris Watson, Pete Givhan, Ike Gillespie.

Special music for the occasion will be in charge of Mrs. F. P. Givhan.

Funeral Rites For George F. Peter

Funeral services were conducted from the chapel of the Episcopal Church of the Advent in Birmingham on July 19, for George F. Peter, age 82, who formerly resided in Boothton. He was the founder of the Climax Coal Company of Birmingham and started the Southern Coal and Coke Company in Boothton and operated these concerns in Shelby County until his retirement in 1944. For the past ten or twelve years he has resided in Birmingham. He was a native of St. Louis, but came to Alabama in 1895, and was widely known in industrial circles of his adopted state.

Mr. Peter was an active member of the board of governors of the Alabama Mining Institute and a charter member of the Associated Industries of Alabama. He was a graduate of Yale University and later studied law at the University of Alabama receiving his law degree in 1895.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Ada Peter, a son Thomas J. Peter, of Meridian, Mississippi, and three daughters, Mrs. Kenneth Matheson, Mrs. Herbert Fritz and Mrs. George Bordie, all of Pennsylvania.

The Rev. John C. Turner officiated at the chapel services. Interment in Bryn Mawr, Pa.

Folmar Explains Social Security To Self-Employed

Self-employed persons were reminded by Martin C. Folmar, manager of the Birmingham office of the social security administration that coverage under the new law is mandatory and not voluntary.

"We believe," he said "that the belief that coverage is elective has gained currency here. While it is true that certain professionals are excluded from coverage, the exclusion is by law and not by choice."

Self-employed men and women who are not excluded by law, will have to report their 1951 "net earnings" for social security purposes on their income tax returns next March. The social security tax will be paid at the same time.

In the meantime, those businessmen and women who are now covered for the first time under social security should get social security numbers if they have never done so.

Anyone whose net earnings from self-employment are $400 or more in a taxable year is covered under the new law, unless the earnings are derived from the operation of a farm or the practice of an excluded profession. Among those excluded are doctors, dentists, veterinarians, full-time practicing public accountants, professional engineers.

Booklets listing all of the excluded professions can be obtained without cost from the local social security office.

White Is The New Director of Finance

Mr. W. J. Terry, State Superintendent of Education, has appointed Mr. S. Reese White as Director of Finance and Business Administration in the State Education Department as of August 1, with a leave of absence until September 1.

Mr. White is now principal of Red Level High School and has held that position for a number of years.

He has served as County Superintendent of Education for Covington County, has been principal of Rawls High School, Covington County, and has also served as teacher at Red Level High School.

He is now serving his second term as Representative in the Alabama legislature from Covington County. He is chairman of the House Education Committee and is a member of the House Ways and Means Committee.

He is married and has two daughters.

He took his MA degree at Alabama Polytechnic Institute.

Mr. White is taking the place made vacant by the resignation of Dr. C. P. Nelson who resigned to become superintendent of the Anniston, Alabama City schools.

LOST — Black bill fold containing drivers license, social security card, car tag receipts and $7 in money. Reward — McKenley Murphy.

The Lazy J Ranch's 1950 Ford F-3 Express with POWER PILOT was one of more than 5,000 Fords in the nationwide, 50-million-mile Ford Truck Economy Run.

George Stephens of the Lazy J Ranch says: "The low cost my Ford Truck showed in the Economy Run speaks for itself. I got regular service checkups from my Ford Dealer."

"My ranch 'workhorse' runs for only 2 1/2¢ a mile!"

Ranch owner George Stephens proved for himself, in the big Economy Run, just how little it costs to run his Ford Truck!

"The Lazy J's Ford Express did itself proud in the Ford Truck Economy Run," says Stephens. "Daily records kept during the entire six months show that our Ford Truck ran up a total of 5,109 miles. My out-of-pocket expense for gas, oil, maintenance and repairs was exactly $123.51 . . . about a $20 bill each month . . . only 2 1/2 cents a mile!"

The Ford Truck POWER PILOT carburetion-ignition system is one reason why Ford Trucks cost so little to run, in ranch work or any work. The POWER PILOT gives you the most power from the least gas. In the low-price field, only Ford has it!

Past - Presidents of Montevallo Rotary Club

LESLIE HUBBARD

A charter member of the Rotary Club is Leslie Hubbard, a past president. He has also been program chairman and vice-president. In this community he has been a member of the Recreation Committee of town and high school Athletic Association.

He attended the University of Alabama and Washington University at St. Louis. A medical doctor, he did his internship at Jefferson-Hillman Hospital in Birmingham. He is a member of the Shelby County Medical Association, and is a member of the Farm Bureau. In World War II, Leslie served in the Navy as Lieutenant Commander.

He was married in 1942 to Miss Jean Lewis. The couple have two sons, Leslie Jr. and Phillip. The family attends the Montevallo Baptist Church.

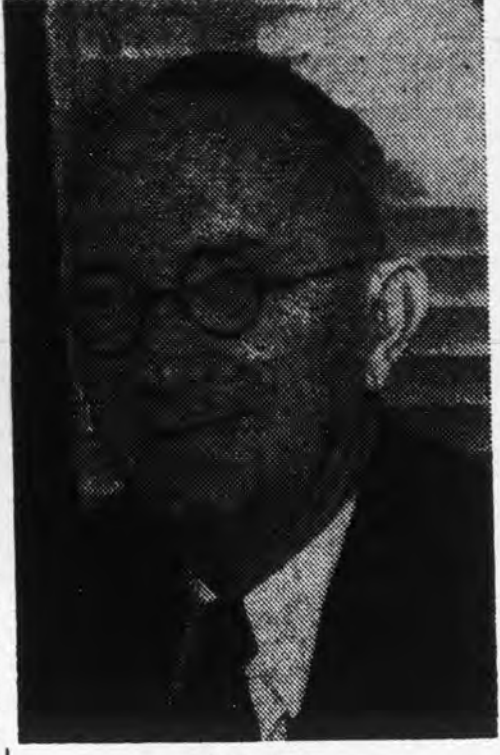

EUGENE REYNOLDS

Gene Reynolds, a charter member of the Rotary Club, is now a past president of the organization. He has served with the red cross and community chest in this region.

Gene is a graduate of the University of Alabama. He was a member of Phi Gamma Delta. He served in the Army during World War I and is Captain of the National Guard of Bibb County. Also he has been employed as a salesman for Smith Coal Company.

His family, wife, Jamie Henry, and children, Eleanor Reynolds and Sarah H. Banks, are all members of the Presbyterian Church in Montevallo where Mr. Reynolds is an elder.

Money can be lost in more ways than won.—The Lincoln.

DR. ORR

Lee Orr was president of the Montevallo Rotary Club during the year 1949-50. He hails from Union Springs, Alabama. He is Director of the summer school, and head of the Department of Education at Alabama College.

He is a graduate of the University of Alabama, and did his graduate work at Peabody College in Tennessee. Dr. Orr is a member of Sigma Nu, Phi Delta Kappa, Kappa Delta Pi, fraternities.

He has been active as chairman of the infantile paralysis drive, and in Red Cross work and boy scout work. He is also a Mason.

His wife is Annie Lurie Orr and they have four children; Milton, John, Mary, and Laurie. The Ors are members of the Montevallo Baptist Church where Dr. Orr is a deacon.

27 Polio Cases Reported Last Week

A new weekly high in Alabama polio cases reported came last week when 27 cases were turned in, running the 1951 total to 138.

During the same period last year, only 80 cases had been listed by the State Health Department.

Dr. D. G. Gill, state health officer, said the sharp upswing in recent weeks was "disturbing", but added that there was nothing yet to indicate a serious outbreak throughout the state this year.

Cases reported so far, he said, have been widely scattered with no evidence of any concentration in one place.

Red Cross Elects Chapter Officers

At a meeting held in Calera on July 16, the following officers were elected to serve the Shelby County Red Cross Chapter for 1951-52.

Chapter Chairman, J. F. Harrison; Treasurer, Billy J. Nolen of Columbiana.

Board of Directors include: Dr. W. C. Browne, Vincent; Paul O. Luck, Columbiana; Karl C. Harrison, Columbiana; Paul Posey, Siluria; Zera King Walton, Columbiana; William Miner, Calera; Roy Downs, Calera; Anita King, Columbiana; Mrs. F. P. Givhan, Montevallo; Robert Boltón, Columbiana.

Nursing Chairman, Dottie Walton of Columbiana.

The Rooster Bridge which crosses the Tombigbee River near Demopolis was built during World War I with funds from an auction of roosters. Among many famous persons who bought Marengo and Sumter County fowls were President Woodrow Wilson, British Prime Minister David Lloyd George, and French Premier Georges Clemenceau. Alabama's own Helen Keller sent a little blue hen that was sold for $5,000.

J. FRANK BAKER

J. Frank Baker, a former president of the Montevallo Rotary Club, has been one of its members since about six months after it was organized. Mr. Baker is a well known dairy farmer. Born in Birmingham, he attended Central High School, which is now Phillips High School.

A former president of the Shelby County Farm Bureau, his family was selected the Master Farm Family of Alabama in 1940. He has been active in other community activities and at one time represented the cattlemen and dairymen of Alabama at a national meeting of the Manufacturers Association. He has been a member of the Board of Directors of the Rotary Club.

He is married to Sadie Bennett Baker and they have five children and three grandchildren. Mr. Baker was Superintendent of the Sunday School of Concord Baptist Church for 18 years and is now active in the Montevallo Baptist Church.

FOR RENT — Furnished three room apartment. — Call Mrs. T. Bridges, 5381.

Mr. Stanley Gould Honored At Picnic

The Presbyterian Congregation gave a picnic supper in honor of Dr. Gould last Sunday afternoon at the Big Spring at 6 o'clock.

There was a large crowd present, and it was a delightful affair. Dr. Gould is Professor of Religious Education at Alabama College, but expects to leave for other work the first of August. He has supplied the pulpit at the Presbyterian Church while the church has been without a minister.

Besides the picnic, a gift was presented to Dr. and Mrs. Gould, which they appreciated very much.

Dr. J. T. Caldwell Addresses Kiwanis

Dr. John T. Caldwell, president, Alabama College, Montevallo, will be the guest speaker for the Columbiana Kiwanis Club at its regular weekly meeting, Thursday night July 26, 6:30 p.m. says G. C. Moore, Jr., Public Relations Committee Chairman.

We are fortunate in having a man of Dr. Caldwell's ability and progressiveness in our section of the state, and in Shelby County, and we welcome him to Columbiana Thursday night.

All Kiwanians are urged by Moore to be present for this meeting.

For vacationing no month in the whole year is more popular than August with my countrymen from coast to coast. As I stroll the beaches, I see many fellows like Mr. Thrifty sitting under an umbrella to shade himself. You'll notice his umbrella is made of United States Savings Bonds. There are millions of Mr. Thriftys who are finding a peaceful shelter under an umbrella of Savings Bonds.

There is a pretty little house on the banks of the Cumberland river—the House that Savings Bonds Bought. A regular investment in U. S. Savings Bonds—now Defense Bonds—enabled the owners to first purchase the lot, then to buy a house, move it to the site, and remodel it. Maybe you can't save as much as they—maybe you can do better. Whatever the amount, your systematic saving can be the means of making your own dreams come true. Enroll now for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work or the Bond-A-Month Plan at your bank.

This second round of clinics is held for convenience of the citizens of Shelby County who own dogs. It is your duty to have your dog vaccinated once a year as required by the Alabama Dog Control Law. The fault for the increase in incidence of rabies in the county the last thirty days can justly be laid on the dog owners who have not cooperated with the health office in this program. Protect your children as well as your pets, and have your dogs vaccinated at one of the clinics nearest you. These will be the last scheduled clinics before the September 1 deadline. At that time a house-to-house county-wide canvass will be made, and any dog not vaccinated will have to be vaccinated at a penalty price, or be destroyed humanely.

Bronchitis in Chicks

Chicks sometimes are born with temporary immunity to infectious bronchitis, but you can't depend on it. That is the warning to be drawn from studies made at the Veterinary Research Institute of Iowa state college. The former belief was that if a hen recovers from an attack of infectious bronchitis, chicks hatched from her eggs will inherit a short-term immunity to the disease. But the Iowa studies showed that many baby chicks from recovered hens became infected just the same.

Uncle Sam Says

Defense is everybody's job! The priceless privilege of being an American cannot be bought—it must be worked for and sacrificed for whether in uniform or right here at home. Your purchase of U. S. Defense Bonds helps build your own independent future but beyond that you express faith in your country. That is one practical and certain way to help keep our national economy stable and to stand with all Americans for peace and security. Enroll now for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or the Bond-A-Month Plan at your bank. U. S. Treasury Department

Health Department Advises About Water Protection

The Health Department continues to have many requests to test water from unprotected wells.

The vast majority of open, rope and bucket wells will show some contamination and any attempt to sterilize these is impractical because spillage, rains and handling the bucket will soon contaminate them again.

Many of the germs contaminating these wells do not cause disease in man. From time to time, however, a well will become contaminated with pathogenic germs and cause an outbreak of Typhoid or other intestinal infection.

It is recommended that a well be cased to a distance of at least 15 feet below the ground surface, better all the way to the bottom, and that it be covered with a water-tight concrete slab. It can then be chlorinated and a hand-pump or electric pump sealed into position. A sample of the water should then be sent to the laboratory for examination with a good possibility that the water will be found pure.

To sterilize a well, add 1 ounce or 1 moderately heaping table-spoonful, of 30% Chloride of Lime for each 1000 gallons of water in the well. The Chloride of Lime powder should be mixed into a thin paste with a small amount of water, then stir this paste into a bucket full of water. Pour the contents of the bucket into the well and allow to stand for several hours.

To determine the amount of water in a circular well, the following table can be used; the first figure represents the diameter of the well and the second figure the number of gallons for each foot of water: 1-6, 2-24, 3-53, 4-94, 5-147, 6-212.

If the well is subject to seepage from the surface or from a source of pollution, it will be necessary to chlorinate it repeatedly.

A slight taste of Chlorine to the water is harmless and indicates that sufficient Chlorine has been used.

More of my young nieces and nephews will be in school this fall than ever before. One of the important lessons they will learn is that America is a free country with Liberty for all. They will also learn that there are two forms of Liberty—political and financial—and that one of the best ways of preserving these is to purchase U. S. ## Toothpick Goes Glamorous With Colors, Flavor

MERRILL, Wis.—The toothpick has gone glamorous, taking on colors and flavor.

The Merrill Woodenware Co. was in need of greater market. The answer was found in red, green and blue toothpicks and mint flavors added.

They were first exposed to a market in the south and were such a success they will appear nationally. To all appearances the firm is going to have the biggest year in its 45 year history, thanks to the new twists on an old stand-by.

Since the firm was purchased by W. D. Brown, Jr., in 1948, the emphasis has been on more toothpicks. The firm has spent $50,000 in developing and constructing in its own shops the intricate machinery required to produce 15 to 20 million toothpicks a day.

Largest Manufacturer

In 1950 the firm will stamp out 125,000 cases of toothpicks (30,000 to a case) for the world market, compared to 20,000 cases last year.

The big production gain will make the firm the nation's biggest toothpick maker. One reason, and probably the main one, is the firm's new and unique machinery which can stamp out toothpicks hundreds at a time from clean, straight basswood "ribbons."

Buying only top class basswood, the firm cuts it into two foot lengths which are then shaved into "ribbons" a little thicker than a toothpick and a little wider than a toothpick is long. The ribbons are fed into dies on the stamping machines, which punch out flat toothpicks. These are cleaned and polished, then dried before coloring and flavoring.

Flavor Is Added

As the toothpicks move down the drying platform, they are jiggled and bathed in moving air until they are dry enough to set off a delicate tilting mechanism. This drops them into a sorting and rejection machine.

Flavor is added in a separate soaking and drying operation.

In addition to the packaged retail toothpicks, the company also packs large cartons of loose toothpicks for carload sale. Four such cars this year were sent to markets in China, Japan and other eastern countries.

"You'd be surprised how many people still use toothpicks as toothpicks," said Frank Schuster, manager of the firm's Tomahawk plant. "But a great deal of them are used for food preparation and handling, such as at parties. People like the colored models. They help to brighten up a table."

Some couples expect too much of marriage. And that's what they get—too much of marriage.

The old brick Methodist Church in Somerville, built in 1836, still contains the original pews with a central partition to separate the men worshipers from the women.

Human Carriers Of Polio Virus, Science Believes

NEW YORK—Human beings are the spreaders of polio, scientists are beginning to believe. The shrewdest work has failed to prove anything except that other sources of polio are infected from people.

Scientists observed that in polio outbreaks the disease is spread along railroad routes, bus routes, rivers, and valleys. There sometimes did not seem to be much in uplands.

Mosquitoes were suspected. Other bugs, too. Something had to be carrying it along these routes. But nothing at all was proved against insects, not even the flies, though polio virus, sometimes was found on, and inside flies.

The human chain explains easily. Polio spreads along these routes because that is where people live in the largest numbers.

Another mystery is why polio epidemics occur only in hot weather. The disease runs the year round. If hot weather alone were the explanation for epidemics, these outbreaks would be expected to last longer in the South than in the North. But they don't.

In the South the epidemics start earlier. They reach their peaks earlier. But after about two months, even though hot weather may be far from over, the southern epidemics begin to decline.

The short duration of the epidemics can be explained on the theory that human beings are the spreaders.

In two months the infection may spread to most of those who are susceptible, keeping in mind that its real spread, to the silent cases, is 200 times more than among the openly sick. The chain reaction begins then to break down from lack of enough susceptible victims.

Vegetables have been suspected because epidemics begin soon after the start of the fresh-vegetable season. Early cases are often found on farms. But no sign of polio virus has been found in vegetables.

Occasionally a polio outbreak has been traced along a milk route. But the virus has yet to be discovered in milk. All trails, except the human pathway, so far end in blind alleys.

Sportsmen who complain about the high prices their wives pay for meat and fish, may not feel so bad if they reflect on the following:

"United States hunters and fishermen spent just under $9 a pound for meat and fish they bagged last year," according to a report by Albert M. Day, head of the Fish and Wildlife Service.—Anvil Chorus.

Talladega is one of the oldest white settlements in the Alabama interior. Pioneers moved here while it was on the boundry line between Creek and Cherokee domains and called the place "Border Town".

Uncle Sam Says

Farming today requires great skill on the part of the farmer. Not only must he know soils, fertilizers, and seeds, but he must be an expert mechanic to operate all types of farm machinery. In other words, a farmer works hard for his money and in a highly speculative business. He should make that money work for him—in a non-speculative and safe investment. U. S. Savings Bonds, guaranteed by our government, is a crop that NEVER fails. It's always ready when needed. Savings Bonds are a good place for this year's crop money. They grow, rain or shine. See your banker or postmaster on the next trip to town.

Brooklyn Indian Scares Housewife With Scalping Knife

NEW YORK—A resident of a Brooklyn apartment house told the Flatbush court an Indian working as an elevator operator in the building has some rights, but she doesn't believe they include wearing a "scalping knife" and hanging a modified war club in his elevator.

Mrs. George Hagopian, one of the 12 tenants in the building, said that it had taken a little time to get used to Chief Reindeer, otherwise known as "Joe" when he went to work as superintendent and elevator operator—not that his strangeness was entirely distasteful.

She thought his custom of wearing his hair in a braid was novel and when he occasionally stuck a gay feather into his coiffure, it lent a romantic touch that brightened all of Flatbush.

However, she said the elevator service was poor. You could "ring and ring" before the car came and it did not do much good to complain. Once, she added, when she did complain, Chief Reindeer replied: "This is my country, you leave."

Mrs. Hagopian reminded him of a real estate transaction involving Manhattan island and $24 worth of trinkets. Neither was calm enough at the time to speculate on how Brooklyn was included in the parcel. In any event, the Indian directed her attention to a knife in his belt, which terminated the argument, she said.

Mrs. Hagopian said that she was afraid of being scalped. She said that other tenants had been insulted and that several had signed a petition to the landlord for the chief's removal.

The building's owner was advised to keep the chief under wraps.

Black Eyed Peas Confuse New Bean Sorting Machine

WASHINGTON—The government has developed a bean-sorting machine in which a television tube "eye" picks the bad from the good.

The machine can scan 3,780 beans a minute, and eject any that does not conform to a normal color pattern. Some 100 are being used at the Chester B. Brown plant at Gering, Neb.

They can be adjusted to sort beans of any color, even pintos, it is reported, but the so-called black eyed pea (experts call it a bean, too) has the TV eye stumped. It can't tell the difference between a bad pea's discoloration and the distinctive black eye on a good one.

It's another mystery that science has not explained yet.

Farm Bureau Holds Annual Meeting At Alabama College

Farmers are in a fair way of achieving parity for the work they do, members of the Shelby County Farm Bureau were told Wednesday, July 18, by their president.

Speaking at the annual Shelby County Farm Bureau meeting, H. A. Pauly, Montevallo, said the time has come when a farmer who works and studies "Can do more than make a living".

"Since the Farm Bureau came into being, the farmer has seen more prosperity than he ever had before," Mr. Pauly declared. One of our major aims is to work with the extension service. Farming is a science, and some of the best scientific brains in the country have been working to help the farmer," Mr. Pauly declared.

He told the Shelby County farmers, many of whom are dairymen, that the State Farm Bureau Federation is trying to get the sales tax on feed stuff removed, and the group is fighting to keep the milk control board.

"Many dairymen from Shelby County went to Birmingham last week to help keep the board," he added. Mr. Pauly said there are 110 dairies in Shelby County.

Senator Bruce Henderson, Miller's Ferry, also told of the importance of the Farm Bureau to the farmers.

"The Farm Bureau defeated the Brannon Plan," Senator Henderson said.

"America has never traveled the road it is traveling today," Senator Henderson warned. If the farm people through their organization can't save America, America will not be saved.

Mr. Pauly and all other officers of the Shelby County Farm Bureau were re-elected. Douglas Kent, Siluria, was re-elected first vice-president, and Earl Baker, Harpersville, was re-elected second vice-president. W. Royce Morris, Columbiana, remains secretary-treasurer.

Members of the executive committee are Mr. Pauly, F. Jackson, Harpersville; Roy Downs, Calera; S. M. Tatum, Siluria; and J. F. Baker, Montevallo.

Directors are: J. Frank Wyatt, Vincent; E. B. Hughes, Columbiana; W. J. Bailey, Montevallo; Floyd Howard, Sterrett; Defford Morris, Harpersville; J. E. Bearden, Helena; W. R. Lindbloom, Calera; Albert Lokey, Wilsonville; Lester Stansell, Montevallo; L. L. Stephenson, Montevallo; Mrs. J. M. Denson, Helena; P. A. Garrett, Calera; E. E. Wallis, Vincent; H. A. Todhunter, Rt. 1, Leeds; C. D. Whitten, Wilsonville; W. A. Fulton, Siluria; Elijah Macon, Shelby; and C. A. Payne, Siluria.

Winners in the dress revue were: Work dress, Mrs. G. W. Bentley, Pelham-Keystone; Dressy dress, Mrs. Quinton Culver, Calera; Sport dress, Mrs. Emma Campbell, Acton.

The meeting, followed by a barbecue, was held on the campus of Alabama College. Dr. John T. Caldwell, president of the college, and Montevallo Mayor, Mack Wyatt, welcomed the Farm Bureau members.

The dress revue was under the direction of Miss Marian Cotney, Home Demonstration Agent.

Sgt. C. N. Kicker, director of Civil Defense in the Birmingham area, also spoke.

4-H Club Boys May Plant Trees

By G. C. Moore, Jr.
Assistant County Agent

50,000 pine seedlings will be supplied to several smart 4-H Club boys this winter by the Coosa River Newsprint Company according to advice passed on to County Agent A. A. Lauderdale by Extension Service Timber Marketing specialist and representatives of this company.

This is a worthy project for the boys and the Coosa River Newsprint Company. Many boys are interested in "Planting a seedling today to give someone else a tree tomorrow". Planting trees is a job of "Building up" where others have "Torn down". Planting trees is conservation of natural and human resources.

These boys, along with adult farmers who will receive some seedlings, too, will only be required to (1) Plant them on suitable land (2) Protect them from fire (3) Protect them from livestock until they are well established.

Any club boys who are interested and who will meet these conservative requirements should contact some member of the Shelby County Extension Staff in Mr. Lauderdale's office.

HOW LITTLE IT COSTS TO PHONE!

Around-the-clock telephone service costs Alabama homes
an average of less than 1/2¢ an hour

Ever stopped to think how many trips your telephone saves you? Or what the transportation costs would amount to for the trips to town and across town that you avoid by telephoning?

Just think—the telephone stands ready to run errands for Alabama homes 24 hours a day for an average charge of less than one-half cent an hour!

Whether you evaluate your telephone service in terms of transportation costs saved, time saved, "missions accomplished," protection in case of emergency—or just in the friendship and good times that result from keeping in touch—you'll find your telephone is still a big bargain!

S. H. YOUNGBLOOD, Alabama Manager

Growing Bargain

The price of telephone service has gone up far less than most things you buy. At the same time the number of telephones you can call at your local service rate has nearly tripled in the past ten years.

Farm SuggestionsBy A. A. Lauderdale
County Agent

Shelby County farm pond owners should make sure the edges of their ponds are at least two feet deep, or more if possible.

A. A. Lauderdale, County agent, explains that this precaution will control weeds, mosquitoes, and snakes.

"It is also important that no trees be left standing in farm ponds", adds the agent. "Roots of these trees serve as a good means of losing plugs and fish hooks".

Outstanding 4-H Club members have been selected to attend the annual State 4-H Club Camp and Shop Course to be held in Auburn, August 27-September 1.

Over 700 farm boys and girls representing every Alabama County are expected for the five-day event, says Hanchey Logue, state 4-H club leader.

While attending camp, the young 4-H leaders will receive instruction in leadership, program planning, and recreation. On the entertainment side there will be swimming and games, tours of the campus and Agricultural Experiment Station, and a lawn party at the home of the President of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute.

Accompanying 4-H club members to Auburn will be several adult volunteer 4-H leaders, assistant county agents, and assistant home demonstration agents. At camp, these agents and leaders, along with the Extension Service staff, will be in charge.

Fall-Seed Crops

An early start on seedbed preparation is a very important factor in the establishment, growth, and success of many fall-seeded crops.

Our present rate of consuming milk and milk products should be stepped up for the entire year, according to Home Agent Marian Cotney.

She points to the big drop in milk consumption that comes when schools close. "Parents should think about this drop and check to see if their children are getting the milk they need for health," explains the agent. "In other words, does each growing child get at least a quart of milk a day, each adult a pint?"

For the sake of variety, Miss Cotney urges the family to try buttermilk, the lemonade of the dairy industry. There are other milk drinks and many different flavored ice creams ready and waiting on the market. And, most of all, don't forget desserts topped with ice cream, especially apple pie.

Rotary Leaders In Alabama Coming To Assembly Here

JAMES T. UPCHURCH

James T. Upchurch of Montgomery is one of Alabama's leading Rotarians because of the various Rotary Offices he has held and because of his great and active interest in the affairs of Rotary for many years. Mr. Upchurch is a fine speaker and is much in demand by Rotary Clubs throughout the South and also by other civic organizations such as women's clubs, garden clubs, church groups, etc.

Mr. Upchurch has been a Rotarian since 1928. He has served the Montgomery Rotary Club as president, and for 10 years was the capable Secretary of the Montgomery Rotary Club. During 1947-48 he was District Governor of the former 164th Rotary District to which belonged the then 50 Alabama Rotary Clubs. Since Mr. Upchurch was District Governor, Alabama has been divided into two Rotary districts, 238 and 239, because the great increase in number of Rotary clubs made it difficult for one District Governor to serve the entire state.

Mr. Upchurch is a Trustee of Howard College, a director in the Montgomery Y.M.C.A. and Y. W. C. A., is active in the American Legion. He is one of the leading Masons in Alabama and a member of the Montgomery Commandery, Scottish Rite. He is a member of the Baptist Church. His business affiliation is as partner in the Upchurch-Wright Oil Co. of Montgomery.

GEORGE BARNES

Mr. George Barnes, for 17 years an active Rotarian of the Andalusia Club, served as Governor, in 1949-50 which is composed of clubs in the southern part of Alabama.

George is a construction firm executive with offices in Andalusia. He is a past president of the Andalusia Club and has served on about all the committees of that club.

He attended the Cornell University and was active in the alumni projects. He is president of the Alabama Society for Crippled Children and Adults, past president, for three years of the Southern Garment Manufacturers Association and is a member of the First Methodist Church of Andalusia. He served as chairman of the Covington County draft board during World War II, and is still chairman of that board. He is also a past president of the Andalusia Country Club.

Mr. Barnes is a partner in the Waller-Barnes Construction Company of Andalusia, former vice-president of Alabama Textile Products Corporation, former vice-president of the Andala Company and former plant manager of Cluett-Peabody and Company.

He is one of the outstanding Rotarians of Alabama and gives

1/2 Million 4-H'ers Helping Reduce Farm Accidents

A recent survey of 2,600 farm accidents shows that 248 involve machinery. In other types, more farm people are injured by falls—476—than in any other kind of accident.

FARM FOLKS, as a general rule, give little thought to safety until a member of their family or a neighbor's is hurt or killed, or fire destroys their home or barn. Then they start doing something about safety.

This year it is particularly important that every farm family should do something about practicing safety, because even though there is a shortage of labor on farms, and new equipment is hard to get, food production must be boosted. That means the present manpower and machinery on farms must be guarded against accidents.

An average of 47 farm people are accidentally killed every day.

Helping to reduce rural casualties are a half million boys and girls taking part in the National 4-H Farm and Home Safety Program. More than $10,000 in awards for the best records of accident prevention and education are being provided by General Motors for the seventh consecutive year.

The program is directed by the Cooperative Extension Service.

Agr. Teachers Attend Conference

Charles Knowles, teacher of vocational agriculture at Siluria, and M. Thornton, Montevallo, attended the three day conference for agriculture teachers at Auburn last week. The 253 teachers from over the state were there to discuss problems and make a united approach at a better program for 10,000 F.F.A. boys and others enrolled in the program in Alabama. As a part of the program Mr. Thornton discussed the Supervised Farming Program for All-Day Boys. J. C. Cannon, state supervisor of vocational agriculture, directed the conference and the group heard R. E. Cammack, director of vocational education, give data concerning the program of all phases of vocational education.

In New York state it is against the law to travel more than 20 miles to a church. It's an old law, but probably nobody breaks it.

A E A Conference Coming Here

The annual leadership training conference of the Alabama Education Association formerly held at Camp Mack near Talladega each year, will be held at Alabama College this year August 17, 18 and 19. Frank L. Grove, secretary A. E. A., announces that plans have been completed for the meeting and approximately 300 teachers and school administrators from over the state will be in attendance. The president and secretary of each county association is to be guests of the A.E.A. while others will attend and participate because of special interest in the work of the association.

Dr. M. L. Orr will arrange for Alabama College facilities and other special arrangements. M. Thornton, president of Shelby county teachers association, will serve with others of the county association as host committee for the conference.

1951 POLIO POINTERS

RECOMMENDED BY THE NATIONAL FOUNDATION FOR INFANTILE PARALYSIS

These are precautions recommended by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis when polio is around. Also, wash hands before eating and be on the alert for such symptoms as feverishness, sore throat, headache, upset stomach or sore muscles. They may—or may not—mean polio. If the disease does strike, call your doctor promptly, follow his advice. Your local National Foundation chapter will provide needed assistance.

Montevallo FFA Boys Are Busy With Various Things This Summer

Although all members of the Montevallo F.F.A. do not have opportunities for farming, many of the members are placed at jobs offering experiences related to agriculture. Ed Holcombe has been with Tommy Baker this summer working in the construction of building for his 70 cow dairy. Billy Allen and Joe McGaughy have been working with Fochtman Construction Company in the new housing program. Bobby Neil Smithman works at Mobile with a packing house concern. Ben Peete has made plans for attending Auburn this fall, but has been in farming and landscaping work all summer. Ted Allen works part-time at Shell service station and at other jobs. Joe Clark works on the farm with W. J. Bailey. Jackie Ingram works with Mr. Sanderson on his farm in Spring Creek community. Houston Ingram, Jimmie O'Neal, Carl Allen, Billy White and some others have worked with Bakers Dairy getting 170 acres fenced and ready for pasture area. Pete Holcombe works in Birmingham with a printing company. Charles Daviston works at McCullleys and Reece Horton at Wilson Drug Co. Bobby Jarvis and Virgil Bearden work in Birmingham. Billy McNeal, John Battle, Joseph Lawley, Jack Taff, Bill Lee and Leonard Goggins are in the Air Corps. Donald Seagle is also in the Air Corps.

Quite a few of the members have been busy with the enterprises they have at home. Productive enterprises include cattle farming, row crops, vegetable gardening, swine production and truck crops. Bobby Hawkins has been busy with his cattle and selling fruit from his 10 acre orchard. Jack McGaughy has been hard at work at Auburn. Lewis Knowles has received his chain gilt and started his swine project. Jimmie Harrell, Billy Glenn Harris and Bobby Fancher have been in summer school. Agee Kelly is on the farm with his grandfather at Allen, Ala. Bobby Joe Thomas is working with the Town and also keeping about 15 lawns in good order. Several boys have helped with the exhibit they are preparing for the State Fair. Practically all members take the motto seriously: "Learning to do; Doing to earn; Earning to live; Living to serve".

Baptists Hold Training School

The Shelby Baptist Association begins something unusual in leadership training work next Monday night, says P. C. Cope, Training Union Director for the association. Rev. Cope, student at Howard College, Birmingham, resides at Helena and is pastor of the local Baptist Church there.

This central training school will be held at the Baptist Church, Columbiana, beginning at 7:30 p.m. each night next week Monday through Friday, says Cope.

Four state workers have been secured to assist local workers in putting on this training school for the leaders and officers of all the training unions of this Association.

Rev. Cope urges all churches with Training Unions who are not busy in revivals to be represented with as many of your officers and leaders as possible when the school is organized Monday night.

One of the metropolitan newspapers says that "Rita Hayworth's the first woman who ever ran into an Aly and came out with $3,000,000."

4-H Members Plan Picnics

By G. C. Moore, Jr.
Assistant County Agent

Launching out on the first day of August, with the Montevallo 4-H members taking lead, will be community 4-H picnics held generally on a school basis for most all 4-H clubs in Shelby County. All Montevallo school 4-H'ers, unless they go with other schools, will meet at Big Springs, Montevallo, Wednesday August 1, at 10:00 a.m.

Each club member brings his or her own picnic lunch. Leaders and 4-H Neighbors will band together to furnish cold drinks. Extension Agents will assist in general supervision and recreation for all groups.

Picnic dates and places for the month include: Camp Branch School plus Moore's Cross Roads Big Springs, Montevallo, Thursday August 2, 10:00 a.m.; Helena at Pool's Dairy, Friday August 3, 10:00 a.m.; Wilsonville and Chapel at Wyatt's Lake, Friday August 3, 10:00 a.m.; Cheslea and Westover at Wyatt's Lake, Tuesday August 7, 9:00 a.m.; Calera at Lake Forrest, Wednesday August 8, 2:00 p.m.; New Hope at Bishop's Creek, Wednesday August 8, 3:00 p.m. and Columbiana at Wyatt's Lake, Wednesday August 8, 2:00 p.m.

Others will be announced later. All clubsters are urged to attend the picnic of your school or one of your choice.

Farm Trainees Have A Clean-Up

A. L. Little, teacher of on-the-farm trainees, showed what his 20 trainees could do in about 30 minutes when they decided to take their turn at cleaning around the vocational agriculture building. Each class member along with the teacher helped and the place of meeting looks much better. Mr. Little and his class is recognized as one of the best teacher-trainee units in Alabama and it is hoped that as the men finish with their training program with Mr. Little that each will continue as a member of the adult program of the vocational agriculture department. Members of the class have made many contributions to the regular program and to the F.F.A. boys. The G.I. class equipped the first and only cabinet equipped with a complete set of tools in the department. The class meets each Wednesday and Thursday from 1 to 3 o'clock.

FFA Boys Will Have Fair Exhibit

Montevallo F.F.A. boys have been chosen as one of five groups in the state to place an educational exhibit at the State Fair in Birmingham for October Fair. The exhibit is being prepared and is a duplicate of one of the projects of an F.F.A. member. The exhibit will display in miniature a true representation of poultry houses and facilities which have been used to cause Ed Holcombe to realize $1100 from the projects during the last year.

America is the only nation in the world where Communists can ride in their own cars to the polls to vote against this "filthy capitalist form of government."

NEWS ABOUT TOWN

Isaac Prentice

Isaac Prentice has been under the weather for several weeks. He has been unable to look after his job of daily opening up and sweeping out The Times office, which inability, it seemed, worried him more than being sick. Isaac has carried the key to The Times shop for many years, and we miss him greatly. In addition to sweeping up the shop, he furnished us a daily forecast of the weather, and the "situation" in general. His was about as accurate as any weather prophecy. The big yellow ambulance came Wednesday evening to carry him to the home of his daughter in Birmingham. "I never seen nothing like this happen to me before, Boss," he said as they put him on the stretcher. We hope the change does him good.

Dewey H. Smith On USS Columbus

Dewey H. Smith, chief dispensing clerk, U.S.N., husband of Mrs. Mary A. Smith of Montevallo is touring the eastern Mediterranean aboard the heavy cruiser USS Columbus.

He was scheduled to visit Istanbul, Turkey, July 23, when the Columbus made that city a port-of-call during its operation with the U.S. Sixth Fleet.

Our Rotary Visitors

We understand that the Rotarians who came here last week for their District Assembly had a delightful time. The local people who had charge of the arrangements and entertainment showed their visitors such a nice time, we understand they are about ready to declare Montevallo their regular convention place. Many such organizations in Alabama have come to look upon Alabama College and Montevallo as among the best of places to go for their gatherings.

New Mail Service

The new U.S. mail truck out of the Birmingham Terminal made its first run Wednesday. It arrived at Montevallo Post Office right on the dot at 6:45 a.m. The operation of this truck has made possible a much more desirable schedule of arrival and dispatch of mail here. Elsewhere in this paper we print the new schedule as made up by Postmaster Morris Watson.

The old stone high school at Gaylesville, in Cherokee County, founded 1887, is claimed to have been the first high school in the northeast Alabama. The town was first known as Sulphur Springs, but when the post office was established, the name was changed to Gaylesville.

THAT $3 LOLLIPOP—HERE

That $8 (before probate fee of 75c) auto tag has passed the Senate by a vote of 28 to 6, having previously cleared the House by a similar majority. A squiggle of the gubernatorial pen and it will be law, effective next year.

Gov. Persons is entitled to jubilate. It was the only lollipop he stuck into his campaign platform. Nevertheless, lollipop that it was, it was also a campaign promise. He has fulfilled that promise and, as The Advertiser remarked before, we are not to be found in the position of chiding a politician for fulfilling his covenant.

The governor is furthermore entitled to gratification over the responsiveness of the legislature to his leadership.

Doubtless, from '52 on, the $3.75 tag will cause the Persons name to be called blessed.

But we regret to see the state and legislature going for what is just a lollipop. As The Birmingham Post-Herald has pointed out in making the most telling criticism, it is only temporary relief. Any dunce can see that when $4, 000,000 a year in revenue is sacrificed, it's going to come out of the taxpayer's hide in another area. Temporarily, borrowed bond issue money will take up the slack. After that, it will be the duty of Gov. Persons' successor to take the lollipop back.

And meanwhile, as car owners receive this relief, a 3% sales tax goes into effect.—Montgomery Advertiser.

Shelby Reports Five TB Cases

Montgomery — Shelby County was one of the 47 counties from which tuberculosis cases were reported in May, according to the State Department of Health. The Department revealed that this county reported 5 cases of the disease during that 31-day period.

The 48 cases reported from Jefferson County greatly exceeded those reported from any other county. The six other counties reporting five or more cases each were Mobile 20, Montgomery 13, Etowah 9, Calhoun and Marshall 6 each and Shelby 5.

Gold was discovered in the early thirties in several counties of the crystalline rock area of the state. By 1836 there was much excitement over gold in Alabama. Miners rushed in and founded Goldville, Goldberg, and Silver Hill, names that speak for themselves. Gold mining was retarded by the gold rush to California in 1849, but about $350,000 worth had been mined in the state by this date. The Civil War stifled the industry, but it was resumed in a small way during the seventies and experienced a general revival in the eighties.

Co. Health Officer Writes On Rabies

The County Rabies Inspector is conducting his second round of clinics at present and has arranged his schedule so that a clinic will be held in every community in the County.

Everyone should be able to take his dog or dogs to one of these clinics without any great inconvenience.

State Law requires that every dog be immunized against Rabies once each year and that any dog not immunized be impounded for 7 days and then, unless the owner pays the expenses incurred, the dog be humanely dispatched.

The immunization can be done by the Rabies Inspector or by a licensed veterinarian.

This law was passed for the protection of each individual as well as for the protection of the dog and valuable livestock.

There are many stray, ownerless dogs in the County. There are more prevalent around the various towns than in the rural areas.

A few years ago the City Officials of Columbiana passed a temporary ordinance requiring that all dogs be kept up for a period of one month. During this time all dogs found running at large were destroyed by the town marshal. Many worthless and homeless strays were eliminated.

A letter will go out from this office this week to the Mayor of each municipality in the County suggesting that an ordinance be adopted to prohibit any dog running at large during one month of each year and that all strays during this month be destroyed.

In this way only those dogs would be left whose owners thought them valuable enough to be protected from Rabies.

The County has had several dog heads examined for Rabies during the last year and a number of these were positive. In one instance two people were bitten and in each instance several dogs and some valuable stock were bitten.

The writer has seen one farmer who had to take anti-rabies vaccine himself and had 2 valuable milk cows and 2 mules killed by the same dog.

The first steamboat on the Alabama rivers was the Alabama, built at St. Stephens by the St. Stephens Steamboat Company. In the early part of 1818 it steamed down to Mobile, but was never able to come back up stream. Soon afterwards a boat built in Philadelphia shared a similar fate. Then the Mobile was brought down from Boston and started up the rivers for Tuscaloosa. It succeeded in reaching Demopolis and giving the people of that little village a thrill. But the strong spring time currents of the Warrior were too stubborn for it. It never reached the Durid City.

An employer, despairing of the procrastination on the part of many employees, directed that "Do it Now" signs be placed all over the plant. No sooner was this done than his cashier ran off with $20,000, a bookkeeper eloped with his private secretary, 12 clerks asked for salary raises, and the office boy left for Hollywood to get into the movies. — Crescent Clipper.

How to Roast Corn

Here's the way to roast corn. Turn back the husks and strip off the silk. Lay the husks back in position. Line up the ears on your backyard grill, over hot coals. Keep turning ears for 15 or 20 minutes, until husks are dry and browned. Break off the husks and the corn is ready to eat. Put out plenty of butter and big salt and pepper shakers.

Chas. P. Malone Is Manager Of Southern Bell

Clarence L. Lott, Birmingham District Manager for the Southern Bell Telephone Company, has been appointed district manager at Miami, Florida, and will be succeeded here by Charles P. Malone. Mr. Malone is district manager at Mobile.

In making the announcement, Alabama manager Sam H. Youngblood said the appointments are effective August 1.

The new Birmingham manager, like Mr. Lott, is a telephone man of wide experience.

He began his telephone career in Tennessee in 1920, and gained his early experience in Tennessee, Florida and Alabama. From 1927 until 1944, when he became district manager at Mobile, he resided in Birmingham while filling various positions with Southern Bell here.

He has been active in civic and other public-spirited enterprises during his telephone career. He is a native of Tennessee. At one time Mr. Malone was president of the Birmingham Exchange Club.

As Birmingham District Manager he will direct the commercial operations of Southern Bell in this vicinity.

Mr. Lott became district manager at Birmingham in June 1951, after filling the same position at Montgomery for two years.

Far mBureau Holds School For Leaders

Montgomery — More than 350 outstanding farmers and rural homemakers representing a majority of the 67 counties will gather at Auburn August 5-8 for Alabama's first Farm Bureau leadership school.

Basic concepts of the Farm Bureau, partnership among families and rural groups in participation in the organization's program, development of civic and leadership responsibility, and many other phases of rural interests will be among subjects discussed as the men and women go back to school.

Lecturers and forum participants will include Roger Fleming, Harry Bryson and O. R. Long, of the American Farm Bureau Federation staff; Edward A. O'Neal, immediate past A.F.B.F. president; Alabama president Walter L. Randolph; Dave Miener, of Mississippi, and Weldell Howard, of Kentucky, representing the insurance services, and members of the Alabama staff.

Mrs. J. Frank Baker, Montevallo, president of the Alabama Council of Home Demonstration Clubs; Mrs. Robert Wise, the council's state Farm Bureau chairman, and representatives of the college and extension service will discuss how efforts toward a better rural life may be coordinated.

Randolph said most county Farm Bureaus had voted to send at least five representatives to the leadership school, and some counties would have larger groups at Auburn. Sidelights will be tours of the experiment station Monday and Tuesday, and a special tour for women.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN

Guy H. DeShazo

The Times had a most appreciated visit Tuesday by Guy H. DeShazo, who used to work here as a printer. Guy is doing well in Florida where he is production superintendent for the Cody Publications, Inc., at Kissimmie. They publish the Florida Cattleman and many other publications.

New Phone Books

Montevallo's new telephone directory has been circulated to local subscribers. Now we hope we may not be bothered by wrong numbers listings which have been somewhat annoying since many changes were recently made. Mr. Stutts, our Bessemer manager, was anxious to get the new books for us, because he realized the inconvenience of the old one. In the long run, we shall have better service, because the changes that were made were necessary for the permanent improvement of our system.

FOR RENT—Apartment in east side of my house on Main Street, Montevallo. Mrs. F. F. Crowe.

Helena 4-H Club Has Good Picnic

So far, the Helena picnic for all 4-H members attending school there last year, has had the largest attendance, says G. C. Moore, Jr., assistant Extension Agent, who assisted in the recreation and supervision of it.

105 children and adults were there, including 44 boys, 48 girls and the following adult leaders or parents who gave their support to the annual get-together: Rev. Cope and Jones, Baptist and Methodist preachers at Helena, respectively, and local 4-H leaders, too, Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard, Mrs. J. R. Martin and Mrs. Jordan, Bamford community, Mrs. Cumberland, Mrs. Bentley and Mrs. Sailors from Pelham, Mrs. Owens from Acton and Mrs. Ned Bearden from Faramount.

McClendon and Stinson

County Road Commissioners, Fred McClendon and Offie Stinson, were visitors in Montevallo Wednesday. They were making a tour of road work projects in this part of the county. They report highly satisfactory progress in their work. Preparations are now started for putting black top on the Boothton Road. "The Bessemer Road is next on the list," they said, "and it will not be long before we will be able to start the work."

This visit of our road officials is appreciated by our citizens. It makes us sure that they are on their job and seeking to render the best service possible.

Another Printer

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Wyatt announce the birth of a baby boy Wednesday, August 8 at Carraway Hospital, Birmingham. Some while ago The Times Printing Co. decided to operate as a family affair, and raise our own printers. So far we have recruited a total of six boys. That is mighty fine — but honestly, I have decided it is time to put on a girl for society editor.

This event was held again at the dairy farm of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Poole. Mr. and Mrs. Poole, with the aid of several 4-H members and leaders cleaned up the grounds and prepared for the picnic lunch, games and fun. Taking part in preparations were Mrs. Martin and 7 clubsters from Bamford, 9 boys in the Paramount community and Ned Bearden.

Providing cold drinks at a very low cost was Mr. J. C. Acton, local storekeeper. Each clubster and family brought picnic lunches which were spread. Many action games and contests, prepared by Mrs. Poole and committee were led by her and assistant county agent Moore. Quiet games, like horseshoes and checkers were enjoyed under the shade. Softball in the pasture.

Congratulations to Mrs. Poole, Mr. Poole and their many cooperators in this fine picnic.

County Teachers Will Meet At Calera High School

Mr. W. W. Elliott, Superintendent of Education, announced today that the white teachers institute will be held in the Calera High School Monday, Sept. 3, beginning at nine o'clock. The negro institute will be held in the Calera negro school on the same date. All county schools will open Tuesday September 4.

Mr. Elliott explained that a complete roster of the teachers for the new term would be released as soon as the remaining vacancies could be filled. Twenty-eight new teachers have been secured to fill places where teachers have resigned or to replace teachers with one-year certificates.

It will be impossible to set up the salary schedule for teachers and other school employees until the Legislature has completed the Educational Appropriations Bill and estimates are received from the State Department of Education.

Superintendent Elliott has called special attention to the law setting the age at which children may enter school. The law provides that a child must be six years of age on or before October 1, 1951 in order to enroll for the 1951-52 term. It is suggested that birth certificates be sent to the school in which your child is to enroll in the first grade this year.

Mr. Elliott further emphasized the laws of the State of Alabama regarding school attendance by stating that every child between the ages of seven and sixteen years shall be required to attend a public school, private school, denominational school, parochial school, or be instructed by a competent private tutor for the entire length of the school term.

New facilities, now under construction at several schools, will be ready for occupancy early in the fall. It is felt however that in most instances it will be October 1, before these additions will be ready for use.

Remainder of Summer Recreation Program Offers Many Events of Special Interest

Catholic Church

At the Catholic Church of Saint Thomas the Apostle, there will be a series of talks explaining the doctrines, practices and appointments of the Roman Catholic Church each evening at 7:30, Monday through Friday; August 13-17. All are welcome.

Dr. Sloan Urges Health Check-Up Before School Starts

The Public Schools in the county will open again in about one month. Parents are urged, at this time, to give serious thought to the physical condition of their school children.

Children are often found, on physical examination, to have one or more defects which may seriously interfere with their development and their progress in school. Among the more common, defective vision and defective hearing may markedly interfere with the pupil's ability to make his grades. Defective tonsils and teeth may cause a considerable amount of suffering besides the cause of many days absence from school.

It is recommended that parents take their school children to their family doctor and their dentist to determine whether any defect is present that should be corrected.

This is also a good time to bring the child's immunizations up to date. If a "booster" is needed it can be taken now. If he has never been immunized against Diphtheria, Whooping Cough, Smallpox, Typhoid and Tetanus, this can be done by your doctor or by the Health Department before school begins.

Cattle Growers of Shelby County May Take Part in Bessemer Festival

Bessemer, Ala., Aug. 2—Growing interest in the coming livestock show of Bessemer's third annual corn and livestock festival was reported today by Robert M. Millsap, livestock show chairman.

Mr. Millsap, president of the Bessemer Chamber of Commerce and a widely known business man, said cash prizes totaling more than $1,600.00 will be awarded at the livestock show.

The festival itself will last three days, Sept. 13-15. The livestock judging will take place in Bessemer's DeBardleben Park the morning of Saturday, Sept. 15.

Cattle and hog raisers of Jefferson County and surrounding counties are invited to send entries for the show.

Clinton H. Johns, county agent and festival co-chairman, said the Bessemer festival was a splendid outlet for livestock producers to judge the quality of their cattle at this time of the year.

There will be Jersey and Guernsey entries in the junior division of the dairy cattle show. Whether Holsteins also may be entered will be announced in a few days.

All three breeds may be entered in the open class of the dairy cattle show. Prizes in the junior and open division will amount to $1,065.00. Ribbons also will be awarded.

The beef show will consist of senior class entries. Details will be announced later.

The swine show will consist of three divisions. The pure bred division (Duroc, Hampshire, and O.I.C. only) will have four classes: sows and boars farrowed prior to Jan. 1, 1951, and sows and boars farrowed since that date. Awards will also be made to the champion of each breed.

Individual entries in the market-hog contest will be limited to members of the 4-H clubs and F.F.A. Pens of three market hogs will be open competition.

Prizes being offered for swine total slightly more than $500.

A poultry show also will be held at the festival. Entries in this show are limited to 4-H Club boys and girls of Jefferson County. Other details will be announced later.

Montevallo made a clean sweep in the Little Boys League of Shelby County, winning in the under 12 year old and in the 13, 14 and 15 year old groups. They will be host to the all-star team here Friday August 10th. The teams batting average will be published in the near future.

On Saturday night the Sokol's girl softball team, of Birmingham, will play a double-header with a picked group of Birmingham girls at the local stadium beginning at 7:15 p.m. Admission will be 25 and 50 cents to help feed the visiting team after the game at the Big Spring.

The Alabama Power Company, the Plaza Grill, and the girls softball teams have won 18 games and lost 4. The two boys baseball teams have won 24 and lost 5. The teams all combined have won 42 and lost 9.

The first of three tennis tournaments will get under way with the mens tournament August 13-14.

Drawing will be held and bracket placed in Drug Store—The following men are expected to enter: Dr. Caldwell, Hobert Vernon, Bill Pendleton, Dr. Parnell, Pete Givhan, McMillan, and several others. Please, if you are interested, notify coach Fisher before August 11th. The girls tournament will follow the men's tournament. Trophies will be given the winners.

A softball tournament will be played on the local field around August 20. Girls teams from Montevallo, Columbiana, Siluria, and Calera, will take part, plus men teams from Wilton, two from Montevallo and Calera, and one from Columbiana and Siluria.

Football practice will start August 22, from 8:30 'till 11:00 only.

The average attendance for afternoon swimming at the creek is reaching an all time high with 12 boys and girls learning to swim.

The summary of summer Recreation Program will be published in September.

Local Band Students Attend Auburn Meet

The band conference held at Auburn Aug. 1-4 was attended by eight members of the Montevallo High School band. Special emphasis of this conference was on the marching band and instructions were given in twirling by Janet Smith, — champion twirler; in marching and drum major by Cliff Sanford, A.P.I. band drum major; and concert band, by Dr. Earl Beach, University of Georgia. The conference was arranged by Mr. Dave Herbert A.P.I. band director.

Those attending from Montevallo were: Joy Holcombe, drum major; Eleanor Mitchell, Joanna Sharp, Marcia Trumauer, Mary K. Cox in twirling; Martha Ann Cox, clarinet; Mike Mahan and Johnny Ziolkowski, cornet; and Mr. V. T. Young, the sessions for band director. Mrs. Robert Holcombe accompanied the group as chaperone.

The directors present were very well pleased with results achieved and voted to expand the conference to a full week next year.

Jimmie Crisswell has accepted a job representing the Independent Life and Accident Insurance Company, of Jacksonville, Fla., in this territory. He is associated with the Tuscaloosa office of the company.

Tourist Group Against Toll Road Plan

Firm opposition to the proposal to establish a Turnpike Authority to build Toll Roads as a "short-sighted, visionary and unfair scheme" was expressed today by Erle Ellis, President, Alabama Motel Association, Clanton, Alabama.

"Many people who now applaud this idea just haven't thought it through," declared Mr. Ellis. "They have forgotten the highly undesirable consequences that will certainly follow the establishment of one or more Toll Roads."

He said "Some people would be deluded into thinking the cost of toll roads would be borne exclusively by those who travel on it. People who find themselves being taken in by this theory should think back to our sad experience with Toll Bridges". He continued "We were also told that the Toll Bridges would be paid for entirely by those who used them but what happened? The cost of repaying the toll bridge bonds was shifted on the taxpayer and the bridges were made toll free". He asserted that "There is some justification for charging tolls on bridges, since they are special facilities, of particular service to those who use them but it makes no sense at all to free bridges of tolls and then launch a super costly toll highway project".

Mr. Ellis warns that "the taxpayer can expect to get stuck with the cost of this toll highway plan just as they got stuck with the cost of toll bridges but" he added, "they will get stuck in many other ways as well. Far from generating more businesses in the community it passes near, toll roads would pipe business away from those towns and cities. Businessmen from all over this state who now depend on this trade, might as well close up shop, if this toll road plan is enacted. Few tourists will leave toll roads and drive to adjacent communities to shop, later paying another stiff toll to get back on the road".

"Toll Roads are noted for their speed" he said, "but merchants in other states have noted sadly that the speediest thing about such roads is the way they run business away from local stores, restaurants and motels. These merchants feel they might as well set up shops along the rails of a roller coaster. The effect will be the same as far as trade opportunities are concerned."

He called attention to some of the other "hardship cases" that would be sure to develop if this toll road plan is carried through. "For example", he said "Some farmers will have their land sliced in half by toll roads. Will the highway department build special overpasses for these farmers so they can bring home the cows at night? Or will they have to drive several miles to feeder road and then pay a toll every time they want to feed the chickens?"

As another hardship case, he states, "roadside business on existing highways near where a toll road would be established, would dry up and the competing free highways would be allowed to deteriorate so as to herd traffic on to the toll road". He explained, "These businessmen would be ruthlessly sacrificed to keep the toll road going and their years of efforts to build up trade be lost", he said.

As still another example of hardship he mentioned these: "Decline of property values around where ever a toll road touched. People won't want to live near a speed track that isolates them from their neighbors across the road and costs them in extra travel every time they cross it or costs them in cash when they use it. Since the adjacent land will have no commercial value it cannot be sold as business property either, therefore, it will depreciate to practically nothing because the toll road will have erased its usefulness."

His statement concluded by urging "All roadside businessmen, farmers and residents of small towns to register their immediate opposition with their representatives in both of the Legislature. If they don't defend themselves against this reckless plan they will have years of suffering ahead as taxpayers, as businessmen and as residents of threatened areas".

NOW IS THE TIME TO PREPARE FOR GREEN FIELDS IN WINTER

RIDE through almost any part of Alabama during the next month and you will see fields being prepared for planting. These same fields will be green in Winter. They will be the fields which, in an increasing number, are providing year-round grazing. They are also the fields improved by the cover crops planted in the Fall and plowed under in the Spring.

More and more Alabama fields are green in Winter. Their increasing number is a symbol of agricultural progress—progress which has lead to improved farm income in many sections.

For details of what to plant for green fields in Winter and when to plant, ask your county agent or write Extension Service, Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn, Alabama.

Deaths In State From Tuberculosis

In May, as for a long time before, tuberculosis was especially fatal to Alabama Negroes.

The State Department of Health announced today that Negro deaths attributed to that disease during that month substantially exceeded tuberculosis deaths among the state's white people, in spite of the fact that, according to the latest population information, only about 35 per cent of the population consists of Negroes.

The Department said white tuberculosis deaths reported in May numbered only 28. The Negro total was 44.

The announcement pointed out that these figures were based upon provisional reports prepared by the Department's Bureau of Vital Statistics. They may differ slightly from the final reports not yet available.

Uncle Sam Says

June 21 marks the first day of summer, that time of year when everyone's thoughts turn to vacation, whether it be to travel, to visit the seashore or mountains, or maybe to go fishing, or, maybe a swell vacation in that new home in the suburbs, the one you have dreamed about so long. Whatever it is, you can make those dreams a reality by investing, regularly, in U. S. Savings Bonds. You alone can answer the question "Will you be up or down in 1960?" If you want to be up and coming, enroll during the Independence Drive for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or if self-employed, the Bond-A-Month Plan at your bank.

T. H. NAPIER

Cherokee County was given its name to commemorate the occupation of the Cherokee Indians. The word is an English corruption of their tribal name Tsalagi or Tsalagi, which is supposed to be derived from the Choctaw Chiluk-ki, "Cave people", an allusion to the numerous caves in their mountain country. There appears to be no foundation for the genesis of the word from Chera, said to be the Cherokee word for "fire".

Lanett, Ala., was named in honor of Mr. Lanier and Mr. Barnett, owners and officers of the Lanier Cotton Mills. The settlement was known as Bluffton until 1893.

Budget Approved For Crippled Child State Program

A record budget of $126,000 for the fiscal year 1951-52 was approved by the Directors of the Alabama Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc., at a meeting held in Montgomery Tuesday, July 31, according to an announcement this week by George H. Barnes, Andalusia, President.

This money was raised this spring through the Easter Seal Campaign, supplemented by donations made by various service organizations over the state. The Shelby County Chapter contributed $820.17 of the total according to Mr. Roy Downs, Calera, County Chairman.

Mr. Downs stated that the Society last year provided treatment, hospitalization, training, artificial appliances and related services to over 500 crippled persons over the state, most of whom were children. In addition, the local Chapter provided transportation to and from treatment centers for approximately 1000 crippled children. The services were largely provided through the State Crippled Children's Service and the Vocational Rehabilitation Service.

Point Clear History

Point Clear, Ala., settled in 1820 by a small group of immigrants from Massachusetts, had its greatest period of popularity shortly after the War between the States when wealthy people from all parts of the south came here. In the bar of the old Point Clear Hotel (now demolished) which was called "The Texas", planters gathered to recount victories and defeats of the war to the accompaniment of clinking glasses.

The Texas bar served as an emergency hospital in 1870 when a boiler explosion destroyed the "Ocean Wave", an excursion steamer plying between Mobile and Point Clear. The vessel had docked at the pier with its cargo of merry-makers when the boiler exploded, killing more than 100 people.

Winter Grazing - Winter Legumes

Winter grazing and winter legumes for soil building should be planted soon. Seed for these crops are available on the PMA program and most of them are some cheaper than last year.

With the loss of the oat crop and a certain short corn and hay crop, farmers should plant more winter grazing crops than ever before. Our feed needs can largely be taken care of by planting these grazing crops on sufficient acres and as early as possible. Crimson clover, oats and rye grass make good grazing crops and can be planted early.

Permanent pasture of white clover, orchard grass and fescue can all be planted in Sept. and Oct. Remember that these crops must be fertilized if good grazing is furnished.

Vetches, Austrian peas, and crimson clover planting for soil building is probably more important than ever. A check of crops of corn and cotton following these crops show the value of these land building crops.

Let us buy fertilizer, inoculate and plant these winter legumes for the sake of the land and for larger dollar returns from our years work.

Boll Weevils

Boll weevil damage may become serious by the weevils puncturing immature bolls. When cotton quits squaring then the weevils begin puncturing young bolls. Farmers should make frequent checks by pulling 20 normal looking squares at random and checking for punctured squares. Do this in several places in the field. When 25 to 30 percent of the squares are punctured, you should put on 3 applications of poison.

Steel Mills Need More Scrap

The Nation's steel mills need more scrap metal if they are to keep rolling at full capacity. Therefore, farmers and others are urged to sell scrap iron and steel to their salvage dealers.

Hens In The Laying House

Recent research shows that hens confined to the laying house laid 28 more eggs each than the hens that were allowed to run outside. In other words, hens which were kept in the house made their owners 70 cents per hen more than hens that were allowed to roam over the farm.

Fowl Pox

There is not satisfactory treatment for fowl pox after a bird is affected, but it is easily and effectively prevented by vaccinating the chickens when they are six to 12 weeks old.

Little Black Bulldog

A little black and white bulldog (female) has voluntarily taken up residence at The Times office. She is a cute little dog, and is no doubt missed by her owner. We are keeping her inside to avoid getting into bad company. We hope the owner will find out where she is and come for her.

Typhoid Clinics To Be Held

Typhoid clinics will be conducted by the County Health Department at the following places on Tuesday, August 14:

Mt. Era Church 9:00 a.m.; Saginaw Commissary 11:00 a.m.

Immunizations will be given against Typhoid, Diphtheria, Whooping Cough, Smallpox and Tetanus.

It is urged that all citizens of these communities come promptly at the time specified. Only one visit will be made since most citizens need only a "booster" shot.

Uncle Sam Says

Sucker bait is a phrase you have heard used or used yourself many times. Anglers know its meaning when they watch the fish bite for the impossible. The term also applies to individuals who send their hard-earned cash on get-rich-quick errands. Your income invested in United States Savings Bonds will mount steadily and safely in value to serve you 10 years hence. The American who buys bonds regularly with the dollars he doesn't need today for living costs will not wind up a poor fish.

Senator LeBlanc Brings Giant Hadacol Caravan To Alabama

LAFAYETTE, LA. — The fabulous Hadacol Good Will Caravan rolls into Alabama on August 20th and this year it is rolling via streamlined air conditioned train.

The lineup of stage, screen, radio and television talent reads like an MGM musical, carrying with it three big name bands, great comedians, brilliant vocalists and dancers, performing clowns, acrobats, jugglers and a dazzling fireworks display.

Hank Williams and his Drifting Cowboys of Grand Ole Opry will be among the bands and he'll have with him the straw chewing comic - Cousin Minnie Pearl.

Other bands on the tour include Sharkey Bonano and his Kings of Dixieland from New Orleans, Tony Martin and his 14-piece unit from Houston.

Among the stars who will appear in Alabama are Rudy Vallee, the "Vagabond Lover" with the megaphone and the "Heigh Ho Everybody"; Candy Candido, the man of a thousand voices; Emil Parra, eccentric dancer-singer-emcee; Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion of the world; and Dick Haymes, one of the nation's number one crooners.

The Dorothy Dorben dancing girls from the Chez Paree in Chicago have been signed for the 50 day tour and bring with them a boy and girl dancing act and a male singer.

The Hadacol Caravan will play in Mobile, Ala. on Monday, August 20th; in Montgomery on Tuesday, August 21st and in Columbus, Ga. on Wednesday, August 22nd.

"The Hadacol Good Will Caravan is intended solely to entertain our friends, the users of Hadacol," Senator LeBlanc said. "It is not possible to visit our customers individually, so we have organized this great show, and invite you to come and see us. We ask that children 12 and under bring only one Hadacol box top and that adults bring only two Hadacol box tops—as proof that you are a Hadacol customer."

Governor Appoints Docks Board

Montgomery, Ala. — Jerry P. Turner, Mobile has been named acting general manager of Alabama State Docks.

Turner was named by the state's new five-man Docks Board of Directors at the board's first official meeting last week. Appointment of the 47-year-old career man was the body's first official act.

Leonard Hardy, Mobile, whose tenure as Docks Director ended with Turner's appointment, was named acting chairman of the Docks Board at the meeting. Named as acting vice-chairman was Alto V. Lee, III, Dothan.

Other members of the new docks governing body, appointed to staggered terms by Gordon Persons, are Ernest H. Woods, Birmingham, Leslie Dee, Jr., Tuscaloosa, and James G. Pruett, Montgomery.

"It will take some time," the board said in a statement following the initial session, "to make a full and thorough study and survey" for obtaining a permanent general manager for the docks.

It was announced by Hardy that J. H. Bruce, long-time secretary-treasurer for the docks, has been appointed comptroller.

SCALE MODEL SPORT WITH BIG LEAGUE THRILLS—Diamond, rules and equipment are scaled kid size but thrill and enthusiasm of Little League baseball tops anything professional parks have to offer. The Little League, organized in 1939 with three teams, now has over 2500 teams of boys, age 9-12, competing in more than 600 local leagues for the chance to play in their own World Series held in Williamsport, Penna., August 20 through 25.

MOBILE MATERNITY WARD—Recently Minnie, head-mouser at the Canadian National Railways' Ottawa freight shed, sauntered into a box car. Somebody closed the door and when it was next opened, 769 miles and two days later, Minnie was found with a family of three. The crew named the kittens "O", "N" and "R" and shipped the family back to Ottawa—express collect—charged to Minnie's account, payable in mice.

County Health Officer, Dr. E. F. Sloan, Tells How To Cope With Polio Dangers

Many counties in the State have had an increase in number of cases of Infantile Paralysis or Poliomyelitis over last year. The infection has, so far, not reached epidemic proportions in any of these counties, however.

Polio, being mostly a hot weather disease, is likely to continue occurring until the cooler weather of fall and winter begins.

The virus that causes Polio is found in the secretions of the nose and throat and in the bowel discharges. There are, no doubt, many healthy carriers of the disease.

Many cases of Polio never develop any paralysis. Other cases develop paralysis of only a small group of muscles, while still others have paralysis of many muscles severe crippling. The most fatal types are those causing bulbar and respiratory paralysis.

Polio is largely a disease of childhood but adults are by no means always immune.

When this infection is prevalent children should be guarded against chilling, over-exertion and mingling with groups to whom they are unaccustomed. There is no reason why they should not continue associating with their usual companions. Operations on the mouth or throat should be avoided if possible. The hands should be washed often, especially before handling any food.

It is not thought necessary in most cases to hospitalize the Polio case. During the acute stage moving the patient is often harmful and too, the patient is apt to be much more contented at home. This is a question, of course, to be decided by the doctor for each individual case.

DR. E. F. SLOAN
County Health Officer

W. B. Rogan Wins Craig Field Award

W. B. Rogan, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Rogan, is one of five Selmians, all civil workers at Craig Air Force Base, to receive cash awards for their winning suggestions which will result in saving of money and man power in operations of the base.

Rogan received $25 for his suggestion. He is a four-time winner, having previously won $15 for a power relay system for emergency vehicles, $10 for suggestion on replacement of radio fuse clips, and $10 for a test set he built to use in aligning crash truck radio equipment.

Social Security Status of Veterans Who Served In World War Two

For social security purposes, service in the armed forces of the United States during World War II counts the same as civilian employment.

Men and women who were removed from the civilian labor force for service with the armed forces were deprived of an opportunity to acquire wage credits under the old-age and survivors insurance program of the Social Security Act.

The Congress recognized this deficiency by amending the act in such a manner, as to provide a wage credit of $160 a month for each month of active service in World War II between September 16, 1940, and July 24, 1947.

These wage credits are automatic if the veteran had 90 days of active duty, died in service or was discharged because of a service-connected disability. They will be added to wages received in civilian employment, upon presentation of the veteran's certificate of honorable discharge, either when he applies for retirement benefits at age 65 or later; or by his survivors in the event of his death.

Benefits, which may now be payable as a result of this $160 a month military service credit, will be paid regardless of any compensation or pension that is payable by the Veterans Administration.

I want to emphasize the fact that many widows and children and dependent parents of deceased servicemen and servicewomen, whose claims for survivors benefits were previously disallowed, may now be eligible and should get in touch with their nearest social security office. Families of servicemen who died in the service or shortly after they left the service should also get in touch with their nearest social security office to find out whether there are any benefits payable to them.

Presbyterians Build Student Center At The University

University, Ala.—A new center for Presbyterian students at the University of Alabama is going up. The house, which will cost over $100,000 will contain a 30 by 50 feet chapel which will seat 200 persons. There will also be a dining room, prayer room, choir room, lounge, guest room, and caretaker's room.

During a three-year fund-raising campaign to finance student center, Alabama Presbyterians donated $250,000 for buildings at Auburn, Livingston, Jacksonville, and Alabama.

The center is expected to be completed by next March.

Plan Landscape Of Thompson Schools

Hatfield and Mr. Roscoe Davis.

The building program at the Thompson schools will be completed some time this year and this committee will be responsible for planning the landscaping of the school grounds.

Other committees and plans for this group will be announced at an early date.

Polio Increases In The State

Montgomery, Ala.—The number of polio cases in Alabama continued to increase sharply this week as the State Health Department announced that last week's increase of 43 cases brought the state total to 251 reported this year.

Last week's 43 cases was the largest weekly figure reported in 1951.

Dr. D. G. Gill, state health officer, said the danger of serious outbreak should end early in September. He said there's a good chance the state will escape an epidemic this year.

Dr. M. F. Swilley To Be Heard On Church of the Air

Dr. Monroe F. Swilley, pastor of the Second Ponce De Leon Baptist Church, Atlanta, Georgia, will be featured as speaker on the August 19 broadcast of the CBS Church of the Air program.

The subject of Dr. Swilley's message will be "Transacting the World's Greatest Business." Music will be supplied by the choir of Second Ponce De Leon Church; Mrs. Charles Chalmers is director and organist. The program will originate in the studios of Baptist Radio Center in Atlanta.

Dr. Swilley is a native of Arkansas, entered the ministry at the age of 14, and has been a leader among Southern Baptist for more than twenty years. Among his many denominational responsibilities at the present time, he is a member of the Executive Committee of the Southern Baptist Home Mission Board, and is on the Executive Committee of the Georgia Baptist Convention.

The Church of the Air program is put on by the Columbia Broadcasting System, and is carried by CBS stations across the country. It is now being heard at 10:00 a.m. Eastern Daylight Time on Sunday. Many Southern Baptist leaders have been heard on these broadcasts.

Mr. Alvin Stinson, of Columbiana, Gulf gasoline distributor for Shelby County, was in Montevallo Wednesday looking after business interests. A recent Gulf installation in Montevallo is Tycob's Gulf Service Station on Highway 25. It is operated by Ernest (Tycob) Wallace.

Pvt. James Garner Buried Last Sunday

The remains of Pvt. James Garner were buried at Dogwood last Sunday with a military ceremony. Private Garner was killed in Korea a year ago.

The military service was conducted by Commander Mitchell Young, of the Hendrick-Hudson Post, American Legion.

Color guards were Grady Parker and Will Little. Color bearers were Brewer Carpenter and Sam Klotzman. Johnny Ziolkowski was bugler.

Pallbearers were Mack Smith, Joe Clark, Harvey Rochester, R. L. Woolley, Wesley Lovelady, F. C. Tillery, Herman Little, Bob Galoway, Otis Bean.

Water Bills Come Down October 1

Mr. R. E. Whaley, chairman of the Montevallo Water Board, announces that the 50-cent raise that was put on water bills some months ago will be taken off on October 1.

This action by the Board will put water bills back to the old schedule of $2.00 a month minimum charge.

Mrs. James A. Wyatt and her new boy came home from the hospital Wednesday. His name is William Perry.

Armen L. Thrasher On Guard Duty At Peace Parley

Private First Class Armen L. Thrasher, Montevallo, Ala., is a member of the honor guard for the United Nations' advance peace camp at Munsan, Korea.

He earned his select post as a member of the 7th Cavalry Regiment's Second Battalion Combat Team, the unit chosen to guard the historic site.

Although the primary mission of the battalion is to provide security for the peace camp, the yellow-scarved Cavalrymen, some of them veterans of more than a year of Korean fighting, provide a colorful spectacle with their military bearing.

In addition to the protection of the peace camp itself, the battalion has been given the mission of providing security for the correspondents' press train, as well as the road leading to Kaesong, site of the peace talks.

Each individual guard is on duty for only two or four hours a day. Thus, the coveted duty has come not only as an honor to the organization but also as a welcome rest for the combat-seasoned "Garry Owen" troopers.

School For Leaders Of Education Here August 17-19

The sixth annual state Leadership School for officers of education associations will be held at Alabama College, Montevallo, August 17-19. According to Dr. J. H. Hadley, president, the Alabama Education Association has secured some of the nation's top-flight leaders to assist with the conference.

Included in the group of lecturers and consultants are Dr. Glenn Snow, assistant secretary for lay relations, National Education Association; Miss Mary Titus, NEA consultant for local associations; and Dr. W. J. Terry, state superintendent. In addition, about twenty state leaders will serve as members of the school faculty.

Serving as chairman, consultants, and recorders of four discussion groups are Dr. Hadley; Dr. C. P. Nelson, Anniston; S. R. White, Red Level; Mrs. Ruth Tillman, Montgomery; Dr. M. L. Roberts, Tuscaloosa; Miss Zora Ellis, Talladega; Mrs. Reuben Self, Jacksonville; John R. Slaughter, Birmingham; Dr. Cranford Burns, Mobile; Miss Louise Comer, Florence; and Raymond Fowler, Montgomery.

Chairmen of the general sessions are Henderson Walker, Jefferson County, AEA vice-president; Miss Mary Neil James, Roanoke; Dr. C. F. Newell, Tuscaloosa; Miss Birdie Bobo, Jefferson County; and M. Thornton, Montevallo.

Vernon Skoog, supervisor of music of Jefferson County schools, will lead conference music, and an exhibit of professional reading has been assembled by Miss Fannie Schmitt, state school libraries consultant.

About 200 local, district, and state education leaders of Alabama are expected to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Woods (Peggy Davis) announce the birth of a daughter, August 14, at a Tuscaloosa hospital.

WATER BILLS REDUCED

Some months ago when the Montevallo water system got mixed in the Boothton road building project, the extra expense thereby incurred caused the Water Board to have to raise some money over and above its regular operating revenue.

To meet this necessity the Board put on an extra fifty cents per month on each water customer.

The water customers took the extra charge without much fussing. However, some said the extra fifty cents will never be taken off. "Once a tax or a utility charge is put on, it is never taken off," seemed to be the feeling of resignation with which the extra charge was accepted.

Now comes the Water Board and announces that the extra fifty cent charge will be abolished on October 1.

We are glad to have the water charge go back to the old rate of $2.00 a month minimum.

However, this does not mean that the Water Board has plenty of money to do anything and everything. The truth is that there is a great need for expansion of our water system for which there is not available the necessary capital outlay. The problems of our Water Board are not all solved by any means.

To Erect Memorial To K. G. Baker

Montgomery, Ala. — The Alabama Cattlemen's Association will erect a memorial to the late K. G. Baker, long-time superintendent of the Black Belt substation, Alabama Experiment Station, Marion Junction.

Part of the inscription on the Baker memorial will read, "Erected by the cattlemen and friends in lasting memory of K. G. Baker, who as superintendent of this substation pioneered a new agricultural era in the Alabama Black Belt and influenced the entire state's livestock industry through his diligent research."

Warden Dismissed For Beating Negro

Montgomery, Ala. — Sam Key, warden of the Alabama Highway Department's Camp Scottsboro in North Alabama, has been dismissed for beating three Negro prisoners with a wooden stick.

Guerry Pruett, Highway Director, announced the dismissal following an investigation ordered by Prison Director J. M. McCullough.

Gov. Gordon Persons outlawed the beating of convicts at the same time he abolished the lash several months ago.

Investigators reported Key beat two of the prisoners with a hickory stick and the third with his walking stick.

Conecuh county is a word of Muscogee origin, and is said to be a corruption of "Econneka," meaning "land of cane", according to Marcus H. Cruikshank. The rendering by Dr. W. S. Wyman, however, is "Kono ekuh", meaning "polecat's head".

Trade Report For Month of June

University, Ala.—The preliminary Alabama retail sales index for June is 116.5, an increase of 2.3 over May, the monthly Retail Trade Report of the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Alabama said today.

Dollar volume of retail sales in May in the state was the highest for the year and the third highest monthly total on record, the report said. The Bureau's unadjusted index for May jumped 9.4 per cent over April to 113.9 per cent of the 1948 average month, and 13.3 per cent higher than in May 1950.

Increases in sales over April were noted in the following types of retail stores: food stores, 5.9 per cent; automobile sales, 7.1 per cent; furniture, 36.3 per cent; filling stations, 7.7 per cent. Hardware and farm implement concerns had a seasonal decline of 2.4 in May sales. Other types of stores with decreases from May were drug stores, 0.8 per cent; and tabulating equipment concerns, 5.6 per cent.

Gasoline sales hit a new all-time high in May as 55,905,000 gallons were sold.

Net retail sales for Shelby County showed a 0.1 per cent decrease under May.

The Bureau's composite index of industrial activity in the state increased in May for the first time this year. The index of electrical energy consumption fell 14 per cent as a result of the aluminum workers' strike, but the index of iron, steel, coke, coal, cement, and cotton textiles production all showed gains over April.

Employment also rose in May. An increase of 2,400 nonagricultural workers was noted bringing the total in this field to 624,600. The largest gains were in government employment, trade, and textiles, offsetting losses in the metal alloys industry, shipyards, and coal mining. Workers in Alabama earned an average of $51.05 per week in May for 40.2 average weekly hours.

Almost all indications of business activity were substantially above the year-ago level. Though prices were 11.5 per cent higher than in May, 1950, bank debits were up 20 per cent and retail sales rose by 13 per cent.

Lafayette, county seat of Chambers County was known as Chambersville prior to January 7, 1835.

A P S C Grants Permit To A P C

Montgomery, Ala.—Authority to build a new steam electric generating plant at Salco, Mobile County, has been granted Alabama Power Co. by the Alabama Public Service Commission.

The proposed plant had been opposed by Alabama Electric Cooperative Inc., Andalusia.

"The Commission finds," the authorizing order said in part,

"that it is in the interest of the petitioner and the public served by it that the proposed steam electric generating plant be constructed by the petitioner".

Keystone Lime Works Building Plant For Manufacture Of Screen Wire

President W. V. Hammond, of Keystone Lime Works, Inc. has announced plans for a modern plant to produce aluminum insect screen wire.

The building to house the operation is already under construction at Keystone, and manufacture of necessary machinery is nearing completion, with installation to begin within the next few weeks, Mr. Hammond said.

The company has been engaged for several months in conducting a survey of the market potentialities for such a product, and the results have shown a demand in the Southeastern states far in excess of the industry's ability to produce.

The plant will begin operation early in 1952, distributing its products through established channels. A small number of supervisory personnel will be brought into the area by the company. The remainder of employees will be local men and women.

In announcing the new plant, Hammond said, "In our business we have realized for years the great potentialities of the South, and have known it would in time take its rightful position in the industrial growth and development of the nation. It is a genuine pleasure for the company at this particular time to contribute in a modest way to the great expansion now going on in this area."

Necessary materials to supply the plant will come from nearby sources.

Heretofore, screen wire cloth, as it is known to the industry, has come largely from Pennsylvania and New York. The manufacture of screen wire cloth is similar in many respects to the methods used in modern textile mills.

The screen cloth is woven on intricate looms, the screen wire usually coming off the machines in 100-foot lengths and of varying widths.

Officials of the new company include W. V. Hammond Sr., president; K. L. Hammond, vice-president; H. V. Hammond Jr., vice-president, and E. L. Purdy Jr., secretary.

Thomas de Shazo Now A General

Thomas de Shazo, is now a general in Korea, where he won the Silver Star Medal for heroism.

Gen. de Shazo's promotion came recently while he was in Alexandria, Va. on leave from Korea, visiting his wife and children.

The promotion to brigadier general from colonel came after he had been decorated with the Oak Leaf Cluster to the Legion of Merit and the Silver Star Medal.

The Legion of Merit was awarded for his work providing artillery information pertaining to manpower, intelligence, operations and logistics and for his aggressive leadership.

He received the Silver Star for disregarding his personal safety in leading a column through heavy enemy fire.

A native of Montevallo, Gen. de Shazo is the son of the late George W. and Alta Perry de Shazo. He is a graduate of the U. S. Military Academy at West Point. In World War II, he served with Gen. Mark Clark in Italy, Africa and France.

He commanded the field artillery group in the American mission for aid to Turkey. Ordered to Korea in September, 1950, he was assigned as artillery commander of the IX Corps. He is now commander of the Second Division artillery in Korea.

Of a military family, Gen. de Shazo has a son, Thomas, Jr., in the armed forces. A brother, Sidney, is a commander in the Navy Medical Corps and is on duty in Washington.

A brother, Jack Perry de Shazo, a Naval Academy graduate, lost his life at the national air races in 1930 while flying with a naval squadron from the West Coast.

The Mt. Katmai delivers ammunition, fleet freight, movies and mail to United Nations men-o-war in the Korean battle zone. The vessel was commissioned in 1945.

During operations in support of United Nations Forces, the Mt. Katmai broke all previous records for transferring ammunition at sea for ships of her class. Now she's working to break her own record.

Farm Suggestions

By A. A. Lauderdale
County Agent

Shelby County farmers still have time to prepare soil for all fall planted crops except alfalfa.

So said County Agent A. A. Lauderdale today in urging farmers to remove obstructions, such as rocks, stumps, and any other structures that might interfere with soil preparation, planting, or harvesting. "Also, stalks should be cut and left on the ground, preferably with a stalk cutter that will shred them," he said.

"The land should be turned with a disc or flat bottom turn plow. Then the land should be cut with a disc harrow at least twice to remove air pockets and to pulverize the clods. Next," continued the agent, "The land should be section harrowed throughly to remove air pockets near the surface and to smooth the land. A float or drag will help with the leveling and smoothing, and a cultipacker will finish the job."

What is the price of cotton today? The answer most often given is the price of middling 15/16-inch cotton because it is the grade and staple length used as a base for spot market quotations.

"However," says A. A. Lauderdale, County agent, "the question cannot be answered with a one-price figure because the price of a bale of cotton will vary, depending on the grade and staple length. Therefore, it is very important for cotton farmers to not only know the price of cotton but the loans value and grade and staple length of every bale they have to market."

Cotton Tip

The way cotton is handled from the boll to the bale may mean the difference between profit or loss on this year's crop. Under the 1951 loan program a bale of one and one-thirty-second inch middling cotton is worth $22.25 more than a bale of low middling grade of the same staple length. Quite often the market shows an even greater spread.

Feed Supply

The feed supply situation continues to be of major interest to many Shelby County farmers.

And right now the livestock-feed balance looks fairly good, says Lauderdale.

"Of course the second biggest spring pig crop in history coming on to be finished and marketed," pointed out the agent. "Broiler production this year has been running about 31 per cent above the same period last year. Enormous amounts of other poultry products, dairy products, and meat are in production. But, present prospects are for a record production of corn, the county's major feed crop."

On July 1, this year's U.S. corn crop was estimated at 3,295,000,000 bushels, considerably more than last year and the 10-year average.

To stretch this feed supply, Lauderdale advises farmers to make good use of all grain by balancing it with protein supplements, minerals, and grazing or other feeds, depending on the type of livestock or poultry on hand. "Save all the corn, hay, and other feeds now maturing by harvesting some with livestock and storing the remainder for use later. And, "added the agent, "produce all the winter and spring grazing that will be needed."

You save time when you call by number

You'll save yourself time, these busy days, by keeping a list of the numbers of the out-of-town telephones you frequently call.

When you call by number, the Long Distance operator doesn't have to consult Information and your call goes through faster.

That means better service for you—and better service for all America, right now when telephone lines are carrying urgent industrial and military calls.

P. S. If you'd like a handy booklet for recording those out-of-town numbers, just call or write the Business Office. Then list 'em lest you forget 'em!

Shelby County Dairymen Have Family Get-Together At J. Frank Baker's

Approximately 125 dairymen and their families enjoyed the Family-Get-Together at the Frank Baker Dairy Farm on Wednesday night, August 22.

J. E. Bearden, president of the county dairymen's organization, presided.

I. P. Johnson, Montevallo, stated that "the irrigation system now in use on the Alabama College Dairy Farm has furnished grazing to maintain excellent milk production and has meant an increase in hay production per acre. The army worm has not touched his irrigated pasture."

Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Jim Mabry entertained the group with games and contests.

Frances Bearden, Helena 4-H Club, was elected Dairy Maid. Other contestants were Gloria McRae, Calera 4-H Club, and Marjorie Blackerby, Chelsea 4-H Club.

Watermelon, cold drinks, ice cream and cake were enjoyed by all present. At the close of the meeting, the group decided to make this an annual event.

"Shelby County dairymen must send more milk per cow, per acre, at lower cost. These should be on DHIA test and headed by proven bulls," emphasized Pete Turnham, Assistant Extension Dairyman.

The following dairymen and their families attended:

R. J. Mabry, Siluria; Jim Mabry, Siluria; Pete Turnham, Auburn; J. Frank McEwen, Wilsonville; Ralph McEwen, Wilsonville; Sam Stone, Wilsonville; W. A. Farr, Columbiana; W. W. Watkins, Wilsonville; O. M. Perry, Columbiana; W. A. Nolen, Siluria; J. E. Bearden, Helena; Herbert Poole, Helena; Harold Morris, Columbiana; Maples Willis, Vincent; Floyd Green, Vincent; Douglas Kent, Siluria; R. W. Kent, Siluria; Royce Morris, Columbiana; J. P. Brewster, Siluria; I. P. Johnson, Montevallo; B. M. McRae, Calera; Tommy Baker, Montevallo; J. Frank Baker, Montevallo; J. O. Self, Calera; P. A. Garrett, Calera; A. M. Hinds, Pelham; A. B. Bristow, Shelby; O. J. Pardue, Siluria; Lawrence Garrett, Siluria; J. C. Garrett, Siluria; D. Webster, Siluria; Marjorie Blackerby, Chelsea; A. A. Lauderdale, County Agent; Marian Cotney, Home Agent.

John Battle Finishes A F B Training

Lackland Air Force Base, Tex.—Pvt. John M. Battle, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Battle, of Montevallo, has completed his AF basic airman indoctrination course at Lackland Air Force Base, the "Gateway to the Air Force."

Lackland, situated near San Antonio, is the world's largest air force base, site of the Air Force basic training for men and women, headquarters of the human resource research center, and home of AF's officer candidate school.

Battle's basic training has prepared him for entrance into Air Force technical training and for assignment in specialized work. The course included a scientific evaluation of his aptitude and inclination for following a particular vocation and career.

Labor Day Event At Buck Creek

The Thompson P. T. A. is sponsoring all-day Labor Day barbecue festivities on Monday, September 3, at Buck Creek Stadium. There will be a number of contests, including the 100 yard dash and relay races, and medals will be given to winners. Dinner will be served beginning at eleven, and supper is also to be served. Plans are being made for the entertainment of the entire family, says Mrs. W. J. Mathis, president. A ball game will conclude the fun.

Ward Did Not Steal Chickens

Mrs. Ed Rogers is quite a bit riled over what she says is a false rumor that Will Ward stole some chickens and turkeys from her.

She gives The Times the following statement about the matter, with request that the same be published:

"To whom it may concern: A Negro by the name of Will Ward DID NOT steal any chickens and turkeys from me.—Mrs. Edward E. Rogers."

Montevallo P T A Holds Meeting

The Montevallo P. T. A. met in the high school auditorium August 21, with fifty members present. Miss Mary Woolley, president, presided. Group singing was led by Rev. Edward Glover, pastor of the Baptist Church. The Methodist pastor, Rev. M. L. Triplett, had charge of the devotional.

Mrs. Charlotte Peterson, principal of the elementary school, led the group in reading the objectives of the Alabama Congress of PTA.

Objectives

The objectives of the Alabama Congress shall be:

1. To promote the welfare of children and youth in home, in school, church and community.
2. To raise the standards of the home life.
3. To secure adequate laws for the care and protection of children and youth.
4. To bring into closer relation the home and the school that parents and teachers may cooperate intelligently in the training of the child.
5. To develop between educators and the general public such united efforts as will secure for every child the highest advantages in physical, mental, social, and spiritual education.

Mrs. J. P. Kelly read the list of committees needed by an active P. T. A.

The members were divided into groups to discuss and suggest the goals for the year's work. The following aims were stressed:

1. A closer spirit of cooperation between teachers and parents with frequent visitation days.
2. Regular P. T. A. meetings with definite hours and planned programs.
3. Membership with national and state congress of P. T. A.
4. United efforts to improve the lunch room facilities, the school library, and the transportation system.

Mr. Hurt, principal of the high school, expressed his pleasure in returning to Montevallo, and gave a personal request for concentrated unity and effort to promote the welfare of the pupils and the school.

Miss Ethel Harris, social science teacher, read the by-laws of the P. T. A. These, along with the constitution worked out by the committee, were adopted.

The nominating committee submitted the following officers who were duly elected:

President, Miss Mary Woolley; second vice president, Mrs. P. N. Lee; secretary, Mrs. Lena Jeter; treasurer, Mrs. A. L. Little.

The next regular meeting will be September 18, at 7:30 p.m. All parents are urged to attend and support their P. T. A.

First Meeting Of The Study Club

The Montevallo Study Club will hold its first fall meeting Thursday night, September 6, at seven o'clock, at the home of the president, Mrs. L. H. Hubbard.

It will be a supper meeting and the program for the year will be outlined at this time.

Hostesses will be Mrs. L. H. Hubbard, Mrs. T. E. Watson, Mrs. L. C. Parnell and Mrs. M. L. Orr, Jr.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN

Made In Montevallo

Whaley Furniture Co. was showing this week a line of novelty tables made by the new factory of Mr. Eisman in Montevallo. The product is an attractive item of home furnishing and is readily acceptable on the furniture market. Mr. Eisman started operations here July 1 and expects to increase his capacity for production steadily. His factory is located in the Shelby Motor Co. building on highway 25.

Estate of Miss Dennis

Dean Napier, executor of the will of Miss Leah Dennis, will sell the personal property of the deceased at the courthouse in Columbiana September 24. A list of the property is given in a legal notice of the sale in this week's Times. It consists mainly of a widely assorted list of corporate stocks, with several diamonds included.

New Night Police

The Town Council has employed Mr. Horace Bozeman as night policeman of Montevallo. He will take the place of Joe Clark and Howard McGaughey who resigned. Mr. Bozeman assumes his duties September 1. He is a brother of the late Luther Bozeman, former Sheriff of Shelby County.

Improving Streets

The Town street crew has accomplished some fine work on our streets in the last few weeks. An excellent grade of chert has been applied in profuse quantity to many of our unpaved streets. The county road crew did the spreading job last week. This work will pay off when the bad days of winter come.

Epidemic of Boys

The stork must have run out of girls. The boy epidemic continues unabated. We hear of the following the past week: Mr. and Mrs. Fouts Parnell, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lucas, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Chandler.

Teamon's New Store

Teamon McCulley is opening a new grocery store next Tuesday. Formerly Holcombe's, the new name is Superette AG Market. It will be a cash and carry store with all the new and modern features. Mr. McCulley says he is going to bring the price of groceries down in Montevallo, which accomplishment everybody will heartily welcome. Go to the opening next Tuesday and enjoy the trick of the alarm clock in a lard can.

J. A. Brown, Jr. Married

I heard it last week, but didn't print anything about it because it was only a rumor. Now I find it is a fact. J. A. came by the house yesterday and brought the proof in the person of his charming bride, the former Miss Mary Lee Garrett, of Evergreen. She is a senior at Alabama College. Their many friends are extending congratulations and best wishes. That gets 'em all now, except Zanie.

Mayor Walter Patrick of Thorsby died unexpectedly at his home Tuesday.

Mobile, Alabama, is known as "The City of Five Flages" French, Spanish, English, Confederate, and United States.

The old Gerald Home, now the Catholic Loretto Academy, in Montgomery, was in 1865 forcibly established as headquarters for the Federal troops.

On his last visit to Montgomery, April 3, 1825, General LaFayette was entertained by a lavish ball which was held at Freeney's Tavern on the corner of Tallapoosa and Commerce Streets, which has long since been demolished. However, in its place, there now stands a tablet marking the site of Freeney's Tavern.

ON THE FARMS

By B. F. Hatchett and
G. C. Starcher

Hard hit by army worms, many Shelby County farmers resorted to Cryalite applications to control the pest. Others have taken a heavy loss in grazing and hay crops destroyed by the voracious pest.

Damaged pastures will best recover if fertilizer is applied, particularly perennial crops such as Ladino and Fescue, were lightly damaged.

Nitrate applications to damaged fescue will assure grazing until winter clovers and ryegrass can take over.

Most Shelby County farmers are watching the county fair with interest. An annual county agricultural fair, it should be supported strongly by all farmers in particular, as there are direct benefits to them.

Labor Day Travel
Is Tax Bonanza

Labor Day weekend travel on the state's highways is going to mean a $300,000 bonanza in gasoline tax collections for the state treasury, W. B. Timmons, Secretary-Manager of the Alabama Motorists Association estimated today.

The holiday is expected to chalk up a new weekend travel record in Alabama with 508,000 cars on the road traveling some 75,000,000 miles and using 5,000,000 gallons of gasoline, Timmons said.

The state treasury's windfall from the weekend motoring spree will come about through the 6 cent per gallon state gasoline tax. The federal government will take an additional $75,000 from Alabama motorists by virtue of the one and one-half cent federal tax on gas.

Although gasoline taxes collected this weekend will be primarily on pleasure driving, Timmons pointed out that the same rates apply every time a motor vehicle is used, whether for necessary business travel, shopping, taking children to school or pleasure.

Timmons warned motorists to use extra caution over the weekend stating that "by keeping extra alert, giving the other fellow the right of way and by not taking chances, accidents can be substantially reduced."

Hollis Arledge
Is A F Graduate

Private First Class Hollice W. Arledge graduated this week from one of the Air Force Communications schools at Scott Air Force Base, Ill., it was announced by Colonel George W. Pardy, base commander.

Headquarters of the gigantic Air Training Command and home of one of the world's largest communications schools, Scott has trained Pfc Arledge and thousands of other officers and airmen in the installation and maintenance of electronic equipment used in today's global Air Force.

Pfc Arledge, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie T. Arledge, Route 1, Montevallo, graduated from Thompson High School, Siluria, and has been on active duty with the Air Force since December 28, 1950.

Prior to entering the Scott communications school, Pfc Arledge completed basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

Alabama Corn Protected With Pyrenone Insecticide

Feature of the annual farm tour of Reimers Company, at Foley, Alabama, attended by farmers and seed and grain dealers from Alabama and Mississippi, was a demonstration of a new-type insecticide for the protection of corn against infestation. In this photo, Paul Davis, of Atlanta, Ga., is shown discussing the new insecticide, Pyrenone Grain Protectant, while an aide applies the powdery insecticide as the corn is piled into the crib at right. Set up as a permanent exhibit, the crib has an untreated lot of corn at left to serve as a check. Pyrenone Grain Protectant has been demonstrated to give protection to corn for at least one storage season.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN

Street Dance

A surprisingly large crowd turned out for the street dance last Saturday night. About fifty couples squared off for the old fashioned hoe-down and they really polished off about half a block of the pavement in front of Don Lovelady's and Montevallo Cafe. No telling how many soles they wore out — but that was not given a thought. When music like the Valley Rhythm Boys cuts loose, there are lots of feet that can't be still. The merchants who sponsored the event received the hearty approbation of the throng of dancers and spectators, and it seemed to be the universal opinion that the folks want to do it again.

Early Risers

There are some people in Montevallo who get out and stir early in the mornings. They are the ones who have to work to make a living. When I came along the other morning at six o'clock a lady who lives on my street was barefooted on her front porch wielding a brush painting the floor. She said with an apparent sense of embarrassment: "I thought I would get out here early and paint my floor before people got to stirring around—and I do believe everybody in Montevallo has passed here and seen me."

Here Comes The Circus

The Beers and Barnes Circus is coming to Montevallo next Tuesday, September 11. It is sponsored by the Montevallo Post of the American Legion. Commander Mitchell Young says: "The Legion is not sponsoring the circus for the purpose of making money. We are bringing the show here as a favor to the children especially. We believe it is a good clean circus, and the low prices of admission will make it possible for everyone to attend. We know there many children who can never see a circus unless one comes to our own community. The Legion hopes that all children can attend. Of course, we know too that grown folks like to go to the circus. We want everybody to enjoy this event."

Donald Harrison is at home on furlough from the Army. He is stationed at Fort Sill, Okla. He will have 20 days at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George M. Harrison.

Rev. Herschel Day Is Attending Chaplain's School

Fort Slocum, N. Y., Aug. 20—Chaplain (Major) Herschel H. Day of Wilton, Alabama, is a member of the new class of 149 Army and Air Force chaplains which began training here at The Chaplain School at Fort Slocum on July 27. Until the time of his recent call to active duty with the Air Force, Chaplain Day was pastor of Wilton Baptist Church.

The chaplain's effectiveness as a clergyman with the armed forces is due in great measure to the training he receives at The Chaplain School. The school takes the newly recruited chaplain, fresh from civilian life, and prepares him to serve the specialized needs of the military community. It also takes the reserve chaplain veteran of World War II, in civilian status since the close of the war, and prepares him for a return to extended active duty.

The program of the chaplain school is built around one idea—service to the chaplains of the Army and Air Force. It aims to help them accomplish their missions effectively in the field. As one graduate put it, "The school showed me what my job is and then told me how to tackle it."

The Chaplain School was moved from Carlisle Barracks, Pa., to

The Evidence

Above is a picture of Lee Wilson and John Cahoon showing the 34 and 25-lb. jewfish they caught on a recent trip to Panama City. These two are shown for samples. The entire catch they brought back filled Delbert Brand's ice house (according to Lee's statement).

Fort Slocum, N. Y., in April of this year. In its new location it has at its disposal facilities far superior to any that it has possessed in its 33 years of existence.

On completion of the five-week course, Chaplain Day will be stationed at Sheppard Air Force Base, Texas.

Fifth District Auxiliary Will Meet At Clanton

The fifth District Conference of the American Legion Auxiliary will be held in Clanton on September 11th with the Clanton Unit as hostess Unit. Unit Presidents and delegates from the nineteen units in the fifth district will attend the school of instructions held by the President, Mrs. Frank Bunkley, of Mobile, and her department officers.

Mr. Earl Gregory of the Tuscaloosa VA hospital and chairman of the V.A.V.S. will be a speaker at the luncheon.

The National Vice-President will be a featured speaker.

Visiting presidents of the other eight districts will be present.

The meeting will be presided over by the fifth district president, Mrs. Reese L. Woolley, Montevallo. Preparations are being made for the largest district conference ever held in the department of Alabama.

The State Department of Health revealed that tuberculosis killed 819 Alabamians last year, including four in Shelby County.

The announcement was based upon provisional reports prepared by the Department's Bureau of Vital Statistics. These may differ slightly from the final reports not yet available.

New Things Will Interest Students When They Get Back

A new swimming pool, campus lake, faculty clubhouse and art department await freshmen and upperclassmen who will begin to arrive September 8 for the 56th academic year at Alabama College at Montevallo.

The campus, abuzz all Summer with the noises of hammering and bulldozing, has plenty of new sights to offer its students who will begin their classes Sept. 13.

On the main campus, the pool building is nearing completion and will be ready for Fall swimming classes. Large windows, with views of the tennis courts and practice golf course, surround the pool on three sides and the fourth side consists of sliding doors which open to a sunbathing deck in warm weather.

Within walking distance is a 26 acre lake, cleared and filled this Summer and to be used for swimming, boating and fishing.

A rustic student camphouse and a new faculty club building overlook the campus lake. Both clubs will be the scenes of informal get-togethers and square dancing during the crisp Autumn weather ahead.

To provide facilities for an increased interest in art, Alabama College has enlarged its art department, now located in Comer Hall. New studios are larger, well-lighted and equipped for design, painting, drawing and crafts.

Miss Dawn Kennedy, are department head, announces there will be space for the hanging of special exhibits and a browsing room for students using books, magazines and illustrations.

Several new members, coming from as far away as California and Massachusetts, are joining the faculty at Montevallo this September.

They include: Miss Mary R. Carson, Pittsburgh, Pa., assistant professor of physical education; Robert B. Hutchinson, Mount Herman, Mass., assistant professor of philosophy and religion; Miss Mary Ida Flowers, Magnolia, Miss., assistant professor of home economics; Miss Mary Jean Birmingham, Los Angeles, Calif., instructor in speech, and Miss Rosann McLaughlin, Madison, Wis., instructor of modern dance.

To Welcome Freshmen

In its friendly tradition, Alabama College will welcome the freshman class with a get-acquainted program led by sophomores, juniors and seniors.

Upperclassmen come to the campus early to help acquaint newcomers with life in the college world. Parties at the student camphouse, swimming, tennis, golf and the traditional student government reception will welcome freshmen to Montevallo.

Upperclassmen who are chairmen of the welcoming committee to greet freshmen as they arrive on the campus are:

Erlene Decker, Albertville, president of student government; Billie Sue Bean, Northport, president of the student senate; Elizabeth Smythe, Hurtsboro, chief justice of the student court; Jane Sarver, Athens, president of the senior class; Joanne Hixon, Perote, president of the Y.W.C.A.; LaDayne Priester, Opelika, social chairman, and Mary Frances Estes, of LaFayette, president of the recreation association.

Dormitories open September 8th and registration begins September 10th. The first day of classes, September 13th, is also the last day for registration without paying a late registration fee.

WITH SHINING MORNING FACES

(Montgomery Advertiser)

Out swung the school doors yesterday and in went the hope of to morrow with "shining morning faces." Let it be remembered, that, in the words of an office sage, "my fellow citizens, the boys and girls of today will be the men and women of tomorrow."

The parents who packed them to school share the national parental concern over the adequacy of present-day teaching methods.
Some are concerned since the methods differ from those of their school days, and others because of specific, informed criticisms of the system.

Certainly parents should keep a fish eye on teaching methods at all times; the last word never has, never will be, written for teaching is directed at the human mind and nobody knows anything about the human mind. But a problem of more urgency than progressive education and the like is something so simple as physical facilities for schools.

All over America and in the richest of states there is a shortage of school facilities and inadequate pay for teachers. Here in Alabama we have just broken our back in another place by raising the sales tax from 2% to 3%. Despite the added millions thus raised, thousands of Alabama scholars will ride crowded buses to school in sifts and sit down in overcrowded classrooms which handicap them.

A part from that, it would be a happy circumstance if every student could be made to understand in the course of his school days that the mark of a half-educated man is that he is certain of many if not most things, whereas the truly educated man questions all assumptions whatsoever and is certain of very little.

If education has one service above all else to perform, it is the development of the critical faculty.
We can be certain that we were born and in a short time will die.
In between there is little about which the educated man can be certain. Therefore he must be alert and receptive at all times to what may be the excellence of the new.

The Cajans, a group of mixed and undetermined racial origin living in the pine woods north and west of Mobile Bay, are entirely unrelated to the Louisiana Cajans, who are descended from the Acadians of Canada. The Alabama Ca-jans claim descent from early French, English, and Spanish settlers who intermarried with the Indians. Isolated in the deep pine forests from their white and Negro neighbors, set apart by their ambiguous racial make-up, they are a suspicious, aloof people who distrust both races. Denied admittance to white schools and colleges and refusing to go to Negro ones, many of them are illiterate, but the State now operates grade schools for them in three counties.

Gov. Persons To Ask Public okeh On $25 Million Road Bond Issue

(Montgomery Advertiser)

An "aggressive" campaign was promised by Gov. Gordon Persons
Tuesday in an effort to sell his $25,000,000 road bond issue to the voters.

And when the story is told, the governor predicted, "the people will vote overwhelmingly" for it.

The campaign will be carried on with "every means of publicity available," Persons continued — newspapers, radio and some civic club speeches.

But there won't be any widespread stump-speaking tour like Ex-Gov. James E. Folsom used to make, the governor said. There has been speculation that Folsom himself might campaign against the bond issue.

Persons said he already has assurance of support from several organizations, including the League of Municipalities, officers of the Association of County Commissioners and Probate Judges, the Alabama Motorists Association and the Petroleum Industries committee.

Spokesmen for each one have promised him their help, the governor said, but he explained at the same time that the pledges were made "unofficially" and their present decision is always subject to change.

The claim of support from the League of Municipalities brought a prompt denial from Ed E. Reid, the executive director. Reid said neither the League nor himself has announced a stand on the bond issue.

The director said he is convinced however, that not 10 per cent of the elected heads of our city and town governments are in favor of the proposal as of right now.

Persons also said he has changed his way of thinking on the question of a special session of the legislature in the event the bond issue fails. If called back, the legislature would be asked to repeal the $3 auto tag so the highway department would have money to operate on.

Now, however, such action might not be necessary the governor said, because "further studies on our part have indicated one or two other sources of income."

He did not elaborate except to say "we should make some savings from some other sources."

You Think It's Hot? Not Like Butler

Greenville, Ala.—It's pretty hard to beat the Butler County heat, a cording to the Greenville Adv-cate.

The Alabama weekly paper said that farmer J. H. Grant, who lives south of Greenville, this week went out to harvest his popcorn crop.
Just as it has so often been reported by gagsters, Grant brought ears of corn to town which had actually popped on the stalk because of the terrific heat.

And also in the same edition,
Advocate Editor J. G. Stanley, tongue in cheek, reported that the drought had become so severe that fish were kicking up dust in some ponds in Butler County.

ELECTRICITY

Now Available to MOST FARMS in Alabama

Last week was Farm Electrification Week all over the United States. It signified the near-completion, by electric power companies and rural electric membership corporations, of major extensions of electric lines into rural areas.

Farm Electrification Week had special significance in Alabama, because it was in Alabama (in 1924) that the second large-scale (for that time) experiment in rural electrification in the nation took place. (Minnesota's was first, but Alabama's was larger.)

This experiment used rural electric lines built by Alabama Power Company in different agricultural sections of Alabama as the "laboratory." It was to determine for what purposes electricity could be used on the farm. It was conducted by Alabama Polytechnic Institute with funds provided by Alabama Power Company. The experiment was under the guidance of the Alabama Committee on the Relation of Electricity to Agriculture which was formed in 1924. Membership of this committee consisted of representatives of the Alabama Farm Bureau, Alabama Polytechnic Institute and Alabama Power Company. The experiment continued until it was proven that, even with the limited equipment available at that time, extension of electric lines to rural territories could be economically justified. The development of additional types of equipment resulted in broadening the areas to which rural electric lines could be extended.

Electric service now has been extended to most of the farms in Alabama and major rural line construction is approaching an end. It can be truthfully said that in Alabama the boom era of rural electrical expansion was the period between 1924-1951. The job of rural electrification is not, of course, complete. There are, and will continue to be, extensions to be made as development of additional rural areas takes place. Much work is yet to be done to make electric service of maximum value to the farmer and to rural communities. American inventiveness will create electrically operated devices not now thought of.

While the period 1924-1951 has been an era of rural line building, the coming quarter-century should be one of development and increasing use of electric service in rural areas. The success to be achieved during this quarter century can be all the greater if all interested in rural electrification join in mutual effort as did those of the 1924 Committee on Relation of Electricity to Agriculture.

Not Enough Cotton Pickers Available

Montgomery, Ala. — State Industrial Relations Director Joe L. Coleman said that "a dwindling labor supply is facing Alabama cotton farmers with a serious problem in the harvesting of one of the largest cotton crops in history."

Coleman said "the demand for workers in defense industries has made serious inroads on the farm work force." But he said that the State Employment Service was using every available means to recruit workers for the harvest.

"Any worker who is available to pick cotton either full or part time is urged to contact the nearest State Employment Office, where he will be given full information on local conditions. He also urged farmers having difficulty in securing workers to list their needs with local offices.

Coleman said that Alabama's agricultural manpower squeeze for the year will begin later this month and reach a peak in September when many students who have been available to pick cotton will return to school.

During the early days of Alabama, malaria was believed caused by the noxious miasmi floating in the air during the autumn nights, and doctors warned against early rising. Some advised the whitewashing of trees and buildings because it was believed that the alkali of lime neutralized the poison in the air.

It Is Unanimous

Teamon McCulley has raised a question that everybody agrees to unanimously—the subject of lower prices for groceries. And what's more, everybody hopes he will be able to do something about it. Looks from the opening day of the new AG Superette Market that folks are disposed to give him a trial and see how his plan works out. Lower food prices will get the business—that is sure.

Early Doctors

There were many well-trained doctors in Alabama's early days. Among the more prominent in history's lists were such men as William M. Boling, of Montgomery, vice-president of the American Medical Association, and frequent contributor to medical journals; A. Lopez and J. C. Nott, of Mobile; W. A. Welsh of Talladega; LaFayette Guild of Tuscaloosa, and J. Marion Sims, Montgomery, who became America's foremost gynecologist. The Alabama Medical Association was organized in 1847.

Insane Asylum Founded

Urged by the Alabama Medical Association, and other leaders, the legislature of 1851-52 passed an act creating a state insane asylum. It was opened April 5, 1861, under the superintendency of Dr. Peter Bryce, a young specialist in neurology who had been connected with insane hospitals in South Carolina and New Jersey. An appropriation of $100,000 was made to the institution, located in Tuscaloosa.

Henry C. Semple, of Montgomery, who later became a Confederate officer, made himself conspicuous by keeping his house in darkness when the houses of high neighbors were bedecked with lighted candles in celebration of the state's adoption of the ordinance of secession. He remarked that other houses on his street would be in mourning before the end of 12 months. He was right.

Farm Suggestions

By A. A. Lauderdale
County Agent

Since Shelby County farmers are busy picking, ginning and marketing their 1951 cotton, County Agent A. A. Lauderdale this week is listing a few things that will help them get full value for their crop.

"Pick cotton soon after it opens and before it is damaged in the field," says the agent. "The lowering of one grade, from middling to strict low middling, results in a loss of $12 a bale under the government loan program.

"Know the quality of cotton. This information can be obtained through the government classing service."

"Find out what the government loan rate is," continued Lauderdale. "Use the loan, if needed, to get full loan value for cotton or to get needed cash now and still hold an equity in part or all of the cotton. Follow the daily quotations on cotton prices and know what the market is at all times."

Experience shows that the farmers who prepare a firm, settled seedbed and seeds his pasture mixture on time usually gets a good stand.

The greater use being made of rollers to firm the soil at time of seeding is proof of growing interest in better pasture practices. In fact, says the County Agent, never before have so many inquiries been received concerning rollers for firming soil.

Every farmer realizes that water allowed to run downhill carries away topsoil and plant food.

And, warns the County Agent, it doesn't take a "gully-washer" to rob a field of its valuable topsoil. "Bare land, up-and-down-slope row crops, overgrazed pastures and burned woodlands invite rain to carry topsoil away," says Lauderdale. "But sod and cover crops—even crop residue disked into the ground—act like blotters to absorb and hold the water and thus help control erosion."

Therefore, Lauderdale advises farmers to put a blanket of green cover on every acre of naked land this fall.

Fall Army Worm

Two poisons will stop fall army worms in their tracks. They are five per cent DDT and 20 per cent toxophene. If DDT is used, a period of 30 days should elapse after treatment before harvesting or grazing the crop. Twenty per cent toxophene can be safely applied to forage crops and pastures, provided the crops are not harvested or grazed for two weeks after the treatment.

Stretching Feed Supply

To stretch this year's feed supply, farmers are advised to make good use of all grain by balancing it with protein supplements, minerals, and grazing or other feeds, depending on the type of livestock or poultry on hand. Save all corn, hay and other feeds now maturing by harvesting some with livestock and storing the remainder for use later; and produce all the winter and spring grazing that will be needed.

Building Up Soils

The best soils were formed under grass sod, and depleted soils are most rapidly rebuilt and most effectively conserved where good sods are maintained.

Baptist and Methodist churches played an important part in Alabama's secession from the union. The Baptist State Convention in Tuskegee adopted a resolution introduced by Dr. Basil Manley, former University of Alabama president, to the effect that Alabama Baptists were ready to defend sovereignty and independence of the state. The convention was heartily, deliberately, unanimously, and solemnly united on the adoption of this resolution. The Methodists in Montgomery conference resolved that the election of Lincoln amounted to a declaration of hostility against the South and pledged their lives and fortunes for the defense of the State.

Hobson City in the southeastern part of Calhoun County was incorporated before 1900. It was then reputed to have been the only all-Negro municipality in the United States.

A New Plan For State Sales Tax

Montgomery, Ala. — Alabama's new simplified bracket system of collecting the three per cent sales tax approved by the 1951 legislature will go into effect Oct. 1.

And also signed into law this week by Gov. Gordon Persons was another sales tax measure giving merchants five per cent of the first $100 they collect. After that it would be a straight two per cent. The present rate is three per cent for collecting the tax.

By the new sales tax system, every item costing more than 10 cents will be taxed, except those specifically exempted from the sales levy altogether.

The bracket method of collection will be set up as follows:

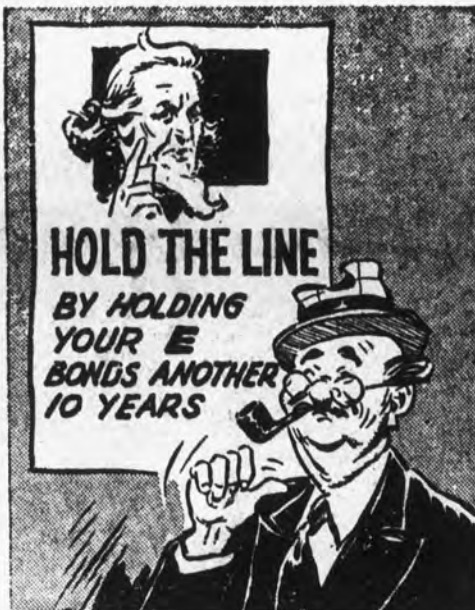

On sales of 11 to 40 cents—one cent tax.

From 41 to 75 cents—two cents.

From 76 to 1.01—three cents.

Above that, the same formula would be allowed. The new bracket system replaces one passed early in the session, starting the tax on sales of 16 cents, the present formula under the two per cent rate.

The system of allowing merchants five per cent of the first $100 collected will work to the advantage of the small merchants, whose tax collections often totaled only a few hundred dollars monthly. This will repay them on the basis of five per cent on their collections, instead of the present three per cent.

In these critical times defense at home and in the field is everybody's job. A most important part of that job is maintaining the economic strength of America. That's a patriotic job every American can perform. Series E Defense Bonds are now a better buy than ever before. Simply hold those maturing E Bonds for another 10 years and you will be better able to buy that home, to educate the young ones, or to retire. It's as easy as that. U. S. Treasury Department

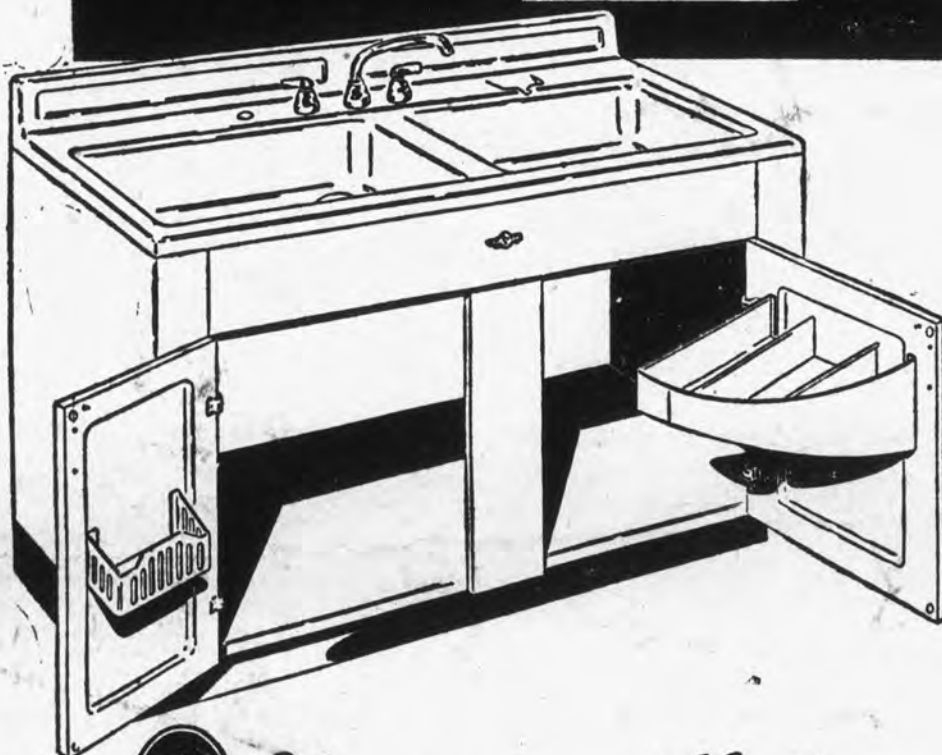

Devotion to country is what wins on the field of battle. Devotion to the American soldier in the field is your job. And there is one big way to show it—your greater purchase of U. S. Defense Bonds. In letter after letter from foreign fields, our soldiers urge their families and friends to back them up with the purchase of Defense Bonds. Prove to them you are behind them. U. S. Treasury Department

Judge Walker Gives Important Information Relative To State and County Licenses

All licenses will be renewable on October 1st, 1951. Privilege licenses will be delinquent on November 1st, and automobile tags and drivers licenses will be delinquent on November 16th.

The price of the automobile tags will be the same as last year. The low price tags will not go into effect until October 1st, 1952. During the busy season, we will not be in position to handle many tags by phone or mail, as it takes quite a bit of time waiting in line to get the cars assessed, paying the tax to the collector, and wrapping and mailing the tags and receipts. Please keep this in mind and come or send by your neighbor sometime during the 6 weeks period you have to get these tags.

Hunting and fishing licenses may be secured at the following places other than the Probate Office:

Nordan Hardware Co., Montevallo; M. C. Sparks, Alabaster; Word's Cash Store, Pelham; Kimbrough's Store, Harpersville; McGraw's Store, Vincent; J. W. Barrett, Calera.

Drivers licenses will be $2.25 and will be issued for a two-year period ending September 30, 1953. All persons who have a 1950-51 license will receive an application for renewal of drivers license from Montgomery. Please do not destroy this form but attach your 1950-51 license to it, sign your name in ink, and bring or send it to this office for your new license. It will save much time when you purchase your license if you follow this procedure. Your 1950-51 license must be surrendered in order to receive the 1952-53 license. To any of you who do not have a 1950-51 license, the driving test is given here Thursday of each week, except state holidays. If you have lost your 1950-51 license, you may secure a duplicate by sending your name, address, date of birth, along with 25c to the Department of Public Safety, Drivers License Division, P.O. Box 1471, Montgomery 2, Ala.

The law exempting veterans from the payment of privilege licenses provides that a veteran may be exempt up to $35 to the state and $35 to the County for a period of 6 consecutive years from the date of the passage of the law (July 6, 1945) or for a period of 6 years from the date of discharge, whichever is later. To those veterans of World War II who had been discharged from service prior to July 6, 1945, and those veterans who were discharged on or before September 30, 1945, the exemption cannot be granted. To all veterans discharged from service on or after October 1, 1945, the exemption may be granted for the full licenses. It is important that the exact date of discharge be known when purchasing licenses.

L. C. WALKER,
Judge of Probate

Important Information For Tax Payers From Tax Assessor, Luther Fowler

Under the provisions of a law recently enacted by the Alabama Legislature, tax payers are not required to meet the tax assessor or to come to his office to assess their property, or claim Homestead Exemption, as they have heretofore been accustomed to do.

The new law provides as follows: The Tax Assessor shall have the right and authority, beginning October 1, 1951, to assess all real estate with improvements thereon and all personal property to the person or persons last assessing same.

Provided, that should such owner make improvements, or should improvements be removed, it shall be the duty of such owner to make a tax return between October 1 and January 1 of any tax year, covering all such changes.

Improvements partially completed on October 1st shall be reported to the Tax Assessor.

Provided Further, that it shall be the duty of any person who has purchased real estate before October 1st of any tax year, to report such purchase and assess such property between October 1st and January 1st.

The Tax Assessor shall have the right and the authority, beginning October 1st, 1951, to credit any person entitled to an exemption, and who heretofore has claimed such exemption, without such person claiming same annually.

Any person who shall have become entitled to such exemption shall make a claim to the Tax Assessor between October 1st and January 1st of any tax year. If such claim is allowed, tax payer will not be required to repeat such claim thereafter.

If on October 1st of any tax year, any such exempted property shall have become subject to taxation, it shall be the duty of those liable for the taxes on such property to notify the Tax Assessor between October 1st and January 1st that such property is no longer subject to exemption.

If the Tax Assessor discovers at any time that property no longer subject to exemption has not been reported to him, he may list such property as an escape.

Should any person making improvements fail to report same, a penalty may be added to the assessed value of such improvements. Note: If any tax payer has a question about the requirements of the new law outlined above I hope he will write at once for such information as he may desire.

I hope the readers of this paper will be kind enough to tell their neighbors who may not take the paper about the new law.

Sincerely,
LUTHER FOWLER,
Tax Assessor

Mr. M. S. McGehee and Moon Thornton will represent the Montevallo Chamber of Commerce at the Bessemer Corn Festival.

Mr. Don Lovelady attended an Army-Navy exhibit in Atlanta Monday, September 10. This exhibit displayed equipment and supplies which the Armed Forces has available for manufacturing contracts to small industries.

The Carpenter Shoe Shop is now under the management of Mr. J. A. Love and Mr. Walter Fancher. The new management is now operating the shop and plan to continue to give first class service on all shoe repair work.

MISS BARBARA JOHNSON

MAID OF COTTON — Miss Barbara Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. P. Johnson, of Montevallo, was selected as Shelby County's Maid of Cotton over several other contestants last week at the Shelby County Fair at Columbiana. Barbara is a graduate of Montevallo High School, and now attends Alabama College. She will represent this county in the State finals at the Alabama State Fair, and is being sponsored by the Montevallo Study Club.

Plans Complete For Housing Project

The Montevallo Housing Authority in answer to the many inquiries concerning the present status of the low rent housing projects for Montevallo, this week submits the following information.

The development program, plans, blue prints and specifications for the project have been completed and approved by the Atlanta Office of the Public Housing Authority and are now in the Washington office of Public Housing awaiting approval. Upon approval by Washington, the project will receive the necessary money to start construction and land purchases.

The plans include 20 white units to be located on 2½ acres of land on the end of Main Street, and 32 colored units on 3½ acres, near the Negro High School. These houses will be row-type, with utilities furnished and will be available for rent only, to low income families in this area.

Try to figure out the quickest way for doing everything around the house. You'll be amazed at how much more interesting your daily chores become.

Montevallo F. F. A. Chapter Starts Year With Membership and Pep Overflowing

Football Season Opens Here On Friday Night

The Montevallo Bulldogs open up Friday night against Calera at 7:30. The Montevallo team is small in number this year, only 28 boys answered the call and four of these stopped.

Alton Smitherman, 208 pound tackle, and Fred Simpson, end, will be out the first game.

Prospects for a winning team at this time are not too bright. 14 lettermen and 9 regulars are lost from last years team, but this year's team has shown lots of spirit.

The line will be heavy and green. The backfield is the weakest part of the team but has shown improvement. Punting will be the poorest since coach Fisher has been at Montevallo.

Calera should be improved over last year's team. Marvin Smith, the Calera principal, has been helping coach Watters with their squad. Mr. Smith has been in the coaching field for many years.

The Montevallo starting line-up will be as follows:

Rochester	R.E.	208
A. Kelly	R.T.	265
B. Kirby	R.G.	187
P. Kelly	C.	214
B. Jarvis	L.G.	150
Milstead	L.G.	190
Reach	L.T.	160
Pickett	L.T.	162
Gentry	L.E.	148
O Neal	L.H.	142
Tensley	R.H.	141
Saunderson	F.B.	165
B. Allen	Q.B.	153

Always allow for traffic in arranging your rooms. Furniture you can't get around without snagging your nylons or detouring is badly placed. At night it can be very dangerous.

Do not soak vegetables before cooking them! This causes loss of vitamins and minerals. Exceptions are Brussels sprouts, broccoli, and such vegetables as must be soaked to get clean.

Blankets require a four-inch suds. All blankets, whether all wool, part wool, or cotton, require the same quick washing treatment as any woolen article—never more than three minutes in a washing machine, and as quick as you can manage it by hand.

Although members of the Montevallo F.F.A. had anticipated an increased membership of only twenty five this year, the goal has been passed and 28 greenhand members have been enrolled. The members are busy this week making plans for the annual program of work and planning the many activities which will be carried on during the year by the chapter. Agee Kelly, president, has already called two executive committee meetings and plans are made for two meetings each month for the entire membership. Charles Daviston, reporter, plans to enter the state contest sponsored for the star reporter of the year. Delmus Anthony, treasurer, looks for 100% dues paid by next week. The boys are working to complete the exhibit which will be one of the five F.F.A. exhibits placed at the state fair this year.

Boys enrolled this year are: Greenhands: Joe Anderson, R. L. Anthony, Bobby Bunn, Frank Brazier, Johnny Bell, Guy Cup, James Cummings, Robert Goggins, C. D. Galloway, Harold Genery, Jamie Houlditch, Lewey Harking, Merrill Hayden, Billy Jack Holcombe, Harry Jarvis, Fred Lucas, Jimmie Rochester, Billy Jo Pickett, Ray Winslett, Jack Lawley, Marshall Nannini, Kenneth Walker, Bobby Roman, Gene Brickett, Allen Robinson, Franklin Edwards, Lewis Wooley, Paul Wooley.

Second year boys are: Carl Allen, Earl Anderson, Bobby Ray Stewart, Jimmie Harrel, Billy Genery, Billy Norris, Earl Compton, William Clark, C. L. Cleckler, Ronald Harris, Terrell Boothe, Bobby Neil Lawley, Lewis Knowles, Jimmy Winslett, Alton Smitherman, Bill Moody, Reece Horton, Harold Pickett.

Dr. Farmer Talks About Blood Bank

Siluria—Dr. Hallie Farmer of Alabama College will discuss the responsibility of this community in the blood bank program now underway in Alabama at the first meeting of the P.T.A. here on Monday evening, September 17, at 7:30 in the community "Y" building.

The Reverend J. S. Bentley will give the devotional. The President, Mrs. W. J. Mathis will announce new committee chairmen and progress made on recently planned activities and projects will be presented to the group.

The program will be concluded with a tea honoring faculty members of the Thompson schools.

Large wall paper designs make rooms seem smaller. They are usually reserved for living-rooms or for foyers where there is little furniture.

SOMETHING TO SING ABOUT — And maybe that's why they sing so well. Known as the Choralteens, this happy group of young singers from the eighth through 12th grades, is becoming much in demand for public appearances. Director Roy Coley is at extreme left, front row. The group is sponsored by The Russell Manufacturing Co., Alexander City, Ala., textile firm.

Chairman Downs Urges Constant Purchase of Bonds

Mr. Roy Downs, Chairman of the County's Defense Bond Drive has announced that the county has a goal of $20,000. The drive runs from Labor Day until October 27, and its principal purposes will be to help keep the economy of this country strong, thus directly aiding the defense effort; help lick inflation which will lick us if we allow it to get out of control; and to help you build financial security for the future.

The Chairman of the drive reminds our citizens that our boys are in the four corners of the world and in training camps all over the country. He said, "These boys are taking the defense of America seriously, but let's remember defense is our job, too."

He pointed out that "the most effective way to increase Bond saving in the present emergency is for every employer, from the company employing thousands down to the smallest business, to offer the Payroll Savings Plan for buying Defense Bonds on partial payments. This is one of the main objectives of the county committee during the drive."

The local committee will also put forth every effort to increase participation in the Bond-A-Month Plan, under which bond buyers authorize their banks to make periodic purchases of bonds from their checking accounts.

The County Chairman said that representatives from the following groups would be working hard to promote the sale of defense bonds in the county: Advertising, Agriculture, Civic Clubs, Banking, Payroll Savings, Women, Retail, and Schools. The Chairman urged those persons already buying bonds regularly to purchase an extra bond during the two month period, adding that, "Now, when our survival is dependent upon our strength, it is important for each and every one to add his share to that strength."

TEA HONORING MRS. BROWN

Mrs. J. A. Brown, Sr., and Mrs. J. B. Higgins entertained at a formal tea on Thursday, September 6 in honor of Mrs. Jadie A. Brown, Jr., a bride of recent weeks.

Guests were met at the door by Mrs. A. C. Jeter, who presented them to the receiving line, Mrs. Higgins, the honoree, and Mrs. J. A. Brown, Sr.

Mrs. Gladys Holcombe was in charge of the bride's book.

Mrs. M. L. Triplett and Mrs. F. M. Peterson presided at the punch bowl. White flowers were used on the tea table, and a color scheme of green and white was carried out in the refreshments.

Assisting in serving in the dining room were Mesdames J. M. Stephens, M. C. Jeter, Misses Margaret Ann Hendrick, Marcia Trumbauer, and Jade Elizabeth Higgins.

About a hundred guests called between the hours 3:30 and 5:30.

Annual Calf Show of 4-H Clubs Is Acclaimed As "The Best Ever Held"

A total of 67 calves were entered by the 4-H boys and girls of Shelby County in their annual 4-H Calf Show. Judges who had expected to finish the judging in a couple of hours found the competition so keen in several classes that they had to recess and come back after lunch to finish up.

Awards in the classes were as follows: Grade Calves, Junior Division and Grand Champion, Sue Milam, Columbiana; Senior Division, Billy Cumberland, Helena; Registered Jersey Calves; Junior Division, First, Ralph Bearden, Helena; Second, Frances Bearden, Helena; Third, Roy Ingram, Wilsonville; Senior Calves, First, Ralph Bearden, second, Doris McNabb, Helena; Third, Frances Bearden; Junior Yearling, First, Shirley Bearden, Second, James Ingram, Third Roy Ingram; Senior Yearling, First, Frances Bearden, Second Ralph Bearden, Third Shirley Bearden; Two Year-Old Cow, Norma Lee Nabors, Chelsea; Three Year-Old Cow, Ralph Bearden, Helena; and Roy Ingram, Wilsonville; Four-Year-Old Cows, First, Frances Bearden, second, Shirley Bearden, third, Rex Perry, Columbiana; Guernsey show, Jackie Shelton, Pelham; junior calf and grand champion, Ashley Jeter, Montevallo; senior calf.

Grand Champion honors were taken by a competent young brunet beauty, Miss Frances Bearden, whose fine four-year-old Jersey won the senior championship then went on to take the grandchampionship title. Miss Bearden, who already had been selected as Shelby County's Dairy Queen on her own good looks and personality, had tough competition to win that grand championship for her cow, however, her younger brother Ralph, and his young Jersey which was crowned the Junior Champion of the show, made it a close decision.

Not only are their animals tops, but such expert showmen have these young farm boys and girls in Shelby become that when it came to the class on showmanship, the judges, John Parrish, extension dairyman from Auburn and Harry Gilmore, Agricultural Agent of the First National Bank, Montgomery, a widely known cattle expert, just couldn't make the decision. Finally it was declared a draw. Norma Lee Nabors, 12, of Chelsea, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee H. Nabors, showing her prize "Sylish Ann" a three-year-old she raised from babyhood and Doris McNabb, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. McNabb, Helena, showing the first calf she had ever owned, both were given "first place". Each girl received a show halter for her calf as her prize.

These 4-H boys and girls will carry their animals to the District Show in Montgomery and on to the State Fair in Birmingham in October.

Montevallo P.T.A. will meet next Tuesday, at 7:30 p.m. in the High School Auditorium. All parents are urged to come.

A Discussion of Tuberculosis in Children By County Health Officer, Dr. Sloan

The Health Department has frequently received letters from parents of school children, expressing concern that children from a family in which some member is suffering from Tuberculosis, are allowed to attend school.

These letters are mostly anonymous and it is, therefore, not possible to reply to them and allay the fears of the writer.

It is a function of the Health Department to exercise close surveillance over the children, as well as all other household contacts, of a Tuberculosis case. These are skin tested or X-rayed or both at regular intervals and are visited in the home, by the Public Health Nurse, from time to time.

The childhood type of Tuberculosis, or primary infection, most often consists of a small or larger Tuberculous process in the lung tissue with enlargement of the adjacent lymphatic glands near the root of the lung, much as one would have a "kernal" under the arm from an infection on the hand.

In the vast majority of cases this primary infection heals, leaving a small scar or calcification in the lung and some calcified lymphatic glands. These individuals will have a positive tuberculin skin test and it is estimated that about 10% of them will eventually develop rein-fection type Tuberculosis.

In some cases, while the process may appear to be healed, there are still living Tuberculosis germs present, especially in the glands. These may lie dormant for many years. If for some reason the individual's resistance is much lowered such as malnutrition or the development of some intercurrent infection such as Influenza or Measles, the Tuberculous infection can become reactivated and the adult type of Tuberculosis develop. This can also occur if a fresh infection takes place from without. This is reinfection Tuberculosis which is uncommon in childhood.

The childhood type Tuberculosis is rarely, if ever, communicable but the child so affected should have special care to maintain proper nutrition, get plenty of rest and receive an adequate amount of the vitamins as contained in Cod Liver Oil, especially during the winter months.

When hanging rayons other than dresses and blouses, use no clothespins. Hang over the line or on hangers. Always hang rayons in the shade—not the sun. Rolling in a heavy towel is often sufficient preparation for ironing.

"A Bird in the Hand . . ."

This is Alabama Industry Week. Its purpose is to invite to the attention of Alabamians the importance to each citizen of industries already located here. The industries already located in Alabama are the industries which today lay the golden eggs of payrolls and taxes. How they fare, and how they are regarded, has a large bearing on the decision of other industries to locate in Alabama.

Materials, adequate help to process them, markets, transportation facilities, suitable plant sites and other things are important. Many communities in many states can compete equally in these fields. Often, however, when a location for expanding or for a new industry is under consideration, the decision sometimes rests on a report of the community's regard for existing industry. If the report is negative, and assuming that the existing industry merits regard, the new industry sometimes decides to go elsewhere.

Any community's existing industry (the bird in the hand) is worth many prospective industries (the birds in the bush). But the "birds in the bush" often are influenced by what happens to the "bird in the hand." If what happens is pleasant, new industries want to share the experience.

ON THE FARMS OF SHELBY COUNTY

On the farms of G.I. farm trainees Joe Smith and Maurice Poe, near Columbiana, coastal bermuda grass planted in June, is meeting across the four foot middles between rows. This growth has been made in spite of the severe dry weather since planting.

It is entirely possible that this grass, introduced into Shelby County by the North Central Soil Conservation District, will become very popular. As was the case with Ky. 31 fescue, several small plantings will be studied in actual field use, and its place in local grazing programs determined before widespread use is encouraged.

Fescue, for instance, has grown in favor to such an extent that the first 50 pounds of seed brought in by your district and the S.C.S. five years ago has led to 13,700 pounds being requested on P. and M.A. purchase orders alone this year for planting in Shelby County. Other sources, including thousands of pounds grown here and being planted back on the farms, will more than double that amount. Sample plantings for which ground is already prepared include S. A. Murry 14 acres, R. W. Kent 50 acres, J. O. Brady 14 acres, Maurice Poe 25 acres, M. B. Bates 10 acres and others.

The Montevallo American Legion Post No. 96 will sponsor a dance Saturday night, September 15, at 7:30 p.m. at the Legion Hut. Music will be by the Valley Rythm Boys and the public is invited.

Public Health Local Office At Town Hall

When the City Hall in Montevallo was completed, members of the Town Council made available a room to be used by the Health Department as a branch office.

Furniture for the office was furnished by the American Legion Auxillary and members of this club have assisted with publicity and other detail work needed.

This office opened May 4, 1951, and has been open each Friday afternoon from 1:00 to 4:00 since that time, with members of the Health Department present to render services as requested.

From May 4 through August 31, a total of 206 visits were made. Of these visits there were 53 white and 153 colored.

Services rendered were:

Immunizations	169
Expectant Mothers	8
Blood Tests	12
(of these 4 were premarital)
Visits by midwives for supervision	8
Miscellaneous Visits	12

Conferences regarding diet and general care were held with the mothers of all infants and preschool age children who came to the office for immunizations, and pamphlets suitable to each age group were distributed.

The office will continue to be open each Friday afternoon from 1:00 'till 4:00 and an effort will be made to reach more people in the future.

William N. Lee Studies Aircraft

Glendale Calif.—William N. Lee, son of Mrs. W. R. Lindbloom Rt. 1 Calera has arrived at Cal-Aero Technical Institute for a 36 week course in aircraft maintenance.

William will take the intensive technical course along with more than 600 other airmen as part of his specialized Air Force training.

The course includes basic mechanics, repair and overhaul of aircraft engines and maintenance and operation of aircraft under flight line conditions.

The young airman was assigned to Cal-Aero as part of an extensive Air Force program calling for technical training by civilian contractors.

Cal-Aero, which trained more than 7500 mechanics and 25,000 pilots for the Air Force during World War II, was one of two schools in the country selected to participate in the first postwar reactivation of this type of training.

Cal-Aero is located on its own 200 acre airport, Grand Central Air Terminal, in the heart of the Southern California aircraft industry, just a few miles from Los Angeles.

William is a graduate of Montevallo, High School.

Miss Georgie Leeper Died Here Monday

Miss Georgie Leeper, who served under four presidents of Alabama College as manager of the supply store and postmistress, died Monday afternoon, September 17.

Miss Leeper, a native of Columbia, was educated at Agnes Scott college and came to Montevallo in 1911. When she retired last spring, faculty and students joined in a recognition program in her honor.

She was the daughter of the late Judge John S. Leeper and Eleanor Woodruff Leeper of Columbia, and is survived by one niece, Miss Frances Leeper of Centerville, and two nephews, Eugene D. Reynolds of this town and Captain John L. Reynolds of New York City.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at 3:00 p.m. at the Montevallo Presbyterian Church with Dr. Henry C. Niles officiating. Burial was in the Centerville Cemetery, Brown-Service directing.

Deacons of the Montevallo Presbyterian Church served as pallbearers. Elders of the Church were honorary pallbearers.

AAUW Plans Tea For New Comers

The annual AAUW newcomers tea will be held Sunday afternoon September 23 from 4 till 5:30 at the home of Mrs. Frank Morgan.

The regular September meeting will be held Tuesday September 25 at 7:30 in Reynolds Hall. Miss Jeanette Niven chairman of the Social Studies Committee will be in charge of a program on Civilian Defense. Everybody come Sgt. Wilton E. Kendrick and family, of Selma spent last week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Feron Moore. He has been made recruiting officer at Selma, coming from Fort Bragg, N. C.

It was just about 25 years ago, July, 1926, when Will Rogers spoke his most famous line—"I've never met anybody I didn't like." And the place he picked to make that Christian statement was Moscow.

MARY R. CARSON

New Assistant Professor of Education at Alabama College is Miss Mary R. Carson. Miss Carson, who did her graduate work at the University of Pittsburgh, also attended the University of Glasgow, Scotland. Her graduate work was done at Smith College. She has traveled in England, France and Germany, and was in the Women's Army Corps during World War II, and has had considerable scouting, camping and YWCA experience.

Renewed Interest In Fish Ponds

J. L. Crapps, near Montevallo, is planning construction of a farm fish and stock pond. His dam site will be staked out this week, following first studies of the soil character, watershed area, and topography. S.C.S. supervision will be available to him throughout the construction.

Other ponds are underway in the county, showing renewed interest in this phase of conservation farming.

One of the nicest sites is that being developed by Dr. McCullough, Birmingham child specialist, on his farm at Dunnivant.

Recent rains are helping refill ponds whose waterlevel had fallen because of the protracted drought.

While not specifically related to conservation, it is note worthy that Shelby County will supply four of about thirty agricultural booths at the coming state fair.

Booths will be presented by the Montevallo F.F.A. chapter, the G. I. trainees, the Shelby County High School F.H.A. girls, and the 4-H clubs of the county.

The 64 dollar question in Shelby County these days is: Who's got fescue?

Better buy it where you find it fellows.

The Waldseemüller map, drawn in 1505, is the oldest known map to show the outline of Mobile Bay, though records do not disclose what navigator first saw it. The first written record of Mobile Bay was that of de Narvaez, Spanish explorer, who landed on its shores in 1528. Not until 1559, however, was any attempt made to colonize the area when Tristan DeLuna, sent by the Viceroy of Mexico, established a Spanish settlement there but it was abandoned two years later and the colonists returned to Mexico.

The reason they call it middle age is because that's where it begins to show first.

Montevallo PTA Monthly Meeting

The Montevallo P.T.A. met in the High School Auditorium September 18 at 7:30 p.m. with Miss Mary Woolley presiding. Group singing was led by Rev. Edward Glover. Rev. Charles Presswood had charge of the devotional.

After the regular business was conducted, some of the P.T.A. members gave reports on health, membership, and the progress of the new cafeteria.

Dean Napier discussed the current practice of gambling in school sports. He stressed the complexities of child guidance today due to the constant shifting of the population.

The members of the faculty were introduced by Mr. Hurt.

Refreshments were served, and a social hour enjoyed by all.

The next meeting will be October 30, at 7:30 p.m. in the High School Auditorium.

Christmas Lighting Gets C of C Support

The Montevallo Chamber of Commerce held its regular meeting at the city hall Monday night at 7:30 p.m. The Chamber voted to work with the Montevallo Study Club this year in providing Montevallo with a more attractive system of lighting during the Christmas season. Mr. M. S. McGehee reported on the Bessemer Corn festival which he and Mr. M. Thornton attended last week to represent the Chamber of Commerce.

Other items of business to come before the Chamber were: The sign at Alabaster and the furniture factory.

Mrs. J. B. Margolis is now making her home in Montevallo at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Sam Klotzman. We extend our sympathy to Mrs. Margolis and Mrs. Klotzman in the death of Mr. Margolis at his home in Montgomery on September 6.

MRS. FLORENCE INGRAM

Mrs. Inghram Is Dean of Residence

Mrs. Florence Barnes Inghram, former assistant dean of women at the University of Illinois, Urbana, Illinois, will be the new dean of residence at Alabama College, this Fall.

She succeeds Miss Jean Day, who is resigning to accept a position at Northwestern University.

Mrs. Inghram, a native of Iowa, is a graduate of the University of Iowa and holds her master's degree from Teachers College, Columbia University.

She served as social director at Pomona College, Claremont, California and counselor at the Women's College, University of North Carolina, Greensboro, before going to the University of Illinois in 1948.

The new dean of residence will work with Alabama College students as an adviser, in social planning and with the Student Government Association.

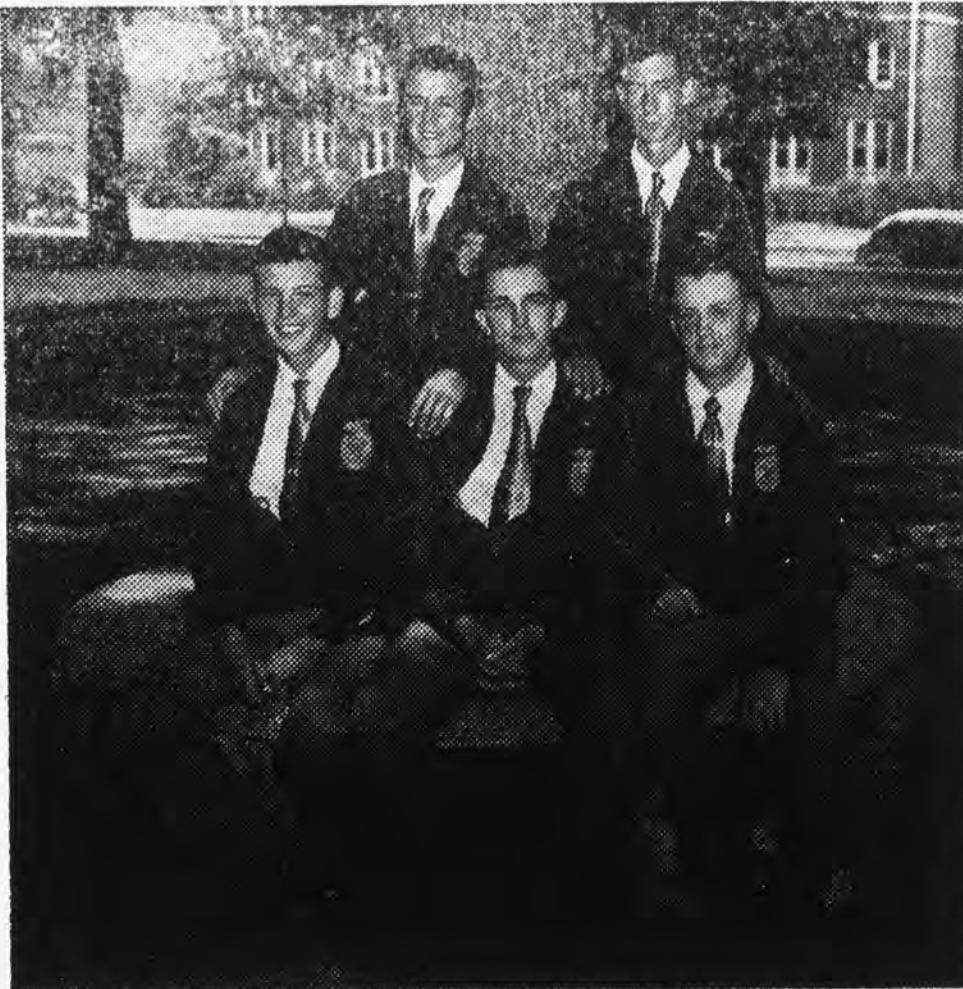

She is a member of Kappa Delta Pi, the National Association of Deans of Women and the North Carolina Education Association.

Mrs. Strong Died Monday Night

Mrs. Sallie Fancher Strong died in Jackson, Tenn., Monday night. Funeral services were held at 2:00 p.m. Wednesday at Montevallo Baptist Church.

Mrs. Strong formerly lived in Montevallo. Her home at the time of her death was in Brewton.

She is survived by two brothers, Burr Fancher, of Selma, and P. D. Fancher, of Kentucky.

College Enrollment This Year Is 658

Despite a decrease in college enrollment over the nation estimated variously at 15 to 25 percent, there are 658 students on the Alabama College campus this year as school opens. This is a figure well over that anticipated by college authorities.

In commenting on the enrollment Dr. John T. Caldwell, president of Alabama College, said, "Based upon our experience during the mobilization period 1941-42 and the smaller high school graduating classes in 1951, we expected a possible drop of 10% in enrollment at Alabama College for 1951-52.

Happily we have opened our doors with an excellent enrollment, off only five percent from last year. The number of transfers to other institutions is the smallest in five years.

October will be a particularly active month on the Montevallo campus with both World Culture series and concert and lecture series programs getting into full swing.

Elite Night spotlights selection of campus beauties and favorites is October 27. Official opening of the new twenty-six acre lake and completion of the new California-type indoor-outdoor college swimming pool are also planned for October. The Montevallo Times edition of September 27, will carry full information on concert and lecture and world culture series programs.

Montevallo Wins Season Opener

The Montevallo High School football team under Coach Theron Fisher won the season opener with Calera High School 21 to 0. The game was played at Montevallo Friday night. The Montevallo team, averaging 190 pounds in the line, got off to a slow start but did manage to score in the first period. The heavy Montevallo line began to wear the Calera team down and scored twice in the fourth period.

This week Montevallo will play Thompson High at Siluria at 7:30 p.m. Friday night. The Thompson Warriors defeated Parrish High in the opener at Siluria last week. Thompson is considered dangerous in the person of their quarterback Davenport, a scat-back whom many of Thompson's previous opponents have respect for.

Enough Of Soap To Last A Year

Mr. Don Lovelady of the Central Alabama Auto Parts this week announces that he will give away a case of Tide soap to every purchaser of a Thor washing machine. Don estimates that this is a full year's supply of soap. In addition, he will give a box of Tide to every person he demonstrates the Thor washing machine to. See the Central Alabama Auto Parts advertisement for further information.

Photo Display In Comer Hall

A group of 33 large photographs of ancient Egypt now on display on the second floor of Comer hall, will remain on exhibition through September 25.

The photographs are a loan from Time-Life, and are sponsored by the Social Sciences Division of the College.

Friends of the college are invited to see the display during the remaining days of the exhibit.

Sloan Warns Of Dangers From Being Over Weight

The time honored custom of using average weight scales for adults, which allowed a step by step increase in weight for each age group, is not an accurate guide to the desirable weight.

The cause of this increase in weight for each age group is the fact that the individual continues to consume the same amount of food while physical activity decreases.

The present scale is based on the desirable weight at 25 years of age, this depending on the length of the trunk in relation to total height, breadth of shoulders, musculature, and other factors, and any increase in weight beyond this age is undesirable.

Excess mortality increases with the degree of overweight. Those with 20% overweight show a mortality rate one-third higher than average, in those with 50% overweight the mortality rate is practically double that for average weight.

Overweight of a substantial degree puts a very real strain on practically all vital functions of the body. This is indicated by the earlier development of disease of the heart, kidneys and blood vessels. The death rates from liver and gall bladder diseases and from appendicitis are substantially higher than in those of slighter build.

The most stiking penalty for overweight is diabetes. The death rate from this disease, in those 25% or more overweight is eight times as high as among average weight persons.

There are many striking examples of the benefits to health from proper weight reduction by overweighs. This can readily be achieved but should be done slowly and under the supervision of your doctor.

Various fad diets are to be avoided as they may give rise to serious deficiencies in some necessary food elements.

No medication of any kind should be taken except under your doctor's order and under his continued guidance.

Farm Suggestions

By A. A. Lauderdale

A good swap for Shelby County cattlemen who grow cotton is cottonseed for cottonseed meal—ton for ton, in many instances.

"And present prices paid farmers for cottonseed and prices received by farmers for livestock and livestock products make this seed-for-feed trade favorable," says County Agent A. A. Lauderdale.

"The outlook for supplies and prices of feed and the market demand for milk, meat, and other livestock products indicate that feeding cottonseed meal obtained by such an exchange would return the cotton grower more profit than selling cottonseed direct."

Lauderdale reminds cattlemen that cottonseed meal is a concentrated feed, carries a high percentage of protein, and should be carefully balanced with other feeds for best results.

Shelby County cotton growers can expect staple length of this year's cotton crop to run slightly shorter than the 1949 and 1950 crops.

This is due to extremely dry weather during the latter part of the growing season.

Variety and moisture conditions during the growing season are the major factors that determine staple length. Practically all of the cotton acreage in the state this year was planted with seed of varieties that have been tested by the A.P.I. agricultural experiment station and found to, normally, produce staple lengths of one and one-thirty-second and one and one-sixteenth inch. But, in extremely dry years the staple length may be reduced to one inch.

On the brighter side, the slight loss in staple length will be offset by better grades. Thus far wether conditions have been favorable for more middling and higher grades.

*****

Overcropping with clean-tilled crops such as cotton, corn and peanuts has damaged cropland on most farms in the state.

With this fact in mind, County Agent A. A. Lauderdale reminds farmers that legume cover crops help protect soil from erosion and leaching in the winter, increase yields of crops that follow, and furnish grazing for farm livestock.

So, for the good of your family your livestock, and your land, mak the old farm green this winter.

Clover-Grass Pasture Tip

Farmers have learned that the most important things in succeeding with clover-grass permanent pastures are preparing a good seedbed, using the right amount of lime and fertilizer, and planting a good mixture of seed on time.

Good Eating At Low Cost

Turnips, rutabagas and greens will furnish good eating at low cost in the late fall when most fresh vegetables are gone.

Order Pine Trees Now

Orders for pine trees needed to put idle acres to work this winter should be placed now. Farmers who wait until winter to order seedlings will find the supply exhausted.

Several Changes Are Made In Welfare Payments

Montgomery — State Welfare Commissioner Dr. Bill Dorrough has called attention to a number of bills passed by the 1951 legislature which will affect public welfare.

By the new laws, to become effective Oct. 1, 1951, all funds for welfare now will go through the state department. This means no city or county funds will be used for matching state and federal money.

Checks to people receiving welfare aid will be mailed from the state office in Montgomery.

Payments to needy will be on the same basis statewide. This means that the same per cent of need will be paid in each category in every county. In other words, two people whose unmet need is the same and are in the same aid category will receive equal payments even if they live in different counties.

People who move from one county to another will get the same payments as long as their unmet need does not change.

Obviously aid payments will be raised in some counties and lowered in others, Dorrough said, because in the past the per cent of need met has varied among counties and among categories.

All county welfare staffs will be under the State Merit System, he added.

Present employees under the merit system council for welfare departments will be blanked in under the state merit system. County boards, however, will still appoint county personnel. There will be local registers also.

County welfare boards may review all welfare cases under the new law.

Dr. Dorrough said that many county boards will change membership under the new law, with no elected officials allowed to serve on county welfare boards, or any relatives of welfare employees or elected public officials to serve on welfare boards.

No candidate for an elected public office may serve on a welfare board either.

By the law, certain relatives are now legally responsible for contributing to the support of needy people.

The welfare department must find out if needy people eligible for welfare aid have relatives able to support them. Legally responsible relatives are named as the husband or wife, parents, and children.

The welfare department must deny or reduce aid to people if their relatives are able to support them, by the new law.

Commissioner Dorrough pointed out that the law fixes a scale for the department to use in deciding if relatives are able to support. The scale varies with a person's income and the number dependent upon it. Half of what a person makes over the amount in the scale and up to $50 must be considered available to the needy person. The maximum required contribution is $50.

A great many open minds could stand closing for repairs.

Some Suggestion For Health - Saving

Some nine million persons in the U.S. are handicapped by some form of heart disease. Many of our ablest men and women are being stricken while still in the prime of life. Today heart disease stands above all other causes as the number one killer.

Industry does what it can to conserve its manpower. Physical examinations during employment or periodic check-ups detect the presence of heart trouble in its early stage. Not so with the homemaker. She carries on her job without a qualifying physical examination, so her disability seldom is discovered until her condition has reached a critical stage. Then the damaged heart must be relieved by operation or prolonged rest.

In general homemakers do not make any great effort to save themselves effort and energy.

Here are some health-saving suggestions:

Every homemaker should have a physical check-up at least once a year.

Reduce work in the home through careful planning of all home activities.

Simplify all jobs of homemaking.

Reduce number of steps required to do the job.

Rearrange equipment into more convenient work centers.

Eliminate heavy lifting, high reaching, and stretching.

Use correct working heights.

Sit down to do as much as possible, such as ironing and preparing food.

Learn new habits of work which will conserve energy.

Caldwell Urges Integrity As Greatest Need

Students and faculty of Alabama College were urged to let this be a year of integrity by President John T. Caldwell at the first formal convocation of the year yesterday.

Pointing out that integrity is a great national need, Dr. Caldwell analyzed the ingredients of integrity, wholesomeness, moral soundness, freedom from dishonesty and corruption.

"Since the founding of this college," he told the 56th Montevallo freshman class, "we have conferred 3,459 degrees. This is a college of integrity, and our reputation rests on the fine performance of our graduates."

President Caldwell, who begins his fifth year this Fall, pointed out that it has never been possible to draw a contract tightly enough to bind a scallawag. "Our own free society," he said, "depends not on our ability to make contracts and laws but on the integrity of the individual. Integrity is evident in our representative form of government and in our party system based on loyal opposition."

"Integrity," he declared, "includes the principles of religious tolerance and freedom. It is the quality which holds families together."

In linking education with his theme of integrity, the president noted that enlightenment, open-mindedness in learning and in teaching, and respect for truth are the very essences of scholastic integrity.

"No idea will be forced upon the unwilling mind of the student; every mind will be encouraged to open up and find the truth; there will be no indoctrination, but certainly there will be enlightenment for students here," he said.

"Enemies of this great principle of integrity are many," he continued, naming materiality and greed, false estimates of success, the principle of winning at any cost, overweening personal ambition, resentment, hate, envy, jealousy, fear and ignorance."

Last and most sinister of these enemies is self-righteousness, which, he said, "leads us to condemn our brother, then to slander and libel him and bear false witness against him."

Dr. Caldwell told students that honor systems in colleges "rest on the integrity of the individual."

Students, faculty and citizens over the nation who are time wasters or who waste the resources before them are victims of the enemies of integrity the president pointed out. In conclusion, he stated his belief in Alabama College as a college clothed in integrity.

To become part of this great tradition, Dr. Caldwell urged every student to be true to his own best self.

He gets a picture of the weather by Long Distance

Tomorrow's weather is on the wires today for the forces which guard this Nation's skies and shores.

Today the largest Long Distance network of its kind brings them detailed "isobar" weather charts around the clock.

These charts are sent by a system known as "facsimile" from the Weather Analysis Center in Washington, D. C. There, an electric eye scans the weather "picture" as it turns on a special drum. The signal waves produced go out over thousands of miles of wire to military installations throughout the country where the picture is automatically reproduced.

This weather network was designed and completed in less than two years. It's another demonstration of the importance of Long Distance lines to the security of the Nation—especially right now, when there may be stormy weather ahead.

MORE EXPENSIVE MOTORING

In the recently announced higher automobile liability insurance rates, car owners are paying for three things.

They are paying for the fast, bad driving which has brought about an increase of 22 per cent in accidents during the past year, and a 23 per cent increase in resultant injuries.

Motorists themselves, if they would, could do something about this.

Secondly, car owners are paying for that general inflation which makes wages lost and the cost of recovery from injuries higher.

Motorists themselves can do little about this, except in their general role of citizens, in which they should realize that inflation is never a one-way street, but a process which always takes away as much as it gives, or more.

Thirdly, car owners are paying for the new trend in car design. The days when a dent in the fender was a dent in the fender have gone. The type of accident which used to be a minor mishap, requiring the expenditure of a few dollars, has now become a matter of hundreds of dollars. This is because the fender itself is now a part of the body sweep of the car, contains the lights, and because grillwork, when it is damaged, is very expensive to replace.

The accident repair industry, with the advent of the present design of car, has become a major industry, and it is financed largely out of liability insurance premiums.

Whether the motorists could or would choose to try to do something about this we don't know. We should think, however, that no matter how much they may like the present appearance of their cars, they must sooner or later seek some deliverance from the repair cost angle.

It all adds up, however, to the fact that there is only one direct way for motorists to avoid a continued increase in the insurance cost of motoring. That would be to hang up a better safety record.

And the chief factor in an improved safety record would be a lower average rate of speed on the state's highways. — The Manchester, Connecticut, Evening Herald

Alabama Highlights

Local tradition says Bayou La Batre, west of Mobile Bay, received its name because Jean Lafitte kept a heavy battery mounted on its shore. Here his ships landed under protection of these shore guns, and the crews were allowed to go to Mobile and spend their gold. Chests of booty were reputedly buried beside the bayou, and many treasure hunters have sought them during the past century.

Of the 565,000 white people in Alabama at the beginning of the War between the States, 33,730 were slave owners. The large slaveholder, considered typical of the South before the war, was in reality a rarity. Most of the 435,000 slaves were held in small groups of 5 or 6 to an owner and only 34 planters in the state owned more than 200 slaves each.

During the first year of the Civil War, Alabama was free from invasion and at no time during the remainder of the war was a major battle fought within its limits.

William Wyatt Bibb, Alabama's first governor, was a graduate of medicine, was elected both to the house and senate in the Georgia Legislature, when he resigned. He was then appointed governor of the newly formed Alabama Territory. Shortly after his election as state governor he died in office.

A bronze tablet marks the pew where President Jefferson Davis worshipped in St. John's Episcopal Church in Montgomery. Bishop Nicholas Hamner Cobbs, previously rector of St. Paul's Church, Cincinnati, served as rector until he died just before the opening of the War Between the States. When federal troops entered Montgomery the commanding officer remembered Bishop Cobbs as his former minister in Cincinnati and ordered a special guard placed about the church.

Four Alabama governors, Hugh McVay, Robert M. Patton, Edward Asbury O'Neal, and his son Emmett O'Neal, two rear admirals, John Hood and Richard Harrison Jackson lived in or near Florence, Alabama. The town was planned by Ferdinand Sanona, young Italian surveyor, born in Leghorn, near Florence, Italy. In recognition of his competent work, the company asked him to name the development and he chose Florence, in honor of the Italian city.

Montgomery—Gov. Gordon Persons has issued a proclamation authorizing the state revenue commissioner to issue rules and regulations requiring only one car license.

First step in the procedure was a bill passed by the 1951 legislature empowering the governor to issue a proclamation declaring a state of emergency making it reasonably necessary to reduce the number or types of tags.

Third step in the procedure will be for the revenue commissioner to issue the rules and regulations. The 1952 tags, Oct. 1, will be blue with white numbers.

Tip To Homemakers

Good floor care insures lasting beauty and less work for the busy homemaker, according to Marian Cotney, home demonstration agent.

She points out that daily cleaning with a vacuum cleaner or a mop will keep floors free of dust and dirt. However, the mop should be treated to pick up dust easily. To do this, soak a clean, dry dust mop in a solution of equal parts of self-polishing wax and water for three minutes. Then squeeze it and allow it to dry.

For more thorough cleaning, the old wax will have to be removed. A long-handled mop equipped with removable steel wool pads works fine. Use it to apply a good floor cleaner to a small area, then wipe off the wax and soil with a cloth. Go over the entire floor this way, then finish with a clean cloth moistened with cleaner.

Miss Cotney does not recommend using soap and water on wood floors. Too often they discolor the wood and raise the grain. If floors must be washed, use a mild soap with warm water and apply the water sparingly.

A stitch in time may save more than nine. It may save a whole dress, blouse, or other expensive items of clothing or household goods.

"The time to take that stitch is before articles go into the wash or out to the dry cleaner," warns Marian Cotney, "little hole or tear that can be mended in a moment may grow big in just one laundering or cleaning. Such damage often means a difficult repair job."

Said the parking meter to the automobile driver: "If you've got the money, honey, I've got the time."

Northern Alaska

An abandoned land of approximately 70,000 square miles is northern Alaska, from the towering ice peaks of the Brooks mountains to the Arctic coast. Two or three generations ago it contained a population of more than 3,000 nomad caribou hunters. They were exceptionally tall Eskimos with apparently a strong Athabaskan Indian intermixture. Now a single group of less than 40 is left alive.

Glazed Chintz

Social Security Is Explained

In order for you or your family to receive benefit payments, you must be insured at the time of your retirement at or after age 65 or at the time of death. You may be fully or currently insured or both, depending on how long and when you worked in employment covered by the Social Security Act.

Technically, the length of time you work in covered employment is not measured in years but in 3-month periods called quarters of coverage. The law divides the year into 4 quarters beginning January 1, April 1, July 1, and October 1. You gain a quarter of coverage for each quarter in which you receive wages of at least $50 in covered employment or for which you are credited with at least $100 of covered self-employed income. As soon as you have made $400 or more in self-employment income in a year, you gain 4 quarters of coverage for that year.

You are fully insured for life if you have 10 years or more of covered work. However, many workers who are now already near age 65 will not have an opportunity to work that long under the system (particularly if their job was not covered until 1951), nor would young workers who die at an early age have a chance to work as long as 10 years. Therefore, the law permits these workers to become fully insured in less than 10 years.

All persons who die after August 31, 1950 and before July 1, 1954 will need only 6 quarters of coverage to be fully insured. In addition, all persons who become 65 years old before July 1, 1954 will need only 6 quarters of coverage. All persons who do not fit these two rules will need at least one quarter of coverage for each two calendar quarters that have passed after 1950. If you are fully insured, both retirement and survivors' benefits may be paid.

In case you should die, your widow and children receive benefits even if you had not been employed one-half of the time between December 31, 1950 and the date of your death. In death cases, it is only necessary for you to be currently insured—that is, to have worked at least a year and a half in the last 3 years before your death—in order for your survivors to be eligible for payments.

Game Hunting Season Changes

Montgomery, Sept. 14—Alabama hunters will find some changes in the 1951-52 resident game seasons approved by the State Conservation Advisory Board, according to Conservation Director Earl M. McGowan. Because of the customary Thanksgiving Day opening of the quail season, an extra day will be gained. Due to the spotty squirrel population, 15 days have been cut from that season.

Bag limits on resident game are the same as last season: Quail, 10 a day or in possession; squirrel, 6 a day or in possession; pronged antlered buck deer, 1 a day, 2 per season; wild turkey gobbler, 1 per day, 5 for combined fall and spring seasons; rabbit raccoon, o'possum, no bag limit.

Resident game seasons: Quail, November 22 to February 20; squirrel, north of U.S. Highway 80, October 15 to December 15, points south of U.S. Highway 80, November 1 to January 1; deer (in specified areas), November 20 to January 1; turkey gobbler, fall season (in specified areas) November 20 to January 1, spring season in specified north Alabama areas March 25 to April 20, in specified south Alabama areas March 20 to April 15; rabbit, October 15 to February 20; o'possum and raccoon, October 1 to February 20. Closed season on alligator and bear.

"Pursuit of Happiness" By Barter Theatre Opens Concert Series Here October 1st

Things weren't so different during the American Revolutionary days, as demonstrated by James Lentz and Blanche McKinney in this scene from the world-famous Barter Players production of "The Pursuit of Happiness." This comedy will be presented here Monday night.

The sparkling comedy, "The Pursuit of Happiness" produced by the Barter Theatre of Abingdon Virginia, opens the 1951-52 Concert Lecture Series at Alabama College next Monday, October 1.

The American comedy by Lawrence Langner and Armina Marshall Langner, the couple who head New York's Theatre Guild, stands as one of the Guild's most successful comedy offerings. A musical version of the play, "Arms and the Girl", with Nannette Fabray and Pearl Bailey, was one of the three musical comedies that scored as solid box office on Broadway two seasons ago.

A period piece set during the American Revolution, its aim is clearly outlined in the first scene: namely, laughs—lots of them. This is the play that re-established colonial "bundling" as part of our folkways in the minds of American theatregoers.

The new production is most notable in the fact that it brings Owen Phillips, the triple-threat man who serves as director, executive, and actor in the Barter colony, to his fans in all three capacities. He not only directs and acts, but is also company manager of the group. As Captain Aaron Kirkland of the Connecticut Militia, he is the only member of the original tour in the cast list.

Other members of the cast are: Jim Davie as the young Hessian soldier, Elinor Wright as Prudence, Dorothy LaVern as Comfort Kirkland, Kenneth Brumbelee as Thad Jennings, James Lentz as Colonel Mortimer Sherwood of the Virginia Lighthorse Cavalry, Herman Coble as Reverend Lyman Banks, Blanche McKinney as Meg, Frank Lee as Mose, and Jim Grubb as a Son of Liberty.

Thompson Downs
Montevallo 20 to 6

Thompson's candidate for All-State honors, James "Peanut" Davenport, led the Warriors to their second win in as many starts when they downed Montevallo 20-6 last Friday night.

Thompson scored in the second quarter and twice in the third quarter. Montevallo scored in the fourth quarter.

Thompson's first score came on a pass from Harris to Davenport that covered 47 yards. Davenport took the ball in on the 25-yard line and went the remaining distance untouched for the score. Earl Wilson's kick was good.

Thompson's second touchdown came in the third quarter after driving in eight plays after the kickoff from Thompson's 30-yard line. Bill Davenport scored on a three yard plunge over center. Earl Wilson's kick was good again.

Again in the third quarter, David Butler raced 18 yards down to Montevallo's 17-yard line, and on a reverse trap play, Harold Davenport went the remaining distance for the score.

Montevallo scored the fourth quarter on a pass to Rochester, big left end of the Bulldogs, who lateraled to Crow who scored. The play covered 27 yards.

Thompson will meet Columbiana on Friday night at Siluria.

MRS. MARY H. WHATLEY

Mrs. Mary H. Whatley of the Social Science division of Alabama College, will attend the Southeastern Regional meeting of the American Public Welfare Association to be held in Nashville, Tennessee, on September 30 through October 2, 1951.

She is on the program as secretary to a group discussing "Training for Social Work". The topics she will summarize for this group are: (1) "The School's Responsibility for Training Supervisors and Administrative Staff"; (2) "The Hollis Report on Education for Social Work."

Concert - Lecture Series For 1951-52

The Concert and Lecture Committee announces completion of plans for the 1951-52 season and the list of attractions is an outstanding one for Montevallo.

Opening production of the year is Barter Theatre's "The Pursuit of Happiness" gay comedy of the Revolutionary War era. This play was made famous a number of years ago by Frances Lederer, star of stage and screen. Owen Phillips will be seen in Montevallo in the part which Lederer played.

On October 26, violinist Giovanni Bagarotti will present the second event of the year. Mr. Bagarotti has been featured as guest artist with a number of the nation's major symphony orchestras.

March 7 brings the well-known duo-piano team of Whittimore and Lowe to the Palmer stage. Critics have placed this pair at the top in duo-piano virtuosity.

Soprano, Rose Bampton, will make her second appearance in Montevallo when she visits the college on March 13. This is during the Honors Scholarship weekend and high school students from over the state will have an opportunity to hear Miss Bampton's fine singing.

Two other events, Lecturer Roscoe Drummond and the Birmingham Symphony have been scheduled, but dates have not been set.

Both will be included in the regular 1951-52 series.

REV. EARL STALLINGS

Rev. Earl Stallings, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Ocala, Florida, will conduct the revival services at Montevallo Baptist Church October 14 to 21.

Miss Ethel Marshall Gives First Lecture

MISS ETHEL MARSHALL

Miss Ethel Marshall of the Social Science Division of Alabama College presented the first full lecture in the World Culture Series on Tuesday of this week in Palmer Auditorium.

A specialist in geography, Miss Marshall discussed the importance of the Middle East in world affairs, its population, its natural resources, and the effect of the terrain on the peoples of this area.

Tax Adjustment Board Is Named

State Revenue Commissioner Joe M. Edwards this week announced the appointment of the Board of Tax Equalization for Shelby County as follows:

Robert Lee Roy, Siluria; E. M. Young, Columbiana; L. B. Riddle, Columbiana.

W.S.C.S. Holds Business Meeting

The regular monthly business meeting of the Womens Society of Christian Service was held at the Methodist Church, Monday night at 8:00 o'clock.

Mrs. M. Thornton led the devotional, reading inspiring scripture and poetry. Mrs. A. E. Baumgartner, president, conducted the business session.

Despite the rain, thirteen members were present.

Four Shelby Groups To Exhibit At The State Fair

Four Shelby County groups are going to present exhibits at the Alabama State Fair, the strongest representation from one county in the agricultural section.

The Montevallo F.F.A. club is presenting, in graphic form, the poultry project that netted one club member over a thousand dollars in a year for about one hour's labor per day. The boys have built a striking display and hope to equal the first prize brought home by Elvin Hill and his Shelby High F.F.A. club in 1949. The group drew huge crowds with their working model of a soil conservation farm.

Columbiana Future Homemakers taught by Miss Lightsey will have a study in contrasts in right and wrong use of picture windows. The girls are busily at work constructing three dimensional stage sets about three fourths life size, and realistically arranged.

The Shelby County Veterans Agriculture Trainees are constructing an educational exhibit with the central idea of the value of selling finished or semi finished products from the family farm, rather than bulk raw materials. The part various members of the family can play in grading and packing produce, the feeding-out of livestock on farm grains and grasses, and the proper utilization if soils types will be indicated.

The County 4-H'ers under Miss Cotney and Mr. Clark will have a booth but the theme of the display is top secret. This group can always be counted on to make a fine showing.

County visitors to the State Fair, will do well to visit these booths in the agriculture building near the main gate and "Kiddieland".

Methodist Youth
Meet Each Week

The Methodist Youth Fellowship group have been busy recently redecorating their room at the church. They have venetian blinds and new drapes at the windows and new lighting fixtures completely installed.

This interesting group of young people meet each week, with excellent programs. Mrs. M. L. Triplett, counselor, and Mrs. Joe Doyle, superintendent of youth of the W.S.C.S., meet with them each Sunday, reporting the wonderful work being done by these young women and men.

These young people decided to celebrate the completing of their decorating project by cooking their supper in the church kitchen last Wednesday night. Although Mrs. Triplett and Mrs. Doyle were there, they prepared supper for themselves. Judging from the menu, which was fried chicken breasts, creamed potatoes, English peas, tossed green salad, iced tea, hot rolls, lemon and chocolate pie, one would say that there are some excellent cooks among the group.

Nineteen people enjoyed this delightful church supper, and plan to repeat it soon.

A news story from the West Coast the other day told of a patient biting the dentist. I suppose that's what the doctor must expect when he asks for an impression.

What Became Of Hattie I. Pope?

Last week I stated that Hattie I. Pope was still in the penitentiary. I am informed by Judge J. O. Middleton that this is a mistake, but that Mrs. Pope was fully pardoned some four or five years after she began serving her sentence in the penitentiary. Mr. M. D. Foshee, then Circuit Clerk, further informs me that Mrs. Pope died, probably in Texas, some twenty years ago. J. O. Middleton and Tipton Mullins defended in the case, and Judge Pierson, then presiding, commented that it was the most able defense he had ever witnessed.—Clanton Union-Banner

Mines At Marvel Closed Down

It is with deep regret that we report the closing down of the Roden Coal Company mine at Marvel Monday. The mines there have been losing money for some time. Mr. B. F. Roden, President of the Company made the Union Committee a proposition on a new working plan, that would keep the mines open, but the Committee rejected the proposition, according to a company official, therefore the union contract was turned in by the company in Birmingham Monday. Plans are being made to close the mine down permanently. Mr. Roden has been operating the mines there since 1907. Approximately 250 men will be out of work. This mine has provided one of the largest payrolls in Bibb County for almost fifty years, and the loss of this payroll will greatly affect the economy of the entire county.—Centreville Press

Do You Like To SMASH FENDERS?

Fool the driver behind you: come up to the crossing fast when the amber light is on, then after the fellow behind has decided you're going on through stop suddenly! You'll probably smash some fenders and earn the reputation of being a discourteous driver.

Mrs. Peterson On Study Committee

The State Board of Education has announced the names of persons constituting the course of study committee, consisting of 14 prominent Alabama educators, recommended by the State Superintendent Terry.

Among those in the elementary school group of the committee is Mrs. Charlotte Peterson, of the Montevallo school.

The function of the course of study committee, under an act of the 1951 legislature, is to determine which subjects are to be taught in the public schools of the state.

Houston Alexander Severely Burned

A 52-year-old Ensley workman was in serious condition Monday suffering from electrical burns.

Houston F. Alexander, of 1724 32nd Street, Ensley, was admitted to Jefferson Hospital after a transformer exploded at a local industrial plant. He was burned from the waist up, nurses said. They described his condition as "only fair"

Mr. Alexander was formerly a resident of Montevallo.

Dr. Upchurch Died In Clanton Monday

Clanton, Sept. 24 — Edgar E. Upchurch, prominent Central Alabama businessman, died here today after a long illness.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the First Baptist Church.

Mr. Upchurch lived in Clanton for the past 50 years. During his long stay here, he identified himself with many business, civic and church activities.

He was owner and operator of the Upchurch Drug Co., and for many years, was president of the First National Bank of Clanton.

Surviving are the widow, Mrs. Rhoda Latham Upchurch; a daughter, Mrs. Walter L. Bentley, Springfield, Tenn.; a son Dr. Samuel E. Upchurch, Birmingham; four grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Thompson Booth At State Fair

The Thompson P.T.A. will run a concession booth at the Alabama State Fair October 1-6. This project is being carried out in cooperation with the vocational agriculture department of Thompson High School.

We welcome all people to come by and enjoy hot dogs, hamburgers, cold drinks, coffee and doughnuts.

Circle One Met Monday Night

Circle I of the Womans Society of Christian Service of the Montevallo Methodist Church held their September meeting Monday night in the home of Mrs. M. Thornton, Mrs. Vic Williams was co-hostess.

Mrs. Joe Doyle, Circle Leader, called the meeting to order, and presided during the business session.

Mrs. M. S. McGehee was program leader for the evening, introducing the guest speaker, Miss Ethel Marshall, who made an interesting talk on "Religion and Economics."

Fourteen members and the guest enjoyed a delightful social hour with the hostesses at the conclusion of the program.

Zone Meeting Of W. S. C. S.

The W.S.C.S. of the Montevallo Methodist Church were hostesses last Friday to the women of this zone, which held its fall meeting at Methodist church.

The zone leader, Mrs. M. L. Triplett, called the meeting to order. Rev. M. L. Triplett, pastor of the hostess church, conducted the devotional service of the morning. Miss Harriett Nesbit, music chairman of the Wesley Foundation and student at Alabama College, was organist.

A short address of welcome was given by Mrs. A. E. Baumgartner, president of the Montevallo W.S.C.S.

Mrs. Kate Cook served as secretary in the absence of Mrs. Dick Martin, of Calera, who is zone secretary.

Mrs. Triplett presided at the business meeting, at the conclusion of which, she introduced the district president, Mrs. L. B. Lollar, Fayette Alabama.

Mrs. Lollar introduced the district officers present, Mrs. Saeuger, Tuscaloosa, Missionary Education; Mrs. Chapman, Tuscaloosa, Christian Social Relations; Mrs. Loftis, Tuscaloosa, Spiritual Life; and Mrs. Cannon, Berry, Literature and Publications.

Each of the District Officers gave interesting and inspiring talks during the day, emphasis being on the study courses for the year.

Lunch was served at 12:00 noon in the dining room of the church.

During the time between the luncheon and the afternoon session the visitors were taken over the entire church, which has been completely redecorated and improved. They were deeply impressed with the beauty and cleanliness of the building and the interesting note of color used throughout the church. The Montevallo W.S.C.S. members felt a keen sense of pride in their church, and took pride also in telling the visitors of the wonderful work done by Mr. Robert DeSear in making the church a thing of beauty. His selections of colors throughout the church are most pleasing to the eye and his interest in overseeing the complete project has been most inspiring to everyone.

It has been the custom of this zone to give a baby "Life Membership" to the first baby born following the last zone meeting. This honor went to the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lovelady, born June 6th, to whom we extend our congratulations and best wishes.

The meeting adjourned following an invitation from the W.S.C.S. members of Camp Branch Church for the next zone meeting. The date to be announced later.

WANTED—I would like to buy a good substantial organ or piano stool, paint or varnish doesn't have to be good, but must be substantial. J. A. Love, at old Carpenter Shoe Shop. 2t

Mrs. Ross O. Baldwin, Sr., Mrs. Ross O. Baldwin, Jr., and Miss Dorothy Baumgartner, of Columbus, Ga., were guests of the Petersons, Claytons, Mays and Baumgartners over the week-end.

Rev. and Mrs. M. L. Triplett will entertain the Board of Stewards of the Methodist Church at a dinner Tuesday evening, October 7, at 7:00 o'clock at the parsonage.

Mr. Bernard B. Mitchell of Charlotte N. C. was the week-end guest of his parents Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Mitchell.

Bernard is a representative in the Traffic and Sales Department of Eastern Air Lines in Charlotte.

Chub Catch
The chub catch is up in the Lake Michigan-Green bay waters. It ran at 2,500,000 annually in four years prior to 1949 and amounted to 3,700,000 pounds last year.

Bigger, Better Package of Service

...yet up in price far less than most things you buy!

A DOZEN EGGS is still a dozen, and a pound is still a pound. But the "package" of telephone service you buy grows larger and larger.

TODAY IN ALABAMA, you can call nearly three times as many local telephones as you could ten years ago. And the service is better. Yet with all this extra value, Alabama telephone rates in the overall have gone up less than half as much as prices in general.

ALWAYS ONE of your biggest bargains, telephone service is today an even better buy than it was ten years ago . . . and a smaller part of your family budget.—Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company.

S. H. YOUNGBLOOD, Alabama Manager

So Big in Service . . . So Little in Cost

World Culture Series Begins Fourth Year

The World Culture Series, distinctive educational feature of Alabama College at Montevallo, begins its fourth year with an intensive study of the Middle East.

The program will bring outstanding speakers, films on the Middle East and panel discussions to the stage and screen of Palmer Auditorium at 11:00 a.m. each Tuesday.

A former member of the General Staff in Washington, now professor of history at Vanderbilt University, Dr. Henry Lee Swint, will give a general orientation lecture on problems in the Middle East.

During World War II and more recently, for a brief period, Dr. Swint served as a specialist on the Middle East and reported to the Chief of Staff. Dr. Swint will discuss the importance of the Middle East and the problems this area presents.

On October 30, Denis Greenhill, First Secretary to the British Embassy in Washington, and their expert on the Middle East, will lecture on British interests in the Middle East.

On November 27, Charles F. Zukoski, Jr., a Birmingham banker and chairman of the Birmingham committee on foreign relations, will speak on the question "Does the United States Have a Foreign Policy? If so, What is it?"

On January 15, Robert Hutchinson, Associate Professor of Religion at Alabama College, will talk on Mahammedianism. His lecture will be accompanied by a short film on the subject.

Robert Payne, Professor of English and Author-in-residence, at Alabama College, and a recent visitor to Persia will lecture on the arts, cities and temples of Persia on January 8.

Payne is the author of the recent book The Young Emperor.

Dr. Sloan Warns Against Malaria

Alabama has been practically free from Malaria the past several years. There was a time, in the not distant past, when Malaria, or "Chills and Fever", was very common and caused much disability.

A number of cases of Malaria in service men returning from Korea, where the disease is very prevalent, have been reported.

The two things necessary for the occurrence of outbreaks of Malaria are (1) an infected individual and (2) the presence of the Anopheles mosquito which carries the infection from the patient to one or more uninfected people.

Prevention consists of thorough treatment of the patient and thus eliminating the source of infection and in preventing the breeding of the Anopheles mosquito.

This mosquito is particularly apt to breed in artificial ponds and lakes and after development into the adult mosquito, will range as far as one-mile from its' breeding place.

The necessity of control over these ponds is therefore apparent.

Any pond larger than one-tenth of an acre automatically comes under the State Health Department's regulations which govern the construction and maintenance of these impoundages.

Persons who contemplate the construction of a pond must apply to the County Health Department for a preliminary permit which will authorize him to prepare the basin and construct his dam. At the same time he will receive a copy of the regulations and any assistance this Department can give. After the area is prepared an inspection is made by County Health Department personnel and if the area is found to be in compliance with the regulations, the recommendation to the State Health Department is made that the owner be granted a permit to impound. Only after this permit is granted can the pond area be flooded.

DR. E. F. SLOAN
County Health Officer

FOOD SALE

The W.S.C.S. of the Methodist Church will sponsor a food sale on Friday September 28 in the church dining room. Cakes, pies, cookies, candy, fresh eggs and chickens. There will also be a supply of home canned products.

Thompson P. T. A. Holds Meeting

Attractive year books for the Thompson P.T.A. were issued at the first meeting of the year in which committee chairmen and members were announced. A $1,200 budget was presented which will provide for stop and caution lights in front of the school plant on the highway, for a network of sidewalks about the entire school plant, and for a complete drainage system for the playground area of the schools.

Robert H. Johnson, Principal, spoke on the subject "Parents and Teachers as Partners." To the larger membership present Mr. Johnson gave assurance that the high school would very soon become a probational member of the Southern Association of High Schools and the goal is permanent membership in that organization.

The following members are serving on committees: William McFarland, Mrs. Leon Barton, Mrs. Albert Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Payne, Mr. Jeff Butler, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Benefield, Mrs. A. H. Holbrooks, Mrs. R. L. Swiney, Mrs. Garnett Lacy, Mrs. Berle Brannon, Mrs. Ulysses Hale, Mrs. B.B. Coffey, Mrs. Thomas Cairns, Mrs. Harry Jones, Mrs. O. B. Ross, Mrs. L. H. ## Congressman deGraffenried Working To Get Very Best Price For Cotton

Representative Edward deGraffenried today joined with fifty-six other southern congressmen in urging the adoption of the following program for the marketing of the 1951 cotton crop:

"The cotton farmers of America, in response to a call from their government in the name of national defense, have produced a record crop for 1951, now being harvested. Unless coordinated action is taken by the cotton farmer and the government, however, the reward for this patriotic demonstration of American productive power is likely to be financial penalties to be borne by the producer.

At a time when the cost of cotton production are the highest in history, the price has declined ten cents per pound. Urgent steps are needed to develop a stable market, and to offer hope for a better price.

Those of us who represent the cotton farming areas have initiated steps by the government designed to improve the demand for cotton, but these various actions will have no full cumulative effect until well beyond the normal marketing season. The one weapon in the hand of the farmer is the withholding of his cotton from the market until a fair price is reached.

Cotton can be withheld from the market in an orderly fashion, without undue risk for the farmer, by placing it in the loan program with the Commodity Credit Corporation. All major farm organizations representing cotton producers have urged that farmers take advantage of this program.

As representatives in Congress of the cotton farmer, we want to urge all cotton producers to join this program for orderly marketing. If every cotton farmer will place half of his crop in the loan as it is picked and ginned, or otherwise withhold it from the market, there is real hope that the price can be improved. The operation of the market during the first months of the harvest season indicate the withholding program has been of considerable benefit. If the move spreads, the farmer will have made the most effective use possible of the price support structure which the government has provided."

Representative deGraffenried stated that he had urged the stockpiling of cotton by the Munitions Board and the lifting of export quotas by the secretary of agriculture as a means of stabilizing the declining price of cotton. The department of agriculture has announced the lifting of export quotas, which the congressman stated, should ultimately be reflected by an upward trend in the cotton market. The congressman in an interview stated, "The cotton farmer is having to pay the price ceiling limit on everything he purchases and I am going to do everything I possibly can to obtain for him the best possible price for his cotton".

Civil Service Jobs Open For Painters

The Board of Civil Service Examiners for the Alabama Ordnance Works, Childersburg, Alabama, announced an open competitive un-assembled civil service examination for the positions of Painter, WB Grade 11, and Painter Helper, WB Grade 5. Salaries range from $1.45 to $1.68 per hour for painter, grade 11, and from $1.23 to $1.42 per hour for painter helper, grade 5. This examination is announced to obtain personnel on an indefinite basis to assist in the national emergency.

Applications from qualified persons in this community are invited. Persons appointed from this examination will work with the Alabama Ordnance Works.

Further information is available at your local Post Office.

Regular Meeting of Wesley Foundation

The Wesley Foundation held its regular weekly meeting at the Methodist Church, Sunday evening at 6:45. Miss Mary Ann Nabors was leader for the service, "The Hall of Heroes," given in Tableau. During the service the lights in the church auditorium were turned off, and a spot light turned on a large white cross. She was assisted in the presentation by Miss Angeline Poarch, scripture; Miss Ollive Ruth Aretrey, reader; Miss Betty white, lights; and Miss Harriett Nesbitt, music. A large group was in attendance.

The girls have planned a "Spend the Night Party," at the College camp house, for Friday night.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN

Judy Carol

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Nordan have a new baby girl, born September 22. Her name is Judy Carol. The mother and baby have returned home from St. Vincent's Hospital and are doing fine.

I take it as a gesture of both sympathy and admiration on the part of a good friend who has nominated the editor of The Times as "The grandfather of the year." I think I will win that distinction, hands down. I now have 5 grandchildren (4 boys). Two of them are the 1951 model — and the final score for the year is not yet tabulated.

My, What A Change!

He walked into the shop, all dressed out in the handsome uniform of Uncle Sam's Air Force. I looked, blinked, took off my specs, rubbed my eyes, and looked again. Yes, it was Edgar Fain. I reached for his hesitant hand and gripped it in admiring wonder at the change that has been wrought in the person of him who somehow managed to survive and grow up here as a hopeless underprivileged Negro boy.

"Wick" In Korea

The Times has received a letter from "Wick" Mitchell in Korea. He says: "We are not doing much these days — just going on a few patrols and standing guard at night. The Chinese have not hit our lines in over forty days. Hope this war will be over soon so I can come home and see you all."

"Red" Mahan

Our town barber and otherwise substantial and admirable citizen, Stanley Mahan, has received appointment from Governor Persons as a member of the Board of Registrars of Shelby County. The appointment of Mr. Mahan will receive the hearty approbation of his many friends and acquaintances throughout Shelby County.

Misses Ethel Rasmussen, Bettye Myer, Mary Birmingham, Cordilia Lundquist, Vivian Gallaway, spent the week end at Gulf Shores, where they enjoyed fishing and sightseeing.

"Old Eagle Eye"

Our old friend, Walter Fancher (called "Eagle Eye" by Clyde Davis because he was such a sharp proof reader), has finally finished his part of fighting the wars and settled down to business in his old home town. Walter is now owner and operator of what was for many successful years the Carpenter Shoe Shop. We hope Walter enjoys many years of success in the business.

Truth In Advertising

T. J. Farlow, the sign painter, believes that business firms should advertise, and that their advertising should tell the truth and not be misleading in any sense. His sign on the side of his truck is an example. It says: "Farlow's Sign Shop and Service Station, Calera—Road Service, if it ain't too fur."

Dr. H. W. James

The many friends of Dr. H. W. James were glad to see him on a brief visit to Montevallo this week. Formerly head of the Education department of Alabama College, Dr. James has been for the past fifteen years president of the New Mexico State Teachers College at Silver City.

Monthly Bible Study Class

The Women's Society for Christian Service had its first Bible study class of the Fall study series at the Methodist Church on Monday afternoon at 3:30. Pastor M. L. Triplett is teaching the course. The study is on the Book of Acts. A large group was present for the beginning of the study which will include twelve class sessions of one hour each.

The class is conducted on the first Monday of each month. The members of other church groups in the community are cordially invited to come and join in the study. The pastor asks that each one bring a Bible to class. The date of the next meeting is November 5, at 3:30.

Sr. High School Essay Contest Sponsored By A.I.A.

Birmingham, Sept. 21 — Plans for an essay contest on "What Industry Means to Alabama," sponsored jointly by the Associated Industries of Alabama and Birmingham Southern College, have been announced by D. Trotter Jones, Executive Vice President of A.I.A.

The contest will be open to the Senior Class of each high school in the state of Alabama.

There will be two groups of prizes, one to the winners from schools located in Jefferson County and another to the winners in schools located outside of Jefferson County.

The two top winners in each group will receive a two-year scholarship to Birmingham Southern College, making four scholarships in all. The two third-place winners will receive award of $100 in cash. Fourth place prize is $50 cash in each group. Also additional cash awards of $25 will be given to the next four winners in each category.

An additional cash prize of $100 is being offered this year to one teacher in each of the two groups that handles the essay contest in the high school with the largest percentage of the senior class participating in the contest. In case of a tie, the awards will be made to the teachers who have the largest number of winners of the above prizes.

All cash prizes are to be contributed by the associated industries of Alabama, with the four two-year scholarships being contributed by Birmingham Southern.

Written announcement and application blanks have been mailed to all superintendents and principals of Alabama Senior High Schools, Mr. Jones said.

Better Schools For More Children

Mr. G. S. Smith, supervisor of instruction in the Cullman county schools, was the guest speaker at the Shelby County teachers meeting on October 4. Subject of his talk was "Better Schools for More Children."

Mr. Smith proved able and well qualified to discuss this subject. He served as superintendent of the Lamar County schools for thirty-five years, and is recognized as an outstanding educational leader in Alabama.

Home Clubs Set Up 1952 Program

Shelby County Home Demonstration Clubs have set up their program for 1952.

The demonstrations will be: January, The Band Around The Can Of Food; February, Family Games; March, Make Your Home Tasks Easier; April, Storage; May, Secrets to Smart Sewing; June, Cake Baking; July, Accessories For the Home; August, Family Picnics; September, Care and Use of The Sewing Machine; October; Gifts From The Preserving Pot; November, Textile Painting; December, Using Handbooks.

Would You Like A Comic Opera?

Would you like to have a Comic Opera in Montevallo on March 28? Will you be willing to help produce it—without cost? Will you act or sing, or assist in production?

If there is sufficient enthusiasm for such a production, the College Theatre will produce one with the Townspeople of Montevallo and the Faculty of the College and High School.

If you are willing to co-operate, please call (4676) or write W. H. Trumbauer, within two weeks.

The Pete Givhans Entertain Teachers

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Givhan entertained the members of the High School faculty and their wives, with a barbecued chicken supper, at their camp last week. About thirty-four enjoyed a delightful evening.

Congratulations to these fine young patrons of the school for this recognition of the teachers and this courtesy extended them. If more of this were done, the teachers in our schools might feel that the parents of Montevallo appreciated more fully the work they are trying to do with our boys and girls in helping to develop good American citizens.

HONOR STUDENT

June Harrison, daughter of James I. Harrison, Columbiana, College of Arts and Sciences, University of Alabama, was on the Dean's list of 184 honor students for the summer session.

Montevallo's lovely Maid of Cotton, Barbara Johnson, is in Birmingham this week competing with other contestants for the state crown. Maybe next week we can boast the State Maid of Cotton.

We noticed quite a few folks at the first Concert-Lecture Series program Monday night. The Barter Theatre production of Pursuit of Happiness proved to be a great success.

Places Are Open For Young Men In Coast Guard

Congressman Edward deGraffenried announced that the nationwide examination for entrance to the United States Coast Guard Academy, New London, Connecticut, will be held on February 18-19, 1952.

The number of cadets selected each year depends upon the needs of the service. In 1952 approximately 200 young men will be appointed; therefore, to gain admittance to the Academy, a candidate must not only pass the examination, but must pass high enough so as to be assured of selection. Examinations will be held in Alabama at Birmingham, Montgomery, and Mobile.

"Graduates of the Coast Guard Academy's four-year course," Mr. deGraffenried stated, "receive a commission as ensign in the United States Coast Guard and a Bachelor of Science degree in Engineering."

Mr. deGraffenried urges all young men who are interested to write to Coast Guard Headquarters as soon as possible, since the necessary papers will have to be completed by January 1, 1952. He stated there is no limit on the number of candidates coming from any single area, as there is with reference to the Military and Naval Academies.

"Young men who take the examinations must be between the ages of 17 and 22, American citizens, and in excellent physical condition. They must show proof of their good moral character and standing in the community," the congressman said. "Minimum educational requirement is a high school diploma, although high school seniors who will complete their course at the end of the year are eligible to take the competitive examination, if they will have the necessary credits upon graduation." These credits include mathematics, English, physics, and other high school subjects which are standard.

The examinations, which are given over a two-day period, include achievement tests in English, social studies, mathematics, science, and aptitude and ability tests.

The Tuscaloosa congressman said that applicants who are interested in careers as commissioned officers in the Coast Guard should write to the Commandant, U. S. Coast Guard, Washington 25, D. C., requesting further information.

Congratulations to Red Mahan on his appointment to the Board of Registrars. We are happy to know that Montevallo is still in Shelby County—or are we?

IDIOTS ON THE HOOF

(Montgomery Advertiser)

Tuesday we drove to Birmingham, having occasion most of the way to reflect on Gov. Persons' announced purpose of diminishing Alabama highway slaughter. The highway was clogged with fools, morons, idiots and imbeciles—and that, we supposed, was essentially the problem confronting the Highway Patrol.

Just this side of Clanton we saw a Highway Patrol car. This patrolman took what struck us as a fool chance by passing an a hill. It was not a spectacular example of reckless driving, but a borderline case. Nevertheless, it was a poor example to set.

Soon afterward, we saw a bus balling the jack down the highway between 70 and 75, passing cars fast enough to develop a sway.

We saw an idiot in an old black Ford with purple tail lights passing a line of cars on a blind hill at a high rate of speed. He is not dead simply because no car was coming from the other direction.

Repeatedly cars were to be seen passing on hills and curves. In so doing they were hazarding their lives and those of any approaching motorist.

It is an appalling thought that you are utterly at the mercy of a fool passing on a hill. It simply passes understanding why a man will pass on a hill or curve.

In any event, as we drove coming and going to Birmingham, it seemed to us that there was no mystery about why the pulp of hundreds of Alabamians is splattered on our highways. They invite death.

It seemed further to us that some headway could be made against the accident toll if patrolmen incessantly churned up and down such highways and popped it to every motorest they saw passing on a hill, etc. The news of arrests and fines would not be long in getting around.

The fact is, the doubled drivers' license fee is going to enable the state to increase the Patrol force and make war on these reckless drivers.

Of the idiot who passes on the hill it might be said that it is better to go on and permit him to kill himself in order that he will not reproduce his kind. This form of eugenics, alas, is precluded by the fact that these imbeciles are likely to take you with them when they go to their reward.

Coal and iron are known as Alabama's "big twin" minerals. The largest coal field, the Warrior, covers 3,000 square miles: southeast of it is the Cahaba, occupying 386 square miles: the Coosa field, east of the Cahaba, occupying 345 square miles.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Grady and daughter, of Chicago, are guests of his mother, Mrs. Emma Grady, and family.

MAJOR SQUIRM

Here is a clipping from the Southern Lumber Journal, sent me by J. M. Massey, the Florence lumberman, which nearly everybody in Alabama, except Ben Ray and his feller Trumanites will enjoy:

A tall Texas cowhand wuz conversin at the bar with a fat feller, and all uv a sudden the cowhand smacked the fat chap rite on the nose. Bystanders rushed up and asked the fat boy how cum he got smacked.

He replied: "I dunno: I wuz talkin politicks with him and he hit me. He was then asked what he had said to incite the Texan. He replied: "I just said that Truman had raised taxes."

At that, the slugger profusely begged the fat boy's pardon. "It was all a mistake, podner," he said. "I misunderstood you. I thought you said Truman wuz raised in Texas."

Predict Tiny TV Tubes Will Oust One Now In Use

GARY, Ind. (NPC)—Television is on the march. New components and other developments are on the way through invention and research. Progress is inevitable, declares National Patent Council, so long as the American Patent System continues to offer the incentive to invent and produce.

Television is stepping along, and the sets of today will make way for the sets of tomorrow. Some unknown inventor of today may be a television giant in days to come.

You don't like those scanning lines that disturb the close-up view? Be patient. Soon there will be no visible scanning lines. This is the promise of Philo T. Farnsworth, the once unknown western farm boy, who suddenly emerged as a television pioneer when he invented and patented the electronic-scanning picture tube. Electronic scanning knocked out mechanical scanning. The latter used a revolving perforated disc that screened the picture. Farnsworth thinks our present direct-view tube is on the way out, just as the smaller direct-view tubes have already almost disappeared from the market.

Tiny Tubes Coming

"It now seems entirely feasible," Farnsworth said recently to a group of radio engineers, "to build a receiver tube six inches long and less than an inch in diameter that will have 15,000 times the screen brightness of today's direct-view tube. With such a tube, we shall be able to use a built-in screen in the receiver or to adjust the set so that an image may be projected in three-by-four-foot size on a separate screen or wall."

New kinds of tubes will also improve the eye of the camera, Farnsworth said. The camera sees with about the same effect as the normal human eye. But the new tubes will enhance the camera eye so that it will see through the infrared region of the spectrum with 100 times the efficiency of the human eye; in fact, "where the human eye does not see at all."

Smaller tubes and other technical advances should bring the costs of television sets down in the near future. A set described in the January Bakelite Review is in line with the Farnsworth predictions. This set cut production costs by using a low-loss insulation phenolic plastic housing instead of building a voltage driver that was vacuum impregnated, oil filled, and hermetically sealed. Costs in replacements or repairs have also been substantially reduced for this unit.

Research scientists are looking for precision refinements in the transmission and reception of ultra-high frequencies which will permit many more television stations to operate and provide the viewer with a wider selection of programs. They say television is coming around more and more corners. It is moving ahead on its own muscle as a shining example of private enterprise. Television has remained free and independent of government subsidy to serve all comers. It is hoped that bureaucratic edicts will not seriously hinder progress.

Church Supper Next Wednesday

All members and friends of the Methodist Church are invited to a covered dish supper in the dining room of the church Wednesday evening, October 10. Come and bring a dish of food. We will enjoy a fine evening of Christian fellowship.

We hope that it will be possible for all members of the church to come and bring the whole family.

If you would like to have some suggestion about the food you should bring call some member of the Committee of Social Life. This committee is composed of Mrs. J. B. Higgins, Mrs. Frank Morgan, and Mrs. A. C. Anderson.

Many Deaths By Accidental Poison

Several hundred deaths are recorded annually due to accidental poisoning in children. Other children who survive the ingestion of poison, may be left with permanent disabilities. An example of this is the stricture of the esophagus due to swallowing lye. During the first 18 years of operation of the Duke Hospital, 136 children were treated for stricture of the esophagus due to burns from lye.

Poisons contained in commonly used household agents are responsible for most of the deaths and disabilities.

Besides lye some of the common causes of poisoning are Oxalic Acid which looks like Epsom Salts and is used as a household bleaching and cleaning agent, solutions of Ammonia used for cleaning purposes, Tincture of Iodine, Kerosene, rubbing alcohol, DDT and phosphate insecticides, acetone as contained in nail polish remover, certain roach and ant poisons and others.

Candy cathartics may be eaten in large amounts by a child and certain cough medicines, which have a very pleasant taste, may be taken in overdose.

Unless some evidence is available that the poisonous substance has been ingested by a child, the symptoms are often confusing and the diagnosis may, at times, be most difficult.

With children in the home, parents should be most careful to keep all poisonous substances where they cannot be reached by the child.

Farm Suggestions

By A. A. Lauderdale
County Agent

Several thousand pounds of good partridge pea seed are being harvested right about this time. Farmers and sportsmen will plant these seed to provide food and cover for bobwhite quail and other wildlife.

"Farmers planning to harvest planted or wild stands of large partridge peas should keep a close check on the crop for proper time of harvest," advised Earl F. Kennamer, A.P.I. Extension Wildlife specialist.

He explains that seed are ready for harvest when brown seed hulls can be seen on the ground beneath the plants. The seed are ready for harvest even though blooms may still be present, and the harvest period lasts only a few days.

Small plantings of muscadine grapes, figs and blueberries for local marketing may be an opportunity for many Shelby County farmers to increase their income.

One farmer in Tallapoosa County who has 15 to 20 fig trees says that he never has trouble disposing of all the figs he can produce. Customers come right to his place for them, and often he does not have enough to supply the demand.

Another farmer in Blount county has six muscadine vines. They bring him more income than any crop on his farm occupying the same amount of ground.

"One advantage of these crops," points out A. A. Lauderdale, "is that they may be planted around the farm lot or on ground that is not used for other crops. As a rule they are not subject to attack by many diseases or insects pests and will not have to be sprayed."

Lauderdale adds that a little fertilizer, annual pruning, and ordinary care will be needed to produce good crops. Ask the local county agent about the best varieties, planting dates, and distance between plants.

When working around machinery or in damp locations, a sub-stational rubber covered extension cord should be used, according to Lauderdale.

A rubber covered plug and socket with a protective guard should be used on a portable light, while an armored plug and connector should be used on extension cords.

Keep Cattle From Wet Paint
Calves as well as older cattle like to lick freshly painted surfaces. This vice is responsible for many fatal cases of lead poisoning every year, and the only way it can be stopped is to keep animals out of reach of lead paint.

Make Us Of Safety Devices

OUR FUTURE SOCIAL EDITOR

(By the present Social Editor)

Once upon a time some wise guy thrust out his chest, raised his head high, and proclaimed in a loud voice, "This Is a Man's World." Judging from his proclamation, we are absolutely certain of two things; first, he was a man, for no woman would have made such a statement. Second, he must have been a "Peeping Tom," and had just had a glimpse of our Honorable Mayor, and Editor of The Montevallo Times, with his interesting group of grand children around him at a family reunion.

But upon looking closer, he noticed a happy, yet pensive, expression on "His Honor's" face. Little did he know that "Mac" was dreaming dreams and seeing visions of his paper in the future, and there around him in this family group were his future sports writers, reporters of all kinds, editorial writers, machine operators, business managers, etc. But Oh! My goodness! Mac's problem was, Now how on earth can I break the news to Theda or Jimmie that one of their sons will have to be groomed for the future job of social editor. He was finding it extremely hard trying to picture either of these young men ever sitting still long enough to balance a tea-cup on his knee while he attended some social function in order to get his news for the social pages of a paper, that was by now, a big competitor of the Birmingham News. "Well," thought Mac, "maybe grandpa can persuade one of them to do it for me, for this paper business has simply got to be kept in the family, and no paper enjoys much popularity among women, especially in this woman's town, without a social department. Maybe a man social editor would work."

Well, Kind Providence had pity on "Mac" and decided to completely equip his future editorial staff and in so doing, bring a big smile to an otherwise troubled expression, and peace of mind to the editor of The Times.

All of the foregoing is a kind of round-about way to announce that the young social editor arrived on September 22. Her name is Miss Judy Carol Nordan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Nordan. She is a wee-bit young at present to attend to her duties on grandpa's paper, but just give her a little time and she, with her lovely mother's beauty and intelligence, will soon be in there at the head of the department doing a wonderful job. Then you may see grandpa throw out his chest and proudly declare, "I think, after all, this is a woman's world—just look at my Judy."

If a vote were taken to elect the grandparents of the year, there is no doubt in my mind that the honor would go to Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt. The community joins in extending congratulations and best wishes to Theda and Clayton, to grandpa and grandma, and all join in singing Long Live The Montevallo Times, and welcome Miss Judy Carol, our social editor of 1972.

Modern Philip Nolan Keeps Atlantic Stirred for Years

NEW YORK, N.Y.—A modern "man without a country" is shuttling back and forth across the Atlantic between the United States and Italy. Homeless for 12 years, his plight seems apt to continue, as neither nation will give him shelter.

Immigration service officials refused to let this modern Philip Nolan, a man named Frank Russo, disembark from the ship Italia on which he had arrived from Italy, where also he was refused admittance.

It all began in 1939 when Russo denied American citizenship to get out of a prison term in Florida. After serving part of the sentence, he was deported to Italy. He stowed away on a ship returning to America in 1945 and again was deported.

Back in Italy, he stowed away again on another U.S. bound ship. This time he was held ten months at Ellis Island and deported back again in 1949. Determined, he bounced back across the ocean. This time he was held at the island ten months and left for Italy May 28. A few days ago he returned—on the same ship. U.S. Immigration officials, however, said he could just stay there (on ship). Italian officials feel likewise, which puts Russo in quite a spot.

Judge Levies Overtime Fine On Railway, Promises More

RICHMOND, Calif. — Parking tickets are always a problem. And if you think your jalopy is a special target for overtime tags—consider the case of the city that fined a railroad engineer.

A Richmond city ordinance says trains must not block a grade crossing for more than five minutes.

Police Judge Clare Horner said Southern Pacific trains violated that rule eight times and fined the company $80, with a strong warning: "Next time you're in for sterner judgment."

Power Company Taxes Boost Education Funds

The Alabama Power Company today delivered to the State Department of Revenue a check for $516,307.58 in payment of the 1951 kilowatt hour tax. This tax, which is in addition to all other taxes paid by Alabama Power Company, goes into the special educational trust fund of the State. Elementary and high schools will get $384,900 of the amount paid and institutions of higher learning will receive $74,400. The remainder will be used for other educational services.

Every county in the state will receive a part of this tax. Counties receiving more than $5,000 are: Baldwin, Calhoun, Chambers, Colbert, Cullman, Dallas, DeKalb, Etowah, Houston, Jackson, Jefferson, Lauderdale, Madison, Marengo, Marshall, Mobile, Montgomery, Morgan, Talladega, Tuscaloosa and Walker.

The Company's total taxes for 1951, including federal taxes, will total approximately $11,500,000 of which approximately $1,250,000 will go to schools.

Revival Begins Next Week; Stallings Is Guest Speaker

Rev. Earl Stallings, pastor of the First Baptist Church Ocala, Florida, will do the preaching for the series of evangelistic services at the Montevallo Baptist Church October 14-21.

Rev. Stallings is a successful pastor and has been widely used as a Pastor-Evangelist. He is a graduate of Carson-Newman College in East Tennessee and of the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary at Fort Worth, Texas. While a student at the Seminary he served as a pastor in Texas and after graduation went to the Ridgedale Baptist Church of Chattanooga, Tennessee, where he served for four years. For the past nine months he has been with the First Baptist Church Ocala, Fla.

Services during the meeting will be conducted as follows: Each morning, Monday through Friday 7:45 a.m., 12:00 to 12:30 noon at Reynolds Auditorium, and each evening 7:30 p.m. at the church. The public is cordially invited to these services.

Prominent Speakers Will Discuss 1951 Legislature

Two members of the Alabama Legislature, and a well known political newspaper correspondent will discuss the controversial topic, "The 1951 Legislature" in Palmer Auditorium on the campus of Alabama College next Tuesday at 11:00 a.m.

The three are: Mr. Tom Phillips, senator for Shelby, Autauga, and Chilton counties in the Legislature; Mr. S. Reese White, of Red Level, member of the House of Representatives for Covington county; and Mr. Hugh Sparrow, the correspondent for the Birmingham News in Montgomery.

Dr. Hallie Farmer, head of the department of Social Science at Alabama College, will preside at the meeting, and will introduce the speakers.

Planned in the town hall meeting style, each speaker will be limited to a preliminary speech. This will be followed by a question and answer period.

The program is the fifth in the current World Culture Series at Alabama College.

Friends of the college in the Montevallo community are cordially invited to attend.

College Theatre Presents Play

"The Madwoman of Chaillot" is a brilliant extravaganza-comedy-satire. It was written by Jean Giraudoux, a French career diplomat. It, like most of Giraudoux's work, is marked by scintillating wit, and the keen observation of a sophisticated citizen of the world. The play was an immediate success in Paris, and after an initial engagement in N. Y. has taken hold of the theatre of the U. S. like wildfire.

The theme of the play—very deftly presented—is who is mad and who is sane? Perhaps the madfolk are more sane than the sane, after all, in this topsy-turvy world of ours.

The play is a presentation of the College Theatre at Palmer Hall October 18 at 8:00 p.m.

Every year 16,000 Americans commit suicide. If you attempt it and fail you can be arrested for disturbing the peace.

October Meeting Of Studiosis Club Held

The Montevallo Studiosis held its first meeting of the new year, Tuesday evening, October 9, in Reynolds Hall, at 7:30.

Miss Ethel Marshall, President, called the meeting to order and presided over the short business session. Miss Marshall announced the District meeting to be held in Selma, Saturday, October 13. The Studiosis will be represented by its president, Miss Marshall, and Miss Mary Wooley who was elected delegate at the meeting.

The president introduced Mrs. Grady Parker, Membership Chairman, who in turn, introduced the new members and welcomed them into the club.

Mrs. M. Thornton, vice-president and program chairman, was introduced and she told of interesting plans for the program, which had been outlined for the year.

Dr. Hallie Farmer, of Alabama College, was guest speaker for the evening. Dr. Farmer's subject was "Civilian Defense," and during her talk, she urged the support and cooperation of the members and citizens of the community in the County Blood Bank, Red Cross courses in first aid, and Home Nursing that would be given.

Mrs. Peter presided at the coffee table during the social hour. Sixty-eight members were present.

Studiosis Tea For New Members

The Montevallo Studiosis entertained at Tea, Friday afternoon, October 5, in the foyer of Reynolds Hall, the new members of the club.

The Executive Committee served as hostesses for the afternoon. Mrs. Marshall and Miss Edna Irwin presided over the tea and coffee services during the first hour. Mrs. T. H. Napier and Miss Bessie McCary presided the second hour. Guests called between the hours of 3:30 and 5:30.

Club Leaders Meet Tuesday

Food Preservation Leaders from 27 Home Demonstration Clubs will learn to make "Candied Fruit" next Tuesday.

Miss Lavada Curtis, Extension Food Preservation Specialist, will conduct the leadership school at 1 o'clock on Tuesday, October 16th in the old courthouse auditorium.

These leaders will conduct the demonstration on "Candied Fruits" in their clubs during November.

Study Club Meets At Mrs. Caldwell's

The October meeting of The Montevallo Study Club was held, last week, at the home of Mrs. John T. Caldwell with Mrs. N. E. Phillips as co-hostess.

After the business meeting there was a panel discussion on "Women As Citizens." Members participating in this discussion were: Mrs. Frank Morgan, Mrs. F. P. Givhan, Mrs. T. Bridges and Mrs. Frank Baker.

During the social hour Miss Barbara Johnson modeled an antique green velvet evening gown which she was to wear in the State Maid of Cotton Contest in Birmingham.

The next meeting of the Study Club will be at the home of Mrs. A. C. Anderson on Tuesday, November 6th.

The Shelby County Maid of Cotton, Miss Barbara Johnson, and the Montevallo Study Club, Miss Johnson's sponsors, wish to thank the many people of Montevallo for making it possible for her to participate in this colorful event. Miss Johnson's sponsors report that our Maid was among the eleven finalists in the contest. Fifty-nine lovely girls competed for the state title.

Those contributing to the local Maid of Cotton Contest were:

Montevallo Chamber of Commerce, $98.50; Montevallo Study Club, $40.00; Montevallo Rotary Club, $25.00; Montevallo Studiosis Club, $7.50; Individual contributions, $87.00. The total was $208.

Flowers were given by Bridges Flower Shop and manicure by Modern Beauty Shop.

Methodist Society Met On Monday

Circle 2, of the Womens' Society of Christian Service, of the Montevallo Methodist Church, met Monday afternoon at 3:30, in the home of Mrs. W. P. McConaughy.

Mrs. W. C. Weems, Circle leader, called the meeting to order and presided over the business meeting.

Mrs. Lena Duran was program leader for the afternoon, the subject being "The Christian Gospel of Human Rights." She was assisted in presenting an interesting and instructive program by Mrs. J. A. Brown, Mrs. O. B. Cooper, and Mrs. Kate Cook.

Fifteen members and visitors enjoyed a delightful social hour with the hostess at the conclusion of the program.

Dr. J. I. Riddle Is Founders Day Guest

Alabama College celebrates the 54th anniversary of its founding on Friday, October 12, when Dr. J. I. Riddle, president of Judson College, comes back to the campus to speak to the students and faculty.

Dr. Riddle, a former Alabama College faculty member, was professor of education on this campus for 14 years. The subject of his address is "The Role of Women in Modern Education."

Widely known in educational fields, Dr. Riddle received his A.B. degree from the University of Alabama and his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from Columbia University. He is past president of the Association of Southern Colleges for Women, and past president of the Association of Alabama Colleges.

Founder's Day marks the first time seniors will officially wear their caps and gowns during the year. The traditional march will begin in front of old Main and will continue across the campus to Palmer Auditorium.

Dr. McCall Attends Camp Association

DR. MARGARET MCCALL

Dr. Margaret McCall will participate in the workshop of the American Camping Association at Williams Bay, Wisconsin from October 10 to 14. The theme of the workshop is "Conservation in Camping."

The workshop is jointly sponsored by the American Camping Association, American Nature Association, General Federation of Women's Clubs, National Audubon Society, U. S. Department of Agriculture, U. S. Department of Interior and the Wildlife Management Institute.

F F A Chapter Has October Meeting

The Montevallo F.F.A. chapter held the regular meeting for October last Wednesday when the theme was "Contests for 1951-52." Agee Kelly, president, presided and the following program was carried out:

Opening ceremony, officers. Devotional, Delmus Anthony. Chapter Contest, Delmus Anthony. Public Speaking Contest, Dan Whetstone. Quartet Contest, Bill Harris. String Band Contest, Calvin Hatcher. Radio Program, Bobby Joe Thomas. Soil and Water Management, Bobby Hawkins. Initiation ceremony for Greenhands. Business and announcements by M. Thornton.

The chapter members were also informed that $132 had been realized from the State Fair as a premium on the exhibit of Montevallo F.F.A. where an exact miniature duplication was shown of projects of Edward Holcombe.

The chapter executive committee held a meeting Thursday evening when the honorary members of the chapter advised with the boys on items in the annual activity program.

The chapter now has 14 honorary members and 80 active members in school.

The regular adult class dealing with farm and community problems will begin Tuesday evening, October 16, at 7 o'clock in the vocational agriculture building. It is expected that an unusually large number will attend this class which will hold a weekly meeting. Adult or young farmers either men or women are invited.

F.H.A. and F.F.A. members enjoyed a fine evening last Tuesday at the Big Spring recreation grounds where hotdogs and refreshments were served. All present enjoyed the many activities of the evening.

Sam D. Adkins On USS Tidewater

Sam D. Adkins, quartermaster, first class, U.S.N., son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Adkins of Montevallo, and husband of Mrs. Saxon W. Adkins of 2 Ragg St., Charleston, S. C., serving aboard the destroyer tender USS Tidewater, took part in recommissioning ceremonies of the ship at the Charleston Naval Shipyard October 2.

The Charleston Group, Atlantic Reserve Fleet, observed its sixth anniversary with the recommissioning ceremony at which Vice Admiral Oscar C. Badger, U.S.N., made the principal address. Admiral Badger is Commander, Eastern Sea Frontier, and Commander, Atlantic Reserve Fleet.

The Tidewater, a $10,000,000 vessel, was built from war bond purchases of the people of Charleston, and civilian workers in the Navy Yard during the Sixth War Loan Campaign.

The Tidewater and a sister ship, the USS Bryce Canyon, are the largest vessels built at the Charleston Naval Shipyard.

Montevallo Wins Vincent Game

The Montevallo High School football team won their third game of the year with a 25 to 6 victory over Vincent High. Montevallo previously beat Calera High, and Chilton County High and lost to Thompson High of Siluria.

The Vincent team scored early in the first quarter and dominated the playing field for the entire quarter. The big Montevallo team started rolling in the second quarter, scoring 12 points before the half continuing to roll up 6 points in the third period and seven in the final.

All of the Montevallo players were outstanding both on offense and defense. Coached by Theron Fisher, the team started the year big and green but have developed into one of the highest spirited fighting teams ever to represent Montevallo High.

Welfare Payments Will Average $22.99 A Month

Montgomery, Ala. — The State Welfare Board has approved an operating budget of $34, 555, 095 for the Alabama Department of Public Welfare for the 1951-52 fiscal year.

Commissioner Bill Dorrough pointed out that of the total, $24, 644, 372.22 will be federal funds, and $9, 910, 723.51 state money.

This budget as approved by the board included absolute appropriations to the welfare department for 1951-52 and balances remaining from 1950-51. Not budgeted was the $468,711.20, conditional appropriation for old-age assistance.

Dorrough said this budget represented an increase of $1,222,112 over estimated expenditures for the current fiscal year. It is estimated that the agency will have spent $33, 329, 983.41 for the year ending September 30, 1951. The proposed budget will care for an average of 112,444 cases monthly during the year, Dorrough said. Payments would average $23.11 per case per month. The average for the current year was 110,258 cases per month, with average payments of $22.99.

In its session, the board selected former State Senator Oliver Young, Vernon, as vice-chairman. Other board members are Gov. Gordon Persons, ex-officio chairman; Mrs. J. S. Tilley, Montgomery; Ben Tucker, Clanton; Mrs. Mildred White Wallace, of Columbiana; Tom Blake Howle, Oxford, and Dr. J. J. Walls, Alexander City.

Community Chest Assembly Meets; Receives Report For Last Year

The Montevallo Community Chest assembly met at 7:30 p.m. Monday night in the Methodist Church. Mr. W. J. Kennerly, chairman of the assembly, presided, with Mrs. E. P. Hood acting as secretary.

James A. Wyatt, chairman of the Chest Board, presented the report of the Board for 1950-51, which is published below.

The Assembly voted to continue the Chest for another year and elected new members to the Board.

Members now constituting the board are: Mrs. P. D. Pendleton, Mr. S. H. Hurt, Mr. Victor Scott, Mrs. M. L. Triplett, Mr. T. E. Watson, Mr. Hobart Vernon, Mrs. Mary Whatley, Dr. Charles Gormley, and Mrs. L. H. Hubbard.

REPORT OF BOARD

The 1950-51 Montevallo Community Chest Board began the year with a balance forward of $246.07. Of this amount $181.76 was the balance of the welfare fund; $62.69 of the Negro school fund; and $1.62 of the operating fund.

The budget for the 1950-51 year was established as follows:

Girl Scouts .....	$ 250.00
Boy Scouts .....	100.00
Cub Scouts .....	100.00
Negro Schools .....	200.00
Elementary School .....	150.00
High School Band .....	150.00
Welfare .....	500.00
Operation .....	50.00

Total .....$1,500.00

In keeping with the past policy of the Board, Mr. Victor Scott served as chairman for the 1950-51 drive by virtue of his being elected vice-chairman of the Board. Mr. Sidney Forsythe was elected to assist Mr. Scott as vice-chairman of the drive.

The drive netted $1,567.65, of which $1,191.15 represented cash, and $376.50 was pledged. As of the present date $1,533.65 has been collected, with unpaid pledges amounting to $34.00.

Attached to this report is an operating statement for the year. However, the Board would like to enumerate on each agency participating in the program in the belief that the information might be of value in assisting the Assembly to better understand the overall situation.

WELFARE

As provided in the by-laws of the Chest, the welfare phase of the program is under the direct supervision of the Alabama College Social Welfare department. This agency received an allocation of $500.00 for the year and had a balance forward from the previous year of $181.76. The total amount requisitioned during this year was $295.90, which was spent as follows: Clothing, $172.00; lunches, for school children, $94.00; medical and drug expense, $29.90. The agency has a balance forward of $385.86.

NEGRO SCHOOLS

A revision of previous policies relating to Negro schools was necessary during the year, due to the community now having two Negro schools. The Board discussed the situation with the principals of both the Almont and Montevallo schools and determined that the allocation of $200.00 should be evenly divided, and that the balance forward from 1949-50, of $62.69, would be earmarked for the Montevallo school. In addition, both schools would conduct separate drives and receive 75 per cent of all funds collected by them. The balance from the 1950-51 year will be $34.32, as indicated on the operating statement. Money from this fund was spent during the past year for a typewriter, books, athletic and classroom equipment.

BOY SCOUTS and CUB SCOUTS

The Scout officials requested $200.00 for the Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts. The Board allocated $100.00 for each program. From this allocation the Black Warrior Council has received $100.00 for the Boy Scout program. Due to the fact that there is no longer a Cub Scout program in the community, this allocation is still on hand.

HIGH SCHOOL BAND

The High School Band requested and received $150.00 for their uniform fund.

GIRL SCOUTS

The Girl Scouts requested and received $250.00 for the promotion of their program.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

The Montevallo Elementary School requested and received $150.00 which was used to purchase violin cases and records.

Respectfully submitted,
JAMES A. WYATT, Chairman

MONTGOMERY, ALA.—John L. Goodwyn, 48, right, attorney and former Montgomery mayor, is administered the oath of office by Chief Justice J. Ed Livingston, left, which makes Goodwyn a member of the Alabama Supreme Court. Goodwyn, who has served as legal adviser for Gov. Gordon Persons since January, is a University of Alabama graduate and served with the 31st (Dixie) Division Alabama-Mississippi National Guard during World War II. He was discharged as a colonel. Goodwyn fills the vacancy left when Persons named Livingston chief justice, to succeed retired Justice Lucien D. Gardner, in February. Goodwyn, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Goodwyn, is married and has a son and a daughter. He also has three brothers and three sisters.

Reddy Kilowatt

Helps Your Movie Theatre
Provide Good Entertainment at Moderate Cost

FROM the brilliant lights which illuminate the movie sets in the studios and "on location" to the tiny exit lights in your local theatre, Reddy Kilowatt helps the movie industry supply generally good entertainment at a cost that all can afford.

The next time you go to a movie, look about you and see how many different uses there are for Reddy Kilowatt's service there. First you'll notice the lights in the sign or lobby. Perhaps you'll observe that there's an electrically operated ticket vending machine. Of course you'll know without looking that the projector is electric-powered, and that the high intensity light comes from electricity. Reddy Kilowatt provides the means for amplification of the sound of the film; the air for the organ and, if in a large theatre, operates the hydraulic lift which raises and lowers the organ.

Whether indoor or outdoor, your local movie offers you rest, relaxation and entertainment away from home. Reddy Kilowatt, because he works for so little, helps make it possible for the movies to provide you with clear visual comedy, drama, thrills, news and education at little cost. In your home, too, Reddy does many things for only a few dollars a month.

COMPETITION PAYS OFF

Does the title of this editorial sound like a contradiction in terms?

It isn't really. Instead, it is an accurate description of the way in which one of America's most highly competitive industries operates in the public service in times of local or national emergency.

Under ordinary circumstances, thousands of United States oil companies and hundreds of thousands of independently owned or leased service stations strive to outdo one another in providing more and better services and products for their customers. That way of doing business must be pretty efficient. It enables the people of this country to obtain and use more oil every two weeks than the rest of the world consumes in an entire year.

When an emergency arises, however, those competitive companies and service stations never hesitate to pool their products and services for the common welfare. They did it to keep supplies moving into the flood and fire-stricken Kansas City area last summer. They did it to break the near-disastrous synthetic rubber bottleneck at the start of World War II. They are doing it at this very moment in many other ways.

Recently, Orville Judd, acting director of the petroleum price section, Office of Price Stabilization said:

"To my knowledge, the petroleum industry is the only major one which has voluntarily cooperated with the Federal Government in freezing its prices in the absence of binding regulations."

That is high praise indeed. And it struck us that, since this is Alabama Oil Progress Week, when our local oil men join forces to tell us what they have been doing during the past year to keep our homes warm and our cars, factories and utilities operating at the peak loads necessitated by America's defense program, we should give them an "assist." We are doing so by pointing out that, despite inflation, today's gasoline before taxes sells for almost exactly the same price as the low-octane product manufactured 25 years ago, and that, with their hundreds of other useful products, oil men also are holding the price line.

Welfare Cases To Be Screened

Montgomery, Ala.—State Welfare Commissioner Bill Dorrough said that county welfare departments are now required to find out if persons receiving or applying for welfare aid have relatives who

The relatives' responsibility act defines legally responsible relatives as husband, wife, parents or children. The law sets a scale beginning at $200 monthly for a single person and varying upward according to the number dependent on the income. The welfare department is required to find out if applicants or recipients of assistance have legally responsible relatives and the income of these relatives. Half of the relative's income over the amount in the scale and up to $50 must be considered available to the needy person.

Dr. Dorrough said it would take considerable time before the present cases could all be reviewed to find out if aid had to be reduced or denied because of legally responsible relatives who could provide support. County departments are now beginning to review cases and are clearing with relatives of all applicants. Both the needy person and the relative have access to the court if they feel there is undue hardship because of the law.

Dr. Dorrough concluded by pointing out that the welfare department has no authority to force support, but is required by law to deny or reduce aid payments when relatives meet the definition in the law of being able to support.

Fire Prevention and Civil Defense Go Hand in Hand

Fire prevention is an important part of civil defense. If an enemy attacks this country, his bombs, whether they be atomic, high explosive, or incendiary, will cause more damage by fire than they will by blast. Hence, anything done to make it hard for fires to start is a step towards preparing your community to protect itself if war comes.

The majority of all fires start in trashpiles, rubbish, or stored odds and ends that accumulate around the house. Closets, attics, and cellars are the main source of home fires, and plain ordinary good housekeeping is a strong line of defense against them.

Clean out your storage places. You will be surprised at how many burnable odds and ends are really useless to you. Don't let them make your home a fire hazard. Get rid of them. If local welfare agencies can't use them, call the junk man.

Don't stop when you've cleared out the inside of your house. Go after rubbish in your back yard, in alleys and in vacant lots near your home. Collect the rubbish and burn it. Don't leave it around to burn if an enemy bombs your city. Be sure to burn rubbish in metal containers.

Take a look at your electrical system. Buy new plugs and cords if yours are worn. Get advice from an electrician if your fuses blow frequently. They may be dangerously overloaded. His advice may prevent a bad fire.

Every winter costly fires are started by faulty furnaces, stoves, and other heating plants. Some result from too much soot in chimneys. Others are caused by rusted or cracked pipes and fittings. Look over your heating system now. If your chimney needs it, clean it out. If the furnace pipes and connections are cracked and rusted, replace them.

Teach your family not to put magazines, papers, or clothing on radiators or near open flames. Don't hang flimsy curtains near your kitchen stove. Don't allow lamp shades to come in contact with light bulbs. Remember that such things don't have to touch flame to burn. They will catch fire simply because they are too close to the heat for too long.

Gasoline, benzene, naptha, and similar fluids should never be used indoors. When mixed with air, their vapors can be ignited by the spark of a light switch or an electric fan, or the tiny flame of a pilot light. Keep such fluids in tightly closed metal containers outside your home.

And remember: oil-soaked rags, especially rags that have been used to spread quick-drying liquids such as turpentine, paint thinners, and some furniture polishes, can catch fire by themselves. Oily rags should be stored in air-tight metal containers. It is best to keep them outside the house.

Sewing Projects Of Camp Branch Club

Attention! Homemaker, if you are having trouble with your sewing, may we refer you to Camp Branch 4-H club. This club under the supervision of teacher-sponsor Mrs. Wilson Durden and Mrs. Gertrude Cobb, is doing a splendid job of sewing. Twenty-three have enrolled this year and each member has selected sewing as their project.

During the summer twelve girls completed their projects. Pat Arnold made a skirt, apron, shoe-bag, laundry bag, and sewing box. She also has completed her caning project. Linnie Green, who was a second year 4-H'er, made aprons, skirts and laundry bags. Eva McQueen worked very hard completing first year requirements. Her accomplishments included 4 potholders, 4 dish towels, 1 apron, 1 sewing bag, and 1 skirt. Jane Mooney made an apron, 3 potholders, and 2 dish towels.

Melba Moore selected both personal improvement and sewing. After completing her personal improvement project, she made 1 apron, 1 shoebag and 1 skirt. Della Smith completed her second year project. Betty June Stamps completed her sewing project by making 1 apron, 4 potholders, 1 sewing bag, and 3 dish towels. Mary Stamps made 1 skirt, 4 pot-holders, 1 apron, 1 sewing bag, 3 dish towels.

Yards and sewing projects were selected by Dorothy Templin. The yards project included, leveling yards, removing tin cans, and preventing erosion. In sewing, she made 1 skirt, 1 laundry bag, and 1 apron. Myra Vanderslice combined yards and sewing. She planted flowers after cleaning her yards. In sewing she made a skirt, 4 potholders, 4 dish towels, 1 laundry bag.

Elizabeth Whittington wanted to remodel her room and complete her sewing project at the same time, so, she made shades, closet curtains, rugs, laundry bag, 2 aprons and a skirt. Marie Wooten completed first year sewing by making an apron, 4 potholders, 5 dish towels, and a sewing bag.

This year Camp Branch 4-H club has a goal of all girls completing their sewing projects before school closes.

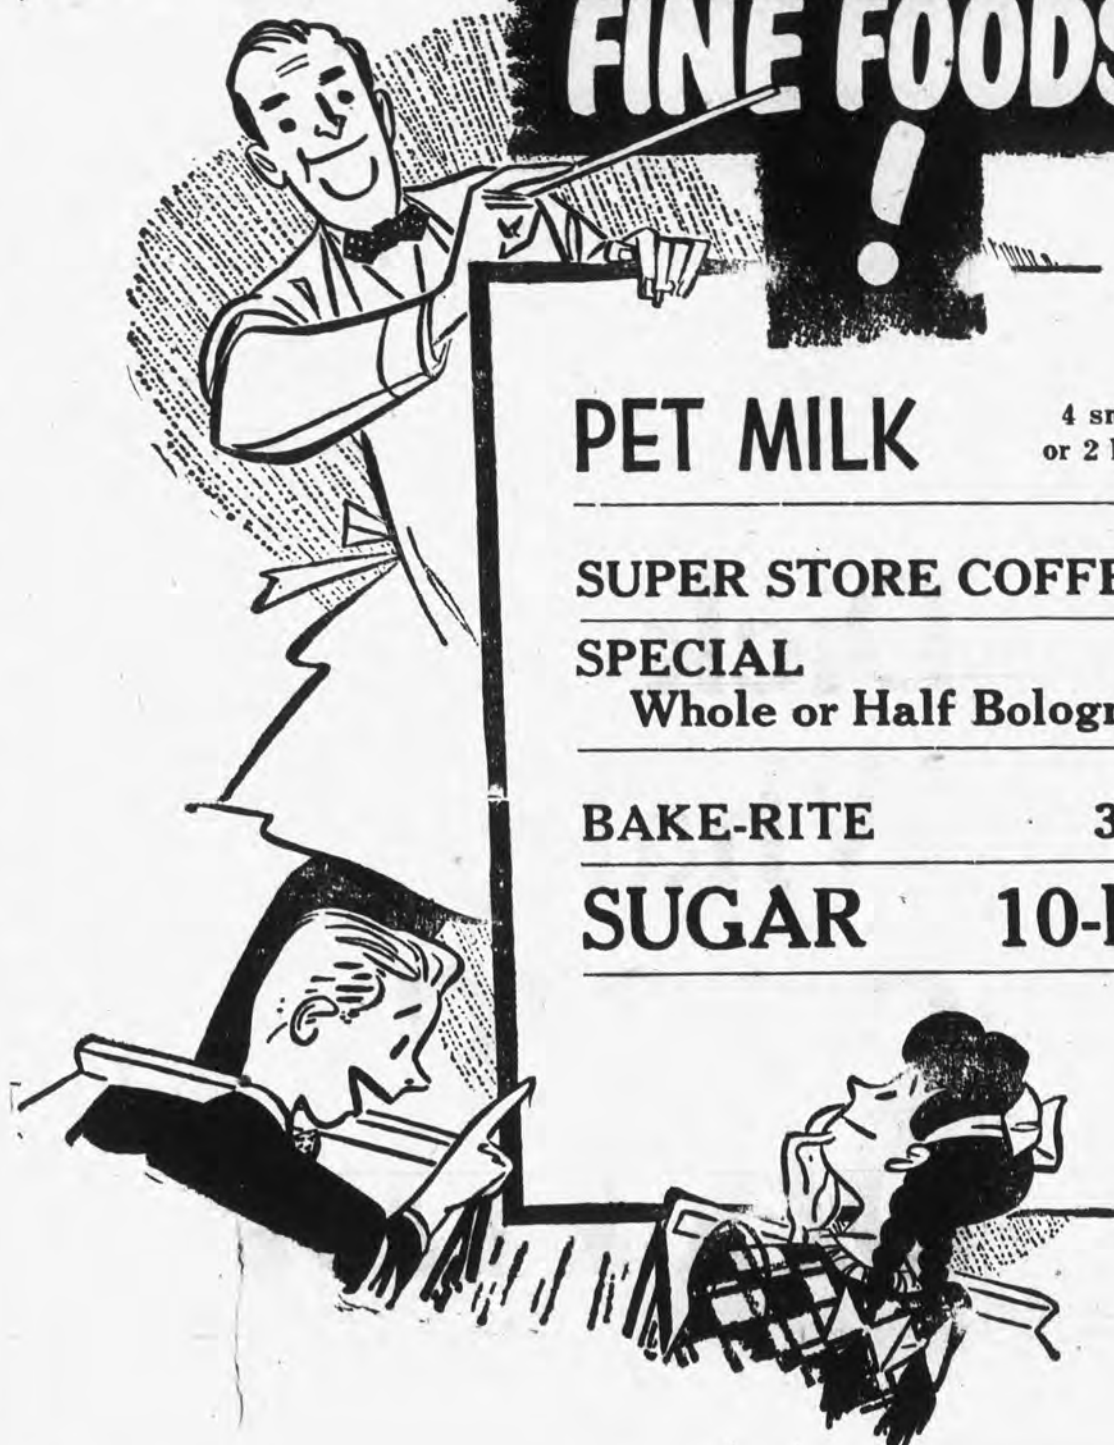

Mr. and Mrs. William K. Weaver (Annie Boyd Parker) and baby daughter, Anne Parker, of Sylacauga, spent several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Parker, and family. Grandmother Parker kept the baby, Tuesday, while Annie Boyd and Mr. Weaver went to Birmingham. Mrs. Parker reported that she had the time of her life. They returned to Sylacauga, Wednesday, where Mr. Weaver is pastor of the First Baptist Church.

Dr. Anne Eastman entertained at luncheon, Tuesday, in honor of her sister, Mrs. C. Stewart Martin, of Binghamton, N. Y. who is her guest this week.

Social Editor Regrets Omission of Mickey

In last week's paper the present social editor in writing about the interesting week end spent at Gulf Shores by Misses Ethel Rasmussen, Bettye Myer, Mary Birmingham, Cordelia Lundquist and Vivian Galloway, completely omitted the name of possibly the most important member of the party. We take this opportunity of publicly expressing our deep regrets for the oversight and will try to never let it happen again.

Mickey, you see it was this way. In all the mad rush of departure, amid all the flowing skirts of the ladies in the party, and all the necessary luggage which usually accompanies a group of young women anywhere, you were completely hidden from view, for you are so very, very, tiny. Never mind, don't let tears come to your eyes over the thought of your small size, for even though you are a wee mite of a dog, you occupy such an enormous place in the heart of your owner, Miss Myer, and everyone else who has seen you, and those who know that a dog is man's best friend.

I am sure that the girls felt safe and secure with you along as body-guard, chaperone and play mate. Hope you had a wonderful time, and I would like to have you give us a "Barking report" of the things you saw, and did, while on the trip. How about it?

Dentist: Man who can make your toothache go by merely saying, "You're next."—W. Gold.

Boys and Girls Go To State Fair

On Wednesday, October 3, three buses loaded with forty-three F.H.A. girls and fifty-four F.F.A. boys and their advisers, Mrs. Weenona Brooks and Mr. M. Thornton, left Montevallo for Birmingham and the Alabama State Fair.

While at the fair, they visited the Agriculture Building which housed the twenty-four F.H.A. and F.F.A. exhibits. The F.H.A. exhibits emphasized: home safety, child development, home lighting, refinishing of furniture, clothing construction, and the making of clothing accessories.

The students were very proud of the exhibit which the Montevallo F.F.A. boys and Mr. Thornton had in the Agriculture Building. This exhibit showed in a clever way how a member of the F.F.A. had made his poultry project pay. The buildings in the display were a miniature duplication of those in Edward Holcomb's poultry project.

Other places of interest visited were the Conservation Building, the Industrial Arts Building, the Flower Show, livestock, the exhibits in the grandstand, and the Midway.

For some of the girls and boys the day ended at 3:15 in the afternoon. Others lingered until the grandstand attraction. The same response came from all members of the group. They commented on the excellent time they had and expressed a desire to see the fair again next year.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Miner and baby son, of Calera, were Sunday guests of Rev. and Mrs. M. L. Triplett. The baby was christened at the eleven o'clock service in the Montevallo Methodist Church by Rev. Triplett who officiated at the wedding ceremony of Mr. and Mrs. Miner five years ago.

FOUND—Pair of shellrim glasses in case. Found at Montevallo Milling Co. about two weeks ago.

Mr. Ed Vincent and Mr. Dave Vincent, of Langdale, spent Sunday with Rev. and Mrs. M. L. Triplett and Jane. Rev. Triplett served the Langdale Methodist Church before coming to Montevallo, and friends from their former church are frequent visitors in their home.

Misses Ruth and Mamie Triplett, of Sylacauga, drove over last Sunday and spent the day with their brother and his family.

Whether reports of those fantastic new atomic weapons are frightening the Russians or not, we don't know. But they sure are scaring us.

Rev. M. L. Triplett, pastor of the Montevallo Methodist Church, was guest speaker, Tuesday evening, at the Bessemer, District Preachers' meeting.

Church Supper And Social Hour

The dining room of the Methodist Church was the scene of a delightful social hour last Wednesday evening, when members of the church and friends came together and enjoyed an informal Covered Dish Supper.

The church furnished the hot rolls, coffee, and a tossed green salad was given and prepared, by Mrs. J. B. Higgins, chairman of local works, who was in charge of the social affair. The members were asked to bring a covered dish of food, some also brought cakes and pies.

The tables were set in the dining room and when everything was ready, the group lined up and went into the kitchen, serving their own plate, then each person took their choice of what they wanted to eat.

Children were not overlooked. There were two large round tables set up for them. The mothers served the plates for their children, as each knew best what her own child or children liked.

Dr. Hallie Farmer, of Alabama College, was guest speaker during the supper hour. She made a delightful and refreshing talk. Miss Barbara Johnson led the group in singing spirituals and other songs.

Everyone had such a good time and enjoyed the supper so much that it was decided to repeat this affair often.

Mrs. J. B. Higgins was assisted in the kitchen by Mrs. V. E. Williams, Mrs. Will Fullman, Mrs. J. A. May, and Mrs. Helen Clayton.

The entire affair was planned by the social committee of the church, consisting of Mrs. Frank Morgan, Mrs. J. B. Higgins and Mrs. A. C. Anderson.

School Trustees To Be Elected

By an act of the recent Legislature the law relating to school trustees was amended limiting their term to four years and providing for the filling of vacancies without calling new elections.

Because of the fact several communities have vacancies on their local trustee boards and in order to set up a uniform date at which time trustees will be selected the Shelby County Board of Education has set Tuesday, November 13 as the date for the patrons of each school to nominate six persons, three of whom will be selected by the Board of Education to serve as school trustees for the next four years.

In the event a vacancy occurs during the four years term it will be filled from the remaining names on file in the office of the Board of Education.

The principal in each school will be furnished with information and it will be his responsibility to arrange for this meeting.

Trustees now serving will be eligible for a new four year term.

Kennerly Speaks To Kiwanis Club

A well-known figure about the Alabama College campus, Mr. W. J. Kennerly, head of the chemistry department, will be visiting in the county seat tonight, where he is guest speaker-entertainer for the Kiwanis Club of Columbiana, reports G. C. Moore, Jr., Chairman of the Public Relations Committee.

The Kiwanians of Columbiana welcome Prof. Kennerly to town along with many other outstanding speakers from the College and other points of Alabama that have appeared before this club from time to time.

Jimmie Lawrence Returns To Duty

San Diego, Calif., — October 8 Jimmie L. Lawrence, seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde L. Lawrence of Marvel, Ala., has returned to duty with the staff of Rear Admiral F. X. McInerney, USN, new commander of Amphibious Group Three, U. S. Pacific Fleet, after completing a course in motion picture operation at the Naval Training Center here.

Lawrence studied the operation and maintenance of 16 millimeter motion picture projectors of the type used aboard ships of the fleet. The course placed special emphasis on safety factors such as prevention of fire during projection and protection of film and equipment.

Lawrence is a graduate of Montevallo High School where he played football and basketball, and enlisted in the Navy in July, 1950. Prior to that time, Jimmie, with his brother, Wallace, operated the Lawrence Electric Company.

Amphibious Group Three, the Montevallo sailor's present assignment, returned in June from the Korean combat zone. The group participated in the invasion and redeployment operations at Inchon, Korea, and in the invasion at Iwon, Korea. It was then commanded by Rear Admiral L. A. Thackrey, USN.

World Culture Series Speaker

An outstanding authority on the Middle East will come to the campus of Alabama College on Tuesday, October 30, at 11 a.m.

He is Mr. Denis Greenhill, First Secretary of the British Embassy, and the expert of that Embassy on Middle Eastern affairs.

Mr. Greenhill has been invited by Dr. John T. Caldwell, President of the College, as a featured speaker of the Current World Culture Series, and will fly down from Washington, D. C. for the occasion.

Now in its fourth year, the World Culture Series brings to the entire student body of the Montevallo campus, authoritative speakers, the latest films and panel discussions. Subject for the year is the "Middle East." Previous years have been included studies of Russia, South and Central Americas, and the Far East.

Dr. Caldwell's plan in originating the Series, was to give students a wider insight into the economic and political conditions of lesser-known sections of the world.

Visitors are invited to attend any of the Tuesday series. No admission is charged.

Rep. Karl Harrison Will Direct Bond Campaign

Gov. Gordon Persons said that Rep. Karl Harrison of Shelby County will lead the administration's drive for passage of the proposed $25,000,000 Alabama road bond issue in the December 11 election.

Persons said Harrison will head a state-wide committee in the campaign. A group which will include business and civic leaders. Organizations supporting the drive will be set up in each of the 67 counties, he added.

The governor also will participate "vigorously" in the campaign.

Persons said "all but five or six" of Alabama's 141 legislators already have pledged to work for ratification of the $25,000,000 bond proposal which would be used to match another $25,000,000 in federal road funds.

The governor also said he had received assurances of support from several city, county, and state organizations, and municipal and county leaders.

Six Children Enjoy Play School

Six children between the ages of two and six were the participants in a play school on October 11-12 at the Montevallo High School Home Economics Building.

The home economics II's have been studying in their Child Development Unit, the value of play to children. Since only four students have small children in their own homes, the class felt that it was desirable that they observe other small children to see how much play can mean to a child.

The children who came to the play school were Teresa Tillery, Angela McMillan, Karen and Marcia O'Neal, Barnard Hamric and Bobby Brown.

The schedule was from 12:40 until 1:40. For the first thirty-five minutes, the children engaged in play with dolls, blocks, trains and other toys selected as suitable by home economics students. About fifteen minutes of the hour were given to games and stories which were directed by two home economics students. Refreshments consisted of tomato juice and ritz crackers the first day and lemonade with plain cookies were served the last day.

Not only did the children have fun and enjoy the play school, but the high school students who observed also enjoyed and profited by the experience.

P. and P. W. Club Meeting Tuesday

The Montevallo Chapter of the Business and Professional Women's Club met in Reynolds Hall Tuesday, October 16, to hold its monthly dinner meeting.

After the business of the club was discussed, the meeting was moved to Comer Hall to see the movie "Closed Book," shown in connection with an interest of the club to sponsor a driver training course in the Montevallo school system. This program was discussed by S. H. Hurt, and further information will be gathered by Mrs. Mary Hood, who is the Health and Safety Chairman of the club.

Dr. Hallie Farmer, chairman of the Civil Defense and National Security Committee, announced that the Red Cross Home Nursing Course will begin at the high school Thursday evening, October 25. This is another worthwhile project under the sponsorship of the club. Dr. Farmer has worked into her plans also the Red Cross Blood Bank program.

The meeting was adjourned to meet again November 20th.

Mrs. E. G. Mahaffey Handles Telegrams

Commencing this week, all incoming and outgoing messages for Western Union will be handled through Mrs. E. G. Mahaffey at the Western Auto Store.

Previously all Western Union messages were handled at the Montevallo depot, however Southern Railway is discontinuing handling messages. At present, according to Mr. W. S. Hicks, Montevallo, Wilton, Columbiana, and West Blocton are affected by this change.

Messages will be relayed to and from Montevallo by way of Birmingham over the telephone at Western Auto Store.

Music Programs To Be Broadcast

Starting Sunday, October 21, "Music From Montevallo," Alabama College's classical music program, will be heard throughout Alabama. Featuring Putnam Porter at the console of the impressive College pipe organ, this program will be broadcast by nearly a dozen radio stations twice each week.

Listeners in the Montevallo area will be able to hear this program of classical music written especially for the pipe organ from WAPI and WAFM, Birmingham, each Sunday at 9:15 a.m. and at 10:30 p.m. Thirty minutes in length, each program will carry a brief commentary on the music played.

The organist for this series of radio programs, Putnam Porter, is a well known Alabama College faculty member. Porter holds degrees from the University of Chattanooga and Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois. During the past summer Porter spent six weeks in Europe visiting cities and towns made famous in music literature.

Arrangements for state-wide distribution of "Music From Montevallo" and a possible national network series over 70 radio stations are being completed by Ralph Sears, Director of Radio at Alabama College.

Senator Sparkman

Senator John Sparkman, junior senator from Alabama, will be on the campus of Alabama College on November the 20th.

In an open meeting of the World Culture Series, to which the citizens of Montevallo are cordially invited, Senator Sparkman will speak on the problem of international affairs.

If the Senator's time allows, he will remain on the campus for a general discussion period later in the day.

Calera Will Have Guard Armory

Sponsored by the Central Alabama Civitan Club, Calera is to get a $375,000 National Guard Armory, the 657th Transportation Truck Co., with Mr. E. B. Nickerson as commander of the local unit.

Temporary headquarters office is located in the Calera High School. To the young men in the county who are interested enlistment may be made at the Calera High School. This unit was organized in July 1951.

News Notes From Montevallo FFA

Members of the Montevallo F.F.A. met with the 20 on-the-farm GI trainees at the farm of Felix Lewis, Wednesday, and observed various farm implements in operation furnished by distributors of International Harvester equipment.

James Shewbart and Frank McDonald, seniors in agricultural education at Auburn, are working with the Montevallo F.F.A. boys for a period of six weeks, until the Thanksgiving Holidays.

The F.F.A. executive committee headed by Agee Kelly, held a special meeting with honorary members last Thursday evening at which time the annual activity program was approved by the honorary membership.

Featuring a cordial welcome to alumni of Montevallo High School will be a special float in the parade next Friday, designed by F.F.A. boys.

Guy Cupp, one of the greenhand F.F.A. boys, will have a special day on his farm for all the F.F.A. boys Friday, October 19, when Mr. R. M. Strong, salesman of Chore Boy equipment, will give a series of demonstrations on using various kinds of dairy equipment and supplies.

William Clark, of the Dry Valley community, is planning to construct a new dairy barn and go into the dairy business. He has four cows ready for milk production and three heifers. He plans to grow into at least a 12 cow dairy business.

Circle One Met With Mrs. Sharp

Circle 1, of the Womens Society of Christian Service, met Monday night in the home of Mrs. C. G. Sharp, with Miss Georgene Sirmons as co-hostess.

Mrs. Joe Doyle, circle leader, presided over a short business session after the meeting had been opened with prayer by Mrs. M. L. Triplett.

Miss Georgene Sirmons was program leader for the evening. The subject being "The Christian Gospel of Human Rights." She was assisted in presenting the program by Mrs. Gladys Holcomb.

At the conclusion of the interesting program a delightful social hour was enjoyed with the hostesses. Eleven members were present.

Curb Market Appears Reality

A curb market, which has long been anticipated by leading farmers and businessmen, appears to be a reality.

Mr. Don Lovelady, president of the Chamber of Commerce, met with the Montevallo Adult Evening Class, consisting of 34 members, on Tuesday evening, October 16 to discuss plans for the establishment of a curb market in Montevallo. The opinion of this group is that this enterprise will contribute to both the consumer and producer.

A Curb Market

The Times is glad to know of the activity of our Chamber of Commerce directed toward establishment of a curb market in Montevallo.

President Don Lovelady met with a group of farmers recently to discuss the proposition. It is reported that it had a favorable reception.

The operation of a curb market should provide the answer to several questions.

It would give the farm producers a systematic and orderly way to offer their products for sale to people of the town and community.

We believe it would receive the patronage of all of us who must buy farm produce to provide our daily sustenance.

A.A.U.W. will hold their October meeting Tuesday the 23rd in Reynolds dining room. Dr. Caldwell will speak to us on the Papane Peace Treaty. The program will be under the auspices of the Social Science Committee, Lorraine Peter, chairman. Business meeting at 7:30, program at 8:00.

The Montevallo Rotary Club had as its guest speaker on Thursday night, Mr. Nelson O. Fuller, prominent Centerville lawyer. Mr. Fuller is also a member of the Democratic Executive Committee and a member of the Alabama College Board of Trustees.

Rev. S. A. Seegars, Sr., of Logansport, La., was guest minister at the Montevallo Methodist Church Sunday morning. At the beginning of the service, he christened his little granddaughter, Emily, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Seegars, Jr., of Montevallo. In the impressive service, the same Baptismal Bowl that had been used in the family for four generations, was used. Rev. Seegars delivered an inspiring sermon at the eleven o'clock service.

Dr. B. F. Tingle, District Superintendent of the Tuscaloosa District, occupied the pulpit of the Methodist Church Sunday evening and conducted the meeting of the quarterly conference at the conclusion of the service.

Mrs. Tom Fancher was a visitor in Birmingham, Tuesday.

Howard College Extension Course

The Howard College extension course which is being offered in Shelby County on each Thursday night meets in the Columbiana Baptist Church at 7:00 p.m.

Brother Clarence Klinkscale, of Wilsonville, is director. Brother Edward Glover, of Montevallo, teaches the book of The Acts. Brother J. E. Franks, of Columbiana, teaches missions in the Bible. To all Sunday School teachers these courses would be most helpful.

Flower Show Is On November 3-4

A big event in the flower world is coming South this year. The National Chrysanthemum Society Show will be held in Birmingham, on November 3-4, at the Tutwiler Hotel.

This will be the first time that this national show has been held any place other than in the Botanical Gardens, New York. Alabama, and in fact, the entire South is being honored with this event.

Chrysanthemums will be shipped in from all sections of the country and this will afford an opportunity for flower lovers to view this "Queen of the Autumn Season" at its best, and to compare the locally grown flowers with those from other sections. Blooms are being flown in from as far as California.

The show will be open to the public from 2:30 to 9:00 p.m., Saturday, November 3, and from 1:30 to 9:00 p.m., Sunday November 4.

Everyone who wishes may enter blooms in the show, regardless of whether they are members of any garden club. Entries must be made between the hours of 7:00 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. Saturday, November 3.

There will be an admission fee of 60c for adults and 10c for children.

New Hope in Madison County was originally incorporated as Vienna, but the U. S. Post Office Department rejected the name and called it New Hope, and New Hope it has remained.

Time To Mail Gift Packages

The period October 15 to November 15 has again been designated for mailing Christmas parcels to members of our armed forces serving outside the continental United States.

It is expected that many Christmas parcels will be sent this year by persons in this country to their loved ones serving overseas. But those who would send such packages through the mail have more to do than just pack up anything in any sort of way and put it in the mails.

The post office department has issued to all postmasters full and complete instructions about what may be accepted for mailing overseas and how it must be packed.

Therefore, it is a good idea to discuss the matter with your postmaster first and find out how you should proceed. He will be glad to give you the necessary information so that you may be assured that your package gets to its far-away destination in good condition.

On February 17, 1885, for the purpose of making needed enlargement to the capitol and to furnish the same, an appropriation of $25,000 was made. For this comparatively small sum, as measured by the present day standards, the rear extension or eastern wing of the building was constructed. The addition is 50 feet wide and 75 feet long and consists of three floors and a basement.

News Notes From Thompson High

Henry W. Peete, a member of the mathematics department here has been selected by the State Department of Education to serve on the visiting committee for evaluative criteria at John Carroll High School, Birmingham, the week of March 26.

Mr. R. C. McCully, principal of B. B. Comer High School, Sylacauga, will speak at the October 15 P.T.A. meeting here at 7:30 at the "Y". He will speak on "What Southern Accredited Association will mean to our School."

The Rev. Melvin Butler will give the devotional.

Miss Iris Kirkpatrick, speech teacher here, will be a member of the Visiting Committee at the Benjamin Russel High School in Alexander City during the week of November 12-16 while that school is being evaluated.

Geologists Spur World Progress Through Surveys

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The geologist has come into his own.

The scientist who studies the nature and distribution of rocks, soil, water, and other components of the earth's crust has all the work he can handle, observes the National Geographic Society.

The whole world is his onion. His employers are the world's national and provincial governments, its research and educational institutions, and a growing list of industries. His skill, leading to discovery of metal ore deposits, reservoirs of oil and other treasures, constantly spurs economic progress.

Delaware, first of the 48 states to enter the Union, pointed up the fact of the geologists' current heyday early this summer by becoming not the first but the 48th state to establish its own permanent geology staff.

Federal Survey Blazes Trail

Delaware, next to smallest and the lowest in mean altitude among the states, has had less need than other states for the geologist's help. Its new Delaware State Geological Survey will mesh field operations with the U.S. Geological Survey, explore mineral resources, surface and underground water flow, record rock strata suitable for road and building stone.

Most state geological surveys have earned permanent status only since 1900. New Jersey, Michigan, and Alabama are among the few whose earth-crust researches have been continuous since soon after the close of the Civil War.

Virtually all states east of the Mississippi River, however, took fliers in geology more than a century ago. The Carolinas separately authorized field excursions in 1823-24. State geological surveys labeled as such were launched by Massachusetts in 1830, by Tennessee in 1831, and by Maryland in 1833. Delaware had one, also, in 1837-38.

Take Guess Out of Oil Hunt
Geologists of the U.S. Geological Survey, established in 1879, have made more than 4,000 large-scale contour maps of quadrangles within the 48 states, all accurately compiled in the field. Useful in many ways, these maps have proved indispensable to private developers of resources in interpreting earth-crust structure.

Groups of specialists work effectively within the Federal Survey. The fuels group, studying the relative geology of coal, oil, and gas, has since 1920 taken much of the chance out of the search for oil by developing knowledge of the signs favorable to well-drilling. The metals group, studying the occurrence of ore deposits, has guided mining engineers to actual deposits of many metals, and leads the search for metals in which the nation is short.

Shelby Reports Eight TB Cases

The 199 tuberculosis cases reported in August from the entire state included 8 reported from Shelby County. The announcement was made by the State Department of Health.

Cases were reported in August from 51 counties. The 14 counties reporting five or more each were as follows:

Lee and Morgan, five each; Calhoun, Cullman, Madison, Talladega and Tuscaloosa, six each; Dallas and Shelby, eight each; Lauderdale, nine; Jefferson and Montgomery, 12 each; Russell, 16; Mobile, 19.

Times Ain't Much Changed From B.C.; Researcher States

NEWARK, N.J.—Somebody has said that there is nothing new under the sun and Dr. Moses I. Finley, assistant professor of history at the Newark College of Arts and Sciences of the State University, is inclined to agree with him after studying business practices in ancient Greece.

Dr. Finley has discovered, for instance, that when a citizen of Athens, circa 400 B.C., got in financial difficulties because he had bought too many silk togas for his wife or too much wine for his parties, he did just what moderns do. He went in hock. That is, he mortgaged a piece of land, borrowed money and paid off his creditors.

This is one of the many significant facts about the way the ancient Greeks did business which Dr. Finley has uncovered in his search for new knowledge in this heretofore rarely studied field—the machinery of finance 2,350 years ago.

A student of ancient history for more than 20 years, Dr. Finley became interested in ancient business practices in 1947 and began his study by reading everything available on the subject.

His interest was quickened by what he read about the Horoi, stones which the early Greeks placed at the boundaries of their property lines. The existence of the stones as boundary markers had been known for a century, but when Dr. Finley finished studying some 152 of them he had added knowledge about their use.

He found that the Horoi were used as much as the record of a mortgage as a boundary marker.

Working from the original Greek, Dr. Finley has been able to determine from the crude lettering on the Horoi the various reasons why land was mortgaged. Generally people of some wealth were involved and in general the mortgage was the result of borrowing.

From other Horoi he found information on the Greek way of life. Some record charges on property given as a dowry. Others specify that the property was to be kept intact for a minor. Dr. Finley also discovered that in ancient Greece the mortgage was more a substitute for an actual debt than security in the modern sense of the word.

Shelby County Sales Highest In State

University, Ala. — The preliminary Alabama retail sales index for July is 103.3, a decrease of 6.7 per cent from June, the Retail Trade Report of the University of Alabama Bureau of Business Research reported.

Business in Alabama in June however, remained at a high level. Non-agricultural employment reached the highest peak on the Bureau's records, dating from 1948.

According to Department of Industrial Relations 38,000 employees more were employed in June of this year than June 1950.

Over two-thirds of the 8,800 worker gain over May was accounted for by settlement of labor disputes.

Net retail sales for Shelby County in June showed a 9.5 per cent increase from May, compared with an average state decline of 2.8 per cent.

Forty-four counties of the state's 67 reported dollar volume of retail sales as smaller in June than May.

The Shelby County sales index was 162.7, highest in the state and showed a 9.5 per cent rise over May. Chilton, Dale, Franklin and Mobile Counties had indexes over 140. The net sales index is computed with the average month in 1948 as 100.

Latest Arrest Brings Shame To 'Hi Class' Chi Hoodlum

CHICAGO, Ill.—There were several catastrophes over the last Fourth of July holiday. A "high class" Chicago hoodlum, however, thinks his personal misfortune one of the worst.

Boasting proudly of 75 arrests ranging from robbery to shooting, Guy (Lover Boy) Hendola, 26, is reluctant to talk about his 76th offense.

Mendola, under sentence of 14-years for a jewelry robbery in Memphis, is in Chicago awaiting an appeal of the conviction. His 76th conviction was under violation of a minor city ordinance.

"What will they think?" says he. "Me—me—arrested for shooting off firecrackers."

Calera VFW Post Special Meeting

The special public meeting of the Crawford-West Post 4921, Veterans of Foreign Wars of U. S. slated for Tuesday, October 23 at 7:30 p.m. in the Calera Town Hall will be open to the ladies as well as men according to Lewis R. Nail.

"With the works of enemy-isms everywhere it is important that we all learn everything possible about recognizing their efforts here at home that we may be able to combat it on the local level," says Nail.

Department officers of the V.F.W. will be present for the occasion which will mark the official opening of the 1952 membership drive of the local post, and the election of officers for the coming term.

Former members and all eligible overseas veterans are particularly urged to attend this meeting.

Here's why Fordomatic puts them all in the past!

For the past year, automotive writers, engineers and owners have been raving about a new kind of automatic driving . . . and here's why you get it only in Ford Cars:

All the power you need when you need it!

Some automatics have this

The automatic drive some cars offer you is a torque converter which multiplies torque without the use of gears. Its advantage is a smooth flow of power. Its disadvantage is a smaller range of torque multiplication which requires more power from the engine and an uneconomical axle ratio which increases costs.

Some automatics have this

Other cars offer an automatic drive that uses automatic gears (as illustrated in simplified form at right) instead of a torque converter. The advantage here is more "go," more control and greater economy. The disadvantage is that this system is not as smooth, nor as jerk-free as a torque converter.

It gives you instant "GO"!

It practically drives itself!

But Fordomatic has both

Yes, Fordomatic has a torque converter plus automatic gears. It brings you only the advantages of both drives. Unlike cars with only a torque converter (which start and cruise all in one drive gear), Fordomatic starts fast and smooth in Intermediate Gear then shifts itself into Drive Gear.

GROWING UP IN THE SOUTH

TELEPHONE SERVICE IS GROWING, TOO

...and the price is up far less than most things you buy!

SINCE this little fellow was born—in just five years—the number of local telephones Alabamians can call has more than doubled. And Southern Bell expects to spend more than $14,000,000 this year to expand and improve telephone service for this fast-growing state.

BEST OF ALL, look at the modest price you pay for this bigger, better "package" of service! During ten years of rising prices it has gone up only a fraction as much as prices in general . . . and less than our cost of providing the service.

ALWAYS one of your biggest bargains, telephone service is today an even better buy than it was ten years ago, and a smaller part of your family budget.—Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Find Out How To Send Gift Packages Overseas

Shelby countians this week received their yearly caution from the United States Department of Commerce not to send gift packages abroad without first familiarizing themselves with the regulations of other countries on the importation of such goods.

The warning came as residents of the county began looking around for Christmas gifts for relatives and friends abroad.

According to Merrill C. Lofton, Commerce Department regional director in Atlanta, just about every country in the world has some kind of regulation on the importation of goods, whether it be Christmas gifts or commercial shipments.

For example, gift packages sent to the Netherlands must not contain more than 1,000 cigarettes. In shipping to Italy, if you label your package "pacco familiare gratuito" it will go duty-free and without the necessity of obtaining an import license. Customs duties and taxes are levied on all articles sent as gifts to the Soviet zone of Germany and Soviet sector of Berlin. "Hundreds of residents in the Southeast including, no doubt, many in Shelby county will be shipping packages abroad again this Christmas, and it would be advisable for them first to get in touch with the nearest field office of the U. S. Department of Commerce and ask for regulations covering the shipment of gift packages to those countries. Otherwise, their packages may be held up."

Governor Names Board of Registrars

Shelby County's new Board of Registrars consists of J. A. King, chairman, Pelham; Ross Bob Mullins, Columbiana; and S. M. Mahan, Montevallo.

The Board has announced its meetings over the county for the purpose of registering voters who are eligible. The following meetings of the Board should be noted by persons in West Shelby:

Dogwood, October 31.
Boothton, November 1.
Siluria, November 2.
Saginaw, November 3.
Calera, November 12 and 13.
Montevallo, November 14 and 15.
Wilton, November 16.
Ebenezer, November 17.
Helena, November 20 and 21.
Pelham, November 22 and 23.
Columbiana, November 26-30.

No person shall be registered, except at the courthouse or in the precinct where he or she resides.

PTA County Council Organized

The P.T.A. County Council was reorganized recently at Columbiana High School. New officers elected were:

Mrs. Harry Anderson, Calera, President; Mrs. Z. S. Cowart, Jr., Calera, Vice-President; Mrs. Lewis Brasher, Shelby, Secretary; Mrs. R. M. Denney, Vincent, Treasurer.

All officers attended the fifth District meeting on October 9, at Howard College, Birmingham.

A school of instruction is being planned to be held at an early date, to be announced later.

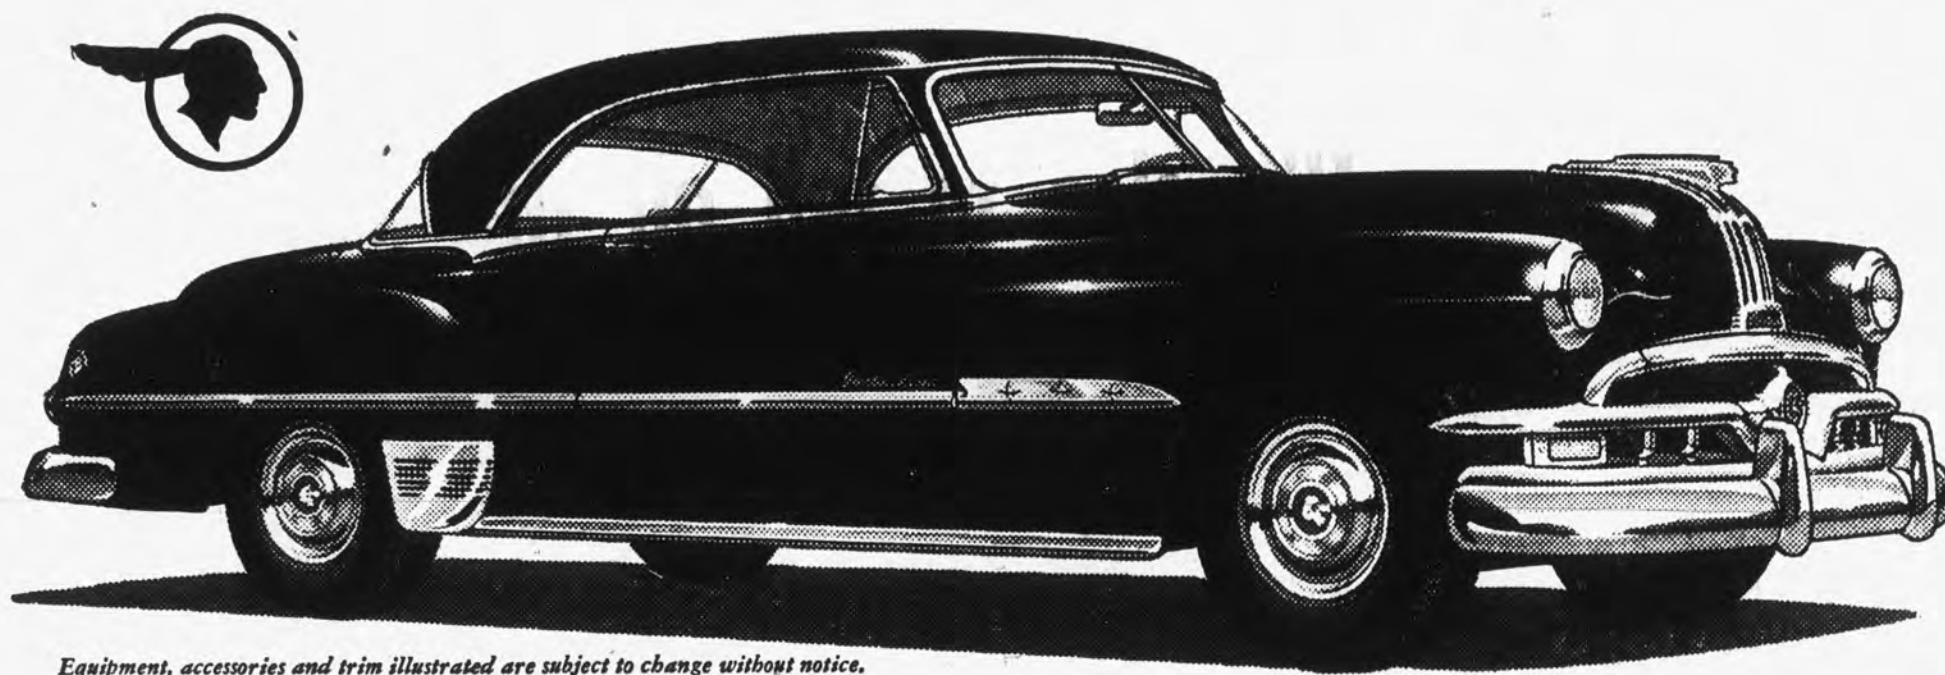

Mrs. D. D. Bruce, District First Vice-President, will conduct the school.

Farm Bureau Annual Meeting At Biloxi, Miss.

Montgomery — Necessity for thorough discussion of many important issues facing the nation's farmers, together with a program that will include several nationally known figures, will draw hundreds of farmers and rural homemakers to Biloxi, Miss., November 5-7 for the annual convention of the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation and Alabama Council of Home Demonstration Clubs.

It will be the Farm Bureau's 30th meeting since representatives from scattered areas got together at Auburn in 1921 to form the federation that rapidly grew until strong units were established in all 67 counties. The Home Demonstration Club council, not officially connected with but closely related to the Farm Bureau, will be meeting for the 24th year.

Heading the speaking program at joint sessions of the two big groups will be Sen. Robert Taft, Ohio republican leader, and Sen. John Sparkman, Alabama democrat and United Nations delegate. Representing the Farm Bureau's national organization will be O. D. Brissenden, director of organization for the Illinois Agricultural Association, and Mrs. Charles N. DeShazo, of Pauls Cross Roads, Va., secretary of the Associated Women of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

With agriculture bearing such a great responsibility in the present period of international tension, much interest is being shown in the forthcoming convention, said Federation President Walter L. Randolph. Mrs. J. Frank Baker, of Montevallo, is president of the Home Demonstration Council, and the presidents of the two farm youth groups, Bobby Bridgeman, Eclectic, 4-H Club leader, and Joe Broadwater, Tanner, head of the Future Farmers, also will participate in the program.

The convention will be followed November 7-12 by the state-wide Farm Bureau membership drive.

The coroner is what too many people approach at 60 miles an hour.

M. Thornton On Advisory Commission

M. Thornton, teacher of vocational agriculture, has been approved as one of the 14 members of the Advisory Commission on teacher education for the state superintendent and state board of education.

Thirty four were enrolled in the adult evening class which will meet each Tuesday evening at 7:00 o'clock at the vocational building. Others interested in discussing community and farm problems are invited to attend.

The county-wide meeting of Shelby teachers will be held at Montevallo High School November the first.

Nineteen members are enrolled in an adult class which meets at Calera Town Hall every Tuesday at 3:15 p.m. The next meeting is October 23 and the general theme of the class meetings is "Home Improvement."

4-H Girls Ready To Begin Program

Shelby County 4-H girls' clubs are ready to begin a full well-rounded 4-H program.

Officers are elected and enrollments have been set up in each club.

The demonstrations for 1951-52 are:

October, "Have Pimples Moved In on You?"

November, Making Christmas Cards

December, Holiday Entertaining

January, A Prettier You

February, Making Oatmeal Cookies

March, Looking At You. Apron, skirt and dress revues

April, Table Courtesy

May, Making Peach Jam

June, You and Your Money

July, Grow With Friends

Dr. Henry C. Niles To Be Installed

The commission appointed by the Birmingham Presbytery will install Dr. Henry C. Niles as pastor of the Montevallo Presbyterian Church next Sunday night at 7:30.

All members and friends of the Presbyterian Church are invited to attend this installation service.

Calera Garden Club Sponsors Study In Landscaping

The Calera Garden Club is sponsoring a special class in landscaping and home improvement. We have secured the help of Mr. M. Thornton, vocational agriculture teacher of Montevallo.

The class meeting will be one hour and much follow-up work will be done to see that we get to do some of the things we study.

The Vocational Agriculture Department will furnish information to help solve some of the problems concerning home improvement and landscaping.

The following schedule will be carried out:

October 23, Selection of Plant Materials. (Will plan tour to a nursery.)

November 13, Transplanting Shrubs and Trees.

November 27, Cultivating, Fertilizing and Care of Shrubs and Trees.

December 11, Pruning and Training Plants, Plant Propagation.

December 18 night meeting. Summary, husband night and other men attending class.

January 2, Control of insects and diseases of shrubs.

February 2, General improvement around the home.

March 2, growing flowers.

April 2, care and maintenance of lawns.

May 2, general summary of future plans.

Be sure to join us at 3:15 p.m. October 23 at the Town Hall.

The three projects now being planned are beautifying the Town Hall, both Methodist and Baptist churches.

MHS Home Coming Festivities Planned Here For Friday

Miss Joy Holcombe will reign over the homecoming festivities at Montevallo High School, Friday, October 26. Misses Emily Vest and Clara Young will serve as her attendants. These girls were chosen from the student body by popular vote of all the students.

The homecoming activities include a special pep rally and bonfire on Thursday night at 6:30 on the athletic field with the cheerleaders in charge. Cheerleaders are Mary Lawley (head), Ann Cox, Florence Daly, Barbara Galloway, Mary Charles Mahaffey, Jo Ann Smith and Bonnie Faye Green. On Friday afternoon the entire student body will take part in a parade which includes floats from all classes in school. The Montevallo High School band, under the direction of V. T. Young, will lead the parade which will begin at the high school at 1:30 and proceed through town via the bus station and down Main Street. The cheerleaders will conduct a pep rally in town.

The Queen and her attendants will be presented immediately before game time at 7:30. The opponents for the Montevallo Bulldogs in this homecoming game will be the Plantersville Hornets from Dallas County. The band will present special music at half time.

The festivities will be climaxed by a dance in the high school auditorium after the game. Bobby Brand and her Rhythmaires from Birmingham will furnish the music. Admission to the dance is $1.50 couple for adults; $1.00 stag; 75c couple for students and 50c for stag. The Queen will be crowned at the dance.

PETE JARMAN

Hon. Pete Jarman, our former Congressman, now American Ambassador to Australia, was a visitor to The Times office Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Jarman are spending a two-months leave of absence visiting with friends in Alabama and other parts of the country. They are immensely enjoying their diplomatic assignment in Australia.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Wyatt announce the birth of a son at South Highlands Hospital in Birmingham Monday morning, October 22. His name is William McDaniel.

Chaplain (Major) Herschel H. Day was pastor of Six Mile Baptist Church, and, in addition, served as chaplain of the 319th Bomber Wing Reserve of Birmingham. This unit was activated on March 10 this year, the chaplain receiving assignment to Sheppard, home of the U. S. Air Force Airplane and Engine Mechanic School.

He had 47 months service as chaplain during World War II, 15 being in the Pacific theatre. In 1949 and 1950 he was pastor at Centreville.

Airmen here from Shelby County are: Pvt. Ruben D. Patterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Patterson, and Pfc. William I. Eaves, Jr., both from Columbiana; Pfc. Bobby D. Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Mitchell, Shelby; Pvt. James F. Howell, son of Mrs. Lou Ellen Forster, Harpersville, and Pfc. Reginald Trussell, stepson of Mrs. Bitho Trussell, Sterrett.

These five are members of student squadrons and are studying to become airplane and engine mechanics at the largest technical school of its type in the world. Sheppard's A&E School has an enrollment of more than 12,000 and there are 2,000 faculty members.

Dr. Caldwell's Report To Trustee Board Summarizes Year Of Progress At College

One of the most modern college swimming pools in the South, new color in classrooms, renovated dormitory suites and a 23-acre lake and recreation area, these are some of the improvements which highlight the President's annual report to the Board of Trustees of Alabama College at Montevallo.

President John T. Caldwell made public today his 1950-51 report summarizing changes and progress on the Montevallo campus.

Here are key points of the report:

"The past year has been most active in construction and modernization of facilities" including new home economics laboratories, art department studios, and redecoration of Main Dormitory, plus the lake and the $140,000 pool.

Added flexibility in the college curriculum pattern allows the student more individuality in her program.

Foreign Students

The student body represents 63 Alabama counties, 17 states and 20 students are from outside the continental United States. This group represents 7 foreign countries and 1 United States territory.

At a time when enrollments over the nation are generally off from 10 to 20% Alabama College enrollment is down only 6%.

"In view of the current discussion of national moral and integrity," Dr. Caldwell told trustees, "it is a happy privilege to report that the students at Alabama College show no disposition to retreat from any of the traditional standards of honor on their campus. Rather they have reaffirmed their determination to make the Honor System here an inviolate code of conduct."

The report recognized faculty members who have been honored by professional and educational organizations and college personnel who have completed work for degrees or who have received honorary degrees during the year.

Favorable results have come from two steps which bring students and the College Administration closer together in current educational planning.

"Students now sit with faculty on partially every committee of the college and participate in the deliberations and voting" commented President Caldwell in explaining the first step. Second factor is the result of pre-opening conferences in which faculty and students participate. Groups discuss the honor system and faculty-student relationships. Dr. Caldwell indicated that staff-student relationships are the best he has witnessed.

The Board of Trustees passed a resolution establishing a retirement policy for non-academic personnel which sets the age of 75 as maximum for active service. This provision will retire four members of the college staff at the end of the current school year. Three others are also retiring.

Violinist

GIOVANNI BAGAROTTI

Giovanni Bagarotti, violinist, will present a recital in Palmer Hall Friday at 8:00 p.m.. This is the second of the current Concert and Lecture Series of Alabama College. He will be accompanied at the piano by his wife.

District Teachers Meeting Here Next Saturday

Teachers from seventeen school systems will meet at Montevallo Saturday, October 27, in the annual meeting of District 5 of the Alabama Education Association, Raymond D. Hurlbert, Birmingham, president, has announced. The program features addresses by Dr. J. Howe Hadley, Tuscaloosa, state AEA president, and Dean F. E. Lund, Florence State Teachers College.

To Hear Violinist

The session will be held at Palmer Hall at 9:30 o'clock. Through courtesy of Alabama College, teachers will hear Giovanni Bagarotti, concert violinist. Three panels will consider recent school legislation, public relations, and education associations.

Participating are Raymond Fowler, secretary, State Teachers Retirement System; Miss Zora Ellis, former AEA president; superintendents Virgil Nunn, Fairfield, and J. W. Letson, Bessemer; and local association presidents M. Thornton, Shelby County; Dwight Murphree, Blunt; Wilburn Hudson, Walker; Miss Alberta Jones, Bessemer; Mrs. Irene Liles, Tarrant; Paul Carter, Jasper; John Slaughter, Birmingham; and Mrs. Virginia Coleman, Sylacauga.

Four Discussions

Following the general meeting, teachers will take part in four discussions. Chairman for a meeting on ethics is Clyde Yeilding, Jefferson County. Miss Tena Baker, Birmingham, will lead discussion of international understanding. Problems of professional relations and teacher welfare will be considered under chairmanship of Miss Calara Belle Senn, Birmingham. Miss Lucile Hardeman, Jefferson County, will lead the discussion of spiritual and moral values.

Classroom teacher leaders will meet with Miss Virginia Prayton, Birmingham, and members of Future Teachers of America clubs and chapters with Miss Dayle Caldwell, West End High School.

Vincent Rains, assistant secretary, Alabama Education Association, will speak at the luncheon meeting. Miss Sara Pritchett, Jefferson County, district vice-president, will preside.

Teachers in attendance will be from Blount, Chilton, Jefferson, St. Clair, Shelby, Talladega, and Walker counties; from city systems of Bessemer, Birmingham, Carbon Hill, Fairfield, Jasper, Sylacauga, Talladega, and Tarrant; from Alabama College and Alabama Institute for Deaf and Blind.

D A R Holds First Meeting Of Year

Mrs. T. H. Napier was hostess to the David Lindsay Chapter at her home on Monday evening. The house was beautiful with fall flowers.

In addition to the interest a first meeting always holds, a most instructive and enjoyable discussion on "Conservation in Alabama" was given by Miss Ethel Marshall.

An attractive and delicious salad plate was served. Eighteen members were present.

A GOOD IDEA

County Agent A. A. Lauderdale, of the county seat, was in Montevallo Monday. I found him and Don Lovelady deep in discussion of a suggestion from Mr. Lovelady that Lauderdale set up a branch office of the Extension Service in Montevallo to serve the farmers of West Shelby County more conveniently.

It is a good idea and we hope Mr. Lauderdale will consider it—and do it.

This arrangement would be to a great advantage of the farmers in West Shelby County.

DR. E. MARLIN FITTS

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Klotzman report that the rumor which has been going around that Dr. E. Marlin Fitts had died, is false. Dr. Fitts phoned the Klotzmans from Chattanooga, Tenn. and informed them that he was not dead, but doing fine in Chattanooga.

Dr. Fitts formerly practiced medicine in Montevallo.

Meet To Nominate School Trustees

Mr. S. H. Hurt, principal of the Montevallo Schools, announces this week that he has called a meeting of the parents of students in the Montevallo schools at the school on Tuesday, November 13, at 7:30 p.m. for the purpose of nominating six persons for trustees for the school.

From this list of six nominees the County Board of Education will select three to serve as trustees for a four year term. Any vacancies occurring in board will be filled by the County Board if Education from the remaining nominees.

Only patrons of the school will have a vote in this meeting.

Hurt Will Lead Chest Campaign

The Montevallo Community Chest Board held its organizational meeting at the City Hall Monday night and elected the following officers: Chairman, T. E. Watson; Vice-Chairman, S. H. Hurt; Secretary, Mrs. P. D. Pendleton.

Mr. S. H. Hurt will be chairman of the drive, with Mr. Hobart Vernon as co-chairman.

The board has set Monday, October 29, 7:30 p.m. as the date which they will meet to hear the request of the various organizations who wish to participate in the 1951-52 drive. The meeting will be held at Reynolds Hall.

Kenneth Noojin, of Huntsville, District Governor of Rotary District 238, will make his official visit to the Montevallo Rotary Club at the regular meeting to be followed by a meeting with the Board of Directors and Committee Chairman.

Three To Judge Waley's Contest

Judges to select the local winner of the big Crosley "American Way" Contest have been announced by R. E. Waley, owner of Waley Furniture Company, Montevallo. Mr. W. M. Wyatt, Miss Vinnie Lee Walker and Mr. Ralph Sears have accepted invitations to serve as judges to pick the winning local statement in fifty words or less on "What the American Way of Life Means to Me." First award will be a $300 Crosley merchandise certificate to the writer and $100 in cash to the church or recognized charity of his or her choice.

The local contest is part of a huge national $2,000,000 contest conducted by the Crosley Division, Avco Manufacturing Corporation. Entry blanks for both the local and national contests may be obtained without obligation at Waley Furniture Company, a Crosley dealer.

Mr. W. M. Wyatt is publisher of The Montevallo Times and Mayor of Montevallo. Miss Vinnie Lee Walker is supervisor of English and sponsor of the senior class at the Montevallo High School. Mr. Ralph Sears is the head of the radio department of Alabama College.

The $300 Crosley merchandise certificate being awarded by Waley Furniture Company is one of thousands to be given away by Crosley dealers throughout the country in the "American Way of Life" Contest.

Total prizes include over $1,500, 000 worth of Crosley merchandise certificates and cash awards and $500,00 in cash to churches or recognized charities named by many winners. Grand prizes will include cash awards ranging from $10,000 to $1,000.

P T A Meeting Tuesday Night

The Montevallo P.T.A. meets next Tuesday night, October 30 at the high school at 7:30. This is a business meeting to discuss school finances. All parents are urged to attend.

NOTICE OF SALE OF LAND

Charlie H. Trucks, Complainant, vs. Mae Trucks Brownlee and Joe Trucks, Respondents; No. 3388, in the Circuit Court of Shelby County, Alabama, In Equity.

Under and by virtue of an order and decree of the Circuit Court of Shelby County, Alabama, in Equity, rendered in the above styled cause on the 23rd day of October, 1951, the undersigned, as Register of the Circuit Court of Shelby County, Alabama, in Equity, will sell to the highest bidder, for cash, in front of the court house door in Columbiana, Shelby County, Alabama, within the legal hours of sale, on Saturday, the 24th day of November, 1951, for division among the joint owners, or tenants in common, the following described lands, situated in Shelby County, Alabama, to-wit:

A tract or parcel of land situated in the Town of Montevallo, Shelby County, Alabama, more particularly described as follows: Begin at the intersection of the South line of the NE 1/4 of the NW 1/4 of Section 21, Township 22 South, Range 3 West, with the West margin of the right-of-way of the Montevallo-Siluria paved highway and go thence in a Southerly direction along the right-of-way of said road to a point of intersection on said right-of-way with a line running NE and SW, which line parallels the NW boundary of Lyman's addition to the Town of Montevallo as recorded in the Probate Office of Shelby County, Alabama, at a distance of 20 feet; go thence in a southwesterly direction along the aforementioned line which is parallel to the NW boundary of said Lyman's addition for a distance of 761 feet, more or less, to a point which is the SE corner of a lot heretofore deeded by Jenie L. Bozarth, et. al., to Elizabeth Blair Chamberlin by deed dated January 30, 1933, which deed appears of record in the Probate Office of Shelby County in Deed Book 97 at page 83; go thence North 19 deg. West 245 feet along the East boundary of the said Chamberlin lot; continue thence in a Northerly direction along the East boundary of the said Chamberlin lot to the south line of the NE 1/4 of NW 1/4 of said Section 21, which point is 674 feet west of the SE corner of said NE 1/4 of NW 1/4 of said Section 21; go thence in an easterly direction along the south line of the NE quarter of NW 1/4 of said Section 21, to the point of beginning; subject to transmission line permit to the Alabama Power Company, which permit appears of record in Deed Book 102 at page 301 in the Probate Office of Shelby County, Alabama.

Given under my hand this the 23rd day of October, 1951.

SAVE FUEL NEXT WINTER WITH ZONOLITE INSULATION

EASY TO INSTALL...POURS INTO PLACE

Reduce your fuel bills as much as 40%. Have greater comfort—less sickness—fewer colds. Just pour Zonolite Granular Fill between the joists in the attic, and between the studs in the sidewalls, to seal your home for all-year comfort. The light-weight, easy-pouring Zonolite Granular Fill flows in around pipes, braces, etc. to make a solid uniform insulation. Zonolite insulation is virtually non-settling and it's there to stay as long as the building stands—fireproof, rotproof, verminproof. A bag weighs about 24 lbs. — covers 17 square feet, 3 inches deep. Don't go another season without Zonolite comfort.

A Comparison Of Fescue and Rescue

Because of similar names of Ky. 31 Fescue and Rescue grasses, some confusion has arisen. To clear this and emphasize the place we expect each to fill in Shelby County's agriculture, we are listing similarities and differences below:

Both grasses are excellent conservation crops, winter-hardy, perennials, good grazing, very nutritious. Both are to be fall planted and will stand drought but grow best in cool moist weather, and require adequate minerals and nitrogen for best growth, can be rotated with row crops or sown on kudzu and sericea.

The grasses are different thus: Fescue is long-lived: Rescue may live 3 to 5 years.

Fescue is a very healthy grass: Some strains of Rescue are subject to mildew and head-smut.

Fescue is small seeded: Rescue, being large seeded, produces fast growing seedlings.

Fescue shows little tendency to thicken stands from volunteer seeding: Rescue shattered out on the ground remains to come up to a heavy stand in the fall.

Fescue is a little coarse, less palatable than Rescue which is very tender.

Fescue stands shaded out in legumes must be re-established by seeding, Rescue returns from own seed.

Fescue seed is readily obtainable, Rescue seed must be bought with care because of scarcity of proven disease resistant strains.

Fescue turned under in rotations will not reseed. Rescue might be a nuisance in a following small grain crop.

Both grasses are suggested for general use in beef, milk, and other livestock programs. The severe fall weather conditions of recent years have made perennial grasses very valuable to Shelby County farmers. Already thousands of acres of Ky. 31 Fescue are in production. Rescue plots planted with SCS strains in this area are these places:

Course Offered In Care Of The Sick

How many people do you know who can care for the sick in everyday life or in time of emergency? Undoubtedly, there are a great many more people who can't give adequate help with home nursing than those who can.

The Business and Professional Women are offering, through the Montevallo Red Cross Chapter, a course of several lessons in Home Care of the Sick. The group will meet for two hours once a week. The first meeting will be held in the high school home economics department Thursday night, October 25 at seven o'clock.

The topics for the seven lessons are:

- When Sickness Occurs
- The Patient Goes to Bed
- The clean and well-groomed bed

Home Demonstration Club Women Hold Annual Achievement Day At Calera

Shelby County Home Demonstration Women observing their annual Achievement Day at Calera last Thursday were given no time to rest on their laurels.

Instead, Mrs. Lillie M. Alexander, the Alabama Home Demonstration agent who came from Auburn to be the day's principal speaker, laid down a stern challenge to them for the days ahead.

Noting the fine work just completed, she urged the county's 27 clubs and 1069 members to plunge immediately into the problems facing America today.

"We are the hope of the nation," she told them, "and you have no idea how much can be accomplished when groups of women like you get together in your own little communities, at Mt. Era and Ebenezer and Siluria, for instance, to take a stand on today's problems."

This story was written by Jane Aldridge in The Birmingham Post-Herald last Thursday. It was accompanied in the Post-Herald by several pictures of women and events at the meeting.

She urged the women particularly to mobilize their forces in fighting inflation and to study and read and discuss the political problems facing the nation.

"You must be informed," she declared, "and you must vote and take your places as citizens."

Home demonstration women, she added, are particularly qualified to fight inflation because so many of their efforts normally center around wise buying, food conservation, sewing and homemaking.

"Normally the higher prices go, the lower go our living standards," she declared, "but home demonstration women have the know-how to help hold those standards higher."

She also urged them to throw their support and energies behind national defense programs including the Red Cross and Blood Bank.

More than 200 women from over the county attended the meeting.

A high spot of the day was as the naming of the Ebenezer Club as Shelby County's Home Demonstration Club of the year.

competition were the Calera Club and the West Calera Club.

In announcing the winners, Assistant County Agent W. M. Clark, pointed to the fine attendance and achievements of the three top clubs.

Among the other noteworthy achievements, the Ebenezer Club has been bringing dozens of cookies to Terminal Station in Birmingham each Monday for distribution to the servicemen. They also made and donated two quilts to the Crippled Children's Clinic in Birmingham and sent another off in a box of gifts to a needy family overseas. It also contributed $6.72 to "Pennies for Friendship" and carried on a busy program of canning, food conservation, cemetery improvement, 4-H Club work and other typical home demonstration projects.

Marvin Smith, principal of the Calera School where the meeting was held, spoke briefly, praising The Home Demonstration groups contributions and achievements.

Other speakers were the county council president, Mrs. Nina Kent of the Siluria Club, who presided over the meeting; Mrs. Joe Hodges, of the Pelham-Keystone Club who narrated the activities and accomplishments of all of the clubs; and Shelby County's home demonstration agent, Miss Marion Cotney, who outlined the 1952 program for the women.

Mrs. J. Frank Baker, Montevallo, president of the Alabama Home Demonstration Council, was song director and Mrs. Herbert Poole, of the Pelham-Keystone Club, was pianist.

Two of the three county dress review winners and the 4-H club dress review winners were on hand to model the prize-winning dresses which they will enter in state-wide competition at Biloxi, Miss., next month.

Another feature of the program was a solo by the 4-H Club talent-winner, Gloria McRay of the Calera 4-H Club who was accompanied by another Calera 4-H'er, Martha Rose Askins.

Mrs. A. D. Glover presented the Collect, and Mrs. George Howell gave the devotion.

Luncheon was served at the Calera Methodist Church by a committee of women from the various clubs. The luncheon committee was headed by Mrs. J. G. Lacey of the Siluria Club and Mrs. J. M. Denson of the New Hope Club.

New officers elected were Mrs. Leon Moody, of Mayberry, secretary; Mrs. Dean Holcombe, of Dargin, parliamentarian, and Mrs. F. R. Wall, of Yellow Leaf, second vice-president.

Other officers will be up for election next year.

When The Cypress Land Company in 1818 auctioned off lots on the site that has since become Florence, it had among its distinguished purchasers such men as President James Monroe, ex-President James Madison and Gen. Andrew Jackson, who was later to occupy the White House in Washington for two terms. The sale brought the Cypress Land Company the then vast sum of $223,580. This auction created interest in the Tennessee Valley, and settlers came by the hundreds.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN

(By Mrs. A. E. Baumgartner)

Mrs. W. A. Patillo and Mrs. Carolyn Lamp, of Birmingham, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. McConaughy last week.

Rev. and Mrs. O. R. Burns were recent visitors in the home of their daughter, Mrs. M. L. Orr, Jr. and family.

Mrs. Helen McBurnett and son, Jack, spent the week-end in Piper with friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Brewer Carpenter, Sr. went to Siluria for the week-end to visit their son, Brewer, Jr., and family.

Mr. and Mrs. John Doyle, of Birmingham, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Doyle and Beverly.

Miss Virginia Weems, of Montgomery, spent several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Weems, this past week. Mrs. Weems suffered a severe fall as she was leaving Palmer Hall last Thursday night. Although it was serious, she was fortunate to have no broken bones. Her many friends are wishing her a rapid recovery of her painful experience.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Esslinger and children, of Huntsville, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Stephens. Mrs. Esslinger is the former Miss Gladys Stephens. She and her husband both teach at the New Hope School.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hicks, of Cincinnati, Ohio, and Mr. Grady Hicks, of Camp Chaffey, Ark., were week-end guests of their mother, Mrs. Roy Hicks, Laura Ann and Becky. Grady is in his last week of leadership school, then he will be assigned to O.C.S.

The regular monthly business meeting of the Womans Society of Christian Service was held at the Methodist Church Monday afternoon at 3:30. Mrs. W. P. McConaughy was devotional leader for the afternoon, and Mrs. A. E. Baumgartner presided over the business session.

in Washington, will speak in Palmer Auditorium, Tuesday morning, October 30, at 11:00 o'clock. There will be an informal coffee hour at 7:00 a.m. in Reynolds followed by an informal question hour upstairs in Reynolds Auditorium. This is a rare opportunity for towns people as well as college students, to hear this prominent speaker, and all are cordially invited to hear him. Dr. Greenhill is one of many outstanding speakers scheduled to speak in the World Culture Series, all of which are open to the citizens of Montevallo.

Mr. Leon Meyers, of Columbia, drove over, Monday afternoon, for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Sam Klotzman, bringing with him his guests from Cleveland, Ohio.

Annual Dinner At Methodist Church

The Womans Society of Christian Service of the Montevallo Methodist Church, are having their annual dinner and bazaar at the church Wednesday night November 7. Dinner will be served at 6 o'clock and 7 o'clock to more easily accommodate the people.

Over a period of years the Methodist ladies have built up quite a reputation of being good cooks and these dinners referred to sometimes as the "Christmas" dinners are looked forward to by many as a time when they can have a wonderful turkey dinner and enjoy the social hour visiting with friends of other churches and organizations.

This year holds promises of being the best, since the kitchen is better equipped to serve the large group, and the dining room is so attractive, and an evening spent with friends in such a delightful way should not be missed.

Tickets are on sale now, Adult tickets $1.50, children under 12 years of age 75c. If you would like a ticket, call Mrs. A. E. Baumgartner, phone 8001, or see Mrs. J. A. Brown, Mrs. S. M. Mahan, Mrs. Joe Doyle, Mrs. J. B. Higgins, Mrs. Tom Fancher or Mrs. Minnie Lou Warneke.

Miss Ethel Marshall Attends Conference

Miss Ethel Marshall, of Alabama College, attended a meeting of the State Water Improvement Advisory Commission which was held in Gulf State Park, Gulf Shores, last week-end. This commission was set up by the Legislature in 1949 and is composed of fifteen members representing different phases of interest in the state. Miss Marshall is the only woman member having been nominated by a man's organization and chosen by the governor.

Dr. D. G. Gill, State Health Officer, is chairman of the commission. Earl McGowin, State Conservation Director, is vice-chairman. Other members are: Dr. E. V. Smith, Dean of school of agriculture, Auburn; Dr. Walter Jones, State Geologist; Earl DeBardelaben, representing coal mining interests; Mr. Haswell, T.C.I. representing mining industries; Mr. Duncan Smith, Mobile, chemical industries; Mr. J. E. Livingston, Mayor of Tuscaloosa, representing League of Municipalities; Mr. James Mustin, Tuscaloosa, representing paper industries in the state.

Rev. and Mrs. M. L. Triplett left Tuesday morning for Tuscaloosa where they are attending the annual North Alabama Conference. While they are away Jane and "Boots" are guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Brown, Sr.

The Womans Society of Christian Service, of the Montevallo Methodist Church, will observe their "Quiet Day", of the Week of Prayer, at the Church, Thursday, from 10:00 until 2:30 Mrs. T. H. Napier is leader of the program, with Mrs. J. A. Brown in charge of music. All who would like to attend are cordially invited.

Dr. Dennis Greenhill, First Secretary of the British Embassy

Human Nature Can Take So Much—Man Slugs Bus

GLENDALE, Calif.—Life's little annoyances can get the best of a fellow sometimes. James Headrick, Altadena, Calif., told Glendale police he "just couldn't take it any more" and so obeyed an impulse to punch a Pacific Electric bus smack on the nose.

Headrick said that he was starting from the curb when the bus pulled from a stop and almost hit him. All the little things like that during his lifetime came to him at once, he related, and he jumped high in the air and flung his "Sunday punch" at the bus, shattering a windshield. Police soon arrived and told Headrick to "forget it." He's still mad, however.

Hot Weather is not Cause Of Insomnia, Experts Say

With hot weather ahead of us many people are already beginning to blame their sleepless nights on the humidity and the heat. Although this can contribute to sleeplessness, it is not the cause.

That aged-old villain, insomnia, thrives on people who have too many worries and fears. It is the daytime problems that creep into the bedroom that drive away sleep.

The best way, naturally, to woo sleep is to have a comfortable bed. A completely level mattress and spring with the degree of resiliency suited to the individual is a natural sleep-inducer. One can assume any number of different positions on well-constructed bedding so that each part of his body has a chance to rest.

A popular and effective way of luring sleep is the trick of making oneself relax by de-kinking nerves and muscles or by diverting the thoughts that will not give in to sleep.

Reading an absorbing or humorous book will also change one's train of thought and allow sleep to come more easily. A hobby, visiting with friends, or taking a short walk also relaxes these nerves and muscles and brings sleep within easy reach.

A recent survey in the United States showed that "very happy" people are bothered less with insomnia than are people who are bogged down with worries and fears.

The following will attend from Shelby: Mrs. Nina Kent, Siluria; Mrs. George Bentley, Keystone; Mrs. Quinton Culver, Calera; Mrs. Emma Campbell, Helena; and Miss Julia Ann Bosworth, Columbiana.

Mrs. J. Frank Baker, president of the Alabama Council of Home Demonstration Clubs will preside at these meetings and will give annual report of council to entire group at the Annual meeting.

Mr. A. C. Adams, Sterrett, and a State Director in the Farm Bureau will also attend to participate in committee meetings.

Rotary Club Plans Community Service

District Governor, Kenneth Noojin, of Huntsville, made his official visit to the Montevallo Rotary Club last week. Mr. Noojin spoke to the club on his objective for the year, and gave several suggestions for improving the local club.

Following the regular meeting the District Governor held a meeting with the directors and committee chairmen to hear the plans for the local club during the year.

The Montevallo Rotary Club is completing plans for a Town beautification project under the direction of M. L. Orr, Jr., chairman of the community service committee.

Present plans are to make Crepe-myrtle plants available to anyone who wants them for a small charge. In addition, arrangements are being made with the Montevallo F.H.A. Chapter to set the plants.

Further announcements will be made as plans are completed.

Mr. Ralph Sears, head of the radio department, of Alabama College, will address the Rotary Club at its regular meeting, Thursday night. His subject will be Radio and Television.

Montevallo 4-H Club Meeting

The first 4-H meeting of the year was held Thursday, October 25. Officers for this year are: Tommy Ann Pool, president; Margaret Fullman, vice-president; Phyllis Woolley, Secretary-Treasurer; Mildave Southern and Joan Genery, song leaders. The girls had quite a few new members.—Judy Wallace, Reporter.

To Nominate School Trustees

All parents of school children in the Montevallo Schools are urged to attend a meeting of parents at the Montevallo High School Auditorium on Tuesday, November 13 at 7:30 p.m.

At this meeting six nominees will be elected whose name will be submitted to the County Board of Education for Trustees of The Montevallo Schools. From this list the County Board will select three to serve as trustees and any vacancies occurring will be filled from the remaining names.

Montevallo P T A Holds Meeting

The Montevallo P.T.A. met Tuesday night at 7:30 in the High School Auditorium. The meeting was called to order by the president, Miss Mary Woolley.

A special report was given by Miss Laura Hadley, chairman of the local blood bank. The Red Cross mobile unit will be in Montevallo, January 25, 1952. The P.T.A. will assist in taking pledges and securing transportation.

The minutes were read and approved. The chairman of committees were appointed. Reports were given by the executives, membership, room mothers, and nominating committees.

Mr. Hurt announced a meeting of parents November 13 to select the new school trustees. He also announced the opening of the community chest drive.

Mrs. Robert Holcombe had charge of the program on Budget and finance.

Rev. Niles, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, gave the devotional. Mrs. J. P. Kelly introduced Mr. W. W. Elliott, County Superintendent of Education, who spoke on the financial support to the schools by the state and county boards of education.

Mr. Hurt gave a report on the financial assistance the school receives from the State, County, Alabama College, and the Town of Montevallo.

After group questions the meeting adjourned.

Friday Night Is Band Night

The Montevallo High School Band will observe its third annual Band Night this Friday night in connection with the game with West Blocton — our last home game. A reserved seat section will be reserved for all who wish to contribute. The section usually occupied by the band will be used as well as others as needed. A portion of gate receipts will also go to the band and all proceeds will go to the fund for transportation to the game with Fairfax on November 9.

Your interest will be greatly appreciated.

Home Nursing Club Meets

The first meeting of the Home Nursing Course, sponsored by the Montevallo Business and Professional Women's Club, was held Thursday night, October 25, in the Home Economics Department of the High School.

Miss Bonnie Martin, State Nursing Service, representative of the Red Cross, gave a short introduction to the course and introduced the teacher, Mrs. Rebecca McCaughy.

The meeting was attended by sixteen people who showed much interest and enthusiasm. Special emphasis was placed on procedures thought to be most frequently needed when caring for the sick at home and in emergency situations. The remaining lessons in the course will be devoted to home nursing techniques such as: making the patient comfortable while ill; ways of performing specific treatment ordered by the doctor; ways of giving emergency treatment that may be needed in the event of atomic bomb explosions; and methods of caring for cases of communicable diseases.

The Red Cross will issue a certificate for home care of the sick to all those participating who satisfactorily complete the series of lessons.

Fisher Prepares For West Blocton

Coach, Theron Fisher, has been putting his Montevallo Bulldogs through the paces in practice this week preparing to meet the strong West Blocton eleven on the home field Friday night.

Montevallo has set a 4-3 record for the season thus far, having defeated Calera, Clanton, Vincent, and Plantersville; and dropping decisions to Thompson High, of Siluria; Shelby County High, of Columbiana, and Bibb County High, of Centreville.

The West Blocton eleven has lost only one game this season, that being their opener to Reform. They have defeated Perry County High, Talladega School for the Deaf and Dumb, Akron, Marion "B" team and Calera High.

Friday night will be "Band Night" for Montevallo. The band hopes to make enough money to finance their trip to Fairfax next week with the football team.

Helen Hood Is College Beauty

University, Ala.—Helen Hood, of Montevallo, will parade in the Corolla Beauty Ball at the University of Alabama, November 10.

She has been nominated as one of Alabama's 49 outstanding beauties, and will appear at the yearbook's annual beauty ball in Foster Auditorium. Students will select their 20 favorite beauties by secret ballot. Pictures of the finalists will be sent to a national celebrity, who will rank the coeds in the order in which they will appear in the beauty section of the 1952 Corolla.

Miss Hood is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Hood, of Oak Street, Montevallo. She is a home economics senior in interior decoration at the University. She has been a cover girl for the Rammer-Jammer, University humor magazine, and was selected as Shelby County's Maid of Cotton.

Calera V. F. W. Public Meeting November 8

The Crawford-West Post 4921, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will hold a public meeting in the Calera City Hall, Thursday night, November 8. Department Chaplain Joe Young, of Birmingham, will address the group on the 1952 program of the 52 year old veterans organization.

Plans are being coordinated now in the more than 10,000 local posts located in the 48 states, District of Columbia, France, Hawaii, Alaska, The Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, and Japan, to combat Communism and other subversive elements on the local levels.

The Calera Post was first organized, March 8, 1946 and has since drawn a large membership of World War I and II overseas veterans from the surrounding area including Montevallo and other towns. The post meets each second and fourth Thursday nights at 7:30 o'clock. During a recent meeting, the post heard a talk on Communism and how to recognize its local efforts by the department extension director.

Mrs. Dick Martin visited her sister, Mrs. Homer Walton, in Columbiana, last Wednesday.

Chest Board Fixes Budget For Year's Operation

The Montevallo Community Chest Board held its first meeting of the 1951-52 year last Monday night. The Board at this meeting heard the requests of the various agencies who want to participate in the Chest during the year. After considering the requests the Board established the following budget:

Girl Scouts .....	$ 250.00
Boy Scouts .....	200.00
Negro Schools .....	200.00
High School Band .....	150.00
Elementary School .....	100.00
Welfare .....	850.00
Operation of Chest .....	50.00
Total .....	$1800.00

The date set for the drive is Tuesday November 13, and the drive will continue through November 19. Mr. S. H. Hurt, chairman of the drive, is completing plans for a kick-off breakfast to be attended by all solicitors and members of the Chest Board.

Members of the Community Chest Board are: T. E. Watson, Chairman; S. H. Hurt, Vice-Chairman; Mrs. P. D. Pendleton, Secretary; Victor Scott, Hobart Vernon, Dr. Charles L. Gormley, Mrs. Leslie Hubbard, Mrs. Mary Whatley and Mrs. M. L. Triplett. Mr. S. M. Mahan serves as Treasurer.

The Chest Board at its meeting Monday night gave special consideration to improving the services of the Chest and with this in mind decided to place greater emphasis on the welfare phase of the program. Information reaching the board indicates that many children are attending our schools without proper clothing and food. It is anticipated that the chest will remedy this situation if the budget is raised.

This newspaper feels that it cannot place too much emphasis on the necessity of every member of the community supporting and contributing to the Community Chest. We make a special appeal to the community for everyone to give your full cooperation and make the drive a success.

OUR COMMUNITY CHEST

We of the Montevallo community are again approaching the time when we will be called upon to contribute to the Community Chest. Certainly, anyone who is familiar with the Chest knows that it is a worthy cause, and will continue to support it. Some of us remember when the Community Chest was started here, and also can point to the many worthy accomplishments it has made in the community. Many of us recently moved into the community and are not familiar with the history and inception of the Chest. It is to those that we address these few remarks in particular.

The Chest was conceived from an idea of one of Montevallo's finest citizens, Miss Myrtle Brooke, who was head of the Sociology Department of Alabama College for many years. In addition to her duties at Alabama College, Miss Brooke was in charge of all welfare work in West Shelby County. In this capacity she found that many persons who needed assistance could not qualify for county relief funds or that funds were not available. Typical of the beloved Miss Brooke, sensing a situation that needed attention, she formed the West Shelby Relief Fund, the forerunner of the Montevallo Community Chest.

Other prominent Montevallo residents of that day soon saw that this worthy program of assistance to the needy could be made to serve a dual purpose by providing character-building for our children. At that time Montevallo had no recreational facilities for its youth.

Under sponsorship of the Montevallo Civic Club and other community minded citizens, the Community Chest was formed. The operations of the new organization were governed by a constitution which is still governing the Chest operations, with minor amendments to the original. This constitution has proved to be the backbone of the movement throughout all the years that have passed. It is fitting that we pay tribute here to the man who was responsible for drafting this constitution, the late Dr. A. W. Vaughan, former head of the English Department of Alabama College. Dr. Vaughan, with his keen insight into the needs of the community, had visions of many good things to come when he was working with the organization of the Community Chest. We today enjoy many community recreational facilities which would not have come to us but for the vision of Dr. Vaughan and others with him which were incorporated into the organization of this agency.

For years the Chest was the only source of revenue for the Town Recreation Board. The high school has been materially assisted; the elementary school, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, the Negro schools, and our public welfare all depend upon the Chest for a measure of support.

The best reason we can give for continued support of the Community Chest is its past record. We believe that if you will rightly consider its past performance, you will give the Montevallo Community Chest your support.

News Notes From Thompson High

Mr. Rueben Self, State Director of Secondary Schools, was a visitor here this week. Mr. Self is cooperating with the School staff in setting up a program for evaluation. Dr. T. W. Smith of the State Department will serve as adviser to the group during the months preceding the week of evaluation.

Robert H. Johnson, Jr., Principal at Thompson High School announces a meeting for the purpose of nominating six persons to serve as trustees for this school, for Tuesday, November 13, at 7:30 at the "Y", for the coming years. These six will be certified to the County Board which will select three to serve. Any school patron may be nominated to serve.

A chapter of Future Nurses Club, an organization to inform girls interested in nursing of the wide possibilities and opportunities in the nursing field, has been formed at Thompson High School with Bobbie Jean Garner heading the group as president. Juanita Green is vice-president; Sherrel Nelson, treasurer; Eva Grace Dickerson, chairman; and Louise Hinds, reporter.

Miss Spurdick, Supervisor of Nurses at South Highland Infirmary, and Miss Woods, student nurse, visited the first meeting of the group and told them of the life and work of a student nurse.

The Amphitheatre in Gadsden was begun in 1934 as a work relief project. It was completed in 1936. The Amphitheatre is built entirely from native sandstone from Lookout Mountain. The work was done by unskilled laborers who got stone-mason training on the job. The structure follows the plan of the ancient Greek theatre of Dionysius and seats 1,700.

Although Jefferson Davis was inaugurated president of the Confederacy Feb. 18, 1861, he and his family did not move into the First White House of the Confederacy until May 4, the same day that the first secessionist flag was flung to the breeze on Capitol Hill. The flag was raised by Letitia Tyler, a granddaughter of John Tyler, ex-president of the United States.

The New Look At Camp Branch

"Better Public Relations" is the theme of Camp Branch School this year with special emphasis on school and home visitations. The teachers have made forty-one home visits to date. Several parents have visited the school and more are expected in the coming weeks.

The classrooms have been improved by the addition of bookcases which were built and painted by the fifth and sixth grade pupils. Flowers and potted plants have been donated by the parents and pupils to add to the attractiveness of the rooms.

The P.T.A. has as its theme for the year, "Laying Firm Foundations" and the project is "Playground Equipment". Be on the look-out for a new look on our playgrounds in the near future.

Our big event of the year will be celebrated Wednesday night, October 31, in the form of a Halloween Carnival. Everyone has a very special invitation to come and enjoy an evening of fun and fellowship.

Do Your Part And Buy Defense Bonds

Citizens of Shelby County have bought $20,505.75 of Alabama's sales of $4,219,092.00 so far in the 1951 Defense Bond drive.

These purchases mean that the men and women of Alabama are taking effective measures to bring defense to Main Street, Ed Leigh McMillan, State Defense Bond Chairman pointed out.

"But Alabama had set a Defense Bond goal of $5,750,000 for itself," Mr. McMillan said.

"We are still far short of this mark and we must keep buying if Alabama is to stand along with the other leading states of the nation in bond achievement as it has in the past.

Bond purchases will be counted as part of the Defense Bond drive through Armistice Day.

"Alabama dollars are needed to back the fighting men along the battle-threatened fronts of the world and it is not too late for those who have not purchased their share of defense to get into the fight.

"I cannot believe there is one Alabama family that does not want to be able to say to a son, brother, father, sweetheart or neighbor:

"We too have done our part for defense.

"Mobile, Monroe, Perry, Randolph, Russell, Shelby, Winston, Autauga, Baldwin, Choctaw, Coosa, Dale, Elmore and Geneva counties have gone over the top for defense.

"All other counties in the state with the exception of 15 have bought 40 percent or more of the quotas they set for themselves.

"There are two more weeks to get into the defense fight.

"Let's shoulder our part of the home-front fight. Buy bonds today."

You May Enter Whaley's Contest By December 1

More than 25 entries in the $2,000,000 Crosley "American Way of Life" contest have been received by Whaley Furniture Co. R. E. Whaley has announced.

Mr. Whaley said that entries can still be made, with the deadline set for December 1, 1951.

Contestants are eligible for both a $300 Crosley merchandise certificate to be given away by Whaley Furniture Co., and for one of the 1,001 national awards to be made by the Crosley Division, Avco Manufacturing Corporation.

To enter both the local and national contests, it is necessary to write, in 50 words or less "What the 'American Way of Life' Means to Me" and answer 10 simple true or false questions. Entry blanks may be obtained, without obligation, at Whaley Furniture Co., R. E. Whaley said.

The first national prize will be $10,000 in cash. The next ten winners will each receive $1,000 in cash. Crosley merchandise certificates will then be awarded as follows: next 15 prizes, each $500; next 50 prizes, each $300; next 100 prizes, each $150; next 100 prizes, each $100; next 250 prizes, each $50; next 375 prizes, each $25.

Winner of the $300 merchandise certificate to be given by Whaley Furniture Co. will be selected by W. M. Wyatt, Miss Vinnie Lee Walker, and Mr. Ralph Sears serving as judges.

Mr. Whaley also said his store will give $100 in cash to the church or recognized charity selected by the local winner, and that a representative of the chosen church or charity will be invited to attend the ceremonies to receive the contribution from the winner. The public will be invited to this event.

On The Farms Of Shelby County

Monday, October 8, we found C. R. Nash spreading about 800 pounds per acre of basic slag over his fine reseeding crimson clover.

Mr. Nash has about six acres of Ky. 31 fescue with large white clover. "I used less than two pounds of clover and fifteen pounds of fescue per acre and culitpacked it in getting a fine stand. On my bottom clover field I added more clover and ten pounds of ryegrass. I am spreading all chicken and cattle manure back on my fields," remarked Mr. Nash.

In 1943 he had 8 people on the farm depending on row crops, with only three cows and one heifer. Now he has no cotton but 8 head of cattle. Mr. Nash now can attend to the whole farm with little outside labor.

At present the Nashes handle two hundred and fifty hens, and plan to double that next year.

With home produced feed and pastures they can produce more net income with less labor. Their chickens, hogs and cattle with two horses, all can utilize the grazing planned in their new conservation farm plan. The presence of Ky 31 fescue as well as button clover indicate Mr. Nash's willingness to take advantage of suggestions he receives as a cooperator of the North Central Soil Conservation District. His success indicates the soundness of his planning.

Now Washington is getting so it can laugh at itself, according to the Associated Press. That news agency reports a sign in the National Production Authority which says: "It takes a real bureaucrat to develop chaos out of confusion." And in the Veterans Administration: "Why be difficult when with a little effort you can be impossible."

Schools To Get Free Declaration Of Independence

The schools in Shelby County are going to receive a free copy of the Declaration of Independence for each classroom.

A handsomely mounted replica of this famous instrument of American Liberty is being sent out from Defense Bond headquarters in Birmingham.

This was announced by Ed Leigh McMillan, State Defense Bond Chairman.

The replicas were made possible by the generosity of Golden Flake Potato Chip Company, of Birmingham, and bear the following imprint: Buy United States Defense Bonds and Stamps.

"It is highly fitting in this great time of danger that every Alabamian and every American be reminded of the great principles set forth in the Declaration of Independence for which our fathers fought and died," Mr. McMillan pointed out.

90% For! 10% Against

Railroad workers are represented by 23 standard unions. By mutual agreement, 20 of these unions—comprising about 1,200,000 men, or more than 90%—are working under wages and rules agreed to by them and the railroads. But leaders of three unions—with only about 130,000 men, or less than 10%—still refuse, after more than a year of negotiations, to accept similar wage and rules agreements. These are even more favorable than the terms recommended by the Emergency Board appointed by the President.

Yes, it certainly seems to be finally about time that the leaders of the three unions stop their delaying tactics—their quibbling. But the leaders of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Order of Railway Conductors continue to refuse. They continue a course of dillying and dallying. It is definitely time to # END THIS QUIBBLING!

On June 15, 1950, an Emergency Board appointed by the President under the terms of the Railway Labor Act—an Act largely fathered by the unions themselves—made its recommendations on certain wage and working conditions ("rules" in railroad language) which had been in dispute between employees and the railroads.

More Than 90% of Employees Accept
Since then, terms equal to or better than the Board recommendations have been accepted by about 1,200,000 railroad employees—more than 90% of the total of all workers. They are represented by 20 of the 23 standard railroad unions.

Less Than 10% Refuse
But three unions—with about 130,000 men, or less than 10% of the total—have refused to accept, even after months of negotiations. These three unions are the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Order of Railway Conductors. These are three of the so-called "operating" unions. Already the highest paid men in the industry, their leaders demand still further advantages over other workers.

In all, there are about 270,000 operating employees. But not all of them, by any means, are represented by BLE, BLF&E, or ORC. As a matter of fact, less than half—132,000 to be exact—are in these three unions. More than half—about 140,000—are in other unions, principally the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. What makes the whole situation so hard to understand is that these 140,000 operating employees are working under wages and rules which the leaders of the other 130,000 say they cannot agree to.

What Do the Railroads Offer?
They offer these three unions the same settlement which was contained in a Memorandum of Agreement signed at the White House on December 21, 1950, by four brotherhoods and the railroads. Later these brotherhoods sought to repudiate this agreement. But on May 25, 1951, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen signed a complete agreement carrying out the principles of the Memorandum Agreement of December 21. They have been working under this agreement since May 25.

What About Wages?

Under the terms of the agreement, yard engineers, firemen and conductors would now be receiving a wage increase of $.34 an hour ($2.72 a day) and road engineers, firemen and conductors would now be receiving an increase of 19½ cents an hour ($1.56 per day). Large sums of retroactive pay have already accrued and if the agreement is carried out, will be paid promptly.

What About "Cost of Living" Increases?

The White House Agreement includes an "escalator" clause under which wages will be geared to changes in the Government's cost-of-living index. Two such increases—April and July, 1951—have already been paid to the 90% of railroad employees covered by signed agreements.

What About the 40-Hour Week?

The White House Agreement calls for the establishment of the 40-hour week in principle, for employees in yard service. The employees can have it any time after January 1, 1952, provided the manpower situation is such that the railroads can get enough men to perform the work with reasonable regularity at straight time rates. If the parties do not agree on the question of availability of manpower, the White House Agreement provides arbitration by a referee appointed by the President.

What Else Do the Union Leaders Demand?

The continued quibbling of the leaders of the three unions has to do principally with rules changes, which have already been agreed to by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. Of these, the principal one seems to be that having to do with so-called "interdivisional service"—runs which take in two or more seniority districts.

The union leaders would bar progress and efficiency in the industry, and better service to the public, by maintaining a situation where they can arbitrarily stop a railroad from establishing such interdivisional runs. The carriers propose that if a railroad wishes to set up an interdivisional run, the railroad and the unions should try to agree on such run and the conditions which should surround its establishment, and if the railroad and the unions can't agree, the matter will be submitted to arbitration.

But the three union leaders still refuse.

Rules Can Be Arbitrated

The railroads have not only offered these three unions the same rules agreed to by the BRT and covered by the White House Agreement, but have even agreed to submit such rules to arbitration.

The Industry Pattern Is Fixed

With the pattern so firmly established in the railroad industry, it seems fair to suggest that the leaders of BLE, BLF&E, and ORC stop their quibbling and take action to make the railroad labor picture 100% complete. Certainly today's economic and international situation calls for a united front. And certainly no good reason has been advanced why these three unions should be preferred over all other railroad employees.

We are publishing this and other advertisements to talk to you at first hand about matters which are important to everybody.

Putnam Porter's Organ Recital Is Next Sunday

Putnam Porter, brilliant young organist who is on the staff of the music department of Alabama College, will present his first organ recital of the year on Sunday, November 11, at 4 p.m., at the Skinner organ in Palmer Auditorium.

Mr. Porter, who came to the college two years ago, is from Chattanooga, Tennessee. He holds degrees from the University of Chattanooga, and Northwestern University, Evanston, and during the past summer traveled in Europe.

The Skinner organ at Alabama College is one of the great institutional pipe organs of the South. Each week Mr. Porter broadcasts two fifteen minute programs over WAPI and WAFM, and some ten radio stations over the state have requested permission to carry these broadcasts.

On Sunday afternoon, Mr. Porter will play Concerto in F Major,

PUTNAM PORTER

No. 13 by Handel; Passacaglia and Fugue in C Minor by Bach; Comes Autumn Time by Sowerby; Scherzo by Peeters and the Pastorale and Finale from Symphony I of Verdi's.

Friends of the College are invited to attend.

Pastor Of Everybody's Church Is Leader For Religious Emphasis Week At College

Alabama College will welcome to her campus as featured speaker for Religious Emphasis Week, November 12-16, Dr. T. B. Cowan, pastor of Everybody's Church in Lexington, Kentucky.

"The Christian Faith and the Issues of Life" is the selected theme, and in keeping with the spirit and challenge of the theme Dr. Cowan will speak Monday through Friday at 11 a.m. in Palmer Auditorium on these five topics:

God's Written Orders
Toward Spiritual Maturity
The Great Divorce
The Only One of its Kind
Redemptive Rebels

Informal discussions will be held in Comer at 7 each night. Questionnaire boxes will be placed in each of the dormitories so that students may have opportunity to ask questions for discussion or questions may be asked from the floor.

Community Chest Drive Begins Next Tuesday

The 1951-52 Montevallo Community Chest Drive starts Tuesday, November 13 under the direction of Mr. S. H. Hurt, drive chairman, and Mr. Hobart Vernon, assistant drive chairman. The drive will officially get underway at 9:00 a.m. Tuesday at a coffee hour in the high school vocational building, which will be attended by solicitors and members of the Chest Board. Solicitors will receive their instructions and supplies at this meeting.

The quota for this year's drive has been set at $1,800 by the Chest Board. Agencies who will receive this money are: Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Negro Schools, High School Band, Elementary School, and Welfare.

Acting on a recommendation of the Community Chest Assembly, the Chest Board has given careful consideration to revising the Community Chest program and has decided to place more emphasis on the Welfare phase of the program. This action is necessary because of the number of school children who are attending our schools who do not have sufficient clothing or food. The Board is making plans to remedy this situation this year and has incorporated this idea into the preparation of the budget.

Girls Will Be Hoboes

F H A Week Is November 4-10

Governor Gordon Persons has issued a proclamation making the week of November 4-10 Future Homemakers of America Week in Alabama. The proclamation reads as follows:

"Whereas, the Alabama Association, Future Homemakers of America, is a youth organization for pupils studying home economics in high schools of Alabama; and

"Whereas, the Future Homemakers of America, is sponsored by the Alabama Public Schools and the U. S. Office of Education; and

"Whereas, there are more than 18,000 girls enrolled in home economics classes in Alabama; and

"Whereas, the high school girls are learning to be homemakers and better citizens of their community, State and Nation; and

"Whereas, the success of the home determines the success of our State and Nation: Therefore, I, Gordon Persons, Governor of Alabama, join with other governors in the United States of America, and proclaim the week of November 4-10, 1951, as Future Homemakers of America Week in Alabama."

The Montevallo F.H.A. Chapter has many activities planned for this week. An important activity to them and to you will be their Hobo Day, Saturday, November 10.

Saturday the F.H.A. girls plan to turn hoboes for the day or part of the day, doing tasks such as: baby sitting, yard raking, washing, ironing, house cleaning, window washing, or any of the jobs for which a housewife needs an extra hand.

The girls have planned recreation for the noon hour. Each has planned to bring her lunch which they will spread at the vocational building.

Montevallo housewives, will you save that odd job and let the F.H.A. girls have an opportunity to help you and their chapter? The money earned will go into the F.H.A. treasury to be used on their local project. Call 6791, High School Economics Department if you have jobs you want the girls to do.

The committee making the Hobo Day plans is composed of: Beverly Doyle, chairman, Jane Triplett, and Beverly Taff. Club sponsors, Mrs. Winona Brooks and Mrs. Rebecca McGaughy assisted the committee with plans for the event.

Home Nursing Study Course

The second meeting of the Red Cross Home Nursing Course was Thursday evening, November 1 at 7 o'clock in the Home Economics Department of the High school.

As members of the class came in, they washed their hands, read doctors orders and the work began.

The instructor, Mrs. Rebecca McGaughy, gave several interesting demonstrations which were followed by practice by the students. The demonstrations given were: Making the bed with the patient in it, changing a pillow case, turning the patient in bed and how to make a back rest from an empty cardboard box. By using these nursing techniques when someone is ill in the home you can: Promote recovery of the patient, provide for the patient's comfort, prevent strain on joints and muscles and prevent deformities, save the energy of the home nurse, increase confidence in both the home nurse and the patient.

The meeting was attended by eleven regular members and three student teachers.

DON'S STORK CIGARS

Don Lovelady showered the town with stork cigars Monday celebrating the arrival, Saturday night, of a son, Joe Morris. He weighed in at a little over ten pounds. "The Champ," says his proud pa.

Study Club Debates Women Jury Duty

Should women of Alabama be allowed to serve on juries?

This was the subject debated Tuesday at the monthly meeting of the Montevallo Study Club at the home of Mrs. A. C. Anderson.

As part of a general theme of "Women in Politics," Mrs. Clayton Nordan, Mrs. G. P. Rogan and Mrs. Lowell S. Hamilton discussed the pros and cons of jury duty for women.

Mrs. Nordan, giving background of the debate, told the club Alabama is one of only nine states still barring women from the jury box.

"In nineteen states," she said, "women are allowed to excuse themselves solely on the basis of sex. Twenty other states require women to serve if called except in cases where there is illness in the home or the prospective juror has young children."

Presenting the case against women jurors, Mrs. Rogan declared: "I want to stress three points. Women don't want jury service, they don't need jury service in addition to all their other responsibilities and they are not emotionally fit for service."

Mrs. Rogan pointed out that, although women have the right to vote, many of them do not exercise this privilege to the best of their ability.

She urged that women, instead of serving on juries, try to influence their husbands to perform more conscientious and responsible jury duty.

Favoring jury service by women, Mrs. Hamilton said such duty goes hand in hand with the ballot as a privilege and duty of full citizenship.

The League of Women Voters and Business and Professional Women's national organizations favor compulsory jury duty for women. Mrs. Hamilton pointed out, adding that a special committee named by the Supreme Court also has recommended a federal law for women jurors.

"Women's views would actively supplement those of men to bring about more balanced jury verdicts," Mrs. Hamilton said.

The club also made plans at Tuesday's meeting for a benefit bridge party to be given at Reynolds Hall Friday, November 16.

Mrs. Frank Morgan was co-hostess for the meeting.

Masonic Conference Tuesday, Nov. 13

The Shelby County Masonic Conference will meet with Wilsonville Lodge Tuesday, November 13. District Lecturer Lewis Lawley will call the conference to order at 2:00 o'clock. All master masons are invited.

Ralph Sears Talks To Rotary

Mr. Ralph Sears, head of the radio department at Alabama College, spoke to the Montevallo Rotary Club at their regular meeting last week. Mr. Sears had as his subject "Television" and used diagrams to explain the operation of television, including color television.

NOT TOO LATE to be good looking! We failed to get the picture of this attractive group of students in time to show you before Elite Night at Alabama College—but the editor thinks you'd like to see them anyway. State of Alabama
by the

—16—
WHEREAS, the Legislature of Alabama, at the Regular Session 1951, ordered an election to be held by the qualified electors of the State of Alabama upon a certain proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which said amendment is herein set out, and ordered that said election be held on the first Tuesday after the expiration of three months after final adjournment of the session of the Legislature at which such amendment was proposed; and

WHEREAS, the first Tuesday following the expiration of three months after the final adjournment of the Session of the Legislature at which such amendment was proposed will be and occur on Tuesday, December 11, 1951; and

WHEREAS, notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment is required by law and by the provisions of the act submitting the amendment, to be given by a proclamation of the Governor to be published in each county in the State of Alabama once a week for four successive weeks next preceding the day appointed for the election;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Gordon Persons, as Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that on Tuesday, the 11th day of December 1951, an election will be held at the several polling places within the State of Alabama, in the manner and form provided by law, upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901:

"1. DEFINITIONS. Wherever used in this amendment, unless a different meaning clearly appears in the context, the following terms, whether used in the singular or plural, shall be given the following respective interpretations: "Municipality" means any incorporated city or town in Colbert County, Alabama; "project" means any land and any building or other improvement thereon, and all real and personal properties deemed necessary in connection therewith, whether or not now in existence, which shall be suitable for use by the following or by any combination of two or more thereof: (a) any industry for the manufacturing, processing, or assembling of any agricultural or manufactured products, and (b) any commercial enterprise in storing, warehousing, distributing or selling products of agriculture, mining or industry, but does not include facilities designed for the sale or distribution to the public of electricity, gas, water or telephone or other services commonly classified as public utilities; "Governing body" means the board or body in which the legislative powers of the municipality are vested; "Mortgage" means a mortgage or a mortgage and deed of trust.

"2. LEGISLATIVE INTENT. It is the intent of this amendment to authorize municipalities of Colbert County, Alabama, to acquire, own, and lease projects for the purpose of promoting industry and trade by inducing manufacturing, industrial and commercial enterprises to locate in Colbert County, Alabama, promoting the use of the agricultural products and natural resources of said county, and promoting a sound and proper balance in said county between agriculture, commerce and industry. It is intended that each project be self-liquidating. It is not intended hereby to authorize any municipality itself to operate any manufacturing, industrial or commercial enterprise. This amendment shall be liberally construed in conformity with the said intent.

"3. ADDITIONAL POWERS CONFERRED ON MUNICIPALITIES. In addition to any other powers which it may now have, each municipality in Colbert County, Alabama, shall have the following powers: (1) To acquire, whether by construction, purchase, a gift or lease, and to equip one or more projects, which shall be located within said county and may be located within or without the municipality, or partially within or partially without the municipality, but which shall not be located more than fifteen miles outside of the corporate limits of the municipality; (2) To lease to others any or all of its projects for such rentals and upon such terms and conditions as the governing body may deem advisable and as shall not conflict with the provisions of this amendment; and (3) To issue revenue bonds for the purpose of defraying the cost of acquiring, by construction and purchase, or either thereof, and of equipping any project, and to secure the payment of such bonds, all as hereinafter provided. No municipality shall have the power to operate any project as a business or in any manner except as lessor thereof.

"4. BONDS ISSUED TO FINANCE PROJECTS. All bonds issued by a municipality under authority of this amendment shall be limited obligations of the municipality the principal of and interest on which shall be payable solely out of the revenues derived from the leasing of the project to finance which the bonds are issued. Bonds and interest coupons issued under authority of this amendment shall never constitute an indebtedness of the municipality within the meaning of any state constitutional provision or statutory limitation, and shall never constitute nor give rise to a pecuniary liability of the municipality or a charge against its general credit or taxing powers, and such fact shall be plainly stated in the face of each such bond. Such bonds may be executed and delivered at any time and from time to time, may be in such form and denominations, may be of such tenor, may be in registered or bearer form either as to principal or interest or both, may be payable in such installments and at such time or times not exceeding thirty years from their date, may be payable at such place or places, may bear interest at such rate or rates payable at such place or places and evidenced in such manner, and may contain such provisions not inconsistent herewith, all as shall be provided in the proceedings of the governing body whereunder the bonds shall be authorized to be issued. The bonds issued hereunder shall be subject to the general provisions of law, presently existing or that may hereafter be enacted, respecting the execution and delivery of the bonds of any such municipality and respecting the retaining of options of redemption in proceedings authorizing the issuance of municipal securities. Any bonds issued under the authority of this amendment may be sold at public or private sale in such manner and from time to time as may be determined by the governing body to be most advantageous; and the municipality may pay all expenses, premiums and commissions which the governing body may deem necessary or advantageous in connection with the authorization, sale and issuance thereof. All bonds issued under the authority of this amendment and all interest coupons applicable thereto shall be construed to be negotiable instruments, despite the fact that they are payable solely from a specified source.

"5. SECURITY FOR BONDS. The principal of and interest on any bonds issued under the authority of this amendment shall be secured by a pledge of the revenues out of which such bonds shall be made payable, may be secured by a mortgage covering all or any part of the project from which the revenues so pledged may be derived, and may be secured by a pledge of the lease of such project. The proceedings under which such bonds are authorized to be issued or any such mortgage may contain any agreements and provisions customarily contained in instruments securing bonds, including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, provisions respecting the fixing and collection of rents for any project covered by such proceedings or mortgage, the maintenance and insurance of such project, the creation and maintenance of special funds from the revenues from such project, and the right of redemption in event of default to the bondholders or to the trustee under a mortgage, all as the governing body shall deem advisable and as shall not be in conflict with the provisions of this amendment; provided, however, that in making any such agreements or provisions any such municipality shall not have the power to obligate itself except with respect to the project and the application of the revenues therefrom, and shall not have the power to incur a pecuniary liability or a charge upon its general credit or against its taxing powers.

"6. REQUIREMENTS RESPECTING LEASE. Prior to the leasing of any project, the governing body must determine and find the following: The amount necessary in each year to pay the principal of and the interest on the bonds proposed to be issued to finance such project; the amount necessary to be paid each year into any reserve funds which the governing body may deem it advisable to establish in connection with the retirement of the proposed bonds and the maintenance of the project; and, unless the terms under which the project is to be leased provide that the lessee shall maintain the project and carry all proper insurance with respect thereto, the estimated cost of maintaining the project in good repair and keeping it properly insured. The determinations and findings of the governing body required to be made in the preceding sentence shall be set forth in the proceedings under which the proposed bonds are to be issued; and prior to the issuance of such bonds, the municipality shall lease the project to a lessee under any agreement conditions upon completion of the project and providing for payment to the municipality of such rentals as, upon the basis of such determinations and findings, will be sufficient (a) to pay the principal of and interest on the bonds issued to finance the project, (b) to build up and maintain any reserves deemed by the governing body to be advisable in connection therewith, and (c) unless the agreement of lease obligates the lessee to pay for the maintenance and insurance of the project, to pay the costs of maintaining the project in good repair and keeping it properly insured.

"7. REFUNDING BONDS. Any bonds issued hereunder and at any time outstanding may at any time and from time to time be refunded by any such municipality by the issuance of its refunding bonds in such amount as the governing body may deem necessary but not exceeding an amount sufficient to refund the principal of the bonds so to be refunded, together with the unpaid interest thereon and any premiums and commissions necessary to be paid in connection therewith. Any such refunding may be effected whether the bonds to be refunded shall have then matured or shall thereafter mature, either by sale of the refunding bonds and the application of the proceeds thereof for the payment of the bonds to be refunded thereby, or by exchange of the refunding bonds for the bonds to be refunded thereby; provided, that the holders of any bonds to be refunded shall not be compelled without their consent to surrender their bonds for payment or exchange prior to the date on which they are payable or, if they are called for redemption, prior to the date on which they are by their terms subject to redemption. Any refunding bonds issued under the authority of this amendment shall be payable solely from the revenues out of which the bonds to be refunded thereby were payable, and shall be subject to the provisions contained in paragraph 4 of this amendment and may be secured in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 5 of this amendment.

"8. USE OF PROCEEDS FROM SALE OF BONDS. The proceeds from the sale of any bonds issued under authority of this amendment shall be applied only for the purpose for which the bonds were issued; provided, however, that any accrued interest and premium received in any such sale shall be applied to the payment of the principal of or the interest on the bonds sold; and provided, further, that if for any reason any portion of such proceeds shall not be needed for the purpose for which the bonds were issued, then such unneeded portion of said proceeds shall be applied to the payment of the principal of or the interest on said bonds. The cost of acquiring and equipping any project shall be deemed to include the following: the actual cost of the construction of any part of a project which may be constructed, including the architect's and engineer's fees; the purchase price of any part of a project that may be acquired by purchase; the purchase price of the equipment for any project; the actual cost of installing such equipment; all expenses in connection with the authorization, sale and issuance of the bonds to finance such acquisition and equipment; and the interest on such bonds for a reasonable time prior to construction, during construction, and for not exceeding six months after completion of construction.

"9. BONDS MADE LEGAL INVESTMENTS. Bonds issued under the provisions of this amendment shall be legal investments for fiduciaries investing trust funds and for savings banks and insurance companies organized under the laws of this state.

"10. EXEMPTION FROM TAXATION. The bonds authorized by this amendment and the income therefrom, all mortgages executed as security therefor, all lease agreements made pursuant to the provisions hereof, and all projects and the revenue derived from any lease thereof shall be exempt from all taxation in the State of Alabama.

"11. CONSTRUCTION OF AMENDMENT. Neither this amendment nor anything herein contained shall be construed as a restriction or limitation upon any powers which a municipality might otherwise have under the constitution and laws of this state, but shall be construed as cumulative; and this amendment shall not be construed as requiring an election by the voters of a municipality prior to the issuance of bonds hereunder by such municipality.

"12. NO NOTICE OR PUBLICATION REQUIRED. No notice to or consent or approval by any governmental body or public officer shall be required as a prerequisite to the sale or issuance of any bonds or the making of a mortgage under the authority of this amendment and no ordinance or resolution adopted by a governing body under authority hereof shall be required to be published in any manner, any other law to the contrary notwithstanding.

"13. This amendment shall be self-executing and in no wise shall it be construed as limiting, modifying or repealing any of the provisions of any constitutional amendment relating only to Colbert County, Alabama.

"14. SEVERABILITY. If any section, clause, provision or portion of this amendment shall be held to be invalid or unconstitutional by any court of competent jurisdiction, such holding shall not affect any other section, clause or provision of this amendment which is not in and of itself unconstitutional."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 11th day of December 1951, upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 11th day of December 1951, in each county in the State of Alabama in a newspaper published in said county.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and have caused the Great Seal of the State of Alabama to be affixed by the Secretary of State, at the Capitol in the City of Montgomery, on this the 1st day of October 1951.

Chelsea School News

A Halloween Party was enjoyed by many students and parents Wednesday night, October 31. Sandra Lennyson and Ronnie Chesser reigned as Queen and King.

Our school has a very active P.T.A. A meeting is held the first Monday of every month. The P.T.A. is very interested in helping to improve our school. They have bought venetian blinds for five rooms and a wine velvet curtain for the auditorium stage. Other plans are being made for future improvements.

An extension class is being held here each Monday afternoon. Eight of the Chelsea teachers have enrolled. Dr. Orr from Montevallo is the instructor.

Our school is very fortunate to have Mr. Holliman as director of the music department. He is planning a Variety Night November 30 at 7:30. Included on the program will be songs by individuals as well as by various groups. Several piano solos will be rendered which vary in type from Mozart and Beethoven to modern popular melodies.

Those participating range in age from 6 to 17 years old and include several guest artists.

Our faculty has chosen "Perfect Attendance" and "Better Bus and Lunch-room Manners" as their theme. Many home visits have been made and more are planned.

The following students were perfect in attendance during September and October:

First Grade—Gerald Hoyle, Hollice Long, Jerry Mooney, Kerry Nivens, Donald Shirley, Madelyn Chesser, Faye Moore, Jane Bragg, Nancy Brewer, Jackie Dickerson, Juanita Lovelady, Charles Hethcox, Linda Hethcox, Harold Griffin, Martha Lee, and Patsy Ruth Patterson.

Second Grade—Buddy Brasher, Larry Brasher, Lester Elliott, Joe Holmes, Tommy Lovelady, James Shirley, Neil Patterson, Ima Ruth Franks, John Smith, Jerry Vickers, Carolyn Blackerby, Bonnie Brasher, Mary Harding, Frances Lynn, and Linda Faye Ogles.

State of Alabama A PROCLAMATION by the GOVERNOR —13—

WHEREAS, the Legislature of Alabama, at the Regular Session 1951, ordered an election to be held by the qualified electors of the State of Alabama upon a certain proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which said amendment is herein set out, and ordered that said election be held on the first Tuesday following the expiration of three months after the final adjournment of the session of the Legislature at which the amendment was proposed; and

WHEREAS, the first Tuesday following the expiration of three months after the final adjournment of the session of the Legislature at which the amendment was proposed will be and occur on Tuesday, December 11, 1951; and

WHEREAS, notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment is required by law, and by the provisions of the act submitting the amendment, to be given by a proclamation of the Governor to be published in each county in the State of Alabama once a week for four successive weeks next preceding the day appointed for the election:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Gordon Persons, as Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that on Tuesday, the 11th day of December 1951, an election will be held at the several polling places within the State of Alabama, in the manner and form provided by law, upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901:

"The Legislature may from time to time, by general or local laws, fix, alter and regulate the costs and charges of courts in Baldwin County, and the fees, commissions, percentages, allowances or salary of, and the method of compensating any officer of Baldwin County."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 11th day of December 1951, upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 11th day of December 1951, in each county in the State of Alabama in a newspaper published in said county.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN

(By Mrs. A. E. Baumgartner)

This week is R. A. Focus Week at the Montevallo Baptist Church. The Royal Ambassadors are a fine group of young boys under the leadership of Mr. Tamp Eddings, who is doing a fine job with them. All during this week the attention of the entire church is focused on them and they will receive public recognition at the 11 o'clock service Sunday.

Dr. and Mrs. Niles are visiting his home in Mississippi, this week. His brother, whom he has not seen for a year, is home for a short time, after which he will be sent overseas.

Rev. M. L. Triplett attended a Mission Board Meeting in Birmingham, Monday.

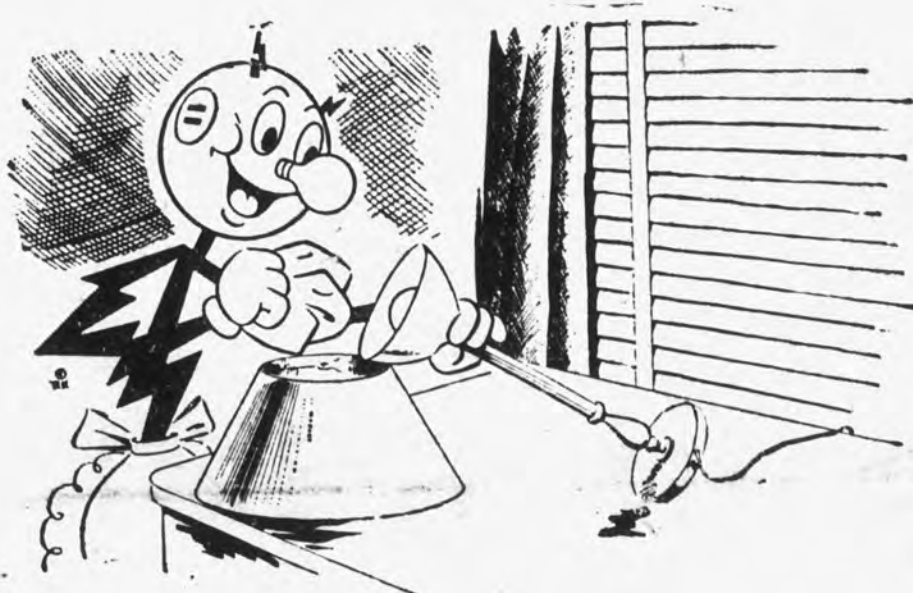

Master Sergeant, Houston G. Adams, returned from Korea last week, where he has served for nine months. In celebrating his safe return, the family enjoyed a family reunion over the week-end.

Mrs. Fred Frost, Sr. and Mrs. Lena Duran visited relatives and friends in Columbiana last Friday.

Mrs. A. L. Garrett, of Midway, Alabama, was the week-end guest of her daughter, Mrs. Jadie A. Brown, Jr.

The Fall Mission Study of the Woman's Society of Christian Service was held in the ladies parlor of the Methodist Church, Thursday at 3 p.m. Miss Ethel Marshall, of Alabama College, is teaching the course. The text for this study is "We Americans, North and South" by George P. Howard. If you are interested in a study into the life and conditions of our Latin American neighbors, you are cordially invited to come to these class studies. Classes will be held on November 8, 13, 15, and 19 at 3 o'clock.

How to Get ALL
The Light You Pay For—

EVEN the best housekeepers often overlook a place where dust accumulates and costs them money. That place is on light bulbs and shades. The dust usually isn't seen because it accumulates so slowly and is usually above eye level.

How does dust on light bulbs and shades cost money? By reducing the efficiency of the lighting fixture. Even a thin film of dust will keep a lot of light imprisoned. An accumulation of just a few months will reduce efficiency as much as 20 per cent. That means that you're not getting as much light as you're paying for.

The cure is as simple as it is cheap. Just wipe off the dust with a damp cloth, and you'll be amazed to see how much more light you get for no more money.

Baldwin County Speckled Trout Rodeo Nov. 15-24

The residents of South Baldwin County, down on Alabama's Gulf of Mexico coastline are anxiously awaiting the opening of Baldwin County's Third Annual Speckled Trout Rodeo scheduled for November 15 through 24.

Anglers from 16 states attended this event last year, and judging by the elaborate plans now in the final stages this 10-day sporting event which offers $4,000 worth of prizes would be quite a fisherman's vacation.

The rodeo, sponsored by the Gulf Shores Lions Club, is conducted so as not to give the local fellows with a lot of know-how in fishing those waters an advantage. Baldwin residents will be allowed to compete only against Baldwin residents, and out-of-county residents are to compete with each other.

Prizes are awarded each day for the largest (by length) fish caught. Four winners each day receive a cottage for one week at South Baldwin Gulf of Mexico Resort and rods and reels. Outboard motors are awarded for the largest fish caught during the rodeo and the grand prize is a 14 foot boat complete with 7.5 hp outboard motor.

The contests open at 5 a.m. November 15 and ends at 2 p.m. November 24. Headquarters for the event will be the club house of the Lions Club, on the Intra-Coastal Canal, where closing festivities, including a fish fry, are to be held November 24.

Tickets for the rodeo and full information are now available at contest headquarters, at business houses throughout South Baldwin and at the South Baldwin Chamber of Commerce at Foley.

Charles Theodore Mohr, in his Monumental work "Plant Life of Alabama", issued by the Geological Survey of Alabama in 1901, lists approximately 1,500 species of lichens, fungi, and algal and 275 varieties of ferns, mosses, and liverworts. Ferns are especially numerous in the rugged northern section of the State and the wooded portions of the Coosa Valley.

What Is The Farm BUREAU?

THE FARM BUREAU is a voluntary membership organization of farm families who seek to accomplish through organization the things they can not do individually.

Through the FARM BUREAU farm people pool their influence for the good of agriculture and the general welfare.

THE FARM BUREAU is the farmer's lobby in Montgomery and Washington. Fortune Magazine, in its June, 1944, issue stated:

"The farmer has learned that to be strong in Washington, he needs more than a good cause. He also needs a good lobby. The American Farm Bureau Federation is the best lobby he ever had, and probably the best lobby in the business."

Only 18 per cent of the United States population is farmers. It is going to be hard to preserve price supports. It is going to be hard to maintain a long-range farm program that will stabilize agriculture and save it from the ups and downs it has suffered for so long. The situation calls for strength and unity. It calls for a STRONG FARM BUREAU.

Together
we face the future with confidence in
Farm Bureau

For 30 years Farm Bureau has worked for better living on farms through parity and price supports . . . Education and Health . . . Rural electrification and telephones.

Rural America has kept pace with the nation's progress through movements and legislation made possible only through organized effort . . . Farm Bureau is truly the VOICE OF THE FARM FAMILY.

National Legislative Accomplishments in 1951

1. Prevented second and third roll-back in beef ceiling prices. Prevented lowering ceiling prices on other farm commodities.
2. Eliminated livestock slaughter quotas.
3. Maintained price support program.
4. Obtained an appropriation to start research toward eradication of screw worms.
5. Obtained fairer share of National peanut acreage allotment for Alabama.
6. Helped secure reasonable appropriations for agricultural research, education, and services to farmers, including soil building practice assistance.
7. Supported the School Lunch, Hill-Burton Hospital, TVA, Rural Electrification and Rural Telephone programs.
8. Urged 5-point program to bolster price of cotton: (a) Increasing exports by use of Export-Import Bank Loans and Marshall Plan (ECA Funds), (b) Early buying by the Military Department, (c) Elimination of export quotas, (d) Stockpiling by the Government for national defense, and (e) Use of cotton loan for more orderly marketing.
9. Prevented unjust taxation of Farmer Cooperatives.

Some State Legislative Accomplishments in 1951

1. Exemption of cottonseed meal from sales and use tax when seed are exchanged for meal at the gin.
2. Exemption of feedstuffs, except dog feed, and agricultural insecticides and fungicides from sales and use tax after June 30, 1953.
3. Requiring inspection, adequate labeling, and registration with the State Department of Agriculture and Industries of brands and contents of insecticides, fungicides, herbicides, rodenticides, and other economic poisons.
4. To aid in prevention of cattle rustling, requiring cattle producers who brand cattle to register brand with State Department of Agriculture and requiring livestock markets to keep a record of brands on cattle sold for a period of two years.
5. Regulate and license livestock markets and dealers and require them to be bonded and carry insurance.
6. State-wide stock law to become effective May 31, 1952.
7. Prevented passage of bill to abolish Milk Control Board to enable the Board to function in additional areas desiring services of the Board. Increased per diem of Board members from $7.50 to $15.00 per day not to exceed 60 days per year.
8. Appropriation of $25,000 to purchase additional bulls at artificial breeding unit at Auburn.
9. Appropriation of $100,000 for hog cholera serum and prevent use of hog cholera virus in Alabama.
10. Appropriation of $90,000 for control of Bang's disease in cattle.
11. Increase in appropriation for Extension Service, Experiment Stations, vocational education, and schools, with substantial raise to teachers.
12. Appropriation of $35,000 for premiums at District Livestock Shows and $15,000 for premiums at Alabama State Fair.
13. Regulate butane-propane gas industry by Alabama Public Service Commission.
14. Prevented $1.00 license for doodle (pole) fishing.
15. Exemption from recording tax of loaning agencies such as Production Credit Association, thereby putting them on same basis as banks.
16. Experiments and demonstrations pertaining to highway shoulders by agreement between director of Alabama Highway Department and Alabama Experiment Station.
17. Improved Rural Telephone Act.
18. Maintained and improved administration of law providing refund of State tax on gasoline used in tractors on farms.
19. Prevented passage of law to repeal exemptions from sales tax of farm products, seeds, baby chicks, and fertilizers.

OBJECTIVES of the FARM BUREAU

1. A Community Farm Bureau in every rural community in Alabama.
2. A National Farm Program to place farmers on a parity with other groups and conserve soil and other natural resources.
3. Reducing unjustified price spreads between what producers get and consumers pay.
4. More and better farm to market roads; adequate support for schools; rural telephones and rural electrification.
5. Support of 4-H Clubs and Future Farmers of America.
6. Adequate farm credit at fair interest rates.
7. Better medical service and hospital, medical, and surgical insurance in rural areas.
8. Life, fire, and automobile insurance at cost for members only.

INSURANCE PROTECTION

The Farm Bureau in Alabama has provided a far reaching insurance program for Farm Bureau members only. This program is saving Farm Bureau members far more than their dues. It provides Life, Fire, Automobile, and Hospital and Medical insurance to Farm Bureau members at cost.

If you use these insurance services they will pay you back many times the amount of your dues.

You must belong to the Farm Bureau in order to enjoy the insurance benefits.

Would you share your home with a child like these pictured here? Could you give that child the care he needs for a few weeks or months, or maybe longer, and then give him up again to his family or to adoptive parents?

Mrs. Nell Fulton, County Director of Public Welfare, is asking you these questions. Here is why. If these children had needed immediate care in Shelby County, Mrs. Fulton would not have known what to do. Where would she take them?

You see, these little girls did come to the attention of another welfare department not long ago. The director had to find a home that would care for them right away—and until other plans could be made. Each child needed immediately, loving care and understanding—a temporary home. Fortunately, in that county, there was a licensed boarding home.

The director took the children there. It is just an average family home with one difference—the parents are sharing it with children not their own. This home meets the standards set by the State Welfare Board. The boarding parents have a license to care for unrelated children. The license was free—but it is evidence that the family could and would give care to children boarded there.

But in Shelby County, the only licensed homes can care for no more children. Mrs. Fulton believes there are families here who will share their home. The department can pay nominal board and provide medical care. But it cannot license boarding homes until people "open their doors" to children temporarily without a home of their own. Won't you come to the welfare office or call phone 4761 and find out more about this program?

Siluria F H A Held Initiation

The Siluria Chapter of Future Farmers of America held initiation of forty new members this week. This brings the chapter's total membership to sixty-five, a new high for the chapter.

The initiation lasted for a period of three days, during which the new greenhands wore overalls and straw hats representing the traditional dress of a farmer. Each greenhand wore a Future Farmer key on which he was required to have the signatures of the old members and faculty of Thompson High School.

Formal initiation was held at the Siluria "Y" on Thursday night. Parents, old members, and some of the Thompson faculty attended the ceremony, which was followed by a joint F.H.A. and F.F.A. social.

Negro Commits Suicide Monday

A. C. Brantley, an Almont negro, committed suicide Monday night at the home of his son, A. C. Brantley, Jr., who lives on the Dogwood Road. The elder Brantley, who was about 66 years old, had a disagreement with a Negro woman in Almont earlier Monday night, and fired on a taxi in which the woman was riding with a shotgun. According to Deputy Sheriff George Harrison and Montevallo Police Chief, H. G. Kendrick, who investigated the incident, Brantley shot himself with his shotgun in front of his son's home at 10:30.

Trustee Election Tuesday Night

All patrons of the Montevallo School are again reminded that there will be a meeting at the High School Tuesday night at 7:30 p.m. for the purpose of nominating six people for trustees of the Montevallo Schools. The County Board of Education will select three of these nominees to serve as trustees and any vacancies will be filled from the remaining names.

Birmingham Plans Big Celebration On Armistice Day

All roads in Alabama will lead to Birmingham, Saturday and Sunday, November 10 and 11, when the city again observes National Armistice Day.

The Birmingham observance, already recognized by the Pentagon as America's Number one Armistice Day program, is expected to attract new record crowds from all parts of Alabama.

Plans for the two-day program have been whipped into final shape by Raymond Weeks, director, and Judge Talbot Ellis, associate director.

The celebration gets underway at 2:30 p.m. Saturday when a gigantic parade winds its way through the downtown district. Hundreds of planes, including jets and propeller planes, will furnish the greatest overhead air cover for the parade that Birmingham has ever seen. The Pentagon itself has authorized Air Force bases throughout the Southern states to cooperate with the Armistice Day committee to the fullest extent. Thousands will march in the parade, designed to show America's strength and preparedness to resist aggression anywhere in the world.

The annual Jefferson County championship high school football game will start in Legion Field Stadium at 7 p.m. Saturday. This game is an annual highlight of the city's Armistice Day program.

Climaxing the program will be a big memorial service in Municipal Auditorium at 3 p.m. Sunday, in which churches of all faiths are cooperating. One of the features of this program will be the giant choir, of more than 1,000 voices, in front of a giant altar, to be erected on the auditorium stage. The Camp Rucker band will play. Mayor Cooper Green will welcome the entire audience for the occasion.

Addresses then will be made by Maj. Gen. Roy H. Parker, chief of chaplains, U. S. Army, and Secretary of the Navy Dan A. Kimball. Secretary Kimball will be introduced by U. S. Sen. John J. Sparkman, of Huntsville.

Another highlight of the memorial service—dedicated to America's dead of all wars—will be the introduction of 24 veterans of the Korean fighting.

These veterans, heroes of the Korean war, will be representatives of the 19 United Nations, which are opposing aggression in that struggle now.

Top military and patriotic organization figures of the nation will attend the two-day program, which has set a high level of achievement, with these honor guests having given addresses at past Armistice Day celebrations in Birmingham:

Gen. Omar N. Bradley, 1947; Secretary of the Army Kenneth C. Royall, 1948; Gen. J. Lawton Collins, 1949; Secretary of the Navy Francis P. Matthews, 1950.

Pfc. Albert B. Caton, who is now serving with the Fifth Air Force in Korea, was recently awarded two battle stars.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hicks, of Birmingham, visited Miss Sallie Hooker last week-end.

TELEPHONE SERVICE IS GROWING, TOO

...and the price is up far less than most things you buy!

"GOODNESS, how he's grown!" And you could say the same about telephone service during the short time since his babyhood.

ACTUALLY, in just five years the number of local telephones Alabamians can call has more than doubled. And this year's increase in Alabama telephones is expected to reach about 32,000.

BEST OF ALL, this bigger, better "package" of service has gone up in price only a fraction as much as prices in general . . . and less than our cost of providing the service.

ALWAYS one of your biggest bargains, telephone service is today an even better buy than it was ten years ago, and a smaller part of your family budget.

State of Alabama A PROCLAMATION by the GOVERNOR —15—

WHEREAS, the Legislature of Alabama, at the Regular Session 1951, ordered an election to be held by the qualified electors of the State of Alabama upon a certain proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which said amendment is herein set out, and ordered that said election be held on the first Tuesday after the expiration of three months after final adjournment of the session of the Legislature at which such amendment was proposed; and

WHEREAS, the first Tuesday following the expiration of three months after the final adjournment of the Session of the Legislature at which such amendment was proposed will be and occur on Tuesday, December 11, 1951; and

WHEREAS, notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment is required by law, and by the provisions of the act submitting the amendment, to be given by a proclamation of the Governor to be published in each county in the State of Alabama once a week for four successive weeks next preceding the day appointed for the election;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Gordon Persons, as Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that on Tuesday, the 11th day of December 1951, an election will be held at the several polling places within the State of Alabama, in the manner and form provided by law, upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901:

"Any provision of the Constitution or laws of the State of Alabama to the contrary notwithstanding, any municipality in Walker County, or any one or more of them, shall have full and continuing power and authority, without any election or approval other than the approval of its governing body, to do any one or more of the following:

"1. To purchase, construct, lease, or otherwise acquire real property, plants, buildings, factories, works, facilities, machinery and equipment of any kind.

"2. To lease, sell for cash or on credit, exchange, or give and convey any such property described in subdivision 1 above, to any person, firm, association or corporation.

"3. To promote local industrial, commercial or agricultural development and the location of new industries or businesses therein.

"4. To become a stockholder in any corporation, association or company.

"5. To lend its credit or to grant public moneys and things of value in aid of, or to, any individual, firm, association, or corporation whatsoever.

"6. To become indebted and to issue and sell interest bearing bonds, warrants (which may be payable from funds to be realized in future years), notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness, to a principal amount not exceeding fifty per cent of the assessed value of taxable property therein as determined for state taxation, in order to secure funds for the purchase, construction, lease or acquisition of any of the property described in subdivision 1 above or to be used in furtherance of any of the other powers or authorities granted in this amendment. Such obligations or evidences of indebtedness may (in addition to any pledge or pledges authorized by subdivision 8 of this amendment) be issued upon the full faith and credit of the municipality or may be limited as to the source of their payment.

"7. To levy and collect annually, in addition to all other taxes now authorized or permitted, a special tax or taxes of not exceeding two percent on the value of all taxable property therein as determined for state taxation, in the same manner as other county or municipal taxes are levied and collected. Such tax may be upon all property in any municipality in Walker County or upon all property in any district the boundaries of which the governing body of such municipality shall describe and which it shall determine to be specially improved and benefited by any proposed use or expenditure of the proceeds of such tax.

"8. To pledge to the payment of any bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness the annual proceeds from any such special tax or taxes and to obligate itself irrevocably to continue to levy and collect such taxes annually until such obligations or evidences of indebtedness are paid in full and to pledge thereto any rental or sales proceeds of property leased or sold by it.

"9. To create a public authority or corporation having such powers, managed and governed by such board or governing body and subject to such limitations as the governing body of any municipality in Walker County may impose, by approving and filing a certificate to that effect in the office of the Judge of Probate or the Secretary of State, or their respective successors in function, and to delegate to such public authority or corporation and its board or governing body all powers and authority conferred in this amendment upon any such municipality.

"The recital in any bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness that they were issued pursuant to this amendment or that they were issued to provide funds to be used in furtherance of any power or authority herein authorized, or that any special tax herein authorized has been pledged to the payment thereof shall be conclusive; no purchaser or holder thereof need inquire further; and the levy and collection of such tax shall continue until the principal of and interest on such obligations or evidences of indebtedness shall have been paid in full. The bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness issued hereunder shall not be considered an indebtedness of any municipality in Walker County for the purpose of determining the borrowing capacity of such municipality under sections 224 and 225 of the Constitution; and the taxes herein authorized shall be in addition to those provided for or permitted in sections 215 and 216 of the Constitution and all amendments thereto.

"This amendment shall be self-executing; but the Legislature shall have the right and power by general, special or local act to adopt laws supplemental to this amendment or in furtherance of the purposes and objectives herein above set forth."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 11th day of December 1951, upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 11th day of December 1951, in each county in the State of Alabama in a newspaper published in said county.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and have caused the Great Seal of the State of Alabama to be affixed by the Secretary of State, at the Capitol in the City of Montgomery, on this the 1st day of October 1951.

WHEREAS, the Legislature of Alabama, at the Regular Session 1951, ordered an election to be held by the qualified electors of the State of Alabama upon a certain proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which said amendment is herein set out, and ordered that said election be held on the first Tuesday following the expiration of three months after the final adjournment of the 1951 Session of the Legislature; and

WHEREAS, the first Tuesday following the expiration of three months after the final adjournment of the 1951 Session of the Legislature at which the amendment was proposed will be and occur on Tuesday, December 11, 1951; and

WHEREAS, notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment is required by law, and by the provisions of the act submitting the amendment, to be given by a proclamation of the Governor to be published in each county in the State of Alabama once a week for four successive weeks next preceding the day appointed for the election:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Gordon Persons, as Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that on Tuesday, the 11th day of December 1951, an election will be held at the several polling places within the State of Alabama, in the manner and form provided by law, upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901:

"Any provisions of the Constitution or laws of the State of Alabama to the contrary notwithstanding, the City of Haleyville, Alabama, a Municipal Corporation in Winston County, shall have full and continuing power and authority, without any election or approval other than the approval of its governing body, to do any one or more of the following:

"1. To purchase, construct, lease, or otherwise acquire real property, plants, buildings, factories, works, facilities, machinery and equipment of any kind.

"2. To lease, sell for cash or on credit, exchange, or give and convey any such property described in subdivision 1 above, to any person, firm, association, or corporation.

"3. To promote local industrial, commercial or agricultural development and the location of new industries or businesses therein.

"4. To become a stockholder in any corporation, association or company.

"5. To lend its credit or to grant public moneys and things of value in aid of, or to, any individual, firm, association, or corporation whatsoever.

"6. To become indebted and to issue and sell interest bearing bonds, warrants (which may be payable from funds to be realized in future years), notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness to a principal amount not exceeding fifty per cent of the assessed value of taxable property therein as determined for state taxation, in order to secure funds for the purchase, construction, lease or acquisition of any of the property described in subdivision 1 above or to be used in furtherance of any of the other powers or authorities granted in this amendment. Such obligations or evidences of indebtedness may (in addition to any pledge or pledges authorized by subdivision 8 of this amendment) be issued upon the full faith and credit of The City of Haleyville, Alabama, a Municipal Corporation or may be limited as to the source of their payment.

"7. To levy and collect annually, in addition to all other taxes now authorized or permitted, a special tax or taxes of not exceeding two per cent on the value of all taxable property therein as determined for state taxation, in the same manner as other county or municipal taxes are levied and collected. Such tax may be upon all property in the City of Haleyville, Alabama, a Municipal Corporation in Winston County or upon all property in any district the boundaries of which the governing body of The City of Haleyville, Alabama a Municipal Corporation shall describe and which it shall determine to be specially improved and benefited by any proposed use or expenditure of the proceeds of such tax.

"8. To pledge to the payment of any bonds, warrants, notes, or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness the annual proceeds from any such special tax or taxes and to obligate itself irrevocably to continue to levy and collect such taxes annually until such obligations or evidences of indebtedness are paid in full and to pledge thereto any rental or sales proceeds of property leased or sold by it.

"9. To create a public authority or corporation having such powers, managed and governed by such board or governing body and subject to such limitations as the governing body of The City of Haleyville, Alabama, a Municipal Corporation in Winston County may impose, by approving and filing a certificate to that effect in the office of the Judge of Probate or the Secretary of State, or their respective successors in function, and to delegate to such public authority or corporation and its board or governing body all powers and authority conferred in this amendment upon any such municipality.

"The recital in any bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness that they were issued pursuant to this amendment or that they were issued to provide funds to be used in furtherance of any power or authority herein authorized or that any special tax herein authorized has been pledged to the payment thereof shall be conclusive; no purchaser or holder thereof need inquire further; and the levy and collection of such tax shall continue until the principal of and interest on such obligations or evidences of indebtedness shall have been paid in full. The bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences issued hereunder shall not be considered an indebtedness of The City of Haleyville, Alabama, a Municipal Corporation in Winston County for the purpose of determining the borrowing capacity of such municipality under sections 224 and 225 of the Constitution; and the taxes herein authorized shall be in addition to those provided for or permitted in sections 215 and 216 of the Constitution and all amendments thereto.

"This amendment shall be self-executing; but the Legislature shall have the right and power by general, special or local act to adopt laws supplemental to this amendment or in furtherance of the purpose and objectives hereinabove set forth."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 11th day of December 1951, upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 11th day of December 1951, in each county in the State of Alabama, in a newspaper published in said county.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and have caused the Great Seal of the State of Alabama to be affixed by the Secretary of State, at the Capitol in the City of Montgomery, on this the 1st day of October 1951.

Mrs. New Died
At Age Of 84

Mrs. W. D. New, age 84, passed away Wednesday afternoon, October 31, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. L. Veazey, of Twin Oaks, Siluria.

Mrs. New was a resident of Shelby County for twenty-six years. She was a faithful member of the Methodist Church for over fifty years and was a member of Calera Methodist Church at the time of her death. She attended church services regularly as long as her health permitted. Although she was ill for more than two years, she never complained and when asked how she felt, her answer was, "Alright". She loved her family and friends and was always willing to help those in need or sorrow.

Mrs. New will be missed by her many friends as they view her empty chair in the corner of the store at Twin Oaks where she so often sat and worked. Her hands were never idle as long as she was able to work.

Mrs. New is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Veazey, three grandsons, B. C., William, and John Eddins, a great granddaughter, Mary Evelyn Eddins, a son-in-law, R. L. Veazey, and three grand daughters-in-law, Elsa, Frances, and Jane Eddins.

Funeral services were conducted in Calera Methodist Church Friday afternoon, November 2, by Rev. George Pharr and Rev. B. F. Miller. Nephews served as pallbearers with interment in Elmwood Cemetery.

Automobile dealers attending the recent Biloxi Convention, according to the Jasper Mountain Eagle, told the story—"Papa Robin returned to his nest and announced proudly—that he had made a deposit on a new automobile."

This Negative Could Be Positive

Tuberculosis is a stealthy disease that seldom shows any signs in the early stages when it is easiest to cure. That is why it is so important for adults to get a chest X-ray at least once a year, as advocated by the voluntary tuberculosis associations, because early TB can be detected by means of an X-ray. And TB is easiest to cure when found early. Case finding, health education, rehabilitation, and research are part of the TB control program of the voluntary associations supported solely through the annual sale of Christmas Seals.

Christmas Seals Will Come To You In The Next Week

Santa Claus is coming to Shelby County.

His chubby face and twinkling smile will cover the county on thousands of little Christmas Seals to be received in hundreds of homes here next Monday.

One of the world's most fitting symbols of unselfish giving, the Santa Claus on your 1951 Christmas Seals will carry a message about the gravest health problem facing Alabama citizens today, declared Richard J. Ozley, county chairman of the Seal sale.

"Tuberculosis is Alabama's foremost health problem because every person we allow to die of the disease loses his life needlessly and every living victim of T. B. is spreading his germs daily. Christmas Seals have been fighting this menace more than 45 years, and every year we get a step nearer to control of T. B. because of the generous support of the people in this annual campaign," the chairman said.

The Christmas Seal sale has been described as the "pure essence of voluntary giving" by campaign leaders. They point out that receiving seals in the mail gives the individual a chance to make his own decision in the quiet of his own home without the high pressure of personal contact. The seal sale is planned this way to reach a lot of average citizens for a small contribution instead of confining the opportunity to help to a few who can afford larger contributions.

"This is one drive in which we believe everybody wants to help, because every dollar contributed helps protect the homes of every citizen against a contagious, fast-spreading killer."

Watch for your Santa Claus Christmas Seals next week.

Governor Persons Urges Support Of Bond Issue

Montgomery, Nov. 8—Gov. Persons emphasized today that passage of the $25,000,000 road bond issue on December 11 would insure that Alabama's present method of financing farm-to-market roads would remain undisturbed.

"Better roads of all types, safer roads, and even more roads may be obtained without a single penny of additional taxes," Governor Persons said.

While the farm-to-market road program is not affected directly by the $25,000,000 bond issue, it could be affected indirectly should the bonds not be issued, as the Legislature might find it necessary to divert farm-to-market road funds to prevent the loss of Federal funds already allocated to Alabama. Farm-to-market road money currently comes from a separate gasoline tax.

By Alabama law, the state sets aside some $6,000,000 annually from the gasoline tax for farm-to-market road work, and this is matched with $6,000,000 from counties. To this $12,000,000 a year is added supplemental federal aid funds in the amount of some $2,500,000, which brings the annual total on this type of construction to $14,500,000, according to the State Highway Department.

Passage of the $25,000,000 bond issue, which is Amendment No. 1, will furnish another $6,000,000 for the farm-to-market phase of Alabama's road construction program.

Governor Persons stressed that a superior Alabama road system will open new avenues of progress. "Farm-to-market activity will be made easier and more profitable. All types of commerce will flow more easily. Tourists in greater numbers will be attracted to the state," he said.

Persons said the $25,000,000 in federal funds in Washington was actually the state's money, but that matching cash must be put up by the state.

The total of $50,000,000 would be used: $34,000,000 to primary roads and bridges; $6,000,000 to secondary state highways or farm-to-market roads; $10,000,000 to highways through towns and cities.

"Automobiles in Alabama are increasing in number at the rate of some 50,000 a year," he said.

Stating that highway accidents in 1950 claimed more American lives than the Korean war, Persons said experts agreed that wider and improved highways and roads would aid materially in cutting down on Alabama's terrific toll of traffic accidents.

Department of Public Safety records showed 99 people killed in 4,329 accidents reported by the Highway Patrol in the period, January 1 to September 30, 1950. For the same nine month period this year, there have been 136 deaths, in 5,072 listed accidents.

MONTEVALLO, ALABAMA

VOLUME 19 — NUMBER 28

Amending Our State Constitution

(By Dr. Hallie Farmer)

Amending the Constitution of Alabama is a serious matter. Obviously the men who framed that document felt that it was serious for they were unwilling to trust amendments to anybody but the people themselves. The Legislature may begin the process by passing an act for Amendment, but, because it is a matter of major importance, the proposed amendment must be read three separate days in each House of the Legislature. There must be no stamped action! When either House votes on an amendment to the Constitution, three-fifths of all members elected to that House must vote in favor of the amendment to secure its passage. For most bills a majority of those voting is sufficient.

The Governor may not veto an act of the Legislature proposing to amend the Constitution. Only the people may reject such a legislative proposal. This solemn duty they perform at elections held for the purpose of allowing them to pass judgment on all amendments proposed by the Legislature.

Every self respecting citizen wants to do a conscientious job when he is called on to vote. He knows that the Constitution is important. He knows that amendments are important. He does not take his responsibilities lightly. Yet he finds himself constantly defeated in his efforts to pass an honest judgment on the matters he is asked to decide by his vote.

First of all, that he is asked to vote too often on amendments. The Constitution of Alabama has been amended 80 times since it was adopted in 1901. Alabama citizens voted on everyone of these amendments as well as many others which were rejected.

A good citizen may be forgiven for wondering if a document which has had to be patched 80 times does not need to be made over entirely. The number of amendments already added to the constitution constitutes the best argument of the people (and there are many of them) who think that Alabama needs a new Constitution. The 24 additional amendments which are to be voted on, December 11 only increase his convictions that something should be done.

Not only are Alabama's citizens asked to vote too often on Constitutional Amendments, but they are asked to vote on too many amendments. Consider the 24 amendments, which will confront the voters at the coming election. What chance has the most conscientious voter to really inform himself about them? Of course he has no chance. The newspapers do not even list them. More than one newspaper has said "There are seven amendments of state-wide importance. The rest are local in character." I have searched the papers rather carefully. I have not yet seen a complete list of the amendments to be voted on December 11. No wonder many people go fishing on election day, leaving the people who have a selfish interest in the amendments to put them over! No wonder that out of a sense of frustration, others vote against every amendment, or for every amendment, or play enie menie mine mo down the list voting for every other one without paying any attention to its content!

Something ought to be done about this business of amending the Constitution. An honest citizen ought to be able to do an honest job of expressing his opinion on the changes proposed to him. He cannot do it though. Not in Alabama. The cards are all stacked against him.

A Discussion Of Amendments To State Constitution

Mrs. Mary Whatley, Chairman of the Legislative Committee of the Business and Professional Women's Club, announces that an open meeting will be held November 19, 7:30 at the Montevallo High School to discuss the twenty-four amendments to the Constitution of Alabama that will be voted on December 11.

This discussion will be led by Dr. Hallie Farmer, and the content of the amendments will be given by the members of her state government class. The students are doing research on these amendments now so they will be able to discuss them and answer any questions that might be asked by the audience.

Their many friends in Shelby County were pleased to hear the news Wednesday that Mr. and Mrs. Ham Wilson have a boy. This, the first heir to the fabulous Ham Wilson fortune, arrived at St. Margaret's Hospital Wednesday afternoon.

Dr. and Mrs. Milton Orr, Jr., have a new baby girl. Her name is Laurie Gene.

Housing Project Gets Final Approval To Start Construction

The Times this week received from Congressman deGraffenried notification that the Montevallo Housing Authority's Low-rent housing project had received Presidential approval. The message from Congressman deGraffenried is as follows:

"Happy to advise that the president has approved program which will allow public housing administration to enter into annual contribution contract with housing authority of Montevallo covering low rent housing projects 79-1 and 79-2. It has been a pleasure to work on this matter for you."

According to the present plans by the Montevallo Housing Authority there will be 32 colored units and 20 white units. These will range in size from one bedroom to four bedroom units. The buildings themselves will be row-houses of the brick one story class of construction. These units will be for rent only to families in the lower income brackets and will be operated by the Housing Authority of The Town of Montevallo. Present plans call for natural gas in all cooking, heating, refrigeration and water heating.

The architect, Mr. Lawrence E. Allen, of Mobile, is completing all working drawings and specifications at this time and it is anticipated that construction will be started in January or February. The white units will be located at the East end of Main Street, and the colored units are scheduled for construction between the Negro High School and the Southern Railroad.

Rotary Club Sponsors Planting Crepe Myrtle

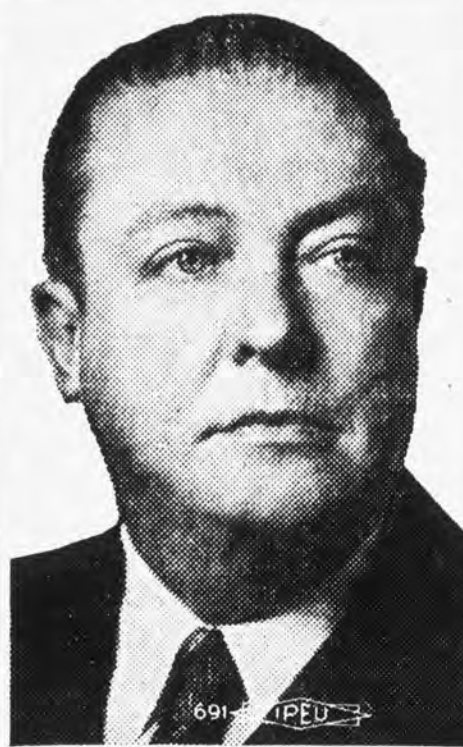

The Montevallo Rotary Club has completed plans for their Town Beautification Project under the direction of its community service committee with Dr. Milton L. Orr, Jr. as chairman. Under the present plans the Rotary Club is offering to all interested persons two year Crepe Myrtle plants of the watermelon red variety for 50c each, set out by the Montevallo F.F.A. Chapter. These plants should bloom this year.

The Rotary Project also is planning to plant these plants on the entrance to the Town and around the Montevallo Schools. All members of the Rotary Club are canvassing the Town for orders for these plants. Dr. Orr requests that anyone who is interested in securing plants and is not contacted by a member of the Rotary Club to contact him or any other member of the Club who will be happy to take your order.

THE AMENDMENTS

The people of Alabama are called upon to vote December 11 on proposals to add 24 more patches to our already much-patched state constitution.

Do you know how you should vote on these amendments? Do you know what they provide for and what they will apply to?

Doubtless, you do not know. Very few do—most of us do not.

We note with interest that a discussion is arranged for November 19 at the high school for the purpose of explaining the proposed amendments to voters who may be interested enough to attend.

The discussion is arranged by the Business and Professional Women's Club. Dr. Hallie Farmer will be leader of the forum.

As a further means of informing you about the amendments, The Times will have a series of articles by Dr. Farmer for publication prior to voting day, December 11. The first article by Dr. Farmer is in this issue.

SCHOOL OPERATION

During past years we have heard criticism of the Montevallo School System, its operation, connection with Alabama College, students, teachers, athletic program, and other phases of educating the children of the Montevallo community. We have always listened, entered into the discussions, and on occasions have been guilty of criticism ourselves. On occasions people of this community have suggested that this newspaper should promote a crusade to "clean up our schools". We believe we now have an answer to any criticisms no matter who utters them.

For the past several weeks this newspaper has carried a notice of a meeting of patrons of the Montevallo Schools for the purpose of making nominations to the County Board of Education for trustees of the Schools. We have heard public announcements of this meeting on several occasions. The Montevallo Schools have approximately 800 students and averaging two students to a family and a mother and father to each family, there should be 800 persons who could have nominated and voted in this election. There were on hand at the meeting Tuesday night, 18 persons, of whom 16 were qualified as patrons. The meeting was carried on in democratic fashion, and the six men nominated by the group, we believe, are the best qualified men who could have been placed in nomination had all patrons of the schools been present.

Our answer to those who are so critical of and offer so many suggestions for the improvement of our schools is simply: If you are not interested enough in the education of your children to express yourself when invited, we seriously doubt if you have in your criticisms the best interests of the schools and your children at heart. We can't think of a possible excuse for parents not being present at this meeting.

Have you heard about the duffer whose game is improving? He's missing the ball much closer now than he used to.

Montevallo P T A Meets Tuesday Night

The Montevallo P.T.A. will meet Tuesday night, November 20, at 7:30, in the High School Auditorium. This will be an "Open House" meeting. Parents will have the opportunity to return to school and observe American Education Week.

Members of the Student Council will be in the Auditorium to escort the parents to the class rooms. The teachers will discuss their work, answer questions, and present their daily schedule.

One of the objectives of the P.T.A. for this year is a closer spirit of co-operation and understanding between the home and the school. Tuesday night every parent can share in reaching that goal.

Visit the class rooms, meet the teachers, and work with them to produce better pupils and better citizens.

School Trustees Are Nominated

At a meeting of the patrons of the Montevallo Schools held at the High School, Tuesday night, the following were nominated for trustees: Dr. Leslie H. Hubbard, Mr. Lee A. Barclay, Mr. Jimmy O'Neal, Mr. M. S. McGehee, Mr. F. P. Givhan, and Mr. M. P. Jeter, Sr.

This list of six nominees will be submitted to the County Board of Education who will select three to serve as trustees of the Montevallo Schools for a term of four years. Any vacancies occurring during the term of office will be filled by the County Board from the remaining names.

This election was held and conducted in accordance with the state law governing school trustees. All schools in Shelby County were required to hold these meetings on Tuesday, November 13.

Studiosis Club Met At Reynolds Hall

The Montevallo Studiosis held its regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening at 7:30 in Reynolds Hall.

Miss Ethel Marshall, president, conducted a short business meeting, with Mary Stuart reading "Collect For Club Women", and the reading of the minutes by Miss Rebecca Grady, secretary.

A short but interesting report of the District Club Meeting, held in Selma, was given by Miss Marshall.

At the conclusion of the business session, Mrs. M. Thornton, program chairman, introduced the guest speaker of the evening, Mr. Frank Head, of Columbiana, who made an instructive and entertaining talk on "Alabama Legislation of Special Interest to Women." Proof of the interest in his talk was shown in the numerous questions asked him, which he answered so graciously.

A delightful social hour was enjoyed with Miss Lois Ackerly, hostess chairman, and her efficient committee.

Circle Two Met With Mrs. Anderson

Circle 2 of the Womans Society of Christian Service met Monday afternoon at 3:30 with Mrs. A. C. Anderson.

Mrs. W. C. Weems, circle leader, presided over a short business meeting, after which, Mrs. Frank Morgan led in the devotional for the afternoon.

Rev. M. L. Triplett, who is teaching the Bible study on "The Book of Acts," gave an inspiring talk, the second in a series of twelve to be given, was enjoyed by the group attending.

At the conclusion of the Bible study, the fourteen members present enjoyed a social hour with the hostess.

Circle One Met With Mrs. Woolley

Circle 1, of the W.M.U., met Monday afternoon at 3:30, in the home of Mrs. Brooks Woolley, for their regular program meeting.

Following a short business session, Mrs. H. G. Parker, program leader for the afternoon, presented an interesting and inspiring program. The subject being "Train Up A Child."

"Major Squirm" Addresses Rotary

Mr. Hubert Baughn, editor and publisher of the The Alabama News magazine, will speak to the Montevallo Rotary Club at their regular meeting Thursday night. Mr. Baughn has been associated with newspaper and magazine work in Alabama and Georgia since 1917.

The Rotary Club has had two 100% meetings thus far during the month of November. All members are urged to attend in an attempt to have one month of perfect attendance. Admitted to membership last week in the Montevallo Club were: Mr. John Foshee and Mr. Floyd Hawkins. Mr. S. M. Mahan was re-admitted to membership last week.

Mr. Clyde J. Davis, of Gadsden, spent the week-end in Montevallo. His friends here were glad to see him. Mr. Davis worked for The Times back in the not-so-good days of 1936 and 1937. "I see lots of changes of one sort and another since that time," he said, "which taken by and large makes Montevallo a better town than it was then."

Welcome has to be More Than a Sign

"WELCOME" is an essential ingredient in successful industrial development—that kind of welcome that makes itself known by the tone of the voice, the sparkle of the eye and the warmth of the handclasp. The friendly attitude of welcome on the part of a community often overcomes minor shortcomings in other respects.

A wholehearted welcome, plus physical necessities such as a satisfactory site, transportation, adequate help and raw materials, plus timeliness, make an almost unbeatable combination in industrial development work.

Many Alabama towns have these qualities. Their chambers of commerce and other groups, and our Industrial Development Division, working in cooperation with them, try to bring about that happy meeting of the right man representing the right industry at the right time in the right place to bring about still further industrial development of Alabama.

State of Alabama
A PROCLAMATION
by the
GOVERNOR

WHEREAS, the Legislature of Alabama, at the Regular Session 1951, ordered an election to be held by the qualified electors of the State of Alabama upon a certain proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which said amendment is herein set out, and ordered that said election be held on the first Tuesday following the expiration of three months after the final adjournment of the 1951 Session of the Legislature; and

WHEREAS, the first Tuesday following the expiration of three months after the final adjournment of the 1951 Session of the Legislature at which the amendment was proposed will be and occur on Tuesday, December 11, 1951; and

WHEREAS, notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment is required by law, and by the provisions of the act submitting the amendment, to be given by a proclamation of the Governor to be published in each county in the State of Alabama once a week for four successive weeks next preceding the day appointed for the election;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Gordon Persons, as Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that on Tuesday, the 11th day of December 1951, an election will be held at the several polling places within the State of Alabama, in the manner and form provided by law, upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901:

"Any provisions of the Constitution or laws of the State of Alabama to the contrary notwithstanding, the City of Haleyville, Alabama, a Municipal Corporation in Winston County, shall have full and continuing power and authority, without any election or approval other than the approval of its governing body, to do any one or more of the following:

"1. To purchase, construct, lease, or otherwise acquire real property, plants, buildings, factories, works, facilities, machinery and equipment of any kind.

"2. To lease, sell for cash or on credit, exchange, or give and convey any such property described in subdivision 1 above, to any person, firm, association, or corporation.

"3. To promote local industrial, commercial or agricultural development and the location of new industries or businesses therein.

"4. To become a stockholder in any corporation, association or company.

"5. To lend its credit or to grant public moneys and things of value in aid of, or to, any individual, firm, association, or corporation whatsoever.

"6. To become indebted and to issue and sell interest bearing bonds, warrants (which may be payable from funds to be realized in future years), notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness to a principal amount not exceeding fifty per cent of the assessed value of taxable property therein as determined for state taxation, in order to secure funds for the purchase, construction, lease or acquisition of any of the property described in subdivision 1 above or to be used in furtherance of any of the other powers or authorities granted in this amendment. Such obligations or evidences of indebtedness may (in addition to any pledge or pledges authorized by subdivision 8 of this amendment) be issued upon the full faith and credit of The City of Haleyville, Alabama, a Municipal Corporation or may be limited as to the source of their payment.

"7. To levy and collect annually, in addition to all other taxes now authorized or permitted, a special tax or taxes of not exceeding two per cent on the value of all taxable property therein as determined for state taxation, in the same manner as other county or municipal taxes are levied and collected. Such tax may be upon all property in the City of Haleyville, Alabama, a Municipal Corporation in Winston County or upon all property in any district the boundaries of which the governing body of The City of Haleyville, Alabama a Municipal Corporation shall describe and which it shall determine to be specially improved and benefited by any proposed use or expenditure of the proceeds of such tax.

"8. To pledge to the payment of any bonds, warrants, notes, or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness the annual proceeds from any such special tax or taxes and to obligate itself irrevocably to continue to levy and collect such taxes annually until such obligations or evidences of indebtedness are paid in full and to pledge thereto any rental or sales proceeds of property leased or sold by it.

"9. To create a public authority or corporation having such powers, managed and governed by such board or governing body and subject to such limitations as the governing body of The City of Haleyville, Alabama, a Municipal Corporation in Winston County may impose, by approving and filing a certificate to that effect in the office of the Judge of Probate or the Secretary of State, or their respective successors in function, and to delegate to such public authority or corporation and its board or governing body all powers and authority conferred in this amendment upon any such municipality.

"The recital in any bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness that they were issued pursuant to this amendment or that they were issued to provide funds to be used in furtherance of any power or authority herein authorized or that any special tax herein authorized has been pledged to the payment thereof shall be conclusive; no purchaser or holder thereof need inquire further; and the levy and collection of such tax shall continue until the principal of and interest on such obligations or evidences of indebtedness shall have been paid in full. The bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences issued hereunder shall not be considered an indebtedness of The City of Haleyville, Alabama, a Municipal Corporation in Winston County for the purpose of determining the borrowing capacity of such municipality under sections 224 and 225 of the Constitution; and the taxes herein authorized shall be in addition to those provided for or permitted in sections 215 and 216 of the Constitution and all amendments thereto.

"This amendment shall be self-executing; but the Legislature shall have the right and power by general, special or local act to adopt laws supplemental to this amendment or in furtherance of the purpose and objectives hereinabove set forth."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 11th day of December 1951, upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 11th day of December 1951, in each county in the State of Alabama, in a newspaper published in said county.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and have caused the Great Seal of the State of Alabama to be affixed by the Secretary of State, at the Capitol in the City of Montgomery, on this the 1st day of October 1951.

GOVERNOR

WHEREAS, the Legislature of Alabama, at the Regular Session 1951, ordered an election to be held by the qualified electors of the State of Alabama upon a certain proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which said amendment is herein set out, and ordered that said election be held on the first Tuesday after the expiration of three months after final adjournment of the session of the Legislature at which such amendment was proposed; and

WHEREAS, the first Tuesday following the expiration of three months after the final adjournment of the Session of the Legislature at which such amendment was proposed will be and occur on Tuesday, December 11, 1951; and

WHEREAS, notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment is required by law, and by the provisions of the act submitting the amendment, to be given by a proclamation of the Governor to be published in each county in the State of Alabama once a week for four successive weeks next preceding the day appointed for the election:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Gordon Persons, as Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that on Tuesday, the 11th day of December 1951, an election will be held at the several polling places within the State of Alabama, in the manner and form provided by law, upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901:

"Any provision of the Constitution or laws of the State of Alabama to the contrary notwithstanding, any municipality in Walker County, or any one or more of them, shall have full and continuing power and authority, without any election or approval other than the approval of its governing body, to do any one or more of the following:

"1. To purchase, construct, lease, or otherwise acquire real property, plants, buildings, factories, works, facilities, machinery and equipment of any kind.

"2. To lease, sell for cash or on credit, exchange, or give and convey any such property described in subdivision 1 above, to any person, firm, association or corporation.

"3. To promote local industrial, commercial or agricultural development and the location of new industries or businesses therein.

"4. To become a stockholder in any corporation, association or company.

"5. To lend its credit or to grant public moneys and things of value in aid of, or to, any individual, firm, association, or corporation whatsoever.

"6. To become indebted and to issue and sell interest bearing bonds, warrants (which may be payable from funds to be realized in future years), notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness, to a principal amount not exceeding fifty per cent of the assessed value of taxable property therein as determined for state taxation, in order to secure funds for the purchase, construction, lease or acquisition of any of the property described in subdivision 1 above or to be used in furtherance of any of the other powers or authorities granted in this amendment. Such obligations or evidences of indebtedness may (in addition to any pledge or pledges authorized by subdivision 8 of this amendment) be issued upon the full faith and credit of the municipality or may be limited as to the source of their payment.

"7. To levy and collect annually, in addition to all other taxes now authorized or permitted, a special tax or taxes of not exceeding two percent on the value of all taxable property therein as determined for state taxation, in the same manner as other county or municipal taxes are levied and collected. Such tax may be upon all property in any municipality in Walker County or upon all property in any district the boundaries of which the governing body of such municipality shall describe and which it shall determine to be specially improved and benefited by any proposed use or expenditure of the proceeds of such tax.

"8. To pledge to the payment of any bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness the annual proceeds from any such special tax or taxes and to obligate itself irrevocably to continue to levy and collect such taxes annually until such obligations or evidences of indebtedness are paid in full and to pledge thereto any rental or sales proceeds of property leased or sold by it.

"9. To create a public authority or corporation having such powers, managed and governed by such board or governing body and subject to such limitations as the governing body of any municipality in Walker County may impose, by approving and filing a certificate to that effect in the office of the Judge of Probate or the Secretary of State, or their respective successors in function, and to delegate to such public authority or corporation and its board or governing body all powers and authority conferred in this amendment upon any such municipality.

"The recital in any bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness that they were issued pursuant to this amendment or that they were issued to provide funds to be used in furtherance of any power or authority herein authorized, or that any special tax herein authorized has been pledged to the payment thereof shall be conclusive; no purchaser or holder thereof need inquire further; and the levy and collection of such tax shall continue until the principal of and interest on such obligations or evidences of indebtedness shall have been paid in full. The bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness issued hereunder shall not be considered an indebtedness of any municipality in Walker County for the purpose of determining the borrowing capacity of such municipality under sections 224 and 225 of the Constitution; and the taxes herein authorized shall be in addition to those provided for or permitted in sections 215 and 216 of the Constitution and all amendments thereto.

"This amendment shall be self-executing; but the Legislature shall have the right and power by general, special or local act to adopt laws supplemental to this amendment or in furtherance of the purposes and objectives herein above set forth."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 11th day of December 1951, upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 11th day of December 1951, in each county in the State of Alabama in a newspaper published in said county.

The first man-made inland waterway constructed in Alabama was a canal built in 1820 which connected the Big Spring at Huntsville with Indian Creek. With the raising of the water in the creek, wooden locks and dams were built. For many years cotton products from the vicinity around Huntsville were floated down Indian Creek to the Tennessee River. Once down the Tennessee the goods passed down the Ohio and Mississippi River to Natchez or New Orleans.

-16-

WHEREAS, the Legislature of Alabama, at the Regular Session 1951, ordered an election to be held by the qualified electors of the State of Alabama upon a certain proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which said amendment is herein set out, and ordered that said election be held on the first Tuesday after the expiration of three months after final adjournment of the session of the Legislature at which such amendment was proposed; and

WHEREAS, the first Tuesday following the expiration of three months after the final adjournment of the Session of the Legislature at which such amendment was proposed will be and occur on Tuesday, December 11, 1951; and

WHEREAS, notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment is required by law, and by the provisions of the act submitting the amendment, to be given by a proclamation of the Governor to be published in each county in the State of Alabama once a week for four successive weeks next preceding the day appointed for the election;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Gordon Persons, as Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice direct and proclaim that on Tuesday, the 11th day of December 1951, an election will be held at the several polling places within the State of Alabama, in the manner and form provided by law, upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901:

"1. DEFINITIONS. Wherever used in this amendment, unless a different meaning clearly appears in the context, the following terms, whether used in the singular or plural, shall be given the following respective interpretations: "Municipality," means any incorporated city or town in Colbert County, Alabama; "project" means any land and any building or other improvement thereon, and all real and personal properties deemed necessary in connection therewith, whether or not now in existence, which shall be suitable for use by the following or by any combination of two or more thereof: (a) any industry for the manufacturing, processing, or assembling of any agricultural or manufactured products, and (b) any commercial enterprise in storing, warehousing, distributing or selling products of agriculture, mining or industry, but does not include facilities designed for the sale or distribution to the public of electricity, gas, water or telephone or other services commonly classified as public utilities; "Governing body" means the board or body in which the legislative powers of the municipality are vested; "Mortgage" means a mortgage or a mortgage and deed of trust.

"2. LEGISLATIVE INTENT. It is the intent of this amendment to authorize municipalities of Colbert County, Alabama, to acquire, own, and lease projects for the purpose of promoting industry and trade by inducing manufacturing, industrial and commercial enterprises to locate in Colbert County, Alabama, promoting the use of the agricultural products and natural resources of said county, and promoting a sound and proper balance in said county between agriculture, commerce and industry. It is intended that each project be self-liquidating. It is not intended hereby to authorize any municipality itself to operate any manufacturing, industrial or commercial enterprise. This amendment shall be liberally construed in conformity with the said intent.

"3. ADDITIONAL POWERS CONFERRED ON MUNICIPALITIES. In addition to any other powers which it may now have, each municipality in Colbert County, Alabama, shall have the following powers: (1) To acquire, whether by construction, purchase, a gift or lease, and to equip one or more projects, which shall be located within said county and may be located within or without the municipality, or partially within or partially without the municipality, but which shall not be located more than fifteen miles outside of the corporate limits of the municipality; (2) To lease to others any or all of its projects for such rentals and upon such terms and conditions as the governing body may deem advisable and as shall not conflict with the provisions of this amendment; and (3) To issue revenue bonds for the purpose of defraying the cost of acquiring, by construction and purchase, or either thereof, and of equipping any project, and to secure the payment of such bonds, all as hereinafter provided. No municipality shall have the power to operate any project as a business or in any manner except as lessor thereof.

"4. BONDS ISSUED TO FINANCE PROJECTS. All bonds issued by a municipality under authority of this amendment shall be limited obligations of the municipality the principal of and interest on which shall be payable solely out of the revenues derived from the leasing of the project to finance which the bonds are issued. Bonds and interest coupons issued under authority of this amendment shall never constitute an indebtedness of the municipality within the meaning of any state constitutional provision or statutory limitation, and shall never constitute nor give rise to a pecuniary liability of the municipality or a charge against its general credit or taxing powers, and such fact shall be plainly stated in the face of each such bond. Such bonds may be executed and delivered at any time and from time to time, may be in such form and denominations, may be of such tenor, may be in registered or bearer form, either as to principal or interest or both, may be payable in such installments and at such time or times not exceeding thirty years from their date, may be payable at such place or places, may bear interest at such rate or rates payable at such place or places and evidenced in such manner, and may contain such provisions not inconsistent herewith, all as shall be provided in the proceedings of the governing body whereunder the bonds shall be authorized to be issued. The bonds issued hereunder shall be subject to the general provisions of law, presently existing or that may hereafter be enacted, respecting the execution and delivery of the bonds of any such municipality and respecting the retaining of options of redemption in proceedings authorizing the issuance of municipal securities. Any bonds issued under the authority of this amendment may be sold at public or private sale in such manner and from time to time, as may be determined by the governing body to be most advantageous; and the municipality may pay all expenses, premiums and commissions which the governing body may deem necessary or advantageous in connection with the authorization, sale and issuance thereof. All bonds issued under the authority of this amendment and all interest coupons applicable thereto shall be construed to be negotiable instruments, despite the fact that they are payable solely from a specified source.

"5. SECURITY FOR BONDS. The principal of and interest on any bonds issued under the authority of this amendment shall be secured by a pledge of the revenues out of which such bonds shall be made payable, may be secured by a mortgage covering any part of the project from which the revenues so pledged may be derived, and may be secured by a pledge of the lease of such project. The proceedings under which such bonds are authorized to be issued or any such mortgage may contain any agreements and provisions customarily contained in instruments securing bonds, including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, provisions respecting the fixing and collection of rents for any project covered by such proceedings or mortgage, the terms to be incorporated in the lease of such project, the maintenance and insurance of such project, the creation and maintenance of special funds from the revenues of such project, and the rights and remedies available in event of default to the bondholders or to the trustee under a mortgage, all as the governing body shall deem advisable and as shall not be in conflict with the provisions of this amendment; provided, however, that in making any such agreements or provisions any such municipality shall not have the power to obligate itself except with respect to the project and the application of the revenues therefrom, and shall not have the power to incur a pecuniary liability or a charge upon its general credit or against its taxing powers.

The proceedings authorizing any bonds hereunder and any mortgage securing such bonds may provide that, in the event of default in payment of the principal of or the interest on such bonds or in the performance of any agreement contained in the proceedings or mortgage, such payment and performance may be enforced by mandamus or by the appointment of a receiver in equity with power to charge and collect rents and to apply the revenues from the project in accordance with the proceedings or the provisions of such mortgage. Any such mortgage may provide also that in the event of default in such payment or the violation of any agreement contained in the mortgage, the mortgage may be foreclosed either by sale at public outcry or by proceedings in equity, and may provide that any trustee under such mortgage or the holder of any of the bonds secured thereby may become the purchaser at any foreclosure sale if the highest bidder therefor. No breach of any such agreement shall impose any pecuniary liability upon a municipality or any charge upon its general credit or against its taxing powers.

"6. REQUIREMENTS RESPECTING LEASE. Prior to the leasing of any project, the governing body must determine and find the following: The amount necessary in each year to pay the principal of and the interest on the bonds proposed to be issued to finance such project; the amount necessary to be paid each year into any reserve fund which the governing body may deem it advisable to establish in connection with the retirement of the proposed bonds and the maintenance of the project; and, unless the terms under which the project is to be leased provide that the lessee shall maintain the project and carry all proper insurance with respect thereto, the estimated cost of maintaining the project in good repair and keeping it properly insured. The determinations and findings of the governing body required to be made in the preceding sentence shall be set forth in the proceedings under which the proposed bonds are to be issued; and prior to the issuance of such bonds, the municipality shall lease the project to a lessee under any agreement conditions upon completion of the project and providing for payment to the municipality of such rentals as, upon the basis of such determinations and findings, will be sufficient (a) to pay the principal of and interest on the bonds issued to finance the project, (b) to build up and maintain any reserves deemed by the governing body to be advisable in connection therewith, and (c) unless the agreement of lease obligates the lessee to pay for the maintenance and insurance of the project, to pay the costs of maintaining the project in good repair and keeping it properly insured.

"7. REFUNDING BONDS. Any bonds issued hereunder and at any time outstanding may at any time and from time to time be refunded by any such municipality by the issuance of its refunding bonds in such amount as the governing body may deem necessary but not exceeding an amount sufficient to refund the principal of the bonds so to be refunded, together with any unpaid interest thereon and any premiums and commissions necessary to be paid in connection therewith. Any such refunding may be effected whether the bonds to be refunded shall have then matured or shall thereafter mature, either by sale of the refunding bonds and the application of the proceeds thereof for the payment of the bonds to be refunded thereby, or by exchange of the refunding bonds for the bonds to be refunded thereby; provided, that the holders of any bonds to be refunded shall not be compelled without their consent to surrender their bonds for payment or exchange prior to the date on which they are payable or, if they are called for redemption, prior to the date on which they are by their terms subject to redemption. Any refunding bonds issued under the authority of this amendment shall be payable solely from the revenues out of which the bonds to be refunded thereby were payable, and shall be subject to the provisions contained in paragraph 4 of this amendment and may be secured in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 5 of this amendment.

"8. USE OF PROCEEDS FROM SALE OF BONDS. The proceeds from the sale of any bonds issued under authority of this amendment shall be applied only for the purpose for which the bonds were issued; provided, however, that any accrued interest and premium received in any such sale shall be applied to the payment of the principal of or the interest on the bonds sold; and provided, further, that if for any reason any portion of such proceeds shall not be needed for the purpose for which the bonds were issued, then such unneeded portion of said proceeds shall be applied to the payment of the principal of or the interest on said bonds. The cost of acquiring and equipping any project shall be deemed to include the following: the actual cost of the construction of any part of a project which may be constructed, including the architect's and engineer's fees; the purchase price of any part of a project that may be acquired by purchase; the purchase price of the equipment for any project; the actual cost of installing such equipment; all expenses in connection with the authorization, sale and issuance of the bonds to finance such acquisition and equipment; and the interest on such bonds for a reasonable time prior to construction, during construction, and for not exceeding six months after completion of construction.

"9. BONDS MADE LEGAL INVESTMENTS. Bonds issued under the provisions of this amendment shall be legal investments for fiduciaries investing trust funds and for savings banks and insurance companies organized under the laws of this state.

"10. EXEMPTION FROM TAXATION. The bonds authorized by this amendment and the income therefrom, all mortgages executed as security therefor, all lease agreements made pursuant to the provisions hereof, and all projects and the revenue derived from any lease thereof shall be exempt from all taxation in the State of Alabama.

"11. CONSTRUCTION OF AMENDMENT. Neither this amendment nor anything herein contained shall be construed as a restriction or limitation upon any powers which a municipality might otherwise have under the constitution and laws of this state, but shall be construed as cumulative; and this amendment shall not be construed as requiring an election by the voters of a municipality prior to the issuance of bonds hereunder by such municipality.

"12. NO NOTICE OR PUBLICATION REQUIRED. No notice or consent or approval by any governmental body or public officer shall be required as a prerequisite to the sale or issuance of any bonds or the making of a mortgage under the authority of this amendment and no ordinance or resolution adopted by a governing body under authority hereof shall be required to be published in any manner, any other law to the contrary notwithstanding.

"13. This amendment shall be self-executing and in no wise shall it be construed as limiting, modifying or repealing any of the provisions of any constitutional amendment relating only to Colbert County, Alabama.

"14. SEVERABILITY. If any section, clause, provision or portion of this amendment shall be held to be invalid or unconstitutional by any court of competent jurisdiction, such holding shall not affect any other section, clause or provision of this amendment which is not in and of itself unconstitutional."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 11th day of December 1951, upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 11th day of December 1951, in each county in the State of Alabama in a newspaper published in said county.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and have caused the Great Seal of the State of Alabama to be affixed by the Secretary of State, at the Capitol in the City of Montgomery, on this the 1st day of October 1951.

Although it is estimated that 800 Creeks perished in the battle of Horseshoe Bend, March 29, 1814, Gen. Andrew Jackson had only 26 militiamen killed and 107 wounded. Among the wounded was none other than the man who was later to shape the early destinies of the Lone Star State—Sam Houston. Houston was wounded while leading an attack on a Red Stick fortification during the heat of the battle.

A Recipe For Pumpkin Pie

For a perfect ending for an old fashioned Thanksgiving dinner, help yourself to the harvest's most wonderful dessert—a deep wedge of golden pumpkin pie.

1½ cups cooked or canned pumpkin
¾ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
½ to 1 teaspoon ginger
¼ to ½ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ to 1 teaspoon cloves
1 to 1½ teaspoons cinnamon
3 slightly beaten eggs
¾ cup evaporated milk
1 cup milk

Make plain pastry and line a 10 inch pie pan. Combine pumpkin, sugar, salt, and spices; blend. Add eggs and milk. Mix thoroughly. Pour into pastry-lined pan. Bake in hot oven (450 degrees) 10 minutes; then in moderate oven (325 degrees) about 50 minutes, or until mixture doesn't adhere to a knife. Remove from oven and cool. Serve with whipped cream, sprinkled with chopped nuts, for a more festive note, if desired.

Every 10 hours someone in Alabama loses his life as result of traffic accidents. Last year 838 people lost their lives and in 1951 the toll will be EVEN GREATER! With each passing 18 minutes, someone in Alabama is injured in an automobile accident.

SOMETHING MUST BE DONE ABOUT IT!—and on Dec. 11 Alabama voters will have an opportunity to DO SOMETHING about our state's tragic traffic toll. Our YES vote Dec. 11 on AMENDMENT No. 1 will authorize Alabama to issue $25,000,000 in bonds. An equal amount of money will be provided Alabama by the Federal Government, giving us $50,000,000 to modernize our road system ... to build more roads and safer roads.

Your YES vote on AMENDMENT No. 1 is a vote for saving lives. Your YES vote will insure that Alabama's Farm-to-Market Road program will continue. Your YES vote will help both agriculture and industry prosper in Alabama.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN

(By Mrs. A. E. Baumgartner)

Miss Lucille Cooper and her father, Mr. Cooper, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Cooper, Sunday.

Mrs. Helen Clayton left Tuesday morning for Columbus, Ga., for a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Ross O. Baldwin, Jr., and Mr. Baldwin. "Tootsie" is to have her tonsils removed, and her mother is going over to be with her.

Mrs. J. A. May spent several days in Bessemer, the guest of her son, John, and his family. John's many friends in Montevallo will regret hearing that he suffered a fire in his shop, caused by the explosion of fluid used in cleaning watches. All of his equipment was burned, but he escaped serious personal injury.

Mrs. O. B. Cooper leaves this week for her home in South Carolina, and expects to be gone at least ten days.

Miss Mary Larkin and Mrs. Lena Duran were visitors in Columbia this past week.

Mrs. A. K. Parks, of Montgomery, has been spending several days with Mrs. M. P. Jeter and friends in Montevallo. Mrs. Parks was a former resident of Montevallo, her husband having been a dentist in the town for several years.

Mrs. Pittman, of Birmingham, spent Monday in Montevallo as a guest of Mrs. O. B. Cooper.

Mrs. J. L. Appleton, of Miami, Fla., was guest of Mrs. A. W. Vaughan and friends last week, for a visit which was all too short. While here, she was guest at the Wednesday Afternoon Club's luncheon, and the dinner Wednesday night at the Methodist Church. Her many friends in Montevallo are always happy to have her come back to her old home town. She returned to her home in Miami by plane from Montgomery, taking her mother, Mrs. Sewell, with her for a visit.

W S C S Study Class Hears Miss Marshall

The second lesson in the Mission Study Course of the Womens Society of Christian Service, was given Tuesday afternoon at 2:00, at the Montevallo Methodist Church. The study, "We Americans, North and South" is being taught by Miss Ethel Marshall, who has a treasure chest of information to impart to those who attend. Those who have ever attended a study taught by Miss Marshall know that her vast knowledge of the subject under discussion, together with her pleasing personality, and beautiful Christian character, add up to an hour well spent.

Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Morris, of Gadsden, were visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Brown, Sr. last Friday, returning to their home Saturday morning. This wonderful couple have a host of friends in Montevallo, where he served as the pastor of the Montevallo Methodist Church, several years ago. Their many friends are happy to know that Dr. Morris is rapidly regaining his strength, following a serious illness suffered recently. It is hoped that he will continue to improve.

Mr. and Mrs. William G Weaver and baby daughter, Anne Parker, of Sylacauga, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Parker for several days. Mr. Weaver, who is pastor of the First Baptist Church in Sylacauga, is attending the Baptist Convention in Montgomery, leaving Annie Boyd and Anne Parker to visit with the parents and grandparents while he is at the convention. Grandmother Parker's smile proves how she is enjoying having them with her.

Wednesday Club Has Luncheon

The Wednesday Afternoon Club had a luncheon in the home of Mrs. L. W. Wooten last Wednesday, November 7, the occasion being a turkey dinner.

The tables were beautifully appointed and the rooms decorated with roses and Fall flowers, making an attractive setting for this happy social affair.

Fifteen members were present to add their personal welcome to the four guests who were invited. They included: Mrs. J. L. Appleton, Miami, Florida; Mrs. J. I. Riddle, Marion; Mrs. Owens, Centerville; and Mrs. J. S. Ward, Montevallo.

Vocational School News Items

Frank McDonald, an Auburn senior in agricultural education, has been doing practice teaching at Montevallo and is teaching at Vincent due to the illness of Edward Lansford, regular vocational agriculture teacher.

The Montevallo F.F.A. boys have been active in shop and field jobs during the last week. One group lined out a demonstration orchard at Tommy Baker's dairy farm and others have been making pace surveys for planning landscaping projects. Over twenty special jobs have been started in the vocational shop by members of the Junior three class.

The adult class for farmers continues to meet each Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock. Thirty six are enrolled and the meetings are also open to anyone else interested in farming or working toward improvement of the community problems.

James Shewbart, senior in agricultural education at Auburn, has been teaching jobs this week dealing with fruit production, poultry production and dairying.

Amending Our State Constitution

(By Dr. Hallie Farmer)

I.—Local Amendments

Local amendments are amendments applying to specifically named counties, towns, or cities and not to the state as a whole. It would seem that any unit of local government should be allowed to settle such questions as determining taxes for local purposes, borrowing money or paying its local officers, without asking the permission of voters in the state who have no interest or responsibility in the matter. However, so long as the Constitution of Alabama fixes tax limits and debt limits for local governments, which are unreasonably low, Alabama voters will need to vote constitutional amendments making decisions for our local governments which they ought to make for themselves. Of the 80 amendments which have been added to the Constitution since it was adopted 43 are local. Of the 24 to be voted on December 11, 14 are local.

For many years there has been a trend to take county officers off the fee system and pay them fixed salaries. The fees then go into the county treasury. Most students of local government agree that all officers should be paid salaries, since fees are often very large and sometimes lead to corruption. Madison and Baldwin Counties are asking amendments making it possible to abolish the fee system in those counties.

So far as these amendments are concerned, any citizen trying to be an intelligent voter will have little difficulty. Either he favors these proposals or he doesn't. He can vote his convictions.

From this point on however, his problem is not so easy. What is he going to do about such an amendment as this? It refers to Marion County and reads as follows:

"That Act No. 81 (House Bill No. 220) approved June 8, 1951; also Act No. 55 (House Bill No. 224) approved May 30, 1951; also Act No. 42 (House Bill No. 222) approved May 23, 1951; also Act No. 41 (House Bill No. 221) approved May 23, 1951; relating only to Marion County, Alabama, be and the same are hereby in all things validated and confirmed, any provision or provisions of the Constitution of Alabama, as amended, to the contrary notwithstanding." What does it mean? What are you voting for when you vote for it?

There is another amendment, half a column in the fine print newspapers use to publish official notices. In this amendment 37 Alabama towns are seeking to amend two different amendments which are added to the Constitution in 1919 and 1923 respectively. They have something to do with their debts and their tax rate but just what is far from clear.

What will the good citizen do with such amendments as these on December 11? Will he trust that somebody knows what they mean, even if he does not, and vote to let Marion County and the 37 municipalities do whatever it is they want to do? Or will he vote against them on the grounds that his vote is too precious to use on something he does not understand? Surely he is entitled to expect that people wanting his vote on amendments for their benefit would make clear what the amendments are about.

The last group of local amendments is the most interesting of all—and the most surprising. There are six of them. They relate to all the cities and towns of five counties—Pickens, Marion and Colbert—and one town, Haleyville, in Winston County.

One cannot help wondering how it happens that those individuals and organizations who have been so deeply concerned about the evils of "socialism" in England and in Washington, have so completely ignored these proposals to put governments in business in Alabama. Does the threat of government control to "free enterprise" increase with distance? Or is it easier to shout about distant dangers than to attack those close at hand? For these six amendments, while they vary somewhat in detail, have this in common. They permit the municipalities in the five counties mentioned above to engage in business.

It is very difficult to analyze these amendments. Two of them, those relating to Marion and Colbert counties, are identical in form and very detailed. They were obviously drawn to meet the criticism that they were putting government into business.

A long paragraph entitled "Legislative Intent" attempts to explain the purpose of the amendments. "It is not intended" it states, "to authorize any municipality itself to operate any manufacturing, industrial, or commercial enterprise." However, these municipalities may acquire property by construction, purchase, lease, or gift. They may lease this property for business purposes. Furthermore they may issue bonds to pay the costs of such "projects."

The amendments provide that bonds shall be limited obligations of the towns and cities and that both interest and principal shall be paid from the revenues derived from the projects. These bonds are exempt from taxation and are legal investments for trust funds, savings banks, and insurance companies.

The usual protection provided for taxpayers in Alabama, that they be permitted to vote on bond issues, is missing from this amendment. Furthermore, no notice or publication is required prior to the sale of these bonds, nor is the approval of any public official needed.

The four remaining amendments those relating to Pickens, Franklin and Walker counties and to the town of Haleyville, permit towns and cities to become stockholders in "any cooperation, association or company." This, of course, makes them liable to loss of the money invested as any other stockholder is liable.

These municipalities may also lend their credit to business enterprises to the extent of fifty percent of the assessed value of the property of the town, and the bonds issued for this purpose may be made general obligations of the municipality, that is, they must be paid out of taxes if the return from the business in which they have invested will not pay the debt. Provision is made for a two percent general tax levy to repay the principal and interest of these bonds. No referendum is to be held prior to the issuing of these bonds.

The history of state and local government in the United States contains many instances of governments engaging in business enterprises. The record has little to encourage the practice. For every record of success there are multiplied records of failure. Local financial history is full of defaulted payments, bankruptcies, debt burdens or debt repudiations by local governments which engaged in business enterprises which failed.

These amendments are clearly based upon the assumption that there is no risk in business and that the enterprises in which these municipalities propose to invest their money will inevitably succeed. This is of course most unsound. History would seem to show

Pine Planting Demonstration December 12 At Rochester Place On Calera Highway

C. M. Stuckey, forest ranger for Shelby County, announces a field demonstration on planting pine seedlings for December 12 at the farm of L. F. Rochester, two miles east of Montevallo on Calera road. One thousand pines will be set with a machine which was secured by W. L. Christain, formerly with First National Bank at Columbiana. The machine is available for public use. Hand plantings will also be made and various questions concerning forestry will be discussed and answered. Seventy F.F.A. members and other students of Montevallo schools will observe the planting machine in operation. Bill Byrd, conservation forester with Gulf States Paper Corp., Tuscaloosa, and Phillip Kipp, district forester, Birmingham, will also be with the group to discuss questions and points of interest about forestry and forest products.

The public is invited to attend the field demonstration which begins at 9 o'clock and lasts until 12 o'clock. Should weather conditions be unfavorable, the demonstrations will be held one week later, December 19. Preceding the demonstration day Mr. Stuckey will work with Montevallo F.F.A. boys and other students explaining phases of the forestry program and some educational films will be shown at school.

that they are more likely to fail than they are to succeed.

Section 94 of the constitution forbids the Legislature to authorize any county, town or subdivision of the State to lend its credit or grant public money to any individual, association or corporation, or become a stockholder by issuing bonds or otherwise.

That section of the constitution was the product of long bitter experience in Alabama as well as in other States. The voters of Alabama would do well to think carefully before they set it aside.

The adult evening class continues to meet each evening from 7 to 8 p.m. at the vocational agriculture building. Thirty-six members enrolled and problems dealing with increased egg production, increased fruit and vegetable production and the establishment of a curb market have been the main topics. Frank McDonald, senior in agricultural education, from Auburn, discussed with the group, broiler production, last Tuesday evening. He stated that Mr. Putman, just north from Montevallo, had made a profit of $2000 during the last five months raising broilers. Earl Anderson, just east from Montevallo, is realizing a profit of $5.90 per day from his flock of laying hens.

Mr. McDonald pointed out the various factors influencing the profits from broilers and in his statements he pointed that it was possible to realize considerable profit when certain factors are brought under control. Present indications are that the demand will continue heavy for broilers and with the application of scientific knowledge and procedures producers should have a reasonable degree of chances for profit.

The adult class being held at Calera under direction of M. Thornton, vocational agriculture teacher, met Tuesday afternoon and $33 was invested by the members in beginning a landscaping development of the Town Hall. Ben Peete, former Montevallo agriculture student and now in the nursery business, supplied the shrubs for the plantings. Ben will also do a complete landscaping job on the home grounds for Roy Downs of Calera.

Life was a whole lot simpler in the good old pre-mechanical age, when a man obtained a washing machine, an iron unit and a lie detector by marrying.

Dogwood School Observed American Education Week

Children of the Dogwood school observed American Education Week, November 11-17, by having a special program each day of the week. The fifth and sixth grades chose for their theme "Schools Keep Us Free". The third and fourth grades worked up a program on the topic "Our Faith In God". The first and second grade theme was "Home, School and Community". Parents were invited to visit the school during the week and quite a few mothers came for "Open House" on Thursday, November 15.

The patrons of the school met last Tuesday night for the purpose of nominating trustees. The following were nominated: Grady Bunn, J. D. Hughes, W. E. Kirkpatrick, Frank Oglesby, J. H. Reach, and J. A. Snow. At the conclusion of the business meeting Mr. Kirkpatrick spoke to the group on the importance of keeping children in school.

Dogwood school is very proud of the attendance record made this year. For the month of September, Dogwood had the highest percentage of attendance of all Shelby County schools.

The Dogwood P.T.A. is very active and helps in many ways to improve the school. This organization sponsored a Halloween party that was enjoyed by children and grown people as well. President of the P.T.A. is Mrs. Bill Langston. Meetings are held twice a month, one a business meeting and one for a program and social.

For the first time in many years Dogwood school has a 4-H Club. The children are very interested and many have already chosen projects to work on. The officers of the club are: President, Bobby Snow; vice-president, Johnny Green; secretary, Betty Joyce Alexander; recreation leader, Kenneth Lawley; song leaders, Norma Beam, and Gordon Hughes.

All grades are working on a Thanksgiving program which is to be given Wednesday afternoon before the Thanksgiving holidays.

Wilbur King Died Last Thursday

Wilbur (Lasses) King died peacefully and unexpectedly at his home in Montevallo last Thursday. He was going about as usual Thursday morning. During the day he went home, undressed and went to bed.

When his sister, Mittie Mae, got home from work late Thursday afternoon she found him in the bed dead.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the Negro Methodist Church. Burial was in Montevallo Cemetery.

Lasses was a well-known and highly respected Negro citizen. He was a soldier in the American Expeditionary Forces in Europe during World War I. He saw long, hard, and honorable service in the war which made him physically disabled for the remainder of his days. But he continued always cheerful and despite his handicaps, he was ever ready to do what he could for his neighbors.

Lasses will be greatly missed in Montevallo.

"Krossroads Kapers," Amateur Talent Show To Be Staged At Helena School

"Krossroads Kapers" is the name of the big smash stage show and amateur talent contest being staged November 29-30, with the curtain going up at 7:39 p.m. in the Junior High School Auditorium at Helena, under the sponsorship of the Helena Civitan Club. "Krossroads Kapers" is a benefit show for the Civitan civic projects.

Krossroads Kapers is patterned after popular radio barn dance type programs and uses a cast of local talent to impersonate radio celebrities. The talent contest is open to everyone, and the winners will be selected by the vote of the audience attending.

There is no age limit set for the talented who wish to compete for the three cash prizes. The contest is open to all of you who live in this area. If you are a singer, yodeler, tap square, or jig dancer, or if you play a musical instrument such as a fiddle, guitar, banjo, mandolin, accordion, harmonica, or if you know of anyone who does any of these things or has any other specialty act, then contact T. S. Wallace at Helena or call Siluria 3787 for further details.

Miss Rhoda Mae Zwickey, professional stage director, will hold try-outs at the Junior High School Auditorium, Helena, Tuesday evening, November 27. You are invited to come and take part in this fun packed barn dance stage show and win one of the cash prizes.

Miss Zwickey will also train the master of ceremonies, Bob Nunnally, who will impersonate Roy Rogers. Dale Evans will be imitated by Hazel Davidson. The girl comedian, Minnie Pearl, will be Mrs. George Green. The Ole Injun fighter and Roy's pardner, will be Bill McLendon, and George Green will enact the hillbilly fellow, Cuzzin Cem, whose antics and versifying will keep you laughing.

The setting will be quite unusual. By means of baled hay, pitch forks, and horse collars, the stage will be given the rustic setting of a typical gathering at the crossroads.

This show is similar to many barn dance type programs heard on radio and T.V. It is not intended to be an impersonation of any one specific show of this type. It is a mixture of such favorite broadcasts as Grand Ole Opry and National Barn Dance.

Talent contestants who have entered the contest thus far are: Shirley Bearden, Carol Braye, Lou Lovelady, trio; Reginald Lowery, comedian; Gloria Moore, Shirley Whitefield, Peggy Harless, trio; Margaret Booth, soloist; Cheryl Dunnaway, acrobatic act; Roger Reiser, Emris Hurst, negro act; Louise Cates, Robbin England, duet; and Jeanine Sides, soloist.

If you are not going to take part, then mark the dates November 29-30 down where you won't forget, and plan to attend both nights as there will be a different show each night.

Advance tickets are on sale now, at Mullins Store, Helena, or you can get them from members of the Civitan Club. Buy your ticket in advance and vote twice for your favorite talent contestant. Tickets will be on sale both nights of the show at the door. We'll be seeing you at "Krossroads Kapers".

Self-Employed Persons Will Pay Their Social Security With Income Tax

If you work for yourself, you may need a social security account number when you file your income tax return for 1951, according to M. C. Folmar, manager of the Birmingham Social Security office.

The 1950 amendments to the Social Security Act extended old-age and survivors insurance coverage to all self-employed persons except farmers and members of certain professional groups, such as doctors, lawyers, architects, engineers, public accountants, and funeral directors. Even farm operators, or people self-employed in the excluded professions are affected if, in addition to their regular work, they engage in a self-employment enterprise covered by the law. For example, a hardware owner who also is a funeral director will report his earnings as a hardware owner.

If you are covered by the law, you'll have to pay a social security tax when you file your federal income tax return for 1951, unless the net earnings derived from your trade or business are less than $400 for the taxable year. Payment of the tax is mandatory if you meet the requirements, however, only the first $3,600 of your net earnings will be taxed. The tax rate for 1951 is 2½% for self-employed persons, and the tax must be paid in full when you file your 1951 tax return.

Benefits to you and your family will be based on your average income after 1950 and up to the time of retirement or death. Maximum monthly payment to a retired worker is $80.00, minimum monthly benefit is $20.00. The maximum for a family is $150.00. You may draw monthly life payments when you retire at 65 or later, additional payments will go to your wife also when she too reaches 65, or before 65 if she has your children in her care. Your unmarried children under 18 will get monthly payments too. Survivors' monthly payments go to widows 65 and over, widows under 65 who have their minor children in their care, to the children under 18, and in some cases to dependent, aged parents. Payment may be made under certain conditions to dependent husbands and widowers. A lump-sum death payment is made in practically all cases.

Self-employed persons who do not already have social security numbers can get them from the Birmingham office of the Social Security Administration. Mr. Folmar said that his office has just received a supply of a new booklet called Do You Work For Yourself? which explains social security for the self-employed. Any interested person can obtain a copy free of charge by contacting the Social Security office at 1825 First Avenue, North Birmingham.

Montgomery — Dr. Gill, state health officer, says that 102 doctors were given certificates to practice in Alabama during the fiscal year which ended September 30. The certificates were issued by the State Board of Censors, acting as a Board of Medical Examiners.

Pea Ridge Community Working For Post Office

George Lawley reports that the people of Pea Ridge are working to have the post office at Boothton moved to Pea Ridge, owing to the fact that Boothton mines have shut down.

When he was here last week Congressman Ed deGraffenried visited the Pea Ridge community to look into the situation.

Pea Ridge is now connected with Montevallo by a paved road. It is one of the best rural communities in West Shelby County.

What worries most men is the amount of money that is taken-out of their take-home pay, after they've taken it home.

At an Indiana farm festival, the governor, the main speaker, was introduced by Sugar Creek Mistress II, a cow. She won the honor of mooing His Honor to the platform by producing a world's record of 1033.3 pounds of butter fat in a year. (No other M.C. can make that statement.) In most speeches we've heard, the bull came during the speech, not before.

$50,000,000

To Modernize Our Road System

It sounds almost too good to be true: $50,000,000 for our state to modernize our road system WITHOUT ONE PENNY IN NEW TAXES!! But it CAN BE DONE, thanks to expiring bonds of old issues and $25,000,000 help from the Federal Government.

STUDY THE BAR GRAPHS BELOW FOR PROOF—

This bar represents $2,943,000—the amount Alabama now averages on present bonds yearly.

This bar represents $2,829,000—the amount Alabama will spend AFTER NEW BONDS are issued.

In other words: Former bond issues have been costing us an average of $2,943,000 annually. When Amendment No. 1 passes and the new bonds totalling $25,000,000 are issued, we'll have to pay only $2,829,000 average per year, thanks to the expiration of the bonds listed to the right.

At the same time we're getting $50,000,000 (including $25,000,000 in Federal Funds) to modernize our road system and eliminate traffic death traps, we'll also be paying actually $114,000 LESS each year on ALL outstanding bonds. ALABAMA WILL NEVER GET ANOTHER OPPORTUNITY LIKE THIS!

-16-

WHEREAS, the Legislature of Alabama, at the Regular Session 1951, ordered an election to be held by the qualified electors of the State of Alabama upon a certain proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which said amendment is herein set out, and ordered that said election be held on the first Tuesday after the expiration of three months after final adjournment of the session of the Legislature at which such amendment was proposed; and

WHEREAS, the first Tuesday following the expiration of three months after the final adjournment of the Session of the Legislature at which such amendment was proposed will be and occur on Tuesday, December 11, 1951; and

WHEREAS, notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment is required by law and by the provisions of the act submitting the amendment, to be given by a proclamation of the Governor to be published in each county in the State of Alabama once a week for four successive weeks next preceding the day appointed for the election;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Gordon Persons, as Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice direct and proclaim that on Tuesday, the 11th day of December 1951, an election will be held at the several polling places within the State of Alabama, in the manner and form provided by law, upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901:

"1. DEFINITIONS. Wherever used in this amendment, unless a different meaning clearly appears in the context, the following terms, whether used in the singular or plural, shall be given the following respective interpretations: "Municipality" means any incorporated city or town in Colbert County, Alabama; "project" means any land and any building or other improvement thereon, and all real and personal properties deemed necessary in connection therewith, whether or not now in existence, which shall be suitable for use by the following or by any combination of two or more thereof: (a) any industry for the manufacturing, processing, or assembling of any agricultural or manufactured products, and (b) any commercial enterprise in storing, warehousing, distributing or selling products of agriculture, mining or industry, but does not include facilities designed for the sale or distribution to the public of electricity, gas, water or telephone or other services commonly classified as public utilities; "Governing body" means the board or body in which the legislative powers of the municipality are vested; "Mortgage" means a mortgage or a mortgage and deed of trust.

"2. LEGISLATIVE INTENT. It is the intent of this amendment to authorize municipalities of Colbert County, Alabama, to acquire, own, and lease projects for the purpose of promoting industry and trade by inducing manufacturing, industrial and commercial enterprises to locate in Colbert County, Alabama, promoting the use of the agricultural products and natural resources of said county, and promoting a sound and proper balance in said county between agriculture, commerce and industry. It is intended that each project be self-liquidating. It is not intended hereby to authorize any municipality itself to operate any manufacturing, industrial or commercial enterprise. This amendment shall be liberally construed in conformity with the said intent.

"3. ADDITIONAL POWERS CONFERRED ON MUNICIPALITIES. In addition to any other powers which it may now have, each municipality in Colbert County, Alabama, shall have the following powers: (1) To acquire, whether by construction, purchase, a gift or lease, and to equip one or more projects, which shall be located within said county and may be located within or without the municipality, or partially within or partially without the municipality, but which shall not be located more than fifteen miles outside of the corporate limits of the municipality; (2) To lease to others any or all of its projects for such rentals and upon such terms and conditions as the governing body may deem advisable and as shall not conflict with the provisions of this amendment; and (3) To issue revenue bonds for the purpose of defraying the cost of acquiring, by construction and purchase, or either thereof, and of equipping any project, and to secure the payment of such bonds, all as hereinafter provided. No municipality shall have the power to operate any project as a business or in any manner except as lessor thereof.

"4. BONDS ISSUED TO FINANCE PROJECTS. All bonds issued by a municipality under authority of this amendment shall be limited obligations of the municipality the principal of and interest on which shall be payable solely out of the revenues derived from the leasing of the project to finance which the bonds are issued. Bonds and interest coupons issued under authority of this amendment shall never constitute an indebtedness of the municipality within the meaning of any state constitutional provision or statutory limitation, and shall never constitute nor give rise to a pecuniary liability of the municipality or a charge against its general credit or taxing powers, and such fact shall be plainly stated in the face of each such bond. Such bonds may be executed and delivered at any time and from time to time, may be in such form and denominations, may be of such tenor, may be in registered or bearer form either as to principal or interest or both, may be payable in such installments and at such time or times not exceeding thirty years from their date, may be payable at such place or places, may bear interest at such rate or rates payable at such place or places and evidenced in such manner, and may contain such provisions not inconsistent herewith, as shall be provided in the proceedings of the governing body whereunder the bonds shall be authorized to be issued. The bonds issued hereunder shall be subject to the general provisions of law, presently existing or that may hereafter be enacted, respecting the execution and delivery of the bonds of any such municipality and respecting the retaining of options of redemption in proceedings authorizing the issuance of municipal securities. Any bonds issued under the authority of this amendment may be sold at public or private sale in such manner and from time to time as may be determined by the governing body to be most advantageous, and the municipality may pay all expenses, premiums and commissions which the governing body may deem necessary for the advantageous sale of the bonds, the fact that they are payable solely from a specified source.

"5. SECURITY FOR BONDS. The principal of and interest on any bonds issued under the authority of this amendment shall be secured by a pledge of the revenues out of which such bonds shall be made payable, may be secured by a mortgage covering all or any part of the project from which the revenues are derived, and may be secured by a pledge of the lease of such project. The proceedings under which such bonds are authorized to be issued or any such mortgage may contain any agreements and provisions customarily contained in instruments securing bonds, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, provisions respecting the fixing and collection of rents for any project covered by such proceedings or mortgage, the terms to be incorporated in the lease of such project, the maintenance and insurance of such project, the creation and maintenance of special funds from the revenues from such project, and the rights and remedies available in event of default to the bondholders or to the trustee under a mortgage, all as the governing body shall deem advisable and as shall not be in conflict with the provisions of this amendment; provided, however, that in making any such agreements or provisions any such municipality shall not have the power to obligate itself except with respect to the project and the application of the revenues therefrom, and shall not have the power to incur a pecuniary liability or a charge upon its general credit or against its taxing powers.

The proceedings authorizing any bonds hereunder and any mortgage securing such bonds may provide that, in the event of default in payment of the principal of or the interest on such bonds or in the performance of any agreement contained in such proceedings or mortgage, such payment and performance may be enforced by mandamus or by the appointment of a receiver with power to take charge and collect rents and to apply the revenues from the project in accordance with such proceedings or the provisions of such mortgage. Any such mortgage may provide also that in the event of any default in such payment or the violation of any agreement contained in the mortgage, the mortgage may be foreclosed either by sale at public outcry or by proceedings in equity, and may provide that any trustee under such mortgage or the holder of any of the bonds secured thereby may become the purchaser at any foreclosure sale if the highest bidder therefor. No breach of any such agreement shall impose any pecuniary liability upon a municipality or any charge upon its general credit or against its taxing powers.

"6. REQUIREMENTS RESPECTING LEASE. Prior to the leasing of any project, the governing body must determine and find the following: The amount necessary in each year to pay the principal of and the interest on the bonds proposed to be issued to finance such project; the amount necessary to be paid each year into any reserve funds which the governing body may deem it advisable to establish in connection with the retirement of the proposed bonds and the maintenance of the project; and, unless the terms under which the project is to be leased provide that the lessee shall maintain the project and carry all proper insurance with respect thereto, the estimated cost of maintaining the project in good repair and keeping it properly insured. The determinations and findings of the governing body required to be made in the preceding sentence shall be set forth in the proceedings under which the proposed bonds are to be issued; and prior to the issuance of such bonds, the municipality shall lease the project to a lessee under any agreement conditions upon completion of the project and providing for payment to the municipality of such rentals as, upon the basis of such determinations and findings, will be sufficient (a) to pay the principal of and interest on the bonds issued to finance the project, (b) to build up and maintain any reserves deemed by the governing body to be advisable in connection therewith, and (c) unless the agreement of lease obligates the lessee to pay for the maintenance and insurance of the project, to pay the costs of maintaining the project in good repair and keeping it properly insured.

"7. REFUNDING BONDS. Any bonds issued hereunder and at any time outstanding may at any time and from time to time be refunded by any such municipality by the issuance of its refunding bonds in such amount as the governing body may deem necessary but not exceeding an amount sufficient to refund the principal of the bonds so to be refunded, together with any unpaid interest thereon and any premiums and commissions necessary to be paid in connection therewith. Any such refunding may be effected whether the bonds to be refunded shall have then matured or shall thereafter mature, either by sale of the refunding bonds and the application of the proceeds thereof for the payment of the bonds to be refunded thereby, or by exchange of the refunding bonds for the bonds to be refunded thereby; provided, that the holders of any bonds to be refunded shall not be compelled without their consent to surrender their bonds for payment or exchange prior to the date on which they are payable or if they are called for redemption, prior to the date on which they are by their terms subject to redemption. Any refunding bonds issued under the authority of this amendment shall be payable solely from the revenues out of which the bonds to be refunded thereby were payable, and shall be subject to the provisions contained in paragraph 4 of this amendment and may be secured in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 5 of this amendment.

"8. USE OF PROCEEDS FROM SALE OF BONDS. The proceeds from the sale of any bonds issued under authority of this amendment shall be applied only for the purpose for which the bonds were issued; provided, however, that any accrued interest and premium received in any such sale shall be applied to the payment of the principal of or the interest on the bonds sold; and provided, further, that if for any reason any portion of such proceeds shall not be needed for the purpose for which the bonds were issued, then such unneeded portion of said proceeds shall be applied to the payment of the principal of or the interest on said bonds. The cost of acquiring and equipping any project shall be deemed to include the following: the actual cost of the construction of any part of a project which may be constructed, including the architect's and engineer's fees; the purchase price of any part of a project that may be acquired by purchase; the purchase price of the equipment for any project; the actual cost of installing such equipment; all expenses in connection with the authorization, sale and issuance of the bonds to finance such acquisition and equipment; and the interest on such bonds for a reasonable time prior to construction, during construction, and for not exceeding six months after completion of construction.

"9. BONDS MADE LEGAL INVESTMENTS. Bonds issued under the provisions of this amendment shall be legal investments for fiduciaries investing trust funds and for savings banks and insurance companies organized under the laws of this state.

"10. EXEMPTION FROM TAXATION. The bonds authorized by this amendment and the income therefrom, all mortgages executed as security therefor, all lease agreements made pursuant to the provisions hereof, and all projects and the revenue derived from any lease thereof shall be exempt from all taxation in the State of Alabama.

"11. CONSTRUCTION OF AMENDMENT. Neither this amendment nor anything herein contained shall be construed as a restriction or limitation upon any powers which a municipality might otherwise have under the constitution and laws of this state, but shall be construed as cumulative; and this amendment shall not be construed as requiring an election by the voters of a municipality prior to the issuance of bonds hereunder by such municipality.

"12. NO NOTICE OR PUBLICATION REQUIRED. No notice to or consent or approval by any governmental body or public officer shall be required as a prerequisite to the sale or issuance of any bonds or the making of a mortgage under the authority of this amendment and no ordinance or resolution adopted by a governing body under authority hereof shall be required to be published in any manner, any other law to the contrary notwithstanding.

"13. This amendment shall be self-executing and in no wise shall it be construed as limiting, modifying or repealing any of the provisions of any constitutional amendment relating only to Colbert County, Alabama.

"14. SEVERABILITY. If any section, clause, provision or portion of this amendment shall be held to be invalid or unconstitutional by any court of competent jurisdiction, such holding shall not affect any other section, clause or provision of this amendment which is not in and of itself unconstitutional."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 11th day of December 1951, upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 11th day of December 1951, in each county in the State of Alabama in a newspaper published in said county.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and have caused the Great Seal of the State of Alabama to be affixed by the Secretary of State, at the Capitol in the City of Montgomery, on this the 1st day of October 1951.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN

(By Mrs. A. E. Baumgartner)

Dr. M. E. Lazenby, editor of the Alabama Christian Advocate, the Methodist church paper, will be guest minister at the Montevallo Methodist Church Sunday, November 25, preaching at the 11 o'clock service. This is a rare privilege for the citizens of Montevallo to be able to hear Dr. Lazenby, for he is recognized as an outstanding minister and editor, not only in Alabama, but in all Methodism. Members of the church and friends are cordially invited to hear this distinguished man at 11 o'clock.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service concluded its current Mission Study Course at the class session Monday afternoon at 3:30, in the ladies' parlor of the church. Miss Ethel Marshall brought a wealth of interesting information about our neighbors of South America. She stirred the group to further study of our friends in Latin and South America.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Duran, of Montgomery, spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Lena Duran.

Mr. and Mrs. Minar L. Triplett and Jane spent Thanksgiving in Sylacauga with their family.

Little Miss Ann Courtney Parker arrived early Tuesday morning at St. Vincent's Hospital in plenty of time for Thanksgiving celebration, in the home of her happy parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grady Parker, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Parker, and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Cohen, of Mobile. Grandmother Cohen is spending the week-end with Ann, Grady and new granddaughter. Congratulate to these happy young parents and the grandparents on this joyous occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Crisswell returned Sunday night from a vacation of two weeks at Fort Myers, Florida. They made the trip in their new car. They report a good time, plenty of fun, fishing—and everything. "That is a wonderful place for old folks," said Charlie, but he hastened to add: "Not that I am getting old, however; I just observed what a good time was had by those who appeared to be somewhat old."

Mrs. W. J. Mitchell is in St. Vincent's Hospital, Birmingham, where she has undergone a surgical operation.

A note from Lou (Lovely) Wilson to The Times says she and Ham have named their new son Edward Hamilton, Jr. He was born November 14, at St. Margaret Hospital, Montgomery.

D. A. R. Chapter Met Last Week

Mrs. A. W. Vaughn and Mrs. O. B. Cooper were hostesses on the evening of Monday, November 12 at the home of Mrs. Vaughn. The regent, Mrs. W. J. Kennerly presided.

Miss June Segler, of Alabama College, gave a humorous reading. After this, Mrs. T. H. Napier introduced Mrs. Fallaw. Her address was very inspirational. She began her remarks by stating the aims of the D.A.R. and saying how important it is to get new members so that these high aims and purposes may be kept alive and working toward better citizenship. She spoke on conservation of human lives as well as other material things.

Scholarships were emphasized and the fact brought out that there is a young lady in Alabama College now, who is here on a National D.A.R. scholarship.

Mrs. Fallaw also told of recent visits she had made to the D.A.R. approved schools, two of which are owned by this organization. One is at Tamassee, South Carolina. The other is Kate Duncan Smith School on Gunter's Mountain at Grant, Alabama. This last mentioned school is composed of a model farm of 200 acres and seventeen school buildings all modern, attractive, and well equipped.

Out of town members present were Mrs. B. F. Roden, Sr., Marvel, and Mrs. W. R. Pittman, Birmingham.

During the delightful social hour which followed, delicious and attractive refreshments were served by the hostesses.

The Joshua Lockwood Society C.A.R. was entertained with a party at the home of the president, Joanna Sharp, on Monday, November 12. After preparing their refreshments in the kitchen, dancing was enjoyed.

Vincent P. T. A. Sponsors Discussion On Education

A most unusual program was featured at the regular monthly meeting of the Vincent P.T.A. on November 12. A seminar was conducted on the subject Progressive Education vs. Traditional Education with Dr. W. C. Browne as moderator. The following were members of the panel: W. W. Elliott, Superintendent of Education; Miss Anita King, supervisor; D. B. Smith, principal of Vincent school; J. O. Gorman, J. H. Sharbutt, and Mrs. Ladean Embry. There was a representation of educators, school executives, parents, teachers, and laymen.

The spirited discussion dealt with the modern trends in education, touching on the problems of attendance, teacher shortage, teacher load, and problems relative to particular high schools. Mr. Elliott and Miss King presented a bird's eye picture of what the schools of Shelby County are doing at the present time to combine the desired subjects of the traditional school with the modern methods, thereby resulting in better prepared citizens to face the modern society with its complexities.

Parents and interested persons entered the discussion at various intervals with questions and remarks. A program of this type surely points to the significant fact that much interest is now being shown in our schools among the parents and citizens as well as the teachers. The discussion was terminated with the feeling that such programs are interesting and worthwhile and too little time is given programs of this nature.

During the Civil War, Clarke County was one of the principal salt producing regions within the Confederacy. One of its three main salt works employed 600 men and 120 mule teams in running 30 furnaces. From these 30 furnaces came 600 bushels of salt each day. Hundreds of bushels were sent from the south Alabama mines each day into the interior of Mississippi and Georgia. The people of the Confederacy were suffering from such a salt shortage in the late years of the war that a bushel brought from $2.50 to $7 in gold or from $10 to $40 in Confederate money.

Home Ec Teacher Discusses Lamps

Consider more than looks and price when shopping for floor or table lamps, suggests Mrs. Winona Brooks, vocational home economics teacher at Montevallo. Any lamp that will be used for reading, studying, sewing, or other close work needs to be constructed to give plenty of clear, soft, glareless light.

For a good buy in such a lamp, here are features to look for: Size, be sure the lamp is tall enough and has a shade broad enough at the bottom to spread a wide circle of light and allow for sitting up comfortably while reading. Bowl, be sure the lamp has a diffusing (reflector) bowl under the shade to prevent glare and soften light. The bowl should be of good quality plastic or white diffusing glass of even thickness throughout. Bulb, lamps equipped for three-way lighting are most useful, because the light can be adjusted to suit different needs. Shade, select shades broad at the bottom, deep enough to conceal the diffusing bowl and with a white lining to reflect light. A white or ivory shade gives about 50 percent more light than a dark shade which absorbs and thus wastes light. Many people like shades which are dark on the outside but they should always have a white lining.

State of Alabama A PROCLAMATION by the GOVERNOR —14—

WHEREAS, the Legislature of Alabama, at the Regular Session 1951, ordered an election to be held by the qualified electors of the State of Alabama upon a certain proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which said amendment is herein set out, and ordered that said election be held on the first Tuesday following the expiration of three months after the final adjournment of the 1951 Session of the Legislature; and

WHEREAS, the first Tuesday following the expiration of three months after the final adjournment of the 1951 Session of the Legislature at which the amendment was proposed will be and occur on Tuesday, December 11, 1951; and

WHEREAS, notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment is required by law, and by the provisions of the act submitting the amendment, to be given by a proclamation of the Governor to be published in each county in the State of Alabama once a week for four successive weeks next preceding the day appointed for the election;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Gordon Persons, as Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that on Tuesday, the 11th day of December 1951, an election will be held at the several polling places within the State of Alabama, in the manner and form provided by law, upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901:

"Any provisions of the Constitution or laws of the State of Alabama to the contrary notwithstanding, the City of Haleyville, Alabama, A Municipal Corporation in Winston County, shall have full and continuing power and authority, without any election or approval other than the approval of its governing body, to do any one or more of the following:

"1. To purchase, construct, lease, or otherwise acquire real property, plants, buildings, factories, works, facilities, machinery and equipment of any kind.

"2. To lease, sell for cash or on credit, exchange, or give and convey any such property described in subdivision 1 above, to any person, firm, association, or corporation.

"3. To promote local industrial, commercial or agricultural development and the location of new industries or businesses therein.

"4. To become a stockholder in any corporation, association or company.

"5. To lend its credit or to grant public moneys and things of value in aid of, or to, any individual, firm, association, or corporation whatsoever.

"6. To become indebted and to issue and sell interest bearing bonds, warrants (which may be payable from funds to be realized in future years), notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness to a principal amount not exceeding fifty per cent of the assessed value of taxable property therein as determined for state taxation, in order to secure funds for the purchase, construction, lease or acquisition of any of the property described in subdivision 1 above or to be used in furtherance of any of the other powers or authorities granted in this amendment. Such obligations or evidences of indebtedness may (in addition to any pledge or pledges authorized by subdivision 8 of this amendment) be issued upon the full faith and credit of The City of Haleyville, Alabama, a Municipal Corporation or may be limited as to the source of their payment.

"7. To levy and collect annually, in addition to all other taxes now authorized or permitted, a special tax or taxes of not exceeding two per cent on the value of all taxable property therein as determined for state taxation, in the same manner as other county or municipal taxes are levied and collected. Such tax may be upon all property in the City of Haleyville, Alabama, a Municipal Corporation in Winston County or upon all property in any district the boundaries of which the governing body of The City of Haleyville, Alabama, a Municipal Corporation shall describe and which it shall determine to be specially improved and benefited by any proposed use or expenditure of the proceeds of such tax.

"8. To pledge to the payment of any bonds, warrants, notes, or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness the annual proceeds from any such special tax or taxes and to obligate itself irrevocably to continue to levy and collect such taxes annually until such obligations or evidences of indebtedness are paid in full and to pledge thereto any rental or sales proceeds of property leased or sold by it.

"9. To create a public authority or corporation having such powers, managed and governed by such board or governing body and subject to such limitations as the governing body of The City of Haleyville, Alabama, a Municipal Corporation in Winston County may impose, by approving and filing a certificate to that effect in the office of the Judge of Probate or the Secretary of State, or their respective successors in function, and to delegate to such public authority or corporation and its board or governing body all powers and authority conferred in this amendment upon any such municipality.

"The recital in any bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness that they were issued pursuant to this amendment or that they were issued to provide funds to be used in furtherance of any power or authority herein authorized or that any special tax herein authorized has been pledged to the payment thereof shall be conclusive; no purchaser or holder thereof need inquire further; and the levy and collection of such tax shall continue until the principal of and interest on such obligations or evidences of indebtedness shall have been paid in full. The bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences issued hereunder shall not be considered an indebtedness of The City of Haleyville, Alabama, a Municipal Corporation in Winston County for the purpose of determining the borrowing capacity of such municipality under sections 224 and 225 of the Constitution; and the taxes herein authorized shall be in addition to those provided for or permitted in sections 215 and 216 of the Constitution and all amendments thereto.

"This amendment shall be self-executing; but the Legislature shall have the right and power by general, special or local act to adopt laws supplemental to this amendment or in furtherance of the purpose and objectives hereinabove set forth."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 11th day of December 1951, upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 11th day of December 1951, in each county in the State of Alabama, in a newspaper published in said county.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and have caused the Great Seal of the State of Alabama to be affixed by the Secretary of State, at the Capitol in the City of Montgomery, on this the 1st day of October 1951.

TELEPHONE SERVICE IS GROWING, TOO

... and the price is up far less than most things you buy!

"GODDNESS, how he's grown!" And you could say the same about telephone service during the short time, since his babyhood.

ACTUALLY, in just five years the number of local telephones Alabamians can call has more than doubled. And this year's increase in Alabama telephones is expected to reach about 32,000.

BEST OF ALL, this bigger, better "package" of service has gone up in price only a fraction as much as prices in general . . . and less than our cost of providing the service.

ALWAYS one of your biggest bargains, telephone service is today an even better buy than it was ten years ago, and a smaller part of your family budget.

—15—

WHEREAS, the Legislature of Alabama at the Regular Session 1951, ordered an election to be held by the qualified electors of the State of Alabama upon a certain proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which said amendment is herein set out, and ordered that said election be held on the first Tuesday after the expiration of three months after final adjournment of the session of the Legislature at which such amendment was proposed; and

WHEREAS, the first Tuesday following the expiration of three months after the final adjournment of the Session of the Legislature at which such amendment was proposed will be and occur on Tuesday, December 11, 1951; and

WHEREAS, notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment is required by law, and by the provisions of the act submitting the amendment, to be given by a proclamation of the Governor to be published in each county in the State of Alabama once a week for four successive weeks next preceding the day appointed for the election:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Gordon Persons, as Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that on Tuesday, the 11th day of December 1951, an election will be held at the several polling places within the State of Alabama, in the manner and form provided by law, upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901:

"Any provision of the Constitution or laws of the State of Alabama to the contrary notwithstanding, any municipality in Walker County, or any one or more of them, shall have full and continuing power and authority, without any election or approval other than the approval of its governing body, to do any one or more of the following:

"1. To purchase, construct, lease, or otherwise acquire real property, plants, buildings, factories, works, facilities, machinery and equipment of any kind.

"2. To lease, sell for cash or on credit, exchange, or give and convey any such property described in subdivision 1 above, to any person, firm, association or corporation.

"3. To promote local industrial, commercial or agricultural development and the location of new industries or businesses therein.

"4. To become a stockholder in any corporation, association or company.

"5. To lend its credit or to grant public moneys and things of value in aid of, or to, any individual, firm, association, or corporation whatsoever.

"6. To become indebted and to issue and sell interest bearing bonds, warrants (which may be payable from funds to be realized in future years), notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness, to a principal amount not exceeding fifty per cent of the assessed value of taxable property therein as determined for state taxation, in order to secure funds for the purchase, construction, lease or acquisition of any of the property described in subdivision 1 above or to be used in furtherance of any of the other powers or authorities granted in this amendment. Such obligations or evidences of indebtedness may (in addition to any pledge or pledges authorized by subdivision 8 of this amendment) be issued upon the full faith and credit of the municipality or may be limited as to the source of their payment.

"7. To levy and collect annually, in addition to all other taxes now authorized or permitted, a special tax or taxes of not exceeding two percent on the value of all taxable property therein as determined for state taxation, in the same manner as other county or municipal taxes are levied and collected. Such tax may be upon all property in any municipality in Walker County or upon all property in any district the boundaries of which the governing body of such municipality shall describe and which it shall determine to be specially improved and benefited by any proposed use or expenditure of the proceeds of such tax.

"8. To pledge to the payment of any bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness the annual proceeds from any such special tax or taxes and to obligate itself irrevocably to continue to levy and collect such taxes annually until such obligations or evidences of indebtedness are paid in full and to pledge thereto any rental or sales proceeds of property leased or sold by it.

"9. To create a public authority or corporation having such powers, managed and governed by such board or governing body and subject to such limitations as the governing body of any municipality in Walker County may impose, by approving and filing a certificate to that effect in the office of the Judge of Probate or the Secretary of State, or their respective successors in function, and to delegate to such public authority or corporation and its board or governing body all powers and authority conferred in this amendment upon any such municipality.

"The recital in any bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness that they were issued pursuant to this amendment or that they were issued to provide funds to be used in furtherance of any power or authority herein authorized, or that any special tax herein authorized has been pledged to the payment thereof shall be conclusive; no purchaser or holder thereof need inquire further; and the levy and collection of such tax shall continue until the principal of and interest on such obligations or evidences of indebtedness shall have been paid in full. The bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness issued hereunder shall not be considered an indebtedness of any municipality in Walker County for the purpose of determining the borrowing capacity of such municipality under sections 224 and 225 of the Constitution; and the taxes herein authorized shall be in addition to those provided for or permitted in sections 215 and 216 of the Constitution and all amendments thereto.

"This amendment shall be self-executing; but the Legislature shall have the right and power by general, special or local act to adopt laws supplemental to this amendment or in furtherance of the purposes and objectives herein above set forth."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 11th day of December 1951, upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 11th day of December 1951, in each county in the State of Alabama in a newspaper published in said county.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and have caused the Great Seal of the State of Alabama to be affixed by the Secretary of State, at the Capitol in the City of Montgomery, on this the 1st day of October 1951.

It's America's most popular gift—given by more than 12,000,000 American families!

Yes, the Double-Barred Cross stands for Christmas Seals... that make possible the greatest gift of all, health, life itself... in the truest sense of Christmas giving.

Your Christmas Seal dollars help make possible the year-round control of America's worst infectious disease—tuberculosis. Thus, you help protect your own family, friends, and community.

So please remember the gift that's given most and gives the most—most everyone does. Send in your contribution today.

Buy Christmas Seals!

Christmas Seals Have Been Sent By Chairman Ozley

Did that perky little Santa Claus with the mischievous smile come into your home this week? Did you receive an envelope containing Christmas Seals—and on each Seal the face of Santa grinning his message about tuberculosis to you—grinning because he feels confident you want to help?

This is the question being asked citizens throughout Shelby County today, a question being asked by Richard J. Ozley, chairman of the tuberculosis work and Seal sale here.

Persons who did not receive Seals are asked to contact the chairman who hastens to announce every request will be filled promptly. Mr. Ozley pointed out efforts are made to send Christmas Seals to all homes, but in the rush of compiling lists it's possible many homes were overlooked. These are the people he hopes will come forward with a request for as many Seals as they can use.

At the same time the chairman stressed using Seals on all holiday mail and packages. Every tiny Seal used is a blow against tuberculosis, a disease that kills more Alabama citizens than all other contagious diseases combined.

Whether you can afford to buy a few Seals or a lot of them, every one you stick on a Christmas card or package reminds someone T.B. is lurking all around us. The tiny symbol reminds people to guard against this killer by getting a chest X-ray and urging their family and friends to do likewise.

An important feature of the Seal sale is 79 cents out of every dollar stays right in this county to help hospitalize and treat T.B. patients, as well as to promote case finding programs and to aid health education activities. Six per cent supports research programs of the National Tuberculosis Association, and 15 per cent supports the Alabama T.B. Association—making a total of 94 per cent remaining in Alabama to fight T.B. right at home.

Buy your Christmas Seals today, the chairman urged.

The Times was pleased to have as our visitors Tuesday, Mr. Lauderdale, our county farm agent, and Mr. Lumpkin, a district agent, from the office of Director, P. O. Davis, of Auburn.

Town Will Add New Territory

The Montevallo Town Council adopted a resolution Tuesday night setting up the process of taking into the Town, 80 acres of additional territory.

The process is under preparation of Mr. John Foshee, attorney for the Town. He will, at the proper time place the matter in the hands of Judge Walker, of the Probate Court, who will call an election for the people in the area proposed to be added to vote on the question.

The area proposed to be annexed lies on either side of the Siluria Road for a distance of one-fourth of a mile beyond the present Town limits at Vic Williams' home. The required number of residents and property owners of the area have partitioned the Town Council for annexation.

Gainesville, Ga. Nov. 21—According to special orders recently published at Riverside Military Academy of this city and Hollywood, Fla. (Winter Home), Cadet Wheeler R. Foshee, son of Mr. John Foshee, of Montevallo, has received citation for the excellence of his record.

Cadet Foshee is among the first group in the Corps of more than 500 boys thus cited, and has been awarded the Merit Ribbon for accumulation of 100 merits for his superior achievement in academic, military, and conduct records. Award of merits on this basis determines privileges for Riverside Cadets.

Pea Ridge Is Now Voting Place In Beat Twenty

Mr. R. W. Lawley, of Pea Ridge, brings us a report of recent action of the County Board of Revenue to the effect that the voting place in Beat 20 has been moved from Boothton to the Pea Ridge schoolhouse.

Since Boothton mines closed down, there are only a very few people left in the village. Pea Ridge community, therefore, is the home of most of the people in Beat 20 and is near the center of the Beat.

Voters of Beat 20 are urged to take note of this change, as they will go to Pea Ridge to vote on December 11 instead of Boothton.

Over The Top

The Montevallo Community Chest drive has gone over the top, according to Mr. S. H. Hurt, drive chairman. Mr. Hurt states that the drive has thus far produced $1,942.10 with other contributions yet to be turned in to the treasurer. It appears that the drive this year will net over $2,000.00. The budget and goal was set at $1,800.00.

Unofficial reports are that the Community Chest Board will use the over subscribed money to add to the emergency fund which has been established by the Board in which case the money will be held in reserve for disasters or other emergencies.

The Chest Board under Mr. T. E. Watson, chairman, has this year included in the drive area, Wilton, Aldrich, Spring Creek, Pea Ridge, and Dry Valley. These outlying communities have contributed substantially to the success of the drive. In Wilton alone, the solicitors, Mrs. Lois Hubbard and Mrs. W. E. Thompson obtained contributions from 56 persons.

This is the first drive to be over the quota since the War Chest years and the Community Chest Board would like to express its appreciation to all who so generously supported the drive and especially to those who gave their time as solicitors and made the drive a success.

Mr. Henry Maulshagen, vice-president of Alabama Power Co., was a visitor in Montevallo Wednesday. "Our company realizes the need of some new industries in the Montevallo area," he said, "and we are pulling all the strings we can to get something located here." We like to have men like Mr. Henry on our side and rooting for our team.

Montevallo High Wins Game With West Blocton High

Montevallo High School football team upset the dopesters and came from under the spell of a six-year jinx to defeat a powerful West Blocton eleven 18-0 in Montevallo last Friday night in one of the Bulldogs' most thrilling performances of the season.

The West Blocton passing attack, directed by George Russell, "southpaw" passer and punter, which has proved so fatal to opponents throughout the season, was stopped cold by a determined hard-charging line. Of nine attempted by the visitors only two found their receivers; four fell into the hands of the Bulldogs and two went incomplete. Outstanding in line play for Montevallo were Bobby Jarvis, defensive end; Bobby Milstead, guard; Bill Kirby, tackle; and Kenneth Rochester, line backer. Bobby Crowe, ace punter for Montevallo, averaged 37 yards on punts in this game. Billy Holdsonback, line backer, was the main spark in the West Blocton eleven.

West Blocton suffered a great set-back when Carr, star backfield man, was carried from the game with a dislocated elbow.

Montevallo's first score came in the early moments of the game when Bobby Crowe, 215 pound fullback, ran off left tackle for seven yards. Jimmy O'Neal scored the second tally on an option play good for 15 yards. The final touchdown came in the fourth quarter when Don Tinsley, 140 pound scat-back, on the old Statue of Liberty play, took the ball on Blocton's 40 and raced to paydirt.

Seniors playing their last game for Montevallo were Don Tensley, Bobby Crowe, Bobby Saunderson, Bobby Jarvis, Kenneth Rochester, Jimmy O'Neal, Billy Allen, and Sanford Anderson.

Coach Theron Fisher says that he feels that the team has had a successful season, the spirit displayed by the boys was unusually good, and that the boys well deserve the compliment 'well done'.

Season's results are:

Montevallo 21, Calera 0.
Montevallo 6, Siluria 20.
Montevallo 27, Clanton 13.
Montevallo 25, Vincent 6.
Montevallo 6, Centerville 33.
Montevallo 0, Columbiana 23.
Montevallo 38, Plantersville 0.

Montevallo 12, Childersburg 34.
Montevallo 18, West Blocton 0.

Art Teachers Meet At College

Art teachers from over the state will meet on the campus of Alabama College at Montevallo on Saturday, December 8 to attend an open forum workshop.

Plans for the meeting are under the supervision of Dawn S. Kennedy, who heads the Alabama College Art Department. The art faculty of the college will give demonstrations in work with clay, chalks, crayons, paint, and craft materials.

Conducted informally, the meeting will have multiple demonstrations in the various college studios at the same time, and teachers and visitors may move from one group to another at any time.

Formal Opening of New Swimming Pool Is Sunday, December 9

The attractive $140,000 new building which houses a six-lane swimming pool on the campus of Alabama College will be officially opened on Sunday, December 9. Open house hours are from 2:30 to 5:00 p.m. More than 500 alumnae and friends of the college are invited to attend and will inspect the new California type pool and its facilities.

Every 4 or 6 hours will mark a complete change of water in the pool which is 75 by 30 feet and which varies in depth from 3 to 9½ feet. Roll-away doors on one side of the pool will lend an open air touch for Spring and Summer and allow use of the sun deck. Locker rooms are equipped with hair dryers.

Completion of the pool makes the physical education department of Alabama College, under the direction of Dr. Margaret McCall, one of the most comprehensive recreational divisions in the entire South. Bibb Graves Hall includes space for three badminton courts, two volley ball courts and basketball playing floor, in addition to modern and social dance studios, classrooms, offices and lounges. The present Field House facilities include 10 excellent tennis courts, five of which are all-weather. In addition to the practice golf course, excellent facilities are offered for archery, badminton, softball, and hockey.

Just completed during the summer months is the new 28 acre lake which will have facilities for swimming, fishing, canoeing, and sailing. The lake will also have a water front area for recreational sports.

Overlooking the lake are two buildings, the student camp house and the faculty club house. The camp house is equipped for 50 overnight guests with a huge fireplace in the large living room.

Demands for camp counselors over the nation is high and Dr. McCall received letters offering jobs to 10 times the number of students who graduated from the physical education department last year. Majors during the current school year come from Alabama, Michigan, Georgia, Florida, Tennessee, Puerto Rico, and South America.

The physical education department is staffed by seven full-time instructors who also find time to take active parts in community affairs.

State of Alabama A PROCLAMATION by the GOVERNOR

WHEREAS, the Legislature of Alabama, at the Regular Session 1951, ordered an election to be held by the qualified electors of the State of Alabama upon a certain proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which said amendment is herein set out, and ordered that said election be held on the first Tuesday following the expiration of three months after the final adjournment of the 1951 Session of the Legislature; and

WHEREAS, the first Tuesday following the expiration of three months after the final adjournment of the 1951 Session of the Legislature at which the amendment was proposed will be and occur on Tuesday, December 11, 1951; and

WHEREAS, notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment is required by law, and by the provisions of the act submitting the amendment, to be given by a proclamation of the Governor to be published in each county in the State of Alabama once a week for four successive weeks next preceding the day appointed for the election;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Gordon Persons, as Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that on Tuesday, the 11th day of December 1951, an election will be held at the several polling places within the State of Alabama, in the manner and form provided by law, upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901:

"Any provisions of the Constitution or laws of the State of Alabama to the contrary notwithstanding, the City of Haleyville, Alabama, a Municipal Corporation in Winston County, shall have full and continuing power and authority, without any election or approval other than the approval of its governing body, to do any one or more of the following:

"1. To purchase, construct, lease, or otherwise acquire real property, plants, buildings, factories, works, facilities, machinery and equipment of any kind.
"2. To lease, sell for cash or on credit, exchange, or give and convey any such property described in subdivision 1 above, to any person, firm, association, or corporation.
"3. To promote local industrial, commercial or agricultural development and the location of new industries or businesses therein.
"4. To become a stockholder in any corporation, association or company.
"5. To lend its credit or to grant public moneys and things of value in aid of, or to, any individual, firm, association, or corporation whatsoever.
"6. To become indebted and to issue and sell interest bearing bonds, warrants (which may be payable from funds to be realized in future years), notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness to a principal amount not exceeding fifty per cent of the assessed value of taxable property therein as determined for state taxation, in order to secure funds for the purchase, construction, lease or acquisition of any of the property described in subdivision 1 above or to be used in furtherance of any of the other powers or authorities granted in this amendment. Such obligations or evidences of indebtedness may (in addition to any pledge or pledges authorized by subdivision 8 of this amendment) be issued upon the full faith and credit of The City of Haleyville, Alabama, a Municipal Corporation or may be limited as to the source of their payment.
"7. To levy and collect annually, in addition to all other taxes now authorized or permitted, a special tax or taxes of not exceeding two per cent on the value of all taxable property therein as determined for state taxation, in the same manner as other county or municipal taxes are levied and collected. Such tax may be upon all property in the City of Haleyville, Alabama, a Municipal Corporation in Winston County or upon all property in any district the boundaries of which the governing body of The City of Haleyville, Alabama, a Municipal Corporation shall describe and which it shall determine to be specially improved and benefited by any proposed use or expenditure of the proceeds of such tax.
"8. To pledge to the payment of any bonds, warrants, notes, or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness the annual proceeds from any such special tax or taxes and to obligate itself irrevocably to continue to levy and collect such taxes annually until such obligations or evidences of indebtedness are paid in full and to pledge thereto any rental or sales proceeds of property leased or sold by it.
"9. To create a public authority or corporation having such powers, managed and governed by such board or governing body and subject to such limitations as the governing body of The City of Haleyville, Alabama, a Municipal Corporation in Winston County may impose, by approving and filing a certificate to that effect in the office of the Judge of Probate or the Secretary of State, or their respective successors in function, and to delegate to such public authority or corporation and its board or governing body all powers and authority conferred in this amendment upon any such municipality.
"The recital in any bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness that they were issued pursuant to this amendment or that they were issued to provide funds to be used in furtherance of any power or authority herein authorized or that any special tax herein authorized has been pledged to the payment thereof shall be conclusive; no purchaser or holder thereof need inquire further; and the levy and collection of such tax shall continue until the principal of and interest on such obligations or evidences of indebtedness shall have been paid in full. The bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences issued hereunder shall not be considered an indebtedness of The City of Haleyville, Alabama, a Municipal Corporation in Winston County for the purpose of determining the borrowing capacity of such municipality under sections 224 and 225 of the Constitution; and the taxes herein authorized shall be in addition to those provided for or permitted in sections 215 and 216 of the Constitution and all amendments thereto.
"This amendment shall be self-executing; but the Legislature shall have the right and power by general, special or local act to adopt laws supplemental to this amendment or in furtherance of the purpose and objectives hereinabove set forth."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 11th day of December 1951, upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 11th day of December 1951, in each county in the State of Alabama, in a newspaper published in said county.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and have caused the Great Seal of the State of Alabama to be affixed by the Secretary of State, at the Capitol in the City of Montgomery, on this 1st day of October 1951.

Tuberculosis Fatal To Many Negroes

Montgomery—In the first six months of 1951, as for a long, long time, tuberculosis proved particularly fatal to Negroes in Alabama.

The State Department of Health announced that about 55 per cent of all the Alabama tuberculosis deaths reported during that six-month period occurred among Negroes, in spite of the fact that unofficial census figures show that Negroes constitute less than a third of the state's total population.

Of the 402 tuberculosis deaths reported between January and June, inclusive, the Department said, 219 involved Negroes and only 183 occurred among white people.

The State Health Department announcement explained that its mortality figures were based upon provisional reports prepared by the Department's Bureau of Vital Statistics. These may differ slightly from the final reports not yet available.

Amending Our State Constitution

(By Dr. Hallie Farmer)

Non-Controversial Amendments

Some amendments to be voted on at this election are called non-controversial. By this we mean that there appears to be no organized opposition to them. Eight of the seventeen local amendments would seem to be amendments of this type. Five of them (amendments 10, 12, 18, 20, and 22) permit Morgan, Lawrence, Chambers, Fayette and Jackson Counties to levy special school taxes, provided the levying of these taxes is approved in an election by the voters of the counties. Surely any county which wishes to tax itself for any purpose should be allowed to do so. Two counties, Madison and Baldwin, are asking to be allowed to change payment of officers from fee to salaries. The evils of the fee system are so well known that any county which desires to do so should certainly be allowed to escape from them. Amendments 8 and 13 will, if they receive a favorable vote in the December election, permit two Alabama counties to do this. Amendment 24 permitting Colbert County to continue its sales and use tax would probably fall in this group also.

Controversial Local Amendments

Of the remaining local amendments two, 19 relating to Marion County and 23 relating to 37 municipalities in the State, are so vague as to make any decision about them difficult.

Amendments 9, 11, 14, 15, 16, and 17 permit municipalities in various counties to engage in private business in varying degrees. These amendments were discussed in detail last week and the discussion will not be repeated here. However the warning given them may be repeated. Any citizen voting on these amendments should give careful thought to them, because they represent a serious departure from what has been the accepted policy of the State.

Non-Controversial

Of the seven general amendments, four seem to be non-controversial. They are amendments 2, 3, 4, and 7.

Amendment 2 writes into the Constitution the provision that "appointments and promotions to the Civil service of the state shall be made according to merit, fitness and efficiency." The Merit System has been established in Alabama, by law, since 1939. It has proved to be sound policy. Writing it into the constitution gives it permanence. In the platform on which he was elected governor Persons declared himself in favor of this amendment. It fulfills his campaign promise.

Amendment 3 is designed to bring the organization of the state militia into conformity with the laws of the United States. Primarily it provides for the appointment, rather than the election, of officers. The amendment has the support of militia officers and seems to be desirable.

Amendment 4 provides that members of the armed forces in all wars shall be exempted from payment of poll tax as a qualification for voting. It is hard to see any sound argument which could be advanced against this amendment.

The last of the general amendments, 7, would also seem to be sound. It is designed to make it easier to get service on corporations outside the State when legal proceedings against them become necessary. They must have a known place of business and an authorized agent in the State and suit may be entered against a foreign corporation by service of process on the agent in the state.

Controversial

The remaining general amendments 1, 5, and 6 are controversial, or should be. It is an unfortunate practice in Alabama to force public attention on a particular amendment. While the voters are listening to the sound and fury over the one amendment, others equally important are ignored.

In this election attention is being centered on amendment 1 the $25,000,000 road bond amendment. It seems almost unnecessary to discuss this amendment. No interested person can have missed endless discussions pro and con in the newspapers and on the radio. Briefly, the proposal is that the State of Alabama borrow $25,000,000 to match Federal funds now available to the State, and that the $25,000,000 be used for the "acquisition, construction and improvement of public roads, highways and bridges" in the State.

Nothing in the amendment prescribes the location of the roads or the type of road to be built, yet all sorts of rumors are afloat about these roads. We are told that all the money will be used on primary roads; that it will all be used on a highway from Birmingham to Mobile; that no farm-to-market roads will be built. Certainly nothing in the amendment furnishes any basis for such rumors. Moreover, the Governor has publicly stated that there is no intention of stopping the construction of farm-to-market roads and has even pledged a fixed percentage of the money for roads to the construction of farm-to-market roads. It would seem that the planning of roads is a technical job which might well be left to the Highway Department.

The second argument concerning this amendment relates to the method of financing. Its opponents contend (a) that we have the money available without borrowing to match Federal funds (b) that payment of interest and principal of this debt will increase the tax burden which is already too heavy.

Supporters of the measure contend (a) that there are no funds available for matching Federal funds and (b) that no increase of taxes will be necessary to pay this debt, since money will be available from taxes already in effect to pay them.

It is impossible to analyze the finances of the State of Alabama within the limits of this discussion. To this writer, who has some knowledge of State finance, the supporters of the amendment seem to have the best of the argument.

The question which the voter needs to decide as he votes on this amendment is how serious he feels the need for roads is. If we need them, we must pay for them. This amendment would seem to offer the least painful way of doing that.

State of Alabama A PROCLAMATION by the GOVERNOR

-16-

WHEREAS, the Legislature of Alabama, at the Regular Session 1951, ordered an election to be held by the qualified electors of the State of Alabama upon a certain proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which said amendment is herein set out, and ordered that said election be held on the first Tuesday after the expiration of three months after the final adjournment of the session of the Legislature at which such amendment was proposed; and

WHEREAS, the first Tuesday following the expiration of three months after the final adjournment of the Session of the Legislature at which such amendment was proposed will be and occur on Tuesday, December 11, 1951; and

WHEREAS, notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment is required by law, and by the provisions of the act submitting the amendment, to be given by a proclamation of the Governor to be published in each county in the State of Alabama once a week for four successive weeks next preceding the day appointed for the election;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Gordon Persons, as Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that on Tuesday, the 11th day of December 1951, an election will be held at the several polling places within the State of Alabama, in the manner and form provided by law, upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901:

"1. DEFINITIONS. Wherever used in this amendment, unless a different meaning clearly appears in the context, the following terms, whether used in the singular or plural, shall be given the following respective interpretations: "Municipality" means any incorporated city or town in Colbert County, Alabama; "project" means any land and any building or other improvement thereon, and all real and personal properties deemed necessary in connection therewith, whether or not now in existence, which shall be suitable for use by the following or by any combination of two or more thereof: (a) any industry for the manufacturing, processing, or assembling of any agricultural or manufactured products; and (b) any commercial enterprise in storing, warehousing, distributing or selling products of agriculture, mining or industry, but does not include facilities designed for the sale or distribution to the public of electricity, gas, water or telephone or other services commonly classified as public utilities; "Governing body" means the board or body in which the legislative powers of the municipality are vested; "Mortgage" means a mortgage or a mortgage and deed of trust.

"2. LEGISLATIVE INTENT. It is the intent of this amendment to authorize municipalities of Colbert County, Alabama, to acquire, own, and lease projects for the purpose of promoting industry and trade by inducing manufacturing, industrial and commercial enterprises to locate in Colbert County, Alabama, promoting the use of the agricultural products and natural resources of said county, and promoting a sound and proper balance in said county between agriculture, commerce and industry. It is intended that each project be self-liquidating. It is not intended hereby to authorize any municipality itself to operate any manufacturing, industrial or commercial enterprise. This amendment shall be liberally construed in conformity with the said intent.

"3. ADDITIONAL POWERS CONFERRED ON MUNICIPALITIES. In addition to any other powers which it may now have, each municipality in Colbert County, Alabama, shall have the following powers: (1) To acquire, whether by construction, purchase, a gift or lease, and to equip one or more projects, which shall be located within said county and may be located within or without the municipality, or partially within or partially without the municipality, but which shall not be located more than fifteen miles outside of the corporate limits of the municipality; (2) To lease to others any or all of its projects for such rentals and upon such terms and conditions as the governing body may deem advisable and as shall not conflict with the provisions of this amendment; and (3) To issue revenue bonds for the purpose of defraying the cost of acquiring, by construction and purchase, or either thereof, and of equipping any project, and to secure the payment of such bonds, all as hereinafter provided. No municipality shall have the power to operate any project as a business or in any manner except as lessor thereof.

"4. BONDS ISSUED TO FINANCE PROJECTS. All bonds issued by a municipality under authority of this amendment shall be limited obligations of the municipality the principal of and interest on which shall be payable solely out of the revenues derived from the leasing of the project to finance which the bonds are issued. Bonds and interest coupons issued under authority of this amendment shall never constitute an indebtedness of the municipality within the meaning of any state constitutional provision or statutory limitation, and shall never constitute nor give rise to a pecuniary liability of the municipality or a charge against its general credit or taxing powers, and such fact shall be plainly stated in the face of each such bond. Such bonds may be executed and delivered at any time and from time to time, may be in such form and denominations, may be of such tenor, may be in registered or bearer form either as to principal or interest or both, may be payable in such installments and at such time or times not exceeding thirty years from their date, may be payable at such place or places, may bear interest at such rate or rates payable at such place or places and evidenced in such manner, and may contain such provisions not inconsistent herewith, all as shall be provided in the proceedings of the governing body whereunder the bonds shall be authorized to be issued. The bonds issued hereunder shall be subject to the general provisions of law, presently existing or that may hereafter be enacted, respecting the execution and delivery of the bonds of any such municipality and respecting the retaining of options of redemption in proceedings authorizing the issuance of municipal securities. Any bonds issued under the authority of this amendment may be sold at public or private sale in such manner and from time to time as may be determined by the governing body to be most advantageous; and the municipality may pay all expenses, premiums and commissions which the governing body may deem necessary or advantageous in connection with the authorization, sale and issuance thereof. All bonds issued under the authority of this amendment and all interest coupons applicable thereto shall be construed to be negotiable instruments, despite the fact that they are payable solely from a specified source.

"5. SECURITY FOR BONDS. The principal of and interest on any bonds issued under the authority of this amendment shall be secured by a pledge of the revenues out of which such bonds shall be made payable, may be secured by a mortgage covering all or any part of the project from which the revenues so pledged may be derived, and may be secured by a pledge of the lease of such project. The proceedings under which such bonds are authorized to be issued or any such mortgage may contain any agreements and provisions customarily contained in instruments securing bonds, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, provisions respecting the fixing and collection of rents for any project covered by such proceedings or mortgage, the terms to be incorporated in the lease of such project, the maintenance and insurance of such project, the creation and maintenance of special funds from the revenues from such project, and the rights of default to the bondholders or to the trustee under a mortgage, all as the governing body shall deem advisable and as shall not be in conflict with the provisions of this amendment; provided, however, that in making any such agreements or provisions any such municipality shall not have the power to obligate itself except with respect to the project and the application of the revenues therefrom, and shall not have the power to incur a pecuniary liability or a charge upon its general credit or against its taxing powers.

"6. REQUIREMENTS RESPECTING LEASE. Prior to the leasing of any project, the governing body must determine and find the following: The amount necessary in each year to pay the principal of and the interest on the bonds proposed to be issued to finance such project; the amount necessary to be paid each year by the lessee under such mortgage or the holder of any of the bonds secured thereby may become the purchaser at any foreclosure sale if the highest bidder therefor. No breach of any such agreement shall impose any pecuniary liability upon a municipality or any charge upon its general credit or against its taxing powers.

"7. REFUNDING BONDS. Any bonds issued hereunder and at any time outstanding may at any time and from time to time be refunded by any such municipality by the issuance of its refunding bonds in such amount as the governing body may deem necessary but not exceeding an amount sufficient to refund the principal of the bonds to be refunded together with any unpaid interest thereon and any premiums and commissions necessary to be paid in connection therewith. Any such refunding may be effected whether the bonds to be refunded shall have matured, matured or shall thereafter mature, either by sale of the refunding bonds and the application of the proceeds thereof for the payment of the bonds to be refunded, or by exchange of the refunding bonds for the bonds to be refunded thereby; provided, that the holders of any bonds to be refunded shall not be compelled without their consent to surrender their bonds for payment or exchange prior to the date on which they are payable or, if they are called for redemption, prior to the date on which they are by their terms subject to redemption. Any refunding bonds issued under the authority of this amendment shall be payable solely from the revenues out of which the bonds to be refunded were payable, and shall be subject to the provisions contained in paragraph 4 of this amendment and may be secured in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 5 of this amendment.

"8. USE OF PROCEEDS FROM SALE OF BONDS. The proceeds from the sale of any bonds issued under authority of this amendment shall be applied only for the purpose for which the bonds were issued; provided, however, that any accrued interest and premium received in any such sale shall be applied to the payment of the principal of or the interest on the bonds sold; and provided, further, that if for any reason any portion of such proceeds shall not be needed for the purpose for which the bonds were issued, then such unneeded portion of said proceeds shall be applied to the payment of the principal of or the interest on said bonds. The cost of acquiring and equipping any project shall be deemed to include the following: the actual cost of the construction of any part of a project which may be constructed, including the architect's and engineer's fees; the purchase price of any part of a project that may be acquired by purchase; the purchase price of the equipment for any project; the cost of installing such equipment; all expenses in connection with the authorization, sale and issuance of the bonds to finance such acquisition and equipment; and the interest on such bonds for a reasonable time prior to construction, during construction, and for not exceeding six months after completion of construction.

"9. BONDS MADE LEGAL INVESTMENTS. Bonds issued under the provisions of this amendment shall be legal investments for fiduciaries investing trust funds and for savings banks and insurance companies organized under the laws of this state.

"10. EXEMPTION FROM TAXATION. The bonds authorized by this amendment and the income therefrom, all mortgages executed as security therefor, all lease agreements made pursuant to the provisions hereof, and all projects and the revenue derived from any lease thereof shall be exempt from all taxation in the State of Alabama.

"11. CONSTRUCTION OF AMENDMENT. Neither this amendment nor anything herein contained shall be construed as a restriction or limitation upon any powers which a municipality might otherwise have under the constitution and laws of this state, but shall be construed as cumulative; and this amendment shall not be construed as requiring an election of the voters of a municipality prior to the issuance of bonds hereunder by such municipality.

"12. NO NOTICE OR PUBLICATION REQUIRED. No notice or consent or approval by any governmental body or public officer shall be required as a prerequisite to the sale or issuance of any bonds or the making of a mortgage under the authority of this amendment and no ordinance or resolution adopted by a governing body, under authority hereof, shall be required to be published in any manner, any other law to the contrary notwithstanding.

"13. This amendment shall be self-executing and in no wise shall it be construed as limiting, modifying or repealing any of the provisions of any constitutional amendment relating only to Colbert County, Alabama.

"14. SEVERABILITY. If any section, clause, provision or portion of this amendment shall be held to be invalid or unconstitutional by any court of competent jurisdiction, such holding shall not affect any other section, clause or provision of this amendment which is not in and of itself unconstitutional."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 11th day of December, 1951, upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 11th day of December 1951, in each county in the State of Alabama in a newspaper published in said county.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and have caused the Great Seal of the State of Alabama to be affixed by the Secretary of State, at the Capitol in the City of Montgomery, on this 1st day of October 1951.

"Keep Green" Is Objective

A county "Keep Green" meeting has been scheduled for Friday, November 30 at 10 a.m. at the old courthouse in Columbiana.

Purpose of the meeting is to set up a permanent organization sponsored by the Alabama Forest Products Association.

County Superintendent W. W. Elliott will serve as temporary chairman. In announcing the meeting Mr. E. E. Hale, executive vice-president of the Alabama Forest Products Association says: "It is very important that we have the advice and guidance of key leaders in Shelby County in getting this organization properly set up."

Morgan Co. Wants Amendment No. 10

Morgan County citizens, interested in the education of their children, are asking the voters throughout the state to make it possible for them to build much needed school buildings.

The passage of proposed Constitutional Amendment No. 10, on December 11, will give Morgan Countians the opportunity desired. If the amendment passes, the people of Morgan will then have the privilege of calling an election to levy a special 7½ mills ad valorem tax upon themselves for schools.

The amendment does not affect any other county except Morgan County.

College Dance December 8

The third annual all-campus dance will bring Elliott Lawrence and his orchestra to Bibb Graves Hall at Alabama College on December 8.

Sponsored by the Student Government Association, the dance is under the immediate direction of the following committee members: Chairman, Ann Lowery; check room, Wanda Burge and Ann Welby; invitations, Lou Stockton; lighting, Audrey Hand; publicity, Doris Dodd and Annette Clements; radio publicity, Fran Echols; refreshments, Ann Ham, Jeannine Abbott; restoration, Cuz Mullins; room placement, Margaret Ann Hendrick, Betty Ann Smitherman, and Julia Kennerly; tickets, Betty Ann Overton and Sue Kyzar; blind dates, Mary Alta Beeler.

Elliott Lawrence, a young and fast-rising orchestra leader, has catered to the college crowds throughout his career. His appearance on the campus is the third orchestra of note to appear at a Student Government dance. In previous years Jimmy Dorsey and Woody Herman have been on the campus.

FOR SALE—Three shoats, 175 pounds or better, ready to kill, priced right. Also seven pure bred Duroc pigs, ready for delivering latter part of December, with papers $16.00, without papers $15.00.—R. M. Byrd, Route 1, phone 6019 Montevallo. 11-29-2tp

Lowndes Representative Says Bond Issue Would Be Used For Super-Duper Highways

Montgomery — Four-lane highways interconnecting all important cities in Alabama, super-duper highways that would cost millions upon millions of dollars over and above the cost of present-day roads, are in the making, while Alabama farmers are 'begging for a little hard-surface on the dusty, muddy dirt roads, on which they live and breathe and over which they labor to get their products to market. Rep. Pugh Haynes, Lowndes County, a farmer and cattle producer, made that statement here today.

The 1949 session of the state legislature debated a bill to build a pike from the Tennessee line to the gulf, with similar 4-lane intersecting highways tapping all important cities, but the bill was defeated. Mr. Haynes said the bill, although defeated, received considerable support which appeared to him to be an indication that with a little more study effort, it might some day be realized. The pike, if built, would be operated as a toll road and would benefit only those who pay the price. Since the pike bill was introduced, general discussion of super highways connecting all major communities has grown throughout the state, the Lowndes Countian said.

Representative Haynes vigorously opposed the proposed $25,000,000 road bond issue in the House and is doing everything in his power as a taxpayer to kill it at the polls. His principal reason for fighting the issue, he said, is the fact that the bonds, if passed, will not benefit him or any other ruralist living on dirt roads, as the framers of the bond bill gave no thought to the rural taxpayers but designed the huge issue strictly in the interest of city slickers. However, he continued, they did consider the farmer and other ruralists to the extent of saying between the lines of the bill, "You can't have any of the money for your dusty, health-destroying roads but we are going to let you pay your part of the $11,250,000 taxes just the same". The taxes, the solon said, is the interest on the bonds, "which are one and the same".

"Another objection I have to the bond issue", he explained, "is the fact that the proponents propose to take $3,000,000 tax money now being earmarked from the gas tax and auto licenses for the retirement of outstanding bonds, and apply it on the proposed 25,000,000,000. There are four bond issues that will expire during the period of 1951-1952 and 1962-1963. If the people defeat the proposed issue on December 11, it will mean that the $3,000,000 annual retirement fund can be used to improve and extend our road system, when the outstanding bonds are retired, instead of having to continue paying it for many years on the proposed issue. They are trying to put our state deeper in debt, but if the attitude of the voters in my county is an indication of how all the people feel, they won't be able to do it," the Lowndes farmer concluded.

B'ham Symphony Here Friday Night

The Birmingham Symphony Orchestra will make its first appearance on the campus of Alabama College on Friday, November 30, sponsored by the Concert and Lecture committee of the college. This attraction is one of seven musical and dramatic events of the 1951-52 season.

Under the direction of Arthur Bennett Lipkin, the Birmingham Symphony will play these selections:

Chorale prelude: Sleepers awake, Bach; Chorale Prelude: Come Sweet Death, Bach; Symphony 3 in D Major, Schubert; Academic Festival Overture, Brahms; The Winter's Passed, Wyne Barlow; Scheherzade, Rimsky-Korsakiv.

Alabama College students who serve on the Concert Lecture committee along with faculty members are June McQueen, daughter of Mrs. W. A. McQueen, of Greenville; Betty Joe Benton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde C. Benton, of Bradenton, Florida; and Janice Wilson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. O. E. Wilson, of Birmingham.

Guests on Friday evening will include high school students from a surrounding 50 mile area and students from 20 high schools have been invited to attend.

Visitors are also invited to attend a coffee hour honoring the Orchestra immediately after the close of the program. The coffee hour will be held in historic Reynolds Hall on the campus.

"Any provision of the Constitution or laws of the State of Alabama to the contrary notwithstanding, any municipality in Walker County, or any one or more of them, shall have full and continuing power and authority, without any election or approval other than the approval of its governing body, to do any one or more of the following:

"1. To purchase, construct, lease, or otherwise acquire real property, plants, buildings, factories, works, facilities, machinery and equipment of any kind.

"2. To lease, sell for cash or on credit, exchange, or give and convey any such property described in subdivision 1 above, to any person, firm, association or corporation.

"3. To promote local industrial, commercial or agricultural development and the location of new industries or businesses therein.

"4. To become a stockholder in any corporation, association or company.

"5. To lend its credit or to grant public moneys and things of value in aid of, or to, any individual, firm, association, or corporation whatsoever.

"6. To become indebted and to issue and sell interest bearing bonds, warrants (which may be payable from funds to be realized in future years), notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness, to a principal amount not exceeding fifty per cent of the assessed value of taxable property therein as determined for state taxation, in order to secure funds for the purchase, construction, lease or acquisition of any of the property described in subdivision 1 above or to be used in furtherance of any of the other powers or authorities granted in this amendment. Such obligations or evidences of indebtedness may (in addition to any pledge or pledges authorized by subdivision 8 of this amendment) be issued upon the full faith and credit of the municipality or may be limited as to the source of their payment.

"7. To levy and collect annually, in addition to all other taxes now authorized or permitted, a special tax or taxes of not exceeding two percent on the value of all taxable property therein as determined for state taxation, in the same manner as other county or municipal taxes are levied and collected. Such tax may be upon all property in any municipality in Walker County, or upon all property in any district the boundaries of which the governing body of such municipality shall describe and which it shall determine to be specially improved and benefited by any proposed use or expenditure of the proceeds of such tax.

"8. To pledge to the payment of any bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness the annual proceeds from any such special tax or taxes and to obligate itself irrevocably to continue to levy and collect such taxes annually until such obligations or evidences of indebtedness are paid in full and to pledge thereto any rental or sales proceeds of property leased or sold by it.

"9. To create a public authority or corporation having such powers, managed and governed by such board or governing body and subject to such limitations as the governing body of any municipality in Walker County may impose, by approving and filing a certificate to that effect in the office of the Judge of Probate or the Secretary of State, or their respective successors in function, and to delegate to such public authority or corporation and its board or governing body all powers and authority conferred in this amendment upon any such municipality.

"The recital in any bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness that they were issued pursuant to this amendment or that they were issued to provide funds to be used in furtherance of any power or authority herein authorized, or that any special tax herein authorized has been pledged to the payment thereof shall be conclusive; no purchaser or holder thereof need inquire further; and the levy and collection of such tax shall continue until the principal of and interest on such obligations or evidences of indebtedness shall have been paid in full. The bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness issued hereunder shall not be considered an indebtedness of any municipality in Walker County for the purpose of determining the borrowing capacity of such municipality under sections 224 and 225 of the Constitution; and the taxes herein authorized shall be in addition to those provided for or permitted in sections 215 and 216 of the Constitution and all amendments thereto.

"This amendment shall be self-executing; but the Legislature shall have the right and power by general, special or local act to adopt laws supplemental to this amendment or in furtherance of the purposes and objectives herein above set forth."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 11th day of December 1951, upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 11th day of December 1951, in each county in the State of Alabama in a newspaper published in said county.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and have caused the Great Seal of the State of Alabama to be affixed by the Secretary of State, at the Capitol in the City of Montgomery, on this the 1st day of October 1951.

"Your Federal Income Tax"

Federal income taxpayers of Shelby County need not worry again this year about what is deductible from their 1951 income taxes, or just who should be exempt. Uncle Sam has figured it out for them again in his 1951 edition of the booklet "Your Federal Income Tax" which will soon be available at Department of Commerce field offices in the Southeast.

The publication "Your Federal Income Tax" is one of the nation's best sellers and each year thousands of orders for it are sent to Commerce Department field offices, according to Merrill C. Lofton, southeastern regional director of that agency in Atlanta.

The 1951 edition of the booklet, which will again be available for 25 cents despite rising costs of other things, will incorporate the changes in the internal revenue act made at the last session of Congress, it was stated.

Along with the booklet, the Commerce Department is offering other publications and material designed to assist business men and other interested persons in making their 1951 income tax returns to Uncle Sam. The others include "Bulletin 'F'" on the subject of depreciation and obsolescence, which is priced at 30 cents, the pamphlets "The Small Businessman and His Declaration of Estimated Tax," which sell for 10 cents each, and the leaflets "How An Unincorporated Business May Convert A Net Operating Loss Into a Refund on Last Year's Income Taxes," and "Basic Tax Information for Small Business Enterprises," for which there is no charge.

Orders are now being taken for these publications at U. S. Department of Commerce offices at 418 Atlanta National Building, Atlanta, 218 Post Office Building, Savannah, Sgt. Jasper Building, Charleston, 425 Federal Building, Jacksonville, 497 Seybold Building, Miami, 308 Federal Building, Mobile, and Madison at Front Streets, Memphis, Mr. Lofton said.

WITHOUT NEW TAXES!

During the next four years $50,000,000 will be set aside to build Farm-To-Market roads in Alabama. Approval of the Road Bond Issue (Amendment No. 1) will provide money for bringing Alabama's inadequate and unsafe primary and urban road systems up to date. It will also insure that no Farm-To-Market road funds will be diverted for other uses by the State Legislature to match Federal Highway Funds. The passage of the $25,000,000 road bond issue will permit Alabama to build a sound, modern system of roads and streets, affording the farmers a safe means of getting themselves, their families and the products of their farm labor to market.

Fortunately for Alabama, the State has some old bonds which are being fully paid off now and in months to come. We have been averaging $2,943,000 yearly to retire these bonds. Thanks to the expiration of these old Bonds, we'll pay only $2,829,000 AFTER OUR NEW BONDS are issued. When Amendment No. 1 passes, Alabama will actually save $114,000 yearly! In other words, money formerly used to pay off old bonds now can be used to pay off the new bonds and we'll still be $114,000 ahead each year. ALABAMA WILL NEVER GET ANOTHER OPPORTUNITY LIKE THIS!

THURSDAY DECEMBER 6, 1951 MONTEVALLO, ALABAMA VOLUME 19 — NUMBER 31

Local Doctors Urge Support Of Red Cross Blood Program

Four local doctors will serve on the medical advisory committee for Montevallo's new blood program, Miss Laura Hadley, chairman of the blood program committee of the Montevallo Red Cross Chapter, sponsor of the project, announced here today.

The responsibility of the medical advisory committee will be to advise the blood committee on professional and technical aspects of the blood program.

The following local physicians will serve on the committee: Dr. Leslie Hubbard, Dr. L. C. Parnell, Dr. Willena Peck, and Dr. Charles Acker.

In accepting membership on the medical advisory committee, the doctors said: "We are delighted to serve with the Montevallo Red Cross Chapter in this vital national blood program. We in the medical profession have, in the past ten years, come to depend more and more on the use of blood and its derivations in combating illness. Then, too, when you consider the great number of accidents of all types which occur in our community, the need for whole blood takes on added significance.

"In those communities fortunate enough to have an adequate supply, the use of blood in surgery and in everyday practice of good medicine is commonplace. Therefore, thousands of lives have been saved, to say nothing of the relief blood has afforded suffering humanity. Now, we are happy to say, Montevallo may count itself as being one of such fortunate communities."

Montevallo is one of many communities throughout the nation to participate in the Red Cross National Blood Program. Under this plan, blood will be voluntarily given by local donors when the community is visited January 25 by a Red Cross bloodmobile operating out of the regional blood center at Birmingham. Following the first visit of the mobile unit, the people

Rotary Club Project Nearing Completion

Dr. M. L. Orr, Jr., Community Service Chairman of the Montevallo Rotary Club reports that the Rotary Club's beautification project is almost complete. According to Dr. Orr, orders have been placed for nearly 300 plants. In addition to these orders by individuals the Rotary Club is planning to buy a quantity of the plants to be placed on the entrances to town. Orders may still be placed for these plants with any member of the Rotary Club. The price is 50c each including having the plants set out by the Montevallo F.F.A. boys. All orders must be in to the Rotary Club before the end of this week.

Pleasant Hill was named for a slave dealer who built one of the first houses in the region. Some time later, it became the hangout of so many criminals and outcasts that it came to be called Fort Rascal. The worst of these tough characters eventually left town, and the little village resumed its original name.

of this community will enjoy the benefits of a constant supply of blood and blood products so essential for the relief of suffering and saving lives.

Although the blood program is sponsored by the American Red Cross, it is essentially a community project, the doctors pointed out. Donors give their blood to others in the community who are in need of it, through, not to, the Red Cross. The program has the approval of local medical, hospital, and health authorities; and through the medical advisory committee, it will be under the control of local physicians at all times.

New Automobile Law Becomes Effective January 1

The law will be all set January 1 to drop the book on motorists in Alabama who cannot satisfy financial claims resulting from auto accidents.

Mainly, the state will be able to take away the driving license and the driving privilege of offenders.

And they are not to be restored until the persons at fault either satisfy outstanding claims in excess of $50 or give proof that they will satisfy the claims.

The 1951 Legislature passed this new "Motor Vehicle Safety-Responsibility Law" to put more teeth into enforcement. It becomes effective January 1.

Although the law encourages drivers to have liability insurance, it does not require them to have it.

It does, however, impose upon uninsured automobile owners and operators who become involved in accidents security deposit requirements to which those who are adequately insured are not subject. Extent of damage in any one accident will determine the amount of security required.

This may be up to $1000 for property damage; up to $5000 for injury to or death of one person, and up to $10,000 for injury to or death of more than one person in any one accident.

The law specifies certain conditions under which security deposits shall not be required of either the owner or operator of a vehicle involved in an accident. Some of these conditions are:

When either the owner or operator is adequately insured at the time of the accident; if no damage was caused to the person or property of another; either the owner or operator if the vehicle was legally parked at the time.

The Trouble With Associations

A few weeks ago we joined the Alabama Motorists Association very innocently. This week the Alabama Committee for Better Roads sent to all Alabama newspapers a suggested editorial which contained the following statement: "Amendment No. 1 was given the endorsement of 11,000 members of the Alabama Motorists Association." Maybe they meant 10,999 members. Like we said that's the trouble with associations.

Dr. C. T. Acker is Montevallo Goodfellow Chairman

This week the Shelby County Goodfellows started the ball rolling to bring Christmas to over 700 needy children in this county. Plans have been made to raise the necessary funds to do this big job. It is estimated that it will cost about $2.00 per child to give them fruit, nuts, candy, and toys. This will mean that approximately $1400 will be needed. However, Dr. W. C. Browne, Vincent, County Chief Goodfellow, believes that the people of Shelby County will respond as generously this year as they have in the past.

The work of the Goodfellows in Shelby County is made possible through the cooperation of the Jefferson County Goodfellows and the Birmingham Post.

The central committee of Shelby County Goodfellows consists of Dr. C. T. Acker, Montevallo; Herschel Dunlap, Siluria; George Holcombe, Calera; W. W. Elliott, Dr. Sam Shafferman, and Luther McGiboney, Columbiana; and Dr. W. C. Browne, Vincent. They are selecting their community Goodfellows over the county.

A REMINDER

The beautiful new pool on campus will be formerly opened on Sunday, December 9, from 2:30 to 5:00 p.m.

Dr. Margaret McCall who heads the Department of Physical Education and Recreation would like to invite all members of the College community and friends of the school to attend this formal opening and to inspect the new facilities.

Students And Teachers Have Clean-up Day

(By Emily Vest)

Approximately thirty-five Montevallo High School students and teachers took part in a school-wide clean up day Saturday, December 1.

The clean-up activities, which began at 8:00 a.m. and continued throughout the day, consisted of a general "face lifting" of classrooms and school grounds.

Various student groups, under the direction of M.H.S. teachers, washed walls, varnished desks and woodwork, painted tables, swept, dusted, and cleaned windows throughout the school. Other students who worked on the school campus, repaired walk-ways and picked up paper.

Plans are now underway for a repetition of the project.

Amending Our State Constitution

(By Dr. Hallie Farmer)

The 67 Senator Amendment

Amendment 6 is commonly called the 67 senator amendment. Unless you remember the number you may find it hard to recognize this amendment. It is actually a proposal to amend section 284 of the Constitution which deals with the procedure for constitutional amendment, not, as might be expected, with the number of senators in the Alabama legislature. Not until about the last ten lines of half a column of what seems to be irrelevant material does the reader come to the real point the proposal to give each county in the state a senator.

The reason for the peculiar handling of this proposal is that the supporters of this amendment are really engaging in an interesting experiment. They are trying to change a sentence in the constitution which the constitution itself says may not be changed by constitutional amendment. The sentence is the last sentence of Section 284 of the Constitution which reads as follows: "Representation in the Legislature shall be based upon population, and such basis of representation shall not be changed by constitutional amendment." The bold type indicates the portion of the section which the amendment proposes to change by adding a provision that the legislature may fix the number of senators by law, and that the number of senators shall never exceed one for each county.

The constitutionality of this proposed amendment is questioned by many people. That question however is one for the Supreme Court of Alabama to decide, and no doubt the court will be asked to pass upon its constitutionality. The voting citizen would probably be well advised to leave that problem to the court and determine how he will vote on this amendment by less technical considerations.

The Cost of 67 Senators

The first consideration which is likely to receive consideration by the voter is the cost of this proposed change. Each senator in the Alabama Legislature is paid $20.00 per day, seven days per week, for each of the eighteen weeks which the legislature is in session. This amounts to $2520 for each senator. The amendment proposes to add 32 senators to the 35 we now have. This would add $80,640 in salaries alone to the cost of the senate. At least as much more would be added in increased costs for clerks, and other expenses caused by the increased size of the Senate. It is asserted that the senate chamber must be enlarged if the number of senators is increased. Ignoring that cost, it would seem that we must be prepared to add $150,000 to $200,000 to the cost of the Legislature. Each citizen must decide for himself whether the enlarged Senate is worth the increased cost.

Reapportionment

There is an impression abroad in the state that the 67-senator amendment is designed to correct the inequalities in apportionment caused by the failing of the legislature to perform its sworn duty and readjust representation after each census as the constitution requires. Nothing could be farther from the truth. This amendment, if adopted, would make the present unfair apportionment even more unfair.

Mr. Merrill, representative from Cleburne County, one of the authors of the proposed amendment, in a letter to the Montgomery Advertiser, explains quite frankly what seems to him to be a sound reason for the amendment. It is a device to protect the small counties against the more populated counties of the state, by increasing representation.

Music From Montevallo On WAPI and WAFM

Alabama College's "Music From Montevallo" classical music program featuring Putnam Porter at the console of the College pipe organ can now be heard Saturday afternoons and Sunday nights. Birmingham radio stations, W.A.P.I. and W.A.F.M. are carrying these programs at 1:30 p.m. on Saturday and at 10:30 p.m. on Sunday nights.

The program broadcast Saturday, December 8, will include Bach's Prelude and Fugue in E Minor, and two Advent Chorales. Also heard on Saturday will be Darius Milhaud's "Pastorale", and three short preludes by the contemporary English composer, Sir Edward Bairstow.

Sunday evening's program will feature Christmas music and includes "Christmas Eve" a composition based on Eugene Field's poem "Christmas Eve" and written by one of the leading organists and teachers of the South, Christian W. Dieckman. Also heard Sunday evening will be Johannes Brahms' "Lo, How A Rose E'er Blooming", Cesar Franck's "Fantasy" in A Major, and Johann Pachelbel's "From Heaven on High to Earth I Come".

Baptist Training Union "M" Night

Baptist Training Union forces from the Shelby Baptist Association will converge on Columbiana next Monday night, December 10, for their annual "M" night, reports G. C. Moore, Jr., associate association director for B.T.U. work.

The meeting gets underway at 7:30 p.m. during which the highlight will be a message by Dr. Hampton Hopkins, Howard College.

Thirty Baptist Churches over the county who reported an active training union will be expected to send representatives to this meeting and help make the goal of 400 present. Last year's attendance was 308 at Calera.

Following the benediction a religious film "The First Missionary Journey Of Paul" will be shown for any wishing to remain for it.

Presiding over this "M" Night program will be Rev. George C. Holmes, pastor of Liberty Baptist Church, Chelsea, the newly elected training union director, who will, along with others, project the 1952 training program for our churches.

Southern Cement Official Addresses Rotary Club

Mr. Mack A. Rikard, of Southern Cement Company, who is in charge of the lime plant at Newala, spoke to the Montevallo Rotary Club last Thursday night. Mr. Rikard gave many interesting facts about the manufacturing of lime, particularly at the Newala plant. The Southern Cement Company official also announced that his company will soon market a finish lime which until the present time has only been manufactured in Ohio.

This week the Rotary Club will have as its guest speaker, the Hon. Ed deGraffenried, member of the House of Representatives from this district.

A GOOD EXAMPLE

We are told that Mrs. Jimmy Higgins worked out her Christmas shopping list then went all over Montevallo to buy everything possible from the local merchants. This is a commendable example that "Ted" has set. If everyone in the community would follow this example we should have bigger and better business during Christmas along with Birmingham.

College Theatre Production On December 7

Members of the cast of the second production of the College Theatre group have been selected according to an announcement by Dr. Walter H. Trumbauer who heads the drama department of Alabama College. The play, "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife," by Anatole France, will be presented in Palmer Auditorium on Friday evening December 7.

Prominent parts in the cast will be played by Sue Dobbins who is Master Leonard Botal, a judge; Madeline Paepke who is his wife, Catherine; and Elsie Singley, who plays Master Adam Fumee, a lawyer. Sue Dobbins hails from Gadsden, Madeline Paepke is from Tuscaloosa, and Elsie Singley's home is Greensboro.

Others in the cast include Jackye Mills, Decatur; Evelyn Spradlin, Oxford; Dolly Brumfield, Prichard; Barbara Richards, Russellville; Billie Rae Kohen, Mobile; Martha Geeter, Lanett; Angelina Porch, Alexander City; Phyllis Jones, Montgomery; Elizabeth Christian, Atlanta, Georgia; Jill Hearn, Mobile; Sara Collins, Covin; Lucy Burge, Birmingham, and Winifred Laramore, from Centre.

Carnival players in the cast are: Betty Harrison, Dothan; Mary Ann Baker, Birmingham; Betty Joe Benton, Bradenton, Florida; Bobbie Waller, Greenville; Betty Hines, Sylacauga; Julia Studebaker, Indianapolis, Indiana; Mary Ann Beam, Montgomery; and Barbara Ann Burr, from South Windsor, Connecticut.

Staging of this play is in the hands of Martha Mullins of Chickasaw, and Gayle Houston, of Fayette. Betty Hines, of Sylacauga, is chairman of the lighting crew.

In accordance with the new policy of the College Theatre, Dr. Trumbauer urges friends of the college in and around Montevallo to attend as his guests. No tickets will be sold.

Dr. J. T. Caldwell Visits Oregon State In School Study

Eugene, Oregon, Nov. 24—Dr. John T. Caldwell, President of Alabama College, has completed a four-day visit of the Oregon State System of Higher Education under the auspices of a Carnegie Corporation travel grant.

Earlier, Caldwell visited Reed College, Portland.

ing their voting power in the Senate. If Mr. Merrill had added to his statement the fact that most of these small counties are in South Alabama and that these small counties are becoming smaller, as census figures make plain, the point at issue would be clear. The 67 senator amendment is one more round in the perennial conflict between South Alabama agriculture and North Alabama industry for control of the Legislature.

Voter Qualifications

The last amendment to be considered in this series of discussions—amendment 5 is the voter qualification amendment. It is surprising how little discussion of this amendment has been heard in the State.

Ever since the Supreme Court of the United States ruled against the white primary law, Alabama has been trying to find a way to get around its decision. The first attempt was the Boswell amendment which was added to the constitution by popular vote, but was declared a violation of the 15th amendment by the Supreme Court of the United States. The voter qualification amendment is a proposal designed to assure that maintenance of white supremacy which the Boswell amendment failed to achieve. It is hoped by its supporters that it has been written in such a way as to stand the scrutiny of the Supreme Court, since it will undoubtedly be tested before that body. The amendment provides: that only those persons shall be permitted to register:

1. Who can read and write any article of the Constitution of the United States in the English Language. This is a clear cut requirement which can be enforced by any board.
2. Who are of "good character". No definition of "good character" is established in the amendment. There is, of course, a wide difference of opinion as to what constitutes "good character". At one extreme there are those who believe that staying out of jail is sufficient proof of "good character". At the other extreme are those who believe that drinking, or playing bridge or chewing gum are evidences of lack of "good character". Which standard shall the board accept?
3. Who "embrace the duties and responsibilities of citizenship". If it is hard to decide what constitutes "good character", it is even more difficult to decide what this statement means. No definition of "embrace" known to Webster seems to clarify this part of the amendment.

Apparently the authors of the amendment were aware of the difficult burden they were placing upon the registrars for it is provided that the Supreme Court of Alabama shall prepare a uniform questionnaire to be submitted to each applicant. This questionnaire is to be answered by the applicant without assistance, and on the basis of the answers, the board shall determine whether he is a "good citizen" and "embraces the duties and obligations of citizenship". The amendment provides that determining the right of a citizen to register shall be a judicial act and that the board of registrars shall be declared judicial officers. However the amendment fails to fix qualifications for registrars which would make them competent judicial officers.

4. The next requirement is that the applicant shall take an oath to uphold and defend the Constitution of Alabama and of the United States. This is not an unusual requirement and would seem to need no comment.

5. The final requirement is that the applicant "disavow belief in or affiliation at any time with any group or party which advocated the overthrow of the government of the United States or of the State of Alabama by unlawful means."

The purpose of this provision is to prevent Communists from voting. Two comments would seem to be pertinent. The first one is that we should not allow ourselves to have any false sense of security because of this oath. The second comment is that it allows no room for repentance. No one who has ever been affiliated with any group, however far in the past, may register to vote in Alabama.

The concerned voter might well give some thought to the power given to registrars under this amendment. Under the guise of enforcing such vague qualifications as "good character" and "embracing the duties and responsibilities of citizenship", registrars become dictators determining who shall have the privilege of voting in the state. No provision is made in the amendment for any appeal from their decision. Alabama does not need any little Hitlers.

Art Auction At Alabama College

Paintings by students and faculty members will be auctioned off to the highest bidder Friday, December 7, at the annual Art Auction at Alabama College.

Sponsored by Kappi Pi, national honorary art fraternity, the auction will be held in Comer Auditorium. Paintings will also be exhibited all day Friday in Comer Hall.

Members of Kappi Pi who are working on committees for the auction are: Betty Joe Benton, June Segler, Julia Studebaker, Gloria Smith, Ann Lowery, Lucy Berge, Ann Weldy, and Linda Wood. Joan Gregory is president of the local chapter.

Kappi Pi will also sponsor the sale of Christmas cards, designed by Montevallo High School art students, two or three weeks before Christmas holidays.

Contest Winners To Be announced

Mr. R. E. Whaley of Whaley Furniture Company announces this week that the Crosley American Way Contest has closed and that winners of both the local contest and the national contest will be announced on December 15. The local contest is being judged by Mr. W. M. Wyatt, Miss Vinnie Lee Walker and Mr. Ralph Sears, and the winner will receive a $300 Crosley merchandise certificate and in addition will get a cash prize of $100 to his or her favorite charity.

The 25 Million Dollar Bond Issue Cannot Be Right

It cannot be right to say that we do not have money to match Federal aid when the gas tax this year is almost 50% greater than it was during the first year of the previous administration.

It cannot be right to say that with a bond issue there will be more money for building roads when the cost of the issue reduces the amount 25 to 30 percent.

It cannot be right to pyramid the money of four administrations and spend it in one year.

It cannot be right to glut the market with contracts to rob the State and make a few people rich.

It cannot be right to deplore inflation, then issue bonds and pyramid spending to increase it.

Churchill Offered Confederate Money

Montgomery — Save that Confederate money, Winnie, the South's gonna' rise again!!!

The Montgomery Junior Chamber of Commerce has invited recently-elected British Prime Minister Winston Churchill to speak here when he comes to the U. S. to confer with President Truman next January.

For his lecture fee, the Jaycees have offered Mr. Churchill $1000 in cash; $1000 in Confederate money, Suh!, and a box of his favorite cigars.

Nat Welch, chairman of the Montgomery Jaycee lecture series is now awaiting reply to his cabled offer. Last year the Montgomery Junior Chamber won first place in the international relations division of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

SOME FACTS about Alabama's New Motor Vehicle Financial Safety-Responsibility Act*1. What Is The New Alabama Motor Vehicle Financial Safety Responsibility Law?

This Act, effective January 1, 1952, is designed for the protection of persons injured or whose property has been damaged as the result of the operation of a motor vehicle. Under it motorists may be obliged to give proof of their ability to pay damage claims which may be awarded against them for bodily injury or property damage caused by the operation of a motor vehicle.

2. Who Is Affected By This Law?

EVERYONE, with certain specific exceptions who owns or drives a motor vehicle in Alabama is affected by this law.

3. How Does the Law Work?

The law requires the Director of Public Safety to suspend the license of each operator and all registrations of the owner of a motor vehicle, unless security or evidence of financial responsibility is provided in the event of:

- (a) an accident causing bodily injury or death.
- (b) an accident causing damage in excess of $50.00 to the property of any one person.

4. Is There Any Way In Which the Driver or Owner May Be Certain of Meeting the Security Requirement?

Yes. The law provides that the operator or owner will not have to deposit security, if at the time of the accident there was in force an automobile liability policy with respect to the motor vehicle involved in the accident.

5. Is There Any Other Way in which the Law May Affect Driving Privileges?

Yes, The Director of Public Safety is required to suspend the license and registration of any person who fails to satisfy, within sixty days, any judgement as required by law, against him obtained anywhere in the United States or Canada, because of bodily injury or death, or for damage to property due to the operation of a motor vehicle. The license shall remain suspended and shall not be renewed, nor shall any such license be thereafter issued in the name of such person, unless and until every such judgement is satisfied to the extent provided for in the law and until the said person gives proof of financial responsibility.

6. How Can a Motorist Establish His Financial Responsibility?

Proof of financial responsibility may be furnished by filing or delivering to the Director of Public Safety:

- (a) A certificate of motor vehicle liability insurance, with limits of $5000-$10,000 bodily injury and $1,000 property damage, issued by a company authorized to do business in the State of Alabama; or
- (b) A surety bond conditioned in the same amount as a motor vehicle liability insurance policy for the payment of claims against the motorist; or
- (c) A certificate of the State Treasurer showing deposit of $11,000 in cash or certain securities; or
- (d) A certificate of self-insurance in the discretion of the Director.

7. What Is The Best Way for a Motorist to Avoid Losing His Right to Drive a Motor Vehicle?

By arranging now for the purchase of complete motor vehicle liability insurance protection in a company authorized to do business in Alabama.

State of Alabama
A PROCLAMATION
by the
GOVERNOR

WHEREAS, the Legislature of Alabama, at the Regular Session 1951, ordered an election to be held by the qualified electors of the State of Alabama upon a certain proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which said amendment is herein set out, and ordered that said election be held on the first Tuesday following the expiration of three months after the final adjournment of the 1951 Session of the Legislature; and

WHEREAS, the first Tuesday following the expiration of three months after the final adjournment of the 1951 Session of the Legislature at which the amendment was proposed will be and occur on Tuesday, December 11, 1951; and

WHEREAS, notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment is required by law, and by the provisions of the act submitting the amendment, to be given by a proclamation of the Governor to be published in each county in the State of Alabama once a week for four successive weeks next preceding the day appointed for the election:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Gordon Persons, as Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that on Tuesday, the 11th day of December 1951, an election will be held at the several polling places within the State of Alabama, in the manner and form provided by law, upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901:

"Any provisions of the Constitution or laws of the State of Alabama to the contrary notwithstanding, the City of Haleyville, Alabama, a Municipal Corporation in Winston County, shall have full and continuing power and authority, without any election or approval other than the approval of its governing body, to do any one or more of the following:

"1. To purchase, construct, lease, or otherwise acquire real property, plants, buildings, factories, works, facilities, machinery and equipment of any kind.

"2. To lease, sell for cash or on credit, exchange, or give and convey any such property described in subdivision 1 above, to any person, firm, association, or corporation.

"3. To promote local industrial, commercial or agricultural development and the location of new industries or businesses therein.

"4. To become a stockholder in any corporation, association or company.

"5. To lend its credit or to grant public moneys and things of value in aid of, or to, any individual, firm, association, or corporation whatsoever.

"6. To become indebted and to issue and sell interest bearing bonds, warrants (which may be payable from funds to be realized in future years), notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness to a principal amount not exceeding fifty per cent of the assessed value of taxable property therein as determined for state taxation, in order to secure funds for the purchase, construction, lease or acquisition of any of the property described in subdivision 1 above or to be used in furtherance of any of the other powers or authorities granted in this amendment. Such obligations or evidences of indebtedness may (in addition to any pledge or pledges authorized by subdivision 8 of this amendment) be issued upon the full faith and credit of The City of Haleyville, Alabama, a Municipal Corporation or may be limited as to the source of their payment.

"7. To levy and collect annually, in addition to all other taxes now authorized or permitted, a special tax or taxes of not exceeding two per cent on the value of all taxable property therein as determined for state taxation, in the same manner as other county or municipal taxes are levied and collected. Such tax may be upon all property in the City of Haleyville, Alabama, a Municipal Corporation in Winston County or upon all property in any district the boundaries of which the governing body of The City of Haleyville, Alabama, a Municipal Corporation shall describe and which it shall determine to be specially improved and benefited by any proposed use or expenditure of the proceeds of such tax.

"8. To pledge to the payment of any bonds, warrants, notes, or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness the annual proceeds from any such special tax or taxes and to obligate itself irrevocably to continue to levy and collect such taxes annually until such obligations or evidences of indebtedness are paid in full and to pledge thereto any rental or sales proceeds of property leased or sold by it.

"9. To create a public authority or corporation having such powers, managed and governed by such board or governing body and subject to such limitations as the governing body of The City of Haleyville, Alabama, a Municipal Corporation in Winston County may impose, by approving and filing a certificate to that effect in the office of the Judge of Probate or the Secretary of State, or their respective successors in function, and to delegate to such public authority or corporation and its board or governing body all powers and authority conferred in this amendment upon any such municipality.

"The recital in any bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness that they were issued pursuant to this amendment or that they were issued to provide funds to be used in furtherance of any power or authority herein authorized or that any special tax herein authorized has been pledged to the payment thereof shall be conclusive; no purchaser or holder thereof need inquire further; and the levy and collection of such tax shall continue until the principal of and interest on such obligations or evidences of indebtedness shall have been paid in full. The bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences issued hereunder shall not be considered an indebtedness of The City of Haleyville, Alabama, a Municipal Corporation in Winston County for the purpose of determining the borrowing capacity of such municipality under sections 224 and 225 of the Constitution; and the taxes herein authorized shall be in addition to those provided for or permitted in sections 215 and 216 of the Constitution and all amendments thereto.

"This amendment shall be self-executing; but the Legislature shall have the right and power by general, special or local act to adopt laws supplemental to this amendment or in furtherance of the purpose and objectives hereinabove set forth."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 11th day of December 1951, upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 11th day of December 1951, in each county in the State of Alabama, in a newspaper published in said county.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and have caused the Great Seal of the State of Alabama to be affixed by the Secretary of State, at the Capitol in the City of Montgomery, on this 1st day of October 1951.

High School Class Studies "Eggs"

"The Egg And I" could have been the theme of the Foods Class study at Montevallo High School this week. Nevertheless Easter Bunnies and heirs alike would have been proud had they heard these Home Economics I girls discuss the merits and uses of their famous product—the egg. Below are some of the factors the girls found important in the selection, storage, and preparation of eggs.

Characteristics Of Good Eggs

A chalky shell with dull gloss and a heaviness in proportion to size are indications of a fresh egg. When broken the yolk will stand firm and the white will hold its shape. A shiny smooth shell with a flat yolk and a spreading watery white are sure signs of a stale egg.

Ways Of Using Eggs

Cool, Clean, and dry, describe desirable places for storing eggs. Never wash them until ready for use as the protective covering which keeps them fresh will be destroyed. Keep in cool place but away from strong odors which they absorb rapidly. Left-over egg yolks may be kept by covering with water or milk. The whites have only to be covered tightly and left in a cool place.

Food Values In Eggs

The often used term "good egg" is indeed correct from a nutritional standpoint for they are a good source of minerals, protein, or building food, and helps supply us with vitamins A, B, and D.

Uses Of Eggs

It has long been said that "eggs are friendly to all foods" because the imaginative cook can combine them in so many dishes included in our meals. They are used in cakes and souffles as leavening agents, as thickening agents in puddings, croquettes are held together by their coating or binding action and the preparation of mayonnaise is dependent upon its emulsifying action.

Ways Of Preparing Eggs

As is true of other proteins, eggs should be cooked at a low temperature since intense heat toughens and makes them hard. Hot liquids must be added slowly or the eggs will coagulate in the mixing process. If eggs are to be whipped, room temperature is important for greater yield and easier whipping.

The cook only has to use a little imagination to combine other foods with eggs to produce tempting dishes for breakfast, lunch or supper.

The Foods Class plans to use these basic principles of egg cookery in their preparation of simple, attractive and well balanced meals.

Bible Class Holds Meeting

The Bible Study Class of the Woman's Society of Christian Service met in the ladies parlor of the Montevallo Methodist Church, Monday afternoon at 3:30. Rev. M. L. Triplett is teaching the study, "The Book of Acts". This study is to continue throughout the year, meeting on the first Monday afternoon of each month. A very cordial welcome is extended to all the women in the community who would like to attend these interesting meetings.

There's the way Chevrolet looks. Nice clean, curved lines—like cars in the high-price field! Chevrolet's Body by Fisher sets the pace among low-priced cars.

There's the way Chevrolet rides and handles. The smoothness and big-car comfort of Uni-tized-Knee-Action. Bigger brakes—biggest in the field—for safer, surer stops. Finest no-shift and standard driving at lowest cost with Powerglide or Synchro-Mesh transmission.

There's the way Chevrolet saves. Chevrolet is the lowest-priced line in the field and the savings go on and on with low operating costs.

B. R. T. Opposes Amendment 7

Birmingham, Nov. 29—Formation of the Citizens Committee on Constitutional Amendments to fight for defeat of Amendment No. 7 in the December 11 referendum over the state was announced today.

J. P. Knight, of Montgomery, widely known legislative representative of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen in Alabama, was appointed chairman of the committee.

The proposed amendment, Mr. Knight charged, "is one of the most virulent pieces of legislation ever proposed in Alabama."

He said it has for its purpose the hampering of citizens in their right to file damage suits against railroads and other foreign, or out-of-state, corporations.

Under present laws, a railroad or any other so-called foreign corporation can be sued in any county of the state where it does business.

Under the proposed amendment No. 7, a legal action could be brought against the foreign corporation only where the accident, or basis for the suit occurred, or in the county of the plaintiff's residence, if the foreign corporation does business in the latter county.

"This amendment," Mr. Knight continued, "limits the area in which suits against foreign corporations can be filed."

He said the present law has existed without change since 1875, and operates to the benefit of the citizens of Alabama.

"Under the proposed amendment," Mr. Knight said, "it is required that the same law applicable as to place to sue domestic corporations, also apply to foreign corporations."

"The effect of the proposed amendment will be to restrict the right as to the place to sue foreign corporations in Alabama from that which existed since the Constitution of 1875."

Committee members charged the proposed amendment was "contrived by corporation lobbyists to protect railroads and other foreign corporations." They branded it "a vicious proposal to deprive the citizens of Alabama of the rights they now have."

Mr. Knight is state legislative representative of the BRT. He is also joint legislative committee chairman for the operating railroad brotherhood in Alabama.

He said the railroad brotherhoods are supporting the newly formed Citizens Committee on Constitutional Amendments in its fight against Amendment No. 7.

Mobile Plans Gala Azalea Trail Celebration

Mobile — Eager to attract a large portion of the nation's winter tourist traffic to Mobile, the Azalea Trail, Inc., is planning America's greatest floral festival in February and March.

The 1952 Azalea Trail Festival, an annual event in this interesting old Gulf Coast city is adding big names and big-time entertainment to its magnificent 30-mile trail of brilliant azaleas and other attractions.

Colleen Kay Hutchins, "Miss America for 1952," will be queen of the 1952 Mobile Azalea Trail Festival.

Approximately 15,000 persons saw Yolande Betheze, Miss America for 1951, when she was crowned queen of the Azalea Trail last February in historic Bienville Square and Walter Cook, trail president, has announced the coronation program may move in 1952 to Ladd Stadium which seats 36,000 persons.

Mobile's three-week Azalea Trail Festival sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce in 1951 attracted approximately 300,000 persons and with a larger, more spectacular program in 1952 we expect to break all attendance records" Cook said.

Edward G. Robinson will be among the feature stars during the festival program and will appear in the stage production "Darkness at Noon." Negotiations are underway to have Miss Margaret Truman in a vocal concert during the festival. Ted Malone, who covered the 1951 Alabama deep sea fishing rodeo in Mobile last August, is expected back for the trail festival. Other big-name attractions are being considered.

The Mardi Gras celebration, the oldest and one of the largest carnivals in the nation, will coincide with the festival which starts early in February and will continue well into March. The carnival celebration will be underway from middle of February through February 26, Mardi Gras or Fat Tuesday.

Bellingrath Gardens, sixty acres of brilliant azaleas and camellias in a magnificent natural setting, is a year-round attraction but during the trail season is at the height of its beauty and attracts thousands of flower lovers.

During the festival, tours of old French and Spanish homes with the South's finest displays of iron lacework and interesting antique furnishings are scheduled, art exhibits will be held, magnificent private gardens will be opened to the public, Spring Hill College, with one of the city's finest azalea displays will have entertainments, in fact, Mobile is going all-out to show its visitors what a grand time can be had down South, suh, and particularly in Mobile.

Blood Mobile To Be In Montevallo On January 25

The Montevallo community is committed to taking care of the Blood Bank Unit on January 25, 1952. At this time we have agreed to have ready, enough blood donors to insure a quota of 165 pints of blood. A doctor will be on hand to give a careful physical test of ability to give blood. Some will not be able to do so. For this reason we must get at least 300 pledges. We need the help of everyone to put across the important program. It is hoped that every individual in this whole community between the ages of 18 and 59 will be approached. We are told that every person in this age group is a potential donor. Persons under 21 will need to have the consent of parents or guardian.

Columbiana went over the top handsomely on November 16.

Pledge cards will be available at the churches next Sunday. Your clubs will be ready to take your pledge. Cards will be sent home by school children, and workers will call at homes not reached in these other ways.

FOR SALE — Four and three room units, 150 feet from paved highway 25, and 8 blocks from Alabama College campus. Almost new, equipped with natural gas heaters and electric water heaters also has hard-wood floors. For details write A. L. Wilson, Montevallo, Alabama or phone 6886.

Those dern Yankees always get the last word one way or another. Most of those modern replicas of Confederate caps which are currently being sold carry a Union label.

Holiday Homes Tour in Birmingham

The following houses are included in the tour of Holiday Houses sponsored each year by Independent Presbyterian Church of Birmingham. The tour is from 11 until 6 o'clock, on December 8 and from 2 until 6 on December 9. Tea will be served at the church during those hours and guests are urged to visit the church during that time.

The homes of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Hodo, Mr. and Mrs. William Lathrop, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Ormand Sommerville, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter K. Dean will be shown with unusual and original Christmas decorations.

The Club is included on the tour and a wonderful view of downtown Birmingham will be seen from this point. Price of the tour is $1.50 and tickets may be bought at the church office or from any member of the church.

FOR SALE—Three shoats, 175 pounds or better, ready to kill, priced right. Also seven pure bred Duroc pigs, ready for delivering latter part of December, with papers $16.00, without papers $15.00. —R. M. Byrd, Route 1, phone 6019 Montevallo. 11-29-2tp

RAPID GROWTH—that's one thing this young fellow has had in common with telephone service since his babyhood.

ACTUALLY, in just five years the number of local telephones Alabamians can call has more than doubled. And this year's increase in Alabama telephones is expected to reach about 32,000.

BEST OF ALL, this bigger, better "package" of service has gone up on the average far less than prices in general... and less than the cost of providing the service.

ALWAYS one of your biggest bargains, telephone service is today an even better buy than it was ten years ago, and a smaller part of your family budget.

State of Alabama A PROCLAMATION by the GOVERNOR

WHEREAS, the Legislature of Alabama, at the Regular Session 1951, ordered an election to be held by the qualified electors of the State of Alabama upon a certain proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which said amendment is herein set out, and ordered that said election be held on the first Tuesday after the expiration of three months after final adjournment of the session of the Legislature at which such amendment was proposed; and

WHEREAS, the first Tuesday following the expiration of three months after the final adjournment of the session of the Legislature at which such amendment was proposed will be and occur on Tuesday, December 11, 1951; and

WHEREAS, notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment is required by law, and by the provisions of the act submitting the amendment, to be given by a proclamation of the Governor to be published in each county in the State of Alabama once a week for four successive weeks next preceding the day appointed for the election;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Gordon Persons, as Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that on Tuesday, the 11th day of December 1951, an election will be held at the several polling places within the State of Alabama, in the manner and form provided by law, upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901:

"1. DEFINITIONS. Wherever used in this amendment, unless a different meaning clearly appears in the context, the following terms, whether used in the singular or plural, shall be given the following respective interpretations: "Municipality" means any incorporated city or town in Colbert County, Alabama; "project" means any land and any building or other improvement thereon, and all real and personal properties deemed necessary in connection therewith, whether or not now in existence, which shall be suitable for use by the following or by any combination of two or more thereof: (a) any industry for the manufacturing, processing, or assembling of any agricultural or manufactured products, and (b) any commercial enterprise in storing, warehousing, distributing, or selling products of agriculture, mining or industry, but does not include facilities designed for the sale or distribution to the public of electricity, gas, water or telephone or other services commonly classified as public utilities; "Governing body" means the board or body in which the legislative powers of the municipality are vested; "Mortgage" means a mortgage or a mortgage and deed of trust.

"2. LEGISLATIVE INTENT. It is the intent of this amendment to authorize municipalities of Colbert County, Alabama, to acquire, own, and lease projects for the purpose of promoting industry and trade by inducing manufacturing, industrial and commercial enterprises to locate in Colbert County, Alabama, promoting the use of the agricultural products and natural resources of said county, and promoting a sound and proper balance in said county between agriculture, commerce and industry. It is intended that each project be self-liquidating. It is not intended hereby to authorize any municipality itself to operate any manufacturing, industrial or commercial enterprise. This amendment shall be liberally construed in conformity with the said intent.

"3. ADDITIONAL POWERS CONFERRED ON MUNICIPALITIES. In addition to any other powers which it may now have, each municipality in Colbert County, Alabama, shall have the following powers: (1) To acquire, whether by construction, purchase, a gift or lease, and to equip one or more projects, which shall be located within said county and may be located within or without the municipality, or partially within or partially without the municipality, but which shall not be located more than fifteen miles outside of the corporate limits of the municipality; (2) To lease to others any or all of its projects for such rentals and upon such terms and conditions as the governing body may deem advisable and as shall not conflict with the provisions of this amendment; and (3) To issue revenue bonds for the purpose of defraying the cost of acquiring, by construction and purchase, or either thereof, and of equipping any project, and of securing the payment of such bonds, all as hereinafter provided. No municipality shall have the power to operate any project as a business or in any manner except as lessor thereof.

"4. BONDS ISSUED TO FINANCE PROJECTS. All bonds issued by a municipality under authority of this amendment shall be limited obligations of the municipality the principal of and interest on which shall be payable solely out of the project to be financed from the lease of the project to finance which the bonds are issued. Bonds and interest coupons issued under authority of this amendment shall never constitute an indebtedness of the municipality within the meaning of any state constitutional provision or statutory limitation, and shall never constitute nor give rise to a pecuniary liability of the municipality or a charge against its general credit or taxing powers, and such fact shall be plainly stated in the face of each such bond. Such bonds may be executed and delivered at any time and from time to time, may be in such form and denominations, may be of such tenor, may be in registered or bearer form, may be payable in such installments and at such time or times not exceeding thirty years from their date, may be payable at such place or places, may bear interest at such rate or rates payable at such place or places and evidenced in such manner, and may contain such provisions not inconsistent herewith, all as shall be provided in the proceedings of the governing body whereunder the bonds shall be authorized to be issued. The bonds issued hereunder shall be subject to the general provisions of law, presently existing or that may hereafter be enacted, respecting the execution and delivery of the bonds of any such municipality and respecting the retaining of options of redemption in proceedings authorizing the issuance of municipal securities. Any bonds issued under the authority of this amendment may be sold at public or private sale in such manner and from time to time as may be determined by the governing body to be most advantageous; and the municipality may pay all expenses, premiums and commissions which the governing body may deem necessary or advantageous in connection with the authorization, sale and issuance thereof. All bonds issued under the authority of this amendment and all interest coupons applicable thereto shall be construed to be negotiable instruments, despite the fact that they are payable solely from a specified source.

"5. SECURITY FOR BONDS. The principal of and interest on any bonds issued under the authority of this amendment shall be secured by a pledge of the revenues out of which such bonds shall be made payable, may be secured by a mortgage covering all or any part of the project from which the revenues so pledged may be derived, and may be secured by a pledge of the lease of such project. The proceeds under which such bonds are authorized to be issued or any such mortgage may contain any agreements and provisions customarily contained in instruments securing bonds, including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, provisions respecting the fixing and collection of rents for any project covered by such proceedings or mortgage, the terms to be incorporated in the lease of such project, the maintenance and insurance of such project, the creation and maintenance of special funds from the revenues from such project, and the rights and remedies available in event of default to the bondholders or to the trustee under a mortgage, all as the governing body shall deem advisable and as shall not be in conflict with the provisions of this amendment; provided, however, that in making any such agreements or provisions any such municipality shall not have the power to obligate itself except with respect to the project and the application of the revenues therefrom, and shall not have the power to incur a pecuniary liability or a charge upon its general credit or against its taxing powers. The proceedings authorizing any bonds hereunder and any mortgage securing such bonds may provide that, in the event of default in payment of the principal of or the interest on such bonds or in the performance of any agreement contained in such proceedings or mortgage, such payment and performance may be enforced by mandamus or by the appointment of a receiver in equity with power to charge and collect rents and to apply the revenues from the project in accordance with such proceedings or the provisions of such mortgage. Any such mortgage may provide also that in the event of default in such payment or the violation of any agreement contained in the mortgage, the mortgage may be foreclosed either by sale at public outcry or by proceedings in equity; and may provide that any trustee under such mortgage shall be the holder of any of the bonds secured thereby may become the purchaser at any foreclosure sale if the highest bidder therefor. No breach of any such agreement shall impose any pecuniary liability upon a municipality or any charge upon its general credit or against its taxing powers.

"6. REQUIREMENTS RESPECTING LEASE. Prior to the leasing of any project, the governing body must determine and find the following: The amount necessary in each year to pay the principal of and the interest on the bonds proposed to be issued to finance such project; the amount necessary to be paid each year into any reserve funds for the purpose of providing for the retirement of the proposed bonds and the maintenance of the project; and, unless the terms under which the project is to be leased provide that the lessee shall maintain the project and carry all proper insurance with respect thereto, the estimated cost of maintaining the project in good repair and keeping it properly insured. The determinations and findings of the governing body required to be made in the preceding sentence shall be set forth in the proceedings under which the proposed bonds are to be issued; and prior to the issuance of such bonds, the municipality shall lease the project to a lessee under any agreement conditions upon completion of the project and providing for payment to the municipality of such rentals as, upon the basis of such determinations and findings, may be sufficient (a) to pay the principal of and interest on the bonds issued to finance the project, (b) to build up and maintain any reserves deemed by the governing body to be advisable in connection therewith, and (c) unless the agreement of lease obligates the lessee to pay for the maintenance and insurance of the project, to pay the costs of maintaining the project in good repair and keeping it properly insured.

"7. REFUNDING BONDS. Any bonds issued hereunder and at any time outstanding may at any time and from time to time be refunded by any such municipality by the issuance of its refunding bonds in such amount as the governing body may deem necessary but not exceeding an amount sufficient to refund the principal of the bonds so to be refunded, together with any unpaid interest thereon and any premiums and commissions necessary to be paid in connection therewith. Any such refunding may be effected whether the bonds to be refunded shall have then matured or shall thereafter mature, either by sale of the refunding bonds or by the application of the proceeds thereof for the payment of the bonds to be refunded thereby, or by exchange of the refunding bonds for the bonds to be refunded thereby; provided, that the holders of any bonds to be refunded shall not be compelled without their consent to surrender their bonds for payment or exchange prior to the date on which they are payable or, if they are called for redemption, prior to the date on which they are by their terms subject to redemption. Any refunding bonds issued under the authority of this amendment shall be payable solely from the revenues out of which the bonds to be refunded thereby were payable, and shall be subject to the provisions contained in paragraph 4 of this amendment and may be secured in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 5 of this amendment.

"8. USE OF PROCEEDS FROM SALE OF BONDS. The proceeds from the sale of any bonds issued under authority of this amendment shall be applied only for the purpose for which the bonds were issued; provided, however, that any accrued interest and premium received in any such sale shall be applied to the payment of the principal of or the interest on the bonds sold; and provided, further, that if for any reason any portion of such proceeds shall not be needed for the purpose for which the bonds were issued, then such unneeded portion of said proceeds shall be applied to the payment of the principal of or the interest on said bonds, or to the acquiring and equipping any project shall be deemed to include the following: the actual cost of the construction of any part of a project which may be constructed, including the architect's and engineer's fees; the purchase price of any part of a project that may be acquired by purchase; the purchase price of the equipment for any project; the actual cost of installing such equipment; all expenses in connection with the authorization, sale and issuance of the bonds to finance such acquisition and equipment; and the interest on such bonds for a reasonable time prior to construction, during construction, and for not exceeding six months after completion of construction.

"9. BONDS MADE LEGAL INVESTMENTS. Bonds issued under the provisions of this amendment shall be legal investments for fiduciaries investing trust funds and for savings banks and insurance companies organized under the laws of this state.

"10. EXEMPTION FROM TAXATION. The bonds authorized by this amendment and the income therefrom, all mortgages executed as security therefor, all lease agreements made pursuant to the provisions hereof, and all projects and revenues derived from any lease thereof shall be exempt from all taxation in the State of Alabama.

"11. CONSTRUCTION OF AMENDMENT. Neither this amendment nor anything herein contained shall be construed as a restriction or limitation upon any powers which a municipality might otherwise have under the constitution and laws of this state, but shall be construed as cumulative; and this amendment shall not be construed as requiring an election by the voters of a municipality prior to the issuance of bonds hereunder by such municipality.

"12. NO NOTICE OR PUBLICATION REQUIRED. No notice to or consent or approval by any governmental body or public officer shall be required as a prerequisite to the sale or issuance of any bonds or the making of a mortgage under the authority of this amendment and no ordinance or resolution adopted by a governing body under authority hereof shall be required to be published in any manner, any other law to the contrary notwithstanding.

"13. This amendment shall be self-executing and in no wise shall it be construed as limiting, modifying or repealing any of the provisions of any constitutional amendment relating only to Colbert County, Alabama.

"14. SEVERABILITY. If any section, clause, provision or portion of this amendment shall be held to be invalid or unconstitutional by any court of competent jurisdiction, such holding shall not affect any other section, clause or provision of this amendment which is not in and of itself unconstitutional."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 11th day of December 1951, upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 11th day of December 1951, in each county in the State of Alabama in a newspaper published in said county.

Polio Causes Six Deaths

Montgomery—Poliomyelitis killed residents of four Alabama counties during the first six months of this year. The announcement was made by the State Department of Health.

Of the six polio deaths reported during that six-month period from the entire state, three, or exactly half, were reported from Jefferson County. Houston, Mobile and Tuscaloosa counties reported one each.

The State Health Department announcement pointed out that its figures were based upon provisional reports prepared by the Department's Bureau of Vital Statistics. They may differ slightly from the final reports not yet available.

This amendment would put about 100% more Senators on State payrolls. Their salaries and expenses would cost the people of Alabama an estimated $100,000 yearly. This would mean more taxes or reduction in essential governmental services. Let's spend State funds for good government—not to put more politicians on State payrolls!

State of Alabama
A PROCLAMATION
by the

—15—
WHEREAS, the Legislature of Alabama, at the Regular Session 1951, ordered an election to be held by the qualified electors of the State of Alabama upon a certain proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which said amendment is herein set out, and ordered that said election be held on the first Tuesday after the expiration of three months after final adjournment of the session of the Legislature at which such amendment was proposed; and

WHEREAS, the first Tuesday following the expiration of three months after the final adjournment of the Session of the Legislature at which such amendment was proposed will be and occur on Tuesday, December 11, 1951; and

WHEREAS, notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment is required by law, and by the provisions of the act submitting the amendment, to be given by a proclamation of the Governor to be published in each county in the State of Alabama once a week for four successive weeks next preceding the day appointed for the election;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Gordon Persons, as Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that on Tuesday, the 11th day of December 1951, an election will be held at the several polling places within the State of Alabama, in the manner and form provided by law, upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901:

"Any provision of the Constitution or laws of the State of Alabama to the contrary notwithstanding, any municipality in Walker County, or any one or more of them, shall have full and continuing power and authority, without any election or approval other than the approval of its governing body, to do any one or more of the following:

"1. To purchase, construct, lease, or otherwise acquire real property, plants, buildings, factories, works, facilities, machinery and equipment of any kind.

"2. To lease, sell for cash or on credit, exchange, or give and convey any such property described in subdivision 1 above, to any person, firm, association or corporation.

"3. To promote local industrial, commercial or agricultural development and the location of new industries or businesses therein.

"4. To become a stockholder in any corporation, association or company.

"5. To lend its credit or to grant public moneys and things of value in aid of, or to, any individual, firm, association, or corporation whatsoever.

"6. To become indebted and to issue and sell interest bearing bonds, warrants (which may be payable from funds to be realized in future years), notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness, to a principal amount not exceeding fifty per cent of the assessed value of taxable property therein as determined for state taxation, in order to secure funds for the purchase, construction, lease or acquisition of any of the property described in subdivision 1 above or to be used in furtherance of any of the other powers or authorities granted in this amendment. Such obligations or evidences of indebtedness may (in addition to any pledge or pledges authorized by subdivision 8 of this amendment) be issued upon the full faith and credit of the municipality or may be limited as to the source of their payment.

"7. To levy and collect annually, in addition to all other taxes now authorized or permitted, a special tax or taxes of not exceeding two percent on the value of all taxable property therein as determined for state taxation, in the same manner as other county or municipal taxes are levied and collected. Such tax may be upon all property in any municipality in Walker County or upon all property in any district the boundaries of which the governing body of such municipality shall describe and which it shall determine to be specially improved and benefited by any proposed use or expenditure of the proceeds of such tax.

"8. To pledge to the payment of any bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness the annual proceeds from any such special tax or taxes and to obligate itself irrevocably to continue to levy and collect such taxes annually until such obligations or evidences of indebtedness are paid in full and to pledge thereto any rental or sales proceeds of property leased or sold by it.

"9. To create a public authority or corporation having such powers, managed and governed by such board or governing body and subject to such limitations as the governing body of any municipality in Walker County may impose, by approving and filing a certificate to that effect in the office of the Judge of Probate or the Secretary of State, or their respective successors in function, and to delegate to such public authority or corporation, and its board or governing body all powers and authority conferred in this amendment upon any such municipality.

"The recital in any bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness that they were issued pursuant to this amendment or that they were issued to provide funds to be used in furtherance of any power or authority herein authorized, or that any special tax herein authorized has been pledged to the payment thereof shall be conclusive; no purchaser or holder thereof need inquire further; and the levy and collection of such tax shall continue until the principal of and interest on such obligations or evidences of indebtedness shall have been paid in full. The bonds, warrants, notes or other obligations or evidences of indebtedness issued hereunder shall not be considered an indebtedness of any municipality in Walker County for the purpose of determining the borrowing capacity of such municipality under sections 224 and 225 of the Constitution; and the taxes herein authorized shall be in addition to those provided for or permitted in sections 215 and 216 of the Constitution and all amendments thereto.

"This amendment shall be self-executing; but the Legislature shall have the right and power by general, special or local act to adopt laws supplemental to this amendment or in furtherance of the purposes and objectives herein above set forth."

I further direct and proclaim that notice of this election upon Tuesday the 11th day of December 1951, upon the above set forth amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama of 1901, be given by publishing the same once a week for four successive weeks next preceding Tuesday the 11th day of December 1951, in each county in the State of Alabama in a newspaper published in said county.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and have caused the Great Seal of the State of Alabama to be affixed by the Secretary of State, at the Capitol in the City of Montgomery, on this the 1st day of October 1951.

SOUTHERN CITY, U.S.A.

"Southern City," U.S.A. Our way of expressing as one unit the vast Southeast area of 100,000 square miles and 6,300,000 people served by the four associated electric power companies of The Southern Company system.

Symbol of the South's rising agricultural prosperity is the mechanical cotton picker. Greater farm mechanization and diversification, encouraged by the four operating companies of The Southern Company system, are building greater prosperity for the area which comprises "Southern City," U.S.A.

Cover crops that provide year-round grazing, like crimson clover, blue lupine, ladino and lespedeza are painting a prosperous present and a rosy future for the livestock raisers and dairy farmers of the South. These magical crops, which nourish the soil as abundantly as they feed the cattle, are one of many developments that have more than tripled Southern City's agricultural income in the past ten years.

The four associated electric power companies of The Southern Company system are working constantly with county agents, universities and agricultural experiment stations to encourage farm mechanization, wider diversification of crops, greater prosperity for the farmer.

The entire nation is watching Southern City's remarkable progress in agriculture, industry, commerce. Over 100,000 stockholders of The Southern Company, located in every state in the Union, are vitally interested because this progress assures a constant and growing demand for electric power—a demand which, by conservative estimate, will be doubled in the next ten years.

The South and The Southern Company are both growing . . . together!

Write the agricultural development departments of any of the four operating companies for further information.

Dr. A. L. Crabb To Visit The College

An outstanding writer and leader in educational affairs will come to the campus of Alabama College at Montevallo on Friday, December 14, to talk to Kappa Delta Pi, national honorary educational society. He is Dr. A. L. Crabb, editor of the Peabody Journal and author of eight historical novels and many other shorter pieces.

Dr. Crabb's address will honor Dr. T. H. Napier, dean of the College, who retires at the end of the current school year.

The Kappa Delta Pi dinner will also honor six new members who will be presented at that time.

While on campus the eminent historical writer will also address the entire student body at which time he will talk on the changes which have come about in the writing profession through the years.

A native Kentuckian, Dr. Crabb was born in Bowling Green. He attended Bethel College, the State Normal School at Bowling Green and served as principal of elementary schools in Kentucky and Louisiana.

For six years Dr. Crabb taught at Kentucky State Teacher's College and was later Dean of the College for two years. He received his master's from Columbiana University and his doctorate from Peabody.

Thompson P T A Christmas Bazaar

The Parent-Teacher's Association here has completed plans for a Christmas Bazaar to be given at the community "Y" on December 14. The bazaar will open at noon on that day and will be continued throughout the afternoon and evening.

Christmas shopping lists may be completed at the various gift booths that will be in operation. There will be many home-made items for sale as well as interesting merchandise in the country store, the white elephant booth and the food shops.

Turkeys will be given away and there will be several door prizes. There is no admission cost.

This event is being given in order to raise funds for a steam table for the cafeteria and to complete other projects that have been set up by the P.T.A.

Annual Concert At High School

The Montevallo High School Music Department will present its annual Christmas concert on Friday night, December 14 at 8:00 o'clock in the High School Auditorium.

New arrangements of familiar Christmas music will be used by both the band and the glee club as well as several numbers not previously used here.

The concert is free to the public and we hope a large number will be able to attend.

Post Office Gets New Paint Job

Montevallo Post Office building has just been given a thorough renovation of new inside painting and finishing.

This is the first complete job of repainting the building has had since it was constructed about 15 years ago.

Many other minor repairs were done along with the painting which makes our federal building good as new.

Postmaster Morris Watson reports that he has received many comments upon the improved appearance.

Sign Pledge For Blood Donation

Montevallo residents were urged today to sign pledge cards now and let the Red Cross decide January 25 whether they are physically able to donate to the blood program.

"Don't try to decide on the basis of rumors about who is able to contribute blood," leaders of the local blood program declared.

"Sign your donor pledge card," they asked, "and the Red Cross will examine you carefully to decide whether you are able to give to the program."

Miss Laura Hadley, chairman of the Montevallo drive, and her fellow workers stressed that skilled personnel will use the most modern techniques and equipment in receiving blood donations here January 25.

A qualified physician, assisted by registered nurses and technicians, will supervise all technical aspects of the donating process.

Miss Hadley emphasized that donating blood is a simple, painless procedure that has no harmful after effects. She said it does

137 T B Cases In Shelby County

Now is the time to plan a year-round fight against tuberculosis, a disease that even though it should not be tolerated at all, has a total of 137 Shelby County people in its grip right now.

Plans to fight the disease throughout next year depend on the success of the Christmas Seal Sale now in full swing, said Richard J. Ozley, chairman of the tuberculosis work and seal sale here.

The chairman said health department records show 137 Shelby County citizens are known to have TB and 4 of our local people died with it during 1950.

"This is a shameful record, because tuberculosis can be prevented. Unlike several major causes of death, TB is the great killer that medical science has found the answer to. The missing link, the only means now of stopping the disease in its track, lies in the hands of the people.

"When enough people know the facts about TB, its cause and how it is spread, only then will we make fast progress against it. The medical profession has done a good job on tuberculosis, but they are the first to say final victory over the germ will never come unless more and more people wake up and take an active part in its eradication.

"The easiest and surest way everyone can help is by buying and using Christmas Seals right now. Money contributed during this, the only fund raising drive for TB during the year, is used to treat, hospitalize and care for as many victims as possible, and to spread facts about the disease to as many people as will lend an interested ear.

"If you haven't bought Christmas Seals, you're taking a chance with the safety of your home. Help plan for a more active campaign against this killer by buying and using Christmas Seals now."

Jim Reeves Has Insurance Office At Calera Motor Co.

J. J. (Jim) Reeves has set up his headquarters office in Calera Motor Company Building in Calera. Mr. Reeves has recently purchased 500 acres near Calera and plans to build here in the future. Mr. Reeves stated that he will represent the State Farm Insurance Companies in selling auto, life and fire insurance, as well as residence and farm liability insurance. Mr. Reeves said he was extremely proud of his company's record as the world's largest writer of full coverage auto insurance, with over two million policies in force and he stated his company celebrated their five millionth claim payment this year. Mr. Reeves has many friends in Shelby County, and has spent the past several days visiting around and renewing his acquaintances. He invites everyone to come to see him at his new office.

Brown Wood Works Enlarging Its Line Of Wood Products

The Brown Wood Works of Montevallo has started to manufacture a new line of door and window finishing materials. According to Mr. J. A. Brown, Jr., the new product is finished to size for finishing windows and doors including facings.

The Montevallo Company has for the past several years manufactured kiln dried mouldings and lumber for the building trade in the South and plans to continue this operation with the addition of the new product. According to Mr. Brown their products are now being sold all over the country in some quantities, however, most of their products are marked in the southeastern states. With the addition of the new product plans call for an expansion in their sales territory.

The Brown Wood Works are to be commended for their effort to increase the industrial jobs and payrolls in this area. This industry their products are marketed in the has contributed much to this community in the past by providing jobs and payrolls.

Dr. Charley invites all Montevallo citizens to make their contributions to the Goodfellows, and thereby help to bring Christmas cheer to many underprivileged children in Shelby County. This is a county-wide movement which is headed by Dr. Acker for the Montevallo community.

Survey Started On Bessemer Road

Road Commissioner Fred McClendon informs us that the work of surveying on the Bessemer-Montevallo Road has been started.

This road has been put on the county farm-to-market system by the County Board of Revenue.

Mr. McClendon also stated that the contractor has moved in and is getting set up for putting black top on the Dry Valley Road.

Thus it appears that if present plans do not hit a snag, Montevallo will be in good shape for roads in the next year or so.

Road Bond Issue Wins In State By Small Majority

It appears that the result of voting in the state Tuesday gave a majority of about 20,000 in favor of the $25,000,000 road bond issue, with a total vote of just over 100,000 being registered.

Shelby County went in favor of the bond issue by an overwhelming majority.

EVERYTHING'S "COPOSETIC"

Recently the Council of State Chambers of Commerce issued a story to the press listing the voting record of members of the 82nd Congress with regard to how each member voted on measures of economy versus spending. Needless to say Alabama's delegation as a whole were listed as spenders. The Birmingham News in their edition of December 11 carried a report by their Washington Bureau which attempts to justify the attitude of Alabama's delegation to Congress in supporting spending legislation. Special emphasis was placed on defending Senator Lister Hill.

The News explains that in every case Alabama's votes were cast with the "Democratic Majority", which according to the News is the story which was left unsaid by the Council of State Chambers of Commerce in their report. This according to the News justifies our senators and representatives voting for spending.

We imagine the Council of State Chambers of Commerce doesn't understand that we of Alabama are willing to forgive anyone for stealing, robbing, corruption, taxing, spending, socialism, or anything else if it comes under the heading of "Democrat". To tell the truth, we can't understand this attitude of the people of Alabama and the Birmingham News either.

JUST WONDERING

Vulcan's column of Tuesday's Birmingham News carried an item under the heading of "Just Wondering" which read, "If I were a recruiting chief to get a live-wire college president for a big Eastern institution, I wouldn't look outside Alabama. . . .Alabama is fortunate to have some alert young college administrators who are putting their schools on the map—especially among the country's educational leaders." We pass this on to our readers with the comment "Just Wondering".

Mr. J. E. Raines, District Superintendent of Liberty National Life and Brown Service Insurance Company has moved to Montevallo this week. Mr. Raines and his family are living in the residence formerly occupied by Ralph Henderson.

Butterworth-Green Wedding Saturday

Mrs. Orlena Butterworth, Calera, announces the marriage of her daughter, Hazel, to Marvin J. Green, of Pensacola, Florida. The wedding was solemnized on Saturday, November 24, at 1:30 p.m. at the home of the bride. Rev. Joe Anglin performed the ceremony. Only relatives and close friends attended. The bride wore a gray suit with brown accessories. She wore a red carnation corsage. The couple left immediately for a short wedding trip. Upon returning home, the bride will remain with her mother while Mr. Green will return to Pensacola where he is stationed at the Naval Air Station.

Among the candidates for degrees is Joseph Pickens Bridges, of Montevallo, who will receive a Bachelor of Science degree in agricultural engineering at Auburn, December 15.

On The Farms Of Shelby County

On recent trips to Selma and to Montgomery we were not able to see green fields to the extent they are found in Shelby County. Reports from travelers indicate our county is well up among the leaders in developing winter grazing. So far so good!

Interesting too, is the fact that seventy-seven district cooperators used P.M.A. assistance to get certified Ky. 31 fescue seed for plantings of from four to forty acres each, this year! Many others bought enough seed for one to four acres each on purchase orders. Most acreage planted this year, however, was planted with locally grown or independently purchased seed.

On Friday, December 7, we had the pleasure of making a field trip with Ed Rush and his veteran farm trainees. The group of twenty farmers visited three farms.

At Eastis brothers' farm plantings of fescue made in the falls of 1949, 1950, and 1951 were studied. A reseeding stand of button clover was also seen.

Mr. Homer Jackson's use of fescue for grazing as well as for water control was subject of the next study. Twenty-three acres of newly planted fescue and ladino were found to be beginning to come up from twenty pounds of fescue and two pounds of ladino seed per acre well fertilized and cultipacked.

Mansel Wolf's famous eight acre fescue pasture was so good that one young trainee said feelingly "Boy, I didn't know there could be a pasture like that!"

Friend, lots of folks are learning that, and better than that, are making pastures like it for themselves.

988 Deaths in State Result of Accidents

Montgomery — Accidents of all kinds killed Alabamians during the first six months of 1951 at an average rate of about one every four and one half hours.

The State Department of Health revealed today that 988 deaths in this state were attributed to accidental causes during that period. Of this total, 666 were of white people and 322 of Negroes.

The announcement pointed out that its figures were based upon provisional reports prepared by the Department's Bureau of Vital Statistics. These may differ slightly from the final reports not yet available.

Farm Mutual Auto Rates Reduced

Local agents for the State Farm Mutual Auto Insurance Company have been notified that the company's new reduced rates in Alabama are now in effect. Home offices for the firm are at Bloomington, Illinois. State Farm is represented locally by J. J. (Jim) Reeves. The reductions effective in this area vary by coverages. For instance, in Shelby County, which is rated as rural, the comprehensive coverage reduction amounts to 22 percent and 80/20 collision coverage amounts to 15 percent. This is the fourth time in four years that State Farm has cut auto insurance rates in Alabama.

How To Treat A Christmas Tree

Facts about Christmas trees are interesting to all members of the family.

A frequent question is: How many Christmas trees are produced in the United States each year? The answer is: Over 100,000 acres of woodland, owned mostly by farmers, are devoted solely to growing Christmas trees.

Balsam fir and Douglas fir are the varieties in greatest demand for the Christmas trade, the foresters say. Other popular trees, in order of production, are: Black spruce, red cedar, white spruce, Scotch pine and southern pine, red spruce, Virginia pine, white fir and Norway spruce.

The most practical, satisfactory, and convenient method for reducing the Christmas tree fire hazard and preventing the needles from discoloring or falling is to keep the tree standing in water, according to Mrs. Rebecca McGaughey, vocational home economics teacher at Montevallo High School.

Householders should take all possible precautions against fire around the Christmas tree, including the elimination of defective electrical connections, and avoidance of the accumulation of combustible decorations on or beneath the tree. Also the tree should be placed so that its accidental burning would not ignite curtains or other combustible furnishings, nor trap the occupants of a room or building.

BEST OF ALL, this bigger, better "package" of service has gone up on the average far less than prices in general . . . and less than the cost of providing the service.

College Students Go Home To Spend Christmas Holidays With Families

After a week packed full of fun as a Christmas stocking, Alabama College students scurried home at noon, Wednesday to spend the Yule holidays with their families.

The girls will begin the New Year at home also, returning to the campus on Wednesday, January 2 just in time for their 1:30 p.m. classes that afternoon.

While most people connected with the college seized the Christmas holidays as a chance to seek out some new scenery, it was homecoming for the president, Dr. John T. Caldwell.

Dr. Caldwell, traveling over the United States on a Carnegie Foundation study grant, returned home Tuesday night to spend the holidays with his family. He will continue his studies after the new year begins.

The departures for home climaxed a week of festivities for the students. Dormitories lavishly decorated with lighted trees, holly, mistletoe and candles were the scenes of various Christmas parties. These were given by the dormitories as a whole and by individual groups.

Several campus organizations sponsored special activities also. The International Relations Club entertained foreign students at a party Saturday. A feature of this program was the singing of carols from many lands, including South America, France, Germany, Japan and China.

The Y.W.C.A. presented a vesper service of Christmas music on Sunday, December 16. They also gave a party for the servants on Tuesday night before the holidays.

Since no one can resist singing when hit by the Christmas spirit, the recreation association sponsored a caroling tour on Friday, December 14 in a downpour of rain. The tour took students primarily to faculty homes.

A program of Christmas music was presented to students again at convocation Tuesday when the Glee Club sang.

FHA Girls Have Christmas Party

If Santa Claus had peeped into the home economics building Wednesday morning, December 12, he would have smiled contentedly and gone back to the North Pole to rest that day because the girls did a splendid job without him! This grand occasion was the December meeting of the F.H.A.

At the beginning of the first period the members came in anticipating something nice for the sweet scent of cedar and pine as well as gold and silver paint was in the air. Holiday decorations, arranged by the girls in the home economics III housing class, filled the hall and the living room, making the spirit of Christmas burst forth in everyone. Into the meeting room the girls filed, and there they had the business portion of the meeting, Wanda Farris presiding. After all the business was completed the girls settled back for the program which consisted of the initiation of the members who were eligible for the Chapter Homemakers Degree. F.H.A. members receiving this recognition were: Ann Cox, Doris Cunningham, Beverly Doyle, Wanda Farris, Mary Charles Mahaffey, and Rosemary Splawn. The spirits of the home, of love, of fellowship, of health, and of beauty were on hand to aid the acting president, vice-president and secretary in the service giving helpful and practical advice to the initiates. The initiation ceremony was concluded with the F.H.A. creed and song. Then what excitement! Everyone was invited into the living room for refreshments which were prepared by the home economics I foods class. While the delicious punch and cookies were being served everyone enjoyed the opportunity to chat a while with friends. The ringing of the period bell ended the happy occasion, and the party was over. The girls who had to go back to the main building to classes which were, perhaps, less enticing than the punch and cookies, could carry with them the joy they had received from the occasion. The home economics I girls who faced the empty punch bowl, scattered cookie crumbs, and crumpled napkins assumed their clean-up duties with the satisfaction from a job well done.

Corporal Billy Cox hopes to enjoy the Christmas holidays at home. He leaves California, December 22, for a 30 days visit with his parents.

Mrs. Orr Wins In Crosley Contest

Mrs. M. L. Orr, Sr., of Montevallo was selected by the judges as the winner in Whaley Furniture Company's Crosley "American Way" contest.

The selection and award was announced by Mr. R. E. Whaley last Saturday. The winner received a $300 merchandise gift certificate which can be used to purchase any Crosley product or group of Crosley products at Whaley's.

Mrs. Orr named the Montevallo Methodist Church to receive the $100 cash award which she won.

The winning statement of Mrs. Orr was as follows:

"To me, the American way of life means: I can choose my own church, my own friends, my own destiny. Persuasion can change my mind but force can not; and I recognize that if these things are true for me, they are true for my neighbor."

In the scoring of the judges a close second to Mrs. Orr was Mrs. Mildred Harris, of Brierfield. Her statement was:

"To me, the American way of life means: The right to live as I choose within the limits of my financial ability and the laws of society; opportunity to improve my standing; and facilities for my son to train and develop his talents for whatever work he desires."

Catholic Services Monday Night

Saint Thomas The Apostle Church will celebrate midnight mass on Christmas Eve. Christmas carols will begin at 11:30 Monday night.

The John Carroll Glee Club will sing the Christmas carols and at midnight will sing high mass. They will sing the Muse of the Angels.

All are welcome to attend.

Christmas Services Presbyterian Church

The annual Christmas community worship service will be held at the Montevallo Presbyterian Church Sunday, December 23, at 11 a.m.

The Rev. Edward Glover, pastor of the Baptist Church, will deliver the Christmas sermon. Assisting in the service will be the Rev. M. L. Triplett, pastor of the Methodist Church, and Dr. Henry C. Niles, the host pastor.

Mrs. S. H. Hurt will sing "God So Loved The World" by Fearis.

Montevallo Housing Projects Named

The Housing Authority of the Town of Montevallo at its meeting Tuesday night named the two housing projects which are to be built in the near future.

The white project containing 20 units and located on Main Street will be known as the F. F. Crowe Village in honor of the late Dr. F. F. Crowe. For many years Dr. Crowe was a distinguished citizen of Montevallo, serving as postmaster a long while.

The colored project containing 32 units and located near the Montevallo Negro High School, will be known as the Alex Scott Village in honor of the late Alex Scott of Montevallo. Alex, a life-long resident of Montevallo was a recognized leader among the Negro citizens for many years. He was employed by Alabama College for a long time.

Henry T. Davis Died Suddenly Saturday Night

The sudden death of Mr. Henry T. Davis brought great sorrow to his many friends last Saturday night. In his usual jolly and happy mood with a group of his friends, death seized him suddenly.

Mr. Davis was widely known in this section of Alabama where he had worked for the Southern Railway for many years until his retirement six years ago. He was 76 years old. He was a member of the Methodist Church and the Masonic lodge.

Survivors are his widow; seven children, J. N. Davis, Montevallo; E. R. Davis, Montevallo; Mrs. Christine Williams, Live Oak, Fla.; Mrs. James A. Stripling, Tallahassee, Fla.; Henry A. Davis, Ponchatoula, La.; Mrs. Charles Glover, Tampa, Fla.; Leslie R. Davis, Valdosta, Ga.; three sisters, Mrs. Kate Webermier, Holyoke, Calif.; Mrs. Melinda Ennis, Mobile; Mrs. Annie Pringle, Laurel, Miss.

The body was taken by Brislin to Selma where funeral services were held Monday with Rev. M. L. Triplett officiating.

F H A and F F A Hold Jamboree At Montevallo High

"Did you have a good time last night?" These words echoed through the halls of the Montevallo High School the day after the big F.H.A. and F.F.A. jamboree. The probable answer was an emphatic "Yes" because there was plenty of fun for everyone.

This affair, held at the Shelby County High School at Columbiana on last Thursday night, was attended by members of the F.H.A. and F.F.A. from the Montevallo, Columbiana, Siluria, and Vincent chapters and each school had its part on the program.

A group of Montevallo High School girls did a tumbling act. The Montevallo chapter of F.F.A. presented some recordings of a previous meeting at which Mr. Barnes played several popular numbers on the banjo.

Vincent High School entertained with a number of comedy acts including a big apple dance, "Too Young" sung by a couple called Lonzo and Oscar, "Sweet Violets" done expertly and "Down Yonder" thoroughly interpreted on the piano.

Siluria High School presented a variety of entertainments. There were tap dancers, a soloist, and a comedy duet of "Crying My Eyes Out Over You."

Then to supply more good laughs and music Shelby County High School brought forth their performers. Solos, trios, and band numbers well presented.

After these highly entertaining performances everyone grabbed a partner for some good old fashioned square dancing.

Old Santa finally made his way through the dancers and reached the huge lighted Christmas tree laden with gifts which had been brought by the group. He gave each one what he thought was appropriate for him. This brought to a conclusion this happy and merry occasion.

March Of Dimes Plans Campaign Starting January 1

Thirty-three persons from Shelby County attended a dinner in Montevallo on December 17 to organize the campaign for the 1952 March of Dimes. Mr. Albert Stapp, state chairman of the March of Dimes, spoke to the group stressing the need for more money to fight polio this year than ever before. The number of polio cases increases every year. The march of polio has outstripped the March of Dimes so far that the national foundation of Infantile Paralysis will end this year owing more than five million dollars to various hospitals for patient care already given.

There were 9 cases of polio in Shelby County this year and 675 in the state as a whole. This with 7 here last year and 272 for Alabama during the corresponding period in 1950, according to Mr. Conrad Fowler, chairman of the Shelby County chapter.

Dr. M. L. Orr, Sr., county campaign director, says that every effort will be made to contact each person in the county for a contribution during the drive which will last from January 1 to January 31. Dr. Katherine Vickery will lead the Mother's march on Polio which will feature an intensive one-hour door-to-door canvass on the last night of the campaign.

In addition to these officers, persons who attended the dinner were: R. C. Dobson, Montgomery, state representative for the national foundation; Mrs. Amanda Anderson and Mrs. Margie Davis, Calera; Mrs. Nannie Dee Durden and Mrs. Forrest Templin, Camp Branch; Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Brasher, Chelsea; Mrs. Virginia Fowler and Mrs. E. B. Turner, Columbiana; Mrs. John Greene and Miss LuLu Smith, Dogwood; Mr. and Mrs. Rual Stark, Helena; Miss

Remember To Use Christmas Seals

With Christmas day just around the corner, leaders in the Shelby County fight against TB urged citizens to remember to use Christmas Seals on all holiday cards, packages and decorations.

"Don't forget your Christmas Seals in the last minute rush before the big day," stressed Richard J. Ozley, drive chairman.

"Don't forget that Christmas Seals fight tuberculosis the whole year. The drive for funds to fight this disease is a traditional holiday feature, but the money contributed now must be stretched out the entire year. Christmas Seals have been fighting TB 45 years, and the death rates from the disease have been dropping with each passing year.

"But our fight is not over. Not when we remember nearly 900 Alabama citizens lost their lives needlessly to tuberculosis in 1950.

"Use your Seals more than ever this year to signify you're helping. Only through your generous support and understanding will we be able to push harder against the disease throughout 1952."

The chairman emphasized the TB fight is "everybody's fight," and added Christmas Seals were designed for everybody, young and old, rich and poor.

"Their cost is so little they come within the scope of everybody's pocketbook, and their message is so great it finds its way into the hearts of every man, woman and child.

"Every death from tuberculosis can be prevented. Yet, TB kills more people between 15 and 35 than any other major cause of death. This is the age period when strong individuals are needed most, when a greater personal contribution can be made to society and mankind.

"Remember how much you're helping when you pay for Christmas Seals."

James H. Edwards Reported Prisoner Of Chinese Reds

Mrs. Georgia Mae Edwards, Montevallo, has been notified by the war department that the name of her husband, T. Sgt. James H. Edwards, was included in the list of war prisoners being held by the Communist forces in Korea. This list was furnished the United Nations truce team in Korea and was released Tuesday.

Sgt. Edwards is a graduate of Montevallo High School, served in the armed forces in World War II and was reported missing over Korea, November 10, 1950. His home was formerly in Wilton.

Mrs. Edwards is the former Georgia Mae Kendrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Kendrick, of Montevallo, and has been making her home with her parents during the absence of her husband.

Sgt. and Mrs. Edwards have two sons, George Hardy, and David.

Baptist Church Vespers Service

The choir of the Montevallo Baptist Church are presenting a Christmas Vesper service Sunday, December 23 at 5 o'clock. The Christmas story will be presented through music and Scripture. Mrs. F. P. Givhan will preside at the organ and Mrs. S. H. Hurt will sing "For God So Loved The World" by Fearis. The Chancel and Youth Choirs will lead in the music presentation with the junior and primary choir giving their portions of the Christmas music.

The public is invited to worship with the Baptist Church at this service.

Comedian Henry Youngman's comment when he lost his wallet: "The money only had a sentimental value, but the wallet was expensive leather."

Thompson P T A Christmas Party

Students from both the elementary school and the high school presented a Christmas program at the regular P.T.A. meeting on Monday evening, December 17, at the Baptist Church here.

Following the devotional by the president, Mrs. W. J. Mathis, instrumental numbers featuring Christmas selections included:

Gail Farris, and Hallie Smith in a flute duet; clarinet quartet composed of Halsa Mathis, Ann Farris, Linda Farris, and Sue Nolen; trumpet quartet with Hank Johnson, Rickey Phillips, Wayne Gray, and Everett Cofer.

The children of the fifth and sixth grades presented a playlet which included carolers from the fourth grade.

The high school girls' glee club sang two numbers and a chorus from the first, second, and third grades sang three Christmas songs.

Baptist Training Leaders Attend Great Meeting In Columbiana Last Week

What was probably the largest gathering of training union forces in Shelby Baptist Association history assembled at the Baptist Church in Columbiana last Monday night, December 10, to hear one of the greatest messages we have ever heard from Dr. Hampton Hopkins, head of the extension department, Howard College, Birmingham.

But before hearing a great message on the training union theme for 1951, "Christ Speaks To His Churches", a counting of heads was made by Associational Missionary, B. B. Curry, of Wilton. This count revealed a total of 423 people present from 23 churches of the county, exceeding the attendance goal of 400 for this annual "M" (Mobilization) night affair.

Thousands of Baptist churches all over the Southern Baptist Convention had similar Associational "M" nights, says G. C. Moore, Jr., Associate BTU director for this association.

The throng was so great that absolutely no standing room was left. There must have been 75 persons standing after every available seat, chair, choir and vestibule was filled. Several expressions of welcome were given and apologies made for not being able to seat everyone.

The meeting was led by Associational B.T.U. director, Rev. George Holmes of Liberty Baptist Church, Chelsea, whose church retained the attendance banner with 56 present for a percentage of 83 percent of their B.T.U. enrollment.

rollment. Congratulations to this fine spirit to this great church, with Mr. L. W. Blackerby, Training Union director there.

Calera had the second largest group present with 41 while the local church, Columbiana, was third with 35. Next quarterly meeting is to be held with Liberty Baptist Church.

Out of 20 churches with training unions, about 18 directors were present with about 12 pastors and countless leaders, officers, etc. One outstanding visitor was Mr. J. W. Lester, associate director of extension, Howard College, who spoke to our quarterly meeting at Calera last summer.

Other churches attending were: Antioch No. 1, Calvary Hill, Concord, Dogwood Grove, Enon, Four-mile, Harpersville, Macedonia, Montevallo, Mt. Signal, New Bethel, New Hope, Prospect, Pelham, Providence, Siluria, Underwood, Vincent, Wilsonville, and Wilton.

The Cajans of Washington County proudly claim today that some of their ancestors were sailors under the notorious buccaneer, Jean Lafitte. According to these people, their forebears eventually tired of pirate life on the high seas and sought out the seclusion of the great wooded area of South Alabama. Here they married Indian girls and settled down to the less exciting life of becoming fathers.

Are You In Business For Yourself?

Are you in business for yourself? In a special message to the butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker, and all others who are self employed, M. C. Folmer, manager of the Birmingham field office of the Social Security Administration, offers these important reminders:

"You are now covered by the Social Security Act and have the same protection against the hazards of old age or death as are afforded employees. But you have certain responsibilities to yourself as well as to your government in order to safeguard this protection.

"You do not yet have to report your earnings and pay your social security tax until you file your income tax return for 1951 on or before March 15, 1952. Your report to the social security administration at that time will be a part of your income tax return. Your social security tax of 2 1/4% will be payable in full at the time you file your return. Your first step is to get your account number card from the social security office nearest your home. This card may be obtained now by applying for it in person or requesting an application by mail or telephone.

"Your next step is to read the interesting, informative booklet entitled "Do You Work For Yourself?" This can be obtained when you get your account number card and will give you valuable information about your benefits."

Mr. Folmer stressed that the self-employed person cannot choose whether to be covered or not. Reporting your earnings and paying a social security tax is compulsory if you earn $400 or more in 1951. You will pay a tax of 2 1/4% of all net earnings from your business up to $3,600 for the year. The earnings exceeding $3,600 are not taxable.

As a result of these taxable earnings, you may be entitled to an old-age insurance benefit. This will depend upon when you reach your 65th birthday and the length of time you have been reporting your earnings.

Mrs. Fulton Explains Relatives Support Of Persons On Welfare Assistance Roll

Many persons in Shelby County are receiving letters from the welfare department, Shelby County Welfare Director said. Letters to needy people ask for information about their relatives and those to the relatives ask about their income and whether they are helping support needy people who are receiving or applying for welfare aid. Mrs. Nell Fulton, director, explained that the relatives' responsibility law passed by the 1951 legislature requires the parents, children, husband or wife of needy people support them if they have sufficient income as defined by law.

"This means the welfare department must learn if needy people have legally responsible relatives and whether these relatives are required to contribute to their support," the director pointed out.

Mrs. Fulton said under the new law the welfare department cannot approve or reapprove needy people to receive aid until the following steps have been taken:

1. The needy person fills out a form listing the name, address, and relationship of the following legally responsible relatives who are living: parent or parents; children; husband or wife.

2. The welfare department sends each one of these relatives a form to fill out, listing their income, unusual expenses (funeral, medical care, property loss, not covered by insurance), and number dependent on their income.

3. The relatives complete both sides of the form and sign it.

4. The relative return the form; if they fail to do so, the welfare department may help needy person secure necessary information.

5. The welfare department determines according to the scale in the law whether the legally responsible relative is expected to contribute to the needy person's support.

The maximum required contribution is $50.00 monthly, Mrs. Fulton said, but where a relative gives more, the welfare department considers the total amount in determining a person's need. She said further that when it is impossible to get the necessary information on the income of relatives, the welfare department must take this as prima facie evidence that they are supporting the needy person and, therefore, deny or disapprove that person for assistance.

"It is important that all persons who receive these letters understand the effects of this new law," Mrs. Fulton continued, "If they do not want to tell the welfare department about their income, they are free not to do so, but they must realize it may keep their needy relative concerned from getting welfare aid."

Mrs. Fulton quoted the scale in the law as beginning with $200 monthly when one person is dependent on the income and going up to $600 when there are eight or more dependents. "This means," she said, "that under the law half of what a single person earns, over $200 monthly, is considered available to the needy person, up to the $50 maximum required contribution. The same rule applies to larger incomes when there are more dependents."

Fertilizer Shortage Says Lowery

Farmers are faced with possible shortages of fertilizers, according to J. C. Lowery, A.P.I. extension service agronomist.

He points out that heavy demands for sulphur in the defense effort, as well as the fertilizer industry, are hitting the sulphur supply very seriously. Sulphur, of course, is needed for the manufacture of superphosphate.

"Also," states Lowery, "farmers everywhere appreciate more and more the value of fertilizer in increasing yields. Therefore, all of these facts make it necessary for farmers to do some early planning and arranging for 1952 fertilizer needs."

State of the Union

by J. E. Jones
Washington Correspondent

Washington, D. C. — We shall learn within a matter of days, and from the traditionally-accepted source, the President of the United States, the condition in which our country enters the New Year.

The President would be less than human if he failed to throw as kindly a light as possible on his stewardship, whether he wished to be continued in office or not. And the indications are growing that the next Truman campaign is already taking form among the cronies. Thus, we may look forward to a rousing message of cheer on the occasion of the return of Congress.

But we doubt whether anything the President may say can add to the optimism with which we personally greet 1952. In its feverish effort to go too far too fast, the "Fair Deal" has busted open at the seams, so all of us may view the sawdust running out. No matter how skillfully it is patched up, we have seen what we have seen. We are to have another chance to return to government-through-representatives instead of government-by-appointees — whether we deserve it or not.

Want To Hire More Help?

Senator Estes Keauver (Dem.) of Tennessee, the Hop-a-long Cassidy of Capitol Hill, has a four-point legislative program to present to the next session of Congress designed to end corruption in government.

1. He would place Collectors of Internal Revenue under Civil Service rules.

2. Adopt the proposal of the Senate Crime Committee for the appointment of a Federal Crime Commission for a continuing study of crime in its effects on government.

3. Approve the recommendations of the Senate Investigating Committee to create still another Federal commission, this one to study ethics in government and put Federal activities generally on a high moral plane.

4. Require Federal agencies to see that concerns doing business with the Government report fees to attorneys and other representatives, and that this data be published in the Federal Register.

Point number one is an obvious and long overdue reform, if Mr. Kefauver means that the Civil Service Commission is to select the Collectors. But he could mean, that after political hacks have been given these jobs in payment of campaign services, they should then be "blanketed in" to receive the extra security of Civil Service status.

As for points two and three, we don't think many people will believe that still more Federal commissions is the answer to any Federal problem, except that of enlarging the patronage and the machine of the party in power. We think the people would refer to let their duly elected representatives in Congress watch out for their interests.

Point four would make it a little more difficult to do business with the Government than it already is, and no doubt cause many firms whom the Government needs most to give up in disgust. What possible effect such reports could have on the honesty of the Government's own people, we can't imagine.

But Senator Kefauver's program does have one advantage. In presenting it, he reveals to the people he would like to elect him to the presidency, what sort of administrative thinking they can expect from him. He would hardly be the one to do any "stream-lining" of government.

More International Incidents

Washington, where crime is usually regarded as being on the drawing-room, or at least cocktail-lounge level, is currently reeling under a wave of bare-faced vandalism that has the State Department's apology division working overtime, and the local Police Department in something more than its accustomed dither.

Within a few days, the bronze plaques identifying the embassies of Russia, Romania, Egypt and Chile have been stolen from the stone facades of the respective buildings. As would be expected, the peace-loving Russians have thus far stirred up the most dust over the matter. "Hooliganism", they call it, which from them, is pretty low-grade invective.

Insisting that the request had no connection with the official diplomatic brassware, the State Department has asked the District of Columbia Police Department to throw a 24 hour guard around all of the foreign embassy and legation buildings in the capital. The police complain that this would require 210 men and they are short 300 now.

No doubt Congress will be asked to hire some more cops. But, since Congress does not meet until January 8, there may not be a brass plate left in Washington by that time.

State Road Bids Begin

Montgomery — State highway department officials said bids on 17 Alabama road and bridge construction projects, valued at approximately $1,450,931, will be opened here on January 11.

Money for the projects comes from the regular program and will not come from the $25,000,000 Road Bond Issue approved in the December 11 voting.

The projects included:

Chilton County — 7.655 miles grading, drainage, surface treatments and bridges on the Clanton-Enterprise road.

Bibb County — 4.384 miles base and bituminous treatment on the road from Alabama Highway 25 northwest toward Marvel.

Addie Washington Died Unexpectedly Monday Night

Addie Washington, wife of Jesse Washington, died unexpectedly last Monday night about 11 o'clock. She had been to church services and died soon after returning home. For many years Addie had been working for Mrs. J. A. Brown. Before marrying Jesse Washington, she was the wife of Claude Eddings, who died a few years ago.

35 Polio Cases Reported In State

Montgomery — The State Department of Public Health said that 35 poliomyelitis deaths were recorded in Alabama during the first nine months of the year.

This compared to 16 polio fatalities for the same nine months in 1950. Of the total of 35 during the first nine months of the year, 29 were reported in July, August and September.

Authorities have held that the best cannon in America during the Civil War was made at Selma, the then industrial center of the state.

Official Results Of Votes Cast On December 11

Montgomery — The official canvass in the office of state secretary Agnes Baggett disclosed this week that the new voter qualification amendment was ratified by a narrow 369-vote margin in the December 11 balloting.

Official returns showed 60,357 votes for the amendment, 59,988 against it.

Of the seven amendments on the ballot which affected the state as a whole, two were defeated. The 67-senator proposal lost 91,990 to 35,461. The measure to require foreign corporations to have an office in Alabama was rejected 59,560 to 47,154.

The administration-sponsored $25,000,000 Road Bond Issue vote count showed 89,532 for the amendment, 66,546 against it.

The other statewide amendments carried by comfortable majorities were: No. 2 (putting the state merit system into the constitution) For 78,230, against 44,879.

No. 3 (permitting the appointment of National Guard officers) For 67,796, against 51,636.

No. 4 (extending the poll tax exemption to Korean war veterans and all other wars) For 97,806, against 34,848.

In perhaps the biggest demonstration of negative voting in modern times in Alabama, every one of 17 local amendments was defeated.

Retail Sales Reported Up

Dollar volume of Alabama retail sales increased in September for the second straight month, rising to the third highest peak on record, according to the Retail Trade Report released today by the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Alabama.

Total sales were five per cent above August and six per cent higher than in September, 1950; the bureau reports the unadjusted index for retail sales as 115.4 per cent of the 1948 average month.

Only six of the state's 67 counties had indexes below 100, while 21 counties recorded all-time highs.

Net retail sales for Shelby County in September showed a 4.1 per cent increase from August, compared with an average state increase of 5.4 per cent.

The three biggest increases of retail sales in Alabama for September were chalked up by the following types of concerns: clothing 39 per cent increase over August; general merchandise, 19.7 per cent and hardware and farm implements up 17.7 per cent.

Sullivan On Radio Next Sunday

L. B. Sullivan, director, Department of Public Safety, will explain the operations of the new Motor Vehicle Safety Responsibility Law, Sunday, December 30, at 6:30 p.m. over the Alabama Radio Network.

During the Civil War there were approximately 2,500 white Alabamians and 10,000 Negroes from this state who went North to serve in the Union ranks.

The New Law On Motor Accident Is Explained

Montgomery, Dec. 19—Accident report forms that motorists must use under Alabama's new safety responsibility law will be available and may be obtained from the Department of Public Safety, Sheriff's offices, City Police, and your local highway patrol post, Mr. Sullivan, director of public safety, announced today.

"Every motor vehicle owner or operator may follow his or her individual judgement, of course," Mr. Sullivan said, "but I would suggest that the wiser ones will obtain a copy of the form before the law becomes effective, familiarize themselves with what it requires in the way of information, and keep it in the glove box of their car just in case they do have the hard luck to be in an accident. The new law, as everyone must know by this time, goes into effect January 1. Enforcement will begin promptly."

Here are the steps a driver will follow if he or she is involved in an accident:

1. Review the damage immediately. If no one has been killed or injured or property damage to any one person does not exceed $50.00, the accident is not reportable to the director of public safety. If, however, a person was killed or even slightly injured, or if property damage to any one person exceeds $50.00, the accident must be reported within 10 days to the director of public safety, Montgomery, Alabama.

2. If the driver of one of the involved cars is physically unable to file the report, then the registered owner must report within 10 days after learning of the accident. Failure to report an accident under the Safety Responsibility Law is punishable by a fine and by suspension of driving license.

"That's all there is to it," Mr. Sullivan said. "Motorists may save themselves considerable annoyance if they are familiar with the report form before they become involved in an accident. Let me repeat again, incidentally, that every driver must report within 10 days, regardless of who caused the accident."

Heart Disease Greatest Killer

Heart disease, by far the greatest single cause of death in Alabama and elsewhere, killed 4,092 people in this state during the first six months of 1951. That was approximately a heart disease death an hour. This state total included 31 in Shelby County.

The announcement was made by the State Department of Health. It was based upon provisional reports prepared by the Department's Bureau of Vital Statistics. These reports may differ slightly from the final reports not yet available.

Town Election On January 15

The election to determine whether or not a certain area in the vicinity of the Givhan-Hubbard addition to Montevallo shall be included in the Town's corporate limits is to be held January 15, 1952.

The area concerned is 80 acres of land on the Siluria Road extending northward ¼ of a mile from the present Town limits at Vic Williams' place and extending east and west ½ a mile along the present corporate line.

Place of the election will be at the residence of Dr. L. H. Hubbard. Only those qualified voters living in the area proposed to be annexed will be qualified to vote on the proposition.

The election is called by the Probate Judge, Hon. L. C. Walker, acting under a resolution and request of the Town Council of Montevallo. The area is specifically described in an advertisement which appears elsewhere in The Montevallo Times.

Did You Forget Christmas Seals?

Greeting cards bearing good wishes and holiday cheer by the thousands passed through the post office recently. Everybody tried hard to remember all their friends.

But many Shelby County people forgot to mail another very important letter. That letter could mean the difference between life and death to someone in our county.

It's not too late. That letter is the one you meant to return with a contribution for Christmas Seals.

It's never too late to pay for Christmas Seals. Funds contributed now will be stretched out through 1952—maybe to help hospitalize someone you know who has TB—or maybe to pay for a chest X-ray of a loved one who discovered the disease early because of the X-ray.

You will not be called upon again this year to aid in the voluntary fight to wipe out tuberculosis. You might hear and read a lot about the disease, you might hear about the death of several local people who caught the germ, and you're sure to hear a lot about how it can be prevented and can be cured when found in time.

But you will not be asked to contribute again this year. That's why it's so important to remember to send in that contribution now. The annual Christmas Seal sale is the only fund raising campaign conducted by volunteer TB leaders.

These leaders express sincere thanks and appreciation to the numerous citizens who already have paid for their Seals, but at the same time they stress the importance of receiving a contribution from others.

Remember that important letter and send your Seal contribution as soon as possible. It's badly needed.

There was once a town in the state known as Alabama. It was established around 1817 by John Scott, an early settler. John Scott's town was located within the city limits of the State of Alabama's capital city, Montgomery.

Dear Editor:

After reading your article on Hereford progress, I thought you might be interested in the following news:

A Polled Hereford bull raised in Alabama, sired by a bull raised in Alabama, and out of a cow raised in Alabama, was Grand Champion at National Polled Hereford Show and sale at Louisville, Ky., and sold for $20,000 in November.

This bull was raised and shown by Sumter Farm and Stock Co., of Geiger, Ala.

Farm News

Farmers know that the right kind of lime applied at the right rate per acre where it is needed will pay.

However, the question that confronts the farmer is one involving the proper time to use lime and how much. There are a number of things to consider in deciding if lime should be applied. For example, if a legume is not used in the rotation on a particular field, the chances are lime will not pay unless grain sorghum, Sudan grass, or Johnson grass is grown. These non-legume crops do respond to lime.

D. R. Harbor, A.P.I. extension service agronomist, says that all clover-grass permanent pastures in Alabama except those on the lime soils of the Black Belt and Limestone Valleys should be limed every five to ten years.

He adds that the local county agent can help farmers determine their lime needs. But a rule of thumb to use in liming soils for most crops is to use one ton per acre on sandy soils and two tons per acre on clay soils every five to ten years.

Rot And Rust

Most farm homes and service buildings in Alabama are built of wood, a product subject to rotting. Also, many homes and service buildings are roofed with steel which, after years of usage, is subject to rusting.

"Therefore," states William T. Cox, A.P.I. extension service specialist in farm buildings, "steel roofing should be painted with a metallic paint containing zinc, lead, or aluminum pigment. Wooden structures should be preserved with an oil or paint."

Food Crop For Quail

Bicolor lespedeza is a preferred quail food, and other kinds of wildlife do not compete with quail for this valuable food, according to S. R. Doughty, A.P.I. extension service soil conservationist.

He points out that every year this crop produces seed throughout Alabama. It is a perennial shrub-like legume which may be established from either seed or seedlings.

"On farms," says Doughty, "there are non-productive woodland borders that should be established in bicolor lespedeza, erosion is controlled, soil is improved, and quail have an abundance of food."

The specialist also reminds farmers that there are small, rough, idle, and inaccessible corners where bicolor lespedeza may be grown to good advantage. Of course, since livestock relish bicolor, it should be planted in borders and areas where grazing is excluded.

Control Scale

Fruit trees in many home orchards do not do well and often die because of scale insects.

John Bagby, A.P.I. extension service horticulturist, says that oil sprays give the best control of these pests. The usual dilution is one part oil emulsion with 19 parts of water. Stir mixture for a few minutes to insure thorough mixing. If, after stirring, oil comes to the top the spray should not be used.

Ordering Chicks

Orders should be placed well in advance of the time chicks are actually needed because a high quality laying strain of chicks may be hard to get later on in the season.

Fig And Grape Cuttings

Use fig cuttings that are six or eight inches long and from 1951 growth. Set them with the upper bud just above the ground. Fig cuttings in Central and North Alabama should be covered with three or more inches of straw during the cold months. Set grape cuttings that have three leaf buds. Set the cuttings with two of the leaves under the ground and one just above.

The average stagecoach operating in Alabama during the early pioneer days made approximately five miles an hour.

LOUD TV

My TV set is awful loud. My neighbor told me so. That I am forced to drown hers out I'd like for her to know.

New Freezer Jars Are Convenient

Here are some of the advantages and disadvantages of the comparatively new "Freezer Jars."

According to Lavada Curtis, A.P.I. extension service food preservation specialist, the jars are moisture-vapor-proof; can be reused; need no heat-sealing as paper containers do; and, though food must be thawed somewhat for removal, there is no leakage from the container in thawing.

Now here are the disadvantages of glass jars: they are breakable, and they become frosty on the surface when removed from the freezer which makes them slippery to handle without tongs.

The "freezer jars" are more convenient than ordinary jars because the sides are straight so that food slips out easily after slight defrosting.

NOTICE OF ELECTION
On the 15th day of January, 1952, an election will be held to determine whether certain territory shall be annexed to or brought into the Town of Montevallo, described as follows:
The NW¼ of NE¼ and the NE¼ of NW¼ of Section 21, Township 22 South, Range 3 West, Shelby County, Alabama, more particularly described by metes and bounds as follows: Beginning at the SE corner of said NW¼ of NE¼; thence in a Westerly direction to the SW corner of said NE¼ of NW¼; thence in a Northernly direction to the NW corner of said NE¼ of NW¼; thence in an Easterly direction along the North boundary of said Section 21 to the NE corner of said NW¼ of NE¼; thence in a Southernly direction to the point of beginning.
The voting place, or place where the election is to be held, is located at the residence of Dr. Leslie H. Hubbard, North of Montevallo, on the East side of the Montevallo-Siluria Highway. All qualified voters or electors who vote in said election must reside within the boundaries of the above described territory. A map of such territory is on file in the office of Judge of Probate of Shelby County, Alabama, open to the inspection of the public.

Are You In Business For Yourself?

Are you in business for yourself? In a special message to the butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker, and all others who are self-employed, M. C. Folmer, manager of the Birmingham field office of the Social Security Administration, offers these important reminders:

"You are now covered by the Social Security Act and have the same protection against the hazards of old age or death as are afforded employees. But you have certain responsibilities to yourself as well as to your government in order to safeguard this protection.

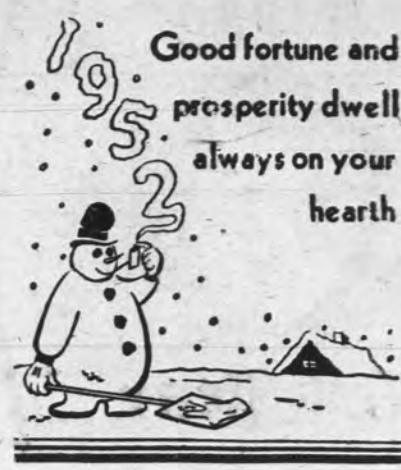

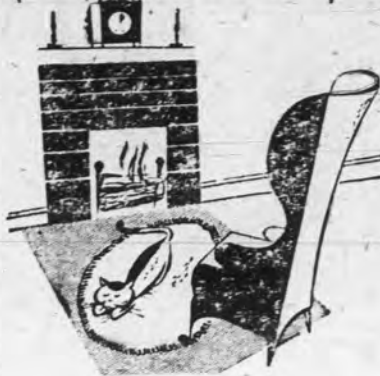

"You do not yet have to report your earnings and pay your social security tax until you file your income tax return for 1951 on or before March 15, 1952. Your report to the social security administration at that time will be a part of your income tax return. Your social security tax of 2 1/4% will be payable in full at the time you file your return. Your first step is to get your account number card from the social security office nearest your home. This card may be obtained now by applying for it in person or requesting an application by mail or telephone.

"Your next step is to read the interesting, informative booklet entitled "Do You Work For Yourself?" This can be obtained when you get your account number card and will give you valuable information about your benefits."

Mr. Folmer stressed that the self-employed person cannot choose whether to be covered or not. Reporting your earnings and paying a social security tax is compulsory if you earn $400 or more in 1951. You will pay a tax of 2 1/4% of all net earnings from your business up to $3,600 for the year. The earnings exceeding $3,600 are not taxable.

As a result of these taxable earnings, you may be entitled to an old-age insurance benefit. This will depend upon when you reach your 65th birthday and the length of time you have been reporting your earnings.

Right Seasoning For Better Food

"Remember that the seasoning can over-power or enhance a food," warns Mary Hulsey, A.P.L. extension service nutritionist.

She says that the easiest way to season a root vegetable is to add salt and pepper to taste and a little meat drippings or melted fat.

To give root vegetables a "lift" now and then, use a little chopped onion, green pepper, parsley, or chives. For variety, add left over bits of meat, fish, hardcooked egg, or grated cheese to the white sauce prepared for root vegetables.

To bring out their best flavor, cook root vegetables only until tender.

Centre was the home of John J. Pratt, the man who is claimed to have invented the first typewriter. The inventor is buried on the outskirts of his hometown.

The famous Wright Brothers made one of their first heavier-than-air flights on the site that has since become Montgomery's Maxwell Air Force Base.

Alabama once had a statesman who was so fat that when he rode a stagecoach he was charged two fares, for he occupied two seats. That statesman, Dixon Hall Lewis, of Lowndesboro, tipped the scales at a ponderous 500 pounds at the time of his death.
